In the past life, he was in the realm of repairing the * hurricane, and Tianyin Pavilion tried to stop it. The old man was taken away by the wooden cigarette and he was identified.

How did he do it at the time?

Indulge in laughter and accept it.

And turning to look at Xue Zhengxi and Mrs. Wang, the smile twisted and ridiculed: "How? Resent me? Do you want to abandon me? Is it the same as my good teacher, say me - * is bad, quality Hard?"

At that time, the matter of ink burning and stealing the chess game had already been almost the same, but Xue Zhengyi initially chose to believe him. Until this time, Xue Zhengxuan was angry and got up. He was mad at the gas, and the tiger screamed and said: "Hey animals! It is a scorpion!!"

The ink burned these two words, laughing and laughing, and laughing more and more pleasantly.

I laughed and my eyes were wet.

Insult girl?

Xue Zhengyi believes.

Xue Zhengyi actually believes.

Hahahaha - the smile of the smoldering is tightened, and it is self-defeating. The heart is handsome, and the handsome face is twisted like wax.

"Yeah, I did these sinful sins. I killed your nephew and killed the pitiful girl. How? The uncle is going to kill the heavens and kill me-"

If the words are not finished, the heart is a pain.

Xue Zhengyi's temperament was fierce. When he was finished with ink, he was already angry and screaming. There was hate and tears in his eyes. The fan tip pierced the ink-burning chest.

The ink burned for a moment, and then the corner of the mouth was slightly lightened. He lowered his head and looked at his chest and gradually shed blood, sighing:

"Uncle, I have called you uncle for so many years. But in the end, you still won't believe me."

"shut up!!"

The ink burned and smiled, and the shoulders shivered slightly: "Forget it, after all, the flow of our body is not the same blood. So, this false home, this life and death... What else is there, I can’t bear it. ?"

Blood splashes and splashes face.

He looked at Xue Zhengyi's fall in front of himself, his mind was slightly numb - he didn't want to kill him - it was his temper to rush to get started... it was his own death. The ink burned for a while, lifting up the blood-stained eyes, and Sensing the land, looking at the sorrowful Mrs. Wang, who licked his lips and walked over his uncle's body and walked to the aunt.

Xue Zhengyi still didn't breathe, and he kept his clothes tight, and he wouldn't let go.

This half-old man seems to be very angry, and it seems that the sorrow and heartache are greater than the anger.

At that time, the brain burned in madness, what the meaning of the uncle's eyes was, what the tears in his eyes were for, he did not understand, and did not want to understand.

The ink burned and heard Xue Zhengyi said: "Don't... don't hurt..."

"She saw it. So she is going to die." The ink burned very calmly and calmly. "However, Xue Meng is not there, so ... seeing that you have raised me for so many years, his life, my right and left."

Mrs. Wang’s struggle is in the eyes of ink, what is it?

Moreover, she was already unable to struggle. She just cried. She also said like her husband: "The beast...", but the knife plunged in, the blood rushed out, her consciousness gradually dissipated, she looked at him, but finally Mumbling again, "Fire, why are you..."

The ink-burning hand was actually shaking, trembling, and finally pulled out. He looked down at the palm of his hand, his palms were moist, and the scarlet dagger caught his palm, slippery and stinky.

heat.

But it will soon be cold.

Like his so-called home, he called his loved ones.

From the very beginning, he was embarrassed because he knew that Xue Meng was in fact, Xue Zhengyi, and Mrs. Wang.

They are not his loved ones at all.

Their biological scorpion has already died in his hands.

"absurd!"

A violent drink interrupted the memories of ink burning.

The ink burned almost a little uplifted, and patrolled the hall in the hall, and finally fell to Xue Zhengxuan.

It is Xue Zhengyi who is talking.

"I raise a child, I know for myself how he can bully an innocent girl, you have to be bloody!!"

"..."

The ink burned, and suddenly I felt that my heart was filled with some kind of sourness.

His eyelashes squinted and squinted.

Not the same.

For two lifetimes... many things have changed.

The old artist was scared to roll down from the seat and beheaded on the ground: "No, no, I didn't lie, I was angry, I was... I just... I really..." He was just a pity. The craftsman, who had never seen such a scene, was accused by the lord of one fact, and was so scared that he could not say a complete sentence.

Xue Zhengyi is drinking low, like a beast that is ready to go: "Get out."

"roll!"

The old artist immediately got up and rolled, but the people in Tianyin Pavilion stopped him. He couldn’t get in and out. He fell down and sat down on the ground. He shook like a sieve and said: "Mom, what are these things... ..."

The wood smoke said: "Xue Zhangmen must be angry and angry, and the old gentleman should not be afraid. What Tianyinge asks for is to make the world sorrowful and can not be planted and framed, and it will not hurt."

She paused and raised the old artist.

"Please ask Mr. to finish."

"I don't have anything to say..." The old man was really scared, and he said nothing more. "I beg your princes, and let me go. I really don't have any more." What can be said, my memory is not good, I have a bad memory."

In this stalemate, the silence that has been silent, suddenly looked at Xue Zhengxuan, and worshipped the dagger.

The meaning of this action is self-evident. Xue Zhengxuan and Xue Meng immediately said a word, even a word was blocked and could not be said. Mrs. Wang murmured incredulously: "...burning?"

Ink burning: "When I was in Lushan, I thought about coming back to be honest with my uncle. But I didn't expect this to happen."

"..."

The burning eyes are very quiet, because it is too quiet, and even seems to be dead: "The wooden cabinet owner came here today, and the evidence of the person must have been fully collected. There is nothing to say. Yes, I am not the second to die. Little Lord."

He paused, and a sigh of words fell into the temple, his voice as light as a feather, and his waves rising.

"I am the 72nd City of Confucianism, the son of the ninth city of the South Palace."

"What?!!" Everyone is ashamed.

"Don't you want to hear the story?" The ink burned his eyes closed and said, "...the fire that drunk the jade building was put by me, and dozens of lives were indeed destroyed by my hand."

Mrs. Wang said with tears: "Fire, how are you... how can you..."

"But in Xiangtan that year, the little girl of Tofu Square was murdered to death." He said here, a little silence.

In the last life, no one wants to hear him tell the truth.

They all accuse him in anger and insult him, so he does not want to explain it. Anyway, in the eyes of others, that is, such a heinous devil, it is no harm to add another blood.

In this life, he finally wants to say it.

"That girl, not me."

There was silence in the Danxin Hall. Everyone was staring at the ink, waiting for him to speak out the old dust-proof cases.

The wooden cigarette is rising from the eyebrows: "Oh? Is there another hidden case in the case?"

"Have."

The ink burned and shook his head: "Before telling the girl who was killed in the Tofu Square, I want to talk about a more important person first."

"who?"

"A monk."

The ink burned, his eyes were evacuated, and he looked out into the distant sky through the open window.

"... At that time, Xiangtan had two young prostitutes, one surnamed, called the hurricane weak, and one...the surname, called Duan Yihan."

Many people present at the scene heard him mention these two names, and they all showed their sorrowful look.

"...the hurricane is weak... Duan Yihan... Ah! Is it the same two-digit music workshop in the past?"

"That's them, I remember that both of them are the music of Xiangtan, and they are called Linjiang Shuangxian."

"Yeah, the wind is weak and the song is spring, and the clothes are cold and full of flowers." Someone sighed. "I was only thirty years old at the time. The names of these two are just like the ears. But they It’s hard to find a song. I heard that every time I starred in the concert, the music house will be surrounded by water and the limelight will flourish."

Someone said: "They are two musicians. It seems that they still fight the song."

Ink ignited: "It’s a fight. The hurricane is weaker than the two-year-old Han Yi, and entered the music house two years later. At that time, she was very proud, and she was not convinced that she was the same as her, so she went down. Hua Tie, invited Duan Han to play three songs on the drunken floor, dance three songs, to determine the skill level."

"Who won in the end?"

"Pluge." Ink said, "But since then, the two have been sympathetic. Although Feng Yiru and Duan Yihan are not a monk in a music house, they often walk around each other and are sisters."

Someone is impatient: "There is so much nonsense in the squatting! Good end, what do two women do?"

Inkburn looked at him and said: "Die Yihan is my mother."

Chapter 258

"what?!"

When the year of clothing and cold holding out, it is the Wuling juveniles vying for the head, a song of red 绡 绡 —— —— —— —— —— —— 那个

"My mother was a coincidence, and I met Nangong Yan, the ninth city master of Confucianism. He would have some poetry and songs, his mouth was very sweet, and he was very handsome." The ink burned, "My mother looked I looked away and liked this person."

Xue Meng couldn’t help but shake his head and muttered: "How could it be..."

"There are beautiful people who are willing to give up, and how can Nangong refuse." Ink burned, "But he has status and identity, and he dare not tell his true situation to a happy person. He lied to my mother and said that he It is a Linyi businessman who lives here."

"This... I have a good feeling, I am in contact with you day and night, is your mother not aware?"

The ink burned and sneered: "If she notices, there will be no more things later. Nangong Yan can make a lie, not to mention that he only lived in Xiangtan for a short period of time, and my mother had no time to discover his roots. Later, From Linyi, I came to seal the letter. After Nangong received the mysterious letter, he hurriedly left Xiangtan."

"Your mother didn't ask him where to go?"

"He walked in the middle of the night, and did not say goodbye to my mother. They became monks for several months. Finally, Nangong Yan only left a stack of silver leaves, a piece of paper with the words 'Do not read', and it evaporated. ""

There are female practitioners who sighed: "Hey, these music singers, the little garden of Liyuan, the hardest to ask is a real person. It is also pitiful."

After she sighed, she couldn't help but wonder, and continued to ask: "Will then? Is your mother not willing to be abandoned by the lover, and the trustee is looking for him?"

The ink swayed and shook his head: "My mother's temper is soft and gentle, and some are awkward. Being abandoned, I will only pour the bitter water into my stomach, and I will not go to find things.... But it didn't take long before she found out that she had I am pregnant."

When Mrs. Wang heard this, she could not help but "hhat", her eyes were quite awkward, and she looked at the ink and did not know what to say.

"Lefang is willing to continue to accept her. But the premise is that she can not give birth to the child. Women who have given birth to children, dancing is no longer so good, they do not make a loss of business."

The ink burns and closes the eyes.

"My mother refused, and the niece who asked the matter asked her to pay a large amount of redemption fee. So she paid all the savings, the soft jewellery that she had, and the embroidered shoes on her feet to the workshop, earning a free body. I am going to Linyi to find me."

Mrs. Wang whispered: "When she is a penniless woman, how can she go from Xiangtan to Linyi?"

Ink burning: "There are people who help her."

"who is it?"

"The hurricane is weak." The ink ignited, "My sister knows that my mother left the music house and chased the city at night. She gave me all the money and told my mother--if I could not find me." Hey, come to the drunken house to find her, the sisters can also live well."

Master Xuanjing sighed: "With such loyalty, it is a small woman who is stunned."

Jiang Yan asked: "What then? Is your mother finding Nangong strict?"

The ink burned for a moment and sneered: "Found. Although the identity and name of Nangong’s strict stay are fake, my mother found him without any effort."

Someone was surprised: "Hey? Is there such a good thing?"

"There is no such thing as Tongtian. It is just because of coincidence."

People look forward to each other and have some doubts on their faces: "Which is such a clever thing, the city owners of the Confucianism are rarely seen."

"They really don't show up..." The face of the burning face is gloomy. "However, when the big marriage and the child are full moon, the Confucianist Gate will open a banquet and accept congratulations on the castle floor. Isn't it?"

Everyone smells stunned: "Is the letter received by Nangong Yan at the beginning, is it urging him to go back to marriage?"

Another person recalled: "Ah, think of it, Nangong Yan's wife is like a daughter of a big rich man. He should not be forced to helpless, so he left the song of his own sentiment, go back and that Rich family members are married..."

The smoldering look is extremely indifferent: "I didn't want to be helpless. I didn't go back to getting married. The mysterious letter he received at the time was actually a good news. It was the head of Confucianism and told him that his wife was about to give birth. He went back to accompany him."

This time, Xue Zhengyi, who has been silent for a while, has changed. He said: "So when Nangong was playing in Xiangtan, he was actually a woman."

"Yeah." It’s really hard for him to hang down his eyes. This kind of thing is now, there is no too much pain in his face. He calmly said, "Nan Gong Yan is not good because his wife is pregnant. It is easy to produce small, so I came to the outside to distract myself. He met my mother, and my heart liked it, and lied that she had never married and earned my mother's favor."

The popular straight footsteps: "This is really a beast!"

"The wife at home is pregnant, but she ran out to swim in the mountains, and she also made a child outside, hehe."

"This chilling is also a * mold, can Nangong strictly recognize her?"

The answer is self-evident. The crowd was so indignant that they had a bit more pity for the gaze. But the smoldering does not care so much about how others see him. He just continues to talk about his mother's experience.

A secret has been for two generations, and this is the first time he has spoken openly. In spite of the pain, he also gave birth to a few points.

Ink burning road: "At that time, Linyi swayed the water table and celebrated the home of the Confucianism Gate City. I went to the turret of the ninth city and saw the red corner of the porch. The Nangong sternly married his wife and children. The people paid tribute and threw the Jiguoxi cake. My mother later... didn’t go looking for him again. At that time, she had already used up the money. Even the money that passed back to Hunan could not afford it. After half a year, it was in Linyi. In an abandoned wood house, I gave birth to me."

Jiang Yan asked: "Are you going back and forth to Xiangtan Drunken House?"

The ink shook his head and shook his head: "When I was born, my body was very poor. When I was born, I was sick. I couldn’t run around. In order to treat me, she asked the doctors in the medical clinics in the city. No one would help her... She later forced herself to finally hold me and find a way to enter the Confucianism and find Nangong Yan."

That year, the weak mother was holding a newborn baby like a kitten, and it appeared in front of the lover.

The man has no joy, only endless horror and fear, and even anger.

He has a wife and a child, his wife is a famous and promising daughter, the son who was born is white and cute, and the family is full of happiness. Duan Yihan is a mouse in his eyes, to break his good reputation, bad. Drop his family reunion.

She is uneasy.

Why should he recognize them?

I was afraid that she would make things big. Nangong Yan gave her enough money to let her take the children out of the Confucianism door. Duanyihan held the last hope and said with tears: "The child has not yet named, you can Can't..."

He glared at him, his face was blue like iron: "Roll! Hurry! This is not my child, don't give your face a shame, get out!"

She was rudely pushed out.

There is no time to be sad, the little baby in her arms is so weak, her hands and feet are cold and cold, like a dying cat, curled up in her arms.

She called him, and he opened his dark eyes and looked at her ignorantly. He was not naughty, very embarrassed, and very quiet.

She endured tears and hugged him to the hospital.

The doctor in the medical hall told her: "How many times have you said that we are not here? How can you give your child a medical treatment? No money is there-"

She was busy giving Nangong a strict alms to her, and the copper stinky money sent to her was smashed out, and she was so frustrated that she was scared to the young child in her arms.

Her eyes flashed and she kept bowing her head: "The rich, the doctor, the rich. I beg you, do it well, save my child. You see, he, he is still so small..."

The medical hall is not all without goodness. It is only annoyed by the woman in front of her head. The herbal medicine for treating children is not cheap, so she refuses her so rudely. Since this woman can pay enough money, their attitude will be better.

Herbs, acupuncture.

The illness is too heavy and he still has to live in the medical hall. The condition of the burning of the ink was good and bad, and it took a few months to recover the health. At this time, there is not much left in the silver of Duan Yihan. She thanked the doctor and left with her child. Seeing that winter is coming, she is afraid that the young child will freeze again, so she will cut a small donkey and a small bed.

After doing this, the money was exhausted, and she could not return to Xiangtan. However, Duan Yihan sat in the abandoned wood house and looked at the little guy with his fingers and giggling towards himself, but he felt very happy and very peaceful.

She has always been a contented person.

"What should I call you?"

The little boy is screaming and can't talk.

Duan Yihan gave birth to a pile of fire, holding his own child to warm in the fire pit and teasing him.

The child laughs and she laughs.

The fire was burning and the house was soaring and dilapidated, but because of this fire, she felt very warm. She stared at his little face and made him kick his little feet and haha.

She thought for a moment and said, "If you don't, let me burn it."

The ink burned his fingers and his eyes glared at her.

Duan Yihan’s face seems to have a moment of sorrow: “I don’t know what you should be, you can’t be surnamed Nangong, but you can’t follow A-n’n’s surname. The name of A-Niang is given by the aunt in the music house. You follow me. It’s always a little weird... I only want you to burn it, okay?”

Inklessly licking your fingers, don't nod and don't shake your head.

"Small flaming children, when the spring is over, let's go back to Xiangtan." Duan Yihan touched his soft baby hair. "Mother will play and dance. There is a girl, she is a good sister of her mother. I must like you very much, you have to be embarrassed, learn to call you a mother early... Hey, forget it, her temper is not good, you still learn to call your sister. When you meet, you must say that your sister is good, so that you can eat candy, know do not know?"

She held his soft, young fingers and said softly.

"Fire, wait, the winter will soon pass, and when the spring blossoms, we will go home."

But this winter, after all, it is still too long.

That year was the year of the disaster. The sneaky sneaks in the lower squadrons and the high-rise city defenses in Linyi prevented the ordinary people from entering and leaving. Therefore, Duan Yihan could not leave.

She went to a shop to do a living and wanted to earn some money to support her family. But there is no impenetrable wall in the world. I don't know who revealed the husband's romantic history to Nan Gongyan's wife. In short, soon after that, Duan Yihan was hired by the bun shop to drive her out of the store, for no reason.

Since then, Duan Yihan has been crowded out, and in Linyi, who can't find a living, he has to carry a young child to beg. On several occasions, she was singing softly on the street, while Nangong Yan was angry with her fresh clothes. She followed the Haohao soup and walked in front of her.

He is guilty and wants to hide from her.

In fact, it is unnecessary for him to do this. Duan Yihan is weak, but he has a proud arrogance. She just sings Xiaotan’s song, and does not look at this man. She will not cry when she goes to the old lover. Why is he? So timid.

He actually didn't understand how proud this prostitute was.

"Look at her tears and scars, although the clothes are graceful and kind, the stranger meets each other and doesn't know how to face me."

Someone passed her and threw her a copper plate.

She is like the fascinating music fairy of the year, she is a low-key, soft voice: "Thank you for the good heart."

The days are just like this day, the next round of the world is smoky, and Linyi is on the wall, and the wall is always standing tall.

This vertical is five years.

The ink burned five years old.

One day, Nangong Yan quarreled with his wife, and his heart was annoying. Then he turned east and west, and visited the city. The weather was fine that day, and he held his hand and looked at a jewelry store and pastry shop with a lack of interest. There is also a grandfather under the big banyan tree.

Linyi has always been a blessed land. How many people have died in the next quarter? They are here, and they have been singing and dancing for centuries.

Nangong strictly walked over to see the uncles playing chess.

He is a uniform, and everyone can't recognize him. He will happily point his way to the side, making the uncles end up being so annoyed that he will leave.

Nangong strictly ate, and his heart was not happy. He walked a few steps forward and stood under a big tree. He saw a golden silk-embroidered birdcage hung on the branch, and the embroidered bird in the cage was crisp and humming.

Perhaps the sun is so good, it makes people feel sad, Nangong is standing in the tree and thinking, suddenly thought of more than five years ago, the soft and gentle girl in Xiangtan Building.

He leaned his head and teased the white-eye bird and said, "Hey, will you sing Xiangqu?"

The white-eye bird certainly can't sing, and it sings.

Nangong sighed with a sigh of relief, and his mouth sang a lot of minor tune in his ear.

Suddenly, I heard that the voice was clear after the body, and some people were mourning in the tenderness of the water: "The wild clouds are low and cold, and the sky is snow and ice." The voice is like a jade, oh.

He is like a world, and he looks back.

Because he has been deliberately avoiding, he has not seen her for a long time. At this moment, through the bustling downtown, the crowds coming and going, he suddenly saw the slender and gentle woman - like this for many years, he did not Dare to talk about the wife’s dreams.

He met her again.

Duan Yihan took a weak child, and the mother and son stood on the side of the street. She sang and sang the little songs that were hard to buy in the past. I hope that I can get the pity of the gentleman and get a meal.

She sings softly: "After the road, the mountain road is behind the mountain, there are thousands of pedestrians behind the mountain..."

There are countless people coming and going, no one is staying for her.

Although the song is good, it is not real, she wants to sing, no one is willing to pay for her.

"...Bielang is easy to see Lang difficult, looking at the Guanhe smoke and cold." Suddenly, a pair of gold silk, embedding jade shoes appeared in front of her eyes, she heard a man whispering her not After finishing the song, "The number is not enough to fly the book, the well is tearful to see."

Duan Yi Han snorted, then slowly raised his eyes.

She saw him again.

He is still the same as he was more than five years ago. He is handsome and handsome, and looks very handsome. He is not old at all, and the years have no trace on his face.

Duan Yihan saw his reflection in his eyes. The girl who has been fascinated by water five years ago has become a face-to-face temperament, and she has nothing to look at.

However, Nangong looked at her eyes strictly, but she was somewhat affectionate.

After many years of marriage, his wife heard about his past love history. Although he did not dare to speak out, he was also unhappy. He couldn’t move his temper and his son was stubborn. Today, he stood in front of Duan Yihan and saw her look like this. How many sorrows and pity were born in his heart.

Duan Yihan lived in the mouth, dropped the eyelashes, and did not sing.

"A Niang?" next to the ink burning doubts, turned to look at her.

Duan Yihan said: "Auntie is tired today, go home."

The ink burned and nodded, and smiled: "Then we go back to rest, I think of a way to dinner."

The mother and the son are both willing to go.

Nangong sternly called her: "You..."

His eyes fell on the ink.

The child was thin and small, and the clothes were worn and worn, but they were very sensible and their faces were beautiful.

Nangong was sternly aware that this was his own child.

It is his bones.

He reached out and touched the head of the ink.

I don’t know who he is, squinting, letting this man mess up his black hair: "Hey..."

Nangong Yan thought that year, Duan Yihan hugged a kitten-like baby and came to his house to ask him to save.

At that time she said: "He still has no name."

"What is your name?" Nangong asked.

"Fire."

"Last name?"

"I don't have a last name."

Nangong Yan looked quite sorrowful and looked at Duan Yihan. I don’t know what the impulse was. He said, “Or else, you will—”

When the words were not finished, I suddenly saw a group of priests passing by the Confucianists at the corner.

The sorrow of Nangong Yan was interrupted.

He is a spirit and seems to have returned to reality.

He regained his eyes on the upper part of the clothes.

The eyes that once looked at him and smiled and bent, are now very ugly, no longer have any dreams of a young girl, even when he just wants to recognize them, it is cold.

She has already seen this man through.

Nan Gong Yan is therefore somewhat embarrassed and somewhat awkward. In order to cover up this kind of emotion, he coughed and generously, and stuffed all the gold and silver treasures in the purse into the ink-burning hands.

He patted the ink-burning head again: "Your mother sings well, these jewels, gold and silver, should match her."

A slender hand took the money bag from the ink.

Duan Yihan only took a copper plate from the bag and placed it in the broken bowl held by the ink-burning hand. Then he handed over the heavy jewels and silver coins to Nangong Yan.

She didn't talk much, but she gave him a blessing in a soft and plain way, just like a passer-by who gave her money for any one.

She said to him politely: "Thank you for being kind."

After that, turn and leave.

She is Xiangtan Lexian, and she has been holding the stars and dancing. When the 10,000 people were empty, she was not alone. Nowadays, Huayi is fading, and Zhu Yan is dying. She can only practise on the roadside, but she will not feel inferior.

That is, from the subtle attitude of Duan Yihan, the ink ignited the suspicion, and then knocked on the side, and asked him all the way to know his own life.

"Mother said this to you because I didn't want to lie to you. But Xiaoyan, you have to remember, don't be annoyed." Duan Yihan said, "I don't ask him."

She said, poke the ink-burning little brain.

"When the next round of disasters has been rehabilitated, Linyi allows ordinary people to come and go, and we will go back to Xiangtan."

The ink burned for a long time, then nodded: "I don't ask him, I and A Niang go back to Xiangtan."

Duan Yihan smiled and said: "I don't know if my sister still doesn't recognize me. I don't look good."

The ink burns is very anxious: "A mother looks good."

"Ok?"

"A mother looks best."

Duan Yihan smiled even more brilliantly. Between the eyebrows, it really revived the style of the beautiful lady of the year. She teased him: "The mouth is so sweet, who will marry you in the future, you have to squat."

The ink burned a little embarrassed, pouting, after a while, but still revealing sharp teeth.

"When I grow up, I want to find a wife like a fairy, and then I will be with my mother."

"Oh, you think so beautiful, whoever is married to you."

The mother and the son laughed a little, and the fire in the firewood room was very warm. As if every day in the future, it will continue to go so calmly. Fire and night gave the poor people illusory comfort, so at that time, none of them expected, in fact, Duan Yihan, has been no longer.

"It was in the autumn when I was five years old." Ink burned, "The Mid-Autumn Festival has just passed. The Confucianism Gate has been closed for a long time, and Linfen has insufficient supply. They have adjusted the price of the goods. In the end, it is the poor who let the head down." Control your stomach, don't grab the food with the rich."

Xue Zhengyi had heard a lot of feelings, and his heart was in a mess. But when he said this, he still thought about it and then nodded.

"Yes, I remember that price adjustment. After the flood, I was hungry." The Confucianist finally lowered the price back. It lasted for about a year..."

Jiang Yandao: "I remember it is half a year."

The ink closed and closed his eyes and said: "It is not that long. It is one month and five days. It only lasted for thirty-five days."

Chapter 259

Someone asked: "How can you remember so clearly? How long has it been?"

How can he remember? In the memory of Jiang Yan in the Shang Xiu Jie, it is a plain half year. In the memory of Xue Zhengyi in the Xiu Xiu, it is a year of great feelings.

In the memory of ink burning, it is gradually desperate, and it takes thirty-five days to live. Every day is not as good as death, every day is still purgatory.

At that time, when the price adjustment order came out, people were worried, and Duan Yihan and the children could not get enough food. They could only rely on smashed vegetable leaves and moldy rotten rice noodles. Later, more and more people were unable to eat, and they could not even get the leaves. In the midst of difficulties, the ink can't help but say to Duan Yihan: "A mother, let's go to the Confucianism Gate to find him, and ask some food?"

Duan Yihan moaned: "No one can ask him."

Begging for mercenary along the street, nodding your face, losing your smile and drinking, are forced to work, but if you go to Nangong Yan, the meaning is different.

Although Duan Yihan was poor and stumbled, he did not want to break the bottom line of this last layer.

She refused, and the ink was no longer mentioned.

The child is not eye-catching, his skill is surprisingly agile, and on the ninth day of the promulgation, he finally stole a white radish in the ground.

Duan Yihan carefully hid the white radish, and only cooked a big fist every day, the two separated. When I got the eighth meal, the radish was already rotten, but because I couldn't see anything that could be fruitful for a long time, Duan Yihan cut the remaining rotten radish again and managed to cope with it for a few more days.

On the twenty-first day of the price adjustment order, they ate the last radish and could not find any food to fill the hunger.

The twenty-fifth day.

Rainstorms in the sky, there are cockroaches in the ground, and the ink burns them together, picks up some rain, cooks and eats.

The feeling of being slippery in your mouth is disgusting. The ink burns and these small animals that are not thin, muttered sorry. There is really nothing to fill your stomach. If you have passed this time, you are his grace. Seeing pity in the sky, he does not want to eat grace again, when will this nightmare come...

The twenty-eighth day.

The ink burned.

Even if the children are talented and aura, they can't stand the hunger and toss.

Duan Yihan has long lost his strength and his eyes are empty.

On this day, with her ink burning, she finally made up her mind to get out of the sheltered house and slowly walked toward the towering fairy city of the Confucianism Gate. She had her own bottom line and would rather die than go to Nangong.

But the child is innocent, he is still so small, how can she leave the world with her.

The people in the hall have all been exposed to sin, and the ink is guilty and sinless, but it is too miserable.

Someone slowed down the tone and sighed and asked: "Have you got it?"

"No." Moeburn said, "The bad luck, when going, Nangong Yan is quarreling with his wife."

He paused and continued: "When the lady of the city saw her, she was furious. She was a violent man. Not only did she give me a star-and-a-half food, but she also drove her out of the Confucianism."

"What about Nangong?"

"I don't know." Mohburn said, "My mother did not mention him."

It may be blocked, or it may just be standing next to it, and I can't help it.

I don’t know what happened on that day, only knowing that when Auntie came back, she was covered in scars. She squatted in the wood house and held him without talking. Later, she began to cough up blood, vomiting blood and stomach juice outside, and the room smelled of sour and sour.

The thirty-fourth day.

Duan Yihan is almost out of order, almost unable to speak, not crying.

This evening, she recovered from her fainting and recovered her strength. Seeing that the ink was burning around her, trying to warm her with a thin body. She was very light and light, and said to him very gently: "Small children, there is a way to go back to Xiangtan."

"A mother..."

"Go back to Xiangtan, go find your sister, and report to you." Duan Yihan stroked the ink of the ink, "Go to Xiangtan to report, don't stay in Linyi to seek revenge... Listen to the words of A Niang, well... At the beginning, A Niang came to Linyi I owe you a lot of money for your sister, but it’s not clear...you go back, stay with her, do something for her, and ask her to be happy. In the days to come, if others give you kindness, they must be good. Remember."

The ink burned with tears and looked up at the firewood room. She described the skinny face.

Duan Yihan's eyes are black and shiny, even with some grape-like purple.

"And then go back."

That is the calculation of the ink burning before the death of Duan.

She was afraid that after she left, the child would go on a wrong path, so he must be so sure that he must leave this sad place.

If a person has a head, he will not be thinking about it, and it is not easy to fall into the trap of hatred.

She gave him a head - say goodbye.

Don't take revenge.

The thirty-fifth day.

This ridiculous price adjustment was finally abolished in the riots, lasting for only a month and five days.

For the rich people, it is like a farce has finally come to an end. Linyi was full of smoke and smoldering in the city, and they woke up in the soft warm pockets, took the sip of the eight treasures on the maid's side, picked the teeth, heard the news that the price adjustment was invalid, but also made a few complaints. , yawned.

Everything is irrelevant.

But for the ink burning, it is a very exciting thing.

I don't have to worry about the rations, so the good-hearted people on the street have increased, and the ink burns a cake, and even a bowl of poor meat porridge.

He was reluctant to drink in one bite, carefully in his hand, and he wanted to go back soon and hold it to the sick mother.

Meat porridge is such a good thing, A Niang drink, can definitely recover?

He couldn't wait to use this bowl of porridge to save his mother's life, but he didn't dare to go home. This porridge bowl is cracked, next to a big mouth, if it runs fast, it is a pity to splash it out.

He went back to the firewood room again and again.

"A Niang -!"

He held the broken bowl in his hands, and used the dirty head of the melon seeds. The little milk dog usually opened the broken firewood, and his face was full of laughter, full of embarrassment for the future.

How good, there is meat porridge to drink, A Niang will soon get better, and finally spring blossoms, they have to go on the road together, go back and go. Where the songs and dances are flattened, there will be no hungry, there is a sister who is surnamed, and they finally have no need to be displaced and beg for a living.

How nice, they go home together.

"Oh," he said.

The door opened.

"She is lying inside." In the heart of Dan, the ink burned quietly.

Other people are either surprised by his coldness, or his teeth are cold and cold.

This person, who mentioned the death of his mother, was calm and calm. There was no temperature, no waves, no tears.

But no one has ever thought about how many years of soul-wounding nightmare, in order to break the liver and intestines, to smooth the scars, to get such a well-waved face.

"I call her, she doesn't wake up." Mo burned, "She won't blink again, and she can't drink that porridge anymore."

Long silence.

Mrs. Wang trembled and said, "That... later, you... you are alone, back to Linyi?"

The ink shook his head and shook his head: "I went to the Confucianist door."

Someone "ah!" said a cry, "You, are you going to seek revenge?"

"My mother said, "Repay it, don't seek revenge." The ink is faint. "I didn't want to seek revenge. I just wanted to bury my mother. But I don't have the money, and I don't have time to raise it, so I went to his house. Ask him to give some money."

"Have he given it?"

The ink burned almost a smile and said: "No."

"No, no? But as you said before, Nangong is very strict, and there are still some pictures of your mother, how can you even lose money?"

Ink ignited: "Because he sent his wife and found a short-sightedness not long ago, he passed away."

"what?!"

Jiang Yan raised his eyes: "...The wife of Nangong Yan did go very early, and he still committed suicide..."

"The woman was pregnant, but her husband was entangled with others outside. After giving birth to the child, she always clashed constantly, and her life was extremely unsatisfactory. I went to the house to find them on the day, and after she bumped into her, she It became more and more furious. It was said that she stabbed Nangong Yan with a knife at that time, and angered Nangong and said that she would retire her wife."

The ink burned and paused, and then said: "She can't stand it. In the middle of the night, she died. She walked a few days earlier than my mother."

When I heard this, everyone did not know what to say. In the beginning, there was a dew of love and enthusiasm. In the end, the beautiful people were fragrant and jade, and they were also home-breaking. The cause and effect cycle in the world is probably the same.

"When I appeared, Nangong Yan was being reprimanded by the head. His wife's family also came. It is a famous merchant in the Linyi." The ink burns, "Nangong has been smashed by the dog, and he is annoyed." Suddenly see me, where is there any good temper."

Mrs. Wang is the softest heart. Although it is known that the ink is not a blood relative, it is also a pity for the heart.

This past event, the ink is really not willing to mention.

The eyes of Nan Gong Yan at that time were on the face of those who were hanging.

There is also the mourning hall of Mrs. Nangong, the golden paper and silver flowers, the paper-small children, the spiritual tools piled up in the mountains, the beautiful embroidered souls, the black-haired nanmu lacquer, and too many things.

Hundreds of people lingered on both sides to guard the spirit of the woman who was looking for a short-sightedness.

The long lamp is filled with sperm whale oil, and the ninety-nine-volume heart-shaped dish is silently burned, the wind blows away the smoke, and the powder is fragrant.

Too lively scenes.

And what about his mother?

Xiangtan Lexian section Yi Han, only one piece of cloak that may be worn off, perhaps a thin and thin young child.

She didn't even have a straw mat.

"It’s hard to find a shot when you hit three feet."

- That is the anger of the South Palace, extremely desperate, and the words of the ink.

Then the man, under the watchful eye of the head, under the watchful eyes of his parents, pushed the illegitimate child out of the door and refused to recognize it.

Mrs. Nangong died, when she painted the golden lacquered enamel, the agate fragrant beads, the snow cold shroud, the corpse was not rotted, the silk was covered, the satin covered the eyes, and the crane was on the road.

Duan Yihan died, a corpse, one person tears, two yin and yang, no other. According to the meaning of Nangong Yan, she should not be extravagant for a thin wood coffin.

So, who dares to say that people are equal before death?

Destiny is unfair from the beginning.

To the end.

She is still as muscular as jade.

She has decayed into mud.

"I dragged her to the mass grave and fell to the funeral." The ink burned the numbers and understated.

He did not elaborate on how he pleaded with the gentleman to carry them on a journey, and how to spend the fourteen days of the rotten and stinky body dragged to the suburbs.

He did not say how he used his hand to open the rock, shred the soil, and buried the mother's skinny body.

Ink burning is not used to complaining before people.

He has always been a person who buried the past very deeply, and he will not be ignorant if he is forced to do so.

He has been humiliated, malicious, blind, and defamatory in the first ten years of his life. He has a hard heart like iron, and he doesn't care how others look at him. He simply disdains that someone sympathizes with him.

"Then I went to Xiangtan."

He couldn't stand the place of Linyi again. One day, he hid behind the board of the city priests and sneaked out of the city.

He began to walk to the side of Hunan according to his mother's jealousy, and spent half a year, from midsummer to early winter. When the shoes were broken, they walked barefoot, and later they had thick shackles on their soles.

Just like this, he walked and asked, when he walked outside the Temple of Nostalgia, he finally fell into the haystack because of the freezing hungry.

"A Niang..." The little child was lying in the ground, and the messy Ufa was a pair of distracting eyes. He looked at the world.

It’s snowing, snow early this winter.

"I want to see you... Sorry... I can't hold it..."

The snow fell lightly, sighing softly, covering his eyebrows.

There was footsteps approaching in the daytime, oh, followed by a hand to open the grass, he heard a childish voice: "Master, you come! You hurry him, what's wrong with him?"

After a while, a pair of mans shoes approached, and a man was talking: "Don't worry, go back first. I will come see him."

The man’s voice was so cold and cold that he didn’t have much emotion.

The ink burned instinctively and felt scared. He instinctively felt that the boy was close, and the man was cold. He didn't know where the strength came from, and the desire to live made him raise his hand and smothered the young man's cloak in front of him.

Still not talking, tears will first collapse.

"rice……"

Hungry, beg you, I want to eat.

The boy who was shackled by him was Chu Xiening who went down with the sin of the day, and Chu Ning stunned: "What?"

The ink burned and lifted a small face that was dirty and couldn't work. He twitched and made a risotto, and the throat swallowed bitter. Everything in front of me is faint, dizzy, and screams in my ears.

He shed tears and pleaded for the people in front of him. He knows that if this little brother is the same as many of the old masters he has ever met, and he will abandon him, then he will not be able to live, and he will be angry. He is really no longer able to stand it anymore.

"eat……"

Later, Chu nightning gave him a pot of rice soup.

A pot of soup saved a person who was starving to death.

After drinking the rice soup, the ink burned away from the Temple of Nostalgia. At that time, his brain was groggy. For the appearance of "Meng Gongge", he only remembered a pair of eye-catching eyes, the eyelashes were very dense and long, others There is no more impression.

However, from the day of no sleep to the Xiangtan, he was wearing the cloak that his brother had given him. At that time, his body was small, and a young man's clothes were extraordinarily clumsy and funny, especially after wearing the hat, the cap almost covered his entire face.

There are always children on the road who are worried about food and clothing. They are leaning on their parents and smiled and said: "Hey, mother, look at the little girl, what is he wearing, really funny!"

The ink is not angry.

What is the cynicism of others? He was only grateful that this unfit cloak could shelter him from the rain and give him a gentle inch.

He is draped in it, and when it snows, the snow falls on him. At night, the darkness did not reach his heart.

And when night falls, he will be born from the fire, sitting on the knees and warming with his knees. He puts the cloak over his head, and the whole person indents, looking at the orange flame from the soft velvet.

The cloak is very warm, like the arms of A Niang, and the gentle phoenix eyes of Engong's brother... The little child curled up and slept like this, and even smelled the faint scent on the cloak in his sleep, like Leaning against a sea bream tree that is open to the scorpion.

Looking back at it, it’s no wonder that I always feel that the smell of Chu’s body is very good. As long as there is a breath in his pillow, he can always sleep peacefully.

It is no wonder that at first glance, the elders of Yuheng were seen under the Tongtian Tower, and they felt that the phoenixes that were falling were extremely gentle. It seems to have seen it everywhere.

It turns out that everything is causal.

He and Chou Ning... It was said that he had spoken so early, and he had contact with his body temperature. He even licked the palm of his hand. It turned out that so early, he smelled the flowers on the clothes of Chu night, and the old brother he had been looking for was around, and he never stayed away.

The ink burned and fell, and in this cold and cold Danxin Temple, there was a warmth.

But this is the secret between them. The ink burns in my heart, thinking is both sorrow and sweetness. He keeps this secret in his heart, and no one tells, nor does he say to everyone.

He took a deep breath and paused and continued: "After Xiangtan, I found the hurricane weak according to Aunt's widow."

At that time, only the five-year-old Xiaolinger was wrapped in a thick cloak belonging to the younger boy.

The cloak of the cloak was dragged on the ground, and it was already dirty. The child poked out a dirty bird's head from the fluff, and leaned back on the face of the yellow-skinny face. He whispered, "Is it a weak sister? Is it here?" ?"

"Is the hurricane weak?" The monk who was pulled by him laughed and curiously looked up and down him. "Lefang huakui? Although we don't sell it here, but for the girl's limelight, a few don't like it. She looks more like her songs? How old is your younger brother, actually knowing to find her?"

The ink burned his eyes, his eyes were sloppy, and he didn't understand her at all.

But the sneer in the girl’s eyes was red, and the ink burned so stunned. He glared at the collar of his cloak and blushes: "Please, I want to see my sister. I, my mother let me Come to her..."

"Hey? Who is your mother?"

"My mother's surname is called Duan Yihan..."

"Ah!" The singer changed her color and took a step back. She covered her with a slap, and even the original lazy peach eyes were round and round. "You, are you a child of Duan Lexian?"

When Duan Yihan was famous for his role in the Quartet, he never made a fortune. He often used extra jewellery money for those who were old and weak, and his voice was no longer the sisters. Therefore, this monk heard that he was a child of the girl. He immediately changed his attitude and was busy taking him to the greenhouse to see the hurricane in the high lying room.

Covering the door, the ink burned down to the hurricane, and originally told the local authorities about the matter. The hurricane was weak and weak, and the tears were wet.

She immediately found her mother, saying that she wanted to stay with her, and she refused to do so, but she couldn’t help but scream for a few times, and she looked at it and thought that the child could do something for the building, so she Reluctantly promised. Calling Hanako to enter the building is afraid of causing suffocation. According to the rules, I have to burn all the previous ones, and then thoroughly clean them.

There is no problem in taking a bath. When it comes to burning clothes, the ink burns and cries.

"Cry what! In the future, it is not not to buy you a new one!" Yan Niang took the hookah and hit the ink-burning head impatiently. "It’s interesting, the old lady gives it to live, and the others laugh too late, so you are so poor. kind!"

Insufficient smoldering sister, she has already said good things for him.

So he bit his lip and died, licking a pair of red eyes, standing in front of the fire and twitching.

He really didn't want to understand at the time, why is this all? Why he just wants to leave an old clothes, but because he is weak, because he is mean, because he is a stinky meal, in order not to provoke anger and trouble, he can only be taken from others by himself. Kneeling down. He can't struggle, can't say "no", and he doesn't even have the power to tears.

It once gave him so much warmth, pinning and relying on it. In order to shelter him from the wind and rain, the dirty color does not see the original color.

Now that he has a place to stay, he may never use it again. He just wants to wash it carefully and stack it neatly, even if it is no longer worn, and it is under the small box. It is his friend, not just an old clothes.

But everything can't help him.

With a bang, the dirty cloak was put into the flames, but the people who lost it were not allowed to give up, but at the end they were still dirty. For the ink burning, it is a cremation, a funeral.

He watched.

The flames of the fire slammed into the sky, and the earth was magnificently blurred.

"Slow down...not enough..."

"where are you come from……"

There is still a gentle voice of the boy in the ear. That was what he had received in his bleak life, and there was not much goodwill.

They are all gray.

The ink burned like this to the goddess of the drunken jade, and he also had a righteous surname, surnamed ink. Since then, it has become a miscellaneous little man in the building, and finally passed the Duan An birthday.

However, the good times are not long. At that time, the hurricane was not too young. According to the rules in the building, although the music house is no more than the brothel, but when it is old, if it does not make a full "self-pity fee," then the girls’ first night will be handed over to the niece. Sold to those who are wealthy.

The hurricane is weak and she has already earned a lot of money for the drunken house.

"There is still a difference of 150,000 gold." When the hurricane was weak, he smiled and said to the ink, "Small child, when your sister earns enough money, I can redeem my body. My sister will take you through a good life."

The ink burned was distributed in the house, and she rarely saw her. The mother-in-law kept her heart from letting the people in the building pull the gang, so the hurricane was weak and the ink burned, always quiet.

She reached out and squeezed his cheek, then stuffed him a candy: "Hey, take it. Unfortunately, I can't give you money, it will be discovered. The dry eyes are poisonous, hehe."

The ink burned and grinned, revealing a mouth that lacked milk teeth: "Well, thank you sister."

However, if the hurricane is weak and the difference is 150,000 gold, it will be able to redeem the body. Can this matter be unclear?

Although she was not moving on the face, her heart was in a hurry.

If the hurricane is weak, it will lose most of the source of money in the drunken building. Then the niece will figure out that before the hurricane is weak, it is necessary to make a good profit.

At that time, there were many big families with coveted winds and weak colors. The price was high enough for the mother to sit and eat for a lifetime. Ms. Niang finally moved her mind, carrying a weak hurricane, and made a deed with a rich businessman who could make money. The two men took advantage of the Shangyuan Festival, and the hurricane was weakly sitting on the floor, giving her a cup of tea that was added with medicine, and then brought it to the room...

On the day of the burning of the ink, I cooked the dumplings and carefully went to the warmer and gave it to my sister.

When he didn't go in, he heard the heavy gasping in the house. He was shocked and opened the door. A thick scent of scented scented scented his face and smoked him to vomit.

In the faint glow, he saw a rich and slick merchant like a streaky pork. The mouth was flowing, his clothes were wide open, he was struggling, and his body was weak and swaying.

"When it is!"

The Tangyuan porcelain bowl was broken on the ground, and the ink burned into the house. I didn't know where the strength came from. He was very amazing when he was a child. He yelled at the rich businessman, then hugged the fat man, and he cried. The pear blossoms with rain, and the hurricane is so overwhelmed that it is overwhelmed:

"Sister, let's go!"

"But you..."

"Let's go! I can't go, I have to catch him! If you don't leave, wait for the mother to come, let's confess here, you are going! Go! Go, I will run away!"

The weak wind is his benefactor.

The ink burned her away, fled the state, and never came back.

That day, he finally made a hero.

The hurricane weakly choked at him and escaped from the building. But the ink burned but did not have time to leave. When she heard the movement, she soon took the person up, and when she came up, she saw that the ink burned and shot the guest, and let go of the squad, the face of the gas was distorted, and she wanted to vomit blood.

Ms. Niang has a son, and his age is similar to that of ink. The son’s heart is poisonous, his stomach is bad, and his mother’s affection is so powerful that he has an idea—the child’s viciousness is sometimes so naive and terrifying. The boy punishes his peers who angered his mother by punishing the animals.

He found a dog cage and let people burn the ink inside. The cage is narrow and sturdy, the ink can only lie in the inside, can't lie, can't stand, they feed him the cold food like a dog, and it's like this for seven days.

For seven days, the ink was trapped in an old house with a weak hurricane, and the smell of incense in the house was mixed with the smell of the body/liquid of the man.

He groaned and groaned.

Smell this groggy, sweet and greasy taste.

I want to spit.

Seven days.

From then on, he smelled incense and was disgusting, and there was fear and horror from the bones.

Chapter 260

In the Danxin Temple, a group of monks did not know what to say. Many people bowed their heads and said nothing.

Master Xuan Jing said: "Hey... Hey, it’s all awkward."

The main wooden smoke of the Tianyin Pavilion is: "There are heads and debts. There are many things in this world. This is the cause and effect, and the interlocking." She said that here, the words turned, "but the ink burns, you Be aware that suffering is not the reason why you vent your hatred and squander your life."

"Yes."

An elder of Huohuangge also sighed and said: "Mo Xianjun, you have been wronged, but it is pitiful. But it is also because you are born bad, fate tricks. People have their own lives, you can not be because of yourself Bullying, go back and bully irrelevant people."

"You did do good deeds and you have been wronged, but as far as we know, you have also killed people... one yard is one yard, it is all clear."

The ink burned without speaking.

Jiang Yan suddenly asked: "How to count."

"This……"

"Who can be clear? Whose life is not life, who can do the most fair ruler." Jiang Yan was willful and did not regard Tianyin as a god. "I don't mean to swear, but I I just want to ask, today, we are standing here, saying that we have to pay for it with the ink, let him pay it back. Then - the humiliation that has been burned by the ink? The injustice he has suffered?"

"..." No one thought that the most lost Jiang Yan in the * case in the past few days would actually stand up and make a fuss for the slightest rain.

The wooden cigarettes are off the road: "Ginger Palm Gate, Tianyin Pavilion has always been fair. My family has guarded the scales of the gods for generations. When the time comes, the instrument will be used to weigh the ink and son's merits and demerits, and you will be sentenced. You don't have to worry. ”

"Strange, what is his relationship with me, why should I worry?"

Jiang Yan looked at Tianyin Pavilion for a long time. He repaired the medicine. He said that as long as the medicine is good, the body of the mortal can be red and dusty. Therefore, the lonely moon night is the most unbelievable to the descendants of the gods.

He stared at a pair of apricot eyes and said coldly and coldly: "But Jiang is very curious. I dare ask the Tianyin Pavilion. After the trial is finished, do you still have to review the other people of these old things? Is it right? Looking at the ground three feet, see if Nangong Yan is still alive in the world? Is it necessary to go to Xiangtan, find the rich man who was the indecent girl of the year? The murder of the murderous man is justified, then he was detained and beaten. The clothes are not covered by the body, the grace is humiliated by the guests, and the mother is starving to death - who is going to talk about?"

The master of the mysterious mirror, Neander: "Wang Jiangmen, why did you suddenly argue for the sinner?"

"The voice can't be talked about." Jiang Yan's thin lips are open and close. "I just thought about how we treated Nangong and Ye Forgiveness when we were in Huangshan. Jiang was not very willing to see the old things repeat."

Someone said: "That is a two-code situation, it is not the same."

“What's the difference?” Jiang Yan said. “Now the Nangong is dead, and the leaves have been lingering on the lonely night. The things have become different – but at the beginning, wasn't we forced them to say that the Confucianism The blood debt, want their two lives to pay for blood?"

He turned around and his brown eyes were like an eagle.

"At that time? Where is Tianyin Pavilion? Where is fairness?"

The people of Bitanzhuang had a deep grievance with the Confucianism because of the swordsmanship. Li Wu’s apprentice, Yan Ming, said: “Ginger’s head is not biased. Nangong is a descendant of the Confucianism Gate. The people of Confucianism are dead, or the old debts must be pursued. No one wants to be a big man."

Jiang Yan sneered: "Yeah, so you see, don't you understand this truth very well? No one wants to be the last person who is slapped but can't fight back."

Description: "..."

"You think so, Xu Shuanglin thinks so, and you can think about it." Jiang Yanzhen sleeved. "When things happen to others, these words are always easy to say. But unfairness and cruelty are really coming. When I get to my head, I only feel that there are so many wicked people in the world, but it is me who suffers."

Yan Mingdao said: "Listen to the meaning of Jiang Zhangmen, I think we are treating the leaves of the South Palace, too cruel and unfair, and the Bitan Zhuangjian spectrum, do you do this?"

Jiang Yandao: "Nangong Temple is no longer there. Who do you want to pursue with?"

Yan Ming suddenly angered: "Is that my master is dying?! Nangong is not there, isn't there a leaf forgetting? She is the dark city commander of the Confucianism Gate, the sword score, she does not have the slightest fall?!"

A dead silence.

Everyone knows that Jiang Yan is a cold and spleen. Yan Ming and his name are too inconsistent. Actually, they are confronted with Jiang Yan in public.

Jiang Yan stared at Yu Ming for a moment and said: "At the beginning, on the Lushan Mountain, Nangong Temple and Nangong Changying played against each other and were seriously injured.... At that time, he spoke to me in a lip language."

"...What?"

Jiang Yan closed his eyes and looked at it. As if he had flashed through the * battle of Nangong, he was slowly speaking to himself under the sword of Nangong Changying.

"I hope to dispel the century-old treasures of the Confucianism, and the Guangji Hanshi, there is no embers."

"This..." The monks face each other and have a little face on their faces. The monks of the Wuxi Temple are even more sloppy, with their hands folded together and the Buddha’s name low.

On the surface of the Ming Dynasty, there was a burst of red for a while. Finally, he gnashed his teeth and said: "He has no bones now. The treasures of Confucianism are in the secret room. Who can play? He is not empty-mouthed and swearing."

Jiang Yandao: "Nan Gongyi did not think that he would eventually have no bones. Moreover, I would rather believe that others will die, and the words are good."

Yan Ming’s lips shook a bit and seemed to want to refute anything, but in the end did not say anything.

After a long time, he said: "This is the reason why Jiang Zhangmen is protecting the ink rain today? I want to ask for tolerance, so as not to repeat the mistakes of Nangong?"

Jiang Yandao: "Jiang has only felt that it is extremely difficult or even impossible to seek fairness and justice. When you want to blame others, you must hold yourself too high. Don't feel that you represent justice. Heaven."

After he glanced at the gods, he said: "Even if the court is judged, it may not be all right."

He said that Xue Zhengyi also spoke here.

Xue Zhengxuan looked very tired, and he didn't even know how to face the smoldering, but he sighed for a long time, still sighing and sighing: "Jiang Jiangmen said that. For so many years, the realm of the realm is turbulent, ups and downs, out of the There are few chaos, and each sect has done more or less confused things. Who can judge an absolute fairness and justice? Hey, actually..."

He sighed and glared at his eyes.

"In fact, the grasshoppers must be killing people by hand? Confucianism's price adjustment order in the past, the knife did not see the blood and killed many innocent people. Xue's size body, standing in the world for more than 40 years, no more achievements, what to do, I don’t want to be a self-cultivation, I don’t want to make a name for myself. I just want to make this troubled life less.”

He said, his eyes were a little straight.

The lord of death and death, even if he is calm, knows that the children who have been raised for many years are not relatives, and they are finally lost.

Xue Zhenggan murmured: "I just want to make fewer people suffer, and one less."

At this time, the wooden cigarettes on the side were clear and cold and cold: "Xue Palm Gate has a strong heart, but you have thought about it. If you are tolerant of sinners, you will not respect the people who are innocent and die, and do not respect the mortals who are implicated. Tianyin Pavilion is weak, there is really no way to liquidate the mistakes made by everyone, and everyone will be brought to justice, but killing chickens and monkeys - since the ink is burning, I will not rush. The knot is over. Look at the head to know."

Xue Zhengyi: "..."

After the wood smoke said this, he turned his head and looked back at the ink.

"Mo Gongzi, you have now said that your life experience has been bitter, and compassion has been almost the same. It is better to talk about something else."

The ink burned faintly at her: "What the cabinet owner wants to talk about."

"Before you said that the girl in Tofu Square was killed or humiliated, not what you did." The wooden cigarette left the road. "I believe you. But there is still someone who is dead, and you can't get away with it." ”

The ink burned closed and said: "The owner of the cabinet is really clear."

The wood smoke is cold and cold: "Then come and talk about it. In the beginning, how did you kill the ink--that is Xue Zunzhu, the real blind man."

Her voice was not lost, she was interrupted by an angry voice.

Xue Meng’s tears and hatred in his eyes, he gnawed his teeth and said: "Stop. Don't say it again!"

The wooden cigarette gave him a glance and commented: "... escape and avoid it, the so-called heavenly pride, it seems that this is not the case."

Responding to her is the Dragon City contend, just like a warning. The scimitar rubbed against the cheeks of the wood smoke, and did not enter the beam column, and the wood chips splashed.

The wood smoke did not dodge, she did not even blink the eyelids, a pair of beautiful eyes like ice and frost, looking at Xue Meng.

Xue Meng bite the back molars, and the muscles on his face trembled: "What kind of relatives, what 鸠 鸠 鹊 nest yin and yang wrong... you said enough."

He slammed back to the Dragon City and his chest was ups and downs.

He no longer goes to see the smoldering, nor does he go to see anyone. He was like a trapped beast, forced to go crazy in the original place.

"Are you finished?? Is it enough?! Is this fun, happy?"

Mrs. Wang said: "Menger..."

Xue Meng ignored the mother's whisper, his eyes were red, holding the dragon city, looking around, it seems to be self-deprecating is contemptuous: "Look at a generation of masters into a murderous demon, see the dead brothers and brothers turn their eyes, see their loved ones become enemies - Do you feel so happy?"

The voice is hoarse and dumb, and the tail sounds like a feather.

"Do you come, is it really for justice? Is it for a truth?" He paused and gnawed his teeth. "Isn't it a trouble to seek revenge?!"

Jiang Yan raised his eyes: "Xue Shaozhu, you are too rude."

Xue Meng slammed back and looked like a flame. "Will you get me to control me?"

"Menger!"

Xue Zhengyi got up and went to Xue Meng’s shoulder, but at the touch of one, he stopped. Although Xue Meng was angry and angry, but the whole person was shaking slightly.

Nearly broken.

"I don't want to hear." He said a word, the deeper the word hatred, "all falsehoods. Lies.... a group of liar!"

Xue Zhengyi was waiting to persuade him, but Xue Meng had pushed everyone away and turned to the Dan Heart Hall.

He did not go to see the smoldering from beginning to end.

In fact, who is lying, the truth, Xue Meng has been clear, but many things in the world are clear and easy to accept.

Xue Meng has been in the wind for more than 20 years. Apart from the death of Chu, he has never experienced any major disaster. It is because of this smoothness that he still feels like a child. This is not a good thing. The red heart has a heart, but there are also rashes, ignorance, impulsiveness and sharpness.

Xue Zhengyi looked at the place where he left, stayed for a long time, and slowly settled down.

He is not young anymore, and nearly half a hundred people have a few white spots. He didn't know if he could stand it. He had to sit down.

This can at least be more comfortable.

The wood smoke seemed to condense a thin layer of ice from the face. There was no temperature at all. She only talked about things, so she said: "Ink rain, that thing, are you going to say it yourself, or do I ask witnesses to come?"

The ink burns very calmly.

The death of a prisoner.

"You don't have to bother others." Ink ignited, "That, if there are related witnesses alive, I don't want to see anyone."

He slowly looked up.

The slight sunshine shone on his pale face.

"I said it myself."

The wooden cigarette lifted his hand and immediately raised the empty seat. She was seated, one handed, and the other wanted to listen to a long story: "Please."

The ink burned closed and closed his eyes. After a while, he finally opened his mouth.

"This matter was originally a businessman."

"What businessman?"

"...you should know that there is a kind of business in the realm of comprehension, called ‘packages.’

Ma Rongzhuang is most familiar with this. He said: "Right, our villa is most familiar with these people. They often walk around in various lanes and inquire about some old stories, so as to make some good. ”

Ink ignited: "Well, so the uncle inquired about the graves of the deceased brother, and found a bag to listen to Mr."

Xue Zhengyi: "..."

This matter, Xue Zhengyi, of course remembers that the smoldering was found by the clerical inquisition of the bag. At that time, the drunken jade building was in a sea of fire, and it was said that only one child survived. He could even clearly remember the bag that inquired about Mr.'s excited face, and could not help but sigh - it is God bless, so that the brother's child will not die, there will be blessings.

"When the bag was inquired, Mr. took over the appointment, and after several investigations, he finally got a look. He went to the drunken building to find someone. Looking for a woman with a surname of ink."

Someone is curious: "Who is that?"

"It is the monk of Xue’s brother, who is called the ink lady. It used to be a prostitute of a big family."

Someone responded and was surprised: "Ink-woman? Is that the name of the drunken jade mother?"

"But I only listened to what she did, as if she were a bad woman."

The ink burned lightly: "She is not born to be evil. Listen to my mother said that the ink lady is quite similar to her encounter, and is also a poor person. She had a lover when she was young, and she was a poor and white one. The Scatter said that he was going to the Xiu Xiu and created a famous martial art school. The ink lady gave him all his money and jewelry, determined to help him achieve his ambitions."

Xue Zhengyi muttered: "It is my big brother..."

The ink burned continued: "When the time was gone, I swear to the ink lady, and I will wait for my own great cause. I will definitely hire the three media and take her home. In this way, he also gave the ink lady a sentence. The word - "Smoke on the river, painted in the boat, the sound of the fairy is slow, Lang Jun is not silent. ", and later became the evidence that Mr. Hearing used to identify with her."

This kind of thing for men and women is the most deplorable.

A female practitioner asked: "Is it difficult to be the foremost gate of the dead, and like Nan Gong Yan, did you abandon your wife?"

Xue Zhengxuan’s leopard was stunned and immediately shouted: “The nonsense! My brother is the kind of person! My brother, he, he has never forgotten the ink girl...”

Referring to the dead brother, this man can't help but feel sad, his eyes are reddish.

Elder elders also said next to him: "This fairy priest is cautious. The former generation was unfortunately sacrificed in a battle after the establishment of the school. It was not a deliberate remark. Before he died, he often talked with the deity. The woman always said that when the martial art was a little stable, she would pick her up immediately. He and Nan Gong Yan were not the same thing."

“It’s true.” The ink whispered, “She is still much more fortunate than my mother. Her husband has passed away, but some people still remember to take her back. Nangong is still alive, but never dares to recognize me and My mother."

"Ha! Then I can know! It turns out that for this reason, your heart is awkward, so the civet cat changed the prince, killed the ink lady, burned the drunken house, and impersonated!"

Hearing such a malicious speculation, the ink burned the "smart" monk and then said: "I never thought about making a name change."

The monk was not convinced and sneered: "What is going on? Is there anyone who forces you to be the son of this dead child?"

It is how it happened?

You can't help but think about it – in fact, there are many things in this world. At the beginning, it was totally different. Only one day, suddenly the butterfly fanned its wings, so the wind rose and the sea turned into a mulberry field.

It’s as if he didn’t think about replacing the position of Xue Zheng’s son at first, and the ink lady was not the one who was full of evil.

She also had a gentle and good-hearted lush years, and she was standing by the Xuan window, hoping that Lang Jun would return soon. She also knew that when she had a child in her abdomen, she was happy to write a letter to inform her distant lover. She also received his letter, and the father’s excitement overflowed with paper.

She has had these wonderful years.

What is a prostitute? Others sneered at her lover is a nameless pawn, laughing at her unmarried pregnancy. One day, he will honor his promise and pick her up and the children in the door. She is so convinced.

However, later, day by day, gradually, the letter changed from a letter on the third day to a letter on the seventh day, and from one day on the seventh day to one in January, and finally there was no news. The ink lady was finally disheartened. She was sexually wild. This relationship was originally taken care of by her parents. After giving birth to a child, she hesitated to take the child to go home. As a result, his father was furious and Mrs. Zhengfang was also insulted. The ink lady was angry and left. Later, several times, the big niece of the year, eventually became the treasurer of the drunken house.

Life is ups and downs, fate is like a melting pot, you go in without knowing what to do, and then come out, perhaps unrecognizable.

This is the case with ink burning, and so is the ink girl.

When Mr. Inquired about her, it was fourteen years since she was innocent and innocent.

The gentleman entrusted by Xue Zhengyi was seated, and folded a fan. He smiled and said, "What about your mother? Call her."

She is coming, she is wearing a peach flower, her arm is yellow, and she twists her waist. She carries a hookah and picks up the bead curtain. She smiles and smiles: "Hey, this son, come to listen to the little song in the morning." Do you like 琵琶 or dulcimer? My * here, Jin Shi Si Zhu, all versatile, open the door business, slaves give you cheaper."

This is life. When the lover was gone fourteen years ago, she leaned against the bead curtain, looked sly, and looked beautiful and beautiful, and watched him go.

Fourteen years later, the younger brother of the lover finally found her, and the curtains of the years were separated from each other, and they were rolled up again. She opened the vermilion green, and it was already full of vicissitudes. The woman who used to be as shy as the little deer has already died. Sitting in the drunken jade building, it is a half-old Xu Niang who smokes a hookah and looks like a silky eye.

Mr. Inquired that Mr. did not feel so much, he only had money in his eyes. He shook his fan and smiled. "It doesn't have to listen to music. I am here, I want to ask my mother about it."

The smile on my mother’s face was stiff and the tone cooled down: “Ask the people? Who are you asking?”

That gentleman said slowly: "On the Yanbo River, in the boat, the fairy sounds slow, and Lang Jun is silent."

When she heard half of her, her face changed. When he finished the whole sentence, she was already unmanned, her lips were shaking, and a pair of sharp, even rather thin eyebrows twitched, holding her hands on her chest. For a long time, this is awkward to ask:

"You, who are you... who is it?!"

Mr. Inquired, Mr. laughed and said: "If I am not mistaken, then I can find someone for Xue Xianchang. In the past, you have a good time?"

The ink lady swayed, did not stand firm, fell on the paulownia stool, gasping with a big mouth, a red face on the face for a while, half a wave of waving and repulsing everyone, leaving only the bag to inquire about Mr. one in the hall. She stared at the businessman's face, her eyes ecstasy, sadness, and all sorts of complexities.

The bag inquired about the faint look of the gentleman. He mentioned the teapot and gave her a half-cold and cold tea. He handed it over: "First drink tea."

The ink lady took the cup and took a sip. She took another sip and waited for the tea to dry. It was still empty for several times, and then she looked up.

"Is Xue... Xue Lang let you come to me?"

The bag sighed and sighed: "To tell the truth, Xue Xianjun, who is mourning for her mother, has already passed away."

"what?!"

"It’s his younger brother, asking me to look around for my brother’s confidante. At the beginning, his brothers and two were in the lower self-cultivation, and they were no longer the ones who were wandering in the past. But the Xue Xianchang was busy. The sects made a tree and couldn’t get away from it. Later, when he was stunned, he had an accident. Unfortunately,..."

When the ink lady hadn’t finished listening, she immediately covered her face and burst into tears.

The bag inquired that she had persuaded her for a long time, and she barely stopped the convulsion. Then the gentleman continued: "Xie Xianjun had talked with his brother about the situation of her mother before her death. His younger brother has been looking for the whereabouts of her mother for years. Find you and pick you up."

The ink-naughter murmured and did not dare to be confident. He yanked the bag and asked Mr.’s hand to say, “You will repeat it again! I don’t believe it, I don’t believe that he is...”

This is the most important sentence of this business. Of course, he is backing up like a stream, and he repeats it again: "On the Yanbo River, in the boat, the fairy sounds slow, and Lang Jun is silent."

The low-low voice of the ink lady "ah" exclaimed, and the tears filled her eyes in an instant. "He, he never looked for me in the past, because I thought... I still blame him..."

Mr. Inquired Mr. sighed: "It’s been many years, and my mother, the festival will change. Yes, is there a son?"

"Yes...Yes, yes!" The ink lady cried and wept, crying, wiping her tears, and then shouting to the warmth upstairs, "A Nian, A Nian... Ink! Quick, come down!"

The door of the warm pavilion opened, but it was not the ink, but a child who could not help but wind.

The child held a pile of change of clothes in his hand, and the thin face came out from behind the clothes, and there were some bruises on his cheeks.

The package inquired that he was hesitant: "Is this... lang?"

"Ah, isn't it." The ink lady said with tears in her eyes, "This is a small fire in my building."

The gentleman immediately relieved and smiled and said: "Oh, it is."

The ink lady turned to ask the child: "Ink burns, where did the son go?"

Chapter 261

Hearing here, the master of the mysterious temple of Wushou Temple sighed: "Amitabha, the ink son is not the relative of Xue Zhangmen, the fate."

Another person reacted: "Ah... is he?"

The surrounding monks did not understand: "What is him?"

"It is the child who mentioned the idea of burning the dog cage with the ink." The man said, "The age is similar to the ink burning, and the son of the ink lady." He thought like this, suddenly squatting, one I slap my head and say, "I understand, you killed their mother and child, and they took up the nest, not because of greed, but because of hatred!"

Some people have heard such an analysis and feel that they are very reasonable. They are scornful and pitiful.

"So, it makes sense."

"Oh, hateful people must have pity."

In this piece of sigh, the wood smoke cleared his throat and the surrounding area immediately calmed down.

She said: "Mu Gongzi, I heard that you are not eating enough in the drunken house all the year round, and you are still being abused. You have never been jealous, you are not?"

Ink burning: "...Yes."

"The son of that mother-in-law is the child who had chosen to close your dog cage that year. Is it right?"

"Yes."

When everyone saw the speculations of Fangcai, they sighed and sighed. They nodded and said: "Hey, look, it is a murderous act of hatred. He must have hated the mother and son."

They are right, how can they not hate it? Ink is the same age as him, but he is much stronger than him. Because he is the son of a mother, no one in the building dares to provoke him. The child has been sinister and inferior, and he loves to take the smoldering gas when he is okay. He smashes the scorpion and often plantes it to the body. What steals the chicken and touches the dog makes the ink burn to the top.

But the smoldering is very honest. Even if he is wronged, he does not dare to retaliate against Avon.

At that time, he only had one cake to eat every day. If you dare to say more, I am afraid that even this last ration will be deducted, so if you are beaten or shackled, he will not say anything, if you really can’t stand it, only In the dead of night, I curled up in the sleeping wood house and whispered for a while.

The voice didn't dare to ring. If you woke up others, it was a beating.

The wood smoke asked: "Do you hate them very much?"

The ink burned and raised his eyes, and there was almost a sneer in the throat: "... otherwise?"

The wood smoke left the road: "But your surname, still follow her, you hate her so much, then I have not thought about changing?"

Ink burning: "The name of ink is the righteous name of the drunken jade. Many servants who sell here are taking this name. We call the ink lady "Da Niang" or "Ama". Everyone is like this, I am used to it. Nothing to change."

"She treats everyone so badly?"

"...no." Mohburn said, "Just she never liked me very much. Later, when I let go of the hurricane, she became more and more sick of me."

"What is the point where the ink lady is waiting for you?"

In fact, this is a very good question. The ink has been burning in the building for so many years. Only on New Year’s Eve, you can eat a piece of crescent meat, that is, the guests have half the fat. In addition, there is only one cake per day. Eat, do the heaviest work, a little careless, will ask for a whip.

But he really didn't want to say anything more, just said: "I don't want to talk about this."

"Good. No harm, let's change one." Wood smoke asked again, "Because she is very poor, so at the time, she asked you where you are going, do you lie? Are you already starting to have yourself? Counting?"

Ink burning: "No."

Where did he dare to lie? His life and clothes are all pinched in the palm of his mother's hand. So when I heard the inquiry from my mother, the little ink burned like a dog that was used to being beaten. First, it shrank, and then whispered: "Reading the son to go private..."

The ink lady is most clear about her son, how is it possible? That kid usually doesn't like reading at all, and 80% is going crazy. But when the bag was still sitting next to her, she coughed and nodded. "Hey, my child is serious and sensible, sir, look, this is not, go out to class again."

Mr. Hearing, he smiled and said: "Ah, it’s good to study hard and diligently. In this way, I will repair the book to the Lord of the dead and the dead. When the uncles will recognize each other, they will not be in a hurry."

The ink-woman will get up and be excited to go on: "Thank you, Mr.. He is rich and glory, and he will never forget the grace of his husband."

After the bag was inquired that Mr. left, the ink lady sat in the same place for a long time, with infinite thoughts and emotions, crying for a while, and laughing again.

After a long day of embarrassment, the corner of my eye found that the ink was standing in the corner and staring at her.

She probably saw a similar experience with Duan Yihan, and perhaps because she was daring before the ink burned, she even let go of her cash cow. But for whatever reason, like the memories of the ink, she doesn't like this scorpion, and she doesn't like it more and more.

She yelled at him: "What are you doing?"

The small ink burns down the long eyelashes: "I'm sorry."

"I am sorry to say that you are in your mouth. Is it ridiculous to think that I am crying and laughing like this?"

"..."

Seeing that he was not snoring, he only lowered his head smoothly, and the ink lady swept him back and forth. He said: "Forget it, don't care about you, what can you understand? A dog who eats outside and doesn't know how to be grateful. ”

The ink burned has long been used to yelling at his dog, hanging his head and not talking.

Mo Niangzi said: "Don't be here, I feel good today, don't hit you. You go to get the son of the son - don't yell at me, I know he is not private - bring him back. I have important things. Tell him, go."

Hearing to let himself go to the son, the ink burned subconsciously. But in the end, I nodded in a docile place, and whispered: "Yes, dry mother."

"Don't call me a mother." The ink lady wrinkled her nose. "This drunken jade building, I will soon... let's not say more to you, you should go first."

At dusk that day, according to the instructions of the mother, the ink burned in the vicinity of the drunken building to find the figure of the son.

He doesn't know if he wants to find this person faster, or find someone slower. Because I found it, I will undoubtedly be swear by the son of the son, and he is tempted to ruin his Yaxing. But did not find it, going back to the ink lady will also blame him, it is useless.

The little figure walked helplessly under the sun.

At that time, the burning of the ink did not know that his fate was about to be exchanged with the son of the son.

He is everywhere, looking for it honestly.

Going to all the places where the sons went to go - river beaches, casinos, brothels, cockfighting yards... and then they were all drowned out.

In the end, he inquired about it and learned that Nianzi’s afternoon and a group of friends and friends went to the mill in the suburbs. It was said that he still had a huge sack.

Nothing to think about, but rushed to the mill.

The mill had long been abandoned, and there were cemeteries around. There was no smoke in the weekdays, and there was no smack in the ink. Before coming to the front, I heard a commotion from the mill. A group of well-dressed teenagers rushed out from the inside. It’s the son of a trousers with a belt.

The ink burns busy: "The son, the mother called you back, saying yes-"

He did not finish his words.

Because he found that the teenagers were full of fear of a big disaster, and several people even shook and cried, shivering.

The ink burned for a moment. The bullying that has been made for many years has made him a kind of vigilance. He saw that the son of the son was * and stared at himself. He immediately shuddered and turned around and ran.

Nianzi responded very quickly and shouted: "Catch him!"

Where is the ink burning of these children's opponents, three times five and two, they were squatted on the ground, twisted to the son of the son.

Someone whispered: "What to do, A Nian, this is a disaster."

"It’s too late to escape, I was seen by this kid."

"If you want to be with him..."

I don’t know what they are talking about, but this piece of tenderness is fierce, and that is his initial impression of the word "Ghost".

Nian Gongzi narrowed his eyes. He is the calmest and most gloomy of these people.

He thought for a moment and said, "Don't kill him."

The ink burned up.

kill?

These people used to beat him and bully him, but he never thought of the word "kill" and could speak from a group of fourteen-year-old teenagers.

He was a bit stunned at the moment and could not even react.

Nian Gongzi said: "Take him to the mill."

"..." A group of people around him looked at each other, and the young boy with a pointed monkey first responded. His eyes were bright, his nostrils were still thick, his face was red, and he said: "Okay, good! Good idea!"

Someone later understood: "Ah! It turned out to be this meaning! Or Ai Nian!"

These people were originally staring at the ink, like staring at the deadly enemies with blood and sea enmity, but at this moment a pair of eyes fell, but like a wolf staring to death staring at a fat lamb.

The ink burned was pushed into the mill indiscriminately.

He was struggling with the hammer, but the door was quickly blocked. There was no window in the mill, only the smoky sun came in through the leaking planks.

The ink burned and shouted: "Let me go out! Let me go out!"

Someone outside is shouting: "Go to the newspaper! Go to the newspaper!"

"Fast, fast! We are watching here, take a few foot fast, go to the newspaper!"

The ink burned for a while, hammered the door for a while, and found that he couldn’t open the hammer and open it. He gave up and walked back, and through the dim light, he saw the room lying across. Someone else.

That is a girl.

Some were good, and later I remembered the prostitute who sold the tofu family in Dongjie. I have been entangled in the family since I was a son.

The girl’s clothes have been torn apart. The blue and bare body is lying on the ground alone. The hands and feet are spread out. The body is blue and mottled, and the private place is a mess.

She was humiliated and dying by this group of animals. When she died, her eyes were still round, her cheeks and tears were not dry, her eyes were empty, and she stared at the direction of the ink and stared at the door.

The ink burned for a moment, then screamed loudly, his back slammed against the door, his pupils gathered - finally understand what the outsiders did and what to do.

It turned out that Nianzi had been showing good things to the girl many times, and he was so sad that he knew that the girl was a soft persimmon and had no background at home. Just with a few partners, I earned people into the mill and took turns to tarnish her. The girl was weak, and the guy was very rude. The result was half done and the girl died.

The ink burned and muttered: "No...no!!" He turned back and began to slap the door panel frantically. "Open the door! Open the door! Not me! Open the door!"

As if to hear his pleading, the mill's threshold opened.

The ink burned out, but the hands were rudely stunned by the teenagers.

The head of the school is Nianzi. He is very heart-wrenching and said: "I almost forgot, I did it like a little."

It means pointing the partner, smearing the ink-burning clothes, and staining some blood and mucus on the girl, and smearing it on the ink.

In this process, the ink burning has been crying, struggling, but the strength of this group of teenagers is too great, the desire to survive is even overwhelming, their eyes flashing the beast-like light, the child’s pleading After they cried, they all turned a deaf ear. Even after someone had bitten a bite by ink, they raised their hands and slammed him several slaps. They said: "You * shut up, you are a murderer! Strong · Violent! So many people support, can you still tell?!"

"No... not me! Not me..."

But how can you resist again? They threw the green and purple that he had caught in the mill, and the dead girl was locked naked and physically, and then the thief shouted to catch the thief and reported it to the government.

It’s hard to argue with ink. In the Tuen Mun, he was blamed on the 30th board in the court. The skin was smashed and fleshy, and then he was taken prisoner, waiting for the final sentence.

The prisoners who were in jail were smirking, swearing at him, several prisoners with daughters heard about his actions, and they couldn’t help but beat him up – some even wanted to □ him – or they didn’t want to make things big, they This will be done.

The ink lady came on the night, and she already knew the truth of the matter in her heart. She also hated her son and did not live up to expectations.

She is a mother, and she will always protect her children.

When she was afraid of opening a court hearing, the official officials would go through the investigation in detail. If she found out her thoughts on her family, how could their mother and son jump to the top to become a phoenix? The letter of the inquiring Mr. has been sent out, and the people who have died will be sent to pick them up. After waiting for so many years, she has burst into tears.

Whether it is Ronghua or her status, she and her children deserve it.

She is not allowed to make any mistakes.

Therefore, she came to the moon with the stars, and both the prisoners and the official officials were filled with money. They begged them to close one eye and take things in the burning of a person.

But it was probably because of the uneasyness of the conscience. After the bridal lady had finished bribing, she came to the prison to visit the ink. Also brought a bowl of braised pork to the ink.

"No poison, I won't poison you."

The ink burned in the corner and looked at him, and a pair of black and purple eyes flashed with helplessness, sadness and pain. The kind of cow, sheep, pigs and dogs that are about to be slaughtered are like this.

Fear, sad.

But it also has the taming after despair.

The ink lady suddenly felt that the heart was a little shuddering and some were screwed.

She was astonished and afraid of her emotions. She suddenly got up, lowered her voice, and stunned her heart. She said, "In any case, you are a child who has no mother. Although poor, but you are dead, no one will be sad. I have been raising you for so many years, and it is time for you to return to my kindness."

"..." There was no buzzing in the ink, no mention, no, no.

The ink lady bites her teeth: "This bowl of roast meat is to be practiced for you. You eat it. Under Jiuquan, don't blame me... I have no choice."

After all, the skirt fluttered and turned away.

In this life, I have not eaten braised pork.

There is a bowl in front of him, he stared at it for a while, and finally did not eat. He put the bowl on the ground and the brine was flowing. He stared at it for a while, and thought of the blood flowing under the girl. He suddenly felt the nausea that he couldn't tell, and turned his back and held the wall and vomited.

He can't spit anything.

He is a person who only has one piece of cake a day.

The cake had already been digested, and he only vomited sour water.

That night, he could not sleep. The blood of his body became a shell, and the blood shell gradually became brittle, and the touch fell like a rust powder.

He is in the cell, not talking to other prisoners, no one knows what he is thinking, no one knows if he is dead or alive.

He is alone, curled up, alone, and slowly figured out a lot of things.

In the dark and dirty cell, in the cell of the party filled with the smell of sour and braised meat, the ink of the honesty was burnt to death. What came to life was the singular emperor who made the whole martial arts stunned - the original look.

Later, eight bitter long hatred flowers gave birth to the hatred of the sky, which is why.

Chapter 263

The confession of ink burning is over. There was no sound in the heart of Dan’s temple, and it was silent.

What is wrong? What is wrong?

Although the individual's heart is self-considered, it can't say absolutely.

The ink burned did not go to see the face of Xue Zhengyi's family. He hung his eyelashes and said halfway: "In those days, I thought I was going to die in the sea of fire. But when I woke up, I found myself lying in the dead. The gentleman sat on my bed and saw that I woke up, just hold my shoulder and tell me - from now on, I am the son of a dead child."

He paused and chuckled: "It is the uncle's nephew."

On the ground of the Danxin Temple, Du Ruo can be embroidered, and the ink burns and looks at the purple and red, and the expression is light.

"That bag to inquire about Mr., I am afraid that I have no money to take. So when my uncle rescued me from the drunken jade building, he anxiously asked him if he was the child he was looking for. He nodded." This point has changed my destiny."

Master Xuanjing sighed: "Amitabha, ink donor, can you be safe? For so many years, have you ever thought about confessing with Xue Zun?"

"Why didn't you think about it, I was very upset when I woke up, I wanted to be honest."

The burning eyes looked awkward and seemed to see the years passed by.

"But, when I heard that I woke up, my uncle... I came to see me. My mother gave me a noodle. I remember lying three poached eggs, all of them, and full of fluffy foam. She told me... I was afraid that I just woke up, didn't digest, and chopped it before I swallowed. Xue Meng also came over and sent me a whole box of cakes."

Slowly.

"I ate the bowl of noodles, those flower cakes. I can't say anything about the truth. They smiled at me like this, treat me well... If I said, the fire of the drunken house is for me, I killed you. The nephew, your younger siblings... What will happen?" The ink burned softly. "I can't say it. This sentence swallows in the throat, the more it goes to the back... I don't know what to say."

Master Xuanjing sighed: "Hey..."

"I know what kind of person is innocent. His temper is lazy and frivolous. I didn't know if my uncle knew him very much at first, so he did his best to do it with every move. Later, I found that my uncle didn't know, I didn't know. Everything is subject to him.” Moe said that he paused for a while and continued to sigh. “... In the end, I have a deep-hearted blood debt with the Moyan family. But in the end, I occupied their loved ones.”

Everyone in the dead and the dead is awkward, and many disciples or elders who have had contact with the ink have stood up, and their hearts have mixed feelings. Xue Zhengyi and Mrs. Wang did not speak, and they looked at the burning figure.

This child, from no less to a generation of masters, they watched him grow up.

But now tell them that all this is wrong from the beginning.

The smoldering is not their scorpion, and even worse, they are even separated by human life, through blood.

What should I say?

What to do?

Xue Zhengyi did not know that Mrs. Wang was not clear.

They have not seen "Mu Nian", and all the owing and sorrow for the deceased brothers are pinned on this child called the smoldering. They don't know who the ink is, but they touched the smoldering hair and took the ink. The hand was smothered by ink, "uncle", "aunt".

Xue Zhengyi is in a mess.

In the silence, the wood smoke said: "The ink burns, although you are pitiful, but the crimes are so tiring, don't be light. If you count down, how much do you know how much you have committed?"

The phlegm was not like Tianyin Pavilion, he closed his eyes and did not answer.

The wood smoke is stunned by him, and his voice is like a bell. His voice Lang Lang: "You kill the mortal, set fire to the building, defraud the identity, lie to the son - on the top of the mountain, you know that you are carrying the blood of the Nangong family, but Cold-eyed, unpredictable, lonely night, you open the killing, blood splashing hall - what are you asking for?"

"I repeat, the people of the lonely moon night are not me. It is the two worlds after the opening of the door of life and death. That person is not me at all."

"Life and death is the first ban, it has not been opened for thousands of years. Don't you think your pretext is too ridiculous?" The wooden cigarette was cold and cold. "I am afraid that you are not a shackle after you are a Nangong. Want to design subversive ups and downs?"

"The wooden cabinet has too much words." Jiang Yan heard this and couldn't help but frown. "In my opinion, there is no motive for wanting to subvert the upper and lower circles. If he wants to do these things, he will be free in Lushan. Some means, I am afraid that the top ten sects will suffer a lot. These places are full of doubts, and they are not clear before, and they are cautious."

The wood smoke from the cold eyes screamed at him: "Jiang Jiangmen does not have to speak for him. Even if he does not intend to subvert the realm of cultivation, he will be guilty of his previous sins, and it is enough to go to Tianyinge to ask for trial."

After she finished her speech, she raised her hand and directed her to follow me: "Take the ink and take it away."

"Wait!"

The wooden cigarette was off the side and looked at Xue Zhengxuan: "School Master has something to say?"

Xue Zhengxuan’s face was green and red. He didn’t seem to understand why he would stop the wood smoke. It’s been his habit to see his ink burned for so many years.

He couldn't sit and let Tianyin Pavilion take people away like this.

But what should he say? Retain it?

Xue Zhengyi closed his eyes and his teeth trembled finely. He only felt cold and felt hollow in his heart, like something important to be smashed.

He buried his face in his palm, and he was always insane. At this moment, he was shocked by aging and embarrassment.

"Does Xue Zun want to talk to his nephew?"

The wood smoke is notorious, intentionally or unintentionally used the word "scorpion", let Xue Zhengyi as the wind in the wind, tremble.

"I..." Xue Zhengyi’s throat was hoarse, "burning... ink burning..."

He didn't even know how to call him.

The ink burned no longer made him embarrassed. He closed his eyes, took the first few steps, and bowed down to Xue Zhengyi.

Three to nine.

Someone is swearing: "Well, what to do."

"Awkward..."

The smoldering turned a deaf ear to this, and the ceremony was over. He got up and was ready to leave.

However, at this time, Xue Meng suddenly rushed into the Dan Heart Hall. His Dragon City was full of black blood and was extremely shocking. He shouted: "Outside -"

"what happened?"

"There are a large number of rare chess pieces to kill, and many of them are the dead soldiers of the Lushan Confucianism!!"

Everyone is amazed! Rushing out of the temple - only see the shackles of death and death, hundreds of clouds outside the sky, countless monks vacated the sword, robe sleeves hunting and flying. Half of these people wore a uniform black robes, wearing a cover, and the other half were cranes and feathers, and they were covered with glare. It was the corpse of the heroes of the Confucianism.

"This, what is going on?!"

"Isn't these corpses, Nangong, already sinking? How come they have come out! Who is the ban on unraveling?"

When the party exports, there is an answer in mind.

Who is the ban on unraveling, and who can unlock the ban on the Nangong family?

Many eyes that have gone out of anger have already gathered over the ink.

At this time, although the ink was known to be behind the scenes, it was a hundred words. What is even more terrible is that he is now losing his spiritual power and can't stop the chess piece from invading. He can only watch as many thousands of dead people come.

The life and death are as good as before.

In an instant, the dragon and the dragon will turn over and become a blood sea in an instant.

——The “surprise” that the teacher said was not finished yet...

"First fight!"

"Repel this wave of chess pieces! Fight off first!"

Everyone went out to the hall to meet, but because they had no prejudgment about this change, and these precious pieces came, there was no sign, so they made a mess.

The ink burned in front of the temple, and the chess pieces fell. They were connected with the disciples of the dead and the dead, and they resisted the monks who faced the war.

Silver blue frivolous and black cloak smashed a place, mixed together.

He is standing on the jade level, his eyebrows are bursting with pain, and this is almost a re-enactment of past life memories.

In the last life, it was he who controlled the army of chess pieces gathered by the dead and the living, killing all the people who dared to say "no" to him.

From that moment on, he began to get used to killing people. I am used to human life like grass mustard, and the liver and brain are heavy.

He still remembers that he was standing in front of the Dan Heart Temple at that time, and the rebellious disciple smiled and looked at the crowds and stunned people. Lying on his boots, lying is the body of Xue Zhengxuan and Mrs. Wang’s uncold.

"Start from the dead, use your blood, pave the way for me."

The sneer of the past life is still in the ear, the burning eyelids suddenly jumped, and he shouted to Xue Meng: "Don't fight, can't beat! Go away, you are going!"

The voice was noisy, Xue Meng was too far away from him, and he did not hear it.

The ink burned around and looked around, and the swords screamed and war.

He saw Jiang Yan fighting with more than a dozen pieces of chess. At that moment, he thought of how Jiang Yan, the last generation, fell under his knife.

"You don't care about this seat?"

"No."

“Do not recognize this seat as an emperor?”

"deny."

Blood splattered, and the hand fell.

Can't beat it...

The smoldering saw that the Lord of the Snow Palace was low-pitched, and the sound was ninety-nine. The stagnation of the chess piece was vague and swaying, but the last time he thought of this palace was how the ten fingers were destroyed and the bones were broken.

“Why are you recalcitrant?”

"I am the owner of the first house. Although I am unable to keep the snow palace safe, I will never escape."

The pottery smashed and became the final sound.

Can't beat it.

The chaos was overgrown, and the smoldering saw Mrs. Wang and Xue Zhengyi working together to defend the enemy in the distance. What he had flashed in front of him was the face that he had never noticed before, and his earnestness and anger were frozen in the eye.

Through two lifetimes, I stared at him and resent him.

cold.

Really cold.

The smoldering body muscles are trembled, the fingertips are cold, and the teacher has done this step... He actually did this step!

Before that, he felt that the teacher had to take away the sin of the late night, so he would resolutely return to the death and death. At this point he couldn't help but numb the scalp -

What if he was impulsive on the day, did not listen to the threat of the teacher, and insisted on recovering the late night, what would happen?

The half-walled heroes of the comprehension world are here. What if these people die in the dead and dead without knowing what to do?

The interlocking arrangement of the division is not to give him a half breath. Looking at the ink, the treasures of the mountains and the wild... The life-dead people who are not afraid of death and fear of sorrow...

Can't go on like this, can't go on like this! !

Shi Yan said that this is a "surprise" for him, and it will not be laid for no reason. Since he is back, he is obedient, and there must be a solution to it! He can't watch the old dreams repeat, can't look at the death and death, and can't look at his uncle and die in front of him.

If the past is repeated, how can he face himself... How should he face the late night?

The ink burned back to the gods, and the crowds of overlapping and overlapping were rushed toward their aunts.

"Don't fight! Let's leave here first, leave here first, don't fight! It's impossible to play!"

He was hoarse and stunned. Like a man who is sinking into the ocean, he is doing his best to earn money. He earned a living like a dead man, like a moth earning a fire, and earning his life to another life.

"Don't fight! Go away, go quickly! You can't beat!"

Can't beat it.

I have seen your death with my own eyes.

Let's go, please.

Suddenly a sword crossed the road, Jianguang Sen cold.

Looking at it, it is the face of wood smoke from the cold.

"Do you want to escape?"

Ink angered: "You let it go!"

"You are a recidivist in the realm of cultivation, I deserve it -"

Between the broken teeth, the wood smoke feels cool behind, and when I look back, I see a chess piece with a cover and a sword. She is busy returning to fight, and her eyebrows are killing. She shouted: "The ink burns! It really is that you are a ghost!"

This woman's sound is clear, like an ice spring, very easy to identify.

This sound led to a circle of monks around, and saw that the pieces and the wood smoke were in full swing, but they did not burn the ink.

It was discovered by the people that almost all the pieces that came to the death of the dead seemed to regard the ink burning as partisan, and all avoided him and did not hurt him.

Someone yelled: "It’s really the ink that the dog thief is doing!"

"He is a group with these pieces!"

The faces of the burning anger were twisted and twisted, and one of the ears filled with such whispers and low-pitched, and both pairs of * red eyes looked at him.

Overlap, overlap.

In such an angry look, he is the devil who kills people without blinking. He seems to have become the emperor who has stepped on all the celestial beings to respect the world. He slashed his sword and smashed it. He regarded this earthly world as a madman!

Someone shouted: "Get him!"

"Look at him, don't let him escape!"

"Hey, when can he be loaded?"

The creaking in the ears, the same resentment, the exact accusation, the same crusade.

The scenes of the two worlds are too similar. He can even recall the life and death confrontation between him and Chu.

On that day, as it is today, the ink burned the hand of the cherished chess piece, and manipulated the dead and the living and the beast and the bird. The army was like a black cloud and the ink was like a frosty peak.

He sat high, coveted and laughed, watching the world subvert, and the white scorpion became dim.

Finally, Chu nightning stopped him.

It’s Chu Ningning, trying his best to fight against his million pieces, and the weapon changed from Tianwen to Nine, and from Nine to Huaisha.

Huaisha.

Ink burning will never forget the coldness and pain in the eyes when Chu Ning finally summoned Huaisha.

"It is rumored that this is the blade of the killer, and I have finally seen it today."

When Chu was late, he asked him: "Ink burning, how can you let go?"

He just smiled: "I can't let go, Master, I'm already full of blood. I killed my uncle and my brother, and killed the same brother. Now, as long as you sacrifice your head, I am the absolute hegemon." - No one can stop me."

The feeling of Chu Xiaoning is extremely stinging.

He saw it, but he felt so uncomfortable, and his heart was slamming into a malicious revenge. He bit his back and squeezing out the words.

"Kill you. There is no one in this world, I can't kill."

Chapter 264

In the past, the masters and apprentices eventually turned against their enemies.

That is a battle of the peak.

In the end, the late night of the night, because of the weakness of the spiritual core, the enemy’s gas, swallowed the mountains and rivers, and was young and fierce.

"Don't dying again." The young demon is more and more arrogant, and he grins and grins. He does not return to the Huaisha short-handed, and the sword collides.

The golden light is dark when it is bright.

The flames of Yubi are filled with the eyes of both men and women.

The ink burned at a glance at the pale face of the night, and then the eyeball turned, looking at the spiritual flow that gradually swayed into Huaisha, and the eyes were full of ridicule.

"You have no spiritual power, and then fight with me, your spiritual core will be broken. Master, you are so proud, you will not be willing to be a mortal, right?"

Chu nightning does not answer his teeth, and the thin lips are bloodless.

In the end, the brilliance of Huai Sha completely disappeared, and the ink burned to know that the night Lingning spirit had been exhausted, and he laughed and laughed.

"What else can you resist me? Late night Yuheng... I am a high-ranking master?"

In the late Qing dynasty, the sword was half-squatted on the ground, and the white clothes had been stained with blood.

He raised his eyes. At that time, the hatred of the ink burned was too deep. He only saw the demise in his eyes, but he could not see the sorrow buried deep.

Years later, when Ting Xianjun took the poison and squandered himself, he unconsciously recalled the first battle of this life.

He couldn't help but think that when Chu Ning was at that time, he did report his mortal determination to stop himself...

The sentient beings are headed for the end.

He once told him that he was a villain and would only speak well.

But Chu Xi Ning did say what must be done.

- "Let's be good."

His master said.

"Don't be evil."

The golden light flashed.

The ink burned only to see the final calm of the night, and he saw his palms and radiance. This Beidou Xianzun, a man who has no friends in the realm of comprehension, re-calls at the expense of his own spiritual core. There are three gods.

Nine songs asked Huaisha.

How proud is the lateness of Qu Zi?

The mighty male soldiers made by the ink-burning were finally suppressed by the power of the core of the night, and a black-and-white son was broken into ash under the brilliance of Shenwu.

It’s strange to say that at that time, the ink burned on the opposite side of Chu’s night, far away. He looked at the man who was recalcitrant and vomited, and he did not stop.

He was so surprised and curious.

He wants to know what this thin lover can do for his so-called "all beings".

He looked at it like that.

Look at the night of the night, the last inch of spiritual power.

The raging river tide subsided, and the Yaque who covered the sun dissipated.

The controlled living people restored their knowledge one by one, and the controlled dead people regained their sorrow and stayed underground.

The ink burns like that.

He saw that the Beidou Xianzun spirit was broken, and he saw that the night of Ning Guanghua fell, and saw his master in front of himself, and finally fell into the dust.

There was not much expression at the time, and the face was slightly on the side, and the ear faintly sounded before the mother’s death. The kind-hearted woman stroked his cheek and said to him, "Repay it, don't take revenge."

After so many years, he heard such familiar sentences. Before the evening, Chu’s self-declared spirit, said to him: "Let's be good, don't be evil."

But he did not do it.

There seems to be endless resentment in his heart, only blood can give him a moment to breathe -

He killed the dying, the martial arts, and the uncle, the aunt, and the monk smashed several heads, and made the Tianchi red, full of mountains and bones.

In the end, the Yijun was surrounded by mountains, and he squatted in front of the tower.

These things are his experience, and the sins of the heavens are all made by him. In the horrific tragedy, he is a creditor. He does not return to the blood of thousands of people, and he has to kill thousands of people.

It's him.

The ink burned in front of him, and he was forced to breathe.

Suddenly, he heard a sullen sigh and pulled him out of the muddy memories. He returned to God and saw the shoulders of the wooden cigarettes being stabbed by the pieces, and the blood splashed on his face.

"The owner!"

"The owner is careful!"

The people of Tianyin Pavilion immediately came up to protect the wood smoke.

The wood smoke took a breath, and she gritted her teeth: "Nothing."

The cherished chess piece in front of her will bring out a sword flower in her hand. Under the eyes of the public, the piece of chess will come to the ink and smash down. He covered his mask and bowed his head: "The subordinates are not good for the rescue, the master is disturbed, and the sin is dying."

Everyone is ashamed.

"It's a piece of ink-burning control!"

"He called his master!"

Ink burning: "No...no..."

But who believes in him?

Who will believe him!

The ink burned back in despair, and he looked at the face that was filled with hatred and doubt.

no.

He went to see Xue Meng, but Xue Meng was too far away. He did not notice the movement here. Then he saw Mrs. Wang and Xue Zhengyi.

Both of them saw a glimpse of all these changes, and their faces were extremely ugly.

I burned my lips and wanted to say something, but I didn't know what else to justify.

Suddenly, he saw a group of chess pieces behind Mrs. Wang, and between the electric and the flint, he said: "Aunt! Beware!!"

This violent shock surprised everyone to turn back, Xue Zhengyi immediately alerted, but because of the left and right chess pieces, it was too late to look back.

"aunt!"

"boom!"

The metal is crisp, but Jiang Yan is plucking out of the crowd, and a snow-capped sword is arrogant. In one fell swoop, Wang Zhen’s Zhenqi chess pieces will be repulsed several times.

Mrs. Wang was shocked: "The younger brother..."

"..." Jiang Yan looked back at her coldly and glanced at her. She only said one thing, "Long eyes."

At this time, Master Xuan Mirror suddenly discovered that there was a thick cloud over the black pressure on the horizon, which forced the death and death. He couldn't see it at first, but after seeing it, he couldn't believe it.

Until many people around him noticed the black cloud, he finally confirmed, blowing his beard and shouting: "How is it possible?! How many pieces are there?!!!"

The black pieces are rolling in the tide of the river.

Some are dead, some are living, these people are all melted by some kind of spell, and they have unplugged their tongues, even if they can restore their knowledge.

Behind them, there are more birds and beasts that are controlled by the precious pieces.

"Mini rain!!"

"Ink burning..."

At this time, these people looked back at him, but it was already more fearful than the anger. Some people who had approached him even stepped back a few steps.

"Maniac... ink burns you crazy..."

"How many pieces did you refine?!"

The ink burned open the mouth.

He wants to say, no, not me.

But not him, but who else?

The time and space of life and death will be opened again, and the stepping of the king will lead a million soldiers to the world.

What is the difference between him and stepping Xianjun?

They have the same memory, and they use the same technique. They are also good at the chess game of the Fairy Club. If you don’t add a special order, you will also recognize the master of the ink.

Therefore, killing the pro-slaughter city, participating in the ban.

Thousands of troops and horses, peas into soldiers.

Subverting the world, all living and walking dogs.

These are all what he did, and no one has ever blasphemed him.

More and more pieces of chess are under pressure, and at first glance, the black ink is quickly opened on the rice paper, and it is approaching.

Someone has panicked: "What should I do!"

The wood smoke is angry and screams: "Ink burns! What are your sophistry! All this is designed by you! I only hate that Tianyin Pavilion did not intervene earlier and kill you!"

Black clouds cover the sun, and the sky is dark.

The mountains are bleak and hurricane. These tens of thousands of dead corpses are like huge bells hanging over nine days. They will crash at any time, shattering the five lakes and the sea, and killing people like ants.

The ink burned the hole and he looked at the sky.

Everyone doesn't want to get rid of it, or the sword or the close, has been mingled with those pieces. This time the battle is much more intense than before, and there are blood and screams everywhere.

The head rolled down.

The belly is flowing out.

But there is a steady stream of black tides coming from the skyline, endless, and creepy.

Suddenly heard the shouts of Xue Meng in the distance: "Hey! Mother!"

The ink burned back, see Xue Zhengxuan, Jiang Yan two people have been covered in blood, the red splatter is too powerful, has long been unable to tell whether they suffered their own injuries, or the blood stains when killing the enemy.

Xue Meng struggled to squeeze out to his parents, killing all the way, but outnumbered.

"Xue Meng -!"

Mo Yan wanted to help him, but Xue Meng saw him very contradictory, Xue Meng is avoiding him.

Suddenly a Confucianist sergeant slashed his sword and stabbed Xue Meng’s shoulder, and immediately blood flowed like a note, scorned and dyed.

"Xue Meng... Xue Meng!"

The ink burned and rushed toward him, but there were so many melee people, they were so far away, he couldn’t get through... he couldn’t go...

After the injury, more chess pieces came to Xuemeng, and the young figure quickly swallowed up in a group of red-eyed treasures.

"Menger!"

"Meng Er -!"

The screams screamed.

It is the voice of Mrs. Wang and the voice of Xue Zhengyi.

The smoldering has never heard such a cry that makes him ruined.

His scalp is numb.

Xue Meng...

Do not.

This should not be the case.

There must be a way, there must be a way! !

Since Hua Binan let him come over and laid out such a situation, it is not to let him see that the dead and the dead are destroyed. What does Huabi Nan want him to do?

What should he do? ? ! What does Huabi Nan want him to do? ! ! ! What is this "surprise" for? How can I end this and how can I let him go?

suddenly.

He thought of it, he understood.

The ink burned for a while, and then the heart beat.

He finally understood.

Hua Binan did not do anything, but he wanted to lose his name, but he still had to turn back... He understood.

This incident, Nangong Temple was done in Lushan.

Chu nightning, the past life has been done in the duel.

He has no spiritual power now... but the spiritual core is still there.

He can feel the brilliance flowing in his chest, and he is in the same breath as his heartbeat.

The sneer of the past sacred and maddening seems to have come to the forefront now -

"You have no spiritual power, and then fight with me, your spiritual core will be broken. Master, you are so proud, you will not be willing to be a mortal, right?"

He knows what to do.

The eyes are warm and the war is in flames, but the state of mind is calming down.

In the last life, Chu Yuning snarled himself and told him personally that the so-called sentient beings are the first, and they are the end, not a false statement.

He seems to see the pale face before the previous generation of Chu, who had been overdrafting the spiritual nucleus.

His master thought that he would die, and before he died, he said to the ink:

"Let's be good, don't be evil."

The earth is banging.

"what happened?"

"what happened?"

Everyone shouted, while avoiding the flash, looking for the source of the movement.

In fact, there is no need to look for it.

In the place where the ink burns, the blazing fire bursts out—it is not a real flame, but a strong spiritual flow that burns when the fire core is overdrawn, and the whole ink is wrapped in it.

Light rain.

In the past, the emperor of the emperor, now a generation of masters.

He...he was in front of the catastrophe, he actually...had to stop this...

The students broke their own spiritual core!

Like the Nangong 弛Chu Ningning, the broken core of the nucleus made him suddenly gain his greatest spiritual power. His eyes were reddened by the flames, and there was not much painful expression on a handsome and straight face.

Who is he at this moment?

Can he stop being a step-by-step singer?

If he can, he also wants to be a late night.

The nucleus slowly breaks and melts in the chest.

The more the flame burns, the more blazing it is, the clouds pass through the fog, and the light shines through the earth.

At this moment, he suddenly felt that the pure and clean dreams of his childhood had fallen back to the bottom of his heart. He stood in the flame. He saw Duan Yihan and saw Chu Yuning.

Seeing that she was touching his cheek in the wood house, saying, "Repay, don't take vengeance."

I saw the boy outside the Temple of Nostalgia, holding the rice syrup and carefully feeding him.

"Drink slowly, not enough..."

In both of his life, he wanted to be a good person.

He did not do it in his life.

Looking back on the dust in my life, I have been saddened for nearly ten years.

He didn't know how to compensate, and he didn't get a result.

If he tells others that he has had the old dream of being a poor man, who would believe him?

Only ridicule, oh, oh.

Because he is a light rain, he is the emperor.

He missed and killed people, so what to do to make up is to no avail.

It is all wrong.

No one can forgive him.

Perhaps only in this fire, only when the spiritual nucleus is broken, and the body is snarled, to the moment of the road to the late Qing Dynasty, he can get a solace.

He can only say with care:

"If I can, I also want to be a late night."

I beg you, hear this wish, don't laugh at me.

Don't spit on me.

I am stupid, and for a long time, no one is there.

I have been away for two lifetimes, and I have gone the wrong way for twenty years.

Too stupid, I don't know why I will end up in an endless darkness. I don't know why things will eventually become like this. Looking back, it's all wrong.

I can't find A Niang.

Can not find the master.

I beg you, * is too cold.

Let me go back, okay...

I want to go home.

Chapter 265

When the wax is burned out, there is darkness left.

The fire is extinguished, only the embers.

But the darkness has also been brightened, the ashes have been heated, and he has had the light and the heat of the years, no one knows at this moment, will not be mentioned again.

The ink has already exhausted its last trace of spiritual power.

He looked at Yaque, and the sinisters fell to the ground. He watched the living beings no longer under control. The chess pieces were splitting. He looked at the black tide that was about to engulf the dead and dying, and looked at the * disaster.

Everyone said that he was not evil, and he felt so much. But this demon finally did exactly the same thing as the god, and Chu Ning was his wax torch. After he followed the light, he walked away.

"brother!"

"Fire!"

He vaguely heard someone calling him, and he was seen by Xue Guang screaming at him, and saw Xue Zhengxuan and Mrs. Wang break out of the encirclement and rushed to him.

He was relieved by the call of them. He licked his mouth and seemed to want to laugh, but the tears rolled down his * face.

He wants to say: "I'm sorry, I didn't do well."

But the throat whimpered, and in the end, he pleaded: "Don't hate me."

I am real……

I really like you.

I like my aunt and my aunt, I like the life and death, I like this kind of stolen warmth and my loved ones.

Uncle, aunt, Xue Meng.

Don't hate me.

Millions of soldiers retired, and the ink burned heavily on the ground, covered with mud.

When the previous life was late, the white clothes were stained with blood, but the whole person still looked very clean. He is not the same as the ink, and the ink is always dirty.

When the consciousness was dissipated, he felt that Mrs. Wang reached out and took him, soft and warm arms, and called him without any pain: "burning."

He heard Xue Zhengyi and the wooden cigarettes arbitrarily arguing, angered: "The traitor? There is still a traitor! If it is the chess he called, why can he do this for the sake of retreat!"

He heard Xue Meng shouting: "Don't move him! Don't move him! Don't take him away!"

a mess.

The ink burned and explained, how much more, but he was really tired and too tired.

He closed his eyes.

Lushan.

In the main hall of the sage, the long lamp sighs and sighs. The wax torch made by whale oil has a thick bowl of mouth. There is no sunshine, no light, no light, no flowers, no flowers, no tears, and a tear. It shows the passage of time.

The teacher squatted in the white fox robes and sat in the high position. He is holding his forehead and is closing his eyes.

This position was originally sitting by Xu Shuanglin. At the beginning, he looked at Xu Shuanglin to refine a piece of chess, to create bliss and purgatory, and to hope that his master can return to the world.

He thinks this person is very interesting, but unfortunately he can't stay.

In front of him, there was a crepe with illusion on one side. The dragon and the snake fluttered above, and the dense dots of various colors were scattered.

This is the "sand plate" created by the former Shixian Xianjun in conjunction with the Zhenqi chess game. The black point is the precious black spot, the silver point is the white child, the red one is the abandoned child, and the small square on the cloth represents the small box. Hostile forces - as long as this sand table is in hand, even a thousand miles away, he can see the battle.

The teacher put the crepe in front of the case, but did not elaborate. He is very clear about the choices that the ink will eventually make, and the cloth is placed, but it is interesting. There are countless ways to get rid of the predicament, but the Mozong Master has only one way to go, so there is nothing to look at.

I don't know how long it took, the temple door suddenly opened, and there was a slight footstep in the hall. The teacher didn't look up, only faintly asked: "Are you here?"

On the masonry of the light, a man stood.

The man who came in was covered in a white cloak, his hat was very low, and he couldn't see his face. He stopped in the middle of the main hall and looked like a lotus.

The man spoke, his voice was elegant, but his tone was low: "There was a movement outside, and the ink burned the pieces made by Stepan."

The teacher didn't even twitch the eyelashes, and faintly said, "Yeah, he didn't have to choose."

The man said again: "...Take the body of Xianjun is no longer good. So the pieces that he controls have already begun to counteract you. Now the ink is burning with the power of the spirit, and they are all solved. You have to understand, but also count A good thing."

The teacher smiled and said: "Oh? Are you caring about me?"

The man did not answer, after a while, he said: "Next, what are you going to do?"

"I still follow the old plan." The teacher finally moved. He licked his waist and opened a pair of peach blossoms. Under a smile, he was full of spring. "I haven't told you about it long ago."

"...I know that you think carefully. But if you want to make it clear, the ink burns so much to stop the plaques. The monks of these sects are not fools, and they don't have any doubts about the whole thing."

The teacher smiled and said: "I know what you mean. In order to stop the next catastrophe in the real world, he will not hesitate to break his own spiritual core, hero."

"Do you think the comprehension community will interrogate their heroes?"

The teacher did not answer directly. He still smiled, and the ten fingers overlapped. He was lying under his arm and gently asked the person: "Is this thing done by the ink-burning, not like the previous life?"

The man was silent for a while: "...like. It’s almost a repeat."

"That's good, I will ask you again. In the past, Chu, Ning was taken over by Xianjun, and there were several people who really care about him in the real world. Remember him?"

"..."

Seeing him not answering, the smile on the face of the teacher’s face became more and more unpredictable: “Almost no, right? I told you. In those years, Xue Meng ran west and west, and there were still two drops of sympathy. Promise that he will give a helping hand to save lives after death. But then? Under the prestige of stepping on the king, those promises are only on the lips. And as time goes by, the initial feelings are scattered, people The more I feel that Xue Meng is bored. When he ran to ask someone else, everyone said to him - Chu Xi Ning has been in the palace for so long, maybe he is already dead. For a person who is unidentified, how can he lose other living? What about your life?"

The mysterious man shook his head: "Chu Ningning was really missing at the time, but now the ink is burning but it is still at their side. Even if it is worrying, they will not hurt a blood that has just flown through the world of comprehension. People."

Listening to his rebuttal, the teacher could not help but sigh: "You, compared to me, I have lived for a few years, so it is too naive."

As he spoke, he put away the cockroaches on the case, and the pieces on it had all turned red, which meant that they all failed. He didn't care, he put the donkey back into the Qiankun bag.

"When people do not care about their own interests, they can be noble. But once they are damaged, they will gradually reveal the animal nature."

The slender fingers tied a knot on the Qiankun bag, and the teacher looked up and said: "Now in their eyes, half of the ink burns may be a good person who is shackled, and half of them may be a scheming wicked person. It is a pity to accidentally hurt a good person. But the misplaced wicked person may lead to a * hurricane in the entire realm of cultivation."

"..."

Seeing the other side silently listening, the teacher will continue to continue: "So, even if he breaks the nucleus, he will stop the next catastrophe for the true world. But there are still too many doubts on his body, human nature is suspicious, and damages his own things. You will choose to remove the roots. This small variable will not change the final result."

The mysterious man asked: "So, do you think Tianyin Pavilion can still slam the ink?"

The teacher smiled and smiled: "Tian Yin Ge is a person on our side. Everything is in the plan. This is inevitable. Next, as long as I can find a way to get the smoldering nuclear debris, I will be able to re-enter the step Packed up and obedient. With his power, there is nothing that can't be done."

The man did not answer the call immediately. After a while, he said: "In another world, you have controlled him for nearly ten years, and what has been done?"

The teacher was slightly stunned and seemed to be stabbed by the man's questioning tone. His face slowly sank. After a long while, he squinted and asked: "What do you mean, do you question me?"

"...No, I didn't question you." The man sighed. "You are the same as my original intention. I am afraid that no one in this world can know you more than I do."

The cool look of the teacher was slightly relieved, but his beautiful voice was still staring at the man’s face. It seemed that there was a bit of truth in the man’s words, and he had some leave. Finally he smashed. With a thin lip, he said, "You understand. Every step I take is to get back what we deserve, so some sacrifices are inevitable."

"Ok."

"You are right, the one who knows me the most is you." Shi Yan gently, "I am living between the two worlds, living step by step, fearful and scared. I can hardly trust anyone except you."

"..."

"You don't let me down."

The voice of the teacher fell, and the music was like a butterfly. After a complicated silence, the mysterious man spoke up. He said in a calm tone: "I have been asking you for a while."

"what?"

The clouds in the outskirts of Lushan were densely covered, and the winds were raging. Wherein there business people are chilling.

The man said: "I really want to know, in my life, for the sake of our affairs, what is the sacrifice of the end? You tell me the truth."

I didn't expect him to suddenly ask disposed, the teacher 昧 宇 宇 腾 腾 腾

"I have been working with you for a long time. I have come to find me from you. After telling me the truth about the past life, I have been helping you for so many years. You are lurking on the lonely moon night, I will do every piece of your life and you will explain it to me. The man said, "Although there are some puzzles and occasional confusion, your thoughts are my thoughts, your pursuit is my pursuit - for the sake of our common, I have already set aside life. I always thought that you are like this, so I don't care if I sacrifice myself, as long as we can succeed."

The teacher got up and walked back and forth.

"What do you mean by saying this? You have set your life out of the way, which means that I am jealous and stealing?"

He looked back and stared at the white man, his face frosty.

"If you know what kind of person I am, you should not say such words at all."

"I know." The mysterious man said, "But I was thinking, after you swindled in your life, you hid behind the scenes as Hua Binan, and controlled the worms that burned your heart - ten years."

"Eight years." The teacher interrupted him. "Later Chu Ning later divided his soul into two, and broke into his body, how many times he recalled some of his nature. In eight years, he committed suicide, no ten year."

"Okay, eight years." The man said, "In the past eight years, you have expanded his hatred in his heart and made him commit such a sinful crime, but it is farther and farther away from our original intention. You see him like this, why not? Stop him in time?"

The teacher yelled and smirked: "Do you know how difficult it is to refine a flower of eight bites?"

"……I know."

"Do you know that people who have spent a lot of time in the flower garden can no longer take effect for the second time?"

"I know."

The teacher didn't smile, and his eyes flashed with anger: "What do you ask? Switch to you, what do you do?"

The man was silent, and after a long time he sighed: "You have not made a choice for me?"

The teacher is aphasia.

The man said: "I have not done this kind of thing personally and walked the way you walked, so even if I know that if I encounter the same situation, I will make the same decision, but I..."

The teacher squinted, step by step, walked down the long steps and stopped in front of the man: "But you?"

"...but I still have a question."

Dead.

Suddenly, the teacher grabbed the man’s robe. Such a beautiful hand, wearing a snake-shaped ring, an extremely elegant hand, close to the front of the person, the back of the meridian burst.

He gritted his teeth: "A good question is awkward, what is the difference between you and me? The past things are one piece, which one is not planned by us? You used to understand it very well, understand it? You Isn't it a bad heart? Are you guilty now? - Why?"

"..."

"Because you think Xu Shuanglin regards you as a friend, but you have been deceiving him all the time, telling him about the fake rebirth, let him open the door to life and death for us, are you jealous?"

The man whispered: "He didn't sell me when he died."

The teacher stunned, and the eyes flashed with sorrow and anger: "Good, good - I said how you were so reconciled at the time - and what? You saw thousands of pieces, you are heartbroken for those people." Are you blaming yourself?"

The man is very calm: "Do you have no blame in your heart?"

"You..." The teacher gnawed his teeth, his eyes almost mad and mocking. He stared at his eyes and stared for a long time, like watching a big joke, and looking at a traitor who made him cold.

Suddenly, he thought of a very vicious wording. He sneered, revealing poisonous cheeks and smashing into the man's blood.

"Okay, very good, you said so many beautiful words. Self-blame, oh. But after all, are you still deploring?"

Looking at the other side of the eyebrows between the cage, the light in the eyes of the teacher is more prosperous, he is like a slap in the air, soaring, hovering, waiting for the moment of prey, smashing.

"You suddenly asked me about sin. You probably think that you have regretted seeing the millions of chess games. I probably feel that I saw Xu Shuanglin’s death, so I touched it. But I know you. I know how you are. People - self-blame and jealousy do not exist for you, you are as cold-blooded as me, and you are sympathetic."

The shadow of death from the wings of the dragonfly is falling more and more, and it is getting colder.

"You are not confessing at all. Don't lie to yourself."

He laughed proudly and decently.

It is always elegant and calm to pinch the seven-inch teacher.

He has a word.

"In my opinion, you are just deploring your eyes."

After the words, the teacher took out the waist dagger, and slowly, with the shank, picked up the man's low-hanging white cape hat, and slammed it down.

The cloak fell, and after the white velvet hood, it revealed the face of a beautiful country.

A peerless, elegant look.

Both of them have the same face!

Only this cloaked cloak, his eyes were smashed, covered with a white bandage, and a few foreheads fell in front of the sash.

The teacher looked at the man who had opened the cloak and sneered: "Shi Mingjing, see yourself. What you deplore is nothing more than your sacrifice. I went to the very bad situation on the mountain. Disturbing the mood of Chu Yuning, we had to come up with the last resort of discussion - so many people around us, we naturally can not do the play. So in the end you lost your eyes, but I am still good, you are embarrassed."

"...If I am embarrassed, from the very beginning, I will not promise you this plan, and I will not do my best to sacrifice myself. In fact, for me, any one of us is alive to complete the unfinished Things can be. Why should I --"

The voice was not closed but was interrupted.

"Who?!"

The dagger was thrown and hit the pillars with precision.

The teacher returned to the hustle and bustle, and the cold and cold road said: "Come out."

Huang Xiaoyue’s unkempt face turned weakly from the back of the stone pillar.

On that day, he betrayed the people and looked for the treasures of the mountains. However, because of the triggering of the organs, he was unable to escape from being trapped in the secret room. Confucian style secret room gold and silver treasures, swordsmanship cheats, nothing is lacking, only the lack of food.

Jiang Dongtang was trapped in it, his hands and feet were broken, he was bullied, and people were eating. In the end, only Huang Xiaoyue left himself.

He finished the last disciple, struggled and fumbled, and finally came out of the secret room, but did not want to hit such awkward situation.

- What did he see? Two divisions clear?

Huang Xiaoyue couldn’t figure out how to understand it.

With his mind, he can only guess that this is a twin brother. He would never have thought that this was the two divisions of the same world under the influence of time and space.

But the more I listened to the dialogue between the two, the more ugly, Huang Xiaoyue was savage and savage, and it was vaguely aware that it was wrong. He wanted to go first, but he knew that the teacher was sharp and sharp, and he found his existence.

The teacher narrowed his eyes: "Who I am, it turns out to be an old old mouse."

He moved down and fell to the robes of Huang Xiaoyue: "Blood?... There are no animals in the mountains, what blood?"

He was quiet for a moment and seemed to want to be transparent.

The lips and teeth are open and closed, but there is contempt.

"Human blood?"

Huang Xiaoyue feels murderous and runs away.

"Where can you escape?"

The teacher's green shirt is elegant and light, and it is firmly standing in front of Huang Xiaoyue, lifting a pair of smoke and rain.

Unfortunately, his eyes were too cold, and the rain became frozen in the ice.

"Old man. You are afraid that you don't know, the most disgusting thing in my life is that people eat people."

- This is the last sentence that Huang Xiaoyue heard.

The hall was filled with blood and suffocation. The teacher looked at Huang Xiaoyue and fell to the ground. The blood poured out from the hole in the chest and wrinkled the eyebrows in disgust.

As he wiped the blood on his hand, he said, "Disgusting things."

Looking back, he stared at the other teacher for a moment.

Then his tone slowed down.

"Two generations, the world is a lot of animals like Huang Xiaoyue, have you seen it? So this card of the real world should be re-washed. In addition, you don't think too much, what I told you will not let you in vain Sacrifice. When things are over, I will find a way to cure your eyes."

"..."

Seeing the white man in the cloak, he still didn't make a sound. He turned his eyes and said faintly: "Don't be embarrassed.... Forget it, I promise you, if you have to, you will not be tired of innocence. You can always rest assured. Are you satisfied?"

Hearing this sentence, the white sergeant’s tight back is only slowly relaxed. His lips are moving and he seems to want to say something to himself. But after this trouble, the teacher from the previous life has become very bad. And did not intend to listen to him again, has strode out of the main hall of the Pantheon.

There is a secluded path in the back of Lushan Mountain, which is covered by overlapping vines. From this path, it is the Qingtan Palace used by the Nangong family to worship during the ancestors. The palace is not big, but the arc of the corridor is changing, and there is a dragon blood flower that glows in the night. In this time, the flowering period has passed, only a few clusters are still blooming, as seen from afar. The stars are broken and embellished with the night sky.

The teacher went to the depths of the flowers and there was a hot spring there. He took off his robes, and his white toes stepped on the shore, looking down at himself in the pool.

The hot spring pool is very hot, but his eyes are very cold.

He reached out and slowly stroked his heart -

There was a big bang in the past because of the ban, but now he no longer needs to worry, everything is going according to plan, everything will be fine.

He stepped into the spring water, and the hot springs of Lushan mixed with the dragon's breath, and it was very comfortable to soak. The teacher leaned against the pool and squinted.

Suddenly, there was a noise from the distance. The teacher did not blink, only faintly said: "Who is it?"

Nangong Liu was drilled out of the bushes, and there was a dragon blood flower in the hair.

He saw the teacher and smiled very happy: "My brother is taking a shower? Is there a place where I can help?"

The teacher said: "No."

Nangong Liu will scratch his head: "That, then I am not standing here, I will go first. Otherwise you are naked, I am wearing clothes, you are good."

In the transpiration of water, the teacher smiled a little, his face became more and more transparent under the moist water of the spring, just like the thin ice of the early winter of the Yangtze River, it was both crystal and fragile, and it was cold and cold.

He opened a pair of peach blossoms and looked at Nangong Liu with a smile: "How can I lose?"

Nangong Liu is very straight: "Because you look good."

"Oh... you are a child's family, do you know beauty and ugliness?"

Nangong Liu is a little angry: "I am five years old, not a child."

The teacher is like an interest, the deeper the smile: "Well, then the brother is wrong. Come, my brother asks you. I and step fairy, which one do you prefer?"

"Of course, my brother is a friend." Nangong Liu did not think about it. "Who is Stepping Xianjun? I don't recognize him."

"That's another way to say it." The teacher shouted. "I and that ink burn... do you remember? He greeted you."

Nangong Liu took a finger and thought for a moment, nodded.

"I and he, who do you like better? Don't choose because you are not familiar with you. I really want to ask you the beauty and ugliness in your eyes."

This time, Nangong Liu did not answer immediately. He looked at his head and thought for a while, and said: "I still prefer my best friend."

The teacher is like being pleased: "Oh? You talk about it, where is he bad?"

"...I can't say it."

"Then why do you like me more?"

Nangong Liu actually appeared to be somewhat wronged: "I don't know... I think it's good to look good."

The teacher sighed thoughtfully for a while, then walked out from the depths of the hot springs, to the shallower water, the hands folded over the pool, revealing the soft back of the curvature, smiled: "You come over." Said, the south of the palace Liu recruited the hands of the wet, until the Nangong Liu approached, the teacher squatted from the depths of the hot springs straight up.

"Oh--"

The teacher said with a smile: "What are you calling? All men, what is it so shy?"

Nangong Liu’s hand smeared his eyes and muttered: “It’s not shy, you get the water in my eyes.”

The teacher did not care about his eyes and eyes. He pulled the wrist of Nangong Liu and forced the other to look directly at himself. Then the scars on the chest were so thoroughly bottomed out under the eyes of Nangong Liuyan.

"Look at this. Are you afraid?"

The mouth was sore and furious, and there was a pus out. Nangong Liu only glanced at him and turned his head away in disgust. He was a childish saying and said, "It’s so disgusting."

The teacher smiled and didn't change, but his eyes were a little cold: "Do you still think I look good now?"

"..." Nan Gongliu tried hard to break his restraint, but the strength of the division was too great. He tried nothing to use. Finally, he had a layer of water vapor in his eyes. Some were afraid and some were shrinking. "You, you let me go. I don't like it."

"Hello, look good."

"I don't want - hey!"

The slamming sound was so loud that it was too hard, so the teacher smashed the hand bones of Nangong Liu to the dislocation. The flashing light in his eyes can't be said to be annoyed or unwilling, almost paranoid: "I didn't say that I looked good? Just how, a little hurt, it turned from beauty to ugly?"

"No..."

"Is it true that if the beauty is a little embarrassed, it will be disgusted?" The teacher approached him. "In the past, it will become an annoyance. In the past, it will become a stab in the throat."

Nangong Liu finally couldn't help but wowed and burst into tears: "I don't understand, I don't understand! You let me go, I don't want to stay here."

His arguing made the teacher's mood a bit more dim and darker. He seemed to have black clouds in his eyes, and suddenly raised his hand. A slap fan was on the cheek of Nangong.

He finally loosened Nangong Liu, cold and cold: "Waste things, roll it."

Waiting for Nangong Liu to cry away, Shishi re-sneaked back to the depths of the hot springs. The surroundings are still beautiful, the dragon blood is fragrant, the air is filled with light fragrance, but his first joy disappears, his heart is only angry, endless anger.

He hammered the surface of the water, splashed and returned to calm.

Dissipated, re-examine the reflection that is still gentle, but the chest is festering.

In the anger of the teacher, there was a sudden sorrow and weakness. He leaned back to the pool, and the eyelashes lifted up and looked at the sky.

"People will change."

He muttered.

Just as the seeds will germinate, the buds will turn green, the flowers will bloom in the green leaves, the flowers will fade, and the flowers will be crushed into mud.

Time can't be seen, but everyone is being quietly washed by it. Someone is sharpened and mined, and some people are worn away.

"It will all change..."

He tiredly took the water and wiped his face.

I will know about his own past life and this life, but in which step does he start to go astray and never look back?

After bathing and changing clothes, the teacher smashed the black hair of the black hair, and returned to the Shushan secret room from the path of the fragrant and fragrant. Standing at the door for a while, reaching for the door.

At this time, the night was deep, and the lights in the secret room were almost extinguished. Only one bean was left alone, burning after Luo.

The teacher sneaked into the room without any sound, but only brought the unique scent of the scent of the scent after bathing. It is this scent that alarmed the man lying in the depths of the bed.

Stepping on the sound of snoring and hoarseness: "Who?"

The teacher yelled: "...I."

Silence in the account, the sound of the clothes in the roll, the sound of the clothes screaming, stepping on the fairy sneer: "... the master is really elegant. Deep in the middle of the night, come to the bed to listen to the corner? ... You are not hot?"

Shi Yan’s face is cooler: “You can just stop. If you kill him, no one has to play.”

Stepping on the sound of the singer is lazy, and there is a lack of sorrow in the low: "The master can rest assured that there is nothing abnormal in the bed. It is always only pragmatic, for the leisurely skin, the snake, the tying There is no interest in playing guessing in the eyes. I can't kill anyone."

"..."

I am free to grind my lips, take a snake, and tie my eyes to play guessing puzzles - even if my heart is big, I know who he is talking about.

In the heart of the sorcerer's heart, the anger and smoldering, the squatting of the scorpion, and the smashing of the scorpion, as if the swords touched each other, the fireworks splashed, and the face of the teacher's net feminine face on the handsome face of Xianjun.

"You -!" The words have not finished, he slammed.

He had thought that stepping Xianjun and Chu nightning would not reunite for a long time, and would inevitably be hungry and thirsty.

But after the curtain was opened, the situation in front of him actually surprised him.

He saw that Chu was rather sleepy and his cheeks were hot and red, and he was burning. The stepping fairy is slightly open, revealing a large piece of smooth and well-proportioned chest, holding the person in his arms, sinking his face, but the big hand touches the hair of the pregnant person. A pair of disguised and absolutely impossible to let go.

The teacher said: "...What are you doing?"

Stepping on the face of Xian Xianjun: "What can you do with this seat?"

Why should you care about a dead person?

The teacher closed his eyes and forced himself to press his anger, but the small flame at the chest was so hot that he couldn’t extinguish it for a moment. He couldn’t help but sneer and sigh: "I don’t think it’s so big. The age, sleep, but also the master to accompany. I think if this is not because of fear of black, then probably want to worry with Master."

I have to say that the teacher’s sentence is very effective. Stepping Xianjun immediately squints dangerously. He subconsciously wants to raise his hand and push the night of the coma, or simply push it to the bed, so it looks like It will be very powerful.

However, when he saw the teacher approaching, what he did last was to hold the man in his arms tighter, and the wide sleeves of his sleeves waved to cover the face of Chu.

After doing this, stepping on the fairy will lift his eyes: "What is this, what to do with you."

The teacher gnawed his teeth: "There is a degree in the back, and you don't want to think who made you?"

"The cold scale sage hand has a mouth to close the mouth and only have such a sentence to coerce the seat." Teng Xianjun cold and cold, "it is really a big success."

"you--!"

After the sergeant was smashed by him, he was still intolerable. He raised his hand violently, and he took some spiritual power before he slammed the prince.

"The soul gathers."

The curse was pronounced from the shape of the lips and teeth, but the eyes of the stepping fairy were still hard and persistent for a long time. For a long time, I felt that the man was about to completely get rid of his own restraint.

His forehead pulled out the fine sweat, and stepped on the immortal gel. At the end, he exhausted almost all the spiritual power. He sipped: "The soul gathers!!"

This time, the body shape of the stepping fairy was slightly shocked, and then the gaze finally broke.

The teacher took away the spiritual power, took a breath, and licked the painful chest, and his eyes were dizzy.

Because of his physical reasons, the spiritual core and spiritual power are inferior, and even if he is diligent and hardworking, he cannot stand shoulder to shoulder with others. Usually, the medication is very powerful, but once it involves the need of spiritual power, his body can not support at all.

The teacher closed his eyes and slowed down for a while before revisiting the step to Xianjun: "I will ask you again, what have you been doing?"

Because □□ / control, so step by step, there is no emotion to say: "He has a fever, chills."

"……So?"

There is only one glimpse of the past life, and the occassion of the corpse is faintly said: "With this seat, he will be warmer."

"..."

The teacher stared at Teng Xianjun for a long time.

"Warm?" His pale lips moved, and he laughed out loudly. Although there was no smile in the eyes of the peach blossoms, "Is it burned, are you crazy? You touch the temperature on your own body - you count What? You are as cold as ice and you are already dead. You have no heart and no body temperature. You are even cold, you want to warm him?"

It seems that there is a bit of pain in the black scorpion of the stepping fairy, but the pain is fleeting. He is a dead body after all.

The teacher said: "Get up."

Stepping on the fairy tale did not immediately get up, his black eyebrows tightened, seeming to struggle between his will and the control of the teacher.

"You give me up!"

The order is stronger, and in such a fierce tone, Stephen is finally obedient.

He slowly got up from the bed, his robes were still open, and Chu’s body temperature stayed in his chest that had never been ups and downs.

The teacher yelled and said: "Go out."

Stepping on the fairy, he walked a few steps slowly, and suddenly stopped again, whispered: "Yes."

"……what?"

Stepping on the immortal wood, repeating: "Yes."

The teacher did not react for a moment and asked: "What?"

"Temperature." The man raised his hand slowly, stroked his chest, and stroked the temperature left by him. "Here, it is hot."

The teacher seems to be stabbed by the tip of the needle, and there is nothing more annoying than the palm of his hand. He shouted: "You get out of me."

Stepping on Xianjun took another two steps, but this time it was really just two steps, and his look was bitter.

"No..." He held his head, and the roots of the meridians and the roots of the palms were violently trembled, and the whole body was shaking and shivering. The throat made a deep gasp. "This seat... is unwilling... How can you do this... So..."

He is close to his eyes, his will is strong or weak, and his memory is far or near. He is struggling, tangled, a few ups and downs, and two torments.

"...by...you...put it...!!"

The whisper suddenly stopped, and the shudder stopped.

The teacher snorted and slammed his heart--Tianxianjun gave him a strong force when he broke free from the clamp. He almost took a step back. Then, he saw that Xi Xianjun blinked his eyes, and the blood was fierce and foggy.

"..."

The eagle-like black scorpion, there is no confusion, and it reflects a cold face.

The teacher’s face was pale and slowly said: “You are recovering faster and faster.”

Stepping on the singer did not make a sound, and the bottom of his eyes plucked the brilliance of the snow. He gasped slightly and raised his hand to call for no return.

The teacher slightly lifted his chin and his eyes moved up the handle and fell to the face of the ink-burning tiger-like leopard: "How, angry? Want to kill me?"

The dark and dull blade is lifted up, and the blink of an eye has been hung between the white neck of the teacher. The force is extremely strong, and even the flesh is broken, and the fine blood is taken out.

The teacher did not retreat, sneer: "The emperor is squatting, you can now move, relying on my spiritual power to maintain, if you kill me, you must die. You will not understand this."

"..."

Shishi continued: "On strength, I really can't beat you. But you think about it yourself, you want to die, or want to continue to live in this world."

Stepping Xianjun’s hand is extremely stable and there is no shaking.

But after a while, but slammed back and took back, don't go too far.

When the teacher saw him picking up the knife, he raised his hand and slowly touched the blood mark between the neck, and then said: "Fortunately, you are not too stupid."

"..."

"Don't stop yelling and killing in the future. In fact, our relationship is very clear to you." The teacher looked at the fairy. "You are like a rusted knife. I want to restore you to It used to be as good as it used to be. Continue to be my blade. And you, I am afraid that after I intend to recover, I will completely get rid of my control and ask for my head."

Stepping on the black eye of the stepping king, turning sideways, staring at him coldly.

"In these years, you continue to do things for me in another red dust. The gap between life and death is very narrow and difficult to pass. Usually I use a letter pigeon to pass on books to you. But we occasionally use locusts to communicate with each other. I want to connect with my heart. So of course I know what you think, you don't have to be surprised."

Stepping Xianjun finally opened his mouth and said coldly: "It’s not far from seeing you. Whose eyes have you seen this seat?"

"..." The teacher licked his lips and his face was more heavy. Then he said, "Okay. Since you know the pros and cons of things, you should be more tolerant of that time. Let's work together, and wait until the day when you're done. Whether you can kill me or I will get an invincible weapon."

Step on the fairy road: "wait and see."

The teacher was trying to say something more. Suddenly, Chu Yuning on the bed gave a slight suffocation. It’s just that this is like a slap in the blink of an eye, but the two men who are screaming at the sword are turning their heads.

"Late Ning?"

"Master -"

"..." In the past, the brothers and sisters looked at each other and stepped on the fairy. After a while, his eyes turned, from the teacher's body, to the unsettled Chu Xinning.

After a while, he said in a tone that he didn't care very much: "This person has been feverish for many days. How can he not be good? If he goes on like this, will he..."

If the words are broken, there will be no more talks. This murderous stepping emperor will stop when he speaks a certain word. His long eyelashes moved and closed his eyes.

It doesn't matter if the teacher is down: "What do you want to ask? Would you like to ask if he will die?"

I don't know if it is an illusion. Stepping on Xianjun's original pale face is more and more unmanned. He licked his lips and seemed to hate the word "death" and said in a concise manner: "Will?"

"Of course I can't die. You are too small to see the Beidou Xianzun. But you are still very embarrassed to ask me?" Shi Yan raised his eyebrows. "Who is he because of fever? Not because you are like a wolf." ruthless."

Stepping on the face of Shen Xianjun is even worse. It is stinking to the extreme. He is sullen: "He is not me, don't confuse me with that waste."

Listening to him, the teacher stared at him and looked back and forth. He said: "Challenging, I also think he is a waste. You are also very clear, I have tried my best to tear a huge time and space in this time and space. You come over, so that the waste disappears and you are re-entered."

"Your Majesty." He suddenly had a taste of play, so called "Tian Xianjun," "The last thing is that our goal can be achieved. You actually want the complete strength, you have to surrender the spirit core, right? ?"

"..."

The sergeant is like a snake hunting, and the silky spit is scary, seduce and tempted.

He saw the desire to step on the eyes of Xianjun.

So he smiled and smiled, and he was bound to get it.

"If you want to restore all your strength, then be obedient." His teeth are sterilized and stunned. "You obey, we can do things."

Stepping on the fairy, he was silent for a moment, and said: "Don't talk about this first."

Then he pointed to the late night, "Talk about this."

"He, he is the soul fusion and the body is too much stimulation." The teacher said faintly, "There is nothing to talk about. But if you really want him to be more comfortable, it is better to go out first."

Stepping on the eyes of Xianxian is immediately vigilant: "What do you want to do?"

The teacher looked like a smile: "Take him a cure."

"This seat is also here."

"That can't be done." Shi Yan said, "The cold scales of the holy hand to save people, will not be seen by others."

"..."

Seeing that Xi Xianjun still has no intention to go, the teacher said: "You can not go. Then I go out, you stay. Anyway, you have the ability to do the heavens, you can certainly take care of him."

Listening to the teacher, this way, it’s even more ugly to step on Xianjun’s face.

He is fierce and fierce, and the most unsuitable is the healing technique. There are so many people in the previous palaces, and there is no shortage of medical officers, so he has never learned it carefully.

The teacher regained his calmness and smiled at him.

It was obvious that Teng Xianjun was disgusted by his smile. He suddenly turned his head and the silver teeth bite. He was not willing to see the teacher again.

After a while, he said: "... OK. This seat goes out, you give him a cure." Suddenly, and fiercely, "but this seat is at the door, if you dare..."

His words have not been finished yet, and the coldness on the face can almost kill people.

"If you dare to do something to him, this seat will immediately kill your dog."

This kind of threat did not have much effect on the teacher. He smiled again and made a "please go" gesture to stepping on Xianjun.

Stepping out of the fairy, and before the walk, the face was still stunned for a long time. The teacher stood in this finally quiet room and looked at the stone door that was finally closed. After a while, he turned and walked over to the white man on the bed.

"..." The ridiculous smile on the face of the teacher disappeared, and it was replaced by a very peaceful and extremely crazy look. He gently said, "Master."

Go step by step.

Now Chu Xiaoning is finally lying in his palm. What about stepping on the outside? What he has is a way to prevent Chu Xiaoning from making a sound.

When the emperor came in, he couldn’t do anything to be angry and fierce. To blame, blame yourself for being too naive and too incompetent. I have to keep my lover in the snake cave and accompany it with the cold scale.

The slender and white fingers opened the curtains, and the teacher almost gazing eagerly and greedily at the man with a high fever on the bed: "This time, no one will bother us any more."

He slowly sat down and raised his hand to caress Chu’s cheek.

"Come on, Chu Wei, let me adjust and teach you in a place separated from your husband. "Well?"

Chapter 267

The teacher first fed a cure for the holy medicine of Chu, and then leaned over, and the soft fingers were like ten white snakes that confuse people and sneaked into the ink. He held up the late brain of Chu Yuning and reached his forehead.

"Zhuang Zhoumeng, the butterfly incarnation, always accompanied by the night..."

In the mouth, cursing and ignoring, can read and read, and suddenly stopped whispering.

He originally wanted to cast some memories of Chu Yanning, which is one of his best spells. He used it before.

However, because the soul of the body is very disordered, the memory is also in the recovery period, and the rejection of the outside world is very large. He found that this trick did not work for Chu.

"This is really a nuisance." The teacher sighed, he closed his eyes and then opened -

A pair of peach blossoms linger on the brilliance of the demon. He stared at Chu Yuning with such a pair of eyes, and then read again: "Zhuang Zhoumeng, the butterfly incarnation, always accompanied by the night, yesterday is like running water, drunk in this mountain..."

This time it has some effects, but it is not perfect.

His curse is like a huge stone thrown into the pool, although 10,000 waves are splashed at this moment, but it will soon return to its original state.

But it doesn't matter, I can forget it for a while.

When he didn't want to go to the sea with Chu, he had always been murderous in his head.

That's too bad.

"Master, sleep for a long time, you should wake up."

This voice screamed as a curse. After a long while, Chu nightning eyelashes fretting and slowly opened his eyes.

Because of the teacher's curse, his consciousness temporarily became blurred, suspended in the previous life, and stopped after the death of the teacher.

Once, Chu Xiaoning was hurt by the ink that was lost and loved. He was subconscious and always thought that if he could change it, he would be fine. So the knowledge goes back to those years.

——However, the three souls and six scorpions of the human beings are very subtle. The body of the Chu dynasty bears the souls of the two worlds at this time, so even if the sorcerer casts a spell, the mind is chaotic, and the whole person has some dreams. Look.

He has some memories and his dreams are awake.

"...Shi Mingjing?"

"Yeah." The voice of the teacher is very gentle, suppressing the gentleness of a certain distorted feeling. "It is me."

Chu nightning seems to be very tired, high fever makes him unwell, he just screamed if he had nothing to do, then he put his eyes on it again.

The teacher knows that he is adapting, not anxious, waiting for him with ease.

After a while, he heard Chu Jingning sighing with a closed voice: "I am afraid that I am dreaming.... It’s good, you are still alive."

Knowing that his memory stopped after the previous world, but did not expect him to have such feelings. The teacher’s heart was moved, and there was some long-lost sorrow.

"Do you want me to die?"

"...you are still so young... there are so many people who like you..." Chu nightning whispered, "I should not be you. Sorry..."

"..."

"If it is me, it will be fine. At least no one will be too sad."

The sorrow of the heart became more and more vivid, and it was agitated in his dead heart. This kind of feeling was the first time when I went home with an umbrella in the evening, and I had a conspiracy to fight for so many years. The people around me died and scattered.

He crouched in the dark, treating himself as a ruthless stone.

Later, he really thought that he was a stone. Until today, he really felt the existence of the heart.

Both sweet and sour, bitter, and itchy.

He clearly knows that he should not have this kind of emotion, sour rain will corrode boulder, soft moss will make him fall apart.

But he still couldn't help but catch Chu's hand, and his heart beats.

He opened his mouth and dried his throat, so he swallowed again and asked again, "What about you? I am dead, are you sad?"

"..."

"Are you sad?"

Chu night Ning Feng eyes half open, spring-like long and thick under the eyelashes, is a pair of eyes carrying too many things. The teacher tried to look inside and tried to catch a sharp edge.

But no.

Just like the water alone is the water, the wheat valley alone is the wheat valley, and a feeling is simply placed there, in order to always be that kind of feeling.

It is a pity that people's emotions will never be single. The death of the teacher has made him sad, painful, self-blame, and later repented. So many emotions are mixed together, just like the wheat valley is mixed with the water, and it has already been fermented and changed, and it looks like it.

The teacher’s obstinacy is deeply questioned: “Master, if you give you another chance, will you be willing to save him? Give up your life to save me?”

Chu night Ning eyes are empty.

"Will?"

"Shi Mingjing..." He only had time to say these three words, and suddenly his lips were ruined.

After waiting for such a long answer, I really didn’t dare to listen to it, but I didn’t want to hear it.

The teacher thought that he probably knew the answer.

The grievances in the chest were rampaged. He was almost retaliatingly kissing the man on the bed, greedily sucking, and Chu Yuning did not react at first, until the teacher’s tongue tried to open his teeth and explore, he was like a dream. Woke up, wide open your eyes.

"Well--!"

"Hey, don't make a sound." The teacher gasped and breathed a little in the throat of the night, and snorted. "This curse is what you taught us before, saying that we can make a sound in danger." Have you thought that one day, it will be used by me for this purpose?"

He said, he did not go to see the confusion and resentment in Chu’s eyes. His embarrassment and thirst almost made him a little out of his mind: "Master, you know? Two generations. I am bitter, step by step, I have not had a day. Peaceful days."

He bound Chu’s hands and feet and tied them to the bed. While doing these things, he gnashed his teeth and said: "I am not really a normal person. I don’t want to be a normal person, but what about it? ?! Stepping on the Emperor's Emperor, you can do whatever you want. Why should I look forward to it?"

Shi Yan said this, watching Chu Xi Ning struggle under his anger.

He felt painful and happy.

"Now I want to understand. Life is still unsatisfactory, it is all to be happy... Master." He straightened up, and some of them hurriedly began to take off the clothes of the late night. "It’s hard to go this step, too. Let me taste your taste. It’s a reward for the disciples, eh?”

The seriously ill person did not have much strength to resist, and the sergeant took off his robes easily. The air is cool, the lights are smashing, the lines are sharp, and the muscles of the muscular body are green and purple, which are traces left before the ink burns.

Shi Yan’s eyes were dark and whispered: “He is also true, so embarrassed.”

Finished, raised his hand, pinched Chu's chin, and looked at the eyes.

The pair of phoenix eyes is like a layer of fog at this moment. Chu nights must be indistinguishable between dreams and reality. Probably not only feels that all these ridiculous things are not true, but also feels that the touch is not true.

In addition to the confusion of memories of past and present life, it is not so easy for him to react immediately.

"I am different from him." The teacher stared at Chu Xiening for a while, his eyes gradually calmed down, but the gentleness was always awkward. "He didn't know how to make you addicted. You tried I know that he is nothing at all."

After the words, he began to undress himself.

He had just showered, wearing only a pair of bathrobes, and slipped to the ground easily, revealing the delicate and delicate body of Kunshan.

"Master respect..."

He whispered, bullying and pressing.

Regardless of whether this is a dream or a real thing, Chu Yuning was disgusted and could not stand it, and his body was shuddering and his face was even more blue.

"You are so hot."

"..."

Knowing that at this moment, if you release the curse of Chu Yuning, this man may be screaming and arrogant. But the teacher couldn’t help but stroking and muttered: "Is it hotter inside?"

"Teacher...clear!"

The teacher screamed and slammed.

"...have you made a snoring?" He raised his eyes and stared at Chu’s face. "You, this is really..."

Chu night, the lips and teeth are slightly trembled, coughing and bleeding, hoarse and dumb: "You put it! Give me a roll!"

The teacher was silent and looked down at the man under him.

Is this person too fierce?

Too stubborn?

Still too ignorant of the fate, not willing to lose?

There are too many things to say, so I don’t know what to say.

In the end, the teacher just smiled, and then, when Chu Ning was about to anger and uttered the next sentence, he slammed his mouth and quickly removed the hair band and tied it between his lips and teeth.

"Since you can break free of spells, then I have to use them. I am sorry for the Master."

On the eyes of the two with horror, but anger and humiliation, the teacher only felt that the blood was boiling. He leaned over and said to him in the ear of the night, "I will be refreshed after a while, but I also remember to call it. Whisper, your emperor is kneeling outside. If he is told that you are under such a wave, I guess, will he be happy?"

Shi Yan’s fingers slid down a little bit, staying on every mottled brunch, and when he went down, Chu Yuening only felt that he was going to be stigmatized.

His memory disorder, stopped in the past life, he has not found the secret of the ink burning curse, so he hates the ink.

But he hates his own shameless heart.

Even so humiliating, then disgusted, so disappointed with the ink rain. However, when I was smothered by ink, when I heard the ink snorting, the sweat of the person gathered in the abdomen and dripped on myself, and I felt uncomfortable and refreshed.

Even in a few times of the most insane love, he can even feel that he is secretly eager to stop burning, so he tears himself through the soul.

The stagnation of the blast makes him have the illusion of tranquility.

When you are lying in your arms, you will occasionally feel that nothing has happened. This person who keeps entangled himself may love him.

But the teacher is different.

Although he did not know why he fell into such a strange nightmare, but when the teacher touched him, he had only anger and resentment, he could not stand such a relationship...

He doesn't like it at all.

The body of the teacher is not the same as the impression, it is very tall, but it is still smooth and white, the lines are soft and elegant, like the condensation of sheep fat, the smell of the body is fresh and fragrant.

It’s not the hard work he’s used to –

He only used to the burning body. Although the skin of the man was pale, the blood of the beast was rushing underneath, and the wildness was terrible. The most pure manly atmosphere is like a hot sun, burning heart.

Although sometimes it will be bloody, iron and suffocating.

Very hard, very cold.

But the strong chest is extremely hot.

Chu night, Ning Yu opened his eyes, his hands were bound to struggle, and the wrists were marked with blood, and the end of the eyes also caused two red marks due to humiliation.

But his struggles didn't work, and the bed was soft and covered with thick skins, and there was no loud sound.

The sergeant glared at him as a beastly beast, and finally smiled: "Why should the master be in vain? Do you believe that I will make you comfortable?"

He said, lifting Chu’s long and firm legs, his waist wedged, his eyes dark, he had to go in like many times before.

Chu night, his eyes closed, his lips were bitten, and his nails fell into his palms. His muscles were tight, not because of the fear of intrusion.

But because of shame.

It’s really a shame, no matter whether it’s true or not.

If it is a fake, then he is shameful for himself to be such a dream. If it is true, then he is ashamed that he is so stupid, and he has received three apprentices. The two have had such a big rebellious mind.

He has always been a habit to reflect on himself.

If you say that the burning of his desires, it can be said to be a problem of ink burning. Then what is the division between the teacher and the ink?

He couldn't help but wonder if he had something wrong with him. He didn't do it right. It wasn't a teacher's watch. He would let his apprentices move this wolf ambition in bed one by one.

It is only when he is wrong that he is going to suffer such a crime.

"..."

Stenched and taut.

After a long time, I did not see the movement.

Chu night Ning slowly opened his eyes, dark brown eyes turn, but see the teacher do not know why the original is in the same place, the spring color on the face is gone, but the black is like a pot bottom.

He still didn't fully understand why the teacher had this expression, his eyes moved a few inches, but he saw a picture that made him speechless.

what……

Before the atmosphere of deep feelings was swept away, Chu nightning was sometimes hit by lightning.

Cough and cough, what is under the teacher's body is actually gold and gold? ? ?

This situation is really ridiculous, Chu night Ning stiffly turned his head away, do not want to hurt.

But after you have to pass it, you feel that it is wrong - which normal person will have this color?

Then he smacked his scalp and turned his face back. He looked at his face and glanced again.

This time he saw it clearly. It wasn't the teacher who was golden, but a golden little dragon that didn't know when it appeared. The whole place was in the position of the teacher. The little dragon was very tight, and he raised the dragon's head. He was angry and stunned with the teacher's eyes. If there is a kind of teacher, if he dares to move, it will be the meaning of the thing that will be caught directly. .

Chu nightning: "..."

Teacher: "..."

The little demon dragon is fierce, and he screams at the unlucky one he has been arrested: "Wow, oh yeah!!!"

If it wasn't for the hands to be tied, Chu Xiening would like to raise his hand at this moment. He really didn't look at it.

"..." The teacher was silent for a long while, gnashing his teeth, "What happened?!"

When the voice falls, I hear the sound of the Shimen Longlong hole. The face of the fairy sorrow appears behind the doorway, and the voice is full of dark clouds to urge the city to kill.

Step by step, step into the door and hold the arms with both hands. His gaze swept through the picture of "Jinlong Panyuzhu", and there was a bit of sneer in the killing, followed by a thin lip and a cold, and said: "This lady, please get out of bed."

The teacher was very angry and angry. For a moment, he did not understand what he meant. He said, "What Miss? Who?"

"Sorry." Stepping Xian also quite carefully identified the objects that had been caught by Xiaolong. "It turned out to be a son. The son is too small, and the seat has never been discovered."

Xiaojinlong climbed on the column, the beard was tilted up, and his mouth screamed and summoned his own master: "Oh!!"

The humiliation of a man is almost the ultimate in this job. Rao is a teacher and then calm and calm, at this moment can not help but blue veins burst, his face rose red. Helpless, his clothes were messy, and he was bound by a ghost dragon who did not know where to come. He was angry and did not seem to be imposing. He simply did not speak.

Stepping on the emperor, he walked over to him. Stand by the bedpost, hold your arms with both hands and lean against it.

"Hua Binan, do you think that you have not made a sound, this seat does not know what you are doing?" He narrowed his eyes, Ying Ting's face was full of inferiority, "You really are three years old this year. Ok?"

Chapter 268

After saying this, Stepping Jun moved his fingers, and the little dragon immediately wrapped his body tighter. The face of the teacher changed, and it was obviously painful, but he always loved his face. Even at this time, he tried his best to maintain his position.

"Ink burning, how dare you look at me?"

Stepping on the fairy, he smiled and said: "Interesting, you have to say, what is there in this world, is this seat dare not do?"

"..."

"Introduction. This is the separation of the Lushan Demon Dragon. I only listen to the orders of the Nangong family." Stepping Xianjun glanced at him. "You still don't know how to converge on the site of this seat. It’s really awkward.”

The division of the forehead horns and nucleus bursts, it is obviously not light. However, he did not think that the blood of the Lushan Mountain could be used in this way. He was taken care of for a while, and he did not dare to be too arrogant. He said: "You have given me this disgusting thing."

Stepping on the fairy did not say anything, staring at the place where the dragon was entangled and watching it for a while, then sneered: "Then you must first guarantee that you will never take this disgusting thing to your seat."

The bed was irritated and was irritated. The teacher yelled at his face: "Who do you say disgusting?"

"Who is tied?"

Chu nightning: "..."

After looking at the tied Lin Yuning, Stepping Xian frowned and changed his mouth: "Whoever is not wearing clothes is who."

Chu nightning: "..."

Too many misunderstandings, stepping on Xianjun simply waved his hand: "...this seat did not say you."

The teacher said: "It’s ridiculous to burn."

But to put it this way, he still put his bathrobe on the face, and then raised his eyes to the ink: "Well, now you can unlock it?"

"No hurry, you go out first, go farther, go to almost the back mountain, it will open itself." Stepping Xian is lazy, "but this seat reminds you, if you next time you have your heart to this seat." The man is moving the foot... It’s already familiar with your taste, even if you’re outside the mountains, it will catch you and strangle you.”

People are invincible, and it is invincible to step on the heights of Xianjun.

The teacher left.

In the house, there are only two emperors and Beidou Xianzun.

Stepping on the fairy, go out and reach out -

Then he saw the eyes of the late night, obviously with a sharp edge and hostility, but with some wet eyes. He reached over and it was probably the imprisonment of those years that made him think of his tyranny when he was standing up late, almost in taut.

"..." Stepping Xianjun sighed slightly in his heart, but he did not know what it was because of his soft heart.

He touched the forehead of Chu Yuning.

"Not so hot just now." There is not much expression on the face of the stepping fairy. "Others are abolished, and the medicine is really good."

After a pause, I said coldly: "I won’t let the scorpion insult you in the future. No one can touch it. You can rest assured."

He did not know that the memory of Chu Xiening at this moment had been cleaned by the teacher, and he had returned to his previous life for a while, so he did not know how much his own words gave Chu Jingning a big horror.

The smoldering actually turned out to be a scorpion...

Stepping Xianjun did not pay attention to the look of the late night, in fact he has been avoiding looking directly at him. He knows himself. If you look at this scene for a few more eyes, you will lose control. However, it is definitely more unbearable to do it in the state of Chu’s late night.

If you change to the past, he probably won't have any pity.

But he alone, in the other world, has been so lonely for so long, and he can't be the master of death and death. He can only live like this.

Once again, I saw Chu Xiaoning, and his cold heart seemed to have a faint warmth. It was this warmth that made him not as violent as he used to be.

He untied the ropes for Chu Yuning, and when he saw the bright red marks on his wrist, he even subconsciously sighed twice. But he immediately realized what he was doing, so he stopped.

He really didn't know what happened to him.

After a while, Shi’s memory disorder spell gradually weakened, so Chu’s eyes began to be a bit confusing, but in this faint stun, he was still pale and endured the pain in his skull, saying: Ink burning..."

"..."

"He is back."

It is a dream that is no longer important, but a long-cherished wish in my heart.

Chu Xiaoning is almost hoarse: "So... don't hate any more."

Stepping on the fairy is looking at him.

It’s about to think that this dream will be in the middle of the night, and Chu’s night smashed his eyes, raised the red mark, and touched the face of Xianjun: “Look back.”

There seems to be something in my heart that collapses. I stepped on him and stared at him without looking at it. It was also floating on his face, and it was like a cloud of smoke.

Chu night Ning squinted, it was a bit sobbing.

"There is no road ahead, go back... Don't go any further." He held his cheek and floated in the two times of life, Beidou Xianzun, looking at the already immortal, the emperor, the two lives. In the past, they have all been broken. Chu Yuning’s voice is hoarse, “Inflammatory, how cold your face is...”

It is as cold as ice.

If I can, I am willing to be a wax torch, waiting for you to look back at the fork in the winter night. I am willing to burn my life and follow the path of your return home.

But why are you so cold...

I don't know how long I can burn. If I am exhausted, I will burn it out. If you wait until I am extinguished, you still refuse to look back when you are in the dark. What should I do?

Chu Xiaoning's fingers trembled slightly and closed his eyes.

He stood in his life, no friends, no friends, and he was not afraid to leave.

Just thinking that maybe he burned his life's heat, and he couldn't warm the cold heart, he felt very embarrassed. Thinking that if he was extinguished, the young man would feel that he should live if he wanted to turn his head back and look for the direction.

Wait a day or more.

Maybe tomorrow, the ice will be gone.

The man will look back, walk from the endless night, and walk towards the light.

In the next few days, the remnant influence of the curse of the sorcerer's curse, coupled with the fluctuations of the memory of the two dynasties, the days when he was awake, he slept less, and he woke up every time. They are very loose, and the things they know are also fragmented and incomplete.

After Tang Xianjun understood the original committee, he felt that this was quite a worry. Chu Ningning is now confused, so good. The first day of bullying is awkward, and the next day you may not remember the previous things. And because of the broken memory, Chu Xinning always thought that he was dreaming, so he was less alert than usual.

The sharp-eyed cat has a taste, but the white cat who sleeps in a milk dumpling is also rare.

I have to say that he thinks Hua Binan has done a good job.

"How many things do you remember today?" This became a sentence that he would inevitably ask Chu Yuning when he woke up in the morning.

And Chu Evening often frowned and asked him: "What."

He had a patience and tireless answer: "Your memory is still only in the last generation, after we got married, or did it become another day?"

At this time, most of the time he will wait until the late face of Chu is rather embarrassed, and there is a deep sentence: "Ink rain, what crazy you are."

It’s not a good word. In the past, it’s necessary to go up.

Stepping on the fairy is now a slap in the face, but the tail is gentle, and then the other hand keeps up, picking up is not like a slap, but holding the other's face.

He sneered, but there was a slight satisfaction in his eyes: "Good. If you keep doing this, it would be better."

He really didn't want Chu to think of things in his life, and he didn't want him to think of the drizzle that became a master. As long as Chu Yuning has always been so confused, they can return to the Wushan Temple that year, no matter how much he hates him, they both can spend the day and night together.

His master, his lateness, is his own.

Hua Bi Nan ridiculed him: "I even eat my own vinegar, my heart is not as good as a woman."

Jealous?

Stepping on the fairy thought, does not exist. Just a piece of livestock, a thing that has been with him for a long time, will give birth to feelings similar to "habits."

That's all.

On this day, the mountain was fine, and the fairy squad forced Zhou Xiening and himself to linger in the afternoon of the orange blossom tree. He looked at the small white flowers with fragrant and fragrant flowers, lazily sighed: "It is missing some taste, if the sea otter Enough."

Chu night Ning's knowledge is vague, still thinking that this is his own night dream.

So he said: "Why are you, why are you so picking up in your dreams?"

Stepping on the lawn, he stepped over and put his head on his knee. Four eyes are opposite, stepping on the fairy road: "Consistent. Right, this seat is hungry, go back later, you give this room a bowl of porridge."

"..."

"To egg-flower lean meat porridge, egg flowers should not be too cooked, porridge can not be too thick, just put a little bit of meat. You will do it? Teach you many times."

Ningyuan did not want to go to Chu, but he was hard-pressed and hard-working. Later, I had to go with him to the back hall of the Sacrifice Hall.

Chai was born, the rice was clean, and the water began to boil. Stepping on the fairy table, sitting on the small table, looked at the look of Chu Yuning in front of the ring and sullen and helpless.

Fortunately, Chu nightning thought it was a dream, so I didn't plan to spend too much energy to resist.

And when you step on Xianjun, he knows that this dream will eventually break, so it will be cherished more than any time before.

The water rolled, and the scent of rice and meat floated out under the wooden cover.

Stepping on the immortal posture, hands folded on the chin, he felt that he had a lot of words to say with the late night, but also felt that it did not make sense, said it is also a loss.

In the end, he moved his mouth and said that he was low and lazy. "Hey."

"Ok?"

What to say?

In fact, he did not know, so he thought about it and solemnly said: "Remember to put salt."

"... let go."

"That kind of remember to taste salty."

"..."

Stepping from the black to purple eyes, there is a hint of teasing and relaxation: "Don't count on the salty death of this seat." He said, got up and walked to the night of Chu, and looked into the pot, then suddenly lifted The hand, from the back, embraced the warm man.

He licked the nightmare of the night, and he dropped his eyes: "This seat still wants to torture you forever."

"Ink rain -"

Feeling the rigidity of the man, he was even tighter, not even holding back, kissing his face on the side of the neck, and the long eyelashes were lightly moving: "What? This seat taught you how long the porridge is, you Still not willing to cook a bowl of porridge in this seat?"

Chu late Ning was blocked by the robbers and gangsters, and there was nothing to say. It was hard to think of some harsh words that could be refuted, but only opened up, even if the sounds were not issued, they were blocked by the lips that Xianjun had brought over. It’s rigorous.

He took the fire he had recovered and returned to the warm spring.

In the pyrotechnic flavor of chai oil and salt, he is already a living dead body, indulgently and affectionately kissing Chu nightning, cold lips wrapped in warmth.

His master, his late Ning, his Chu Yu.

No one can take it, no one will give it.

Kissing to the fierce place, stepping on Xianjun's mind is dim, put people at the table, and from time to time to go over and kiss the two already red lips, while reaching out to pick up the clothes of the night.

He used to do such a confusing thing, and he was interested. Even if someone is in a hurry to ask for it, he will not care.

Once the most insane, he suddenly began to want to read in the day, in the Wushan Hall, and the late night of the Chuan Ning, who had just been shackled, and the monk did not go to the monk, because the Yellow River monsters could not stop asking for a glimpse. He was finally annoyed, and he ordered the people to put down the curtains and let the monks come in.

He continued to encroach on his master's respect on the summer couch carved by the lobular rosewood through the layer of tulle and the crispy bead curtain.

"Don't make a noise... I said to the outside world, I am calling Chu Guifei to be pampered, and I will leave you a face." At that time, he was pressing on the night of Chu, and he gasped, "If you Shouting, and those who are vultures will know that the person who goes to bed with me is you."

"Ink rain..." The people underneath are shameful to the extreme, their eyes are red, "You are confusing!"

[Climb a small crab here, see the old place]

At this moment, in the depths of the Lushan Mountain, Stepping Xianjun stared at the face of Zhang Qingning, the late Qing Dynasty.

He silently recalled the things of the year, but his heart vaguely raised a narrow curiosity - he did not know whether there was any doubt in the late Qing Dynasty, why did he have such a strong energy, and Song Qiutong did not.

In fact, although he has been fortunate enough to have the woman, he can always eat wrong, and he does not want to have a child with Song Qiutong, even if he is happy, he will avoid letting her get pregnant. Perhaps because of his origins, he always felt that there should be no children with two people who have no deep friendship and can abide by their lives.

But it is also strange to say that he is so disgusted with the night, but he always thinks about it. If his Chu Yu is so favored by himself day and night, he can bear his bones.

Conquest of desire?

Revenge?

Possession? It is still a more humiliating punishment than being seized.

he does not know.

In such self-paralysis, he sang again and again with him and went to the abyss of sin and sin.

Chapter 269

In the mood of confusion, the seal of the person who stepped down the body of the fairy, the robes scattered, revealing the traces of green purple purple below. He acted as if he had thought of something, his eyes were dark and hot, just like the two smoldering fires in the ashes.

After a while, Teng Xianjun closed her eyes and sighed: "But..." He also knows that if he does it again at this time, Chu night would rather be separated from his flesh.

"Today is... and spare you..."

In this quietness of the world, he finally released the person in his arms and did not do anything too much. But still bowed his head, his throat twitched, kissing the lover's eyebrows, all the way down... and finally fell between the necks, and Sensen's white teeth took a bite. Then he straightened up and pulled up the man who was pressed at the table.

The porridge was cooked, and he snorted and snorted.

Stepping Xian Jun has a rough hand and a good dress for the night, and has a soft cough. The voice is still low. There is still room temperature: "The porridge is good, go, and have a bowl."

Although Chu Yuening was made in the fog, he was moody because of his usual day, and he felt that he was a dream, so he did not go too far. What's more, eating well is much more comfortable than finding ridiculous, so I didn't talk much more, to uncover the coffin lid.

"More."

"...hold you?"

Stepping on the fairy is like laughing and laughing: "You try."

Speaking and sitting down at the table.

Although he would like to take a look at the appearance of the pot porridge cooked in the night, but the emperor's shelf still has to be end, so the human model sits at the table and corrects, but also put a casual look.

However, when the porridge really comes up, stepping on the fairy will not be careless -

This porridge was overcooked, and the water was also put a little more. The taste was salty and faint. Even if it had not been moved, he knew that he was familiar with the taste that he had never tasted.

"..."

Stepping on the fairy bowl in front of the small bowl of God, the spoon was stirred in it, but did not send the porridge soup to the entrance.

Chu nightning looked at him: "If you don't eat again, it will be cold."

"……Oh."

The porridge was picked up, and it was put to the lips, and hesitated to let go.

Chu Xiaoning finally felt his strangeness and asked: "What happened?"

"Nothing." Stepping Xianjun smiled and was still sinful and contemptuous. "It’s really bad to cook, don’t drink."

"..."

"It's too stuffy here, this seat goes out and breathes."

He finished, pushing the unmoving porridge bowl away, and he got up and walked to the door. When the door was approaching, the voice of Chu Xiaoning sounded behind the scenes.

"If you don't drink." Chu Yuening's voice is very calm, it is the calm that he has been humiliated many times and he has tempered. "I just dumped the whole pot."

Anyway, what he did to him, in all likelihood, was ruined.

This has been the case since the initial copying of the hand that was shot down to the ground.

Stepping on the fairy suddenly came back: "Don't move!... I mean..." He coughed and concealed his gaffe. "First let go."

"What are you doing?"

"...no need to take care of you."

He opened the curtain and went out. When he reached the eaves, he closed his eyes and sighed heavily.

He is actually a corpse. How can he be like a living person, and after all, it is different from living people - he has been unable to eat.

At that time, he was killed in the Wushan Temple, and was used by the cold scales to make a living dead. The cold scale sage came to the world through time and space cracks, and he was left in the old and broken red dust to do things according to the order, just like this, for nearly ten years.

In the ten years of this corpse, he has never eaten anything. But he is not gluttony, so he never feels any regrets.

Until today, sitting in front of a bowl of succulent egg-flowered lean meat porridge, he suddenly felt lost -

Why is he no longer a living person?

He waited for so many years, and finally waited for a few days, and got a late night that belongs to him.

But he couldn't drink any more porridge that the man had made.

What is the taste of porridge cooked in the late evening?

He stood under the corrugation and squinted and recalled. After a long time, he suddenly raised his arm and covered his eyelashes. No one could see how his face looked at him. He showed it only. The pale lips of the squatting, as well as the chin of the lines.

Later he put his arm down and opened his eyes, his eyes were reddish.

His memory is not good, not too smart. If the tip of the tongue can still feel a little bit sour, bitter and salty, he may be able to regain his memories. But his bones are cold and his lips are tasteless. So even if the bowl of porridge is in front of him, he can't remember what it is.

He won't know again.

At night, he went to find a teacher.

Sacrifice to the cold pool in front of the Temple of Heaven, the handsome and innocent man with a bare foot, the toes twirling with the torrents of spring, picking up the star-like water.

Seeing him coming, the teacher’s eyebrows are slightly raised, and he seems to know his intentions. His look is cold and ridiculous: "So beautiful scenery, I don’t think that Emperor Jun is not in the secret room to accompany Chu Zongshi, but I have come to find me."

Teng Xianjun did not want to bend around with him. He asked directly: "Do you have any way to make this seat become the same as before?"

"..." The teacher swept his eyes back and forth. "Although you are a living dead, the bed rest should be unaffected."

"I didn't tell you this."

"Oh? What do you mean?"

"... Eat." Stepping Xianjun is cold and cold, "This seat wants to eat."

The teacher’s eyes were dark and thoughtfully asked: “Isn’t the emperor wanting to eat that bowl of dragons?”

"Besides my teacher, no one in the world can do it well."

The teacher smiled a little: "It's rare, you can think of him today."

Teng Xianjun’s memory of the teacher’s voice is messy and unstable, and sometimes it can be recalled. Sometimes there is no impression, but in general, there are many impressions. So I heard him mention the word “teacher” today, and the teacher is not new.

He asked: "Hey, you are mixing all day in Lushan and Chu night, why don't you think about your Ming brother?"

"..."

The so-called opposites do not know, this is probably the case.

After a while, Tseng Xianjun said: "You said that this body is too heavy, and you should not go to see my teacher before you get a new spiritual resurrection. He is a water attribute, this seat. Will hurt him."

The teacher did not lie at the slightest shame: "It is true."

"So you ask the dragon to copy what to do." Stepping Xian looked at him with cold eyes. "Which pot does not open the pot."

The teacher smiled and smiled: "I am just curious that in addition to the dragon's handwriting, there is nothing to eat in the world that will make you taste the treasures of the emperor."

"..."

"What, don't you want to say it?"

"..."

"That makes me guess, is Chu Zongshi cooking for you?"

Seeing the emperor's look slightly changed, the lips are slightly stunned, the teacher smiled and said: "I heard that the Chu Zong division of the dead and the dead is a must, the best cooking coke, you are really interesting, this can swallow Lower mouth."

The face of Stepanjun is getting more and more heavy: "You can say that there is no way, others don't have to worry."

"There is definitely a way, and I have already told you about it."

Stepping Xian frowned: "What is it?"

"The old way." The teacher said softly, "Get the spiritual core of the Mo Zongshi at an early date, and exchange his spiritual core for you, you will be exactly the same as before."

An orange flower floated over the water, and the tip of the teacher's toe swept a little, and the white and fragrant flowers were caught in the gap between the toes. Although Fang Fei was white, it was not as delicate and delicate as the skin of the teacher.

The teacher smiled and glared at the flower that was embarrassing on his toes and could not continue to float. He said: "We both worked together and got the spiritual core one day earlier. I will get your full strength one day, you, You can also eat what you want to eat one day earlier."

I paused and raised the lashes of soft feathers: "See people who think about it."

"..."

"So let me do more with me, the emperor will kneel down."

"Before you want to go to the lonely moon and night to kill people, and later you have to call this Zhen Zhen army to attack the dead, these these have been done. You have to cooperate with you in this seat, simply say it."

The teacher smiled and smiled: "Okay, really happy. In fact, there are not many things to ask you to do next, only the last one."

"You said."

"Go with me to Tianyin Pavilion, our chess game has been down to the end, and the net."

When he said this, Teng Xianjun noticed that the pigeons were wearing a golden tail feather pigeon, which was the soul of the Tianyin Pavilion.

"Tian Yin Ge is here for you?"

"Yeah." The teacher stretched out two long fingers and sandwiched a thin piece of paper. "It’s all good news. Everything goes according to our plan. Good people don’t feel so happy. Anping Anzhen, but no one gave him a sin."

He smiled and licked his fingers. He had cursed the letter and instantly folded it into a paper butterfly and threw it to Stepan.

"Look at it yourself."

"You don't have to look at it." Stepping Xian took the paper butterfly, but did not expand. He looked at the teacher with a pair of black eyes. "You will say, when do you start?"

"Trial after three days. Execution after three more days."

"Six days?"

The sergeant stroked the wings of the Jinwei homing pigeon, and his expression was very gentle. Suddenly, a small snake in his sleeve was pulled out, and the neck of the pigeon was bitten by lightning, and the soft bird was swallowed in an instant. belly.

All of this is only between the electric and the flint, and there is no fluctuation on the face of the teacher. It seems to have been used to it.

He smiled and opened a residual feather, and looked up: "Yes, so we will stay in Lushan for three days, then go to Tianyin Pavilion and wait."

The feathers fell into the pool, and the cockroaches spread softly, breaking the reflection of the two men on the shore.

"His spiritual core will give you the power to be invincible. In this way, everything you want will soon be available."

After this conversation, Stepping Xianjun returned to the Shushan Chamber of Secrets.

The spirit of Chu Evening was not good. It seemed to be reading a book, but at the moment it fell asleep on the table. A white sleeve was like a snow cover.

He stood by him for a while, in fact, it was such a man, a lonely lamp, a book of green books, he has been prosperous in the world, read the flowers, and the beauty of beauty has never been seen.

What is the night of Chu?

What catches your eyes.

He thought so sullenly, but his throat was swaying, and he couldn’t help but lean over and hold the man, burying his cheeks in the neck of the man.

"..." Chu Yuening was disturbed by him and opened his eyes. Fengxian was first confused and gentle, and then remembered the brutality of this immortal monarch, and his eyes were sharp and fierce.

These changes have all fallen into the eyes of stepping Xianjun. The troubles in his heart were unwilling to grow like wild grass, and in the end he couldn't stand it, and he would hold up the night.

"What are you crazy about? - Hey!"

A sigh, the man has been on the wall.

Stepping on the fairy and kissing him desperately, from the neck to the lips, from the lips to the chin, he gasped and said, "Do you like me?"

"..."

"Chu Ning, do you like me?"

"What are you doing? Why suddenly..."

However, Teng Xianjun does not seem to want to know his answer. He simply wants to ask this question. As for the answer, it has nothing to do with him.

Or because no matter what the answer is, returning to the road, you can't go back, so it doesn't help.

"If I am not the emperor, I am like you, become a generation of masters, will you be willing to be with me? Will you be willing to treat me better?"

He finally bite Chu Ning's neck side, blood-sucking possession.

It seems that this is the only way to prove that this person belongs to him in his arms, not to the ink rain that is completely different from his own.

However, the moment of falling off the eyelashes, the voice was hoarse.

"Do you like him all the time, more than me who likes this..."

"What the * are you talking about!"

Yes, Chu Xiaoning’s memory is disordered at this time. There are only memories of past lives, and there is no impression of this life. Naturally, he will not understand his gibberish.

It is only this time, he is completely a person who is a monk.

He suddenly felt very sad.

I don't know why, there is even some pride and misery in the voice.

Stepping Xianjun and his lover are lingering in the neck. In the end, he whispered: "If I win his spiritual core... will you hate me more?"

Nothing is more incomprehensible than being denied by myself.

Stepping Xianjun holds the people in his arms.

"But you are the one in this seat..."

"Don't betray me."

When he was whispering, he even felt that he was bleak.

Probably lonely for a long time, and then the sharp knife will be blunt.

"Eight years. How long have you been after he was born again, I am alone, how long it has been waiting for another red dust."

Lonely Wushan Temple, floating for no reason.

"Don't leave me for the second time.... The first time, I can still die. But if you go for the second time... I can't even choose to die." Stepping Xianjun raised his eyebrows. Gloomy and crazy, sadness and paranoia symbiosis, "I can't stand it..."

Chapter 270

The three-day deadline was fleeting. When the dawn dawned on the third day, the teacher came to the secret room.

Stepping on the fairy has been worn, still a black armor, the waist is thin and thin with a silvery dark box, the legs are slender, the shoulders are wide, the hands are wearing a scales, and the wrist is tied with a thousand shackles. .

He raised his eyes and his eyes were cold: "You are here."

"Ready, let's go to Tianyin Pavilion."

"You don't have to prepare, go."

The teacher looked at him: "So what is the late night?"

"Hey he took the medicine and slept."

The teacher nodded, but for the sake of prevention, he and Teng Xianjun re-entered the secret room once. After the diagnosis, the teacher said: "His energy will almost completely recover in these days, be careful."

Stepping on the battle against Chu’s fighting power is not afraid, but asks: “What about memory?”

The teacher gave him a look: "The same is true."

"..."

Ignore the gloomy dissatisfaction on the face of Stepanjun, the teacher got up and set up a fascinating scent in the secret room to ensure that Chu Ning would not suddenly wake up and make a bad plan. Finally, when I went out, I dropped a high-level curse on the door.

Stepping on the fairy eyebrows: "What do you do with this curse? There is no other person in this mountain. Nangong Liu is also the mind of the little devil. No one can go in and save him."

The teacher’s face is unchanged, faintly said: “The family thief is difficult to prevent.”

"Who?"

"You don't know." The teacher sighed. "It's one of my closest people. Don't say it, let's go."

The two left.

In the cold and cold stone room, there is only Chu Xinning himself. He is still in a coma, and the memories of the two worlds are recovering.

But not only, even the teachers didn't notice that the reason why Chu Yuning had been lingering for so long, the knowledge and memories have not fully recovered, not just because he is in poor health, but also has a very important reason. ——

What he wants to remember is not just his own memories!

About because half of the soul stayed in the body for a long time, and the soul of the burning soul was entangled all day long. When the soul returned, he also brought him some memories of the soul of the soul.

- At this moment, these memories became the last image that poured into his brain. He is dreaming, dreaming of some broken past events.

He first dreamed of a funeral post, and the unkempt child crouched on a rotten female body, squinting, and his eyes were blurred.

"Mother... A Niang... Anyone? Anyone... I buried it, buried me and Auntie..."

Then I dreamed of the drunken jade building in Xiangtan. The ink burned and was beaten in a purple cage. I curled up in a dog cage. The warmth of the cows and the beasts were fascinating. The child was kept in a cage and did not have to eat or drink. He can't even turn around.

A child who is similar to his age is grinning at him: "Don't look at what you look like, but also want to be a hero? I see you are a joke! Hey! You are a joke in your life!"

Spit spit.

Small ink burns off your eyes.

Chu nightning's eyelashes are also shaking.

Ink burning...

Then, he dreamed that the raging fire tongue was like a sling, and the ghost was twisted and twisted in the building.

There were crying everywhere, the burning beams collapsed, some people were screaming, and smoke was rolling.

The young boy burned in the fire of the sky, his face was very cold, his eyes were calm, he lowered his head, put a * mottled knife on his lap, holding a bunch of grapes in his hands, slowly peeling the purple skin.

"It's all over, A Niang."

The smoldering looks very peaceful.

"But I can't see you... I killed someone, my hands are blood. A Niang, I will go to * after I die, I will never see you again."

Ink burning... ink burning...

Suddenly the light started to shine.

It is a woman's gentle face, and her eyes are slightly picking.

who is it?

Chu Xiaoning felt that the woman’s eyebrows were similar to themselves, and when she looked down seriously, she was very clear.

She sewed the coat in her hand.

"A Niang..." There is a child's voice, calling in a light mosquito.

The woman screamed and smiled at him: "How did you wake up?"

"I have a nightmare... I am so hungry..."

The woman put off her clothes and opened her arms. She smiled softly and said, "I have a nightmare again? Well, don't be afraid, I will burn my baby in my arms."

Burning children... ink burning...

Chu nightning closed his eyes, and he did not know how bitter the taste was.

too bitter.

Just watching, I feel that this day is dry and shrinking, and every night is so difficult.

A Niang...

This is the first time he saw the appearance of the ink-burning mother. He suddenly understood why there was no sad temple in the past. Xiaomo burning instinctively grabbed his robes and believed that he prayed for himself. He suddenly understood that before the tower, that Why did the teenager come over to himself and beg for himself and accept him as a disciple.

The teenager smiled and said: "Because you look the best, the most gentle."

At that time, everyone was laughing at the back of the ink, and the sneer was burning.

Actually not.

no……

He is not awkward, nor is he a flattering. He can't tell the truth, he can't cry, he can't pull Chu night and say: "Xianjun, when you look down, there are actually some people who have been the best in the world. She is gone, can you ignore me, can you replace her, and look at me again."

I miss her very much.

Nothing can be said about ink burning. It can only endure the great bitterness in the heart and endure the tears rising. Endure the indifference and neglect of Chu Yuning. Chasing behind, pretending to calmly laugh and deceive everyone.

No one needs to know his past, no one can share his pain.

He can only smile like this, under the tower of the sky, the smile is too eager, too eager, stealing endless thoughts, so that the night will burn.

The ink burns open your eyes.

He is not dead, he is in an extremely narrow cell. The walls are gray and the only light comes from a small meal under the door of the Xuan Iron Gate.

The top of the cell was engraved with the coat of arms of the scales, and he knew he was in the middle of it.

This is the first fair and fair judgment temple in the world, independent of the top ten martial art outside the first martial arts.

Tianyin Pavilion.

He lay inside, his throat burning and his lips cracking.

It is very quiet around, and it can be quiet in the eardrum to produce an empty wind, and you can hear the slang of the soul. It took him a long time to gather his own distracted consciousness -

He actually felt that he should have had such a day in his life, but his fate is still kind to him, and he will be able to settle his sins with him in this life.

"The ink burns and eats."

I don't know how long I have been lying. Here, time is blurred.

He heard someone coming over and pushed the meal from the hole to him, a piece of oil swirling cake, a bowl of soup.

He did not get up and pick up, and the attendant of Tianyin Pavilion did not talk to him any more, and he walked quickly, and soon he went far.

How is Chu nightning?

How is the death and death?

Where did the pieces that were destroyed finally go?

He was faint, and he was tired of thinking about these three questions. After thinking for a long time, he was willing to accept his life and knew that no one would tell him the answer.

He is now a prisoner.

He sat up.

There was a pain in the chest, and there was no strength in the body. The once-frozen spiritual flow had disappeared. He stayed behind the wall for a while -

After the original nuclear nucleus was broken, it was this feeling.

Can not summon Shenwu, can not cast spells, as if the wind and the waves of the waves lost the tail, Peng Yun Peng has no wings.

He was kneeling in the corner, his black eyes staring blankly at the front.

The smoldering was suddenly very sad, but the sadness was not because of himself. He thought of the past life of Chu, and the reincarnation of heaven. He finally realized the helplessness and pain of Chu Xiening at that time.

He really wanted to say sorry to Chu’s late night.

But it is late.

Everything can't go back.

He was trapped in the house, the cake and a bowl of soup from hot to cold, from cold to cold. Later, he began to eat, and after eating this, no one has ever been to this cell.

He became the ink that was locked in the dog cage when he was a child, but the treatment of the house was much better than the dog cage. He could comfortably lie down.

He was lying in this darkness, and he woke up when he woke up, but it was not so important to wake up and sleep. In this room, he seemed to die.

The ink burned faintly, maybe he is already dead?

Perhaps this life, that is, he is lying in the raft under the tower of the sky, the soul is not scattered, and a good dream. He swayed the thirty-two years of life like a circus, and he was full of gloom and joy, and finally he became a bone in his heart.

He rolled his mouth slightly and smiled.

He actually felt that if the truth is true, then it would be better.

He was very tired. He walked for too long and struggled for too long. He was in * or human. He was not so concerned. He just wanted to rest.

He is very old in his heart. In fact, when he was born in the middle of the night, he had already gone down completely and went on. He has been doing good for so many years, and he is looking for a cure for this aging medicine.

But he could not find it.

He fought for so long, unrelentingly and shamelessly seeking for so long, and now he is tired and tired. In this life, he lost his mother, lost his master, lost his best friend, lost his lover, lost his stolen relatives, and lost his vain reputation.

Now, he has lost even the core. But he was still taken to the Tianyin Pavilion, still unable to escape the most severe blame in the realm of cultivation.

He finally died, and he knew that he would never be forgiven.

His drizzle is an ugly and deformed mountain, and the vast winter snow covers his scars.

But it was snowing.

His darkness, his horror, nowhere to hide.

He couldn’t do the Master of Mozambique. When he was contaminated with the blood of the first innocent person, he was destined to be the emperor in his life. He burned the piano and burned his teeth. His face was as good as his beast. He Damn it.

He is dead, cheering in the world.

I don't know if he was trapped in the forbidden room, the door opened.

The disciples of Tianyin Pavilion came in and tied him with a bundle of sacred words, then picked him up and left him and dragged him outside.

They took him through a long, dark road.

The ink burned hoarse and sullenly opened, saying the first words from these days: "How are they?"

No one cares about him.

He was twisted and went to the end. The sky is set off, and the ink burns like a dragon that has been huddled in the dark for too long. It has already been glaring, and it seems so dull and uneasy in such a dazzling glare. He couldn't adapt to the sudden light. He wanted to cover his eyes, but his hands were tied back, so he could only bow his head and shed tears under the thick black eyelashes.

He was fainting, and he didn't know where he was. Only the sense of smell was clear.

He smelled the breath of the wind, the breath of the sea, the breath of flowers and trees, he was pushed a bit, and hesitated to go forward.

Slowly, the ears can adapt to the noisy here.

He heard many people talking, and whispering whispers together was like Jiang Chao. The tide can wash away the dirt, but the tide can also kill people.

I feel that I can't breathe.

He is very weak.

At this moment, it is weak to the extreme.

"Your Majesty."

The man who escorted him was pushing him, and he knelt down, and the sun shone in the high heavens, shining on his dry face.

I didn't think that the outside would be such a sunny day.

"That is the ink master..."

"I don't think that one day I could see him being judged in Tianyin Pavilion. Hey, it's really a matter of knowing people and knowing what to do."

The ink burns in the ears, and the eyes can gradually see something, but it is still very unclear. He can only look at everything in front of him with the shadow of the eyelashes.

It is the public auditorium of Tianyin Pavilion in memory.

When he was young, he once saw the place of trial with Xue Zhengyi Xue Meng.

But he has been a spectator and has become a person under trial.

The crowds in the audience are crowded and crowded. These are the ordinary people who came to the Tianying Pavilion for onlookers and interrogated. He couldn't see the faces of any one person, and he couldn't see the expressions on those people's faces. He only thought that those heads that had whispered together were together, and they became high and low undulating wheat waves.

Then he looked up again.

The four walls are towering, and the visitors from various sects sit on the stage.

The blue color is Bitanzhuang, the red one is the fire phoenix pavilion, the yellow one is the mourning temple... Then his heart slammed together, it is strange, he still feels pain.

He saw the familiar silver blue, the quietest of the entire stands, and the most popular martial art.

The shackles of life and death.

He blinked, regardless of the sting of his eyes, trying to look in that direction - but he couldn't see, he couldn't see where Xue Zhengyi was, and he couldn't see who was Xue Meng who was the elder of the wolf who was Hey, he can't find Mrs. Wang.

In the end, on the trial stage, he still couldn’t see those people he was most worried about.

"The smoldering of the dead, the ninth city of the Confucianism, the singularity of the Nangong, and the singularity of the Nangong." On the high platform, the wooden smoke was clearly stated in the sound of the sound, and the sound was suppressed. Adding trials, you can't misplace them, you can't make a mistake..."

The ink burned did not listen to her words.

Such a sharp voice is too harsh for a long-awaited person.

The wood smoke is not a singularity. It is about the slogan of a cup of tea. It floats into the ear of the ink, and it is the incomplete word of "killing and paying for life", "intentional speculation" and "cultivation prohibition".

In the end, he heard her say: "To remove the recidivism, and to give justice, this Tianyin Pavilion is also responsible."

After the wood smoke was finished, a disciple of Tianyin Pavilion came next to him. The disciple came to the front of the ink, and against the dazzling sunlight, cast a dark shadow of ink.

"Open your mouth."

"..."

Seeing that the ink did not respond, the man snorted and slammed his chin violently, pouring a pot of bitter medicinal juice into his mouth.

"Cough and cough -"

The ink can't burn the cough. He hasn't eaten for many days. The stomach suddenly touches such a strong slurry, and it is almost irritating. It seems to be retching.

The man held his throat and prevented him from moving, forcing him to swallow the pot of potion. The cold liquid is like a snake sliding into the belly, turning over the river, and tearing through the internal organs.

The ink burns his face, and he wants to vomit. He really wants to vomit.

However, he did not accept the soft, refused to ask for mercy, he did not even want to tears in his eyes. He is half-baked, and his despicable days are too much, but this does not mean that he has no dignity.

The potion was filled down, and the man loosened him, and he gasped heavily.

The wings are lost and the fatigue is exhausted.

However, there is still a fierceness before the death of a lonely eagle.

The people of Tianyin Pavilion are explaining to the spectators who come to the five seas and lakes as usual -

"This is a sin."

The ink burns the lips and the teeth are pale, and the coveted laughs.

Swearing water... Oh, complaining about water, how can he not know?

This kind of syrup, the sinless person must not drink, only to become the trial prisoner of Tianyin Pavilion, will be poured this kind of decoction, and then will be conscious of the sin, to describe the big mistakes made in life.

After the interpretation of the disciples of Tianyinge, they came over and tapped on the lips of the ink to expand the sound so that everyone could hear his words.

The ink burns and closes the eyebrows, and the head of the stomach seems to have a knife.

He was forbearing, because he was too hard to endure, and he was shaking and squeaking. He was pale and his eyes turned up slowly. He squatted on the platform... twitching...

He still has consciousness, but the consciousness is clear for a while, and it is blurred for a while. He exhausts all his perseverance to fight against the drug, but still can't get rid of it -

"I... killed people." In the end, it was still painful to close his eyes and hoarse.

His unspeakable voice, walking through every corner.

Everyone was quiet, and they looked at the people on the stage with their eyes.

The wooden cigarettes lingered on the high platform.

“How many people have you killed?”

"...too much...do not remember..."

The following people have changed their faces.

"How old are you when you first murder?"

"fifteen."

"Is it a monk or a mortal?"

"mortal."

"Is murder for revenge, or is it for self-protection?"

"There are both."

He asked one by one, and many of the spectators gathered to see the excitement. It was not clear about the previous things. When they heard the ink burning, they actually killed people at the age of fifteen, and the more they killed, the more they couldn’t remember the exact number. They were all shocked and angry.

"I don't think that this famous Mo Zong teacher is actually a devil who kills people without blinking!"

"It’s terrible... this person is so sinister."

"I didn't even dare to kill the chicken when I was fifteen, but he actually started killing! It's a metamorphosis..."

If the wooden cigarettes are not heard, they will be cold and cold: "Follow the crime."

"I..." I couldn't stand the bones and bursts, but I couldn't stand it. The ink burned and mute, "I...pretend, I pretend to be the scorpion of the Lord."

"how long?"

"eight years..."

"Continue to commit crimes."

The ink burns slowly and slowly: "I... cultivation... three major bans... Jane... Jane... the game..."

Many people in the stands were speechless at this moment.

Some people yelled at the side of the dead and sorrow, and sneered in the mouth: "Is Xue Zhengzhen not to give up this animal? I will say a cup of sin to feed, he must tell the truth - Xue Zheng Before the embarrassment, I still didn’t let the Tianyin Pavilion interrogate the ink. I saw that this old thing was blinded by lard, and the hatred of the killing did not want to be reported. The sect of the dead is actually a disciple practicing ban, this martial art Can you disperse it? What else to keep? Then cultivate the devil?"

"I also said that he did it! After the death of his life, he abolished his spiritual core to save us. It was nothing more than a bitterness. Fortunately, he did not let him go!"

"That is, staying in the green hills is not ignorant of firewood. He must have thought about it at that time. He is so great, how is the spiritual core abolished? Maybe he can think of any tricks to restore himself. It seems that it is really It’s dangerous, if it’s not the Tianyin Pavilion’s insistence, we might have misplaced this poisonous thing!”

On the public auditorium, there is a Pangshuo Libra, which is full of golden brilliance. It is a very special martial art. It has a hundred tons. Since the opening of the Tianyin Pavilion, it has been standing here for thousands of years. On behalf of the same.

It is said that this scale can be left in the world by the gods, and can clarify all the sins and punishments of the human world and give the most fair ruling.

The ink burned without opening an acknowledgment of a guilt. The wooden smoke left the disciples to put the weight of the golden spirit into the weighing pan. The exquisite code fell into the weighing pan and quickly became bigger, pressed down heavily, and the other side of the scale On the top, facing the corresponding punishment.

When he recited his first sin, Libra pointed to "the dig of the core."

After he finished the game, Libra pointed to the most extreme punishment -

"Crush the soul."

In the stands, Xue Meng’s face was full of blood.

He murmured: "Crush the soul...?"

Since then, there has been no light rain in the world, no more burning.

This is his brother, really good or fake.

Even if the round is reincarnation, it will never be seen again.

There was a blank in his mind and his hands were stiff.

Xue Zhengyi stood up and abruptly said to the wooden cigarette: "The punishment of smashing the soul has never been suffered since the Tianyin Pavilion. The wooden cabinet owner may fear that your trial is unfair."

Chapter 271

Listening to Xue Zhengxuan’s opening, people with other martial arts are angry and get up: “Can you shut up the dead sorrow?! Your disciples have cultivated the chess game, which has already violated the taboo of the comprehension, and it is reasonable for you to break the door. I’m not going to care about you for a while, but can you be a little self-aware?”

"Xue Zhengyi! You still speak for him? You should be a group with him!"

It’s surrounded by slang.

The martial art is good, the family is good, and it is often the case. One person becomes a god, and the dog grows up. But once a person makes a heinous thing, the entire sect or family will be regarded as a demon cave.

"This is a sin, not a fixed sentence." The wooden cigarette is a faint one. As far as things are concerned, it is not to judge the death and death. "Shu Palm Gate does not have to worry. After the sin, it will be broken. The difference is the final conclusion." ""

When she finished, she turned her head and looked at the ink, and the voice was cold: "Continue to sin."

"I...have...the bully...the annihilation...the ancestors..."

"The bully destroys the ancestors?"

This is confusing.

The ink burns but feels like a fire.

Deceiving the ancestors, Chen is the sin of his previous life - this sins of water, will actually smash the felony committed by his last life from the throat!

But he doesn't want to say... he doesn't want to say it! Is it necessary for him to say how his former life is lingering/insulting with the lateness of the eyes under the gaze of countless pairs of eyes?

Prisoners are imprisoned and blasphemy.

Insulted him, and finally killed him.

He didn't want to say.

He felt that he could not live, but the days of Chu Xiening were still very long.

Chu Nighting is the spirit of Shenmu, with the purest aura and talent. He hopes that Chu Ning can go on well, and in the end he will be able to fly and rise to the ranks of Xianban, no longer need to suffer from reincarnation, the pain of love.

His master is so good, so clean.

He wants to protect him...

We must not let everyone feel that they have something to do with it.

You must not let everyone feel that the night is rather dirty, and the body is contaminated with the sin and sweetness of stepping on the king.

He wants to protect him.

Protect him...

In the abdominal cavity, he still burns a fire, and the pain is broken. The ear faintly heard the wood smoke from the cold and forced to ask: "What is the bully ancestors?"

He did not say, he did not say.

The fingertips whipped on the rough sandstone ground, and the front of the forehead was scarred. He groaned in the same place, like a fish that died on the beach...

He does not say.

It is the same to resist the crime of sin and to resist the heavenly question. As long as you die, you can always endure it.

He asked in the whistle of the Tianyin Pavilion, and everyone struggled in the eyes of the people. This torture is too deep, and ordinary people can't stand it even when they ask questions, and this is a hundred times more than a hundred times more painful than the day.

He felt that the intestines and stomachs were tightened by a pair of invisible hands, tearing, smashing, * mottled sores were flooded with salt water, burning pain, pain in the wrist bones.

The sound of the wood smoke seems so far away, as if it came from the ocean.

"What is the so-called bully and annihilation of the ancestors?!"

He did not say that he bit his tongue and bit his lip, but blood in his mouth, but no tears.

The same as the seven days in the dog cage.

He does not cry.

His tears will only be the laughing stock of the spectator.

No one will be merciful, and he is not afraid of the pity of these people.

Even if it hurts to death, it will hurt until the liver and intestines are broken.

The wood smoke is still interrogating and questioning: "What did you do to Chu Xiening?"

It hurts too much, and in the end, there is an illusion.

He saw the appearance of Chu Xi Ning after a hundred years of flying into a fairy. It is still a white coat like a snow, handsome eyebrows, and fascinating. When you don't laugh, you have a sharp edge. When you laugh, the edge is turned into a gentleness.

"No..."

The wooden cigarette smashed a bit, and the lips were lightly opened: "What?"

The ink-burning throat is crushed and hoarse: "I said wrong, I have never... I have not... bully..."

Lifting the scorpion, the blood is vertical and vertical, but the scorpion is bright.

“Destroy the ancestors!

The words are broken.

"..." The wooden cigarette was not known from the face. It seemed to have a hint of horror. It seemed to be a bit stunned, but she was too cold, and her horror and sorrow were quickly frozen into ice. She paused. Said, "Continue to sin."

The ink burns and coughs blood, and the lungs seem to be shattered, and they breathe with a turbid smell.

He lay on the ground, waiting for the huge pain of the sin, the body was soaked, pale as paper, his cheeks against the ground, hair stained on the cheeks, gasping.

The wood smoke was involuntarily stepped forward.

She stared at him: "Continue to sin."

"Not guilty..." The ink burned on the eyes, dumb, "can be Chen."

The wood smoke left a disciple to take a little bit of blood burned, and then wiped it on the exquisite code. The code was engraved with three small tricks of "gongshande", which was used to measure the merits of this person.

She threw the weight into the scales.

Libra is slowly floating, except for the burning, everyone is watching the golden pointer -

"Smashing the soul"...still "smashing the soul"...

The pointer is moving.

Smash the soul.

But there is no way to smash the soul.

Xue Meng held the dragon city machete on his knees and his face was extremely ugly. He stared at the scale. He tried to keep his waist straight, because he knew that if it fell, he would not be able to straighten up.

He shook a little, and his palm was colder than the Dragon City.

The wooden cigarettes looked at the golden scales without looking at the beautiful eyes. The pointer moved more and more slowly, moving in the field of "smashing the soul", almost banned.

She opened her sleeves and said faintly: "Okay, it seems that the overall situation has..."

"Still moving."

"Xue Gongzi..."

Xue Meng stared at her, he was talking, although the voice was trembling, even though he did not know whether he was right or wrong.

"The pointer is still moving."

The wooden cigarette leaves the road: "Quickly stopped."

"Then wait for it to stop."

The wood smoke is opposite to his sight.

After a while, she had a cold and ridiculous smile on her face: "Okay, then wait for it to stop."

The sun was poisonous, and the ground of the roasted sandstone floated a layer of gray smoke.

They waited, everyone looked at the pointer and waited for it to stop. The strange thing is that the pointer has not settled for a long time -

It also seems to be not sure how to decide for the light rain, it is swinging, hesitating to the place of reducing the sin, slowly, little by little.

Wood smoke did not seem to have encountered such a situation, she no longer snorted, goose yellow clothes, and quietly await the judgment of Shenwu Libra.

Xue Meng’s knuckles were white, and he stared at the needle. It seemed that it was not the life of a person who was about to arbitrate, but the years in which he and his ink were arbitrated.

From scorn to dislike, from disgust to acceptance, from acceptance to recognition.

Is it the beginning of the cold and wrong, or the later "brother", wrong to be outrageous?

he does not know.

He stared at the needle, and he had no hope when he stared at the needle.

Don't stop.

I beg you.

Go ahead and go some more, you see, it’s still a little...

The guy was wrong again, but he also broke the spirit core and retired thousands of troops.

How can I be sentenced to death?

How can you crush his soul...

a little. A little more.

To the end.

——

"Life is to dig the core."

The wooden cigarette was announced with a blank expression, and she was very fair and cold-blooded. It was very different from the robes with golden warm light on her body. Her whole person was colder than frost and snow.

The pointer stopped.

The tip is swaying at the word "living the core of the spirit".

That was the final judgment of Master Mo.

The wooden smoke is off the stalwart spectators below, as well as the top ten sects on the stage -

It is indeed the top ten sects. The Tianyin Pavilion still has the old seat of the Confucianism Gate. There is a lonely person sitting on the seat. It is a black leaf.

She carried the cloth sac of Nangong, and she lost her master's white gold forever. Her face was very awkward, but her eyes were clear, and she was watching everything on the trial table.

The wooden smoke is off the road: "There is an eye in the sky, the mirror is high, and the Tianyin Pavilion has passed the judgment. It has not been used for personal gains and fraud. It has never been biased. It has not been deliberately slandered. It has been judged by ink, and it has been used to dig the criminal law. Express three days, tell the world, if there is no objection, three days later -"

Xue Meng has been closing his eyes and forbearing, but at the moment he finally couldn't help it. He suddenly got up, and the silver blue light armor flashed: "I have dissent."

"..."

"I don't have to wait until three days later, I have objections now."

The following is even more prosperous: "The death of his mother's fast-closed! What!"

"Everything Xue Zhengyi and Xue Meng have tried together! In all likelihood, it is a group of people. How can I help the devil to speak on this?"

"At that time, Jane Chess came to the world. How did you not kill the number of people? Are you really a magic cave?"

Xue Meng's face was blue, but he had to do his best to suppress his anger.

The angry snarls of the monks, the wooden cigarettes were heard from nature, but she turned a deaf ear, only faintly said: "Small Xue Gongzi has something to say, I am listening."

Xue Meng opened his mouth and seemed to be ignorant of what he said. Mrs. Wang was very worried in her heart and quietly pulled him: "Menger, there are still three days, we have long considered it, think about how to say..."

Xue Meng did not seem to hear the mother's words. He stared straight at the wooden cigarette for a while, then turned to look at the scales, and finally his eyes fell on a small black spot in the distance.

That is the ink burning above the punishment platform.

Xue Meng’s eyes trembled, like a slap in the wind, and the bottom of his eyes wrinkled.

It’s not dark, it’s not bright.

He said without a word: "He has no spiritual core."

Wood smoke away: "What do you mean?"

Xue Meng suddenly got excited. He looked back at her: "What do you mean? You don't know? The person who saved you in the dead, the person who retired the chess piece, isn't he? The wooden cabinet owner, I want to know you. How to execute a sentence? His spiritual core has been broken! What else do you have to do? Dig out his heart?"

He had water vapor in his eyes and his nails fell deep into his palm.

"Life is to dig the core of the spirit, to dig the core of the spirit... There is no spiritual core, you are not going to kill him!"

The wooden cigarettes are narrowing their eyes: "Tianyin Pavilion has its own way."

"According to the rules, after the verdict falls, the sentence will be executed after three days." Suddenly a muted voice was heard, and everyone looked up. The person who spoke was Ye Zhixi. "There is no way for the cabinet owner to look at it." ”

Immediately, the people of Bitanzhuang angered: "What qualifications do you have to open? What are you counting?"

Some people whispered below: "Looking at Jiang Yan to support her, taking advantage of the Nangong Temple to change to return to the Confucianism door innocence, she really took her seriously, such a big occasion, an unnamed female flow like this question The voice cabinet owner, she also matches?"

Ye forgets to ignore this.

Until there was someone who had previously complained with the Nangong family, she said to her loudly: "Ye is a forgotten, the Confucianist door has already died. You should be sitting there alone. Wouldn't you think that you are the head of Confucianism?"

Ye forgets to hold his arms and screams, but has not restored the spiritual white gold. She was alone in the same place, not angry or noisy, waiting for those who were angry or sneer to gradually calm down, she said: "The Confucianism of the Dark City is still in command, and it is not dead, not what you said. ”

"you--"

The leaves are not willing to talk to others, and a pair of scorpions look at the wood smoke: "Please also ask the owner to express."

The wood smoke is off the road: "There is no way to reshape the spiritual core in this world. The nuclear nucleus is broken, but the debris is still in the heart. The so-called digging of the nucleus is naturally not necessary to demand the integrity of the nucleus."

Xue Meng looks like paper: "So what do you want?"

"There will be a way to dig out the core pieces of the spirit." The wood smoke leaves the road. "Tian Yin Ge will not want his sex..."

"Life" has not been exported, Xue Zhengyi also stood up, his face covered with clouds: "Drilling out the core fragments?"

"Not bad."

"How many times does it have to be dug?" Xue Zhengyi screamed at his eyes, and his side was mixed with white hair. "Five times? Ten times? The heart is dying to damage the heart, and it is extremely painful for a few years." The former Tianyin Pavilion dug a psychic nucleus of a prisoner. She did not support it. She died in the prison on the same day."

The wood smoke is indifferent: "That is her own weakness, and she can’t blame the Tianyin Pavilion."

"Then you might as well ask for his life directly!" Xue Zheng said with anger, "wood smoke, spiritual nuclear debris! If you say that you can export, if his spiritual core is broken into two pieces, it will be dug twice.

Three pieces, I dig three times... But what if it breaks into a hundred pieces? Do you want to delay him?! You are in the middle of it!!"

"If it is broken, it is his own life."

Xue Zhengyi is dumb.

Life?

Everything is life.

He suddenly felt ridiculous.

What is life?

Because of his life, he mistakenly raised this child as his own nephew.

He gave the child's family, Master, and gave the child a place to live, a home. But what is the fate of this child?

The illegitimate abandonment of the child, not enough snacks from the snacks, followed by the mother begging to sell for a living.

The mother died, and he was a thin and timid young child, dragging the rotted body, burying the post, and burying his only childhood warmth.

He has been beaten countless times, countless scolding, he was shut down in the dog cage, and he was jailed.

Everyone expects this world to be fair, but from the moment of birth, fate is unfair.

Why is the family husband and son of the car here, in exchange for a beautiful smile.

The poor people there have been displaced, and they have to feed on insects and the world.

Why do some people be addicted to their mothers in a carefree manner.

Some people have to take the mother's bones and go to the front of the giants to ask for a "three feet, you can hardly ask for a shot."

Why are some people humbled into the earth.

Someone is born rich.

This is not fair.

When fate dumps injustice on those who are at the bottom, a price adjustment order can take the lives of their loved ones around them -

Where is justice?

They are all living people. How can they not hate, how can they be detached?

Even if this child is missing, even if it is not his flesh and blood, even if fate is teased... Thinking about it, it is still distressing.

Xue Zhengyi closed his eyes.

He murmured: "It's too cruel, and Shenwu Libra may not have considered the situation of breaking the nuclear nucleus... hundreds of times, the wood smoke."

He squinted and his voice was shaking.

"You have to take an awl and stab his heart, hundreds of times."

"..."

Everything between heaven and earth is clear, and everything in Tianyin Pavilion is rigorous, fair, and meticulous.

Xue Zhengyi raised his face and looked at the clouds and slowly drifted past.

"Well, now that he is guilty of compensation, he owes this world, and it should be paid off."

got windy.

Xue Zheng whimpered.

"But this world owes him... Does anyone give it back to him... Does anyone give it back to him..."

Chapter 272

The public trial is finally over.

Even if someone utters a voice, someone pleads that the result will still not change.

The trial of the scales of the Tianyin Pavilion is already the ancient system of the millennium. No one can escape, and the rain is naturally not spared.

In the clearance field, the ink was escorted to the sinful sin outside the Tianyin Pavilion.

The instruments are bound, the enchantment is over, and the guards stand. He will be here for three days and three nights, accepting the ridicule and resentment of those who have passed the road until the day when the core is born.

It is called publicity.

"Hey, mother, I want to see him."

In the room of the Tianyin Pavilion, Xue Meng couldn't sit still. He suddenly got up, but he was pulled by Mrs. Wang.

Mrs. Wang said: "Don't go."

She is hard to be firm, but at the moment she can't be denied.

"Don't go to the crimes, don't go see him."

"Why?!! I am just... I am just..."

Mrs. Wang shook her head.

"Under the eyes of the dead, it is difficult to protect themselves. How many people are ordering us to distribute today? Your father and son should be calm, and never be out of the way. Once you have a life or death, Yuheng is good, and you are burning. Even the last retreat was cut off."

Xue Meng stunnedly: "But is there really someone going to fight him and screaming at him? I don't know what the chess game is all about, why he can solve it...but..."

He buried his face in his palm and his voice was moist.

"But, that day, he really saved us... Why some people have not experienced the catastrophe that day, and have not seen the situation of the day, just rely on one side of the word, it is necessary to treat him like this."

why?

Xue Meng did not understand, he was too pure.

But Mrs. Wang knew that Xue Zhengyi also understood.

Tianyin Pavilion is the most just palace in the realm of comprehension. Once a certain thing has been fixed, especially after years of hard work and standing for thousands of years, then few people will think about it. Why is it just, it will not There will be a mistake. In such a force, even a refuted voice will be easily overshadowed.

Ink rain is a sinner.

Because it is a sinner, anyone can swear him and swear at him.

Because you are a sinner and a sinner, so those who have saliva or fists are not violent, not venting, not following the trend, not venting, or even the infinite pleasure of the tiger.

It is to punish evil and promote good.

Everyone should clap their hands and say, whoever dares to utter a sigh of love, that is, the same party, the covenant should be put on the stage, the face is painted, the hair is cut off - oh, morality is lost, right and wrong, and fight together.

Xue Meng can't go to the crime scene.

Will be crazy.

In the evening, it started to rain.

The sinful sin is not covered, the ink burns in the misty rain, the fine rain sticks to his face, he closes his eyes, the crowds are surging, and the rain is pouring out.

At this time, the monks have already dispersed, and most of them are ordinary people who are unclear. The residents of these upper-level repairs did not comprehend and did not know the various accidents that occurred before, but they were extremely curious, holding a paper umbrella and looking at the bound man.

In the daytime, their stands were far away, and they could not understand the appearance of the ink.

However, when the public is guilty of crimes, these people can come closer.

Some girls were surprised at the low voice: "I heard what he did in the morning, thinking that it was a ugly ugly, and I thought it would be good."

The strong man around her thoughtfully took care of her cloak and said, "You are too naive. In this world, people who look good but have sinister hearts are innumerable. You must not be confused by the appearance of such people. Go."

There are also parents who bring their sons and come to them.

The one who was awkward was a teaching book from the upper revisionist, Sven Wenwen, who picked up his own child so that he could clear the appearance of the ink there.

"Have you seen it? You must be a good person in the future. You must never make a pie with this kind of animal."

The child was ignorant, five or six years old, still not very sensible, he asked: "Hey, what mistakes did he make? Why are you here?"

"The mistakes he made can be described as difficult." Mr. Jiao Shu is sour, "According to the conclusion of the Tianying Pavilion public trial, he killed people, put fire, practiced forbidden, and deceived his identity. This person, there is no shame, The slightest humanity, his cold blood is dark, the pigs and dogs are not as good - after you grow up, you must not be like him, can you remember?"

"remember."

The father just breathed a sigh of relief and listened to the child asking himself: "But hey, do you know him?"

When my father stunned: "I?... I certainly don't know him. You see me as the most right-minded gentleman in the Qingfeng Academy. I have a bright life and a good faith. I am a gentleman. How can I be a gentleman?" Know this evil devil."

He paused and seemed to feel that he had to add more fire. He taught the children: "Our family is a scholarly family. It has been cherished by great morality since childhood. Even people who are like him, even if they say a word, You should feel extreme shame and dirty. Have you remembered?"

This time the child did not say to remember, nor did he say that he did not remember.

He asked inexplicably: "But hey, you don't know him, how do you know him...he...heh..." He tried to learn his father's words, and he laboriously recalled, "He is not as good as pigs and dogs, cold-blooded. Darkness? We are seeing him on the first day today...I don’t need to know a person for a long time? For example, I have a small flower next door...”

Mr. Teaching: "You don't understand, this is different. He is a person who has already been convicted."

The child’s big black-and-white eyes looked at the ink, and he said halfway: “But this brother looks like a poor man... He is not like a bad person. What kind of sound cabinet, will it be wrong?”

"You are too young, so you will think like this." Mr. Teach has always been pedantic, and he has vetoed his son’s question. "When you grow up, you will understand that Tianyinge has been in this world for thousands of years." In the most fair and just place, there is almost no mistake in the temple left by the gods."

The child licked his fingers and stared at the smoldering look. He seemed to understand and understand, but he did not help the ink.

Late at night, the crowd gradually became sparse and gradually dispersed.

Three days later, the drizzle turned into heavy rain, and no one was there anymore.

Overnight, at dawn, there were hawkers in the morning market pushing the board slowly.

The rain was so hot that the hawker squatted and pushed his old wooden cart. The ink burned for a long while, half awake, groggy, heard the sound of the car rolling on the bluestone road, and the hawker's hard and heavy breathing.

His consciousness is erratic, and he thinks that he is still the time to travel outside.

He opened his eyes slightly and the scorpion was out of focus.

But almost it has become a reflection, and every night after the loss of Chu Yuning, he instinctively wants to take the handle, want to help the tired hawker push the cart under the tree, want to do something Do what you can.

But he found himself unable to stand up.

After a long time, he remembered that the time of redemption was gone forever.

He is now a sinner appointed by the Tianyin Pavilion.

Suddenly a gust of wind blew, the wind was too strong, the tarpaulin on the hawker was rolled up, and he tried hard to flatten it, but to no avail.

The tarpaulin was blown up, and a pile of cargo on the car was thoroughly drenched by rain. The poor man who was exhausted by his livelihood was anxiously lining in the rain -

The ink burned at him.

He felt very uncomfortable because he remembered the past of his mother's dance of a knife for a copper plate.

There are always so many people in this world. When others are lying on their backs, they have to brave the hurricane and rain and go for a meal.

He really wants to help him.

In this quiet rainy night, he felt that his mood was so stable that he was enough to recall many things in the past. I remembered the sentence that I once smiled and said to A Niang.

"When I have a good time, I will make many houses. Everyone will have a place to live. No one will ever go hungry and freeze."

In fact, the smoldering of the ink is very unclear. Why are the disciples of Tianyinge who are standing next to them, no one is going to help the hawker.

It is only a matter of doing things.

But these people stand up like a pine and cypress. They are the most solemn and solemnist faction of Tianyin Pavilion, but they are not moving. They are like a meteorite. The heart is probably not much different from the meteorite.

The hawker panted and chased the tarpaulin, and the tarpaulin was blown and wrapped up, and it was blown to the sinful sin, and it was blown to the ink.

A hand that was as thin as an old bark finally caught it.

The ink sighed and he felt relieved.

But the hawker knows that the things in his car have been ruined, the mood is so extreme, but he does not know how to vent. He glared at the piece of tarpaulin, and when he was distressed, he suddenly noticed that the ink was burning to see himself.

He turned his head and stared at him.

Suddenly gnashing his teeth and licking his face on the face of the ink: "Look what! What's so good! Even if you are so bad, you have to laugh at me?! Damn thing! See how you die!"

He didn't get rid of it, but he didn't dare to rely too close. He picked up a few stones next to him and smashed toward the burning body.

The young disciples of Tianyin Pavilion are familiar with this.

They often smiled privately and said: "People, as long as they are able to distinguish between good and evil, they will hate the heavy criminals. It doesn't matter if they play twice."

They are very understanding of the emotions of the people.

So it doesn't stop often.

A few stones are on your face, and it doesn't hurt.

But the ink burned slightly trembling.

Seeing him tremble and seeing his pain, the hawker seems to feel that his unfortunate and sorrowful world is no longer a problem. The evil in his heart is somewhat out of order. He drags his weak body and walks toward the pusher. Go, cover the tarpaulin, and go far.

There was a night of mist and fog between the heavens and the earth, and the heavy rain washed away the hawkers’ smashing scent, and many stains were washed away.

The rain is getting bigger and bigger, and the world is clean.

Its daybreak.

The monks of Tianyin Pavilion have successively left the city gate, passing by the ink, or turning a blind eye, or disgusting.

Suddenly there was a pair of black boots that stopped at the front of the ink.

An umbrella fell and covered the patter.

The ink burned in the sputum, not aware.

Until I heard someone is arguing.

A gentle and calm voice, but the tone is very persistent: "Give him an enchantment to avoid the rain."

"There is no order from the owner of the cabinet.

"It's just an enchantment."

"Love can help."

The ink burned open and stumbled, and saw a man who stood tall and straight - no, not a man, a leaf forget, and a reluctant attitude: "The execution day has not arrived yet, you should not be so against him. ”

"How do we treat him?" Someone frowned. "Ye girl, you have to be responsible for your speech. Tianyin Pavilion is doing things according to the rules. It is God who sees him but wants to rain. This is not the punishment we have imposed on him." ""

Ye Jingxi's eyes flashed with anger: "Isn't this a punishment? All night! Did you let him be so overnight last night? If I didn't see it today..."

The following people from Bitanzhuang pass by, and they are accompanied by a group of younger brothers.

Hearing the movement, Ming Ming, and sneer: "Hey, the dark city leader of Confucianism is no longer in charge?"

"The scapegoer has an umbrella, hehe."

There were people around, everyone whispered, whispering, and a few women repaired the leaves and whispered each other, whispering each other -

Unfortunately, the sound is not low.

"I heard that in the Confucianist Gate, the black man who made a fortune in the leaves is the ink."

"What? I don't know... is this evil guy helping her?"

"Ink burns and kills their own dry mothers, how can they be so good for the leaves?"

Silent for a while, then someone opened his eyes and covered it with Pai. It changed color: "God, they shouldn’t be..."

What is it?

Very clever, no one has made a clear statement at the moment. But they all showed a disgusting and excited look on their faces. The irresponsible guess is too comfortable, as if it was a long-lasting and intense climax, which culminated in the crowd and spread in the rain.

They stared at the two people on the stage.

One man and one woman.

Why is a woman willing to help a lost man? Did she sleep with him? She must have slept with him, she must have loved him, and she loved his lingering sorrows in the bed.

So dirty.

The ink burned and lifted the scorpion, and looked at the leaves for a moment. He wants to talk, but the first time he speaks, he can't make a sound.

He had to swallow again and then hoarsely: "Ye girl..."

"you're awake?"

Ye forgets to bow his head, still the gentle and correct appearance of the year.

"...you go... don't stand here, it's not good for you."

Ye did not leave but she took a pot of warm water. She leaned over and held the umbrella while she untied the mouth. The umbrella was slanted, and most of the rain was drenched on her.

"Drink something..."

When Tianyin Pavilion was established, someone came to stop it: "Ye girl, the prisoner, must not give meals."

"Can the prisoner be beaten by the onlookers?"

Although Ye Yexi did not see the situation last night, but the ink burned around the large and small stones, forehead cheeks, are also bruised by the bruises.

She stared at them, her eyes were a bit fierce.

On her body, the shadow of the old man gradually appeared.

“Does Tianying Pavilion not act impartially? Is this your fairness?”

Those people who know what they are doing are not going to say anything more. They are the first to show their face, and they cough gently: "If you have water, you can't eat anything else."

Ye forgets to give him some warm water.

Ink whispered: "Why..."

"You helped the aunt." Ye did not lift the shackles, "also helped me."

"...On the mountain, if the dead person is me, Nangong, he will..."

The leaves of the forgotten hand slightly paused, she was shaking, but she finally said: "Whoever wants to live. I will not blame you because you want to live."

"..."

"Drink," she said. "Xue Meng can't come. He is stopped by his mother. I am holding an umbrella here. You used to take the world and help me and my aunt. Even now no one is facing. You, I will help you too."

Her expression is still faint, but very firm.

"I am here."

She said that she must practice, and she is so standing beside the ink, Tianyin Pavilion will not let the enchantment open, she will take an umbrella, tilt slightly, and stop the rain.

When she is standing, the people who throw stones are no longer there, but the words of discussion are getting harder and harder to hear.

A demon who is not male or female. A well-dressed beast.

A good woman who does not care. The murderer who is devastated.

What is the crime of wanting to add? Moreover, everyone knows that the man who is kneeling on the ground never turns over, and the woman standing next to him has already been sent to the door, and he has nothing to rely on.

It’s hard to hear, who will care for them?

At this moment, it was only when the warriors in the world were so shocked that there were so many warriors in the world, and they were as passionate as they were after the rain.

So upright, indignant, hateful.

In the past, these people did not know where to go.

The Tianyin Court trial is the most rare. I am afraid that no one will be able to win this honor in ten years.

The people who watched the bustle waved and waved back and forth, like the tides. Someone said: "I did a lot of good things before this ink burned.

Now I don't seem to know what it is. He still stayed in our village. It's such a murderer. It's scary to think about it."

"I heard that his mother is the one who is cold, do you know?"

"Die Yihan? A song that is hard to find?" The reporter was surprised. "Is that girl not very good? I heard that I have learned, gentle, noble, and very kind..."

Immediately there will be yin and yang sighs: "You guys are really interesting, Duan Yihan is a scorpion / son? This year, 婊 / son can be praised as high clean, I see this world has really changed, there is no moral benchmark in my heart."

The man who was struck by was somewhat unpleasant: "Die Yihan is happy, not awkward. She has been in the music for so many years and has never taken any flowers."

"You think she hasn't taken it because you are poor. This kind of woman, as long as the money is in place, there is nothing innocent."

At this time, some people said with a loud voice: "What is the difference between music and music? Are you people who don't know how to be self-satisfied, and who are shameful and shameful. In this year, someone actually defended the darkness. I didn't expect that I would practice the world, morality. It has already fallen to such a situation."

It’s not someone else who spoke, it’s the teacher who took the child yesterday.

Today, he did not hold his own children, but held a stack of books, followed by a group of books in the school. Mr. Teacher raised his chin slightly and looked extremely clear.

Someone recognized him and said with kindness: "Mr. Ma is early in class today."

“There is a lighter feeling on paper.” Mr. Jiao said, “I’m going to school early today, so I’m going to bring students to teach and see the world.”

He said, he glanced at the son who was talking about the cold clothes, and sneered at it: "But I didn't expect to hear such shocking remarks. It really made Ma a big eye-opener, and I was really worried about my culture." ""

"Yes, Mr. Ma said it is good, Mr. is a moral model."

"Mr. is a teacher, and he has a good heart."

The man who was brave enough to defend Duan Yihan was ashamed and angry, but the people around him were laughing at him. His face was raised as pig liver color, and it was hard to say anything.

These words, the ink burning sounds very angry at first, and then weak.

He couldn't do anything, only to listen to the mother who had already passed away and became very embarrassed between the lips.

Only by the time before the death, he also told him that "to remember, don't take revenge", was chewed by a black hole, chewed into a niece/female, kinky/female, and gave birth to a scum of cockroaches.

Can not block the long mouth.

Ye forgets to endure for a long time, and finally can't stand it. She steps forward and wants to argue with the people in the audience.

But the ink burned her low: "Don't say it."

"..."

"It's useless."

Ye forgets to return to his side, when the rain has gradually stopped, but her umbrella still does not receive, as if this thin oil paper umbrella can block anything.

The ink burned and looked at her, half awkward, hoarsely said: "Don't stand here with me, Ye girl, if you believe me... then go back to Tianyin Pavilion, go find Xuemeng, find the dead and the dead People... tell them..."

He slowed for a while.

At this moment, he is not enough to speak.

"Tell them, listen to me, try to find Huabi Nan as soon as possible... find my master..."

When he mentioned Chu Yuning, his heart was again a colic.

Where is Chu nightning?

Listening to the teacher's tone will not hurt him, but where will he be taken by the teacher, what will be forced to do?

He can't think about it.

"The first ban is really solved, and you should be wary early." The ink burns the eyelashes, "... I can't stop the second attack... but there will be a second time... please Believe me... I have no other heart, I just hope that all this can stop."

Can't continue this way.

I don't want to repeat the same mistakes, and I will see the late night of the call of Huasha.

I don't want to see him again, to die, to make up for it.

Chapter 273

In the hall of Lushan, a bean lamp is lit.

Nangong Liu Yan was sleeping next to the throne, and he still had two oranges that he had not finished eating.

Suddenly, a slender figure appeared at the corner, and the shadow fell on Nangong Liu and slowly approached. The man's footsteps were extremely slow, with a stick of scepter, and the soft nose was covered with a white cloth, completely covering his eyes.

"Oh..." Xu was the sound of the bamboo stick and the ground was disturbed to the Nangong. He woke up from the shallow shackles and blinked his eyes. Some of them were awkward: "Ah, my brother, my friend... What happened to your eyes?" ”

What appeared in the temple was the blind eyed teacher who had been out of the crowd before, and tried not to appear in front of everyone.

Nangong Liu Yandi: "Are you not going to Tianyin Pavilion?"

Shi Yan shook his head: "If you talk long, you won't talk to you." A little bit, and again, "Aliu, I should have a piece of Zhen Zhi on the table, can you help me find one?" Looking for it?"

"There is nothing wrong with this." Nan Gongliu immediately turned over and looked for it in the case, and soon found the soldier's military squad, "Give."

"Thank you."

The teacher’s slender fingers slowly moved on the shackles. His eyes were blind and he could not see the words on the head. But this squad is not only recorded by characters, but also for the sake of prevention. Read the knowledge. He stood in the empty hall and interpret the contents little by little. The one that was written on the top was Hua Binan’s previous efforts to force the ink to ruin the spirit and call all the chess games.

Called, the former Lin Lingyu is a citizen, 46,000 people.

Wusi Temple belongs to the people, 13,000 people.

.....

All of these.

The disciples of the past life and death, all.

The teacher squeezed the soft and delicate shackles of the party. The first fashion felt numb, and the mind was just bluntly thinking about it: the original sacrifice of the previous life was such a sacred blood?

Disciples of death and death, all.

All of them were made into precious pieces, and they were driven by the emperor, except for Xue Meng, who was spared?

But he clearly remembers that Hua Binan once said softly to him: "You know, I am also used to people who are acquainted with life and death. I have a lot of hardships in the world. I hope that all evils can be done. I hope that there will be fewer people who die on this road. There are few, otherwise, I am also very conscience."

That was what Hua Binan had just come to him through the cracks in time and space and said something to him.

- There is more suffering in the world, and all evils are not done.

This is not too much deviation from his own ideas. He is very guilty, but he is not what he wants. He is also forced to do so.

"Conscience is uneasy..." At that time, Hua Binan, who pleaded with sincerity to say this to him, had already killed the world in another world.

And he did not know until now.

"My brother, you, what's wrong with you?" The cranial sputum was congested, and the ear was blurred and the sound of Nangong Liu was anxious. "Your face is so ugly, how are you shaking? You... Are you sick? You Cold?"

The child-like groaning, and suddenly wrapped around him warmly, Nangong Liu took off his robe and hurriedly put him on him.

"Come, I am not cold, I will give you my clothes."

The sinner who used to hang the needles and count the organs, became so simple after losing his knowledge.

Perhaps everyone has had such an urgent need, worrying about people, when is young and sincere? Just under the ravages of the years, the heart is also wrinkled like the face.

Become no longer like yourself.

The teacher was wrapped in the clothes of Nangong Liu. He was cold and cold.

There was a stun in front of him, and the white cloth oozes and sheds tears... He falls to the seat and makes his body small.

"He is not me..." The teacher groaned, "He is not me..."

Nangong Liu was confused at the side: "What?"

The teacher smashed his face into his arms. The tiny shudder spread from his fingers. He didn't even want to touch the cockroach.

"I want to save people. I also know that sacrifice is inevitable. I know that there will be a lot of calculations. I will live up to a lot of sincerity. I have already prepared for it. He discussed with me that maybe I want to donate my purpose. Never hesitated. But I..."

"Friends brother..."

Nan Gongliu put his hand on his hair, like the comfort of the child, awkwardly comforting him.

The teacher whimpered: "But I really didn't think about it. He killed so many people..."

The cockroach fell to the ground, and what was recorded above was almost all the monks and civilians in the red dust.

All become white bones.

After a long time, I went to the Nangong Liudu squatting for a long time, and I didn’t know what to do if I stayed, and the sergeant slowly supported the cold case, and stood up.

Nangong Liu busy asked: "Where are you going?"

The teacher was quiet in the place for a while. He seemed to be really confused about where he should go. When Nangong Liu asked the third time, he only passed away. He bit his lip and said, "The Chamber of Secrets."

He can't go wrong anymore, he is going to save the teacher.

When he came to the door of the secret room, he found out that Hua Binan had imposed an extremely deep curse on the stone gate.

"..." The teacher whispered slightly, and then there seemed to be a bitter smile.

From the squad, to the stone gate curse. He suddenly felt that he was so ridiculous.

He is wary of him, so the curse imposed is a spell that has never been practiced by the teacher. After all, Hua Binan did not trust him at all.

"Let you down." The teacher whispered, and a bright blue glow lit up in his hand, touching the heart.

"Maybe you, at my age, haven't learned this curse yet. But I will, but you don't know."

The stone door of the secret room suddenly opened.

Who is going to live again, and the road to life will be the same?

Even if it is the same person, it may be because the spring has avoided a rain, sleep in the summer shade, and change your life.

The teacher squatted in front of the secret room and finally slammed in.

In the secret room, there is a bright light of the Kowloon candlestick, which is exuding pure light, but this light is of no use to the two people in the house.

They are comatose and one is blind.

The bandaged teacher sat on the bedside of Chu’s night, and reached out his hand. The slender, white fingers rubbed the face of Chu’s late night.

He whispered softly: "Master respects..."

Chu nightning did not wake up, there was no response, his cheeks were still hot.

The soul splits and the two are one.

He bears the piecemeal memories that belong to the smoldering, and suffers in his dreams.

The singer's fingertips illuminate the radiance of the glory, and he points to the side of his neck. The gentle, watery spirit passes over and flows through the body.

“Can it be better?”

Still no one answered him.

The teacher dropped his eyelashes. In fact, he also knew that Chu Ning was still asleep, otherwise he could not courageously enter the stone room and sit next to Chu.

He stayed for a while, as if he thought a lot, and he didn't seem to think about anything.

In fact, before he entered the division, when he was still very young, he had a long-cherished wish. It is worthwhile to sacrifice anything for this wish.

He knows what his fate is, so he never feels that he is missing.

But one day, time and space were wrong, and another dusty servant in the red dust suddenly appeared in front of her eyes.

He saw himself more than ten years later.

I didn’t say that I was surprised and scared. When he saw Hua Binan for the first time in his youth, the biggest feeling was actually a violation. He didn’t know what it was like to kill himself. It’s cold, sullen, sullen, and desperate.

However, in order to share the wishes of the two people, he finally promised Hua Binan's request, step by step, and finally came to this step.

In the past few years, the two red dust divisions have performed their duties, and it has always been him who stayed with the ink-burning side, and the other behind the scenes is the one who passed back.

Just like Teng Xianjun and Mo Zongshi are two, he and the teacher are not so similar. Because of their different experiences, the teacher is more like a cold-scale sacred hand, and he has become a shadow on the chessboard in the torrent of time.

Looking back now, before Hua Binan broke the space and life, he was also a sultry young man. However, after he cooperated with Hua Bi Nan, Hua Bi Nan has been telling him: To conquer the edge, you must learn to disguise.

In his youth, he once had a big fight with Hua Binan: "I am fed up. When do you want me to be loaded? Everywhere is gentle and good, and swallowing. I have so many lies and you should be outside, who remembers?" ”

At that time, he and the ink-burning group returned from Jin Chengchi. Hua Binan was dissatisfied with his performance in front of the heart-splitting Liu. He blamed him for a few words, but did not expect that the reaction of the teacher would be so huge, and could not help but see: "I am just reminding you to be cautious and not to show up."

"You said it was light." He bit his lip. "You asked me to confirm the burning sensation several times. I didn't do it for a while? Do you know how disgusting it is to be a person who doesn't like it?"

Hua Binan seems to be ignorant of how to answer for a while. After a while, he said: "I have experienced everything you have experienced. What qualifications do you have to say that I don't know."

"But I have never experienced anything you have experienced!"

"..."

"After you came to this world, you told me how to do it wrong, how to do it right. Yes, you are coming over, for that purpose, I am willing to listen to you and pay for it. All. But Hua Binan." The more the teacher said, the more excited, the gasping, the eyes are red, "You better know, you have no position to count me."

This is the first time since the crossing, when it was such a big conflict with the younger ones, Hua Binan’s face was gray and his lips were not snoring.

Shi Shi said: "You have failed in your world, so come here through the cracks in the life and death of the night, and want to start from scratch. But you have to be clear, I am not your chess piece."

"..."

"I am colluding with you for the purpose of our common cause."

Hua Binan closed his eyes and closed his eyes: "You think more, no one will treat you as a chess piece."

The teacher’s emotions are still very excited: “Forget it, from the time you perceive it to the resurgence of ink, what kind of thing I am not doing according to your instructions? I have been staring at you for the eight bitterness of his body. Hate flower! It's me!"

"..."

"From the impermanence town, he first appeared, you are anxious to let me go to 'occupy' him, and later you let me take a side dish to explore his tone, let alone those you let me deliberately leave him and Chu Yuning The thing." Shi Yi, a pair of peach blossoms, stared at the increasingly embarrassing face of Hua Binan. "I spit in the show!"

"Even if you don't have me, you will do it." Hua Binan gnawed his teeth. "You don't think that I am forcing you. These things are the same as before. I have done it. The ink is a bitter long hate flower. The host, only by repeatedly confirming his emotions, can find out the situation of his body flower. Do you think that you have suffered these grievances, I have not received it?"

Seeing the teacher did not immediately refute, Hua Binan said again: "Previous life, I did almost the same thing as you, I have been disguising until the ghost world, I gave birth to his hatred with his own death. After that, I started living again as Hua Binan."

"..."

"I have endured it for so long. Why have you been unable to bear this for only a year and a half?"

The teacher looked up and said: "Do you still ask? You are fighting for yourself. What about me?"

Hua Binan: "...What is the difference between you and me?"

"There is a difference. If I can, I don't want to be left or right." The teacher stared at him, half a sigh of spit out, "even if it is another world."

However, it was difficult to be sincere, even if there was a big disappointment in the heart, after the dispute broke out that day, the division had to bow to fate.

After all, he is too young, and many of his mistakes have never been experienced, and he does know exactly what he is ultimately seeking, so he will eventually compromise himself.

In the past few years, he has been listening to another red dust, and he is more like a jealousy than a rare piece. If you are not tired, it is fake. But whenever the heart is filled with sorrow, he will stop telling himself that these pains are nothing for the big things.

"When can I end this play?" This became the phrase he most often asked Hua Binan, "When is the sky cracking."

Hua Binan’s answer to him is often like radishing in front of the flower scorpion: “It’s faster, it will be faster than the past.”

He waited day by day, waiting for the trouble.

Later, the door of the ghost world finally opened, and he thought that he could be as free as a previous life. However, I did not expect that Chu Ning was in this battle.

That night, his contradiction with Hua Binan broke out to an unprecedented level. In the closed disciple's room, the teacher smashed all the celadon bowls in front of him, and his chest was undulatingly swaying -

"How do you let me pretend to pretend to be calm? The master is dead, you count it, do you count this out?"

Hua Binan’s face is also extremely ugly: “How can you blame me for this matter? You have to blame and blame it, it’s he’s rash.” The fingers he put on the table squeezed into a fist and almost fell into In the palm of his hand, the voice was fierce and fierce. "It is he who killed Chu and night."

"...Yes, it’s him." The teacher’s eyes were red, but he could not lose his tears. He was warned by his mother from an early age, and he must not cry no matter what he encountered.

Hua Binan is the same.

"It is he who killed the Master, then you don't stop me, I will kill him now!"

Hua Binan looked up and said: "Are you crazy?!"

"Oh?" The teacher gasped, beheaded, and his eyes were full of provocation. "Do you still know that you are crazy?"

Hua Binan gnawed his teeth: "...protecting the ink, tempering him, controlling him, this is the key to our work. As for the rest, it is not what you should think."

"Look, that's it." The teacher sneered at the sneer, and the eyes flashed with agitation. "You are the sacred hand of the cold scale. You can sing the master of the sorrow with the monks on the lonely moon night, and even smother the ink." A few words - but what about me? What are you talking about with me?"

"..."

The teacher was seated in the chair, and the look could be said to be inferior: "The first thing you come to tell me today is to confirm as soon as possible whether the eight bitter long hate flowers in the burnt body have completely lost their effectiveness. Is it still possible? save."

He muttered, slowly raised a few inches of gaze, and fell to the gray face of Hua Binan.

He sneered: "You told me to confess at this moment and ink? Tell me, can't let Chu Xiening in his heart, replace my position?"

The words are as sharp as a thorn, stabbing to Hua Binan, and stabbing himself.

He sneered: "Where are we crazy between the two?"

Hua Binan squinted his eyes, and Huanren rolled under the thin eyelids. Then he said, "I can't do it. Because of the sacrifices made by Chu's past life, the eight bitter hate flowers in the burning body are in jeopardy. It was completely destroyed, and it was hard to control the ink burning at that time."

"So you will push everything that is not done by people to me, is it?!" The teacher couldn't stand it anymore, and slammed the case and got up. "The teacher respected him just to go... Have you considered my feelings?" ?"

"..."

"Do you like him, don't I like it?"

After the teacher said this, the voice could not help but tremble.

The house was dead.

At last he sat down and raised his hand, and the long eyelashes were fighting under the palm of his hand. For a time no one snorted again, the rainstorms outside the window, the heavens and the earth seemed to be splitting in the lightning and thunder.

After a long time, I heard Hua Binan sigh softly: "...A Nan, I can't afford you."

The teacher’s reaction to this was just a stiff and cold sentence: "Don't call me A Nan."

"..."

"I am different from you. Call me a teacher, or a teacher."

Chapter 274

About people will change, even if they are the same person, they are the same in the beginning. However, because of various factors, the variables are reversed. After ten or twenty years, the temperament and circumstances will not be the same.

In fact, when the curse was burned to the ink, the teacher was also a person with a cold heart and a determined will.

In addition to his own revenge, his own pursuit, nothing can be accommodated in his eyes.

But at that time, he looked at another red dust of his own actions, he asked with enthusiasm, and suddenly I would like to know, Hua Binan's heart has had such a star and a half of the incompatibility, a moment of cold teeth.

He eventually did it according to the instructions of Hua Binan. At this point of sacrifice, he is riding a tiger.

He clearly knows that the private situation will make the big things fall short. Nothing is more important than stabilizing the ink and keeping yourself.

Anyway, he has been playing for so long, wearing a mask for so many years, disgusting into the bones, it is numb. What is the scene of the game, what is not the case, even if the death of Chu nightning, can not change anything.

Just carrying the ecstasy lamp given by the master of guilty, standing on the bridge of Naihe, wherever he has never gone, or even can not resolutely go to the fire for the loved ones, he can not help but envy.

If he can also be like Xue Meng, like a smoldering, to be the master of his own life, or to think that he can give his life to be the master, then it is good.

But fate never depends on him. Like a pear garden, he is unwilling to silently hold the hand in his hand.

At the beginning, seduce the ink.

The ink burned and smiled and said, "Sir, I really like you."

Later, I used Xu Shuanglin.

Xu Shuanglin lazily throws oranges and squints: "I have lost my life, I can't think of a friend like you, thank you for teaching me to reincarnate. When Luo Fenghua's waste is resurrected, I must let him cook for you. The dumplings are eaten - you don't know, the dumplings he cooked are best eaten. I can't afford to see you, I will give you a taste."

In the end, the picture is poor.

Like the worst plan he and Hua Binan had discussed, he had to sacrifice his own friends and win the hearts and minds of his teachers and friends, so that the door of time and space could be opened smoothly at the moment of the millennium.

He is a man holding a chess piece.

But after ten years later, he came into his own pawn.

The taste of being controlled is actually not very good. He is not completely indifferent, but his mind is too strong and his wish is too deep. He does not want to give up.

but.

He really, really does not know, that a red dust of himself, the so-called "small sacrifice" refers to the lives of hundreds of thousands of people, a worldly dumping.

After he opened the door to life and death, he saw such a cruel truth.

This teacher is clear, after all, it is not the teacher. He has not experienced that decade, and has not fallen through that day.

At this moment, he really can't understand himself after ten years.

But there is no way to go.

At this moment, he is just an abandoned child. Like all the black and white armor on the board, he loses his edge and is useless.

"Master." The shadow of the lamp, reflecting his beautiful face, he is still quiet and gentle, "In fact, I think this thing has been a long time... I am thinking, the ink can be repeated again, can become No longer the same. I was thinking, if everything can go back, I will make different choices because of the difference in one thought."

The house is very quiet, only the voice of him alone.

"However, it is too late at this moment." Shi said, "I know that the Master has hated me, and the ink has hated me. The Lord will not take me as a friend again... no matter this. Along the way, did I hesitate, and I finally became his appearance."

His hand was pressed against the cheeks of Chu night, and he quietly gave him the spiritual power of healing.

"I can't help but let the Master disappoint," he said. "The only thing fortunate is that my eyes are blind and I don't have to see you hate me."

After a pause, the teacher smiled, and under a smile, the room was full of spring.

"The last thing I saw in my eyes was that you are sad for me. Enough."

He untied the bundle of fairy ropes on the hand of Chu, and the curse on the couch was eliminated, and then the spell of Shimen was destroyed.

After doing this, the teacher turned and rubbed, and slowly left the secret room.

He traveled far and was swallowed up by the darkness.

At the same time, Tianyin Pavilion belongs to the same place.

Mr. Roulma, who taught the book, just returned from the private school. He knocked on the sore shoulder and entered the house. As usual, he had to go to the house to cook a cup of Babao tea.

Push the door in, the black light bonfire.

Mr. Ma couldn't help but frown, and when he went to the Capricorn lampstand, he shouted, "Mrs. Grand night, how can I not even have a candle? You are..."

The sound of the cluster, the fire knife flint polished.

Mr. Ma was silent and stood in the middle of the room with horror. He saw that the servants in his house had been strangled, like a string of wind chimes hanging on the beam. His old wife and son have been smashed, the * intestines are flowing all over the floor, their eyes and mouth are open, and they turn in the direction of the door.

"Ah..." Mr. Ma wanted to call, but the export was a vague and trepidation. After a while, the scalp screamed and screamed, "Ah!!!!"

"Hey. Noisy." A man walked out of the back room and held the volume "Shang Shu" in his hand. He scratched the itch of his neck with a book and yawned. "I haven't seen the dead?"

"You...you, you!! Ink-ink...!!"

The man snapped a finger and explained lazily: "The curse."

"What, what?"

"Oh, I don't know." The man rolled his eyes. "This seat is reading the classics of Mr. House. I know that the neighbors are not good at rest in the evening. Come. Now call, if anyone can hear Mr., please blame this seat."

Mr. Ma’s face is as white as a ghost. Two standing stations, he usually also has it. Where have you seen such a * scene, I have already been scared and lost, sweating, and screaming for a while: “Ink...you ... Devil... You... Shouldn’t you be in the Tianyin Court? You...you...”

"Tianyin Court Law Field?"

The man raised his black to purple eyes and smiled.

"Yes, this seat is to go there to see. Or how can you hear Mr.’s high opinion of the day before?"

He said, throwing the book at his fingertips, straightening up the tall and straight body, and slowly coming towards the teaching book.

The lamp is shining on his very handsome face, not who is stepping on Xianjun?

Stepping on the fairy, the dimples, and the dimples, made a glimpse of the teacher: "The life of this family is the most admired to the readers. It is really a slap in the face to kill your family. It is Mr. Tang. Ask Mr. Ann."

This is not a yin, no temperament, and a strange tone, plus people who are dead and dead.

Rao is a surname of Ma, and there are seventeen or eight courage. It’s not enough. He threw himself to the ground and snorted: “What do you want to do... What do you want!!”

Stepping on the fairy is just a smile, raising his hand and plucking, and there is a strange knife in the palm.

He squinted at the teacher and said, "Guess?"

"Don't kill me!!!" Mr. Ma screamed and kept moving back. "Don't kill me!!!"

Retired and slammed into something, he turned his head and was screaming at his wife’s blind eyes. "No, no, no, no, no, no, please... Don't ..... ah ah!! Ah ah ah ah!!"

Responding to him is a knife stabbing, straight into his lap, straight through the ground!

"what--!!!"

Stepping on the fairy, his eyes narrowed, his smile and sweetness: "Don't ask Mr.... What is the difference between music and music?"

"What, what?" Mr. Ma sighed, where the pain was thinking, just crying, "What..."

"You said it yourself." Stepping on the gentleman slowly, "Mr. said before the Tianyin Pavilion. Music, oh, oh, are people who don't know how to be self-respecting, widowed and shameful. · Sophistry, I didn’t expect that I would go to the world of revision, and morality has already fallen to such a situation."

He imitated the tone of the words of the teacher, and the old * was there.

After that, after a while, I laughed and sang a handsome face.

"Is it still familiar, sir?"

Mr. Ma finally had some vague awareness between the intimidation. He remembered that this was what he said when he slammed his mother, and he said with a tear in his eyes: "No, no, no, no, no, no, no, no, no, no, no, no, no, no, no, no, no, no ....." He swallowed his face, his face was sweaty. "Hey, hey, he is happy... No, it’s different, it’s different..."

"How is it different? This seat thinks that Mr. said it makes a lot of sense." Stepping Xian Junpi smiled and walked over, and raised a strange knife. "If you say it, your mind is not so good, around you." There is always a lack of personal guidance. Mr. has such a dexterous tongue, it is better to give this seat, eh?"

"No... no no no!! Master is forgiving!! Grandpa is forgiving!!" Mr. Ma is incoherent and sweaty. "I beg you, Da En Dade, Daren Dayi..."

Stepping on the fairy smiles: "What is the master of the lord? Long without long ears? - Call your majesty."

"Oh... squat?" Mr. Ma stunned, but if he was alive, as long as he was alive, he could scream. Immediately after a sigh of relief, "Your Majesty! Your Majesty! Your Majesty!"

Stepping on the fairy, he pinched his chin and smiled and said: "Hey. Moral model, ask you, is this part of the house shameless, or is it a shame?"

"I, I, I! I am me! It is me... is..."

But what is the use of fortune?

Stepping on the palm of his hand, he was already in his grievances and crying, and he smiled and pinched his entire throat.

After doing this, the black robe man looked around the house and confirmed with satisfaction that no one was alive. This stood up, wiped the blood on his hand, and pushed the door out of the hospital.

Huabi Nan is waiting for him.

"Is it vented?"

"almost."

"Can you go back to Tianyin Pavilion with me?"

Stepping Xianjun gave him a look: "Go."

Hua Binan shook his head: "I really can't take you. I have to pay attention to such a small hatred. I won't say a few words about your mother, you are --"

"Do you want to say a few words about your mother?"

"..."

Hua Bi Nan's look changed slightly, and finally he turned his face and stopped talking.

"Go. You didn't mean that you got the heart of the Mozong master, and put it back in your body? What else you are doing, this seat can't wait."

Stepping on the fairy, the robes plunged and walked toward Tianyin Pavilion.

Jinguang shines, Yunxia is first revealed, and the sky is bright.

With the horror of horror, the body of Mr. Ma’s family was discovered by the early neighbors. Such a murder case should be able to set off a big wave in the same place, but unfortunately it did not.

Because at this moment, there is a more eye-catching judgment going on.

On the execution platform of Tianyin Pavilion, the torch is burning. The wax oil melted and the pine and cypress scented. The two maids of the Tianyin Pavilion wore the robes of the golden silk, and the jade arms were soft, and the lampstands on both sides of the table were lit one by one.

It is strange to say that the appearance of this Guardian team of Tianyinge is surprisingly good-looking, male and female, and I don’t know if this is due to the method of repairing by Tianyin Pavilion, or because the wooden smoke is collected. When I was a disciple, I was extremely fancy.

"The world is self-explanatory, and good and evil will pay off."

One after another, the beastly bronze lamp leaps into flames, and the flame is like a bright red silk.

People are everywhere.

On the stage, under the stage, northwest and southeast.

The torture platform was blocked, and Xue Meng sat on the seat of the dead and dying, and trembled and shivered.

In these three days, Xue Zhengyi asked for people everywhere, but it did not help. Those monks are superstitious and fair and fair, and they are afraid of mastering the ink rain of the chess game.

"He saved us."

The people who are dying of life are trying to explain to every persuasive object. "The day he dissipated the spiritual core to save us. If he had a conspiracy, why bother to do this?"

However, there are too many doubts on the burning body, so there are still no sects who are willing to stand on their side. Even the lonely moon night and the Snow Palace remain neutral and silent.

——

The first ban, which was lost for thousands of years, suddenly reappeared, compared to the first public trial hall that stood for thousands of years.

Only a fool will choose to believe in the former.

Therefore, Xue Zhengyi’s running seems so stupid, and the excuse of life and death seems so pale and powerless.

Xue Meng had vaguely thought, or else, hijacking.

But he also knows that it is impossible.

There are guardians of Tianyin Pavilion everywhere, and there are other martial art heads and disciples. Below the stands are Wang Yang-like people.

Countless pairs of eyes stared, can not escape.

Therefore, the birth of the spiritual core is ultimately the end of the ink burning.

"Tianyin Pavilion publicized on the 3rd, the crime has been fixed." The wooden smoke looked down from the solemn and beautiful side of the boundless sea, and knocked the bell in his hand, "with the inmates burning."

From the crime of sin, to the punishment. The smoldering was escorted, and a person whose core was broken was stared at by dozens of the highest-ranking disciples of the Tianyin Pavilion.

They are jealous. And he will die, and few people will survive after they have dug the core, and they smell the blood, and the eyes are shining.

"The sin of the sin is burned. At noon today, the penalty will be seized." The sound of the wood smoke is clear and cold. "There are ten sins, read here to tell the world."

The rain has stopped, but the ground is still moist. The ink burns in the pool of water, and the shadow of the sky is squatting under his feet. He will move the line of sight and find the leaves in the crowd.

His dark eyes stared at her like an inquiries. Ask her if she has already raised the point of death and death according to her own guilt. Ask her if she has already figured out what she can't put behind.

Ye Jingxiu nodded to him, and the ink burned his lips to open a bright and soft smile, and the eyes were soaked.

The weather is great.

The rain stopped.

"The crime is one, killing the people, and killing people."

The sound of the wood smoke echoed in the Tianyin Pavilion, solemn and solemn.

"Two counts of crimes, arson burning the building, to report private."

Before the Buddha's incense was burned, the gods of the gods asked in the clouds, or they were angry or kind, fell down and held the ring, overlooking the mortal beings. Over the years, the burning of the ink does not like to look at the high heavens. If there is a * in the sky, there is a sin in his eyes, and he is buried with sorrow, afraid that he will be discovered.

But at this moment, he finally relaxed. He looked up at the sky, the sun was washed, and his black and purple eyes were soaked into glazed light brown, which turned pure.

He looked at the sky, the sky was sparse, and even the clouds were light.

The sound of the wood smoke is so far away, he closes his eyes.

Don't look at the shackles of life and death, and don't look at any of the faces of the old man.

"Sin six, stealing the ban, and breaking the big ring."

Suddenly thought of something, his eyebrows showed some regret and embarrassment.

In the original life, I wanted to treat the night well, but unfortunately I couldn’t do it. Even the first true lingering of the promised heart was finally ruined.

Ended with failure.

He is not a good person, a disaster star, a god, a lame joke.

These two lives.

I want to protect my mother, I have no protection.

I want to report my feelings and I have never done so.

When I was a child, I wanted to be a hero. Later, I wanted to steal the day when I was the son of Xue’s door in my life. The end of the road was poor, and I had a heart. I want to be the most cold-blooded and ruthless emperor in the world.

It’s gone.

"Tai Xianjun, ink rain, Mo Zongshi..." His eyelashes trembled, his throat rolled, and he finally sighed a sneer and emotion that he could only hear.

"You are really the most ridiculous person in this world."

He sighed and said, looking up at Gao Tian, the wind blew his fine hair, he narrowed his eyes, and then thought, where is Chu nightning now?

About because I have received too much, I have already exhausted all the fate, so in this life, the last journey, I will not see you again.

pretty good. He bent his eyes and sneered at the torture platform.

At the very least, don't let Yu Ning see him like this.

"The hour will come! Prepare the sentence -!"

A majestic sing and a horn blew.

As if the nightmare casts a shadow, it seems that this "preparation" is introduced into the tympanic membrane through thousands of miles. In the middle of the mountain, the night of the night, the eyes open, and the stunned and stunned.

"Ink burning!"

The candlelight flickered, and he gasped with a big mouth and sweaty heavy shirt.

He shivered a little, almost subconsciously, opening his mouth and reading the name that entangled the two worlds. Then the throat is rolled up and down, and the eyes are straight.

He just seemed to see the knife shadow, and he had a strong embarrassment, and his heart was stunned. I don’t know why it was terrible.

"..."

Sitting on the couch, the palm of your hand slammed on the face, and the sweat gradually cooled down, and he slowed down.

There was a clear flash of memory in front of me, but those memories did not belong to him - half of his soul stayed in the ink for too long, so that when he returned to him, he also brought a lot of ink. Burning memory.

Those who were swallowed up by the eight bitter long hate flowers were thrown away.

Even the ink burns important memories that you no longer remember.

Chu night Ning has seen...

Chapter 275

He saw that the ink of his childhood was burning at the mother's smile. He saw Duan Yihan touching the head of the ink and said: "To repay, don't take vengeance."

He saw the ink burning a box of cakes that Xue Meng gave him, cautiously licking and eating, and he was not willing to waste.

He saw the ink burning in front of the wine shop in the town of Wuchang, wearing a new disciple's suit, and handing the broken silver hands in his pocket to the boss, then smiling a little shy and looking forward to some more: "I want a pot of good pears." White, can you have a good looking jug? I want to give it to my master."

All the memories are emerging one after another.

Those who used to be in the heart of the burning, the warmest, the clearest of the past - just like a lantern, flashing in all directions.

The ink burning in the picture has been laughing, from the childhood of hunger and cold, to the childish years before the attack of eight bitter long hates. But these memories are not many. The pure time that ink has burned in this life is really too little. There are only a handful of days to be indulgent.

Chu night Ning looked at the pieces that flashed past.

Then everything settled down.

Because the souls of the two people have been entangled for too long, so at this moment, he can clearly perceive that before the hate flower planting, the ink burned like him so much, respect him, attach to him, love him, even though he does not like to laugh. When teaching spells, it is even a bit harsh.

But I like it, I feel familiar and warm.

I feel that this cold and cold master is actually a very good person.

The smoldering gas actually liked him... In the early days, he liked him warmly and innocently.

The memory in front of the eyes continued to flow, and Chu Xi Ning followed the memories of the burning of the ink, and fell into the night of a certain white wind. That night, the disciples of the dead and dying were lit up with a solitary lamp, and the ink burned sitting at the table, carefully sewing the white palm in the hand against the spread of the book.

Only a few lines were sewn, and the fingertips were staggered, and the blood dripped and stained on the cloth towel.

The ink burned his eyes and looked very frustrated. He sighed: "It's so hard."

White Pa was squashed and threw it aside.

Also take a new one, and then sew.

One night, the candle did not go out, and I lost countless pieces of the sun. I finally got some hands and feet, and slowly, the reddish petals bloomed, one flap, two petals... five petals.

Each flap is embroidered with meticulousness, and each flap is embroidered with sincerity.

The juvenile clumsily sewed a white puff, and made a needle and a line to open an unbeaten Begonia flower.

He looked at the light in the eyes of the towel.

Embroidered, in fact, it is ugly, and there is a lot of unevenness in the foot. A glimpse of what is done by a hand, but the burning of the ink is not self-satisfied, he is excited to look left and right, and throw the towel again. The soft handkerchief fell in the air and landed on his face.

Cover his face.

He laughed under the slap and sighed, and the sea otter handkerchief picked up his horns, revealing his gentle eyes below. Looking forward to streamer.

"Give this to the Master, he will love it."

His heart is full of warmth, which is the warmth that must be tolerated and must be swallowed by the flowers that he planted later.

"Every time I use a handkerchief, I will think of me."

The ink burned the scorpion in his arms, and he thought that countless times in the night, he would praise him, and he would be happy. He only felt that the grass was flying and could not restrain the happiness. That night, he rushed to the night residence of Chu Yuning, and found the man who was standing by the pool.

"Master!"

He rushed over and glared at his face.

Chu Yuning turned back and was a little surprised: "How come you?"

"I, aunt--"

It’s too cold, it’s too rushed out, it’s not wearing a big cockroach, the young words are not exported, but it’s a sneeze.

Chu night Ningdao: "...what is so urgent, do not remember to wear clothes?"

The ink burned his nose and grinned. "I can't wait, I have one thing. If I don't give it to the teacher, I can't sleep."

"what?"

"Supply the teacher's respect for the teacher." He said, he carefully smashed the folded handkerchief from his arms, and when he presented the gift, he suddenly felt his face, and his face turned red: "Actually... it is not worth it." A few dollars. No, not very good."

After thinking about it, the Tuanba Tuanba and the handkerchief were hidden behind him, and the toes swayed the ground uncomfortably.

Chu nightning: "..."

"What did you buy?"

The young boy’s ears are red, and he replied slyly: “I don’t buy it, I don’t have money...”

Chu night Ning stunned: "Is it your own?"

The ink burned down the head, and the two curtains were like clouds, whispering: "Well."

Before he answered the words, he hurriedly said: "If you don't forget it, it is especially ugly and ugly!" After a while, I still felt that it was not enough. When I took the courage to look back at the night, Also forcefully added a sentence, "especially ugly."

Chu Evening still remembers his feelings at the time. In fact, he was surprised and surprised.

He has never received a gift from someone else.

But he was embarrassed to show it, and he was too embarrassed to laugh. He had to stretch his face tighter, for fear that the little apprentice who had just started to see the sweetness of his heart.

He coughed and thought about opening: "That's all done, how ugly, let me show it?"

In the end, the ink was still taken out of the handlebar. I wanted to put my hands on it, and I felt that I had tossed it. The handkerchief had already been wrinkled, and I tried to smooth it.

It was the blush that burned, and a thin, well-stretched hand came over and took the piece of the scorpion that had died.

All the troops are in ruins, and they are dying.

The ink burned silly, and the "ah" could not help but said: "Master, really ugly..."

At that time, Chu Ning had not yet burned the ink, only remembering the black and shiny eyes. Wet, like a flower on the rain, very nice.

Sometimes the situation is like a thunder and lightning, sometimes as slow as a dripping stone.

Chu Yuning is the latter. He was thoroughly touched by the young people's warmth and bitterness. At that time, there was a lot of fierce laughter and lack of stamina.

When I was shocked, this tenderness had become muddy, and he was deeply immersed in it.

"Is it a handkerchief?"

"Hmm... um."

White square scarf, silk, embroidered with sea bracts on the side, the needle corners are carefully and sturdy, and the oysters are somewhat cute.

Chu Yuning, an empty valley-like heart, was suddenly touched. There was a stream in the valley. The spring floated on the flower. He took the handkerchief and didn’t know what to say for a long time.

He was the first to receive such a ceremony.

The gift-giving person saw that he did not speak, and thought that he did not like it. He explained slyly: "I, I embroidered according to the pattern on the picture book. Actually... oh, in fact, there is such a handkerchief in this town. It’s not expensive to sell. It’s also embroidered... it’s much better than me.”

He was a little anxious in the end and wanted to get his handkerchief back. But Chu Ningning was one step ahead of him, and he had received the robe in a quiet voice.

"I don't like words. How can I get out of the teacher's ceremony and come back?"

The crumpled puddle, and the temperature of the ink burning, is really ugly, going to the impermanent town, the same style of ten copper plates can buy eight.

But I feel precious and don't want to return.

Then it became the gift of the second gift of the same life in the life of Chu. After the curse, this memory is also good, and this square towel is also forgotten.

Chu night Ning's face is thin, not good at words, and he did not specifically mention the point afterwards, but seeing the burning of the teacher to the teacher is getting more and more heart-warming, the saddle before the horse is around, and the things that have been sent are not 100 or 80, he is more and more silent. I don't want to let the ink burn the peek.

That is the smoldering of charity and his things, and he cherishes himself.

He remembered...

The soul of the earth is merged and brings past events. Such a thing, a pile of pieces, Chu night Ning is slowly thinking about it.

He got up, angry than ever, eager, sad, and painful -

His hand was shaking, he finally knew the truth of everything and knew the beginning and the end of the matter.

In fact, it is not just the childhood of being desecrated.

Not only was it tempted by the teacher.

Far more than this.

But these most important memories have been suppressed by the curse of the teacher. For twenty years, for two generations, no one knows the original appearance of this incident.

until today.

Truth, truth...

These are the ultimate truths!

Lushan has no one to resist, Chu night Ning can not be other, he went crazy from the foot of the mountain, he went to the nearest village, asked the whereabouts of the burning.

"That Mo Zongshi?" The villagers did not know the identity of the late night, and said with a rough voice, "What a * master is a beast with different looks."

There are different tables, animals...

sinner……

tyrant.

The eyes were dizzy, and the two generations were stunned. The stepping prince of the previous life was screaming at him. The ink rain of this life was screaming at him.

no.

The truth is not like this.

Chu night Ning palely asked: "Where is he?"

"Tianyin Pavilion." The villager said, "Which is not known to anyone who knows who is not knowing the world. This person is guilty of a sinful crime. Today, he will be slain and get the punishment he deserves!"

If the rock breaks, it will scream in the skull.

"When is the execution?!" Chu Yuning asked too eagerly, and the eyes of the phoenix flashed agitation, which made the villagers startled.

"Remember, don't remember clearly, it seems to be... noon?"

Noon...noon...He looks at the sundial next to the drying field and stunned!

The dragon rose out of the air, and the raging wind screamed in the wind, and the night of the night, he let the paper dragon take him to the wind and go to the ground. At the beginning of the paper dragon, he still wanted to squash his mouth with the owner, but he was shocked to see that there was water vapor in his eyes.

Xiaolong was shocked: "...What happened to you?"

"help me."

I have never seen such a look of Chu Xiening. I don’t know how to be good. I just said: "This seat has never helped you. - Oh, don't cry."

Chu nighting bites the back molars, but it is already an empty shelf.

The truth is a locust that bites his spine.

"I didn't cry, took me to Tianyin Pavilion, and it was too late to come!"

"What are you going to do there?"

"Save people." Trembling can not stop, obviously do not want to cry, obviously never want to cry, but the tears have finally collapsed, Chu night Ning smeared the red eyes.

"Save a person who has been wrongly sentenced."

"..."

"If someone in this world should be born to dig out the core and be reviled by thousands of people, then it should not be him." Chu night Ning Sha mute, "I want to sink for him."

The paper dragon did not ask again, it carried him, turned into a dragon that smashed through the sky, screaming and screaming, rushing to the sky, swaying the wind, and swaying the wind, the wind was shattered, the cold fog shattered, Take off in the humid sea of clouds.

Chu nightning sits next to its dragon's horn.

The strong airflow passed over his face, and the coldness of the nine days was amazing, and the blood at the fingertips seemed to be frozen. He looked at the front and looked at the overlapping clouds, the mountains and rivers, the rivers that flowed through the river, and the human beings, like yesterday, swept past.

In fact, from the moment he wakes up, he is crazy, numb, broken and separated.

At this point, he was thoroughly immersed in the grief brought by the past. He crouched on the dragon and slowly curled up and slowly buried his face in the palm of his hand.

The wind is very urgent, hunting is blowing over my ears.

They have to examine the ink, they have to cut his heart and break his spiritual core -

Ten evils, sin is dying.

no.

The wind is so loud that it is enough to cover the sorrows and sorrows of all mortals.

Tian Gaoyun is wide, Chu Yuening finally burst into tears in this hurricane, these two lifespans...Tai Xianjun, Mo Zongshi...

This is not the case.

There is a saying in the ink.

The worship under the Tongtian Tower was wrong from the beginning.

As the sun grew higher, the copper pot outside the Tianyin Pavilion leaked to a certain scale. The female officer slammed the bell and said: "Noon to -"

Yaque started to start.

"Execution!"

Ascend the criminal frame, bind the sacred rope, remove the robe, and open the placket.

The wood smoke was cold and cold, holding her * martial arts, and stepping forward, standing in front of the ink.

"Tonight, I will repent."

The lips and teeth are open and close, and the ancient plaque of Tianyin Pavilion.

"The sound of the sky is so loud, not private.

The son of the sound of the sound, can not be sentimental.

Tianyin, you can't be blasphemy.

The sound of the heavens is pitiful, to respect all beings. ”

She coveted to the ink-burning ceremony - it is a farewell.

Then, the blade was pulled out, the fireworks splashed, the artifact screamed, and the golden feathers scattered. The sheen of the dagger illuminates her eyes, and there is no feeling in the head.

Someone below squinted, someone stretched his neck, someone closed his eyes and sighed, and some people applauded.

All sentient beings, but Err.

"Well, the nuclear nucleus will be fined."

The hands are falling and the blood is blooming.

Dead.

Then someone on the stage lost his voice and screamed for nine days: "Brother -!!!"

The red, bright red blood rushed out, and Shenwu did not enter his chest. The ink burned and blinked, and at first it was unaware, and then he bowed his head and looked at the heart of flesh and blood.

His lips twitched, and the pain began to blow up like a fireworks. In front of him, light and shadow were boiling.

"Cough!!"

Blood rushes out of the mouth, dripping, irony smell.

The world is vast, and it has turned into a blushing sea.

But it is wrong, it is wrong.

Chu night Ning Yulong flies, getting closer and closer.

He used to think that he was indifferent to himself, and that he was playing because of resentment because of his resentment.

He once thought that the ink was burned under repeated punishments, and he was gradually reluctant to forget the gentleness of the two at the beginning.

Actually not, those memories have always been embarrassed in the soul of the burning.

He saw it.

Chu Xiu Ning saw the deepest inner heart of the ink, and under the suppression of the eight bitter long hatred flowers, it was the deep friendship of the past.

That year, the ink burned so young and white, he also had a warm and healthy heart, beating under the chest. That year, he looked at the new worship of the master standing on the edge of the lacquer wood window, facing his face, faint, said: "Ink burn, come over."

Approaching, in front of the pen and ink.

"Listen to the Lord, you still don't know how to write your own words. Pick up the pen, I will teach you."

He taught him that the tone is light, such as the apricot flower outside the window.

"The word that the Lord gives you is light rain, and the name of yours is the opposite. I write it again, you are careful."

As a result, the horizontal and vertical hooks, Master's strokes and enthusiasm, the young apprentice ignorantly stood next to learn.

"Write more points."

"This time I wrote a little less."

The two words have been taught five times before they are twisted and twisted and written, but they are like a ghost, and they are ugly. Chu Xiaoning has never seen such a stupid person, and can’t help but feel a bit sullen: “...is it difficult?”

Not difficult.

But at that time, the ink burned did not dare to tell him, in fact, because his low-pitched writing looks too good-looking, he was insatiable, and asked for so much, so he deliberately wrote more and wrote less.

Make him good and teach yourself again.

"It's so hard."

Chu night Ning will swear at him: "You look at it seriously, don't be jealous."

The ink burned and grinned, and really distressed: "That, Master, write it again, and teach me again."

He really liked the bowing moment, and the phoenix flew.

As long as Chu Ning Ning holds his hand to teach him, he can hear the open sound of Begonia outside the window.

The execution of the execution platform is high, and the judgment of the Tianyin is unstoppable.

Shenwu 匕 锋 锋 锐 锐 , , , , , , , , , , , , 神 神 神 execution.

They let him awake, in case he couldn't tell whether it was a coma or a sudden death, so he looked at his heart and was cut open again and again, searching for fragments, and then being temporarily suffocated and healed.

again and again.

Xue Meng has collapsed, he is squatting, his face buried in his palm, tears falling.

"brother……"

The pain is so vague that the roots of the tendons are violent.

But actually felt that it was finally liberated.

The wooden cigarette fell from each knife, pierced his heart, and dug out the fragments. He felt that the sin of the past life was full of blood and faded.

Is it painful to be forgiven?

Is it possible to return to the past?

Where can I be before?

If he returns to the day under the Tongtian Tower, he is still a fake son of a dead child, and his mother has already starved to death. That happiness is still a mirror.

If I return to the old time, the firewood room, only the years when he and Duan Yihan lived together, he was afraid of the erroneous yin and yang, and never met the late night, this happiness will also be regrettable.

He looked back at the past, and at this moment he could not find a node that could really be reconciled from the life of his two generations. He could not find a real day of worry-free, warm food, even a day.

His two lives, for more than 40 years, have no peace.

The wooden cigarettes are still buried in the flesh and blood, and they are buried in the flesh and blood.

He knows that his soul is filthy and sinful, and the heavens are going back and forth, and the judgment will always come.

But at this moment, he suddenly had some sorrow.

He wants a mother, wants a master, wants a younger brother, wants an uncle, and he wants a home.

However, probably he is too greedy and wants so much.

So in the end, he didn't have anything.

His known happiness, the vested warmth, is fake in the end, fighting the water in the basket, palm in the sand.

He used up all to make up, but he couldn't get anything.

He was holding his small, wet basket by the long river of life. He knelt down and the basket was empty. He stared at the tide of the river, and the dead were like this.

In fact, from the beginning, he only had this small basket, he took it.

A dream that is destined to break.

Chapter 276

The execution ground is solemn. The smoldering core fragments of the ink were continuously extracted and dug.

One after another.

He was patient and patient, and he endured awkwardly. It is one thing to pay for sin. It is another thing to show weakness. He does not want to call for pain in front of the wood smoke. He is like a rock.

The pain is too deep, and the bitter sea is floating.

Suddenly, I heard a voice, and the spring thunder exploded in the skull.

"Ink burning!"

Impossible, how is it possible?

How could it be him……

It must be that I am too painful, my heart is hallucinating, and my mind is blurred.

"Ink burn!!"

Surrounded by the hustle and bustle, it seems that some people are exclaiming, in the hustle and bustle, the sky is blasting, and the hand of the wooden cigarette has stopped.

The ink trembled and looked up with the utmost strength -

He saw his god, the dragon, and he swooped down from the sky.

He saw his * in white robes, and if he was a fairy.

Closer, the face next to the dragon's horn became clear, and the burning heart suddenly hurt, which made him more painful than the knife.

He saw his * crying, Chu nightning...he was crying.

"Master...respect..."

The blood flow of the wound in the chest is like a note, the ink burns and struggles, and the ring buckles.

Chu night Ning jumped down the dragon, and in the moment before falling to the enchantment of the penalty platform, the paper candle dragon turned into a dazzling golden light and returned to the spell.

"Yu Heng!"

"Master!"

"Yuheng Elder!"

Everyone in the stands of the dead and the dead stood up, and the other martial art people also started to stun, and even the people in the cloth were shocked: "Is this the rumored Beidou Xianzun?"

"It is the master of ink burning!"

"Don't they say that they are broken?"

Chu’s eyelids were originally red, and they collapsed when they saw the blood and spiritual debris in the silver plate.

He was hoarse in his throat and wanted to talk. He had already swallowed before he opened his mouth.

"You... can't do this to him..."

Four stunned.

"What is he saying?"

"Is he crazy? Ink is a murderer who is mad!"

Every sentence is like a sharp knife in the heart of the late night, and every accusation is like the awl does not enter the chest of the night.

It hurts a lot.

Chu Xiaoning looked at the Tianyin Pavilion enchantment, the black scorpion wet, silently staring at his man, the man who was opened and distracted, and the spiritual core was damaged.

When I was pointed out by a thousand people, I still didn’t know the man I was blind.

So stupid.

Chu night Ning lips twitching, trembling.

His hand was attached to the transparent enchantment of Tianyin Pavilion, and he choked: "The wrong decision... the wrong decision..."

Don't take the dagger and tie him, tie me.

Tie me...

The road is ruthless, and the ink is light and rainy.

In the past life, the human population was arrogant and he hoped that he would not die. In this life, day and night are hard to escape, and I can’t escape my inner condemnation.

Who knows the truth?

The wooden cigarette seemed to be in a hurry. After the initial horror, the sharp knife was lifted immediately. The tip of the knife dripped blood and the stars were a little bit.

The ink murmurs: "Don't look."

With a bang, the dagger entered the atrium again and the blood flowed.

Chu nightning's pupils suddenly gathered, after a long while, bursting like, humming and hoarse wearing clouds: "Don't-!!!"

The golden light is coming, and the hurricane is rising.

Tian asked to be called out, and a whip fell. The dozens of high-ranking disciples who kept the enchantment in Tianyin Pavilion could not bear the blow. They vomited * and the enchantment broke. In a dazzling brilliance, Chu Xiuning held his own sparks of sacred martial arts and rushed straight toward the center of the penalty platform.

"Someone wants to rob a prisoner!"

"Chu will rather rob the prisoner!!"

When the wooden cigarette was separated, the spiritual core fragments in the hard disk were incorporated into the Qiankun sac, and the head shook his head and ordered: "Block him!"

"Yes! The owner!"

The golden wave of Tianyinge swarmed up and collided with the spiritual flow of Chu’s late night. The monks in the stands were shocked. They never saw the appearance of Chu’s night.

Crazy, compassionate.

There is no more reason.

Seeing that the late night was closer to the Ning, the wood smoke was cursed from the low voice, and the eyes flashed through the frost. Finally, a broken spiritual core was found, and the income was in the pocket of the sacred sac, and then the robes were hunt and returned to the late night with Chu.

"Chu Zongshi, do you really save him? You want to be clear, this step is going down, and you will be famous from here, you will be with him!"

The sword illuminates the apricot eyes of the wood, and she stares at him.

The sky asked to kill the blade of the wooden cigarette, and the streamer splattered.

Chu Xiuning is a word that is broken: "That, let me stay with him!"

The history is neat and complete, and the hero is scored.

But I just want to be with you, lying in the tyrant's biography, and rotten on the fierce list, it's all good.

I don't want future generations to mention us, to treat me as God and to refer to you as a ghost. I don't want to write about you in the later generations of this book.

If I can't sink you for you.

Ink burning, ink rain, stepping on the fairy.

I am willing to be reviled with you.

Hell is too cold.

I burned, I am coming to marry you.

Between the cloud and the air, the dazzling light and shadow has seen people in a mess.

On the stage, I was ignorant of it. In the chaos, I only heard the words "铮!铮!", and Tian asked to break the chains that were bound by ink.

The ink burned down to the ground and fell into the warmth of the late night.

His blood was reddened by his white clothes.

From the beginning, there was no tears, and the ink that had been smashed by the chest and not swallowed was finally broken at the moment. His hand trembled and lifted, and fell again.

He wants to hug Chu Yuning, and then wants to push Chu Yuning away. He is eager to look forward to not separating from Chuchun Ningbi and Huangquan, and he is deeply eager for everything in Chu’s night, which is good and always clean. It has nothing to do with your own dirty.

So he didn't know if he should hold it or should it be separated.

A pair of hands trembled for so long, and finally carefully took the back of Chu Yuning.

The ink burned and cried.

He said: "Master... Why don't you blame me... Why do you want to save me..."

Chu nightning only felt distressed, and he held the person in his arms tightly, and he no longer wanted to look around. Everyone looked at them and said a thousand words, but they didn’t know what to say first.

"I am so dirty... I will stain you too..." The smoldering whispered, the words are full of * smell, the more he cried, the more sad he was, the man who never showed weakness in front of others, in the late evening There is no armor in my arms. "But I am afraid that you will not want me. If you don't even want me, I really don't know where to go..."

The broken one is the nucleus of the ink burning, and the thorn is the burning heart.

But this time, Chu nightning actually felt that his heart was also smashed, shattered by the delay, and * and fuzzy.

It turns out that one tendon and one bone are all closely connected.

A large number of monks around the Tianyin Pavilion surrounded them, and they were wrapped around them, pressing hard.

Chu night, white clothes, blood, a hand-held day to ask, holding a burning in one hand.

Many black and white in the world, it is not easy to say clearly.

Self-righteous justice is too much.

There are also a lot of calculations.

Therefore, Qu Zihuai, Luo Luo water weep. Wu Mu is awkward, and the storm is resentful.

They can still be innocent and innocent, but more juvenile hearts? Not every sin can be confided, and there is a black one, and there is no one who will never turn the case.

Chu nightning held his ink, he whispered: "Don't be afraid, I won't want you."

"Master respect..."

"I will always be with you, live or die, I will take you home."

Losing the healing mantra, the burning consciousness became more and more faint, and the heart became more and more painful. But when he heard this sentence, his whole person was shocked, and then his lips moved, his tears rolled, but he smiled.

"You treat me so well, my basket is full... I am very happy..." He paused and his voice gradually fell.

"Master, I am so sleepy... I am cold..."

Chu Xinning’s body trembled inexplicably. He held the ink-burning hand harder and continually sent his own spiritual power, but it was useless.

Just like the past, Kunlun Mountain, stepping on the immortal, holding the dead himself, trying to save his life.

Useless.

Chu night Ning is very heart-felt, Fengyan wet red, tears silently rolling down, but still touch his hair, sideways, kissed his wet cold forehead, hoarsely said: "Don't sleep, you tell me, what? basket?"

Those who are close to each other are full of vigilance, inferiority, cold, alert, disgusting, disgusting.

so what.

Nothing is important anymore.

Reputation, dignity, life.

For the rest of his life, he saw his ink burning into the abyss, but he was helpless. He only felt so painful and felt that he was failing like that.

It is he who is late.

The ink burned gently, the consciousness was gradually dissipated, the blood flowed more and more, and the body became colder and colder. He said softly: "I only have a small basket... there is a hole in the small basket... it is empty... Fishing for a long time..."

He subconsciously wants to curl up.

The white lips groaned and choked.

"Master...the heart hurts..."

"You hug me, beg you."

Chu night Ning’s heart hurts like a twist, and can’t help but say: “I’m holding you, it’s not hurting, it’s not hurting.”

However, the ink burning has not been heard, and the consciousness of ink burning has become chaotic.

It’s all messy.

Like the child who was helpless in the wood-chambered house many years ago, like a child who was eating and drinking, like a child who was ruined on the post, the mother rotted and screamed, crying and crying.

Like never returning to the past, the emperor.

Like the Tongtian Tower, the lonely figure.

Like the sword, he went back to the soul of the Mo Zong teacher.

Like a rainy night, the man who wets his pillow on the couch.

"I hurt so much... really hurts..."

"Master, have I paid off? I am already clean..."

More and more blurred.

"Master."

Finally, the child, the boy, the demon, the tyrant, the little apprentice, sobbing, slowly, screaming.

"It’s dark, I’m so scared... I want to go home...”

Chu nightning has been listening to him, and at this moment, it is already crying.

Ink burning, ink burning, why are you so stupid?

What pays off, what is clean...

I owe you.

No one knows the truth, even your own memories are erased.

But I finally know -

I finally knew that you only used my apprentice for a few months, but it took two lifetimes to protect me.

Carrying all the nicknames, crimes, misunderstandings, and jealousy.

Forced to become crazy, crazy, bloodthirsty, dirty.

If you don't have you, the person who is on this sinful sin today should be me, the person who is ridiculed... and it will be me.

It was the emperor who used his own soul to protect the night jade.

From then on, he will always be dark.

And he stays bright.

It’s all wrong.

At this time, the essence of Tianyin Pavilion is like a cheetah that has been turned around for a long time. It finally broke out, and the claws tore the air, and more than a hundred people rushed to them!

Tian asked Jin Guanglie to pale, white to glare.

"Kill them!"

"Block them!"

Chu nightning closed his eyes.

Surrounded by all sides

The surrounding crowds attacked and attacked, and in the shadow of the sword, Chu night was stunned! Then he sank with one hand and five fingers open, and the hurricane rolled up. He shouted: "Waisha, call!!"

Chapter 277

With this sound, the golden violent killing and killing blade is called out, and it is mad!

Everyone changed, and the high-ranking disciples of Tianyin Pavilion were taken back a step further, but then they screamed hard and shouted: "No retreat, you can't misplace!"

"How can these evils be kept! You must scoop the roots!"

Both sides had to make an arrow on the string, and the air was stretched to the extreme -

"Hands!"

The sound is like a drop of water, falling into the oil pan, and suddenly it is a piece! I saw the curse and the sharp blade from the center of the four-way execution, and the late night of the night, the Qinghuai, the golden light broke through the clouds. With the power of one person, he faced the monks who came from the tidal waves. The swordsmanship and * flowers in the eyes of the phoenixes made him look like a Shura.

He guarded the ink, with a sword, with flesh and blood, with a life, and all the innocence after that.

No one listened to him, and no one was willing to put two trapped beasts in a desperate situation. No hope, no redemption, no trust, no light.

All of their last things are left with each other.

"Inflammable, I will bear it, I will take you away."

Suddenly, a curse slammed the arm of Chu Yuning, and the blood rushed in the moment, and the wound was deeply visible. But Chu Xiaoning just bite his lower lip and slammed it with a sword.

"Quickly open!" The monk on the court exclaimed, "Get out!!"

There is a terrifying trend in Huaisha. This sword has been banging loudly, the sand and the sky are all over the sky, and the swords are staggered and criss-crossed, and several deep gaps are found on the ground.

The wood smoke is sharp and sharp: "Chu night Ning! There is no heaven in your eyes!"

"..."

Seeing him ignore it, the wood smoke became more and more angry, and drunk: "Do you want to openly confront God, against the will?!"

Someone shouted at the spectator: "Beidou Xianzun, you let it go. Do you want to be a repeater in the realm of cultivation?"

Under the bursting suffocation of Huaisha, no one was able to approach the first half of the time.

Chu night Ning finally turned his face over half of the face, looked at the monks of Tianyin Pavilion, and said: "...I am already."

After all, he gritted his teeth and took a dying smoldering fire. He put the man with blood and blood on his shoulder and muttered: "Don’t be afraid, it’s over. Let's go, let's go home... I will take you home."

But he looked to the front, and the moment in front of him was already a * road. He killed the monks of the Tianyin Pavilion, and there were more red-eyed dead men behind the broken limbs.

Where is the family?

They have nowhere to go, only * can vote.

In the end, he did not know how many people he killed, and finally he was able to get out. When the smoldering sword was used to vacate the nine, he was shaking slightly. He has never taken so many innocent lives. He is now dyed with ink-burning blood, his own blood, and more of the blood of the Tianyin Pavilion.

Dirty.

Dirty in the bones, can not wash again.

Clouds are gathering in front of the eyes, and there is a piece of heaven and earth.

Where should I go?

Lushan is impossible, Dragon Blood Mountain is no longer safe... The sorrow of death... How can he have a face and drag on to death?

"Master respect..."

I heard the hoarseness/吟 耳 吟 楚 , , , sentence, but he was blind and at a loss. He raised his hand, but he did all his strength, and just lifted his hand.

The bloodstains of the Great Beach Big Beach have already dyed his clothes, and the ink burned eventually lost consciousness. It fell in the night of Ning Huai.

Chu Xiu Ning holds the weaker and weaker body in his arms, and he can no longer be patient. He is not sure whether they will chase after the soldiers. I don’t know how long they will arrive, he will come to the vicinity with ink. On one of the hillsides, his hand shook too much, and after a few dials, he randomly opened the smoldering clothes.

- A * hole in the heart.

The brain slammed open, and he didn't even dare to look at the face of the moment.

He suddenly thought that in the past life, ink burned his bones for two years.

What kind of mood will he be in the days and nights of those two years?

"You don't go, the ink burns..." The hands overlapped before his wounds, and he sent a steady flow of spiritual power to him. The night of the * blood was kept in the same smoldering blood, like a hunter. A beast that has not yet died.

In the afterglow of the last days, the blood melted the blood, and the meat was wrapped around the flesh.

"You can't go, it's not your fault... It's never your fault..."

The ink burns, the ink is dark, and the burning is light. He sought light in his life, but he could not escape the darkness of the night. Chu nightning finally took the courage to look at the burning face, only a glance, almost collapsed.

The face is already alive, the shadow of a living person is no longer there, the white is terrible, it is blood, and there is even a mottled old cockroach at the brow bone - it is a trace of a stone that was once smashed.

He couldn't help it anymore, and he burst into tears in front of the ink and burned his heart.

This is the boy who once stalked him under the Tongtian Tower, splendidly and vigorously, and told him "Xianjun Xianjun, do you reason?"

Why... It’s all blood...why... no more angry, no scars left in the eyebrows.

I can't recognize it... I can't recognize it.

So what exactly did the ink rain do wrong? Throughout his life, he suffered such suffering and suffering.

It may be because he has no relatives and no reason, so he even bullies him. In the cracks in his life, the smile that he tried to fold out was still regarded by the world as a face that was awkward.

Who knows the predecessor of the mud, but also Fang Fangfei in mid-April.

"... Chu is late."

Suddenly, a familiar voice screamed coldly in the distance.

"Do you want to save him, do you not hesitate to lose your good name?"

Chu night Ning was stiff and looked up. He saw a tall figure against the sun and slowly approached him.

Stepping on the emperor, standing between the trees, squinting, staring at them.

"I thought that the most important thing in this world for you is that you are innocent." He said slowly, "I don't think you will end up dirty for him."

He stepped closer, the dark embroidered dark dragon pattern glared in the sun, and the black gold smashing red scorpion finally stopped in front of them.

Almost instinctively, Chu nights up and up, the golden light in the palm of the hand suddenly rises, and Tian asked to come out - he is standing between the past and the present.

Stepping on the eye of the fairy, the line of sight first patrolled on the willow of the golden light, and then quietly returned to the body of Chu.

This man is now like being fished out of the blood. There are no pieces of clothing on the body that are clean. A pair of phoenix eyes are wet, and they are rushing toward their own eyes.

Stepping on the fairy smiled: "He is so important to you?"

"..."

Seeing the late night, I wouldn’t answer, and stepping on Xianjun would be cold and cold: "Let it open."

Chu late, Ning did not move, he was confused at the moment, but he still knew that this "ink burning" was just a weapon, an empty fleshy body.

The sneer of the corner of the body is becoming more and more cruel: "Why, do you think that you are so stunned, this seat will take you no way?"

"...I want to take him away."

"Where to go?"

Just one sentence, just like a sharp knife into the clam shell.

Stepping on the eyes of Emperor Xiandi, he sneered and said: "Chu Ningning, you ask yourself, this red dust, in addition to this seat is willing to take you, where is your place. ... Take him away? Don't be ridiculous."

He stepped forward, his hands were like a slap in the air, and he slammed the chin of Chu’s lateness and approached.

"The last point in his body that has not been cleaned is the one. You are also your own. You better set your position."

When the voice fell, suddenly the golden light violently, and stepped on the prince in time to grab the hand, but the cheek still felt a burning pain. He smacked at random, and he was asked by the day to open a hemorrhoids mouth, black blood flowing down the face.

"..." Stepping Xianjun was silent for a long while, and raised his eyelids in a haze. The look on his face could not tell whether he was angry or happy. His nose was wrinkled, his emotions and his face were almost distorted. "Good, very good." ”

He laughed awkwardly, waving his sleeves and hunting in the black robe.

"I can't think of it for a long time, this seat can still fight with the sky." Raise the long fingers, touched the cheeks, smashed the blood, and stepped on the darkness of the fairy, staring at the face of Chu Yuning, " This seat is very nostalgic."

Behind the ink, the life is hanging on the line, and it may take a while to delay. Chu Xi Ning, even if the mind is chaos, I also know that I can’t talk to the fairy.

"Tian asked - people!"

Stepping on the fairy, the toes just plucked, the ground has cracked thousands of mouths, countless rough willows from the depths of the earth, and spurred toward him. Other soft vines wrap the infatuated Mo Zongshi into the abdomen, and protect it densely in the depths of the willow branches.

Stepping on the fairy standing in the middle of the battle, Chu Xiaoning, almost laughed: "You treat it differently?"

"Heaven, wind."

"..."

His own questioning has only been exchanged for a more violent offensive, and the blade-like wind is sweeping, and there is no resentment, it is a fake.

Stepping on the man who stared at the man on the ground, he suddenly felt a long-lost sorrow and grief in his heart. It was such a moment of distraction, the wind blade smashed to his ribs, he violently ate pain, bowed his head and saw the black blood flowing out of the wound.

He hurt him again...

No matter in his life or in his life, Chu Jingning never put him in his eyes.

The throat was steep and stunned. Stepping on Xianjun's pretending smile, he tightened his hand and raised his hand and said: "No call!"

When Biye Zhuqiao was in the past, and one year did not return, but what happened? Jun returned, not facing his sword, not for such stupid reasons, want his blood, want his life!

Suddenly hate.

Do not return to the day to meet, the two gods are issued a dragon and a tiger.

For two lifetimes.

It's been two years since the last life and death of these two weapons. The engraving on the blade handle has long been worn out, as the past days of stepping Xianjun and Beidou Xianzun have been broken.

The golden glory and the radiance of the brilliance are biting each other, seemingly hating the blood, and seemingly lingering. In this constant light and shadow, Teng Xianjun stared at the face in front of her eyes.

The blood is mottled and the look is complicated.

living.

The heart is violently violent and the burning is severe.

He bit his alveolar and suddenly he was very reluctant to ask: "Why is it all me... you have to fight for him and fight with this seat."

"..."

Chu nightning does not know what to say, facing a body, no matter what is said to be useless.

But I don't know if the flame is too glaring, it makes people feel illusory. He has a moment, and feels that the eyes of stepping on Xianjun are so painful and lonely.

It seems to be moist.

"He hurts like this, you will feel uncomfortable. That seat." Stepping Xianjun hoarsely, trying to be sullen, but that is not too lucrative, he hates not to burn these ash, but the fire When he got up, the flames made him red.

"Chu Ningning. You know that after the resurrection of this seat, you can see the red lotus in the water, you don't even have bones... What do you feel?"

Chu night is a glimpse. Finally, I couldn’t help but say that the stepping fairy who said this sentence was closed, and the muscles on her face were tight. Resentment and humiliation, suffering and madness made him almost crazy, and he suddenly infused all the spiritual power into it.

I only heard a loud noise!

The rock smashed and the ground moved. The vegetation around him was crushed into powder by the fierce spiritual flow in an instant, and the willows could not withstand the violent anger, and they collapsed into ash.

"Approximately ten years!"

In this scatter of ash, the eyes of the madness of the singer are clear, and his eyes are scarlet.

"Ten years, Chu night Ning. He was born again in the past, leaving his seat to be awakened in the death of life, in the Wushan Temple. This decade in the letter knows all kinds of joy in your letter, know his great achievements - What about me? Me!!"

The blade fell down, the sand flew away, and the ground broke through the bottomless gap.

"I have only one person from beginning to end! When he came over from the beginning, I didn't even have a skeleton!"

Mo Mou, Chu Xi Ning withdraws to the sky to ask, to meet with Huaisha.

But this is the blade of the killing, so that the stepping of the fairy is more and more violent, he is like a ghost returning from * at this moment, resentment deep.

His kind of eyes made Chu lateing feel uncomfortable.

... Why is it just a corpse, and there is such a strong emotion.

"Why do you treat me like this."

The flames burned the trees, and the falling leaves were still dyed with fire, the corners were black and the stars were bright and dark. When stepping on the black, he stepped on the power, and suddenly he plucked his back and plundered him. He stood in this sorrow and sorrow.

Chu nightning did not know why he suddenly withdrew, he saw him close his eyes, the two volumes of deep eyelashes in the town is too pale face. Stepping on the fairy said:

"Why do you treat me like this."

The voice fell, and the ground loomed with a rumble.

Chu night, the land is changing, he immediately turned back -

"Ink burning!"

Waiting to return to the front of the infatuated ink, but already heard the five words of the cold.

Step on the fairy road: "Hell. Masses."

The stone is shocked!

Chu Xi Ning's blood is cool, Liu Liu... Liu Teng... Stepping Xianjun and ink rain is simply a person, ink rain can summon a return, step Xianjun can also summon a devil!

The rough vines rose up and broke through the ground, stalking the body of the night. The other part of Liuteng cuts through the damaged days and will be entangled in the darkness of the willows.

Chu Xiaoning saw anxiously burning: "You stop!"

No one cares about him, stepping on the fairy to sneak into the ink burning, coldly looking at the depths of the vines, the same face as himself.

The eyes moved down and fell to the chest that was already bloody.

Chu night Ning screamed: "Tian asked -!"

However, Tian Wen and He Gui are the same level of Shenwu. They don’t lift their heads. They only reach out to the volley. The golden willows that are re-emerged are entangled with the flaming stalks, and they will never succeed or lose. .

Chu night Ning's lips are white and white, and the meridians in the hands are violently violent, trying to make a devil's bond with a flesh and blood.

"..." Stepping Xianjun finally turned his eyes, and looked at him intricately, his lips and lips sighing and whispering. "Chu Ning. You really hurt him."

After the words, he raised his hand and smashed the chest!

As long as the last bit of the nuclear debris, he will return to normal. He is the real stepping emperor, the real ink rain, the person who has endured ten years of loneliness and deserves to be paid.

He should be alive.

"Hey-!"

But in this electric light flint, a golden light flashed through, and straight through the palm of the stepping fairy.

Black blood, ticking down.

Teng Xianjun stared at the palm of his hand that was pierced by Tian Teng, and his face did not have any expression for a while.

pain?

Disappointed?

resentment?

I have tasted it too many times in my life, probably already used to it.

What he did last was just slowly turning his head back. Gujing looked at the man who was smashed and stunned by the ghosts.

Stepping on the palm of his hand was bloody, and he looked at him so deep and faintly, then suddenly smiled.

"Chu night Ning."

"..."

"Why don't you just lick my heart?"

Chu night Ning is shaking, and the ghost seems to have produced thousands of tiny thorns, and every inch of his musculature is tied. He is holding his sword and eyebrows. Under the eyelashes, the pair of phoenixes are full of pain.

Stepping on the fairy, looking at him, pouring spiritual power into the palm of his hand and breaking the willow.

At this moment, he suddenly did not rush to dig up the heart of the ink-burning meat. He stepped forward toward the night.

Approaching, with his own hand holding blood, stroked the pale face of Chu night.

"Ask you." He seems to be understatement, and he seems to hate to be born. "You are so embarrassed, why not just lick the heart of this seat."

"..."

"This seat is in your eyes, what is it..."

Stepping on the fairy sighed gently, falling down.

Chu nightning will not answer him. Teng Xianjun was about to say anything more, but at this moment, he suddenly noticed the flaming brilliance of the willows wrapped in the night. He suddenly looked at it and seemed to think of something, muttering: "Interrogation?"

Since the devil is the same as the day, then the question of the interrogation is the same.

The black-purple eyes of Teng Xianjun suddenly lit up, and he wanted to use the ghost to judge the truth in the mouth of the night. His lips moved, but probably didn't think about what to say, so he picked it up again. After a while, I tried to discretion: "Cough...if..."

"This seat is to say if."

The question to be asked seems to be too damaging, but such a god-given opportunity, I would rather regret it for the rest of my life.

After a long time, he was cold and cold, and he did not look at the eyes of Chu Yuning. He slowly finished his words: "If, for the rest of my life... I walked early and walked before you."

The light of the ghosts is getting more and more prosperous, forcing the people who are wrapped up, ready to confide in the truth.

Step on the fairy to raise his eyes.

"You... will you remember this one?"

The man wants to know the answer is too urgent, so Chu night Ning actually felt that thousands of steel needles stuck into the body, hurting the liver and intestines, each needle tried to force the truth in his heart, he trembled, musculoskeletal Cold, his face is green.

Stepping on the fairy, staring at him with a sigh of relief, his lips are light and his mind is deep.

"Do you know?"

"I..." hurt into the bone marrow, like to tear the viscera, and the night is forced to the sinister Chu nightning lifted the scorpion, faintly looked at the step of Xianxian.

In the moist water vapor, the handsome face is so familiar, with a thirst, and even a deep affection.

It was like the moonlight night long ago. On the tide of Feihua Island, the ink burned with him and he took his hand. He said, "I like you, how about you?"

The eyes are wet.

Chu Xiaoning is almost a scattered place, hoarsely whispered: "...the same..."

Perhaps the voice he answered was too light, or perhaps another reason. Stepping on the fairy is closer to himself, almost pressed against the late night, and has been sweaty, and the face is unmanned.

"What is the same?"

"The same..." The eyelashes hang down, and when they overlap, they are all warm and fuzzy. "I don't want to... let you walk before me..."

"..."

"I'm sorry." The voice was hoarse and unmistakable, like a broken cockroach. "I didn't protect you."

Stepping on the fairy stunned.

He had no * face, and he looked more and more desolate in an instant.

The eardrum was rumbling in the thunder, and he couldn't help but think of the Tianshan Tianchi. When the man fell in his arms, he used a * mottled hand to gently poke the forehead.

That person said, it is me who thins you, and does not complain.

The heart is sore and painful, and there seems to be something cracking inside.

"...night Ning..." He stood stiffly in the same place, like a woodcarving clay sculpture.

He reached out again, but this time it was not narrow. He didn't even know what it was because he just reached out and wanted to touch the face that was so similar to his previous life.

Cold, * face.

Suddenly, a sharp whistle pierced the eardrum.

Stepping on the cheeks of Stephen is about to come to his fingers.

For the corpse, the eyes that carried too much emotion suddenly became hollow. Stepping on the arm, after the whistle, it was like losing self-awareness, slowly retreating, then waved and removed all the weapons.

If you don’t return to the past life, the ghosts of this life will disappear.

Chu nightning fell into the dust, but raised his eyes and saw a man with a white dress in the distance. The man wore a mask, holding a tube of jade flute between his fingers, and the other hand was holding a cane. .

The man stood at the end of the forest, among the fallen bamboo leaves, his body was so sturdy, standing quietly, leading the step of walking toward him.

"you are……"

"Let the ink master go." The man sighed, and the voice was obviously distorted by the voice-changing spell. "I can't support it for too long, and he will soon recover consciousness."

"..."

"Come on," the man said. "Tian Yin Ge and Hua Bi Nan will soon catch up. If they are caught by them, nothing can change."

Chu night Ning gritted his teeth and set the ink up, urging the dragon to symbolize, calling the dragon to carry them away.

Before the dragon leaped, he turned his head and glanced at the man standing in the depths of the bamboo forest, only to find that the man had to kneel on the ground to be able to ride forward.

There are some hidden memories in his mind, but I can’t think of it for a while.

"……Thank you."

The man just shook his head and urged: "Go away."

The paper dragon knew Chu Xinning's heart and spoke at this time: "The little brother is kind, my owner is afraid to ask your name, and if you have a relationship, you can come to thank you."

"..." The man was silent for a while, whispered, "I?"

Lin Muzhen rang, and his voice was very empty.

"I am just a person who is finally free."

The paper dragon also wants to ask again, but Chu Yuning knows that this person will not tell his identity. He gave the person a ritual, took a picture of the dragon body and said, "Let's go."

Since he spoke, the paper dragon knew the priority, and he did not say much. He took the sky and lifted it up, and immediately disappeared into the Baiyun Cang dog, and there was no trace.

The earth was moving, and the man in white wearing a quiet face stood quietly for a while. He looked up until the storm weakened and he went to silence. He looked at the sky that he could never see again. Unclear back, whispered:

"The disciple's teacher, congratulations to the master."

The sun shone and fell on his plain crown.

"The rivers and lakes are far away, the masters are respected, and they are taken care of all the way."

Chapter 278

These days, both the Shang Xiu and Xia Xiu circles are rumored to be rumored to be the first time that the Tianyin Pavilion in the thousands of years has been robbed. The robbers were actually the first great master of the world, Chu Yuning. He killed the Tianyin Pavilion with eleven people and injured 100 people. He took the felony prisoner and drove away.

Some people say that the night is rather crazy, and some people say that the night is like a rainy animal. There were still some people who were close at the time, so they saw the details, and they were angrily. The relationship between Chu and Ning was not right. They were stupid and dirty.

But no matter how the outside talks, Chu Xiaoning and Mo Weiyu did not appear on the rivers and lakes, no one knows where they are.

The most pure master of the world took away the most dangerous evil spirits in the world.

Then, the sound disappeared.

The wooden window is half open, the snow is like a crisp, the curtain is covered with a new trace of moss, and the remaining flowers are four or five.

It has been four days since the Tianyin Pavilion storm. The outside has already made a pot of porridge, and there is nothing to judge. Only in this empty mountain is there a little quiet.

Suddenly, some people came from the depths of this empty forest, and walked into the colorful ink paintings framed by the window frame. He took a large oil-paper umbrella and held a bundle of firewood. The house was very cold. He piled the firewood on the edge of the fire pit and added a few pieces of chopped wood to the hearth, which would burn the weak flames.

This place has been in disrepair for a long time. It has not been used for a long time. Although it has been roughly cleaned up, there is still a musty smell in the air. To this end, he deliberately folded a branch from the outside with a white plum, brought it back to the bed.

Chu night Ning sat down and looked at the man lying on the narrow couch.

The fourth day, still did not wake up.

Since that day, after stepping away from the step of stepping on the king, he used the spells he had learned in the previous life plus the spiritual power that had not been lost in this life, and finally he hangs the ink. But after so long, the ink burns still groggy, and the lifeline can no longer be repaired.

"This room is still made by my master when I first traveled. I haven't lived for too long. There is always some flavor." Chu night looks at his face and looks at himself. "Know that you don't like incense, but you don't hate flowers." I brought a branch of plum, which should be open for a long time."

The ink burns down and the eyelashes fall.

The appearance of his sleep seemed very quiet and peaceful, and it was a rare peace of life.

In the past few days, the ink has been so quietly asleep, and Chu Ning, after finishing the work he is doing, will stay with him and talk to him.

When they got along with each other, they always burned a lot of people and he listened to them.

Unexpectedly, the person who said one day and the person who heard it would turn upside down.

"The outer enchantment is reinforced, and the curse is also laid down. No one will find it here." Chu said, "The firewood and the food are brought back, and there will be no other things for a while."

Suddenly, sighed: "You, why are you still not awake?"

He said, reaching out and touching the burning hair.

The fire in the pond is swaying. He sat on the bed and waited for a long time, waiting until the shadow cast on the ground moved with the sun, but still did not wait for the blink of the man.

Chu night Ning closed the eyelashes and sighed softly.

"Since you still want to sleep, just sleep... I will continue to tell you the story that I told you yesterday."

"Sorry, you said that you like to listen to bedtime stories, but I can't say anything...so, I can only talk about what we have experienced before." He was silent for a while, and he said, "Well... Where did you talk about yesterday?...Let me think about it. Right, when I found out that you cursed in my life, I always wanted to unlock it for you."

Chu night Ning said: "But the eight bitter long hatred is too deep, and I have done nothing to help. I have finally solved this life, but I have never thought that it will become like this."

He touched the cold back of his hand.

It’s always so cold.

He held the ink-burning hand like this and whispered to him with such words.

In the past, because of their conspiracy and because of their personality, many of them never spread to the table, so that they were so wrong and wrong.

Chu nightning regrets very much.

What if there is more frankness? Everything will change in this way, will you find out that the ink has already been poisoned earlier?

Can you all go back?

"You have been living forever, and you always want to redeem." Chu nightning closed his eyes and sighed. At the end, the voice was condensed, and he couldn’t say anything. "But you still remember, how did you end up with eight bites and hate? You Think about it... ink burns, you think about it..."

You never owe me.

From the beginning, I owe you.

Please, wake up.

If you can wake up, if you can remember the lost memories, you will know... The truth of all this originated from the rainy night that I closed seven years ago.

——

That is the node he changed with the fate of the ink. It was a day that he did not pay attention to in his life. On that day, the red lotus water rippled, the rain rushed through the roof tile, and the thunder and lightning flashed, but he could not hear.

Chu night Ning Ling nuclear is weak, that year is just the time to repair.

In order to make the disciples who are with him around, he gave a curse to himself before retreating, and then quietly sat in the pavilion, and God became too imaginary.

So he couldn’t see the arrogance in front of him.

That day, just in front of him, in the thunderstorm, in the red lotus water, the ink burning and the division of the teacher stared at each other, the burning face was pale, and the teacher's look was cloudy.

A truth that Chu Xiaoning did not know before, slowly unfolded in the night rain.

That retreat, the ink burning soon after entering the division door felt aggrieved because of the "flower picking" incident, saying that the service was not good, and did not want to come to accompany him.

But where can the young people's words be taken seriously?

For two nights, the ink burned or remembered not to avenge the enemy, pressed down the pain in my heart, went to the red lotus water alone, and wanted to take the class for the teacher.

I didn’t expect that because of this erroneous yang, he bumped into the conspiracy that changed his life.

The teacher was swearing at the late night of Chu.

Amazing, horrified, fearful, angry, disappointed. Burn the internal organs in an instant.

He rushed forward and grabbed the sharp edge of the teacher's hand - low drink, as the beast snorted: "What do you do?!"

Shi Mingjing only used the whisky to be surprised, and then a pair of gentle and beautiful peach eyes were finely smashed.

He smiled: "Who is my way? Nowadays, this red lotus otter is very enchanted. It can only enter our three apprentices, and the head of this life and death. The Lord is good, the Lord is good, who is coming? It’s all trouble, but fortunately it’s you.”

The ink burned and rushed, and he gasped, and the thin body was stopped in front of Chu, and the night wind blew his clothes and broken hair.

He stared at the teacher's face.

"What do you want to do to retreat? You...you..." The ink burned at that time couldn’t even believe that the gentle and succinct brother had a second devilish devil’s face. "Who are you?" ?!"

The teacher smiled and said: "A burning is so cute, I am naturally your good brother. Or who else can I be?"

He smacked the ink to protect the look of Chu.

A new entry disciple, so small, not self-reliant.

It’s like a lame joke.

"You are not saying, do you hate the Master and never want to see him again?"

The teacher was so eager to tease him as he was in the chest, laughing at him.

"When I confessed to you, you can tell me that you hate the sturdy person who is a sultry man. Why didn't he change his mind after two days, and he came to him again."

"If I don't look for him, who knows what you will do today!" The smoldering is resentful and sad. "Shi Mingjing, I thought you were good at that time, I believed you at that time!"

"Oh, you are so good, who is it?" The teacher smiled and said, "A bowl of hand-picked, a few words of warmth, will lie to you." In fact, you are a dog that no one wants, who will give you a Root bones, you just leave with him."

"..."

"Why are you squatting at me like this, how about making a good hand?"

The darkness of the ink is cold, and his dark eyes are wet and cold in the night. After a long while, the throat is moving: "Shi Mingjing... Your heart is black."

The teacher is still laughing: "The black one is the heart of the heart, the heart is sick, my heart is not sick, no pain, naturally, you are the same as the teacher at the moment, the red is the same."

He paused, and the delicate white fingers swayed, and there was an extremely beautiful flower on his fingertips. The flowers are waiting to be placed, not yet opened, the black leaflets, the edges flashing silver.

The teacher clung to the flower and sniffed at the tip of his nose.

Flowers and beautiful people, but the style is devastating.

It’s chilling.

The ink murmurs: "What are you going to do..."

The teacher squinted, the eyelashes were long, the peach eyes were full of waves, and he smiled. He looked very good: "In fact, it is useless to explain to you. I just apply a curse, and you will soon take things tonight. Forget it, nothing will be remembered."

The black flowers are slicking his fingers.

"However, if you look at the same door, you can't tell you." Shi Yan said, "This is the flower bud that my mother gave birth to. It is the eight bitter long hate flower that I have worked hard to cultivate. If nobody appreciates it, it will be It disappeared into the world, and I feel that it lacks some flavor."

"Eight bitter... long hate?"

"The younger brother, born with eight bitterness, death and long hate. There is a kind of flower left by the Mozu in this world. It is extremely difficult for mortals to cultivate. It is called the eight bitter long hate." The teacher is very gentle, "This kind of flower, drink people when you are young." After the blood is in full bloom, it is necessary to take root and absorb the kindness and warmth in the heart, and breed sin and hatred."

He said, touching the black leaflets with relatives.

"The best people in this world, as long as there is a trace of dissatisfaction in the heart, can be born by the eight bitter long hatred, gradually... become the devil who kills people without blinking."

There was a snake-like gleam in his eyes.

The peach blossoms turned and stared at the Chu Ningning who was meditating.

Ink burns: "Do you want to plant long hate into the teacher's heart?!!"

"Why must be so surprised." The teacher smiled. "He is the world's largest master. You said, if he becomes a devil, how big will it be?"

"You are crazy?! How can you... how can you bear it..."

"He is cold-blooded and inhuman - isn't that what you said?" The teacher was faint. "I turned him into the most annoying way for you, the younger brother. From then on, you can hate him with justifiable words. You can't do everything."

The burnt scalp was almost blown up, and the spine was numb with sputum.

"You... ridiculous... that's what I said for a moment, I, I didn't hate him, you let go, don't hurt him like this..."

The teacher is interested: "Why?"

why?

He is so good, the table of the red lotus water is all the drawings he has drawn, the armor made, the weapons, or not for himself, are worried about the safety of others.

He is pure and clean, like the first new snow falling in the early winter.

Although he is very strict, sometimes not close to human feelings, but he will hold his own hands over and over again, teaching himself to literate.

Will accompany him to practice martial arts, from day to night long night.

He is willing to accept himself. From then on, the light rain is no longer lonely, only fake relatives and happiness.

Since then, there has been a real identity.

- The disciple of Chu Yuning.

"You can't harm him..." The ink burned anxiously. He wanted to wake up the master, but he didn't know what to do. He could only stand in front of Chu, and he couldn't be a evil spirit. He was so Ok, if you let him kill... he will be sad."

The strong anger in the chest does not know how to express it, can only use the simplest and most simple, even incoherent sentences to persuade.

It's like you haven't had time to learn a spell, you can only resist it with a thin body.

It is extremely painful to let a good person kill.

In the fire of the drunken building, he has already felt it.

The teacher looked at him and only thought it was funny.

"Is it sad? When he becomes such a person, he will not be sad. Ah, you don't have to worry about it."

"But why are you doing this?! Why do you want to hurt him?!"

This time, the teacher did not answer immediately. He dropped his eyelashes and paused for a moment before he said: "Because I also have things I have to do."

"..."

"I need the strongest strength for my use." The teacher licked his lips. "You won't understand."

Juvenile smoldering is almost doing his own poor power, trying to convince the innocent brother in front of him.

"What kind of person is the Master, you will not be unclear, even if... even if you are doing this to him, polishing all the goodness of his heart and making him a murderer, he will not only listen to you. Used for you - you... you can't do it."

"How do you know that I can't do it?" The teacher chuckled. "Oh, I forgot to tell you that this eight bitter long hate flower, I have melted my half-piece remnant soul. As long as I spend my time, I will slowly love it. I am unable to understand the whole life."

The ink burned: "You are crazy!!"

The teacher Shi Shiran approached them. The night was polished by lightning, and the roar of the roaring sound reflected the face of the teacher.

"As you said, he is so good, for my use, to be my own, is it impossible? Even if it becomes a demon. By then, he only listens to me alone, and loves me, I am not good."

He knew that Chu Xiening would not wake up at the moment and would not hear the dialogue between the two. Therefore, he was not afraid of it. He said with a sigh of relief: "Teacher, let's go to the side. Do you think that you who have just cultivated the spiritual prototype of the spirit can fight me?"

The smoldering is almost gnashing: "I won't let it."

The teacher just laughed, and the latter blinked. He had already sneaked into the ink and burned his body. His hand was vacant on the top of the crown of the night, holding the black flower that was about to open.

"A burning, do you know how much effort I have put in order to refine this eight bitter long hatred? I am bitter and lonely, waiting for the day when the teacher retreats."

He lowered his body and his cheeks were almost affixed to the side of the night.

"He is going to be my blade, my embarrassment, to be my person. What can you stop?"

The flowers fell.

The life will change.

Suddenly I heard the young man screaming, and I was struggling.

"Don't touch him!!"

"You are really ridiculous." The teacher gradually lost patience. "Do you know..."

"Change me."

The rest is broken between the lips and teeth, and the sky is thundering and the flames tear the night.

The teacher squinted and asked, "What?"

The whole person is shaking.

It was only a little time for him to get started. The spells he had learned were so poor that he was destined to stop the teacher, and he did not know how to wake up the night.

He is unarmed and has no strength.

Only the flesh and blood.

So he can only say: "Change me."

The teacher quieted for a while and then sneered: "Do you know what you are talking about?"

"I know."

"The eight bitter long hate flowers are my mother's painstaking efforts, which I cultivated when I smashed the soul." The teacher straightened up and stared at the burning face. "What are you, you also match?"

"I..." means pinching into a fist, half a squat, and slamming his face up. "I may not be worthy, but it is more suitable than the teacher."

There was a little bit of flash in the eyes of the teacher: "...how do you say this?"

"You said that this flower will give birth to hatred in the heart. But if that person is clean, don't hesitate?"

The teacher shouted for a moment and smiled: "Impossible. Everyone has enmity in their hearts, even if it is Beidou Xianzun."

But his hand was smashing the petals of the long-sucking flower, and it gradually became a gloom.

There is nothing wrong with ink burning. In fact, he has been thinking about whether Xi Ning can become a hotbed of long-sucking flowers in the past few years - in case there is no trace of resentment in this person's heart?

It takes time and effort to cultivate another flower. Moreover, the division of the soul is too painful. He does not want to experience the second time.

When the ink burned and he hesitated, he took a step forward: "So many years have you seen the Master hate anyone?"

"..."

"You said that long-sucking flowers will swallow the goodness and warmth of your heart... These things may not be all for ordinary people, but you should understand the Master more than I do."

The rain is getting bigger and bigger, Wanmu is bleak.

"Shi Mingjing, you are not afraid that he gradually loses all memories, and no matter what good is no longer remembered, you are not afraid of being discovered."

The teacher squinted his eyes.

The scorpion is faint, and it seems that a snake has spit.

The ink burned closer to him step by step, his heart was like a drum, he was cut, and he was more urgent than the rain.

"I don't know what you are going to do, but if you have to sacrifice for one person, change me."

"you……"

"I have hate in my heart, I can breed. I don't have too many pure memories, even if I don't forget it, it's not easy to be discovered."

The ink burned as much as possible to convince the executioner to turn the blade around his neck.

"I still can't do anything today, but both Master and Uncle have said that my endowment is high, my spiritual power is enough... I can do it."

He shuddered, his nails fell into the palm of his hand, but he insisted on it.

"I can replace him and become the blade and weapon you want."

"I can replace him and become the killing demon you want to make."

"Sister." He finally stood in front of Shi Mingjing, lightning was shocking, the wind swelled, and the rain curtain slanted and slanted into the pavilion.

After another burst of coldness.

"Change me."

It is probably his key point, but perhaps because the teacher is not sure whether Chu Xinning can make the eight bitter long hate flower take effect, or, even if the ink power displayed in the year is unprecedented, his time for the spiritual core is even higher than that. The singer of Heaven is quicker and quicker.

In short, after several adjustments by the division, the final black bud that is about to bloom is finally burned into the bottom of the heart.

After doing all this, the teacher was sitting at the stone table, holding his hand and his eyes faint.

He does not understand why this is.

Why does the ink burning block the night for this night? With life, soul, future and dignity.

They clearly have only a few years of mentoring.

He doesn't understand.

The teacher looked at the black flower from the ink-burning chest, which is obviously a soft leaflet, but the steel needle can penetrate people's flesh and blood and stab to the depths.

In this process, the ink burned forever, without snoring, until the flower is like some kind of locust with a strange tentacle, a fierce plunged into his heart, and the smoldering finally snorted and crouched on the ground.

The teenager trembled in front of himself, and the teacher was sitting quietly like this, the jade arm was clear, high above, watching the ink burn in front of himself, vomiting blood in front of himself.

"Is it painful?"

"Cough..."

The teacher is very interested, his eyes are still gentle: "How much pain? I have never given this kind of curse, I am really curious... My good teacher, the taste of being hated and flowering is What is it?"

His gaze was like spring water, one section, flowing through the body of ink burning on the ground, and finally fell on the pale knuckles.

The ink-burning fingers unconsciously glared at the ground, and the fingertips were worn out, and the blood marks were one by one.

“Is it more painful than digging my heart?”

The smoldering did not answer him.

The pain is true, but...there is much better than the pain in the mass graves outside Linyi City that year.

It’s much better than watching the dead in front of you.

It’s much better than burying the sand and burying the flesh.

"At the beginning... I didn't protect Aunt, now, finally... can protect Master."

He was muttering like a gaze.

Those best memories faded a little bit, and those pure and sloppy pasts disappeared a little bit, and his eyes flashed through those poor, poor memories.

In a certain year, someone gave him a bowl of hot soup with his mother.

An old farmer once wanted to invite them into the house to get warm in the snowy night, and the fire was resting.

I also beg for the children who want to eat, and share with him half a piece of meatloaf.

Duan Yihan took his hand and took him through the long, * of the autumn sun...

No hate, no bitterness, no unwillingness, no jealousy, no suffocation.

Everything is peaceful.

It is the purest beauty.

He saw the embroidered Haiyan handkerchief carefully under the lamp, and saw the stork sitting at the stone table, laughing and watching the teacher respecting the moon cake himself. He saw the moon under the discretion, the first time with the pear white to the master. Yourself.

These memories must be forgotten from now on.

Never remember again...

From then on, hatred will breed, and those gentle past memories will change.

From then on, the heat in his heart will be extinguished, and there will be no more fire. The spring water in his eyes will be frozen and condensed into ice.

From then on, he will run counter to his mother's last words.

Duan Yihan said: "Repay it, don't take vengeance."

I can't do it anymore.

I don't know where it came from. He bit his teeth and endured the visceral shredded pain. He staggered and wanted to stand up - squatting, but he couldn't stand, he groaned, crawled, and finally hurt the soul. Shaking, but still squatting, climbed to the night of Chu.

"Master respect..."

He struggled ridiculously and squirmed.

Shi Yiyuan thought that he wanted to do something, but finally found that the boy was just trying his best to exhaust the last enthusiasm and gratitude.

Tears are coming out.

"Master, I am very fast... I will disappoint you..."

The night rain is falling.

"I will soon remember your good, I can't... I can't learn spells with you... you hate me, hate me..."

He was crying, and he said the last words when he told the attempt of good deeds.

But Chu night would not hear.

He is in front of him, but he can't hear anything.

"Sorry, I folded the flower because I wanted to give it to you. Master, I am here today. It was originally... I am going to wait for you to wake up, I will apologize to you, and I will tell you everything I want."

The voice was hoarse and seemed to come out of the throat and flesh and blood.

"Master, thank you for not giving up on me, willing to accept me..."

"I am real, really."

The heart is pumping, and the bottom of the eye is already bloody. That is the sign that the eight bitter long hate flower began to take root, and it is also a manifestation of the beginning of the situation.

The forehead fell, hitting the ground and rolling the ground.

Weeping.

"I am real, I like you very much."

The teacher sighed softly, and his expression seemed to be interesting and pity.

But his pity is also good, interesting, it is faint, nothing can not enter his heart.

He finally walked over, picked up the burning cheeks, stared at the faintly chaotic eyes, and whispered, "Come, brother, tell me, what are you asking for now?"

"What to ask..."

What is being asked?

Linyi autumn color, in front of the tower.

Duan Yihan was laughing, and Chu was rather low-lying.

The hurricane weak sister of Lefang showed two pointed tiger teeth, and her eyes flashed with eager and excited luster. She said to him: "A burning, I will soon make enough money for redemption. I will take you with you. We left here and my sister took you to a good day."

The smoldering stunned, but still trying to capture these memories like the stalks.

He murmured: "I want to repay my grace...not to avenge..."

The teacher shook his head and waited for a moment.

Ask again: "What are you asking for?"

The ink burned hoarse and obsessed: "I want to... one day, I can die in the hands of the master."

The teacher stunned and then laughed: "Did the teacher's hand?"

"I don't want to be a devil... I don't want to go to hell..." He slammed four times and repeatedly whispered, "I don't just remember hate, Master..."

He actually broke the hand of the teacher, and Fuxi was in front of the night, almost squatting. His eyes are already scarlet-filled, and his consciousness is getting more and more chaotic.

"kill me."

In the end, the only thing that repeats is this one wish.

"On the first day of my evil... please, please, please... kill me."

The torrential rain blew, devour the dark night, the sorrowful sorrow of the young and the beast. The thunder and lightning flashed, the bamboo forest was bleak, and all the lotus flowers in the red lotus water stalked and fell into the pool.

There are eight bitterness in life, and there is long hate in death.

Before the loss of consciousness, the ink burned out the trembling hand and held the corner of Chu’s clothes. He looked up and whispered: "Master...you...justify me...you reason me...good ....."

You reason about me.

How many sufferings and hatreds in this world have been covered by the rushing winds and rains?

After two lifetimes, I finally learned the truth of the night, and then looked back, and vaguely remembered the next day, and ended on a Sunday, waking up from meditation.

The golden brilliance sprinkled into the bamboo pavilion, and the sea otter and the red lotus in the otter had to be destroyed. The fragrant Philippine of the old branches would soon be crushed into mud.

The rain has stopped, and Chu night has stunned his eyes. He turned to see the teacher standing at the stone table to cook tea. The mist rises. The eyebrows of the teacher are so gentle and beautiful. When he wakes up, the teacher smiles.

"Master."

"Why don't you still have a rest? You have been on the third day, and you have to change the ink."

On the samovar, the amber hot water is full of thoughts.

The teacher sang tea at him and smiled and said: "Today, I am still guarding the teacher, and I am burning the child's heart. I was punished by the teacher, and my heart still couldn't get through."

Chu nightning stunned: "He is not coming?"

The teacher’s eyelashes, the thick black soft eyelash curtains fell, like the two clusters of tender springs in the early spring, he “humbled” and said: “Don’t come, go to the library, help the Lord to organize the books. ""

Chu nightning has such a moment of loss and sorrow.

He had intended to use the opportunity of two people to be alone and to talk about the smattering of the ink, and that day he was too harsh...

He never encountered an apprentice sin, and afterwards he thought about it and felt that he was too fine.

However, the ink burned but did not want to see him, and he was reluctant to accompany him.

Chu night Ning smashed his eyes.

"Master, drink tea."

For a long time, he should have, from the hands of the master's long white hair, took over the full of fragrant tea, blowing the misty mist and taking a sip.

The tea was too full, and when it came over, it was a little dripping on the robes.

The teacher’s heart was as fine as a haircut, and when he saw it, he laughed: “I have a slap.”

"You don't have to borrow yours." Chu Xiaoning took out a white sun-striped towel embroidered with sea otters, and wiped off the dried tea stains.

"A beautiful handkerchief, squatting up like the best one bought in the town." The gentleman said softly, "Do you want to buy it yourself?"

There is such a need, Chu night would rather say, no, it is inked.

It is his embroidery.

Give me a teacher's gift.

But I was in a bad mood, didn't want to say it, and felt that I was so shameful.

So I was silent for a while, and Chu Ning was just a sigh of "hmm", then he folded the scorpion and took it back.

After collecting the scorpion, he sighed softly.

On that day, the sun was shining. Last night, the hurricane and rain had only left the red and dried, and the lotus leaves were stained with new dew.

"Is the rain last night very big?"

The teacher sang the tea set and heard the fingertips smothered, and the twilight was deep: "Well?"

Chu night Ning turned his attention to Manchi Fangfei, faintly: "Flowers are thankful."

The teacher smiled again and put the tea pot carefully. Then the cloud was light and windy: "The thunderstorm last night, it was noisy for a while, it stopped. Today will be a good weather, wait for the ground to do something, I will go Sweep off the flowers in the yard."

Chu, Ning, never said anything again.

The sky is shining, the brocade is beautiful, and when we look far away, the sky is like a wash, and when the sun rises, Jin Yu flies.

indeed.

It is a rare sunny day.

Chapter 279

Nanping Glen.

Late at night, new snow fell from the huts.

In the past few days, the burn of the ink has turned more and more heavy. Even if Chu Xi Ning used the flower soul sacrifice to treat him, it has little effect.

In the afternoon, he woke up vaguely, but the consciousness was still unconscious. He was squinting and squinting at the night, he just cried, he said sorry, and said not to go, a word turned over and over again. Finally, I can't stop crying.

He has been dreaming and has been moving through his turbulent years.

He thought that he had just been returned by Xue Zhengxuan for a while, and thought that he was in the five years of losing his late night.

The only thing he can't dream of is the memory that has been taken away by the eight bitter long hate flowers. I can't dream of all his efforts, all the protection, all the innocence.

"Ink burning..." A bowl of freshly cooked porridge, Chu nightning came to his bed.

The porridge is barely able to enter, and it is a craft of the past.

He sat down on the couch, raised his hand and touched the inked forehead.

It is very hot.

He called him, but he couldn't wake up. He was waiting for the night, and waited until the porridge gradually became cold and gradually cold. He felt that he couldn't do this anymore, and he kept the porridge warm.

He doesn't know when the ink will wake up, but if he wakes up, he can always eat.

"It's a chicken soup, you like it the most." Chu nightning whispered to him, the spiritual spells that kept the heart burning and the heart beat have not been broken, but the ink can not wake up.

Wake up, that is to say, the spirit is broken, maybe he will not blink.

It is impossible to save it.

But I am not willing, how can I be willing.

The ink burns still alive, and he still has a breath, though it is so weak. These days, the sun and the moon faint, Chu night Ning stayed by his side, watching his chest still ups and downs, I feel that there is hope, everything can be turned back.

It’s still too late.

Chu nightning still remembers that one night, the ink burned and stumbled. At that time, there was no light in the room. The ink burned and looked straight at the candlestick. The dry lips were still slightly shaken.

He was very excited at the time, busy holding the burning hand and asking him: "What do you want to say?"

"……light……"

"what?"

"...lights...want to light..." The ink burned at the candlestick that he was destined to be unable to light, and the tears slid down his cheeks. "I want the lights to shine..."

At that moment, the time overlapped.

As if returning to the same year, when I was just instructed, the ink burned, and the thin teenager was lying on the bed and was groggy.

When Chu Xiaoning went to visit him, he whispered and called Aunt.

I don't know what to do, Chu Yuning sat on the bed of the teenager, hesitating to raise his hand and touched the boy's forehead.

The skinny child cried and said, "Black...all black...Auntie...I want to go home..."

In the end, it was Chu Wanning who lit the candlestick, and the bright fire illuminates the walls, and also illuminates the face of Chu. It seems that I felt the warmth of the light, and the child with a high fever opened a pair of eyes that were bright and smoky.

"Master respect..."

Chu night, Ning should have, licking the quilt for him, the voice is low, it sounds very gentle: "The ink burns, the light is on... Don't be afraid."

After a long period of time, a bean solitary lamp lit up again, and the warm yellow halo was soaked in the huts of the house, dispelling the endless darkness and coldness.

Chu night Ning caressed his hair and hoarsely called him: "The ink burns, the light is on."

He wants to continue, don't be afraid.

However, the throat swallowed, but I couldn’t say it anymore. Chu nighting refused to cry, but after all, it was against the ink burning forehead, broken and weeping: "...the light is on, you wake up, okay?"

"You reason about me, okay..."

The lanterns and tears are a dream, and this lamp has been burning, from the light of Huaguang, to the exhaustion of the oil.

Later, the sky was bright, and the fish belly was white outside the window, and the ink burned still did not open his eyes. The time to wake up the sleeping boy with a light is over.

Never look back again.

Three more nights.

These days, Chu, Ning, stayed at his bed every day, took care of him, accompanied him, lost to his spiritual power, and told him to listen to things he forgot.

At dusk this day, the snow has stopped, and a red sun outside the window, the sun is shining on the earth. There was a squirrel leaping over the snow-covered branches, causing the white pears to sway and crystallize.

The man lying on the couch was blazed by the glory of this kindness, and the evening glow filled his pale face with blood. Under his thin eyelids, the cocoon turned slightly - and then, when the twilight was about to be four, he slowly opened his eyes.

After a few days of severe illness, the ink burned finally woke up.

He opened his eyes and his eyes were still empty, until he saw that he was tired and tired on his couch.

The smog is hoarse and whispered: "Master respects..."

He lay in the depths of the beggar, and the consciousness slowly returned. Slowly, he vaguely recalled that between half-awake and half-sleeping, Chu Yuning repeatedly repeated the words he had said.

A cup of wine in the Mid-Autumn Festival, a sea otter handkerchief... and that year, the red lotus water scorpion, he gave up the eight bitter long hate flowers planted for him.

Is it a dream?

Is he too eager to redeem, only to dream that Chu Ningning told him these stories, is he too hopeful to turn back, will dream that Chu will rather forgive him and be willing to forgive him.

He turned his face and reached out, trying to touch the man who was sleeping on the couch, but the fingertips never touched, but they shrank back.

He was afraid of a touch and the dream was broken.

He is still in the Tianyin Pavilion, still squatting on the sin of the sin, and below is the spectator of the mountain. He was alone in front of thousands of people. In those eyes, those people eventually became one and another ambiguous face. They became the souls of one and another who had died in his hands. They screamed and smiled. He is asking for his life.

No one wants him, no one saves him.

It is his brazenness, his wolf ambition, his madness and madness, his illusion that Chu will rather come later - it is his pain in the heart, the illusion of the last fire in the world.

fake.

No one has ever cut a lock, and no one has ever embraced him. No one has ever come from the wind, and no one has ever taken him home.

The eyelashes trembled. He shed tears and stared at the sleeping face of Chu Xiaoning. He didn't dare to swear until his eyes finally ended, until the tears finally fell.

The reflection of Chu Xiaoning was broken into thousands of Huaguang, and he went to see his good dreams.

The dream is still there.

The ink burns off the bed, the eyelashes are wet, the throat is sobbing, and the corners of the eyes are constantly tearing down... The heart is very painful, the blood has been oozing out. He is afraid of waking up and not sleeping. The lips have been crying silently.

He woke up, but his body knew himself. He knew that this was only temporary and it was a return to light.

It is also the last pity of God.

He has been stunned for a lifetime, and he has been crazy for a lifetime. It was difficult to escape the * name and it was not until the end that he was convicted of blasphemy. So he felt very awkward and even awkward.

He didn't know if it was lucky or unfortunate.

Unfortunately, the two lives are ridiculous.

Fortunately, the rest of my life will be peaceful.

But how long will he spend the rest of his life? one day? Two days?

That is a good day for him to exchange his life.

- It is a peaceful time that has never been obtained.

Later, he heard the movement of the late night of Chu, and he hurriedly wiped away the tears. He didn't want the master to see him crying.

The ink burned over and looked at the eyelashes of the person on the couch. The person watching the couch was stretched and looked at himself in the eyes of the person in the couch.

Outside the window, the golden crow sinks and the Big Dipper turns.

He heard Chu Xiaoning whispering a whisper: "Ink... burning?"

The sound is low and gentle, such as the spring buds breaking ground, the glaciers first solution, and the wine on the small red clay stove is warm to the third, the silk steam is steaming, and the hot people are warm. That is the sky that he can't forget in his life. The ink burned for a while, and then he smiled.

"Master, I woke up."

There is no snow in the night, and the rest of the life is long.

On this night, in the deep valley of Nanping Mountain, Mo-burn finally waited for the most relaxed and soft time in his life. He woke up, and he was able to see the surprise and sadness of the eyes of the night. He woke up, he leaned on the couch, and what he said to him by Chu Xiening, was told by him and his experience and misunderstanding.

It doesn't matter to him.

He just wants to stay longer and longer.

"I will see the wound again."

"Don't look at it." The ink smiled and held Chu's hand, and brought it down gently. "I'm fine."

After several refusals, Chu night Ning looked at him, like suddenly understood what, the blood on his face faded a little bit.

The ink burned strongly and calmly said: "It's really okay."

Chu night Ning did not answer, after a while, he got up and walked to the hearth. The wood in it was gradually extinguished. He left a back to the ink and slowly swayed in front of the fire.

The fire was born, and it was lit up. The whole house was warm, but Chu did not look back. He still used fire tongs to play with the firewood that didn't need to be played.

"porridge..."

Finally, he hoarse and open.

"The porridge has been warm, waiting for you to wake up."

The ink burned for a moment, and smirked: "... I haven’t had a porridge that I’ve cooked late for a long time. I’ve gone away in my life, and I’ve never drunk.”

"I didn't cook it." Chu said, "I still can't, probably...that is, I can barely enter the entrance..." His tail was a little shaken, and he couldn't seem to say any more.

After a long stay in Chu, I slowly said: "I will give you a bowl."

Ink burns: "...good."

The room was very warm, and when the night turned deep, the outside began to drift off the snow.

The ink burned the porridge bowl, carefully drank and drank a few mouthfuls, just look at the night of the night, then look down and drink a few mouthfuls, then look at the night.

Chu night Ning asked: "What's wrong? Is there something uncomfortable?"

"No." The ink whispered, "I just want to... look at you more."

"..." Chu night Ning did not say anything, took the silver carp first to pick up the grilled fish on the fire pond, the entrance to the stream of fish, but the thorn is still there, he picked the thorn, the white fish is finely subdivided.

When he used to eat, the ink burned always took care of him.

The same is true now.

He handed the chopped fish to the ink and said, "Come on."

The ink burns very smoothly.

When the man was wrapped in a quilt on the couch, it was not so tall. The orange flame reflected his face, very young.

At this time, Chu nightning suddenly realized that in fact, it was better to step on Xianjun, and the Mo Zongshi was even smaller than him for ten years.

It has experienced so many sufferings.

After burning the porridge, he poked the most fat piece of fish and wanted to hand it to Chu, but he sipped: "Master, what happened to you?"

Chu night Ning lowered his head and his eyes were reddish. He calmed his mind, and this faintly said: "Nothing, I feel cold."

He was afraid to sit again, he couldn't control himself, and he got up and said: "I went around to investigate. When you finished eating, I would rest early. When the injury is good, I will take you back to life." ”

Both of them know that the so-called improvement is not a return to light, and all the warmth is no longer.

But they are talking about tomorrow and talking about the future. It’s like rushing to the night after a few decades, and moving all the stars in the future, all over this snowy night.

After Chu Xiaoning left, the ink burned for a while before the fire, then he untied his clothes and looked down at the acne on his chest.

Then he stayed for a while and felt empty.

Nanping night snow.

The outside is getting bigger and bigger, and I don’t know when I will suddenly deteriorate. I don’t know when life is the end. He was kneeling by the bed, watching the snow outside, and the ears were whistling. He suddenly felt that his life was like the rushing wind at the moment. Everything passed away yesterday.

In fact, in the last life, in this life, there are always such smart people who are planning and playing.

The teacher is also good, the teacher is also good, one of them wants to protect him, one wants to harm him, but they all have their own plans, even if the last mistake is not successful, but they all have a plan.

The ink burns is different from them. He is the kind of dog that is stupid to die. There is no such thing as a seven-bend and a round heart. I don’t know how to step by step and make the pieces beautiful. He will only be honestly guarding his beloved ones, even if they are beaten and smeared, hurting the bones, and standing stubbornly in front of that person, not leaving.

This kind of person said that it is brave to be nice.

It’s ugly, it’s stupid.

This stupid man crouched on the window, his eyelashes fluttered, and he saw a familiar shadow under the plum tree in the original place.

Chu nightning did not go to patrol, this is just an excuse for him.

He stood under the flower tree, the distance was too far, the snow was too urgent, and the ink burned naturally could not see any trace of his face, only to see his blurred silhouette. Standing in the snow that covers the sky, I can't move.

What was he thinking about?

Is he cold or not?

he……

"Master."

Chu Yuening, who was fascinated in the snow, turned back and saw the night, in the frost and snow, the black youth was shackled, but he did not know when he had come behind him.

Chu night Ning was shocked and immediately said: "How come you come out like this? What do you do out? You are going back soon-"

"Go" has not had time to say it, and wrapped him in warmth.

The quilt with the quilt smashed the quilt, and the overwhelming blackness, the overwhelming warmth, he caged the Chu nightning into the quilt.

Two people stand under the old plum tree, standing in a thick cotton quilt that has been used for a long time. The snow is big outside, and the wind is no longer relevant to him.

The ink burned in this warm and darkness: "You don't think about it, although the things that the master said, I don't remember, but..."

He paused, first kissed Chu's forehead, and then whispered: "But if I let me go back and go through it again, I will still do it."

"..."

"And." He was wearing a quilt, and he was holding a hand that caught the coldness of Chu, and he didn't have to feel sad. In fact, I think the teacher said that it was right, the eight bitter long hate flower just took my heart. Those thoughts, those who can't see the light, are inspiring to achieve it."

Ten fingers are handed over.

The ink burned against his forehead: "I had a lot of hatred in my heart, but I didn't vent it when I was a kid. I was thinking about the slogan of the Tu... I thought about it. I ruled the world, I also thought about it. It is ridiculous to say it, I When I was five or six years old, hiding in a broken house, I was imagining that one day I could call the wind and rain to spread beans. These are my own thoughts, and no one has imposed it on me."

He stroked the face of Chu Xiaoning: "So, if the person who was in the middle of the sorrow is a master, you can't say that you will not become a tyrant like me. You will not be used, not even He will be stunned by Tianyinge." He smiled deeply in his nasal voice, and his forehead grinded comfort. "You have not been replaced by me, don't think too much, go back to the house and go to sleep."

The bed was very narrow and the ink burned him.

The moment that comes, it will always get closer and closer, and it will never escape.

The consciousness of smoldering began to blur and smashed. The colic of the heart was even worse than any previous one. The return of light will not last long. The same is true when A Niang died. He knows that his time is running out.

He had thick eyelashes, and the fire in the hearth was a little faint at the moment, and the dim light reflected on his young and handsome face, which was extraordinarily gentle.

This stupid man is generally able to see the pain in Chu’s eyes, so he endured his own discomfort and said with a smile: "Well, look good?"

Chu night Ning actually stunned: "What?"

"Oh." Moe said, "Men's husband, a few more scorpions have a taste."

Chu nightning was silent for a while, raised his hand, and slaps him a light slap without a light weight. It is too light, but it is like touching.

After a while, he seemed to be unable to endure anymore. He was buried in the warmth of his chest, without snoring, but his shoulders were shaking slightly.

He is very clear.

Chu night Ning knows.

The ink burned for a moment, grabbed him, kissed his forehead and hair.

"It's so ugly." He was more docile than he had been in the rest of his life. He sighed softly. "Is it all ugly to cry late?"

If he calls the teacher, he will be fine.

One night, the two alternate.

Chu nightning embraced the man’s hot and lively body in the depths of the beggar—he always disliked and was ashamed to express any intense emotions in his heart, but at the moment he felt that his tension and shame were so ridiculous, then Ridiculous.

So in the embrace of this limb, on the narrow couch that was wrapped tightly, in the empty huts of the four walls, in the long night of wind and snow.

Chu nightning whispered softly: "How can it be ugly? You have a flaw, no flaws. It looks good."

The ink burns.

He has never heard such a straightforward expression of Chu Xiening.

Even the Yu Jian confession did not have that day.

There is only a little bit of lasting fire in the house, very quiet and gentle.

The peace and gentleness of the evening.

"In my life, I like you all my life, I am willing to be with you. I will be willing to do so."

The ink burned and he said in his own mouth, he couldn't see the face of the night, but he could imagine the appearance of Chu Ningning at the moment.

I am afraid that my eyes are red, and my ears are red.

"I used to know that you were tempted, but you can't show it, you can only hate you... Now you can always replenish you." Chu nightning's cheeks are hot, and the eyes are also booming. "I like you, willing to bear with you, Willing to dissipate for you, willing to surrender to you."

Hearing the willingness to surrender to you, the burning heart is like a burning fire, and the whole body is trembled.

He is both moved and sad, both painful and embarrassing.

He is almost trembling: "Master respects..."

Chu Xiaoning raised his hand and stopped him: "You listen to me."

But after waiting for a while, Chu Evening was a person who wouldn’t say good things. He thought a lot, but he didn’t think it was appropriate.

For a moment, Chu Yuening actually wanted to say: "I'm sorry, you have been wronged and carried too much."

I want to say: "Before I left, I can't tell you the truth clearly. I missed you."

He also wants to say: "The red lotus in the year, thank you for your willingness to protect me."

He even thought about what dignity is not going to be at this moment. He wants to cry with ink and wants to hold this body that is still warm and warm. He said, "Please do not go, please be careful not to leave."

But the throat swallowed, and my heart was bitter.

In the end, Chu Xi Ning bowed his head and kissed the scars of the burning heart, the eyelashes, and he whispered.

"Ink burning, no matter what happened in the past, I will always be with you in the future."

Shame burned the blood of his body.

But the words are so solemn.

"A person who has been a fairy in his life is also a person who is a master of ink."

It’s too hot.

The ink burns only feels that the fire in the arms is once again lit up, and the fireworks are in front of them. All the pain and sorrow are gone at this moment.

"For two lifetimes, it belongs to you."

"No regrets."

The ink burned and closed, and it was moist.

He finally kissed Chu's lips, and he sighed: "...master...thank you."

The snow outside is getting bigger and bigger, and the night is getting deeper and deeper.

They are embracing each other, they are thinking, it turns out that this is the rest of their lives.

Mo-burning knows that his clothes are soaked by tears, but he does not say. Since he was a child, he hoped that there would be many joys in his life. At this time, he should always be happy.

He hugged Chu Yuning, he said: "Sleep, late Ning. Sleep, I am holding you. You are afraid of cold, I am warming for you."

"Wait for me, let's go back to life, I want to go to my uncle and ask for sin. I want to quarrel with Xue Meng again... We still have a lot to do..."

The ink burns the hair of Chu Xiaoning, and the voice is soft.

The throat is full of blood and sweet, and the breathing is getting more and more relieved.

But he still smiles, his look is very quiet at the moment: "Master, I will give you a lifetime umbrella."

Chu Yuning is in his arms, and he is so whimpered.

"Xia Shidi..." He teased him again, and he was so quick that he couldn’t speak, or teased him. "Teacher... tell the story to you... After every night, I will tell you...you Don't dismiss the teacher's stupidity. If you talk about it, you will only tell the cow to eat grass..."

At the end of the last, the ink burned up the eyelids and looked at the layer of snow covered with frost on the window.

The heavens and the earth are vast and white.

"Night." He held him, his heartbeat echoed in the ear of Chu, and he whispered, "I have always loved you."

He slowly fell off his eyes, the pear vortex was shallow, and the two pears were white.

The heartbeat is a little bit slower and bit by bit.

Suddenly, a branch of plum tree outside the window was covered with snow, the snow was too heavy, the branches were broken, and the sudden movements were made. The snowball fell with the branches and slammed.

After this noise, Chu nightning, but can no longer hear the sound of the heartbeat.

He waited for the beggar, he waited for a moment, he waited for a while, he waited for a long time.

There is no more sound.

No sound... nothing...

It is a terrible silence that makes people feel cold.

It is a terrible silence that is desperate for a lifetime.

end.

stop.

rest.

The house is dead and quiet, terrible.

After a long, long period of time, Chu nightning did not move, Chu night Ning was still lying in the ink burning, lying on the bed, he did not even get up, did not look up, did not speak.

His little apprentice, his ink brother, his stepping fairy wants him to sleep.

He said that he would hold an umbrella for him for a lifetime, telling a life story, and he will love him for the rest of his life.

The ink burns, the outside is cold and the snow is big.

I warm you.

Chu night Ning was kneeling in his arm, squatting in the chest where the heat had not yet disappeared, and did not move.

They will leave for home tomorrow.

He must rest well with the ink.

Chu nightning extended his hand and surrounded the ink-burning waist.

In the dark night, he said, "Well, I listen to you, I sleep.... But, tomorrow, I will call you, you must remember to wake up."

He stuck to the chest that had no ups and downs, and the tears soaked in the smoldering clothes.

"Don't go to bed."

Good night, ink burns.

This night is very long, but I will stay with you. May you have a good dream, a fire, and a light.

There is home.

Chapter 280

On the second morning, the sun shone into the Xuan window.

Chu night Ning opened his eyes, the beggar is warm, a person's temperature can warm the body of two people. He looked at the burning face quietly. In his eyes, this is the most handsome person in the world, and the best person.

He didn't move, he was thinking, what kind of porridge is cooked today?

Yesterday's has been finished, the ink-burning starving ghosts generally drink a whole four bowls, and there is no leftover.

He kissed his cheeks and asked, "Do it for you, okay?"

The man slept very hard, the dark eyelashes fell there, like two rolls of grass, gentle, gentle as if the next moment would open his eyes, smiled and pulled him, said to him: "Hungry, late to give Cook a bowl of porridge."

It seems that he will tell him deeply and awkwardly: "Whatever the teacher does is good, I will like it."

The body was already cold, and the cheeks were cold and there was no temperature.

Chu nightning did not cry.

He got up, covered the quilt with ink, and then he went to the yard to collect firewood. He cooked seriously and cooked well.

The water was open, the mist filled, and the rice porridge twitched and squirmed, carrying small bubbles. He used a colander to remove the foam, added some salt, and covered it with a wooden lid.

Those who have been born again can no longer be rescued for the second time by rebirth.

Chu night Ning was standing on the side of the stove. There was a moment of clearness in his gods. The Qingming of this moment almost killed his life. He was busy suppressing the trembling of his fingertips and raised his hand to uncover it.

When the porridge is cooked, there will always be people drinking.

He now has a piecemeal memory of smoldering. When he is a child, he is very poor. If he doesn't have enough food, he has a steaming cake that is a happy day.

Ink burning will not be wasted, so it will always wake up.

After the porridge was cooked, he went to the courtyard to clean the snow, and then folded a new plum, took it back to cut off the branches, and immersed it in a clay bottle.

Plum blossoms are ten miles, so that the ink burns on the road and can smell the world.

No, his consciousness is confused.

What is going on the road, what is smelling in the world... The ink is clearly lying here, exactly the same as yesterday and the day before and a few days ago, but the face is clearer and thinner, and the face is paler.

He will still wake up.

For two generations, no matter whether it is blame or blame, it is love and pity. Since they met, the smoldering never took the initiative to leave. So gradually, the ink burned through his life, became the wind, became the hour, became the spring flowing through the finger gap, and the light that was worn in the long hair.

He is his day and night, and it is his red dust.

Chu nightning strolls in this red dust. This earthly world, the snow will fall, the cockroaches will still sing, the autumn will still die, the summer flowers will still be born, everything is as old, so how can the ink burn away?

He is willing to guard him, accompany him, day after day, waiting for him to wake up. Just like the burning of the past life and the body of Chu Xinning, the contract was made, and the yin and yang of this life was reversed. Chu Yuening also did the same thing as stepping Xianjun.

"On the day I left, you will leave."

Once stood in the red lotus water, the ink burned a black robe, so I said to the late night Chu.

"With me."

Nowadays, in the Nanping deep valley, Chu Yuning has attacked the white clothes and overlapped with the emperors of the year.

He reached out and put on a burnt, bloodless face: "...with me."

Jin Guangqi, his spiritual power flowed into the body of the corpse. From then on, even if it falls into the yellow spring, the heavens and the earth, as long as there is still a late night in the world, the body of the ink rain will not decay. Only after many years, Chu Yuning passed away, and the flow of spiritual power was terminated, and they would die together.

It is turned into ash, scattered into powder, and turned into mud and dust.

He left with him.

The charcoal fire of the Temple of the Tianyin Pavilion burned, and the light and shadow of the dark and the inconspicuous on the wall. The wooden smoke stood alone in the center of the main hall, holding hands and closing the eyes.

Suddenly, the temple door opened and a man came in.

The wood smoke did not look back, faintly: "Are you coming?"

"Come." The man took off his cloak and hood, revealing a face that fell into the country. It was the teacher, "Isn't the wooden sister going to the apse?"

"There is nothing to see." The wooden cigarette left the road. "But it's just that you give people a chest-cutting thing. The blood is too heavy, I can't stand it."

"There is no way, the medicinal sect, this is the case." Shi Yan smiled. "Even if it is a lonely moon, Jiang Yan, the knife will not be full of fragrance for the dead."

The wood smoke frowned and didn't intend to talk to him about the corpse-cutting of the living, so he asked: "Say, you have been doing this for a few days. When will you be able to step on the emperor? Reborn completely?"

"The rebirth is not counted, and there is only one piece of soul in his body. At most, he is a living dead."

The wooden cigarettes passed away from the eyes and said: "What we want is a living dead. The more you listen, the better.... How do those spiritual nuclear fragments come in handy?"

"Almost, although not complete, but the strength is as terrible as it is." Shi Yan said, "The ink is indeed the first monk to be the best, enough to open the way for us."

The wood smoke sighed: "I hope that this time I will not regenerate the accident."

"It’s hard to say if you don’t have an accident." Shi said, "I am casting a spiritual nucleus to restore the body of Stepanjun. At least ten days. In these ten days, I hope that Ms. Wood will do two for me. Things."

"You say it."

"First, after the full recovery of the stepping fairy, we have to do that big thing. At that time, these monks will be stupid, and they will know that the ink is telling the truth, I am afraid that they will join hands to stop us." Dun, "Although the shrimp and crab will not be enough, but there are more people, always a headache."

"So?"

"The strength of the upper training industry is strong, but the experience is not enough. The key is the death and death. I hope that the wooden sister will release some news, first provoke the dispute between the dead and the sects, and dismantle the sect in advance."

The wood smoke leaves the road: "Chu night Ning hijacked the prisoner, and the ink rained away. These two people who were originally dead and dying, it is not difficult to make an article. Not to mention the fact that many people have been attacked before the death of the dead. I want to force them to distribute. This is good to say. What about the second thing?"

"Second." The teacher sighed and seemed to regret, "kill someone for me."

"Who?"

"Myself."

The wooden cigarette turned away from him and the light of the flame illuminates the gentle face of the teacher's eyebrows: "You from the past?"

"Ok."

"You are crazy? Are you serious? He will say it again..."

She paused and didn't say anything more, because she saw the teacher's soft and thick eyelashes lifted up, showing a pair of black cockroaches underneath.

"What does he say is me?" The teacher smiled. "This is true. But he is also a traitor."

"..."

"If it wasn't for him to let him go, would anyone come to jail?"

"..."

"If it wasn't for him that he later disturbed the gods of stepping Xianjun, could Chu nighting take away the half-dead ink?" Speaking of this, the teacher’s eyes flashed a trace of Sen Han, "I also lost my life with me." These techniques, a scorpion, sneaked away and ran fast, did not let me live him."

The wood smoke could not help but say: "I know that he did not do this thing, but he is our people after all."

"He is me, these two red dusts are destined to be superimposed together, and one is enough for me." The teacher stepped up the steps and stood beside the wooden cigarette. "Like you, you have died in previous lives. But The same is true of the current wooden sister who helped me."

"But you don't have to kill him. Our family has suffered enough." The wooden cigarette was staring at the eyes of the teacher anxiously. "A Nan, we swore, as long as it is in the family. People should be accustomed to each other and support each other and cannot kill each other."

The teacher turned his gaze away. He didn't talk. He looked at the flame of the dragon snake. He said: "I used to think so in Lushan. I doubt that nobody has doubted him, so I will give it to the end. He can take the opportunity. After all, he is different from me."

"..."

"I am still Hua Binan and Shi Mingjing." The teacher was faint, and finally closed the scorpion and sighed. "But what about him? He just remembers that he is a teacher, and he never remembered who Huabinan was."

The flames are smashing and there is an orange starburst.

The wooden cigarette shook his head and finally shook his head: "I can't do the second thing you said. He has lost a pair of eyes for us. Now we can no longer afford him. They will not accept him again." He can't go anywhere, he can't do anything, why should you hurry to kill him, because he betrayed you? Just because he and your last choice are different?"

The teacher didn't talk, for a long time, smiled: "You have always been decisive, how suddenly is your heart soft?"

The wooden cigarette looked up and slammed, and her eyes flashed with pain: "Because he is also my brother, he is also you."

Her face has finally become so cold because of this secular mood, no longer like a stone statue, an ice sculpture.

"A Nan, whether it is a past life or this life, no matter what you become, I can't start with you. I can't do it."

The fire tongue in the charcoal pot faintly squats and dances into a staggered red silk.

The teacher sighed: "... forget it, this is a private matter, you will follow you if you want to. But the first thing, the success or failure, please be sure that the wooden sister must do it."

The wooden cigarettes closed their eyes, and at this moment it happened to ring at the end of the night, and the turret from the top of the pavilion was solemnly inhabited. The old clock of Tianyin Pavilion has been built for thousands of years, and the tone is still very macro. In this lingering bell, the wood smoke is slowly opening.

"I know....you can rest assured."

On the second night after the dialogue of Tianyin Pavilion, there was a serial murder case in the upper square of Bitongzhuang. The matter has not been thoroughly investigated, and similar cases have appeared in the sects of Huohuangge, Wushen Temple, and Lonely Moon Night.

Soon, a single terrorist incident became a cycle, and people quickly realized the key to the problem -

Jane Chess.

There are treasures everywhere.

Township Lane Mo, Huadu Xianmen, no one was spared.

There are more and more pieces of these lost minds, killing people and setting fire everywhere, and the self-cultivation of the realm of the real world is no longer enough to control the lives of the people.

Every day, the blood stained the river, and one city after another became a desert city. This disaster was more terrible than any previous crack.

Because people are not even sure who is behind the scenes, do not know how to end this sudden big kill. However, most monks believe that this disaster was planned by Chu Yuning and Moxue, whose whereabouts are still unknown. However, there are also people who are suspicious. For example, a group of refugees gathered in the temple at the moment, they said: "If it is said that it is a smoldering ghost, it is also credible. But why should Chu Ningning help him?"

"Who knows, maybe for a share?"

Some people said, "I don't think it's as simple as a piece of cake. You sneaked into the court that day. If you are just an ordinary apprentice, you will be so excited. In my opinion, Chu Yuning and Mo-burn The relationship is simply not normal."

"Ah... are you saying?"

"The good thing about Longyang, the mentoring and the traitors."

The upper and lower lips touched each other, and there was no swearing.

The people sitting around together showed a very horrified and extremely disgusted look, muttering: "No? He is Beidou Xianzun..."

"Then don't forget that when he was late in the night, he accidentally died. His apprentice burned his life and risked his life to * to save him. Although the teacher and the teacher are deep, this is a matter of life and death. ,Can you do it?"

It is convenient to be silent.

There was a pod in the campfire that burst and gave a crisp sound.

"There was also Lushan that time, have you heard that? Before Shi Mingjing was taken away, he once said something."

"what?"

"The specifics don't remember very much. At that time, the situation was critical. Many people did not chew them carefully. Later, when they thought carefully, they always felt that there was a share of the stocks in the lines."

Someone frowned: "But I heard that the teacher is clear, Hua Binan, can he believe in his words?"

"A nonsense!"

Everyone was shocked by this angry anger, and turned to see a man glaring: "How can this kind of truth be true! It is clear that the ink is burning in the water to the teacher!"

"How can Li brother be so excited..."

The man said: "Why am I not excited? My life is saved by the teacher!"

"what……"

"At the time I was in Lushan, Hua Binan gave us a kind of scorpion venom called the heartworm. If it wasn’t for Shi Ming’s use of sputum therapy to solve it for me, I would have been on the spot! If the teacher is Hua Binan, why bother to curse us?"

The more the big man said, the more excited he was, and the last time his eyes were all wet.

"In order to save us, Engong was hurt by Huabi Nan, and his life and death are still unknown, but he still has to be burned by ink. I... I am not worth it for him."

He said, he burst into tears. Other people in the temple have not known how to be good at the moment, they all look at each other -

On the one hand, Shi Mingjing and Tianyin Pavilion, on the other hand, Mo Weiyu and Chu Yuning, both sides have doubts, but obviously the latter has more doubts and more doubts.

There was a female repair in the crowd. At this time, looking at the fire pool in the dark and dark, suddenly whispered: "Actually... when I was against Xu Shuanglin on Lushan, I was in the ranks. Shi Ming’s work and ink burned. I have seen everything I do, neither of them is a bad person."

"But among them, there is always someone lying?"

The woman shook her head and shook her head: "Whoever is lying is a matter of great importance. I dare not break it. But I want to say something that I have seen with my own eyes."

Seeing that everyone turned their eyes to her, she was a bit stunned and coughed and said: "At that time everyone was injured, and the ink burned and Chuzong... The state of Chu Xiaoning was not good, sitting next to the rest. I Inadvertently glimpsed, the smoldering secretly reached out... I touched the face of Chu’s late night."

Chapter 281

"what……"

Many of the older people couldn't stand this kind of mentoring, and immediately covered their sleeves and frowned.

"What is this system!"

The woman repaired the tea bowl in her hand and lowered her head. "I felt weird and stunned at the time. But both of them are famous masters. I said that I dare not think about the place where there are people." But looking back at this time, the two of them are really not quite right."

She paused and continued: "There are those words that you just mentioned before, Shi Mingjing was caught before he was arrested. At that time, his words were vague, I only felt awkward, never thought about it, now I want to come, he It means that it should have been a sigh of relief, and later changed his mind and fell in love with Chu.

Everyone will not say anything.

A lot of inconspicuous details have become clear at this time.

Suddenly someone whispered: "When the Tianyin Pavilion was robbed, have you gone? When Chu nightning comforted him, I seemed to see him kiss his forehead."

"Ah!" The description of the details is more disgusting, but it is more and more curious. "Who is who?"

The man scratched his head and explained: "Chu Ning has kissed the ink."

"..."

"You haven't seen it yet?"

Everyone said that they didn't see it clearly. The man then said with a hand: "Well, then when I didn't say it. Maybe it was my eyes that I was wrong."

But many times, "just when I didn't say it" is actually a nonsense, and it has the same effect as "there is a saying that I don't know if I don't know what to say."

Can the water poured out be recovered? So this kind of nausea is becoming more and more vivid. If the apprentices take the initiative, it will be better.

This kind of private discussion and speculation is of course not limited to this broken temple. As the biggest suspect, Mo-burn and Chu-Lingning became talks in the streets and lanes.

The so-called good things don't go out, the evils go a long way, the topic of "teachers and filial piety" can make people sleepy, and the "teachers and apprentices" can make the eyes of the whole dinner table gather together in an endless stream. On the mouth. Even if someone suspects that someone is dissatisfied, it does not hinder the rumors.

So for a time, I guessed everything - saying that the ink burned on the bed, saying that Xue Meng and Chu Xi Ning also had dyed, saying that Shi Yi and Chu Xi Ning are probably not clean. In this way, the original Beidou Xianzun, which became clean and clean, became a perverted old man who liked a handsome boy.

"It’s never been empty talk," it’s never been empty.

"Look at his three apprentices, which one is not the top one. It is said that he does not have this thought. Do you believe?"

"When the ink burned just before the entry party, did Chu latenight refuse to accept him? I have a friend who knows in the dead, and he told me that the ink burned and went to Honglian Water for a night, then Chu night. Ning will accept him - why? This is still used to ask, have slept, and burned the bed."

The people who are hooked on these details are tickle and talk about it more and more.

"The time when the ink was burning, it was just a weak crown, and it was really good to go to the night."

"Suddenly understand why the woman who went to peek at his bath was half-dead, I am afraid I saw something that I should not see."

After a few silences, then there was a hooligan who smiled in disappointment and said, "Oh, actually, I am really curious. You said, when they are sleeping, who is above, who is below?"

"It must be the ink burning below. You know the temper of Chu Xiaoning. He is so proud. He will never find a disciple to sleep."

"Thinking like this, the ink burns is really pitiful... I was forced to go to bed with an old man who was so old. The temper is hard and hard to serve. It is not the best looking, it must be disgusting. Let's go."

"Ugh……"

These swear words are not the most arrogant. As time goes by, there are a few cherished pieces that have been recognized as identities. They are all disciples of life and death.

If one or two are coincidental, then the clues that are caught every time point to the shackles of life and death, that is, the innocent sects will inevitably become the target of public criticism, causing great panic.

In the past few days, some people have come to the point of dying, but they have all eaten closed doors.

"Snow is not in the door, what will happen in a few days."

"Where did Xue Zhengzhen go?"

Seeing the other party directly calling the name of the Lord, the young disciple of the goalkeeper came to the temper: "Since the change, my head has been running around the clock, busy with the chess pieces, and personally, wherever he is suffering, where is he, you find it yourself!"

Those who are looking for troubles sneer: "Busy and flatten the pieces? I think it is busy to control the pieces, and the criminals are burning and burning."

"What are you talking about?!"

"I don't talk nonsense?" The humanity, "The smoldering practice of escaping, the late night of the murder of Chu, the escape of the prisoner, combined with Xue Zhengxuan's enthusiasm for the enthusiasm, these days, the disciples of life and death are made into chess. Say that you are not stupid behind this sect, who believes?"

In the face of these pieces of chasing, Xue Zhengyi always sighed exhaustedly after listening to the sigh, saying: "The Qing dynasty is self-cleaning, and now this world, can do what he has on hand, thank you very much. Don't worry about what they are talking about, let them go."

On this day, someone came to the mountain gate and brought a few bodies, saying that they would let the dead and the dead pay for their lives.

Xue Zhengxuan came back late at night. He was covered in blood and suffered several injuries. While listening to Mrs. Wang telling him about these things, he washed the sludge on his face and took a breath, not immediately snoring.

Mrs. Wang said: "It’s not a way to go on like this. You see if you should go to Tianyinge for help..."

"And Tianyinge ask for help?" Xue Zhengyi passed his eyes, and there was a scratch on the cheek. "I don’t see the place in Tianyin Pavilion. The wood smoke is like a clay sculpture." , it’s a simple idiot.”

Mrs. Wang is busy to cover his mouth: "You can't talk nonsense."

"..."

"I know that you are not feeling well." Mrs. Wang sighed and touched his face. "But what is the solution? It is a descendant of the gods. It is the Chitose school of the gods. They are very powerful. So even Three hundred years ago, no one dared to question them during the disaster of Ping Wang. What strength did you have to incite it?"

Xue Zhengxuan’s eyes are resentful and seem to want to say something, but he does not know how to say it. Finally, he threw the towel from the wound, and went to the window alone. He held his hand in front of the window and looked at the outer round of the moon.

"You said what happened to the burning child at the moment." After a long time, he was hoarse and asked.

Mrs. Wang dragged her long skirt and walked over to him: "The husband..."

The moonlight sprinkled on the man's face, and the face that had always been a haha's face smirked at the moment, and it seemed so exhausting, and even some old-fashioned.

"Although he is not my brother's biological family, he even killed my relatives. But for so many years... Do you understand? For so many years, I have taken him... I..."

"I understand. You don't have to say it anymore, I know." Mrs. Wang's eyes are also a bit red. "I am the same."

Xue Zhengyi buried his face in his palm, groaning with pain and pain, suddenly bowed his body and coughed hard.

It’s hard to stop the cough, and the hand is removed, but it is the blood of a palm.

Mrs. Wang was ashamed, and she was in a hurry: "How do you hurt so much? Lie down, let me see."

"There is nothing to look at." Xue Zhengyi wiped the blood with a towel. "I was injured by a little internal injury. It will be good for a few days."

"Tomorrow, you should stop running outside. You look at the head of another family. Who is like you?"

Xue Zhengyi seems to want to squeeze out a smile, but he is too tired, both physically and mentally exhausted, and the smile is half-finished: "The children and Yu Heng are still missing, and these days are not quite flat."

The impermanent towns at the foot of the mountain have been murdered a few days ago, and nine people have died. At this time, let me sit?"

"..." Mrs. Wang stared at him with a pair of eyes and looked at him silently.

Xue Zhengyi patted her head: "You know me, it's impossible."

Mrs. Wang bit her lip and said: "Then you will rest at least for a day. You have been vomiting blood, you can't be contemptuous. Can you forget how your brother went?"

The last trace of smile on Xue Zhengyi’s face also condensed.

He saw Mrs. Wang’s eyes falling, and the soft eyelashes under the faint faint sorrow, and could not help but sigh, saying, “You, don’t cry... I’m so big... oh, ok. Then, I will stay in the martial art tomorrow, and I will not go anywhere. I will take a day off and then go out again. Is this the head office?"

Mrs. Wang choked: "I don't care about you, the tube can't help, wherever you go."

"Where can it be." Xue Zhengxuan smiled bitterly. "Well, don't worry. You see me for decades, what big winds have not seen, it's okay. You believe me, it will be alright."

On the second day, Xue Zhengyi did not go out, but he did not idle, and he was mulling in the library.

"Respect the Lord, the Lord has given you the medicine, and you should drink it hot."

Xue Zheng said: "Let's put it."

He was thinking about the important places, and he didn't have any thoughts to get up and left, and he was busy until the afternoon. Later, due to the onset of abdominal rib injury, I thought of slowly taking the already cold medicine.

Stepping out of the library, Xue Zhengyi asked the disciple who was guarding the door: "Mrs. and Xue Meng?"

"The young master has just returned from the foot of the mountain. My wife is burning incense in the ancestral hall, and is going to call them?"

Xue Zhengyi originally wanted to talk to them and rest for a while. But when I was about to speak, I felt that I was dizzy in front of me - he was old, and he was no longer a young man in his twenties. He recovered well after being injured and slept.

He had to serve the old.

"Forget it, don't bother them." Xue Zhengyi endured the pain and smiled reluctantly. "I went to the retreat to meditate for a while. If there is something, come there and look for me."

"Yes, respect the Lord."

Xue Zhengyi raised his hand and patted the shoulder of the disciple. It was about a time when the fusion of the disciples was awkward. His whole state of mind was a bit desolate. At this time, he looked at the little disciple in front of him and couldn’t help but sigh in the heart. It was the most lush. Great good years.

And he, if you can do something more for the good times of these young people, then it would be better.

"Go, those books that I have messed up, bother you..."

He didn't finish his words. Suddenly someone rushed to see Xue Xingyu squatting down, looking at the look of a big disaster, and said: "Respect the Lord! Not good!"

This all-night screaming of Xue Zhengqi's abdominal ribs is even more painful. Oh, really, I knew that I should let the greedy wolf diagnose it first.

His face was white, but he still had a painful question: "I am in a hurry, what happened?"

The disciple said with a deep heart: "Dan Xindian came to all the martial art in the upper sect, even including the world's first big party."

Xue Zhengxuan snorted and vaguely guessed the reason, but still said: "...what they are doing."

"It is said that this time, there are too many complaints and doubts about the death and death. They said that they can no longer sit back and watch, and they must ask the Lord and ask the Lord." The disciple said more and more, I almost have to shed tears. "Respect the Lord, look at their posture, I am afraid it will force us to disperse."

"..." Xue Zhengyi's face was blue and green, biting his molars, raising his hand at several acupuncture points on the abdominal ribs, and endured discomfort. "It's true and false, it's too deceptive."

He turned his head and said to the bookstore: "Don't say anything to the lady before, lest she worry too much."

"Yes."

After the command, Xue Zhengyi slammed the little disciple who was stunned on the ground and said, "Come with me to the front hall."

Chapter 282

In the Danxin Hall, Xue Zhengxuan and the elders of the disciples were sullen and staring at the uninvited guests.

Sure enough, these big sects are almost all alive, and even Jiang Yan, who still understands the affair, is standing there. Although he does not want to target a certain sect, it is a big deal, and there are too many clues pointing to the shackles of life and death in the past few days. As a leader of the Xianmen, he has to come to the public.

The disciples of the dead and the dead were found one after another in these days, and they were not happy in their hearts. Today, they were suddenly pointed to their noses, "early guilty" and "hidden criminals". Moreover, the ups and downs of the world have been questioned, and there have been many questions in the language. When talking about it, the air has already filled with a strong fire/medication.

"Xuemou said it again, the dead and the dead have never deliberately disclosed the forbidden scroll to the ink, nor did they condone the ink burning practice, did not steal the precious pieces, and did not intend to use this ban to master the real world. , Yu Heng and ink burning are not in the moment, please be reasonable."

In the upper martial art school, Bitanzhuang, Jiangdongtang and the dying of death and death are the deepest.

Jiang Dongtang is now only a hundred people, all of which are clearly defined on the bright side and Huang Xiaoyue, but not in the bones. When they looked at each other, some people sneered: "Xue Zhangmen, there is nothing to say. Although you are innocent, the various doubts are pointing to yours. People are separated from each other, who knows what you want to do." ?"

"Yes."

"These chess games that have been ravaged by the blood and the wind in these days are all related to your life and death. If it is a coincidence, it is too far-fetched."

Some people in Bitanzhuang said: "I don't know if you know about it. The dead and the sorrows are used to replace the demon slayers. They often take no more than 20 years. The most bitter and tiring ones are rushing to do it. After finishing the work, I don’t ask for a return. It’s probably good intentions once or twice, but in 20 years, don’t you feel too ridiculous?”

Xue Zhengyi said with anger: "I started with my brothers, and the original intention of the establishment was to protect the people of the dawn of the Xiujie." Xue Mou was a heart, I was innocent."

"Dan Xin?" The man sneered, "A piece of Dan Xue Zhengzheng, taught a scorpion who sneaked a ban, and raised a master who killed and robbed the prison. Now these two biggest devils are from your life and death, What is the face of Xue Zhangmen and the word "Dan Xin"?"

Someone helped me: "It's good. Xuezhangmen said it is really nice, haha, sheltering the people from the dawn of the wind? Who is not stupid in this world, no one will do good things for twenty years and not return. conspiracy!"

"There are so many unidentified pieces before, it will never be made overnight. Maybe in the past few years, the face of the demon guard is on the bright side, but privately, it secretly raises a wave of treasure. Chess..."

Xue Meng is also in the hall. He sighed with anger in these days. He heard that he couldn’t bear it anymore. He stood up and smashed the knife, and the cup was dumped, and he was all over the place.

"You haven't compiled enough."

Xue Meng raised his eyes and looked at him: "It’s a bad idea to make a shack in private. Going to the wilderness and swearing, who gives you the courage?!"

Jiang Dongtang is the end of the strong, after the death of so many seniors, the referral has been a bit of a come. The new generation of heads is a young girl who is only 16 or 17 years old. In addition to being beautiful and nothing, it is still relying on the support and love of several brothers in the party.

The little girl didn't understand the rules. She didn't eat the bitterness. She probably felt that the people in the world would be as convinced as her unfortunate brothers, and she would be impressed by her flowery appearance. So she smiled and said: "Zi Ming brother, don't be angry." ""

Xue Meng: "..."

"If you are angry, you will not be handsome."

"Hey!" Someone immediately laughed.

Rao was in a tense atmosphere in the hall. Listening to her opening, many of the monks had some tension on their faces. Like the big martial art of the Fire Phoenix Pavilion, the disciples looked at the "one faction" with the look of dementia."

The girl became more and more aware that the men in the world had dumped her, lifted the white neck and lifted the white neck. I was intoxicated and said: "What grievances can't be said with peace of mind? As long as you make sense, take me as the head, Shang Xiujie The heads of the top ten sects will preside over justice for you."

When this statement came out, the original heads who were still solemn and solemn were somewhat unstoppable.

The horses in the Taoyuan Mountain Villa are merchants, and they have the fastest response to the numbers. He sighed: "Hey? How many martial arts in the upper cult? Ten?"

The main moonlight floor of the Snow Palace Palace has no expression: "She is wrong. You should not hear it."

Ma Wei is a kind-hearted person, immediately "oh oh" two voices, smiled and did not interject.

However, the long-haired faces of the Eunuch Elders of the Wushou Temple and the Qinghuangge of the Qinghuangge can not look good. However, the sum of all the heads of the heads is probably not as dark as the half of Jiang Yan.

Although Jiang Yan did not speak, he was obviously offended by the girl's "thinking that I am the first". While rubbing his own ring, he stared at the little girl.

The girl is still making a big splash: "We are all talking about things. Everyone expresses their thoughts and talks about guessing. There is nothing wrong with it."

Xue Meng’s tone is splattered: “When you tell the story, go home and talk. In the middle of the battle, there is no place for you to talk!”

"?"

The little girl stunned, and suddenly she burst into tears. She turned her head and yelled at the masters of Jiangdongtang, who were behind him. "He, he doesn't make sense - he yells at me... oh, I Don't just say a word, how is he so fierce..."

Jiang Yan: "..."

Mingyue Building: "..."

Elder Archangel: "..."

Someone on the scene whispered: "Jiangdongtang is over."

"Who is this little girl? Not as good as Huang Xiaoyue..."

Mei Hanxue is also in the crowd. He smells his nose and smiles. "That can't be said, it is better than Huang Xiaoyue. The little girl is at least good."

This girl was crying, and Jiang Dongtang immediately had her brother's urgency. There was a white-faced scholar-like figure who first wiped her face with her handkerchief. Then she turned her head and said to Xue Meng: "It is true that this is not the disciple of Chu Zongshi, the cousin of Mo Zongshi."

Now, the late night of the Chu and the burning of the ink for Xue Meng, it is like the dragon's inverse scale, where can I mention?

Xue Meng narrowed his eyes in danger.

The partiality of the guy still doesn't know, the lips touched and sneered: "You are a criminal, the devil's brother, where is the face of the face?"

The voice has not fallen, the dragon city is cold, and it points to the neck of the man! All four are silent.

The man did not think that Xue Meng would actually do it directly, through the cold blade, but see Xue Meng's eyes very cold, reason is difficult to save, could not help but face a whiter, opened his mouth but did not dare to scream again.

"Yeah, I am a prestige. Can't I prevail?"

Xue Meng poked the man's neck with a knife tip. His angry hands were shaking, and the strength was difficult to control. He had pierced the skin of the man and saw the blood.

"It's you, what are you. It's also worthy of being a dead-hearted person, saying nothing to me?"

Xue Zhengxuan saw Xue Meng violently, but he calmed down a little. He sighed: "Meng, you sit down."

Xue Meng slammed back: "Do I have to say it by them?!"

Xue Zhengyi: "..."

Xue Meng took his eyes off his father. The wolf-like gaze forced every person who dared to whisper his whisper. His chest was ups and downs, and he spoke. Even if he tried to maintain his calm, there was still a trace of anger in his voice.

"It's so ridiculous. For so many years, the dead and the dead have not been unjust, the disciples are running around - what is it for? Fame and fortune? Money? Forbidden?"

The dragon city is high hanging and the snow is shining.

"You are a fairy, a gentleman, a hero, a head." One word and one word, the words are broken, and the face is cut, Xue Meng is red-eyed. "I will ask you..."

"Twenty years ago, when the town of Wuchang was about to become a ghost town, where are you?"

"When fifteen years ago, when you were in the middle of the sky, when you were in the ten rooms and nine empty spaces, where are you?"

"Three years ago, the enchantment of Choi Butterfly Town was damaged, the ghosts were rampant, the hungry people were displaced, where are you?"

There was a slight splash of water in his eyes, but the voice was stunned and cold.

"In these years, how many times have you been pleading for help from you, and asking for your pity and help? Is it useful? How much does the Confucianism Gate have to pay in order to get rid of the demon? The cultivators are not enough to eat, and there is money. Please move the Buddha."

Some people were said to be a bit stunned. Some people did reflect on their heads, but some people were screaming and trying to take all the sewage to a Confucianist door. "Yes, Confucianism was really black, but it has nothing to do with us. I sent a demon to demon, and the money I asked for was only a few hundred dollars. Xue Shaozhu could not knock a boat with a stick."

"Oh. Hundreds of silver." Xue Meng suddenly sneered, "Dao Chang, have you seen the towns and villages in the middle of the city?"

"..."

"Look at the south of the border, you go to see the ghost town in the capital, go to the foot of the eyebrows, look at how those people live, then you come back to me, you ‘only’ receive a few hundred silver.”

Master Xuanjing sighed: "Xue Shaozhu, Laojiao knows your heartache."

Suddenly, but the words turned.

"However, no matter what, the sorrows of life and death have indeed caused the disciples to practice the ban, and there are also elders who deliberately cover up, intercepting the Tianyin Pavilion, and even killing the victims, killing 11 monks in Tianyin Pavilion. Sin, the sin of death and death is also difficult to escape."

Xuemeng's anger is getting stronger, like a black cloud covering his eyebrows: "Master, Tianyin Pavilion has a lot of handcuffs at the time, you have seen it. They want my master and ink burning life! My teacher Don’t you go, do you still have to sit in the same place and die?!”

His temper was fierce, and this sentence blurted out, but immediately seized the empty space for others.

"Well? According to the meaning of this, Xue Shaozhu actually thought that Chu Ning and Mo-burning were right?"

"There are so many reasons to kill people, and it really is that the upper beam is not right."

"This is a concept of right and wrong, it is so chilly. I see this life and death, it is really impossible to stay."

When I heard the last sentence, Xue Zhengyi was also rushing into the blood, and the pain in the wound was more intense. His ten fingers secretly tightened, endured this pain, and then stared at the man who spoke, his face became extremely gloomy: "This fairy is probably laughing."

"They didn't laugh."

Xue Zhengyi raised his eyes and looked for his voice. He turned his head slowly. He murmured: "Jiang Yan..."

From the beginning to the present, Jiang Yan did not say anything dirty, but did not open his mouth to help. He wore a light blue embroidered silver thread Du Ruohua robe, standing in the temple, can not see the mood.

Jiang Yan didn't really want to smash the beach, but if he didn't open it, I was afraid that the scene would become more and more anxious, so he moved his eyelashes and raised his eyes: "According to the rules of the repairing world, if a disciple practices a ban, no matter Whether the martial art directly instructs it is unfavorable to the instructor and the monitoring is not good."

Xue Zhengyi’s face was white.

Jiang Yan continued: "To prevent the aftermath, once discovered, such sects will dismiss the disciples when they stand, and force the lock. This point, Xue Zhangmen will not be unclear."

It is not unclear.

However, although this rule has been drawn up, it has not really been followed in the centuries.

How many disciples are there in a martial art? What did each disciple do, how could it be managed? Looking back at the front, regardless of Confucianism, lonely moon night, even no sorrow temple, Shangqing Pavilion, which one did not have a few people who practiced the three major bans? For example, if you are guilty of sin, you will be known for the technique of rebirth. Who will go to siege the Temple of Nostalgia and let the abbot close the temple?

This rule is just for the sake of restraint, but never to cash it. Only in today's situation, the wall is pushed by people, and they are afraid of possessing conspiracy in the dead and dying, and will carry out this paper empty text, forcing the dead and the sin.

Xue Zhengyi did not answer, but described the gray defeat, staring at Jiang Yan, seems to be surrounded by the lonely wolf.

For a long while, he asked Jiang Yan: "Do you not think this is ridiculous?"

Jiang Yan replied: "I feel absurd. But the text is so, I can't distinguish it for your class."

"Wen Wen..." Xue Zhengyi smiled, and the knuckles of the animal's head embossed on the edge of the seat, closing his eyes and sighing. "Twenty years. The order of the upper revision is still strict and strict. It’s wide and it hasn’t changed at all.”

Jiang Yan seems to have a conflict with this matter, and licked his lips, no more words. Instead, the other sects of the other sects began to show their heads and said, "Please ask Xue Zhangmen to follow the order and dissolve the shackles of death."

"Take a guilty punishment, Xue Zhangmen has a number of hearts."

"Everything must be done according to the rules. You have made so many things. Do you dare to say that you are innocent?"

In the snoring, some people turned their heads and said to Jiang: "Gang Jiangmen, we have received the complaints of major cities and towns before we came. The death and death of this life is difficult to escape. You are the head of the public. Let’s make a statement."

Jiang Yan: "..."

Everyone's eyes were concentrated on him. Jiang Yanmei was low-lying. After a while, he whispered: "There are so many doubts about your faction. Nowadays, the situation is turbulent and cannot be lightened. Xue Zhangmen, the rule of death and death Dispose of as a disposition. If you have evidence of self-certification in the future, you can do it again..."

When he had not finished speaking, he heard a sigh: "Jiang Yan, you have to deceive too much!"

"...Xue Shaozhu." Jiang Yan was a bit sloppy. He has always been a singer. Now he has been ordered to do things. He was in a bad mood. At this time, he was still named by a little guy and said that he was "deceiving too much" and could not help but feel more emotional. difference. His forehead was slightly fretting, and then he narrowed his eyes. "I have told you many times. The elders talk, the younger learn to shut up. You are also in your twenties, but the people are more than the same. Oh, I’m afraid it’s more than one.”

Xue Meng listened to his words, but he was angry and burned. He kicked the monk standing in front of him and flew straight toward Jiang Yan. He slammed Jiang Yan’s clothes and slammed him. On the beam column.

The eyes are like a bayonet.

He doesn't have to hate life: "Jiang Yan!! You still like to compare me with Nangong? How can you not compare with Nangong Liu?"

Jiang Yan was offended and looked more and more cold: "Look at your young age, first mention you. Let go."

Xue Meng suddenly ignored it. He had been forced to be a little crazy, and he continued to gnash his teeth: "In my opinion, you are more deprecated than Nangong Liu as the head of the door! You are black and white upside down, so it depends!" you you……"

Everyone was amazed, and the disciples of the lonely moon night didn’t even have time to react. They never believed that someone would be rude to the one.

He stared at Jiang Yan's cold eyes, and his silver teeth shattered.

"Jiang Yan, you are a beast."

This is still a good time, Dan Xin Temple instantly fried the pot.

"Xue Meng! You are arrogant! You are a younger generation, how to talk to the elders!"

"What day's pride, cultivation has eaten in the dog's belly!"

Jiang Yan slightly lifted his chin and sneaked into the sin. He stared at Xue Meng for a while, then slowly raised his hand and caught Xue Meng’s hand, only one force.

Hey.

The brittle sound of the bones.

"Well!"

"Menger!"

Jiang Yan is like abandoning the residue, cold and cold will Xue Meng to a side, carefully smoothed his collar folds, and then opened.

Not against Xue Meng, it is against Xue Zhengyi.

"Xue Zhengyi, you really taught a good son."

Xue Meng was pinched to dislocation, but still roared to rush up, but the person who was alone on the moon night would not let him do so, and they would block the sword.

Jiang Yan finally had no patience, and there was a fire in the eyebrows. He was tired of saying: "Distributed."

"Distributed!"

"The shackles of life must be distributed!"

The crowd of black people is forced to come over, nothing can be more united than fear, and the same meaning is repeated in different mouths -

The shackles of life and death must be disbanded today. These caves cannot be left.

Chapter 283

The atmosphere in the Dan Heart Hall is stretched to the extreme, and it burns at a point. The disciples of the dead and the sorrows and the disciples of the upper cults are opposite each other and do not give each other.

The bowstring is full, and then pull it down, either the string is broken or the arrow is out.

At this time, one person in the crowd suddenly stood up, but it was the palace owner of the Snow Palace, Ming Yue Lou.

The sound of the Moonlight Tower is gentle and pleasant, breaking the dangerous silence: "Please wait for you to wait a moment, let the text be dead, and the people be alive. You will compare your heart, think about it, and now there is no evidence to prove that the chess pieces are made of life and death. It’s true that there is a bit of fire in the hard work. I don’t think so, let’s take the ban on the shackles of death and death, and carefully judge and make decisions.”

Master Xuan Mirror shook his head: "The Ming Palace Lord and Xue Zhangmen have deep personal training, but they are biased. The shackles of death have already violated the taboos of the realm of cultivation, and where do they need to be carefully examined?"

"The abbot said this, many rules of this sect have been violated." Ming Yue Lou whispered, but the attitude is very firm, she warmly said, "If you want to calculate, I have not forgotten your guilty master."

"You-!" Xuan Mirror's face was dark, and then a pair of sleeves, re-packing the face solemn, hands clasped together, "save the skill, you can compare with the chess game."

"Is that saving the man's surgery is not the three major bans?"

The person who spoke was Xue Zhengyi. At this time, a few people close to him have already noticed the wrongness of Xue Zhengxuan. The man who is very popular in this week is a little angry, and the color of his lips is more white.

Xuan Jingdao: "...naturally counts."

Xue Zhengyi closed his eyes and gasped, then re-visited the abbot of Xuan Mirror, hoarsely: "In this case, how can a master be able to save people because of rebirth, and then exclude it from the rules?"

Mysterious mirrors are awkward, I don’t know how to defend them, and they are hard-lined: "This is not the same thing."

The disciple of the dead and the dying is angry and goes forward, and asks: "Why isn't it a matter of fact? There are also many people who have been practicing the ban on the martial arts. It is not successful. If this rule is to punish me, is it also? Should you close all of you?"

The greedy wolf elders are sinister and sinful: "There is no sin in the temple of no sorrow. There is Hua Binan on the night of the moon. Why do you only say that you are dead and sorrowful? Jiang Jiangmen wants to close the door of death and death. It is better to lead by example and announce the dissolution of the lonely moon night. ""

I don’t want to be an army like this. The sects of the sects are somewhat guilty. Those who are so screaming are also quiet at this moment, and they don’t want to bring the disaster to their own door.

Xue Zhengxuan coughed a few times, his eyelashes drooped, and quietly covered up the bloodstained by the palm of his hand. He raised his smile and said: "Since all the factions have done the same thing, and the so-called dead scorpion steals the pieces. The nonsense that attempts to subvert the upper and lower worlds cannot be settled, so Xue is rude - please leave immediately."

"This……"

When I came to the air, I thought that I could dismiss this alien martial art, but I didn’t expect to make such a situation that was unscrupulous. The faces of everyone were sometimes ugly.

Jiang Yan has no intention of forcing death and death. But before it was a difficult ride, I had to. At this time, when everyone saw it, he closed his eyes and said: "Go ahead."

Hearing this sentence, a piece of stone in Xue Zhengxuan's heart was finally dropped. He gently sighed and sighed, and his tight back relaxed. But the ribs suddenly hurt, and his eyes swept down, seeing the mottled blood on the waist side of the dark blue robes.

The injury I suffered yesterday was really too heavy. After a while, be sure to find a greedy wolf elder to take a good look...

He still didn't want to finish it, and there was a disciple who had a sword in his mouth and entered the temple. They are all cold and sullen, and when they enter the door, they sing:

"Xue Zhengxuan, you really have a face. The words of death and death have never been to the words of Jane Chess, how can you say it!"

Everyone did not think that Tianyin Pavilion would come, but they were all shocked and turned back. But seeing behind them, there are dozens of people who are unassuming, and there are still a few faces that are familiar. They seem to be the village heads of several small villages in the middle of the village.

"what happened……"

One of the brothers of Tianyin Pavilion said: "Are you not asking for evidence? Is this enough?"

More disciples said to the people: "The filthy land of death and life, the ambition of the wolf, the years have been spreading the fishing nets in the middle of the shackles, forcing ordinary people to sacrifice their children and boys to cultivate the chess game - these are the witnesses What else is identifiable?!"

Xue Zhengyi stood up, his eyes were fierce, and his throat was bloody: "No words!"

"Is it nonsense? You and I don't count, you ask them."

The dozens of villagers were like frightened ducks, swaying together, shivering, and squinting, no one dared to speak first.

Xue Meng's eyes, suddenly recognized a familiar face inside, suddenly said: "Liu village chief?"

The villager Liu surnamed a fierce sigh, and Yu Guang twitched him, and he slid away like a fish that didn’t keep his hands.

"What are you doing?" Xue Meng hadn't been able to react at the moment. He was almost innocent and lovely, even though this innocence seemed so pitiful at the moment.

"I..." Liu Cunchang swallowed, his skinny fingers pinched at the corner of the robe. He kept staring at the ground and his feet swayed.

The voice of Tianyin Pavilion is strong, and he said: "To tell the truth, if you tell lies, Tianyin Pavilion will always be impartial and will not tolerate it."

Liu Cunchang snorted and slammed down, grabbing the ground with his head: "I... I, I said! The shackles of death and death have been smashing the devil's voice in these years, saying that it is not taken. In fact, it has always been a must. We gave them to the boys and girls in the village..."

Xue Zhengyi was furious and took the case: "Fart!"

The voice of Tianyin Pavilion is louder than Xue Zhengyi: "Go ahead. What do they want to do with boys and girls?"

"I, I don't know." The head of the village was holding a greasy sweat, swallowing a spit, and his shoulders were screaming. "It is said that I took it to the mountain to practice, but I have never seen it again. Little tiger, small stone ...the dolls are not coming back."

The people of Tianyin Pavilion turned their heads and asked the monks of the dead.

"Can you have the child mentioned by the village chief?"

"..."

Nature is not going to be there.

The blood of Xue Meng’s body was boiling and stirring, and the little tiger’s small stone... When he rushed to save the stormy little village, he was already buried in the belly of the demon.

"Lie!" The chest anger is burning, the throat is sweet, and Xue is almost vomiting blood. "You will be envious, can your conscience be safe?!!"

Liu Cunchang looked pale and sorrowful, and tears continued to flow down. But I don’t know what Tianyin’s court had forced him. He still insisted: “There is no good sect in the life of death... They, a face-to-face set... behind the set... In the shackles, did... done countless What hurts the world..."

I’m not daring to look at any one person, but to touch the ground:

"The shackles of life and death are under the hegemony!!"

Amazing.

If you say that the words of these dozens of grass-roots people on weekdays, the monks will not be fully convinced. However, most of the people present at the scene were originally sent to the death and death, and they already had their own judgments in their hearts. Therefore, they received such evidence and immediately accepted them in full, and they were furious.

"I said that they will never do good things!"

"Xue Zhengyi, what else do you have to argue?"

Xue Zhengyi, Xue Meng, and the disciples and elders of the dead and the dead are all stunned.

Before that, many sects came together to commit crimes. They still felt angry and could wave their arms and scream for grievances and jealousy.

But at this moment, at first glance, it was actually a few village chiefs and dozens of people in the middle of the country... those who used to have eggs, white noodles, and tears to thank the immortal beings for living, saying that the grassy ring does not think Reporter.

These dozens of Zhongshan wolves. They personally put the knife into the heart of this piece of Dan.

It’s very painful and cold.

Such as falling into the ice cave, all over the body.

Those witnesses came forward one by one, the first one was still awkward, the second leg was still trembling, the third one was able to look directly at the crowd, the fourth started righteous words, the fifth learned to add fuel and vinegar... people like geese The head geese are in front of them, and all the people follow.

The so-called public funds, three into a tiger. They talked and said, they were so passionate, they talked and said that they were self-righteous.

Xue Meng only feels * and feels cold.

He once thought that people have a spine and can't break it, but they don't expect to walk the dog to live. They can drink feces.

"Yeah, that's what the chess piece..." It was the turn of the matchmaker in Jiacun. She also came to testify. "They forced us to give them the rewards of demon, and don't take money, only small dolls." This is the rule we all know in the world."

Jiang Yan frowned and asked: "Why do you still want to find them?"

The matchmaker will take the peach powder to wipe the tears: "No way, poor, and can not afford the grandfather of the monk in the repairing world, you can only pick the dolls in the village to send the past ... said to be sent to the death of the sorrow, But the big guys have counts in their hearts, oh... these hard-working children have been sent, and they can’t live anymore."

Say your chest and cover your face.

There are also scholars who have come to the test: "It is true. If you die, you will not collect money. We still have to live. It is also daring to anger." Fortunately, there are eyes in the sky, and many lines of injustice will be self-defeating. Tail. Dear friends, please be sure to be the master of the dawn of the lower world!"

When Jiang Dongtang stood up, someone stood up: "Reassure, the upper revision of the world is clear and white, and today's presence is full of famous people with heads and faces. They all have a hundred years of history and will act with impartiality."

The villagers who came to testify were grateful to the zeros, and they all went forward to cry for the evil deeds of life and death.

They know that since they have done perjury, they have never looked back. If the dying of life and death does not fall today, he will definitely liquidate with himself.

In the hall, I couldn’t see the living beings for a while. I could only see one of the devils in the whirlwind, open the * mouth, bite the old wooden pillar, and bite the plain roof tile wall... The threshold of the "Dan Xin Dian" that has not been repaired due to insufficient funds.

Bloody.

Xue Meng was shaking, he closed his eyes and his tears rolled down. He hoared: "How do you say that you can export?"

Is Tianyin Pavilion honored by Ronghua?

Still forced by life.

How to say how to export, how to do it...

The matchmaker's scarlet mouth is still open and closed, and the fragmented words are scented into Xue Meng's ear—“the sneak peek of the dead”, “the grasshoppers” and “the virgins”.

Words and sentences are distorted into awkward nightmares.

"They are bullying and practicing."

"The coat of arms and beasts, the road is awesome!"

"That is the late night and the burning of the ink is the most disgusting. In order to refine the pieces, how many innocent people have been harmed..."

The bones hate and the palms tremble.

Reason collapses.

"You - how to export?! How to do it!!"

Anger like an ant hole ruined the last levee in the heart. Xue Meng slammed the wrong elbow back, and then the blade violently started. The dragon city screamed and screamed, but the reaction was not reflected.

The matchmaker who was arranging the "daughter's disciple--the young girl" looked down at her chest, and then wowed a spurt of blood, and even if she didn't even have time to say a word, she slammed it on the floor.

Dead.

It is strange to say that the people of Tianyin Pavilion stood by the group of villagers, but they did not stop it - because of surprise? Or did it not respond at all? The answer is unknown, and no one will think deeply.

Everyone's eyes are gathered on Xue Meng, blood beads ticking, down the dragon's knife tip, one drop, two drops. Converging into a pool of deep red pool.

The abyss falls and the phoenix can't escape.

"Ah!" Suddenly someone screamed like a doomsday and finally ringed. "Kill, kill..."

"Xue Meng kills witnesses! Xue Meng is crazy!!"

When the temple was smashed, it was even more chaotic. I don’t know who was the first to move, and the long-repression anger was sprayed and cracked. The bowstring breaks, and the people of death and death are finally fighting with the upper-class

Private hatred, fear, and exclusion of dissidents.

The war contained too much selfishness and the scene was lost.

In a piece of sword and light sword, Xue Zhengyi endured a severe pain in the mouth, and snarled low: "Don't fight, stop!"

The person who can die is listening to him, but he does not stop in the upper world. In this case, the battle will not stop, Xue Meng’s heart has been smashed, and it’s not like it’s like it. This kind of brokenness spreads into the eyes and it’s wet red. He’s holding a scimitar to kill the evil spirits, but not The place choked and kept crying.

Perhaps only at this moment, the phoenix really understands how the ink burns when he is young.

In the drunken building, when a hatchet kills the whole building, the desperation, nausea, excitement, and self-disgust. Nothing is important anymore, anger burns his heart, and blood can be extinguished.

Suddenly, a sword resisted his attack. The sword was full of Yingying blue light, and it was very familiar with it. But Xue Meng couldn’t think of it at the moment. He just yelled at the ugly Snow Palace. : "Get out!! Don't stop me!"

"Don't fight, it will be a disaster to fight again, you calm down."

Into the ear is a familiar voice.

who is it?

Xue Meng can't think of it, and he doesn't want to think again.

Pain and hatred have destroyed his heart. One's forbearance has its limits. After that, the * is also a ghost, and the saint is also a Shura.

One buddha, one mind.

His eyes burned red, and at the moment, only hate, endless hate, the hate that burned from Tianyinge, finally burst out and swallowed him.

"roll!"

The dragon city collided with the blue sword, but the man who looked like a face was not inferior. He struggled with him, and a pair of blue eyes stared at Xue Meng’s face.

"If you don't calm down again, you will only be worse off."

"What are you counting! Are you taking care of you?!!"

The knife is more and more sturdy, but the sword is calm and uncomfortable.

Bi-colored eyes looked at the black, so familiar eyes.

……who is it……

"Zi Ming, don't fight."

The low voice is ringing in the ear, and there are not many emotions, but still can hear a trace of anxiety and pity.

Xue Meng's crazy and chaotic brain seems to flash a glimmer of light, his fierce and fierce offensive pauses, but his chest is still undulating.

At the moment, it was full of blood, and the hair was confusing. He stared at the ugly strange man: "You..."

If you don’t speak, you will feel a gust of wind from behind.

Xue Meng suddenly turned back, to raise the dragon city photo frame is too late, the arm was opened a * mouth, see the bones! !

"Menger!!"

When Xue Zhengxuan saw that his son was injured, he rushed from the long step and rescued him.

The more than ten elites in Tianyinge were the dying souls of the wooden smoke. At this time, they looked at each other and they rushed toward Xuemeng.

The strength of these individual soldiers is similar to that of the elders of death and death. They all go to the already wounded Xuemeng to kill the tricks, and they may have the life of the phoenix.

"Menger... Menger!"

But when it was too far apart, Xue Zhengyi couldn’t come, but there were more people who would go over to him and embarrass him. Xue Zhengyi's protector is eager, under the attack, he is also traumatized and bloody.

Xue Meng gritted his teeth and slammed his knife. Two people were retired, but his arms were bloody, and the entire arm was shaking.

Suddenly a red light flashed -

"Beware!"

Between the electric and the Flint, the blond man who was only fighting with him blocked him from killing.

Tianyin Pavilion disciples narrowed their eyes: "Take a traitor to the Snow Palace? Should you stand with the dying of life?"

The blue man did not answer, and the sword was like a frost. He turned back and looked at the white face and looked fierce. Xue Meng said: "Go to the uncle. Hurry up."

"I..." Xue Meng glared at the edge of his arm. In fact, he couldn't help himself. The white bones under the flesh and blood were all exposed to the air, and the entire arm was stained with blood.

His lips were swaying and seemed to want to say something, but did not say, his eyes went to Xue Zhengyi.

Only this one, the last blood color on Xue Meng’s face faded.

He was almost screaming, screaming at Xue Zhengyi, regardless of danger, yelling: "Hey!!!"

Xue Zhengyi glanced at him and immediately responded. He brushed his hand and lifted his hand to the offensive of the person behind the steel wristband. Then he slammed the man and slammed it on the ground. Xue Meng first sighed and sighed, and then did not want to squeeze into his father.

He slammed Xue Zhengyi’s arm, and he was sad and happy: "Great, hey, you are fine... you are fine..."

Xue Zhengxuan had torn the old wound because of the blow, and there was a large blood in the waist, but he was already covered with scarlet, so Xue Meng did not notice that he was holding his father. Hand, said: "Hey, I want revenge, today I will have these people's lives, no life, I-"

"Cough..."

The voice stopped quietly.

Xue Meng saw Xue Zhengyi squatting on the ground, and a large amount of congestion was found in his throat.

"Hey...?" Phoenix was shocked at once. He was so big. He had never seen his father suffer such a heavy injury. He suddenly had a slap in his head. "Hey, what happened to you? You..."

Xue Zhengyi's blood-stained lips opened and closed. He held Xue Meng's arm and hoared: "Stop."

"……what……"

Xue Zhengyi stared at Xue Meng's face, but Yu Guang also swept the wind around him.

Is this a fierce battle that he wants?

There are shouts everywhere, red blood flow and white brain splashes. The black hands have not yet been seen, and the major sects have begun to kill each other...

Xue Zheng said: "Let the people who are dead and dead stop."

"But they -"

"What can you do if you fight like this?" Xue Zhengyi was defeated. "Who can get what he wants? Is it the pain of the sentiment or the dying of the sect?"

Xue Meng did not say anything, but his eyes were red, and even his fingertips were shaking.

"Go..." Xue Zhengyi gently pushed him, and Xue Meng’s tears fell. He almost climbed up from the ground and stood in front of his father, screaming:

"Armed! Don't fight!"

Chapter 284

This sound seemed to take all the strength and arrogance, and Xue Meng closed his eyes and his cheeks were hot and humid.

"stop fighting……"

But just like the fire of the original, it is easy to burn, but it is difficult to extinguish. There was a chaos in the Danxin Temple. It was already full of dead people and injured people. The blood of these people became hot oil, and the hatred and madness were ignited to the extreme. For a time, Xue Meng’s snoring, Xue Zhengyi’s sigh Not many people listened to it.

Even if I listened to it, the eyes that were both red and red would not stop.

The uneasiness of these days is too much. After a series of * cases, the sky leaked, the chess game was smashed, the dead man died in the night, Jiangdongtang made a mess, Bitanzhuang had no more than one day, and there was no mourning temple Buddha's blood. Many monks were present in the past days. Lost my friends and family...

Who is the mastermind? Who is lying?

There is no answer, but all the points lead to the door of death, so the accumulated hatred and fear broke out in this battle.

It is difficult to cover the water.

Xue Meng had experienced less wars. At this moment, he did not realize what this meant. He was up and down, standing in the same place and watching the crazy fight.

But Xue Zhengzheng already understands that when this matter comes to this step, I am afraid that it has been out of control until the initiators have never thought of it.

He bit his teeth, endured the pain of the wound, and endured the dim flower in front of him, grabbing Xue Meng’s shoulder: "You... hurry."

"father?!"

"Hurry up and go out!! Go to your mother's side, faster!"

But the voice did not fall, there are seven or eight people gathered in front of him, each killing red eyes: "Xue Meng, you kill my brother, I want you to pay for life!"

"The son of the animal!"

Xue Meng stood in the same place - he killed this man's brother? When... He clearly never hurt another person’s life, he never...

His whole mind is chaotic, and he bows his head in the chaos, seeing the dragon in his hand ticking his blood. He suddenly became creepy.

Yes, he killed.

He murdered - the first killer was the matchmaker who was perjury, then...

He can't remember. He just started to kill in a crazy way. He was full of blood on his face, full of faces... full of faces...

"what!!!"

Xue Meng sighed with sorrow, like a beast of dying, the forehead ribs bulging, and the eyes were cracked.

Why did it become like this... From the day the ink burned away, everything changed, and one pile was out of his control, and he was farther and farther away from himself.

"I murdered... oh... I murdered..."

He turned around, but it was Xue Zhengying's pale to terrible face. Xue Zhengyi grabbed his hand and dragged him behind him, killing himself with an iron fan and highlighting a * road in the encirclement.

"go."

The crumbling man broke the birth machine for the younger son.

"Meng, go."

Xue Meng stood still and did not move. At this time, someone rushed to death. Xue Zhengyi had been unable to stand up. He raised his hand and held the blade of the man. The blood flow was like a note, and the bone was visible. Xue Zhengxi snorted, and the other hand twitched out of the dagger from the waist and slammed into the spleen.

Blood spewing! !

"Go!!"

Xue Zheng was angry and screamed, and suddenly saw a person. He screamed: "With snow! Take him out! Take him out of here!"

Mei Hanxue has been playing here, and at this time, he finally broke through and went to Xuemeng. He first glanced at Xue Zhengyi, and there was a hidden pain in his eyes, and then he grabbed Xue Meng’s arm and said: "Come with me."

He said, with Xuemen, who had been stabbed and lost, went to the back door of Danxin Temple. Perhaps it was the retreat of the Snow Palace that made everyone not return to God for a moment. Mei Hanxue always took Xue Meng to the door of the temple, and finally someone reacted. He yelled at the two men and shouted: "I want to kill people." Run? Who will pay for it?!"

Mei Hanxue swayed the shackles with one hand, and counted the sounds, such as the broken stone, repelling the enemy in front. Just relaxing, I heard Xue Zhengyi shouted: "Be careful!"

I looked back violently, but I saw a person full of blood, smirked and slashed, and it was too late to stop. At this moment, suddenly an iron fan volleyed and smashed, and it was full of spiritual power. It made a spin in the air. The man stabbed and pierced the man's chest.

"uncle……"

"father……"

The two young men turned back, Xue Zhengyi gasped, and obviously this shot has cost him a lot of strength. The iron fan of the handle also fell to the ground after hitting the target.

The blood is stained with the fan. Whether it is Xue Lang or so beautiful, or the world is very ugly, the words on the fan can no longer be seen clearly.

Xue Zhengyi made a gesture to the two men and whispered: "Fast..."

The walk has not yet been said, and Xue Meng’s eyelashes are reflected in an eye-catching epee. A Jiangdongtang stood behind Xue Zhengyi with a fierce blade. Before Xue Meng had spoken out, he was facing his father.

Falling in and out! ! !

Lost sound.

Xue Meng opened his eyes and suddenly could not hear any surrounding sounds.

Just like the silence at the depths of the ocean, there is no wind, no heat, no light.

black.

Xue Meng's blood flow is like freezing and blasting, his hair is stunned, his eyes are cracked, and he stares at the man in front of him.

Xue Zhengyi saw his son saved in the past, and his face was still relaxed and gratified with a trace of glimpse.

There was a illusion of peace.

The sea is deep, endless, and boundless. The water is very cold, and it breaks into the musculoskeletal bones.

Very quiet, dead.

No sound... no sound...

No.

Until the blood of the water goes down the cracked heavenly cover, follow the eyes and follow the cheek.

Two lines, like red tears, dripping.

At this moment, Xue Meng seems to think that this is a joke, or that this is a dream, or that all of this can be turned back, and it is too late.

But not.

Too late. When people are concerned about cutting, they have weaknesses.

God of War will also die.

"father!!!!!!"

A bang, the mountain went into the sea.

All the silence has been broken since then - the waves are rolling up, thousands of piles of snow, but see the stone breaking, the flooding, the waves breaking, the waves breaking!

Xue Meng was crazy and went to Xue Zhengyi. He screamed and screamed and smashed and smashed nine smashes to break the movements of all the people. Everyone heard the sounds and turned back.

The waves split, and he stumbled from the crowd and marched toward Xue Zhengxuan.

Xue Zhengyi has been standing, and even the spine has not bent. He stared at Xue Meng like that, and a pair of tigers stared and kept groaning. The eyes made Xue Meng think that he was still alive, and he could save it, still...

When he was far away, Xue Zhengyi fell.

With a bang, it was almost straight and fell. The four people were scattered, and there were no more brothers.

Xue Meng stood still, and he never went forward.

He stood still in the same place, and he was trembling all the time, from a small shudder to a fierce tremor, lips, fingers, nowhere to be controlled by himself.

He muttered, asked the ground, cautiously.

He is hoarse: "Hey?"

The temple is full of blood.

No one answered any more.

When the Dragon City landed, Xue Meng slowly retreated and retreated... But where can he retreat? yesterday? I can't come back yesterday.

Any step in life, whether it is yin or not, whether it breaks the liver and intestines, as long as it falls, it can no longer look back.

Danxin Temple is quiet.

He didn't retire, his body swayed violently, and then he sat down on the ground, and he looked at everything in front of him, tears rolling down his face. He raised his hand and tried to wipe it, but he couldn't wipe it out indiscriminately, and the tears fell in a string.

Finally, he buried his face in the palm of his hand, and the throat squirmed in the throat. The choking was like ink on paper, and it was rendered - later it was ridiculous and full of ink stains.

"Hey...hey!!"

The pharynx eventually becomes a sputum.

The person who was in front of Xue Meng could no longer stand up, using his wide shoulders and a hearty smile to block the ups and downs of his life.

The youthful time of the glory of the sky, the worry-free years, will really end at this moment.

The land fell apart.

Chaos, everything is messed up.

The Jiangdongtang monk who had fallen into the hands of the sorcerer, the epee fell to the ground, he muttered: "No, no... not me..."

He couldn't help but shake his head and watched Xue Meng's madness in the same place. He was terrified and shook like a sieve. He wants to take the road and flee, but everyone's eyes are focused on him, and he can't retreat.

"No... you listen to me... I just wanted to knock down the weapons in his hands..."

He stared at Xue Meng and swallowed nervously.

Xue Meng is still immersed in great sadness at this moment, but he knows that once Xue Meng raises his eyes, there is only one way to wait for himself - death.

"Come and ask Mrs. Wang to come over." Elder elders are the most calm of all. He looked at Xuemeng, who was in the same place, still not standing up, still crying. He whispered to his disciples, "Be quick, for a while, I am afraid that no one will stop the Lord."

The disciple saw the head and died, his face full of tears: "But the master is the head, not the lady, and the lady never intervenes, she..."

"When are you, I still have some of these." He said, "Go!"

The disciple wiped his tears and nodded to the back of the mountain.

When the head is dead, everything finally calms down. Someone in the temple did not live because of the pain in the wound. Some people were blue-faced and some of them licked their lips. Some people whispered:

"What happened? Xue Zhengyi’s ability should not be so much, how can he avoid it?"

They did not know that Xue Zhengyi had been stabbed in the chess pieces by the smashing of the evil spirits in the impermanent town the day before. They just sighed:

"Hey, the head is sitting for a long time, people are old, and the hero is late."

The sly words, Xue Meng did not listen in, his eyes were gradually covered by blood because of tears and hatred, he choked, sobbing, crying, and finally, a red maple like a sea.

He raised his eyes and stared at all the inmates. The eyes burned pure and sincere at the moment, only blood and hate, hatred and resentment.

A roar! Dragon City violent! !

kill!

This time, Xue Meng was really violent and lost his heart. He screamed four times. He became so terrible, irrational, not afraid of death and not afraid of pain. Who can stop him? No one can stop him.

Wushen Temple, Lianyue Night, Jiangdongtang, Fire Phoenix Pavilion... Hey! He can't see it! He only saw a face of a devil, a distorted figure, and he felt that he was in the * battle of Purgatory in the endless.

hate!

why?

Why is it that in the past 20 years, Dan’s heart can be learned, can’t escape the calculations, and the four-five gossip?

Why do you spend all your life doing it, and you are only paying for it in good faith?

Why do you raise your rice and raise your hat to raise your hatred?

Why are you so stupid?

The blood flows into the river.

Whose words can't be heard, and who's persuasion is in vain.

Xue Meng is crazy, the phoenix wants blood, the blood burns to make fire, and the fire breaks out is the fierce beast of binocular red eyes, full of blood and blood, and the throat of every person trying to stop him is bitten!

Jun knows that the weak crown that year, the midsummer humming.

Xue Zhengxi smiled and touched Xue Meng’s head and asked, “What do I want to do in the future?”

"It's the same as 爹爹." Phoenix said with a pair of clear eyes, "When you are a big hero, you can do good things, punish evil and promote goodness, and don't worry about it."

Blood spurted on his face, and some people were screaming.

Who did he kill?

It seems to be the wife of whose sister.

It doesn't matter.

Let's die, kill it, kill it, anyway, he is not clean, but they are looking for themselves... they forced him! !

He was mad and slaughtered, and the crowd gathered. He can't hear... can't hear...

Until the voice of that person sounded.

"Menger."

Such as seven inches.

Try to suppress the emotional, trembling voice.

The weakness is like a scent of scented scent, and the smog is scattered at the fingertips.

Xue Meng is a god.

"Get him!"

"Don't let him go crazy again!"

Someone rushed.

"Menger..."

Xue Meng is a tiger leopard besieged by a group of wolves. He is covered in blood and his arms are already shaking. After this battle, I am afraid there is no way to use this arm to hold a knife. He blinked and there was blood from his eyes. He turned his head stiffly.

The back door of Danxin Temple opened wide, and the skylight sprinkled in.

Mrs. Wang appeared at the door, wearing a plain white shirt. Her body was weak and her temperament was mild. She never interfered with the predecessor, and she always did.

Until then, she only heard the news, the former beautiful woman, is already a tearful wet skirt.

Xue Meng is hoarse, the voice is broken and broken: "Mother?"

The disciples of the dead and the dead have fallen and prayed: "Mrs."

The elders also salute: "Mrs. Wang."

There is no blood on her face, the only gorgeous is the coral red beads on the earrings. She didn't say anything, first saw her husband's body, her body slammed, and then she saw Xue Meng being crushed and smashed on the ground, her face whiter.

The doorman was worried about her so weak body, afraid that it would be unbearable to faint in the next moment.

But Mrs. Wang just shivered slightly, her lips moved, and for the first time, she did not succeed in speaking.

But the second time, she spoke. The voice is hoarse, but it is trying to calm itself.

"Let him go."

The three words are lightly spoken to those who rudely suppress Xue Meng.

Many of those people did not directly see Mrs. Wang’s face. At this moment, she only felt that she was a weak woman. She said to her fiercely: "Your son killed so many people, how to put it?!"

"You must take the Tianyin Pavilion to detain the trial!"

Mrs. Wang’s eyes were filled with tears, but she still said one word: "Let him go."

"..."

No one is letting go, they are deadlocked.

Mrs. Wang looked up slightly and seemed to want to hold back the tears, but she did not succeed. The bitter tears slid down her cheeks. She closed her eyes, and the slender body was shuddering and weak as the wind blew.

Some people say: "The shackles of death and death today refused to shut down, and hurt countless monks in the upper monk. The things of ink burning and Chu Xiening are even more suspicious, so no matter what, you must seek justice - killing people to pay for justice. Madam, I can't help it."

Mrs. Wang didn’t say anything, and she didn’t look at her husband’s body again. She silently walked through the consciously dispersed people, step by step, and stepped on the high level of Dan’s heart, standing in front of the Lord.

Stand still.

The following are all human voices: "The death of Xue Zhangmen was accidentally coincidental, but Xue Meng was deliberately slaughtered."

"Yes, you must take him away."

The sound is like a tide, and it’s going on and off.

There is a wind blowing into the temple, the curtains are floating, and the curtains are cold.

"Xue Meng is guilty -"

"Hey!"

The temple is full of surprises.

The table was actually a woman who was as weak as a bush. Mrs. Wang’s eyes have been stunned, and a pretty hibiscus-like face has become popular.

She didn't know how to get angry, but she was angry but had burned her heart.

She stood in front of the temple, her eyes passed over everyone -

"Menger is my child, burning children is my nephew, it is my husband."

Her voice is not loud, but the words are clear and decisive.

"You, dig up the spiritual core of my nephew and hurt my husband's life. Now, want to be in front of me, take my son away?"

Jiang Dongtang has the most women, but on the contrary, she can't understand Mrs. Wang's mood.

Immediately, there was a woman who was cold and said: "Wang, you can make a point."

"Yes, if it is not for you to practice the ban, why should we dig his nucleus? If your husband does not listen to advice, why is it such a tragedy? If your son murders countless, how can we take him away? Wang, You must have a degree in your protection."

At this time, the sects of the sects have had a deep hatred of death and death, and they are not willing to let them go.

"Closed to close the door!"

"Take away the people who have just started! It must be severely punished! These killing devils, are you going to let them go?"

"One can't let go, grab it!"

Mrs. Wang stood on the temple and faced this chaos. This weak woman closed her eyes and slowly said: "There are people who are dead here. If I am alive, I will not allow you to move again and again. My son is divided."

The following people listened and only thought she was funny, only Jiang Yan slightly changed her face. Liang Zhubian, Jiang Dongtang, a female practitioner first said: "You are really a big word."

Mrs. Wang slowly walked down the steps of the temple. She ignored the female repair, but said to all those who stared at her: "You bully the orphans and widows, what is it?"

Walking down the last stage, she stood on the dark red carpet embroidered with Du Ruo, lifting a pair of beautiful eyes, her face still soft, her eyes firm.

She raised her hand, moved, and took off a silver bracelet on her wrist.

The woman who mocked her squinted her eyes: "What are you doing?"

Mrs. Wang raised her hand, but I don’t know why there was a dazzling red light in my palm. She pointed her finger together, and the slender fingers actually made the silver bracelet into a powder! !

Many people have to take a step back, and even the people who are dying of life are so shocked that they can’t speak. Xue Meng is also full of gloom. There is only Jiang Yan in the crowd - only Jiang Yan.

He stared at her, his face was extremely ugly, but he was not surprised.

"The dead and the dead, the dead and the dead do not change. If you want to close the door, go forward -"

Mrs. Wang smashed the residual powder of the silver bracelet and carried it up, saying something that made everyone stunned.

"Play with me."

Chapter 285

As the silver bracelet ruptured, there was a sound of distant phoenixes, and the fire tongue was caged behind the lady, Ying Yingying, and the red light was bursting in the moment, and the flames burst into flames! The fierce and violent stream flows like a lava, consuming all things.

She stood in the fire and lifted the slender hand. The hand immediately had a large stream of fire gathered in it, slamming in the palm of his hand and creaking.

"What happened?! Isn't she weak in spirit?"

"Xue Zhengxuan is obviously a woman who can't learn spells... What happened to her and her?!"

Xue Meng is almost stunned: "Mother?!"

Jiang Yan also stepped forward and sighed: "First sunny! Stop! Today's business, why are you doing this?"

For a long time, no one has called Mrs. Wang’s small and medium-sized characters. She was flashed in the eyes of the fire, and she couldn’t tell the unclear emotions, but she quickly disappeared. She looked at Jiang Yan: “Ginger Gate, If I don't do this, will you retire?"

"..."

"I will let go of the dead, let go of Xue Meng?"

Jiang Yan bit his teeth: "You stop first, everything else can be said."

Mrs. Wang shook her head: "I have been dug by you, I have been lying in front of the Dan Heart Hall, there is no third time."

"First clear!"

"Ginger head, so far."

Phoenix screams, Mrs. Wang’s clothes slammed and fluttered, and her eyes gradually climbed into the blood red color. The sharp-eyed person found that her waist began to emit orange-red glare, and she shouted out. She could not help but exclaim: "What is that?!"

Jiang Yan snorted and turned back to everyone: "All down the mountain!"

"But things haven't ended yet, Xue Meng still..."

"If you want to die, you will keep it!" Jiang said with anger. "This is the phoenix skyfire of the lonely moon night!! Do you want to die?!!"

As soon as I heard the four words of Phoenix Tianhuo, almost everyone was in the same place in the moment. The high-level female disciple of the lonely moon night stabbed the Phoenix tattoo on the waist. It was a well-known thing to detonate the Phoenix Skyfire in times of danger. But knowing to know, but no one has ever seen this evil fire.

Because the cost to pay is too great, and less is a lifelong repair, and more life is worrying.

A group of monks rushed to panic like a house of mourning, and rushed out of the Danxin Hall, rushing to the sword at the foot of the mountain, and only a few people remained in the hall of the sword.

Jiang Yan has not gone yet, and his shackles are hunted in the wind, and he looks back to Mrs. Wang: "...you can't bear your spiritual core."

He is almost incomprehensible, with brown eyes.

It seems to be anger and sad.

"What kind of violent nuclear nucleus, point phoenix skyfire? You have protected your son today, but then?"

"If I don't explode the skyfire, I can't even protect my child today." The flames on Mrs. Wang are getting more and more fierce. Once this evil fire is ignited, it will burst out and cannot be extinguished.

She walked up the jade steps and stood in front of Xue Zhengxuan's smiles and stood countless times. The red eyes swept across all the disciples and elders in the temple.

"You are at the same door." She convinced her. "Before you were with me, you have already believed in the truth when you are leaving. Today, the door is forced, and Tianyin Pavilion acts a lot. The monarchs look in the eyes, right and wrong, black and white, I want to come to my heart."

The doormen were stunned, and both eyes were looking at the woman who had been sloppy in the past.

Sparks splashed on her robes, and the mottled shadows.

"The dying dynasty has been established for more than 20 years. It has not been harmed and innocent. It has not been unjust, even if it has been ruined and ruined, it is not in the heart. However, I am weak and can't affirm the truth and be fair. Today, don't go, there are three. I hope that all of you will be in the past, and you will not help each other."

The disciples all cried with tears: "I heard the lady telling me."

Xue Meng whispered and said: "Mother..."

"After the blast of the Phoenix fire, it will not go out for at least three days, and others can't get closer. The first thing, I hope that the kings will keep their lives, and they will leave their lives and live together."

"This……"

The greedy wolf shook his head: "Ning Shoumen is sent to death, not to walk away."

Mrs. Wang heard a smile and said: "This is not a dog. I heard that there is a saying in the Confucianism Gate Nangong Chang Yingxian."

She saw all the disciples and elders in the temple, just like any previous appearance in front of everyone. The red eyes suddenly became gentle flowing water and flowing.

"Nan Gong Changying once said that no matter whether the Confucianism is established or not, as long as there are still people in the world who are watching 'gracious grievances, killing and looting, it is my Confucian gentleman's seven can't be', and the door is not dead." Mrs. Wang paused. Said, "I pick up his teeth, and I want to say it today, it is the same."

"lady……"

"The princes are gone, when the truth is clear, and when everything is finalized, if there is still a heart, it can be attributed to this place."

There was no one in the temple for a moment, only the young disciples were sobbing and weeping, and the tears were heavy and heavy.

Mrs. Wang said: "The second thing is to ask the princes to be ignorant of burning children and jade. I believe that he has a hard time acting, and he believes that the words are not false."

Headed by the elders, the disciples bowed their heads and sighed: "The doorman of death is never enemies with the sons of Mo Gong and Yu Heng."

"That, the third one." Mrs. Wang sighed. "I am afraid that life and death will be said to be burning, and will not be opened in the future. By then..."

She paused, and it seems that she did not understand whether her insistence was right or wrong.

But I still slowly said: "There will be many kings at that time, and many people will cultivate each other."

The greedy wolf has a temper, and at the moment, he can’t help but anger: “Where are the animals that bite a bite, what can they protect?!”

"The wife is not there, I don't know how disgusting those people's faces are!"

"There are so many people in the lower circle, there are dogs, there are wicked people, and goodwill may not be rewarded in the end." Mrs. Wang whispered, "But it was not to gain praise and gratitude, but to be worthy of one's own." Real heart."

Her eyes are more and more scarlet, and the phoenix tattoo on the waist is getting brighter and brighter.

Mrs. Wang stood in the blazing fire of the sky: "You, this red dust is so vast, the word of fairness is too vain. But even so, I am righteous, and my heart is still a small matter that is feasible for my generation." ”

She closed her eyes and sighed softly.

"So, if the sorrows of life and death are because of the dozens of traitors, because they have suffered from injustice, they have become devastated. Since then, they have turned a blind eye to the people and become the second Confucianist door... that is the most deplorable thing."

"We can't change evil, and we don't have a pair of eyes that can break the hearts of people. But at least we can do it, don't let malicious and hate change us."

Mrs. Wang finally smiled slightly: "I hope that all the kings will live this life, and they will not change their minds."

The voice fell, the flames bullied the sky.

The seal of Phoenix Skyfire has finally been completely solved. Mrs. Wang’s seemingly thin body is constantly spurting out powerful forces. During the time, a heat wave is like a mountain torrent, and the rushing out of the heart of the heart, Hao Hao Tang Tang Surging forward -

Qingtian Temple, Wujianping, Mengpotang, Naihe Bridge... two mountain peaks, one pool river, frost temple, red lotus water...

In an instant, all were covered by the fire.

These flames can recognize the will of the master. For the dead and the dead, all the grass and the trees are wrapped and not burned. Just like the elders and disciples who are still standing in the temple at the moment, they are trapped in the sea of fire, but they have not been burned by the fire.

Mrs. Wang said: "Let's go."

No one is moving.

She sighed and urged everyone: "Let's go, still stupidly standing and doing? Let's go."

Repeatedly, some people continued to bow their heads and slowly left. The Danxin Hall gradually became empty, and at the end, only Xue Meng and Jiang Yan were left.

Jiang Yan finally looked at her and turned and wanted to leave. Mrs. Wang called him: "Wait a minute."

"...Do you still have to explain things behind you?"

In the fire, the look on Mrs. Wang's face is not so real, when it is dark, when it is cold and warm. She has been suffering for a long time. She seems to be suffering from a certain kind of heart. Finally, she closes her eyes and slams her heart. She whispers: "Teacher, you come near, I have a sentence, I want to tell you."

As soon as this statement came out, Xue Meng and Jiang Yan were all embarrassed.

Xue Meng really couldn't think of what Mrs. Wang had, and he had to tell Jiang Yan alone at this time. Jiang Yan obviously thinks so, he slightly narrowed his eyes and did not move.

Although he and his wife are the same sisters and sisters, they have parted ways and have not met privately for many years. Coupled with the new mourning of Xue Zhengxuan, he is also a member of the blasphemy of death and death - to beware, he is not without.

Jiang Yandao: "If there is anything, just say it here."

"..."

"There is nothing between you and me that you can't tell others."

When Mrs. Wang saw that she could not move Jiang Yan, she turned to Xue Meng and said, "Menger, you go down the mountain first. There are a few words in the mother, I can only say that I know with Jiang Jiangmen."

"mother……?"

"Go ahead, this matter has nothing to do with you."

Xue Meng’s face was full of blood stains, tears streaming down, and rushing out one after another, he smeared his cheeks and choked: "I don't want to go... you are all here... I don't want to Go! I just want to be with you..."

"If you don't want to go, you will go to the Frost Heaven Hall." Mrs. Wang sighed. "When the mother finished the matter with the * head, she took you to the past."

"..."

Mrs. Wang’s face is very bad at the moment, and there is blood in her mouth. She coughs and coughs, whispering: “Menger is obedient...”

Xue Meng shook his head and wiped his hands with tears, but he also knew that his mother had bursting the Phoenix Skyfire at the moment. It was also a long life. She should not violate her mind and ruin her last time.

He eventually left, and in the big Danxin Hall, there was only one of the same brothers and sisters left alone.

After Xue Meng left, the last breath that supported Mrs. Wang was dispersed. She suddenly fell down on the throne, and there was no longer a calm look.

She looked at the table in front of her eyes and licked it for a long time. The tears fell down on the chewy jade-like cheeks, and then she began to cough and vomit blood.

Jiang Yan stood in the same place. He saw Mrs. Wang’s hemoptysis and seemed to want to go forward, but in the end there was still no movement. After a while, he said: "There is no one else here, what do you want to say."

Mrs. Wang coughed so badly that she could not answer for a while.

Jiang Yan saw it, his eyebrows were tight, and his face was gloomy: "You have become more and more violent because of the cultivation of the same year. It is difficult to continue to practice the spells. What's more, it will ignite the Phoenix Skyfire? This will kill you."

Mrs. Wang slowed down, her eyelashes were damp, and she looked at the table, her eyes were a bit stunned: "Yes, I know."

The sea of fire is like the tide, flooding them but they can't burn them. Between her and Jiang Yan, it is like a sea of scarlet.

"So what else do you want to say?"

"..."

"If you have nothing, I will leave."

Jiang Yan waited for a moment, seeing that she was still unassuming, and she lost her patience.

He turned and wanted to go, but he heard a soft voice.

"Younger brother."

Flames dance like red dust.

"Are you very embarrassed?"

She has no such thing as a head or a tail. Jiang Yan’s heart is actually uneasy: "What?"

"When you first met him at the Confucianist Gate, he had a fight with him. If I didn't come later, I was afraid that you would start with him." Mrs. Wang sighed softly. "Younger brother, his temper really does not." It’s great, but please look at what he’s like when he’s young with you... don’t care about him.”

Jiang Yan did not respond at the moment. He turned his face and asked, "What do you mean?"

Mrs. Wang did not answer immediately. This piece of silence was like a rolling thunder cloud over the top of the two people, as if it would be raining at any time, and the world would change.

In this silence, Jiang Yan remembered a period of his youth, his heartbeat was intense, but the look on his face was colder. He didn't say anything, pinched into a fist, waiting for Mrs. Wang to speak.

"Xue Meng..."

Mrs. Wang sighed softly, but like the purple electricity, the thunder was broken.

"Xue Meng, he is actually like you. Teacher, do you understand?"

Even if there were some predictions in my heart, when I heard this, Jiang Yan’s brain was still screaming, and his thoughts were blank.

Who is like him?

Xue Meng?

Every time I saw him, he was rude and rude, and he was so thin that he was born into the bones.

absurd……

The hall is dead, Jiang Yan chews her meaning, the dusty truth is like a black ice splitting, breaking through layers. The face of the * is not moving, but the blood is cool.

He is almost a bit cautious and feels extremely ridiculous.

He turned back and stared at Mrs. Wang's face. He thought he was wrong, but he knew it was impossible. The sentence was light, but it was a word, clear as water, and rushed to him through the raging fire.

In front of his eyes, it became a stormy wave.

"Ginger night sinks." Mrs. Wang slowly, lifting the wet eyelashes, a pair of black eyes looked at him, "Xue Meng, he is your child."

Chapter 286

"..." A few silences, Jiang Yan is almost ridiculous, but the eyes are flashing. "Wang Chuqing, are you crazy? Do you know what you are talking about?"

The hand under his sleeve has been pinched into a fist, and the skull seems to have cracked mountains and stones. The whole person is groggy and dizzy.

"What does he have to do with me?"

Although Jiang Yan’s attitude is hard, Mrs. Wang’s words have made him fearful and fearful, from fear to doubt, from doubt to anger—he has been independent for so many years, and he has no relatives in the world. Son? This time tell him that Xue Meng is his son? Simply... ridiculous!

Mrs. Wang endured the * throat in her throat and gasped. She seemed to feel shame, but she still insisted: "The original thing, the younger brother and the heart are also clear. What is the relationship between Menger and you, I will not lie to you. ”

"..."

Jiang Yujing for a while, suddenly began to laugh, he rarely had such a lazy laugh, laughing and laughing with ridicule and fury.

The silver teeth are broken, and the words are cold.

"My son? Sister-in-law wants to ask for a loneliness. It is not necessary to tell me about love. Why do you make such a ridiculous story! Let the temperament look like a temper, how has he been similar to me?"

It was probably because of the strong uneasiness in my heart. He tried hard to recognize it.

"Where are you and Xue Zhengyi’s booth, I have to use the next three methods to earn me to clean up? Xuemen Xue Ziming could be my son!!"

There was a trembling in my heart. There seemed to be a voice in the depths of consciousness that said to him coldly. Yes, he is your child. Think about his age and think about how Wang Shijie left the lonely night. You ask yourself, Qingtian is on, Jiang Yan, you think about it...

What can I think!

He almost bite back like a beastly animal, tearing the slyness of his heart into a powder.

Why do you want to?

After being alone for more than 20 years, he suddenly told him that he had a son. The son was always against him. He was born with a look that he was extremely annoying, and he still recognized others as his father.

It is ridiculous.

He is not a good-hearted person, and he will never be a fool who has no brains. He will never be fooled, he will never listen to this joke, never...

"Snow phoenix."

Wan Hao received the sound.

As if all the light is extinguished at this moment, Jiang Yan is like a dark night, and he looks around.

He was so upset for the first time.

Mrs. Wang looked at him and said, "Snow phoenix."

"...what do you mean." The lips are stunned and pale.

Mrs. Wang said softly: "You brother, you will not understand."

"..."

He really can't understand.

Xuehuang is his martial arts. Although other people can use it, but they can't exert the powerful power of Shenwu. Only his source of blood can make Xuehuang convinced.

Jiang Yan’s time could not be said in one sentence.

I don’t even have to try it. Mrs. Wang can tell the story to this point. What else is there? He seems to be forced to a dead end.

He is dumb.

"……this matter……"

After a long time, Jiang Yan was pale and hoarse. After the initial madness, he was almost exhausted: "This thing, Xue Zhengjun he... knows?"

Mrs. Wang said: "He always knows."

"..."

When she said this, her eyes were gentle and painful.

——Xie Zhengxuan When she saw her, she was seventeen years old, which was the good time for Fu.

On that day, he rode a small donkey and stalked the dog's tail grass and passed through Yangzhou. He happened to see Wang Chuqing who came to the port to purchase the cloth. On the night of the night, a group of female disciples who had blossomed and stalked, he did not squat, but only the king girl in the crowd.

Xue Zhengyi was a straight-forward person who smiled and greeted her.

Other women ridiculed him to be frivolous, Wang Chuqing was gentle, some embarrassed, blushing to persuade him to say a few words, then bowed and hurriedly left.

The girl was gentle and beautiful, Xue Zhengyi fell in love with one of them, and went to the lonely moon to find her every other day, two years and three years, Mid-Autumn Festival Dragon Boat Festival, all came to her. Looking for the last lonely moon and night, she was told that she was infected with a little punk. Rao was Wang Chunqing's temper and couldn't stand it anymore, and hurriedly rushed him away.

Xue Zhengyi was also a little rogue at the time.

The king girl said, "Let's go, you are so embarrassed."

Xue Zhengxuan said, "You are not good, I have not, I will come to see you. If you marry someone one day, I will disappear immediately.

The king girl is speechless.

Xue Zhengyi laughed, really, the guarantee disappeared faster than lightning.

He paused and asked her carefully: "You...you won't already have a sweetheart?"

Wang’s face was red when she was stunned. She lowered her head, and the flowers were shining, whispering: “No.”

It is not a truth.

She is naturally intimate, the person is not only her sweetheart, but also the dream of a lot of women in the lonely moon night - she likes Jiang Yan.

But every disciple of the lonely moon night knows that Jiang Yan is a personal scum.

In his peers, he has the most handsome appearance, the most exquisite skill, the most beautiful voice.

And the heart that does not enter the most oil and salt.

This human being is so lonely, his words are mean, but his ability is strong, his wrists are awkward, and he looks very beautiful. This kind of Junjie is easy to harvest the girl's heart, but Jiang Yan only treats his heart as a pig heart. He never cherishes anyone. The women dedicated their true feelings to him. He was slandered by others, and the men dedicated his true feelings to him.

Ginger Night Sink lived in his own world, always hurting people without knowing it.

Like many teachers and sisters, Wang Chuqing has always secretly liked Jiang Yan, but she knows that she is not very beautiful, and she is older than Jiang Yan, so she dare not boldly confess. After all, Jiang Yan has never accepted the favor of any woman. . Others praise him, he can't hear, others hold him, he doesn't appreciate, if others dare to show love with him, he will slap each other and even the relatives don't know how to cry and run away. All in all, it is a hero who can show things with Jiang Yan.

Mrs. Wang does not feel that she is a hero, so she thought that this sentiment would eventually be worn out with her years and finally brought into the shackles. However, one day, the head found them both.

The head said: "Lone Moonlight is the martial art that is the best at repairing the number of life-saving gods. Most of the disciples can live to be over 100 years old. And the heads of all generations are working hard to prolong life, and hope to find a way to live forever. Flying can also be happy."

Indeed, in order to live forever, the head of the lonely moon night has made such an attempt, which naturally includes the double repair method left by the nine-day mysterious woman.

She and Jiang Yan are a pure water system, one is a pure fire system, and both of them are unmanned, and they are best suited to practice together. At that time, the head of the company found them, so that he would accompany him to practice together. Wang Chuqing was very happy because he loved Jiang Yan for a long time. However, Jiang Yan did not have any happiness and dissatisfaction. He was a man who concentrated on his way and was extremely disgusted with love and trifles. He thought that it was both troublesome and useless. I really don't know how there are so many crazy men and women in the world, which makes him incredible.

"Talking about love is a disease. There is a disease and early treatment."

- This is from the mouth of the first beautiful male Jiang Yan in the lonely moon night. I don't know how many girls have been repaired.

In Jiang Yan’s eyes, even if it is a mysterious girl’s room, it should not bring any feelings. The double repair is a double repair. Since the head has requested it, then he is not too embarrassed, and he will retreat with the sister-in-law according to the cheats.

However, the love in the eyes of the girl is hidden, and one after the other, Jiang Yan gradually understands the teacher’s intentions for himself.

This made him very annoyed and very upset.

He practiced with her, only because of orders, no selfishness. What's more, the secrets required by this pair of secrets are those that do not move. When men and women are combined, they are also for the sake of spiritual flow, and there must be no love and desire.

For this reason, Jiang Yan and her sister seriously mentioned it many times, let her calmly think, do not think that some have nothing.

"If you have a misconception, if you double-repair, I am afraid that I will go into flames and the nucleus will be violent."

Where can the Wang girl control her feelings? Finally, once after the practice, she was confused because of her unstable mood, and her knowledge was unclear. Jiang Yan spent a lot of effort to suppress her Yin Yang Ling nuclear. He was furious and asked why she repeatedly refused to persuade him to become Hu Si.

"If you continue this way, don't fix it, it will kill you."

She was also very upset at that time. I didn't know where the courage came from. She actually shed tears and asked him: "Night sinking, do you practice, just for the command of the head?"

Jiang Yan’s face is extremely ugly, and asks: “Why can it be for what?”

Although I already know that Jiang Yanbing is like a cold spring, my heart is like a stone. But when I heard him say this, she still couldn't stand it, and she shed tears. She felt embarrassed, raised her hands and wiped it away, but her tears continued to make her more embarrassed. She hurriedly got up and choked: "I'm sorry."

Then turned and left, never looked back.

After that, Jiang Yan did not come to her again for several days. She saw her on the road and stopped talking to her.

Some of the young beauty of the lonely moon night saw the clues, and they all gathered in the back to laugh at her: "I was so eager to get together, I thought I could climb Jiang Shige, how could it be."

"Double repairs are double repairs, she is self-satisfied. If it is repaired into a fire, it will be even more damaging to us."

"Forget it, what double repairs. Brother and her to do these things is for the public. She and the brothers do these things, it is for private. She is thinking about what is clear to everyone, oh, I think she just wants to be in vain. It’s cheaper for the brothers."

"Wang Shijie is older than us, and my face is thicker than us."

These words, passed on and passed on, came to the ears of Xue Zhengyi, who was in the mid-autumn, as usual.

Xue Shaoxia is straight but not stupid. After a while, he understands the ins and outs of things. He immediately angered the rags of the little gimmicks, and then ran to find the king girl. I can see her, and I don’t know what to say, just staring at her: "You..."

Wang Chuqing raised his eyes, red and red, just cried.

Xue Zhengyi was in a hurry: "Don't cry, don't stop the gossip of those people, you, you... I think you are fine, I... I..."

Wang Chuqing stood beside the willow tree and turned his eyes to the waters of Penghu: "I didn't tell you the truth before, I have people I like."

"……Ok."

"Then why are you still not going?"

Xue Zhengyi scratched his head: "But that person doesn't like you... He doesn't like you, I... I can always talk to you, he can't manage it."

"..."

Seeing her silence, Xue Zhengyi hesitated: "Does he get it?"

Wang girl bowed her head and said softly: "He won't care."

What is Jiang Yan and her? From the beginning to the end, it is only a teacher's order, it is her own wishful thinking.

Everyone in the party said that Jiang Yan was a scum, but Wang Chuqing felt that if a man was sentenced to dregs because he did not want to accept the love of others, it would be too harsh.

Jiang Yan has never deceived anyone's feelings. He has never given anyone hope. They are like moths, knowing that he is cold and ruthless, but chasing him with wishful thinking.

At this point, she actually felt embarrassed and wanted to let go.

However, the difference between the yin and the yin is probably because the disciples responsible for the medicated diet are confused. One day before the dispensing of the pharmacy, there was a mistake, and perhaps another reason - Wang girl found herself pregnant.

She only felt flustered and helpless. I don't know how the teachers and sisters would talk about her after the incident spread out, laughing at her, and not knowing what Jiang Yan would be. She couldn't help but screamed and decided to go to the head.

Can come to the outside of the house, not knocking, she heard a cold and faint voice inside, it is Jiang Yan talking.

"The teacher's sister is uncertain, the spiritual core is becoming more and more violent. Now a little spell can't control his own spiritual flow. If this continues, it will hurt her. Please ask the boss to take back the double repair order. I can't talk to her again." Practice together."

"Hey, hey, it’s better to talk to her again, maybe..."

"Don't say it. I have told her many times, but she is not suitable for this." Jiang Yan said, "The first clear heart is too easy to shake, useless."

The head asked: "...What are you going to do next?"

Jiang Yandao: "If no one can clean up, they will not be repaired."

The head sighed: "...I know, you go. Clean and sorrow is the most difficult part of the double repair. I don't know if you can have a person like you in the decades. ""

Jiang Yan did not leave immediately. He stood there for a while and asked: "Is this difficult?"

"It’s very difficult." The head glanced at him. "You have been with Wang Chuqing for so long, there has been no trace of shaking?"

Jiang Yan asked almost incomprehensibly: "... Why do I... shake?"

The head stared at Jiang Yan for a while. From the eyes of this young man, he did not see half-inch hypocrisy. This made him feel amazed. He pondered for a moment and asked: "Jiang Yan, Wang Chuqing is in your eyes, is what?"

"Master sister."

"When is the double repair?"

"...the object of double repair."

“Nothing else?”

"Nothing else."

"..."

Seeing the complicated look of the head, Jiang Yan frowned. "Don't there be anything else?"

"No." After half a mile, Huafa’s old boss sighed. "For so many years, the disciples have never been able to pass the love. You are the first one.... but unfortunately, I don’t know who can do this with you. A big deal."

On that day, Jiang Yan or his head, they did not know that their own dialogue has fallen into the ears of Wang. If you say that the former Fan Wang girl still has a hint of fantasy, a little hope. Then this dialogue made her all over the body and lost her face.

It’s too embarrassing. I really don't know how to stand on the martial art again. I don't know where to look. In the past, her spine had to be poked by the sisters and sisters. If it was known that she was inadvertently and had a child with Jiang Shidi...

She just thought about it and felt chilling, she never dared to stay in the martial art. Starry night fled Linluyu.

"...You are not elope with Xue Zhengxi?"

Mrs. Wang said: "No."

Jiang Yan’s eyes closed, but he didn’t know what to say.

He is indeed a thin lover, and he only has his own way. In his life, except for Mrs. Wang, he has not touched any female color, and he also felt that he had no feelings for this master sister. Later, I heard that Mrs. Wang and Xue Zhengyi ran away from the island, and he still frowned.

He feels that the feelings in the world are not as good as flowers and plants for a long time. The women in the world are really unreliable. Even if they are full of affectionate teachers, they are not saying that they are leaving with others.

Since then, he has become more and more disgusted with love and even cold.

After twenty years, until today, he finally heard the truth of this past from the master sister. It was only the "Wang Girl" at that time that has become the "Mrs. Wang" of today, and the best years of their lives have passed.

After a long time, Jiang Yan was extremely blunt and said: "Then you... why are you leaving the lonely moon night?"

"I can't live with you under one roof, my brother." Twenty years later, Mrs. Wang finally looked at him so calmly. "People are all dignified. I don't have a face and stand on the teacher's door." ”

"..."

"I want to kill Menger in the belly, but I can't bear it." Mrs. Wang said faintly. "So I went through a lot of places. Later I gave birth to me and your children in Baidi City. When I found me, when I was with me, Menger was already one year old. He always knew his identity."

She spoke and started coughing up blood.

In those days, the fire was enchanted, and the spiritual tyranny was repaired. These years have been suppressed and never used. Nowadays, the phoenix is burning and the flames are rising, and her life has come to an end.

Mrs. Wang slowly stopped her cough, and her breathing was somewhat disordered. She said: "The younger brother, the so-called smashing me back to death, is the one that he released. He has always been afraid of me.... I am afraid that I am embarrassed."

Her gaze patrolled for a long time and fell to the body of Xue Zhengxuan.

But it is just a must, it is stinging.

She thought of the wedding that year, Xue Zhengyi said to her with a smile: "Well, from now on, the past will not think again. In the lonely night, the bad guy makes you lose face. I can't."

"You are with me, I will let you look good in this life."

"As long as I am there, I won't let you suffer a little bit of grievance."

Mrs. Wang turned her face away, and she shivered in detail.

A gentleman is a promise, and it’s hard to chase.

Xue Zhengyi did it. When he was there, she never had to show her face and she would never be embarrassed. Her tears, humiliation, and fallen blood are all after him.

"For so many years, he doesn't care that I am weak and can't be pregnant any more. I don't care if Meng is not his own flesh and blood. He regards him as his own. Xue Meng... Xue Meng grows so big, has not suffered much. ....."

She is eye-catching and her face is white to transparent.

"Now we can no longer protect him."

Ginger is standing on the ground.

"Teacher, you will count these twenty years as my revenge for you... Resentment, hate, be disgusting... I am alone."

Mrs. Wang’s voice is getting more and more contemptuous.

"Please help him... Don't let others, hurt him..."

In the end, she murmured her voice: "Sinking...I beg you..."

The phoenix skyfire covers the sky, Jiang Yan stands in this piece of fire, the heavens and the earth are all blazing scarlet. He looked at the woman in the high seat. She closed her eyes and hung her eyes, as if she was asleep. He thinks she probably has something to say, not to mention that she has just promised Xue Meng, saying that the mother and the child are going to meet in Frost Temple - so he waited patiently.

He waited for her to stand up and tell herself that it was all fake, a joke, a farce.

He waited for a long time, and waited until his face became more and more cloudy, his heartbeat became more and more dull, and his blood became colder and colder.

She never said anything again.

Mrs. Wang and Xue Zhengyi went together.

She used to be a high-ranking female repairer, gentle and gentle. Later, people said that she was maimed by Xue Zhengyi as a wife. Others said that she was a pro-elect with Xue Zhengyi. the truth. In these years, many people who have died and feel that Mrs. Wang may not like her husband very much, but because she is timid, she dares not complain.

However, no matter what others say, she knows that Xue Zheng’s life is dead. She didn't know if this was a sensation or something. The woman’s mind may not even understand her at the end. In her life, is she grateful or loving her husband? Has the feelings of Jiang Yan been wiped out? She can't really see it.

There is not a clear answer to many things in this world.

In the end, she actually thought vaguely, just a poem she read at the window many years ago -

"But I will open my eyes all night and repay my eyebrows."

At that time, she was married to Xue Zhengxuan, and she also remembered the years when she was a * a lonely night. She looked out the window, the fog in the shackles was always so big, gathering and clutching, like the clouds in the ground.

I don't know the world.

Someone came over, she was ecstatic, and she thought it was Jiang Yan. But when a cold coat is put on the shoulder. The dream will wake up.

Because she is clear, Jiang Yan will never know that she is warm and cold.

Madame Wang turned back and the candle in the west window was shining.

The young and handsome husband looked at himself with a smile and scratched his head: "It’s cool, be careful not to freeze."

The Dan Heart Hall is covered with a thick Du Ruo carpet, which is the favorite floral ornament of Mrs. Wang. Jiang Yan walked out from this full house of Du Ruohua. His expression was still indifferent, even more than a three-pointer on weekdays.

"Oh," he said, pushing the door of the temple.

He was about to leave here, but at the moment he opened the door, he saw Xue Meng, who was motionless and white.

Chapter 287

Jiang Yan did not say anything. Xue Meng did not speak.

After a long time, Jiang Yan was so depressed that his face was very uncomfortable and succinct: "Since you have heard it, you don't have to say it."

"..."

"You go to settle down, according to the rules of life and death." Jiang Yan turned his eyes away, he did not even want to see Xue Meng's eyes again, "Your mother is alone. I will wait for you under the mountain."

Xue Meng moved, but it only moved in a meaningless way.

The blood of his body seemed to be taken out, but the two or three activities of the finger joints exhausted all his strength.

Xue Meng went straight to the deep Dan Dian Temple. The blood on the carpet is no longer so clear against the flames, but Xue Zhengyi is still on the ground. When he was not laughing, his appearance looked a bit old, his wrinkles were very clear, and his horns had already produced white hair.

However, Jiang Yan is only 30 years old and looks like a forever.

Xue Meng slowly walked a few steps forward and then stopped.

"Let's go."

Jiang Yan looked back and saw the back of Xue Meng.

Xue Meng said: "I don't recognize you, you are not my father."

After the words, the backhand slammed the door. After a while, Jiang Yan heard the crying of Xue Meng’s hoarseness and sorrow and sorrow.

"..."

Jiang Yan stood in the cold wind for a long time, until the hands and feet were cold, then slowly stepped down the mountain.

At the foot of the mountain, all the monks were afraid of the phoenix skyfire, mostly scattered. There are still a few disciples in the Wei Ting Xue Palace. Among them, there is plum and snow.

See Jiang Yan came out, because of the number of rituals, these juniors from the Snow Palace gave him a sigh of relief, whispered: "Ginger Gate."

Jiang Yan felt that the muscles on his face were very stiff. He licked his lips and turned brown, and fell to the head of Mei Hanxue: "Don't you leave?"

Mei Hanxue is gentle and cold: "wait for a friend."

Jiang Yan understands who he is referring to and says: "He will not come down for a while."

Mei Hanxue said: "I will wait for a while, and wait for three or four days. There is nothing left and right, just keep it here." He paused and continued, "In addition, Jiang Jiangmen. The palace owner has a sentence. Let me bring it to you."

Full of heart and soul, there is no vent, Jiang Yan repressed and asked: "What?"

Mei Hanxue made a ceremony: "The palace owner decided not to blindly follow the gods and smash the Tianyin Pavilion, and no longer cooperate with the upper-repairing public. Jiang Jiangmen is the head of the public, and will act from now on. I don't have to think about my trip to the Snow Palace."

Jiang Yanjing for a while, his face does not look like: "You are planning to be independent of the outside of the door?"

"Isolation and helplessness is terrible." Mei Hanxue’s eyes are still full of spring waves, with a smile, but his expression is a bit cold. "However, blind obedience and the so-called * beliefs are the most undesirable things."

Jiang Yan stared at him.

He felt angry when he didn't come, and felt bored and felt cold.

In the past, he saw Nangong Liu sitting in this position. He only thought that Nangong Liu’s many determinations were ridiculous. But when he really got to this point, he discovered that many things were involuntarily.

Is it his intention to dispose of ink burning?

Is it true that he blindly listens to Tianyin Pavilion?

This time he crucified the dead, he once tried to discourage, but the public retorted, he was the head of the cents, and finally what? He used to be able to lead a lonely night and have his own attitude. And when he stepped on the throne, when the lonely moon night became the world's largest faction, he found that he had nowhere to look back.

He will eventually become the next Nangong Liu.

Jiang Yan closed his eyes and did not say a word. Mei Hanxue knows the book, and he makes another gift behind him. He said: "Give me the door of Jiang, and the rivers and lakes will meet again."

He did not respond, and he was wearing a green silk embroidered with dark silk, and he did not return to the distance.

In the past, he was in the throne of Lingshan, replacing the glory of Nangong Liu yesterday, and the following applause was full of joy and joy. At that time, he thought that he would be different from his predecessor, thinking that he could change the sun and the moon by his own power. At that time, he was ambitious, bloody, and ambitious.

But now he understands.

The applause of the day was not to welcome a fairy head. Instead, he is buried for a free spirit.

Since then, the rivers and lakes are far away, the world is vast, it is easy to meet Jiang Zunzhu, and it is hard to find Jiang Yan.

After Xue Meng’s parents were buried, they have not left the dead. Later, the skyfire was extinguished. Mei Hanxue was ordered to go up the mountain to find him. Finally, he found the unconscious Xuemeng in the Frost Heaven Hall and took him back to the Kunlun Snow Palace.

At the same time, the president of the Snow Palace Palace announced to the world that since then, the resolutions of the various parties have not required to support Kunlun. Kunlun has never been bound by the laws of the real world. In this regard, one cut and two cuts.

Later, Jiang Yan called everyone in Lingshan to discuss recent events. At the meeting, Jiang Yan proposed that the major case should be decided by the third instance, that is, “public court trial”, “Zhang Xianmen’s trial” and “people’s trial”, and should not listen to the words of the family.

Although he has not yet pointed out which "one of the words" refers to, but everyone has understood that he is dissatisfied with the status of Tianyin Pavilion. Therefore, Jiang Yan’s move was strongly refuted—

"Tianyin Pavilion was created by the gods, and the wooden cabinet chief trial used the gods that the gods left behind. Nothing is more fair than the gods."

"Jiang Jiangmen is so capricious, he is afraid of being condemned."

There are some more convinced Tianyin Pavilion, which is a conservative sentiment of the wooden smoke from the words and deeds, and does not know where the courage comes from.

"Tianyin Pavilion is the glory of the thousands of years of cultivation. How many sinful sins are washed away by them. The whole truth-cultivation world is because there are Tianyin Pavilion, and many people will hesitate before they commit rape." At the head, are you going to extinguish this sacred fire in the realm of comprehension?"

Jiang Yansen said: "According to your opinion, Tianyin Pavilion is actually a place where you can't make mistakes when you are white and clean?"

"Tian Yin Ge is a thousand years old, created by the gods, and naturally there will be no mistakes."

"We cultivate the immortals, and all of them can be swallowed up after death. If Jiang’s head feels that the gods in the sky will be wrong, where is the true faith?"

There are too many people with conservative opinions, and they are excited and eager to defend the Tianyin Pavilion left by the gods. In the end, Jiang Yan looked pale, but he could not compete with it.

It’s not going to end.

But the paper can't hold the fire, and the truth will eventually surface. After the stagnation of the dead and the dying, the chaos did not slow down, but it became more and more fierce. Three days later, the riots began to be violent.

The first one couldn’t help but the impermanent town. A group of cloaks wore filial piety and went to the Shangyin Pavilion to insult the protest.

"When did you get a boy and a girl?"

"Where is the beast found in Tianyin Pavilion! It means that the dying of death is a thief! Can your conscience be safe?!"

"Cultivate the immortals and cultivate the immortals with closed eyes! The town of Wuchang is at the foot of the mountain. Why don't you dare to come down to the mountain when we ask the sin? We are the traitors who have no heart and lungs, and the dog who is willing to report is nothing more than to give Find your own reason for atrocities and ugliness! A group of murderers!"

"Please Chen Xue’s head is innocent!!"

The old people who were rescued in Linyi’s robbery before were even tearful and wet, and they were full of anger. They said: "It’s not a human being, it’s a ghost!!"

Some monks can't stand it, and they hold the sword and anger: "Is it enough? Tianyinge is a god-declared, full of foul language, not afraid of going to * after death?"

The people were silent for a few moments. Suddenly, Mr. Storytell took a paper fan and sneered at the door of the Yinge Pavilion: "Go to hell?... Then you can hear it well--" He cleared his throat and slammed his throat. Tianyin Pavilion, not as good as a pigsty!"

The people laughed and shouted.

A son sighed: "Sir, this is how you have been talking for more than ten years, and you have heard the most exciting one."

"Not bad! Tianyin Pavilion is not as good as a pigsty!!"

The shouts of the one-and-a-half sound rang, and the morale of the monk was like a pig's liver. It wasn't a fight. It wasn't awkward, and the place was dead and awkward, and his face was blue and green.

Because these people are all spiritual people, Tianyinge does not put them in the eyes, they are arguing. But I didn't expect more and more people coming from all corners of the country. On the second day, the disciples in the cabinet couldn't help but sing the wooden smoke.

"The owner, the square is all about the people who are screaming for death. You see, should you go out and say something?"

The wood smoke is faint: "There is no need to explain to them. If the person shouts twice, they will feel that they are not interested and will leave."

"But now there is..." The disciple said, "There are more than a thousand people stuck in the door..."

The wood smoke is awkward: "Thousands of people?"

She got up from the red rosewood stove, and stepped on the thick animal skin carpet and came to the window.

The eyeballs go down and look out from the window of the flower garden. The main square of Tianyin Pavilion is all white. Those clothed people wear filial piety and filial piety. Some are screaming at the mouth, while others are sitting on the ground, a stubborn appearance that is going to take root here.

A pleat of wrinkles in the wood smoke from the eyebrows.

The pro-disciple disciple carefully cautiously said: "Two days, there are not many people, but more and more. The people in the large and small towns and villages in the middle of the country have begun to come to Tianyin Pavilion. If this continues, we will find People who do perjury may not be able to take it anymore and want to be exposed."

Wood smoke away: "..."

"What about the owner?"

The wooden cigarettes licked their lips and had not answered yet. They heard the sound of a warm and jade behind them: "If you can't take it, don't take it."

After the curtain, the teacher walked into the warm cabinet, and the disciple saw him and was busy bowing his head: "The predecessor."

When the wood smoke left, he frowned. "How come you? Don't you guard the fairy?"

"Spiritual nuclear debris has all melted into his heart. But he will not wake up for a while." The teacher walked to the window and glanced down. "There are many people who go up, they It’s really free.”

The wood smoke is a little bit sorrowful: "When are you, you still say cool words. Nowadays, it is supported by Tianyinge’s reputation. There is no situation out of control, but I don’t know how long it will last. There are many fools in those monks. But there are also some stupid ones. Under the group, the people will continue to make troubles. I am afraid that when I step on Xianjun, I will not change, and the situation will change dramatically."

The teacher smiled and smiled: "The wooden sister doesn't have to worry. How can it change dramatically? Tianyin Pavilion is also stable."

"How to say?"

"Cultivating immortals, in the end, wants to fly into a fairy. It is not always on the ground to offend the gods." Shi said, "In fact, the sin of death is not guilty. Is it unclear to those monks? Is it perjury? ?"

"..."

"At the time they chose to believe, because they feared the conspiracy of life and death, and feared the burning of the ruins. They wanted to eradicate this sect, so they would be willing to believe the testimony of dozens of people." Put on the window, faintly, "they are clear in their hearts."

Next to the pro-disciple disciple said: "Yes, but these people are here to squat, there is always no way, always need to explain."

"So I just said it. If you can't take it, don't take it."

The wood smoke asked: "What do you mean?"

"Just take it, drive them away."

The wooden cigarettes left the road: "... Tianyinge can never help but bluntly, and will not rush to leave without reason. You may be afraid to do so."

The teacher said faintly: "I haven't just explained it yet? Tianyin Pavilion is right or wrong. In fact, they are all very clear. But they will not be able to rise up for a while. When they turn around, - Our stepping fairy has already woken up. Do you know what it means?"

"..." The wooden cigarette seemed to want to say something, but he felt that there was some contradiction. In the end, he closed his eyes and turned to his disciples. "To disperse them."

The most loyal disciple left, and there was only a wooden cigarette left in the warm cabinet and Shi Mingjing.

They stood by the window and looked at the situation below.

The disciples of Tianyin Pavilion sneak out, and the white gold crown shines in the sun. The people who were white-skinned and saw them coming out, thinking that they had finally got a saying and got up. I went to the group of disciples.

Because the distance is far apart, the teacher and the wood smoke can not hear what they said, but the anger is visible to the naked eye.

Suddenly, I don’t know why it happened. A people rushed to grab the disciples of Tianyin Pavilion, and raising their hands was a loud slap in the face.

Scene violence / chaos!

The wooden cigarettes widened their eyes, and the crowds were surging. You pushed me to squeeze, and the more than ten Tianyin disciples were surrounded by them.

Is this still ok? Rao is a wooden cigarette to stay calm, seeing his disciples being blatantly insulted, but also can not stand. She was about to push open the window, so that the disciples could use their own spells to protect themselves, but they were caught.

The teacher said: "Let them play."

The wooden smoke is off the road: "Tianyin Pavilion has rules. If there is no order, the monk can't reply to the people. I will not say anything, my feet will be ruthless, and they will have a life worry."

The teacher said calmly: "Then die."

Wood smoke away: "!"

Anger can make people lose their senses. Especially when a group of people gather together to beat a few people, the start is not so important.

Soon, the wood smoke saw the crowd settled.

They slowly spread a small circle, and there was a new introduction to the Tianyin Pavilion disciple. The wooden cigarette did not even remember the person's name. The disciple was kneeling on the ground, and gradually a pool of blood was stained under him.

The teacher smashed the hand of the wooden cigarette and said, "Okay, now there is reason to crush these ants. Let's do it."

It is hard to find an excuse for violence/force/town/pressure.

As long as you find an excuse, violence/force and town/pressure are all things that can be done easily.

The Tianyin Pavilion opened in the middle of the door, and soon a large number of disciples came out, and each of them stood up and rushed toward the group of incompetent people.

The crowd was in a mess.

They first drove, and then stabbed the sword. Screams, roars, and raps are intertwined. People dodge, drink, and support, but they don’t see people turning around.

"If Seoul is so entangled, it’s cold and ruthless!"

"When did Tianyin Pavilion have a feeling of love?" A tremulous voice suddenly sounded in the crowd. It was actually the village head of Yuliang Village. "The old man is going to ask for a fair today, even if he died here, there is nothing to regret."

The Linger Shantou in the village is even more sad and angry. It is not a retreat with the seven aunts and eight squatters in the village. "You have to kill them. Come on, my grandmother will see if you can kill all the cockroaches today." The people in the country, blocking the mouth of the long!"

The head of the Tianyin is sharply gnashing his teeth: "A group of pretty people, lined up to find death." Seeing the group and attacking, the curse flashed.

Suddenly, "bang", the feather arrow pierced into the ground, bursting a golden light! Then the Ming and Huang Jiejies vacated and slammed into the air.

Tianyin sharply yelled: "Who?!"

A white light volley flashed, and the corner bow crossed the clouds in the blink of an eye. In this amazingly powerful spirit, a beautiful and handsome monk jumped down and stood in front of the people in the cold with his bow. Behind her, there were two adult men with high wolf demon standing on the wind. It had snowy golden claws and red eyes, and was licking his teeth and vomiting a breath.

The teacher squatted upstairs and said: "Leaves forget..."

The leaves reluctantly raised their hands, and the bow was closed, and the other hand called the long sword. The single-handed horse stood in the wind, and the eyes were tough and hard.

"Is it you?!" The person with Tianyinge recognized her and glared at her. "You are the ember of the Confucianism."

The leaves have no snoring, and a pair of long legs have taken a step forward.

"In the last time, you insisted on giving water to the ink, and you know that you are not right!" The Tianyin Pavilion said with exquisiteness, "You really and the ink are a group! It is a curse!"

The long sword is sheathed, such as water flowing.

Ye forgets to squint and said: "Who is the devil's head, you know it in your own heart. However, there is a saying that you are doing well."

She paused and reopened:

"Ye Mou is indeed a person standing on the side of the ink master."

The head of the Tianyin sneer sneered: "Ye is a forgotten, you have to be a woman, do you want to fight alone with us?"

Ye Forgetting has obviously been indignant because of the sorrow of death, and there is a flame-like light in the scorpion. She violently throws the sword in front of her, and the savage spirits smash the long-blade stalk that is not the martial arts. Into the slate, the ground cracked a long slit!

She gnawed her teeth: "I have been holding you for a long time. Don't hang on to your mouth all day long!"

"..."

The monks have seen the leaves in the past, and she is basically a kind of attitude that is tolerant and retreat.

This is the first time they saw her anger.

"I have listened to it." Yeh’s body was so tight that every inch was very tight, like a cheetah. She stared at the men without hesitation. "In the past, the dead and the dead have never been to my Confucianism. Falling down the stone, and protecting the Linyi people in the sea of fire - although today's life and death are no longer there, but Ye is here, will not let you hurt the remaining people!"

Tianyin Pavilion has never had a positive hand with Ye Yexi, so she does not know her strength. She only thinks that she is just a female baby who is crying around her family. So some people couldn't help but sneer out: "Small girl, do you know what you are talking about?... Just rely on you alone, want to protect a group of hairs behind you? You have a big tone. Where are you coming from? Can you bear the resistance?"

"Then you will open your eyes and see if I have this ability!"

Throw the sheath to the side, the sword is like a frost.

The leaves are no longer nonsense with them, a ringing finger, a long leg, and a light body like a swallow. Then she raised her hand and pulled up the sword on the ground, and rushed to the group of thin or frivolous Tianyinge monks.

In the warm cabinet, the teacher looked at the lively chaos in the air, and the lips of the water opened and closed. He sneered: "Hey, I thought I would never see the female war gods of previous lives. I can’t think of it, she was forced. On this road."

"God of War?"

The teacher did not answer, just a little pity, and looked at the leaves with a little irony: "Sister, you see. People in this life, going around will probably go a lot of ways. But in the end, the ending is the same. She What kind of people are in the past life, and this life is also destined to escape."

The blood spewed, the flames collided, and the sound of the killing in the blink of an eye, she was infested in countless swords and swords, and the enemies behind them blocked all the people who could not pass the spell.

This woman is dressed in black and has a long waist and a long leg. When she holds the sword, she is a leaf forget.

The white gold can be matched with her, and the arrow sac embroidered by Mrs. Rong swayed at her waist.

At the moment of Qing Gong, she was again in Nangong.

In this life, she experienced more than her previous life. She has been helpless, has been confused, and even had such a short cloud, and her children have long love.

Nangong gave her the night of Yu Pei, and Yunxia on the bridge was just right. She thought that she could relax her tight-knit bones from now on, and finally she could be the gentle girl who laughed and laughed.

But Nangong is dead.

There was no sign of his death. Before he left, he even said to the leaves that had left the enemy at the time: "I know that you are afraid of black, and will come back soon."

But he never came back.

Therefore, Ye forgets, after all, like her previous life, lost her weakness and lost her armor. She slowly digested and digested the remaining tenderness, and she slowly accepted herself as a figure. In her heart, she quietly did two funerals for herself -

Xu Chang was dead and took away the small leaves. She personally buried her with the righteous father's peach Li Chunfeng a glass of wine.

Nangong was killed and took away the girl. She personally extinguished her ten years of rain with the aunt's rivers and lakes.

God of War sealed off the tomb of the girl and the woman.

She turned and single-handedly came to the Tianyin Pavilion, facing the monks and soldiers.

The teacher looked at the situation of the fierce battle, and said to the wood smoke: "Remove all the high-level disciples of Tianyinge to fight. This woman can't stay."

The wooden cigarette was slightly surprised: "All high-level disciples? She, she is just a girl..."

The teacher smiled and smiled: "The girl who gave birth to this girl had to suffer from the hardships of her life. If you look down on her, you will have to learn how hard my bones will be."

The valve opened, and the high-ranking Tianyin disciples rushed out of the nest. The leaves were ecstasy and the enchantment was invincible.

She still wears the Confucianist's green crane hair band, evading the advance and retreat, and carrying the hunting and hunting. The wood smoke left the death order, so those Tianyin disciples killed her step by step, the power of one person was originally difficult to attack the group, but the leaves are still gnashing, but the white gold is brave, and there is no downwind for a while. .

"Add people." The teacher is like watching the fish at the pool, squatting under the head, faintly, "In short, she is sent to the door today, she can't let her live back -"

"A Nan, look over there!"

Suddenly, the wooden cigarettes interrupted the teacher’s words and looked at her gaze. The teacher saw a blue-and-smoke cloud in the sky.

The elders who died in the real life are arriving at the disciples!

Those who survived because of the protection of Mrs. Wang, still wearing the armor of life and death, stepping on the silvery sabre, from the depths of the cloud curtain, the majestic unfolding, headed by the wolf With the two, they took the wind and the robes flew.

More than a thousand disciples behind him are all glaring and glaring.

璇玑 Elders rang: "The so-called gods in Tianyin Pavilion, is this so much bullying?"

The greedy wolf is sullen and violent, and a pair of brown eyes are staring at the bottom. He does not come to so many literary, five words are concise, and his anger is clearly visible: "Go to hell!"

"..." In the face of this stormy rushing rushing male soldiers, the sergeant's face was slightly depressed, and the curvature of the lips was not a smile or a mock.

"It’s really a shackle. Every time you fight, you have to win the battle with the people who are dead and dying." He said this as he watched the crowd.

There is no figure of Chu Yuning in the crowd... After the robbery of the Tianyin law court, where did Chu and his ink burn? The ink burned was dug many times, and the decision was that it couldn’t be done, so what about Chu’s late night?

Is it next to the new smoldering ink, or just like the last life, died with the ink burning.

No matter which kind of thing may make him irritated, there is a kind of uneasiness in the heart of the teacher. He turned and walked to the inner room.

The wood smoke left the door and said: "Where are you going?"

"Go and see the situation on the side of the stepping fairy." The teacher paused. "Think about the way, let him wake up early. When he wakes up, life and death can be opened again - no one can stop We are."

The long fingers stroking the runes of Tianyinge, and the secret room opened. The teacher stepped down the long steps, along the lines engraved with the exquisite ancient charms, after three gates and enchantments, came to the deepest part of the stone room.

It was covered with ice and mist, and a gypsum was inlaid on the blue-gray vault, and there was a holy light. Underneath the jade, there was a crystal-clear crystal of the air, and the sergeant stopped in front of the scorpion, bowed his head and looked at the man lying inside the coat.

"Take the emperor Jun ink rain..." He sighed and his eyes fell on the man's chest. "Sleep for a long time, should you get up?"

His words obviously did not have any effect. Stepping on the fairy is still closed and his lips are bloodless.

"The Spirit is so turbulent." The teacher shook his hand in front of the forehead of Stepping Xianjun. After careful perception, he stared thoughtfully at the handsome face. "Are you a nightmare?"

The stunned person naturally will not answer him.

The teacher smashed his frontal hair and looked very gentle. It was like looking at a dying soldier who was about to be cast. He whispered: "Although it is your own spiritual nucleus, it is the nucleus. Things are closely related to the heart, and when you are one, it will make you feel uncomfortable."

His voice was tempted and he imposed a spell of hypnotic will.

"Take the fairy, don't believe anything, don't believe it, it's all fake.... Come, wake up. Wake up, you can get everything."

The body is low, almost sticking to the ear, soft and extremely tempting.

"Shi Ming net is good, Chu night Ning is good, even you a mother, will come back."

"Come up, come on." He muttered to the emperor in his dream. "I am waiting for you."

Chapter 288

It is a dream.

Stepping on the fairy, he opened his eyes and found himself standing in a vast expanse of wilderness. The clouds were scarlet, pressed very low, and at your fingertips. There are lush reeds growing around, floating and floating, and there are people singing in the bushes. Some people are laughing, some are crying, those voices are very light, like a gauze over the fingertips, the water is generally touched.

He walked forward and stunned the deep blue spurs in the deep reeds. Then he saw a magnificent and quiet river, which was more magnificent than any river that he had seen before, and the flow rate was extremely slow.

There were a few leafy boats floating on the river, and the singing voice of the ferryman screamed away: "I am in Leiyuan, and my limbs are all muddy. I am crying and smashing, and my eyes are dry and dusty. Eat my heart. , red ant huanghuang. 啄 my belly, 兀鹫茫茫 ... the soul of the soul to come back... the soul comes back..."

The soul of the soul comes back, yesterday is like running water.

He seems to have been here, when?

Stepping on the fairy and watching, everything in front of him is so familiar, but when you think about it, your brain is empty.

"Hey you."

Suddenly someone spoke behind him.

He turned back slyly, but he didn't see anything except the blast.

That voice is very embarrassing, very illusory: "You go forward, I am in front."

Although he was annoyed when he was pointed out to do things, he still couldn't hold back his curiosity and calmly walked toward the depths of the reeds that fluttered by fireflies.

Soon, he saw a run-down mill, a small courtyard in the weedy garden, and a broken wooden shredded tile, and in the center of the courtyard, a man sitting on the dark graphite, facing away Looking at yourself, looking at the sky.

"who are you?"

The man heard his voice and did not immediately turn back, but sighed: "I may be a person to leave."

"Where? Where?" Before he answered the man, he asked a little bit, "Where is this?"

"The other side of the soul." The man said, "Have you seen the river? Sitting on the bamboo poles, all the way, will go to the land."

"..."

"The birth of a child will have to wait for seven or eight years. When you enter the door, there will be a guard from the belly and your life will be measured. If you are guilty, you will directly * the eighteen layers of hell." Speaking of these aftermath, the man's tone is still gentle and gentle. It seems to be revisiting some old things.

"The first layer is called Nanke Township. There is a poor scholar who sells paintings. But he should not be poor now. I later burned a lot of paper money for him. There is also an old man who sells wonton, and then goes inside. Going to a palace, it was built by the four kings of the ghost world, right, and there is a downwind building..."

"It’s a mess." Stepping Xian interrupted him impatiently. "What do you want to say?"

The man calmed for a while and suddenly asked: "Take the fairy, are you afraid of dying?"

Stepping on the fairy sneer: "What can be feared."

"I used to think so." The man said, "So, I chose to take my own poison. I thought I had nothing to do in the world, I am not afraid of death."

After a pause, the man bowed his head.

"But I don't want to go now. He is still in the world, I can't let him go."

After saying this, the man gently fell from the graphite, from the shadow of the darkness, to the clear moonlight. The wind on the other side of the Soul River blew, and the wind was fascinating.

Stepping on the fairy looks slightly changed: "...is you?"

The ink burned toward him, and the heart was empty. It was a black hole that leaked the wind. His eyebrows were sturdy, his nose was high, and Zhou Zheng’s face looked so heroic. He and Teng Xianjun were almost the same when they saw it for the first time in Lushan, but at this moment he seemed more frank, and there was no longer the fear and fear at that time.

"How are you..."

"As you can see, I am not a living person."

"..."

"But I don't know why, I don't seem to be the same as everyone else. The first seven have passed, but there is no black and white impermanence to get me into the house. I have been wandering here."

Stepping Xianjun slightly narrowed his eyes.

"You don't have to be nervous. My spiritual core is in your body, and I naturally can't live." The ink burned his eyes to the mighty river, whispered. "But I don't want to go... I want to go back."

Listening to him, stepping on Xianjun is a glimpse, then raise his hand to caress his chest. After a few silences, he suddenly twisted a slightly embarrassed smile: "Your spirit core is here in this seat? ... Was Huabi Nan successful? He did it, and the seat will soon be free to come, you can --"

When he did not finish his words, he was interrupted by ink.

The ink burned over and looked at him faintly: "Do you know who Huabinan is?"

"..."

He walked toward the stepping fairy, walked closer, lifted the fingers of the white light, and gently clicked between the eyebrows of the stepping fairy.

"Actually speaking to you, it is useless. You have been touched by him here, and many things that are not good for him to manipulate you, he will be removed. However, since you still have a soul, you should remember some Let's not be so ignorant."

I don't know why, at the moment when the ink burned to him, Stephen suddenly felt that the intracranial pain was difficult. It seems that scattered fragments swept past the eyes.

"what are you doing?!"

I didn't answer the ink, just took his face, it was very quiet, and looked at him sadly: "If you can know the truth of everything, then it's good."

"you……"

"If I go, I can rest assured."

Stepping Xianjun bites his teeth: "What is the truth?! What a mess! You let the seat let go!" He said, and he was furious to break away from the embarrassment of ink burning, but his strength seemed to be squandered in cotton wool. On the top, the spell and the legs and legs pass through the translucent body of the person in front of him.

The ink burned on the eyelids and sighed softly: "Do you know? I really want you to see the experience since I was born again, and I want you to get all my memories."

"Maybe because the obsession is too deep, my soul has not been taken, I can see you here."

He said, leaning forward, his forehead stuck to the forehead of Stepping Jun.

"Look back." He murmured, "Let yourself."

Hearing this sentence is too similar to the previous life of Chu Chu Ning before death, stepping on the immortal body, but his anger has not yet come to vent, before the eyes flashed a * vertical and horizontal.

He saw the ghost world again.

In the catastrophe that changed his life, everyone was self-sufficient and cried.

Stepping on the fairy is like a paper basket, wandering in the air, the crowd is crying at the foot, is the stench of blood and broken limbs. He looked at him, what about the teacher? Where is the teacher?

He couldn't find it, he couldn't find it, his heart burned like he was furious - suddenly, he stopped.

In the smoke, there is a familiar figure moving. Stepping on the fairy to fly over, he was shocked to see that it was a boyhood. Unconscious and dying.

What's wrong?

As if to answer him, stepping on the fairy to see the picture changed, someone picked up his broken body and crawled hard in the blood of the corpse.

who is it?

The fleshy hands are... who is it.

That person has been unable to climb, but still refuses to let go, who is screaming at him, who is it?

Stepping on the singer, he swayed around the two people. He stared at the man who was covered in blood and looked at the incomprehensible person. Finally, he saw it, but he was like a thunder.

"Chu nightning...?"

How is it possible... how is it possible!

Some people are roaring in the ear, but the voice is far away, but the anger of the man is like a bayonet. He sipped: "The long-term blood is not exhausted, that is the way he takes you home!"

"Viewing enchantment is twin, how much injury you suffered, and he is the same."

"How can you say that he does not save you... How can you say that he does not save you..."

It is full of cold.

Stepping Xianjun suddenly opened his eyes and his eyes were red. He looked at the slight rain in front of his eyes and gritted his teeth. "What are you looking at this seat?! So... ridiculous!"

He had a raging anger, but his eyes on him made him squat.

The smoldering gaze at him, the dark and quiet scorpions were moist: "I have tried my best to give you all my memories."

"Who wants to see you and him?! Who wants to know what happened since you were born again! You are stealing, you are disappointed... you are not the same as this seat!" He is almost angry, "Who wants you to be self-made Advocate? Go away!"

The anger of countless people, but in the eyes of the burning, but can not afford a wave.

The ink burned at him, and the eyes were even merciful. He stood in front of the stepping fairy, from the corner of the robe, suddenly lit up a golden flame, his vain body melted little by little in this flame. Turn into a little bit of fire.

"In fact, you don't have to say it, I should go."

"I gave all my memories to you with my own soul. This is against the sky, and I don't know what I will do in the end." When it came to this, the ink burned and laughed." Maybe it will not be allowed by the six reincarnations, or it may be directly sentenced to hell."

"..."

"Think of the best possible." Ink burns, "Maybe my soul can follow the spirit core and melt into your body."

He didn't care about what he said before, but when he heard it, he slammed his eyebrows and said: "You don't even think about it!"

The ink burned like a smile and looked at him: "Are you afraid?"

"What is terrible in this seat?" Stepping Jun was greatly offended and narrowed his eyes. "But this body is your own seat. You can't think of it!"

The ink sighed: "You just don't want to accept some facts."

"..."

"You don't want to accept the truth that I have admitted, but you have turned a blind eye."

"you shut up!"

The ink burned calmly at him, and the shadow disappeared faster and faster, and it spread to the waist and chest. Before he disappeared, he raised his hand and tried to touch the hair of the fairy. However, stepping on the fairy is like being smothered by something poisonous, and he took a step back in disgust.

Seeing him like this, the ink burns just smiles. The golden light in his body is like a moth, and suddenly he goes to the chest of Xianjun. The power is so fierce and hot, like a melt under the rock.

This power made him feel gracious, but he was extremely disgusted.

"You can't think about melting your soul with this..."

"Nobody wants to go, I have to try my best."

Stepping on the fairy tends to be furious: "Get out of this seat!"

The smoldering is just staring at him: "I'm sorry. In the end, I still have to compete with you for this body."

"..."

"If your performance is restored, it will be fine."

"Make it light rain." The golden flame quickly burned to his fingertips, and then swallowed the young and handsome face. "Don't do it."

The voice has fallen.

Gray smoke disappears...

At the same time, the chamber of the Tianyin Pavilion was illuminated by the glare of the golden light, as if it was white, and the teacher could not open his eyes for a moment. He jerked his sleeves to cover his face, and after a long period of time, the strong light was slowly extinguished.

The teacher had never encountered such a situation before, slamming his sleeves and looking pale into the hail.

Look at the pair of black to purple eyes.

Stepping on the fairy, he slowly sat up from the squat, his face was white and his lips had not recovered his blood. He was carved from cold jade, and it was condensed by the secluded spring. Even the black embroidered gold silk robes were covered with cold mist, and the brilliance sprinkled on him was like freezing.

Stepping Xianjun raised his hand, and the slender pale fingertips were placed on the edge of the coffin. Then he turned his eyes and his eyes fell on the teacher.

"..."

Rao knows that he is his master, but under the gaze of such coldness, the teacher is still involuntarily going backwards.

"You..." The throat was swaying, and the teacher was forced to calm down. "It’s finally awake."

Stepping on the fairy does not answer, his face is extremely cloudy, even more unpredictable than before.

He gasped, and his back was soaked in cold sweat. His eyes still shook the last smile of Mo Zongshi. He closed his eyes and tried to perceive whether there was any unnecessary three souls and six hexagrams in his body, but this is obviously not by feeling. Can get the answer.

The teacher stood beside him and saw him look different. He stretched out his hand over his forehead, silently recited the curse in his mouth, and healed the restlessness of the heart of Xianjun.

"How?" The town spirit cursed a round, and the teacher stared at his face and asked.

Stepping Xianjun did not answer immediately. After a long time, he raised his hand and moved his fingers. The manicured fingernails were like ice, not a little bit bloody.

He stood up from the coffin.

"I seem to have had a long dream..." Stepping on the fairy, the voice said hoarsely and said the first sentence.

Shi Yan’s eyes are very vigilant: “It’s all fake.”

The emperor's black robe is like a cloud, and the golden silk is like water. He takes a sigh and looks a little sullen: "I think so too."

He stared at the teacher, and the teacher also stared at him. After a long while, the teacher whispered and tried: "Do you remember who you are?"

"..."

A few silences.

The cold and handsome man seems to have chuckled a little, and the thin lips are open and closed: "How can you not remember. Step on the emperor, the ink burns in the rain."

He slammed down, dropped his eyelashes, and performed a lazy ceremony for the ultimate teacher: "May be the master."

There was a ecstasy in the eyes of the teacher, but he still couldn’t relax. He found a spar from the shackles. The thing flashed with brilliance and brilliance, and it was the strongest spar used to test the monk's spiritual power.

His throat was swaying, with some kind of eager anticipation, and he walked over and handed the spar to the hands of Stepan.

"Can you light it?"

"..." Stepping on the eyes of the fairy, the cold and faint glance at the stone, slow and rational, "this is difficult." The voice is falling, the * are pinched, and the meridians on the hand.

Only in an instant, the most powerful spiritual stream in the world is poured into it, and the spar is in a big flash of light and does not say that there is still a fissure on the surface.

The teacher held his breath, his eyes fixed on the stone, and he never moved.

Suddenly heard the sound of "啪", this Qingbi stone was bursting and smashing between the fingers of Xianjun’s pale and narrow fingers, and then was smashed by the fierce spiritual power.

Gray! !

"What is this?" Stepping Xianjun casually licked the powder between his fingers and sneered, "Do not play."

The teacher slammed the ground, and he walked a few steps backwards, almost sitting on the stone bench next to the force.

This is the strongest force in the world... At this moment, is it finally returned to him?

The teacher couldn’t hold it, and the trembling became fierce. The glory of the stone room reflected his fabulous face. Is it ecstasy? Or is it relieved? The light is swaying, and the picture is not so clear, even embarrassing.

After a long time, I saw the teacher burying his face in his hands, muttering in a low-pitched manner: "Mother, have you seen it? I did it."

Suddenly he seemed to be a little crazy, suddenly rising to the empty wall, facing the stone room where he and the third person were not in the same place, and shouted in a screaming voice: "Have you seen it? It’s going soon. Have you seen it?"

No one should be with him. He laughed loudly in this empty secret room. He smiled and burst into tears and burst into tears - it was a drop of golden tears.

It is exactly the same as the former sphenoidal beauty seat Song Qiutong.

Chapter 289

The nightmare of the comprehension world has become more and more mad in these days. Jane Chess is like a plague in the world. The people behind the scenes are like madmen. They don't pick up the identity of the host. Whether it is the old man or the yellow mouth, they are all collected.

In this way, no one can guess what he wants to do.

Someone pleaded for help from Tianyin Pavilion, but the Tianyin Pavilion suddenly said that he could not get sick. Even if someone escaped and died in front of the pavilion, it would not open the door. Gradually, these people finally became very reluctant to understand - perhaps from the beginning, they were wrong.

But everything is too late. Mo Zongshi died, Chu Xi Ning’s whereabouts are unknown, and the dead and the dead are smashed. The major sects are self-satisfied. More and more precious pieces that have lost their knowledge are swam in the world, killing people and setting fire, and the battle is like a hay, burning The amazing speed filled the entire realm of comprehension.

Jiangdu, Yangzhou, Langzhong, Leizhou... carved beams and paintings, buildings, boats and nights, all of them are dull and lamented in the flames of burning and burning, the walls are smashing, and how many people are in the wind, all of them are solemnly going in this fire.

On the star-gazing platform of Tianyin Pavilion, the teacher looked at the distant mountains and the water was chaotic. He stood alone for a while, and there was a weak footstep behind him.

The woman’s silk was stepping on the fine snow, and her hands were covered with a wooden cigarette.

"Take the fairy king?"

"He set off this morning."

"...have you sent him to do that?" The wooden cigarette was slightly wrong. "How come so fast?"

"There is nothing to wait for, the preparations for doing it have been done, and now everything is ready to owe the wind. Just look at him."

After the teacher finished the sentence, it took a while to reopen, and there was a trembling in the calm voice.

"Sister." He whispered to the wood smoke. "So many years, two years, I finally did..."

The wooden cigarette was over the side, and he saw the moist water vapor in his peach blossom eyes. It seemed to be extremely excited and seemed to be extremely wronged.

The teacher closed his eyes and could not restrain himself from shaking: "Let's go."

He whispered: "The time and space will soon open. We will bring all the good pieces and send them there."

"All the pieces?"

"all."

"But there are so many people..." The face of the wooden cigarette was a little pale, but she saw that the teacher was both painful and excited, and she said firmly, "...good. I know."

When she turned and left, she was about to step down the edge of the star-gazing platform, and the teacher suddenly stopped her.

"and many more!"

She turned back and saw the faint yellow sky, the teacher squatted sideways, the wind hunted and blew his cloak, he looked at the wood smoke, seems to want to say something, but the eyes were red, but never said.

The wood smoke was so opposed to him for a while, and then the wood smoke left: "You can rest assured that even if cruel, I will not betray you."

The teacher closed his eyes, and people seemed to be so sensitive and vulnerable at a critical juncture.

His voice trembled slightly: "I have rebelled against myself in this world..."

"He didn't betray you." The wooden cigarette left the road. "He betrayed the entire sphenoid and betrayed us all. His hands were not stained by the blood of the monk - but he has sentenced us to it. hell."

"..."

"I understand your helplessness." The wooden cigarette said to the teacher, "A Nan, no matter what the people in this world say about you. In the sphenoid beauty, you are a well-deserved hero."

She has left.

The teacher looked at her back and gradually moved away, and then turned around, the hands of the knots were placed on the jade, the cold and cold touch, spread to the heart.

"Hero?" The teacher looked up and stared at the dark clouds in the air, sighing half a sigh. "The hero can't do it. No hero has carried so many people's debts."

There seemed to be a moment in his eyes, and then it became a cold ice.

"My Hua Bi Nan has tried my best to fight for the rest of my life. I don't believe that Heaven can't be changed. Nowadays, life and death are dead, and the chess game is in my hands. I want to see this. Who else in the world can stop me."

The knuckles are pinched into a jade color.

"The hero is even. I just want to find a way out."

Three words, scattered into the wind.

"for us."

On the snowy field of Kunlun Kunlun, a black figure was swept away.

The blast of wind blew his cheeks like a knife, but he couldn't feel the chill of the cheekbones with his black and purple eyes.

He fluttered like a vulture on a cliff. Jumping on the Biva Fly, the footsteps are light and the hands are quick. There are so many patrolling masters in the Kunlun Snow Palace that no one has noticed his arrival. The snow that he walked through did not even have traces of traces.

Soon the man plunged to the highest top of the Snow Palace, from which you can see the Tianchi in the snow, quiet, and misty.

The black lightning-like figure stopped.

The man stood at the top of Kunlun, standing straight like a bayonet, and his black eyes looked at the Tianchi Lake. The wind started, very anxious, blowing off his cloak, revealing a pale face without pale blood.

It is the emperor.

After the second tempering of the division, he possessed the spiritual core of the Mo Zongshi and restored the powerful power as before. And no longer disobey the "master" command.

He finally became the killing blade and the spiritual source that made the teacher clear and satisfied.

However, after waking up from the Tianyin Pavilion, there will always be some scattered pieces in the mind of Teng Xianjun. He always thought that he hated Chu Ningning, he loved the teacher, his love and anger were all These two people are related.

However, he vaguely felt that it was wrong.

Recently, he often heard a vague voice and saw some vague scenes.

He saw that Chu Ningning carefully wrapped his hand in Meng Po Tang and heard that he said to Chu Xi Ning: "Master, we have come over, are you good? You reasoned me... well..."

He saw the sea cliff for a round of moons, only the two people's hearts, he clenched the hand of Chu Xiaoning, and Chu nightning has been keeping his head down, and the sharp phoenix eyes are like wet red. He heard Chu Xiaoning said to himself: "I am not good. I have not been liked..."

He saw that he and Chu Xinning were lingering on the bed of the inn, and they had nothing to do with them.

He glimpsed the red lotus water, and the night of the night, he lifted the eyelashes and looked at himself -

Suddenly my heart.

Stepping on the fairy slammed his eyes.

What are these?

He saw that Chu Lingning looked at himself so gently, that is, the kind of eyes that tortured the imprisoned Ling / insulted the soft foam but could not change it.

Stepping Xianjun felt that his head was very painful. He raised his hand, and the white glare glared at the sharp thorns on his wristband. He licked his forehead and whispered a curse: "What mess?"

He stood on the roof and stayed for a while. The snow in Kunlun is very big, and it will be frosty in a short time. He vaguely felt a little surprised, because in his heart, he felt that it was also very good, like a good dream, and he would feel peaceful because of the gentle eyes of his dreams.

"...this seat is really crazy."

He blinked and took these ridiculous thoughts behind him and went on.

The master's order is to let him go to the most powerful place of Kunlun spirituality, and completely open the door to life and death. So he should go to the north. But he saw the Tianchi, or he could not help but circle.

That is where he will always lose the late night.

Stepping on the sinister restraint in the original place for a while, and finally could not help but go to the side of the ghost, but when he swept through the palace, he suddenly heard a familiar voice.

"Oh...Auntie..."

The voice was very familiar, and he stopped and walked in the dark, revealing a pair of black lacquered eyes and looking down.

Then he saw it clearly, and he couldn't help but laugh: "Who is my way, it turns out to be you."

Among the courtyards of the party, only Xue Meng was alone. Xue Meng was holding a pot of wine and squatting on the table.

"This time, your mother-in-law is not killed by this seat." Stepping Xianjun was interested in watching the fun of Xuemen for a while, and touched his chin. "But if you are sad, this seat is very happy." I haven't forgotten who was in the chest before.

"How is it that the taste of distress is good?"

There was no silence in the courtyard.

Stepping on the fairy and staring at the bottom for a while, suddenly starting, the shadows moved, he has come to Xue Meng.

The drunken phoenix didn't notice his arrival, and he still reached out to rub the jug, trying to pour the nectar in the mouth.

But suddenly a cold hand came out and pinched the red mud pot to stop his movements.

"You...who...?"

"you guess."

Xue Meng reluctantly opened a crying to the swollen eyes, and walked down the hand and went up. The handsome face of the Emperor Xiandi was filled with a mocking face.

Stepping Xianjun has never seen such a sinful Xuemeng, although he is convinced that the previous Xuemeng secretly collapsed many times after the people, but this is his first time to see him. He licked his lips and felt very excited. stimulate.

He leaned over and stared at the prey, staring at Xue Meng: "Interesting, the original apprentice who is the most proud of Chu, is also drunk with wine and drank into a mud."

He said, sitting diagonally on the edge of the stone table, then reached out and picked up Xue Meng's chin.

"I haven't seen you look like you have been young for a long time." Step Xianjun had some emotions. "In the red dust, I have been waiting too long. This seat has forgotten what kind of face you have when you were a teenager."

Fingertips rubbed up a little.

Passing over the cheeks, nose bridge, eyebrows, and then poked on the forehead.

"Xue Meng, do you know? There is one thing, this seat is actually very regrettable." He looked at Xue Meng's eyes, and gradually revealed a chilling smile. "Last life, this moment, good thoughts, let you Life, you in turn want to kill this seat. Sometimes this seat is thinking... Is it the first time you should kill you."

"People, living is not comfortable, but it is not necessarily painful to die." The voice of Stepanjun is low and gloomy. "Xue Meng, do you want to accompany you to your mother?"

He said as he leaned over.

The cold nose smacked over Xue Meng’s cheeks, and the two cold fingers touched Xue’s neck-side artery—he kept staring at Xue Meng’s eyes.

He looked at his own reflection in the eyes of tears, like a ghost coming to the world.

"In fact, this earthly person will die in the end." Stepping Xianjun white teeth is awesome. "You and I are so good brothers and half-life. Since you met here, it is better to send you a trip to help you get rid of it."

Finger force, is trying to kill.

"brother……"

Suddenly, a whisper, like a spring bud breaks the ground, the stone is shocked.

Step on a fairy.

Xue Meng looked at him, and the drunkenness seemed to finally distinguish the appearance of the person in front of him. He shed tears and heavy shirt, sobbing and crawling up, grabbing the cold arm of stepping on the fairy, as if to hold the driftwood in the sea. .

"brother……"

He called him.

Where did he distinguish the slight difference between the two inks, he only said that the person in front of him was ink-burning, only his brother, his family, his most carefree years have finally returned.

Stepping on the fairy is clear this time, and I am sure I have not heard it wrong. So he was a little scared, and he didn’t know what to look for.

The intracranial is a mess.

In the blur, stepping on the fairy eyes flashed through the shadows, he saw himself and Xue Meng sitting in the red lotus water, cooking tea and cooking, and clinking under the moon.

...this is what the ink master has done?

"Brother." Xue Meng was drunk, he was buried in the arms of the fairy, and he was still crying at the beginning, but in the end, the period of Ai Ai, he swallowed, and finally became stunned. "Don't go... don't leave me. ....."

After a while, I seem to think of something else. He suddenly started to shake the whole person, and his lips were all white: "Don't kill me, don't force them... Those people are killing me, don't hurt me." Come to me..." The teardrops rolled down and smashed the chest of Xianjun. "Don't... don't dig my brother's heart..."

In the whim of this upside down, the hand that stepped Xianjun had to kill was finally slowly put down. He stood still for a moment and wanted to push Xuemeng away. However, Xue Meng held him so tightly, his hands and feet were thick.

Gradually, the place closest to the heart was finally soaked with tears.

In the end, Teng Xianjun finally fled and plunged into the beam of the roof of the house, and lowered the body to the potential gallery, watching Xue Meng, who was crying in the snow.

Xue Meng in his memory has always been fierce, arrogant, aggressive and sharp. At the moment, staying in the snow, but a child who can no longer find his brother.

He looked at Xue Meng and cried for a long time in the same place. Later, Xue Meng got up and didn't know if the wine was awake, or he was crying tired. Then he was so neutral in the courtyard for a while, and finally holding the jar, the plum blossoms to the courtyard. Go away. The young man went aimlessly, looked awkwardly, and slowly went away - far away -

Stepping on the snow, the two lines twisted and twisted, but they no longer look back, and they have been spreading to the depths of the wind and snow until they can't see Xue Meng's back.

In the hurricane, suddenly a singer came. It was a short song that Xue Zhengyi once sang before his death. Now he is in the throat of Xue Meng and circling in the Kunlun Snow Palace.

"I worship the deceased half-ghost, but now I am intoxicated." As soon as the sound is still young, the tone has been vicissitudes of life, "the total angle is hidden under the cassia twig, and the surface of the drinking surface has been spotted."

Heavy snow dyed the youthful hair.

The hoarse voice is mixed with the sound of snow and snow.

"The skylight dreams of breaking the crowds..." is getting farther and farther and closer. It may not be that Xue Meng is far away, but the young man is finally crying, and the words are sobbing. "Abandon my old body and tears."

Abandon my old body.

He is only twenty-two years old, but only in the dream of being drunk, can he see the old people laughing again and again. He was only a year of prosperity, but he only had a drink of Dukang, only to see Gaotang's love, old friends two or three.

Xue Meng looked up and seemed to want to hold back the tears in his eyes, but he didn't know if he had resisted it. The snow had already fascinated his eyes.

He is embarrassed, almost shouting, ringing the clouds, seems to be asking with Tianzhu, and the land is screaming.

"I hope to increase the life and the Zhougong, let the king hold the wine, go back!"

The cloud gas aggregated, and he fell into the jar.

With his hands open, Xue Meng fell straight into the snow. He didn't want to go any further. Where is the front? There are ice and snow everywhere, no familiar figure, no home.

Even the ink that is only dreamed of is fake, it is a mirror of the water, and fleeting.

Xue Meng lay in the snow, after a while, raised his hand and covered his eyes.

The pale lips of the * lightly merged, and the tears slid down.

"Why are you leaving, just leave me alone."

Xue Meng stunned and lost his tone.

"Why... why should I stay alone?"

In fact, for the rest of his life, in the end, he only has himself.

Stepping on the fairy listened to the remnant of the whistling wind, watching the place where Xue Mengyuan went, he stood motionless on the ridge, and the wind blew his cloak to hunt. He raised his hand and touched his chest, but he didn't know what it was like.

I am a ghost to the deceased.

For Xue Meng, this is the case. Why is it not for stepping Xianjun?

The Wushan Temple of the previous life was empty, and in the end there was only one lonely man, and no one else. He didn't know where the incense burner was placed in his house, and he couldn't wear the old clothes when he was a teenager. Sometimes he rushed out to ask for a joke, but surrounded by a respectful and tight face. .

No one knows what he is saying and no one knows him.

People who know him are either under the spring or at the end of the world.

Stepping on the fairy is slowly coming to the edge of the Tianchi. It is not a good weather, the fog is in the distance, and the snow seeds on the pool are in a hurry. He stood there quietly, like a woodcarving clay sculpture with no heart and no lungs.

Let Frost Snow cover him.

"Chu Ning..." gently sighed, "If it was the year..."

If it was the year, how?

He did not say anything more, the eyelashes overlapped and closed his eyes.

There has never been nothing. If it was the same year, he was the emperor of the emperor, and he was the unparalleled respect of the realm of cultivation. He does not know what regrets, what is turning back.

What happened happened.

He does not regret, nor does he say no.

Even if the flesh and blood are vague and close to the people, this is his own choice of road, and then the thorns are dense, he will go down with his scalp.

However, in this vast sky, between the snowy sky, no one knows where anyone will know. Teng Xianjun took a long time and finally made an unexpected thing - he collapsed.

In the place where Chu nightning died in the same year, he worshipped and fell.

One worship.

Second worship.

Until three weeks.

Stepping on the face, under the hood, the lashes are frosted, and the look is solemn. No one knows what he is thinking. Then he got up, as if he had a long-cherished wish, and he didn’t swear over the cloak black robe and swept toward the most abundant place in Kunlun Mountain.

The emperor is out, the world is unstoppable. Shi Mingjing did not choose the wrong one. He has the strongest spiritual power of the human world, and he also has an unparalleled mastery.

Time and space will die and will open.

Chapter 290

Xue Meng was lying on the ground. When he was drunk, he was confused. He did not know that he had already met the biggest devil in the world. He still fell on his back in the snow, and the snow of the Kunlun Mountains was falling and falling, like the spring catkins, the autumn flowers, covering him.

I don't know how long it took, someone held a bright red paper umbrella and approached the snow. Xue Meng was blindfolded, and then he saw a cold face.

"plum……"

Xue Meng screamed, the words snow contained never said, he was too tired.

"Well, it's me." Mei Hanxue didn't talk much, and he lifted him from the ground.

Xue Mengyu was on the shoulders of Mei Hanxue, but he did not leave. Instead, he asked: "Is there wine?"

Mei Hanxue said: "No."

Xue Meng did not hear: "Well, then you accompany me for a drink?"

"...not drinking."

Xue Mengjing for a while, smiled slyly: "You see this dog thing, I don't drink before, you licking me to drink, this time I drink, you said to me again. Play me?"

"I don't want alcohol."

Xue Meng muttered a few words, and it sounded like he was swearing. Then he pushed open the plum with snow, and walked deep and shallow into the vast snow. Mei Hanxue took an umbrella and looked at him and even had some sly backs. He didn't catch up, just asked: "Where are you going?"

He didn't know where he was going. He only hated enough wine and couldn't drunk himself.

Mei Hanxue said: "Come back, there is no way ahead."

Xue Meng stood still, he stood there, and after a while, he suddenly burst into tears: "I want to drink some wine! You don't let me drink! Don't drink, don't drink, you still Lie me to say that you avoid alcohol! Are you a person?!"

"……I did not lie to you."

Xue Meng couldn’t listen to it. He said, "Is it human?"

"..."

"I don't feel happy in my heart, can't you see it?!"

Mei Hanxue said: "See it."

Xue Meng was awkward, and then he was even more wronged. Even the tip of his nose was red: "Well... well, I don’t see it with me. Are you afraid that I will not give you money? I am with you. Say, actually, I am not so poor..."

He said that he really went to the pockets and took out a bunch of broken pieces of copper to go back and forth several times. It was even more sad when he clicked on it: "Ah, why are you so?"

Mei Hanxue helped the forehead, obviously it hurts a bit: "Xue Meng, you are drunk. You should go to rest first."

Xue Meng has not yet answered, but behind him there is the footsteps of Shasha.

Another gentle and elegant voice sounded: "Big brother, what do you think about a drunk person?"

The voice fell, and a hand with a crepe jacket stretched out, carrying a sheepskin bag and a silver bell on the wrist. Mei Hanxue slanted the scorpion and turned back -

Behind him, he stood exactly the same as his birth, but his face was full of smiles and his eyes were very gentle.

"In fact, there are only two ways to get drunk." The man smiled, "I fainted him, or stunned him."

Mei Hanxue: "....."

The man said, Chongmei covered the snow with a wink: "Know that the big brother avoids alcohol. Go back, I will accompany him."

The light cyan thin smoke rises, the man dances the soft room, the deep feelings, but the confusion.

The master bedroom of the Snow Palace is filled with a strong and expensive dragon scent. It is covered with white fluffy carpets everywhere, and one foot is stepped on without ankles. The gauze confession is confused with the sun and the moon, and the wind blows. The wind falls and the curtain is covered.

Mei Hanxue barefooted and supported his head, lying on the white velvet carpet, and the white toe of the jade was smashed at random, and a pair of jasper eyes looked at Xuemeng, who was sitting cross-legged in front of him and drinking.

After the wine was over thirty, Mei Han Xue smiled and asked: "Hey, Zi Ming, are you not surprised?"

"What are you surprised?"

"We have two people."

Xue Meng: "...oh."

Mei Hanxue shook his head: "I forgot that you have a very poor amount of alcohol. After being drunk, your head is about the same as ordinary people. No surprise or surprise."

Xue Meng: "Hey."

"I don't know if you are aware of it. It was my big brother who was blocking the sword for you that day."

"I can't think of it."

Mei Hanxue said: "You have seen his weapons, hurricane. A sword cast by silver and black iron."

Xue Meng frowned and thought for a moment: "...but on the hall that day, the people who blocked me were ugly. The weapons are not silver, yes...yes..."

"It's blue." Mei Hanxue nodded in disappointment. "Because he was angry that day, he was very anxious, so he injected the stream. Usually he didn't pay much attention to it. My brother didn't really like it. Squatting."

"..."

"The sword is actually used by us. I am the wooden water core. He is the water and fire core. If you have the chance, you will see the three streams of green, red and blue, but..."

He did not say it, because Xue Meng did not seem to have much interest in this. Xue Meng began to drink his own wine after half listening, and his expression was faint.

Mei Han Xue narrowed his eyes.

He suddenly felt that Xue Meng was like this, and he did not seem to be flying in the air, but there was a hint of coldness. This kind of coldness makes Xue Meng not like himself, but like another person.

But who is it like?

Mei Hanxue couldn't think of it for a while, and he didn't bother thinking. He has been doing the same thing with the squirting smoke of this Swiss brain gold beast, lazy, wherever it floats, if it is boneless.

Xue Meng drank a sheepskin bag and asked Mei Hanxue: "Is there still this wine?"

"Yes, but you have already drunk too much and can't do it anymore."

Xue Mengdao: "I am not drunk in a thousand cups."

Mei Hanxue laughed: "Are you sick?" But he handed the wine to him. He warmly said before: "This is the last pot. If you give it to me, teach me my brother knows, I am not alive." ""

Xue Meng slowly drank and looked very cold.

He is not like Xue Meng.

Drinking and drinking, Xue Meng suddenly whispered: "You have a brother."

"Ah." Mei Xue Xue laughed. "Otherwise, it has been said for a long time, and you have only seen it."

Xue Meng’s eyes were a little erratic, and the eyelashes were long, like a butterfly, and he murmured, “I also have a brother.”

"Ok, I know."

Xue Meng leaned on the pillars, sitting cross-legged for a long time, some hemp, he straightened one leg and stared at Mei Hanxue for a while.

Suddenly, the cold look on his face disappeared, and instead he was wearing a brilliance, but under the glory, Xue Meng was still not like Xue Meng.

He smiled and asked: "Hey, how is your brother waiting for you?"

Mei Hanxue is a little surprised by his transformation. Is this person drunk? But still said: "...very good."

"Ha ha ha, you really cherish the words like gold, how good is a good law? Will he cast weapons for you, or will you cook a bowl of pasta when you are sick?"

Mei Hanxue smiled and said: "No, but he will block women for me."

Xue Meng: "..."

"I don't really like to watch the old lover crying." Mei Hanxue said, "The ones that can't cope with it are all for me. He does things much more than me. There is no feeling, no muddy water. But he is nothing." Interesting, so a lot of age, even a girl's hand has not been taken."

Xue Meng wrinkled his nose: "What is your brother?"

"Mei Hanxue."

"same as you?"

"The word is different." He smiled. "He is cold and cold, so deserved."

Xue Meng said: "You want to make this out of the moth..."

Mei Hanxue said: "It's easy to act, there are things, it's no surprise that two people do it, but if everyone thinks it is from one person, it will be very inscrutable. The palace owner intends us to do this, so from childhood Just take me and my brother."

He said, uncovering the oven cover, picking up the silver spoon and fiddling with the embers inside, and filling in some of the spices that the gods used to drive the cold, the voice is very soft.

"I have always been carrying a human skin mask with him. When he put it on, I will show people with real things. When I change it, he will act with real body, and it will be more than twenty years."

"You are not tired?"

"Not tired, it's very fun." Mei Hanxue smiled. "But my brother probably feels tired. He always said that I owe too much debt outside, so that he has to go around the women." Take it away."

Xue Meng did not realize the taste of being surrounded by women. In fact, he felt that he and Mei Hanxue’s Xiongtai situation was similar. I didn’t even touch the woman’s hand.

But there is nothing to show off in this kind of thing. He then drank dryly, silent, not snoring.

When Mei Hanxue was drunk, his mind was not normal, but he didn't want to be this time. Xue Meng suddenly asked him: "Why save me?"

The tone has changed again, this time it has become very gentle.

This kind of gentleness appeared on Xue Meng’s face. It was too violent. It was more glaring than the previous Can’s, earlier indifference.

Mei Hanxue finally couldn't stand it anymore. He sat up and raised his hand with a silver bell. He grabbed Xue Meng's chin and turned around and looked at it. "It's strange, I am right, how is it going?" ”

Xue Meng did not struggle, and he stared at himself. A pair of black lacquered eyes quietly looked at Mei Hanxue. After a while, he asked: "Why help me to die? I am familiar with you?"

"Not too familiar." Mei Xuexue said, "I played with you when I was young, but the person who played with you, one day is me, one day is my brother. In fact, I have only been with you for ten days."

"Why are you willing to take me?"

Mei Hanxue sighed. He stretched out a long finger and poked the wrong Xue Meng's eyebrows: "You are a mother and aunt, saved my mother's life.... She is a broken leaf city, you know the broken leaves. After she gave birth to our brother, she sent us to the Kunlun Snow Palace. Later, the city was in a state of sorrow, and the death and injury were heavy. She managed to escape, but broke a leg."

The newly filled spices have a cedar fragrance.

Mei Hanxue smiled and said: "Along the way, there is no silver. When I came to the foot of the Kunlun Mountains, I was already swallowing up."

His eyebrows are still very soft, and the red drops of water between the foreheads are shining.

"At that time, Uncle Xue and Aunt Wang came to Kunlun for a first time to visit. They saw my dying mother, did not ask her to live, did not collect her money, he treated her with the best medicine, and learned that she was After looking for the child, she also carried her on the Kunlun Mountains."

Xue Meng was speechless and listened attentively.

After a while, he asked: "So, what about your mother?"

"The disease is too heavy." Mei Hanxue shook his head. "Returning to the sky, it is still gone.... But the blessing of the aunt's aunt, we saw her last side."

A little wind came in from the outside, the smoke in the house was scattered, and the wind was ringing.

Like the sound of water.

"In these years, my uncle and aunt have always said that they don't have to say anything, just to raise their hands. After they have come, they have even forgotten about it, but I still remember it with my older brother." Mei Hanxue raised his eyes and calmly Looked at him.

Time has passed for a long time. When he talked about this matter, the pain was lingering, only mild.

"On that day, it was Xue’s father carrying my mother, and Aunt Wang was holding an umbrella next to him. They were afraid that my mother would suffer from the cold again. The uncle’s aunt entered the temple and said the first thing, not the official business of death and death. I don't want to form an alliance with the Snow Palace or make a good deal. They ask, is there a pair of twins from the city?"

The pale gold eyelashes hang down and cover the clear water.

"To tell the truth, that's what I have seen in my life, the best head and the head lady."

Xue Meng choked: "I am a mother..."

Mei Hanxue "hmm", said: "You are a mother."

Xue Meng buried his face in his palm, his shoulders trembled a little, and he was crying again. The tears of this life seemed to be exhausted in the months of this fall apart.

He cried, and he finally changed back to Xue Meng's appearance.

At this time, Mei Hanxue remembered it -

Fang Cai, he said coldly, "I am not drunk in a thousand cups."

He calmly asked, "Do you have a brother?" It was a light rain.

He softly said, "Why save me." That is Shi Mingjing.

He tried hard and awkwardly remembered their appearance, recalling their bit by bit, smiling, sitting or standing, or angry or annoyed.

In the past, he used to have the coldness of Chu Xiaoning, the burning of the ink rain, the gentleness of the teacher, the former master, the cousin, and the best friend.

Suddenly, the rain hits Ping, and the mountains and rivers are broken.

The rain stopped, only he was still in the same place.

They have all disappeared.

Xue Meng alone, carrying a pot of turbid wine, drinking, a person became three.

He cried, smiled, cold, hot, gentle, he liked them, respectfully expressed his likes, expressed his affectionately, and expressed his love awkwardly.

He thought that he might not have expressed it well. His love for the Master is always very dull. The love of my cousin always seems sharp. The love of the teacher is always very light.

After the wine was finished, Xue Meng slowly picked himself up. He shrank himself so small and his eyes were red.

He said: "I am not good... I am not doing it..."

Come back.

I am no longer arrogant, no longer mad, no longer hesitate, no longer ignore.

Xue Meng whimpered, his forehead pressed against his knees, and the whole person shivered in detail. He cried. He said, "Come back... don't leave me alone."

If you can return, if everything can be done from scratch. He does not want the reputation of the arrogant son of heaven, and does not want to be the majesty of the Lord.

He just wants to tell them directly and enthusiastically -

I am really, really love you, can't live without you, and I am related to you all my life.

Willing to use the spiritual core, willing to spend thousands of dollars.

I wish you all the best. For the sake of the replacement of the old man, a greedy joy.

Mei Hanxue saw him mourn, sighed low, raised his hand on his deafness, was trying to say something, and suddenly heard a loud bang outside the palace, like a thunder running over a heavy cloud, a big earthquake.

This tremor lasted for a while, as if a giant beast was waking up in the depths of the snowfield, and it was necessary to breathe and squirt at any time.

Mei Hanxue’s heart is not good. He settled in Xuemeng and was about to go out. He saw his brother holding a sabre, opened the gauze, and strode in.

When the big brother's face was condensed, it was extremely gloomy: "Go to the hall immediately."

Mei Hanxue said: "What happened? Just what was it?"

His cold brother, who had always been cold, licked his lips and said: "There is a huge mysterious circle in the northeast. I am afraid that the Mozong master said that it was right, and the time and space are going to open."

Chapter 291

Stepping on the fairy is standing in the sky, the black robe is like a splash of ink.

He narrowed his eyes, and the hustle and bustle of the wide sleeves was blown up, and the power in the palm of the hand was like a dragon, swallowing the sun, and suddenly tearing open the visible cold fog and the invisible time and space -

"boom!"

Suddenly a loud bang, a lightning bolt is like a sharp blade, and it suddenly shatters the sky!

A few deaths, followed by the Tianchi water rushing into the water, the Kunlun snow raging, the yellow clouds rolling, the hurricane sky... Once, Chu nightning came to this red dust, only tore a slight trace, and then the division I have painstakingly repaired the traces and followed it to the world.

But the two times of time and space split, only a slight trauma, will soon be restored to the original state by the power of Hong Meng. Even later on the mountain, Xu Shuanglin opened a big crack with the help of the five great soldiers, which only temporarily broke the barrier between the two red dust.

But this time, the crack that was torn by the ink burned was completely different from the previous one. When the sky is dark, the scarlet is filled with water. At the same time, there are two suns and two moons rising up, with the faint white light and the high hanging above.

From Jiangnan to Mobei, from Cape to Tianya. For a time almost everyone stopped what was on hand and looked up at this strange and horrible sky.

Impermanent town. The child with babble is crying, and her mother is holding it tightly in her arms. The mother kisses his face and whispers: "Don't cry, don't cry, baby is awkward, Aunt is here, Aunt is here. ""

Yangzhou City. The old woman with the chicken skin was twitching with a cane, squatting, hoarse and whispering: "This... how can there be two moons in the sky, and two suns... Heaven, God, what is this? what's going on……"

Feihua Island. Sun Sanniang erected her eyebrows and stood on the shore with her arms. She slammed everyone into the house to turn off the lights, and let the servants connect the homeless, old, sick and sick on the island to the house.

She stared at the vision in the sky, her eyes splashing with fire.

Not to mention the lonely moon, the Huanghuang Pavilion, the Wushou Temple, whether or not they are willing to accept, almost all the monks clearly understand one thing at this moment:

Time and space are really dead, really open.

The smoldering of the smoldering gas is full of blood, and the eyes are covered with blood and suffocating.

He was fascinated by the teacher before and after the net, and he was born and died. He died and lived. The memory is even more fragmented. There is only one soul in the body to support.

Therefore, his whole person is crazy, more unreasonable than before.

Destroy the sky.

Soon, half of the mountains and rivers were covered by this black stream cloud, and stepping on the king looked up, haha smiled - but what was he laughing at?

He is not clear, nor does he know.

The mind is messed up, and only the commands of the master are constantly swirling around in the chest.

He narrowed his eyes and looked at the crystal clear enchantment under the black cloud. A sneer twitched between the lips and teeth, then raised his hand and lowered his head: "No return."

Not returning to the present.

Stepping on the fingertips of the stepping stone on the knife body, rubbing it.

Then, he enchanted toward the resistance of the two red dusts, and fell! !

Must be dead -

Suddenly, the hinterland roared and Vientiane ran.

Time and space are finally completely opened by him, cut off, and broken.

At the time, the mountains and rivers are discolored.

His fierce and overbearing spiritual power and the unsuccessful martial arts make this rip expand so thoroughly, and it is impossible to seal it within a hundred years!

The mission is complete.

Stepping on the swell of the blast, the smashing eyes squinted for a moment, then looked back at the red dust, and suddenly turned and turned into the world that truly belongs to him -

When the wind whistling in his ear stopped, he raised his eyes.

There is a white in front of me. He returned to the world he called the emperor. Back to the Kunlun Snow Palace in the past.

"His Majesty."

"Welcome to the emperor to return."

He stood on the snowy field, and a large number of fans rushed toward him. He was stumbled like a tidal wave on the snow, and he squatted at him.

There was no snoring in the singer, and the eagle-eyed eyes stared at the rows of monks, one by one in a black cloak.

I can't see the end, these people have been spreading to the foot of the mountain.

Headed by a trembling old man, the hurricane blew his white hair, which was Liu Gong who served him for many years.

In the year when Ting Xianjun died, Liu Gong was also sent back to his hometown like other palace people. I thought that everything would end here, but it didn't take long for a medicinal sage named Hua Binan to be born, revealing the green face and fangs, and actually made the body of the sacred prince into a dead person to control.

However, this living dead has a certain mood and will, and is dissatisfied with the servant who Hua Biannan sent to serve him. Until Hua Binan re-returned the old palace of Wushan Temple, he was willing to give up.

Hua Binan later disappeared from the red dust because some old Liu did not know it. He only left the emperor, and he could not die for life.

For a long time, Rao is stupid and can also see that the Emperor has always been controlled/controlled, and Lao Liu is no exception. But he is a thorny old man, half of his neck is buried with loess, what can he do?

He has no relatives and no friends, and his friends have already died. He can only serve as the last sustenance of his service, and he is obsessed with it.

It is because of this sustenance that when Liu Gong saw him again, his eyes were both happy and sad, and it was more real than others.

Stepping on the fairy moved his lips: "Old Liu."

"Your Majesty." Liu Gongchang slammed down. "Your Majesty is finally back."

"...Do you know?" When Stepan said these words, he did not realize that he was like a child who was anxious to share good news with his elders. "This seat has seen him again."

Liu Gongyi: "... Chu Zongshi?"

"Well, I have seen it many times. The spiritual core of this seat has also been restored. When the matter is completed, this seat can be-"

Xu was the shadow of the old man’s turbid eyes. He touched the fairy and slammed his mouth, and some of them slammed around the circle.

Fortunately, no one dares to laugh at him.

He licked his lips and made himself feel cold and majestic. He looked at his sleeves and said, "Oh. Don't lie. Get up and go back to Wushan Temple with your seat."

All the way to the sword back to the shackles, the eyes are dead, the ten rooms and nine empty.

There is not much living in this red dust, he has long been used to it. Just staying in another world for a while, seeing the excitement of people coming and going, and returning to this * on earth, there will still be some downfall.

That night, he opened an old pear white, and he was alone in the empty Wushan Temple.

Since he got the spiritual core of Mo Zongshi, his body has recovered a lot, and many things that can be done by living people can also be done. For example, drinking, such as eating. However, no matter how much it is repaired, the body is still a corpse, and the taste that he can taste at the tip of his tongue is actually not even 30% before his death.

However, he is still satisfied with this.

After three rounds of drinking, he was slightly drunk. He supported his forehead and lay on the soft couch, thinking about some past events. These past events are actually not very happy. It is always very embarrassing to use it for wine.

He didn't want to think about it before, but he was not afraid at the moment.

The two red dusts have already been opened, and the more unpleasant pasts will soon change. He squinted and narrowed his fingers around the red spikes on the jug. He murmured: "Chu Ning..."

Get up and simply go to the red lotus otter that has been dusty for a long time. As soon as I arrived at the door, I bumped into Liu’s righteousness. Seeing each other, both of them are a glimpse.

"Your Majesty."

Step by step, ask: "How are you here?"

As he said, his eyes fell on the scorpion rags and other things that Liu Gong was carrying.

"Sweeping?"

Liu Lao sighed: "Yeah, I don't know what day I want to come back. I am afraid that things will not be destroyed for a long time, so I will pick them up every day." Liu Laodun paused. "The head here is still the same as before. go in."

Stepping on the fairy suddenly did not know what to say.

He walked alone to the lotus pond, and the pool was filled with spirit, so Fang Fei was resident. In the depths of the flowers, I don’t know that the spring and autumn frogs are screaming in the drums. He listened to the head for a while, and slowly thought that there was an afternoon, and it was also at the bridge. The summer smoke was so stunned that he suddenly started. I was so interested, I took Chu’s late night, and I kissed the man’s forehead on the bridge.

At that time, the relationship between them, apart from * and love, did not seem to have much warmth. This sudden kiss did not mean a little bit of jealousy, so let Chu Xi Ning feel a little wrong.

The tree screamed three or two times, and the frog in the pool did not show weakness.

He looked at the pair of tiny phoenixes and became more and more interesting. He said, "If you have nothing to do, why not play a game?"

Before he refused, he put his finger on his lips: "Hey. Listen to this seat."

"..."

"Let's make a bet. Wait a minute, if the frog in the yard is called, even if you lose, you have to go to the pot with a sour plum soup. If the hum of the tree first sounds, even if it is This seat loses, this seat... takes you down the mountain to distract yourself."

Going down the mountain is indeed a big temptation. Chu night Ning originally did not want to take care of him, but when he got along, Xi Xianjun had already clearly grasped his soft place, and the conditions imposed made him unable to refuse.

The handsome man smiled and said: "Then, is it starting?"

"one two Three……"

The low-pitched and sizzling voices slowly flowed, and both of them listened to the frogs or cicadas, but the human monarchs probably had poor luck. He began to count, the more screaming, the frogs lazily The sound of the sound has a big meaning.

"Eight, nine..." The more you go back, the more you drag and drop. The extent of the rogue to the end was too obvious, and it made him turn around and look at him coldly.

Stepping on the fairy is also very cheeky, was looked at by people, actually stopped at the "nine", not counting down, but asked Chu Yuning: "You said that this frog is dead."

"..."

"Otherwise, why not call it."

"..."

"Let's wait, see if it's still alive, or it's not fair." He said, picking up a stone from the ground and throwing it away at the green-skinned frog that was obviously alive and dead.

"ten!"

"Hey!"

The frog was shocked and thumped into the pond. The frog and the frog sounded together. Stepping on the fairy, he laughed and licked the mud on his finger. He said to the late night: "You lost. The first call is frog."

Chu night Ning's sleeves are going to go, but the cuffs are pulled. The cheaper stepping stepping is in a good mood, and the lotus pond is floating in the dark. He ignores the other person’s anger and smiles: "The sour plum soup is iced, especially the kind of ice."

"Do you want a face?" Chu Xiaoning said almost biting the back molar.

"That stuff can't solve the summer heat, what's the use." Stepping said, poked his forehead. "Go, remember to put less sugar."

Probably the mood of the day was really good. After drinking a pot of sweet iced syrup in the hot sun, even the frogs couldn't tell the sound.

In the evening, he suddenly said to Chu Ningning: "It will be three years soon."

"what?"

Seeing his reaction, the young man’s face was slightly unhappy on the upper side of the cage: “It’s called the emperor. It’s almost three years since it’s called the emperor.”

Stepping on the side of the fairy, while trying to find a wave of stars in the eyes of Chu night, unfortunately the result is very frustrating. He slightly wrinkled his nose, some gloomy and unwilling, and for a moment, he suddenly said: "You have been with this seat for three years."

"..."

"Look at the good taste of this pot of iced plum soup, this seat takes you down the mountain. But you can't go far, just in the town of impermanence."

The horses and horses are well prepared, and the bamboo curtains, pillows, tea and folding fans are all available.

Standing in front of the main entrance of the death and death of the three times, Stepping Xianjun touched the embroidered gold silk emerald ring of white horse, and turned his face to the late night of Chu: "Is it familiar? This is your former travel like sitting The carriage was not in the way, and did not teach people to throw it away."

Chu nightning did not show any joy, but he has already stepped on the yellow rosewood ankle as before, and opened the bamboo curtain into the cabin.

The servant was dumbfounded and turned to look at the emperor in the sunset.

This man's character is gloomy. It is common to kill innocent people regardless of the reason. I really don't know what kind of courage the Chu Master has, and I don't know how many rituals, and dare to take a seat before the emperor.

What the servants did not expect was that Stepping Xianjun did not seem to mind this. He even narrowed his eyes and smiled with interest: "Hey, this person is also an elder of Yuheng."

I was about to follow the train, and suddenly there was a woman’s soft and delicate voice.

The woman softly called: "A burning."

Chapter 292

Stepping on the head of the fairy, see Song Qiutong dress gorgeous, Chu Chu moving, is coming with a line.

The hand that he stretched out to the curtain stopped and calmly pressed the bamboo curtain tightly, then asked: "What?"

"It’s nothing to do, just go around and eat away." Song Qiutong gathered a ceremonial gaze and looked at the carriage with a soft look. "Ah is going to go out?"

“Go to the night market in Wuchang Town.”

She smiled awkwardly, but she did not lose her relatives: "The road is so close, it is still a carriage. Isn't it alone?"

At that time, his patience with her was not bad, so he reported a smile: "Not a person."

Song Qiutong's eyes waved, his eyes fell on the yellow rosewood on the pedals, the woman's mind was delicate, only one turn had the answer. Her look was first and foremost, and then she said with joy: "Ah, isn’t it a sister?"

"..."

It’s imaginable that the carriage in the carriage is late to hear the face after the title, and stepping on the fairy is holding a smile: “Well. It’s him.”

The beauty of the woman’s face is more and more beautiful, and it’s almost eclipsing the clouds on the horizon: “It’s so good. I stayed in the palace for three years, and I only saw Chu’s sister on the wedding day. Still wearing a hijab. Today is a good day, actually can meet."

She smiled and said: "A fire can lead our sisters to meet each other?"

Stepping Xianjun shook his head: "He is a strange child, and he is uncomfortable when he sees a stranger. It is still dumb. Don't see it."

Although Song Qiutong has consistently listened to the ink, but at this time it is difficult to resist. What's more, she can be said to have been complaining about this Chu Yu for a long time. She was humiliated when she was left behind by her husband for no reason. Later, I heard many gossip words from the palace people, saying that the emperor’s wedding night was left in the Chuxi room until the second day.

"I didn't stop all night, and the movement really took life."

"The people who listened to the night said that they counted the number of their fingers, and they said that they did seven or eight times, and they were too strong."

There is also a small palace girl smiled and said: "Isn't it the Chu Yan Niang Niang? One night seven or eight times, I am afraid that even the little emperor will have it soon."

However, the most embarrassing thing for Song Qiutong is such a whisper, such as "The Queen Empress is so beautiful, I can't think of the wedding night and I will fall out of favor." "This is not a courtesy system, and it is too bad for the girl."

She felt that her face was like a sneak peek at Chu Gui, who had never seen her face. The pain of burning was only increased in three years.

Later, even her confidant niece was resentful, biting her teeth and complaining: "I don't know which mountain's fox has been refined, and I am confused and turned."

In turn, she persuaded her: "The girl is not too sad. You see that you are staying at her place almost night and night, but I don't think she is pregnant. I want to come to my body and my bones are not good. There will be no children in this life. Your Majesty is also playing." Playing with her, sooner or later will be tired."

Song Qiutong smiled awkwardly. Some words, how did she have a face?

She and his few loves, he is extremely cautious, never want to let her pregnant. The only time she vented to her gentle township, not long ago, after he was drunk, he had a big fight with Chu, and came to her in the middle of the night.

She was already asleep at that time, and when the curtain was smashed open, the pair of scarlet eyes lost their senses. She didn't even have time to react, and he was turned over and tore off the inner skirt, rudely. In the ruthless torture of Lu Ru, her hair was caught, she heard him in his ear: "Who are you secretly writing to me? You care about him?"

When the clouds were thick, she was stunned and soft, but he heard him whispering behind him: "You can't see anyone...you can't go anywhere...you can only be the one in this seat...even Not reconciled..."

Song Qiutong slowed down from this shameful memory. She arranged her look and bent her eyes and smiled. "Although I don't mind the number of rituals, but I am also a sister, I always want to see her and give her some blessings." ""

The hand that stepped on the bamboo curtain did not fall down: "He has everything. Nothing is missing."

Since the words have already been said to this point, Song Qiutong has no way to do it. He only has to say a few words with the emperor in a gentle and soft jade. He will watch him go to the carriage and go far with the fox.

In the depths of the bamboo curtains, above the soft seats, stepping on the fairy sorrows and endures the painful ribs, and continues to be a serious mantra: "This seat is an emperor, too much for your favorite pets, I am afraid it is not appropriate."

"..."

Chu Evening’s face was gloomy, and his face looked at the window and he did not say anything.

The ripe golden sunlight shines through the fine curtains, and the layers of light and shadow fall on his thin, transparent face. Stepping on the fairy, staring at it for a while, leaning on the past, lying on his lap.

Chu nightning stretched his back and did not look at him. Instead, he asked, "Are you not hot?"

"The voice of love is so cold, it can cool down."

"..." Chu nightning finally looked down and glanced at him, his eyes were colder than the sound.

He is really angry. No man is willing to be another man's jealousy. Song Qiutong's sister-in-law has made him feel like he is swallowing. He even has red eyes because of shame.

At the beginning of the step, Shi Xianjun sealed him as a beggar, so that he would taste the taste of such a woman. Song Qiutong is a wife, and he is a singer of Beidou Xianzun.

"Angry?"

"..."

"This seat has not let her see you, what are you wronging again?"

Stepping Xianjun originally wanted to tease this man, but the twilight flashed, and the sunset glowed through the bamboo curtain, illuminating the face of Chu Yuning. Stepping Xianjun found that the eyes were so cold and alienated, so they moved their mouths and finally did not say anything.

He suddenly felt very boring.

Neither of them spoke.

I came to the town of Wuchang and bought a lot of things in seven or eight. Sugar paintings, flower cakes, candied haws, lanterns, all that can be bought, and a carriage. But Chu Xiaoning just looked at the excitement outside the bamboo curtain, and did not pay attention to the dazzling array of bamboo curtains.

I don’t see how happy I am, but I’m so annoyed.

"Forget it, don't go back tonight." He suddenly said, "I live in the town."

He ordered the groom to find a home inn, and went in with the evening sun wearing a hood and wearing a hood.

Xiao Er is yawning and sees the spirit of the guests. When he yawns in half, he smiles and asks: "Is the guest official staying in the store?"

"I want to go to the house."

Although Chu’s face was hidden under the hood, he could not see clearly, but his posture was obviously a man, and Xiao Er could not help but look up.

Chu night Ningdao: "...two."

Hearing this, the anger of stepping on the fairy has been unable to bear the swearing: "What is your relationship with me, and it is necessary to open two rooms to hide your eyes and ears?"

If the eyes of Xiaoji are still suspicion, it will become awkward at the moment.

Stepping Xianjun is quite satisfied with this kind of eyes of Xiao Er, and even some vicious comfort. When he opened the room, he squatted on the arm of Chu Xinning all the way. When he had just entered the house and had not closed the door tightly, he kissed it densely and eagerly and entangled.

Outside the window of the stalks of the grape, the lights of the house are bright, but these lights have nothing to do with them. He pressed the night of the night on the big bed, and he heard the sound of the night, and he heard a sigh.

"Ink burning, what do you mean by this."

"..."

"What do we mean by this."

This sentence is too sharp, so that after a long time to think back, my heart still has some pain.

Step on the fairy, open your eyes.

He is still standing in the red lotus, and those past events have passed.

But somehow, there seems to be a flash of light in his eyes, and there is a splash of rain in his ear. He seems to be a ghost of the dark night, peeping through the grapevine window of the inn.

He saw the same room, the same two people, the difference is the heavy rain outside the window, and the bed is similar to the atmosphere of love.

He saw that he and Chu Xinning were lingering on the bed, and the house was very dark, but he was sure that he had cleared the face of Chu’s late-night, fascinated by his desires, squinting at himself, and entangled himself in one place. Shame and warmth.

In this illusion, I stared at the man under my body without affection, and pleaded and resolutely: "Tonight, I just want to make you comfortable."

He bowed his head and kissed the fragility of the night with the sorrowful sorrow. He wished to hear the man’s breath, and Chu’s fingers fell into his black hair: “Ah...”

Stepping on the fairy to help his forehead, I only feel that the pain in the skull is cracking.

These two memories are intertwined and bitten each other in an attempt to gain the upper hand. Which paragraph is true? Which paragraph is a nightmare? He didn't know, he didn't dare to think about it.

Reluctantly calmed his heart, he took the road and left the red lotus.

He came to Wujianping, standing in front of the white jade carving bar and looking at the distant mountains and shadows, his chest slightly undulating. What is the memory that just called the fragrance?

Is it the life of another world's ink burning experience...

He couldn't help but recall the cold and soft eyes of Chu's late night, and gasped on his couch with his neck up.

Stepping on the fairy slammed the guardrail.

——Is it true that Chu Ning is willing to go to bed with the Mo Zong teacher who met the ghost? !

I don't know why, obviously they are two people, and the anger of stepping on the fairy is still burning and burning, and the blood of the eyes is red.

If this is really another memory of his own, then he suddenly feels extremely resentful and unwilling.

why? Why?

After he was resurrected by Hua Binan, he walked back to the world with his dead body, leaving him with the devastated Wushan Temple and a pile of disgusting mess.

When he rushed to the Honglian Water Margin, what did he see? It is the dryness after the spiritual power is exhausted, the sea otter that has fallen to the ground, and the empty house.

And the Lotus Pond, which is no longer the case.

He was resurrected from Hefei by Hua Binan, but the body of Chu Nighting has become a gray powder, nothing left, can no longer be found.

He remembered that he was slowly walking to the edge of the lotus pond, looking down at the expressionless face for a while, then leaning over and plucking his fingers into it, licking a handful of water. The cold pool is deep and cold.

He involuntarily snorted, the water leaked from his fingers, and he sat on the ground.

So, when he returned to the world, what is left?

He is more disgusted with living in this world every day, but he is subject to people, he is involuntarily, he has to obey Hua Binan's orders.

Later, Hua Binan groped for a crack in the time and space, but refused to tell him who left it. The guy himself went to another red dust happily, leaving him to work hard here. However, the only gratification is that in order to let him do something in his heart, Hua Binan will try to give him some news.

So he learned that he still had a part of the soul reborn in that era. He learned the news of the teacher, Xue Meng’s news, and the news of those who had already died.

He also learned about the news of Chu Yuning.

The letter that Hua Binan sent to him was always very short, and the words were like gold. He also hates Hua Binan's handwriting, and his sharpness is like a cheek.

But those letters became the greatest hope of his living dead, as if he had breathed a breath to those who were in the deep sea. Every letter he received, and when there was no new letter, he came back and forth to repeat the words that made him sick and die hundreds of times.

He felt that he was probably crazy.

At night, the servant is entering dinner, and he loves the excitement. So he has been ordered to gather in front of the temple as he has always been born again. He lazily squats in the soft seat to watch them eat, and asks them a few words from time to time.

Stepping Xianjun did not like to study in the past, but in those years, no one was by his side, and there was nowhere to go for a long night. He had to read the bamboo slips. Reading and reading, I also pondered the joy of chewing.

For example, if he wants to make a deep fryer, he will say, "Come, taste a thunder for the seat." He wants people to chew the spinach. He will say, "You try the bowl." Red-billed green budgerigar in the mouth."

It is very difficult to make an illiterate study. If the illiterate person still feels relished, I am afraid I can only say one thing: his life has no other fun.

Somewhere, someone came to report: "Your Majesty, the predecessor has returned."

"He is alone?"

"With the wooden cabinet owner of Tianyin Pavilion, they said that they must arrange the sacrifices first, and then come back to meet them."

Stepping on the phoenix grape in the silver plate, the look is faint: "That let them come slowly, this seat is happy."

The person came again and said: "In addition, the predecessors of the saints said that there is a saying to kneel down."

"what?"

"In recent days, you have to be careful, the world is in chaos, and ‘he’ will definitely come.”

"..." Stepping on the eyes of Xianxian, after a while, smiled. "Know, there are counts in this seat."

Of course he knows he will come.

Two red dusts are intertwined, millions of victims are displaced, Mo Zongshi is killed, and the death of life is ruined - Chu Yuening is also like himself, nothing is left, he is afraid to find himself with death.

Stepping Xianjun is not afraid, and even has some hidden expectations.

At night, there is a little candlelight in the palace. There are only 9,999,000 lampstands in the Wushan Temple, which reflects the darkness.

Stepping Xianjun will call Liu Gong and say, "You go to teach people and extinguish half of the candlelights."

The light was too bright, and he was afraid that Chu would rather sneak into the difficulties, so he was on his own warning.

Liu Gong did what he told him. He stood waiting in the same place. When Liu Gong came over and played him, he said, "Yah, half of the fire is gone."

He looked at the dimly lit Huaguang, still dissatisfied, and thought about it: "Come out completely."

Liu Gong: "..."

The candlesticks of the Wushan Temple were extinguished one by one, but the heart of the stepping fairy was lightened little by little. He vaguely felt that Chu Ning was coming soon. The man is estimated to be in white, with a look of resentment, full of morality and boring, probably still want to avenge the ink master.

He thought it was very exciting, his tongue tipped over the white teeth and lips. He only left the last bronze entangled floor lamp in the depths of Luo Wei. This is the fire he left for the desperate moth of Chu Yuning, telling him that he is here, waiting for him to rush to death.

Late at night, the window began to patter the rain.

Stepping Xianjun put on the most solemn gold silk black robes, personally arranged the bed and soft quilt pillow, turned around in the house, still felt something less, and finally ordered a jar of Chen The pears of the year are white and warm.

The man warmed up with good wine, dressed in costume, guarded the account, and stood by the window watching the rain growing outside. From beginning to end, he did not even summon the shadows.

But he still deceives himself, while guarding the hotbed of wine, while thinking fiercely: Hey, wait for the late arrival of Chu, and let him know what a sword is ruthless!

Chapter 293

But until the middle of the night, Chu nightning still did not come.

Stepping on the first step was a sullen, then turned gloomy, and then became a worry.

The black robes roamed the golden brick floor, and he walked back and forth, couldn't help but think, what happened to Chu Xiening?

Time and space are torn apart. Whether you want to ask the truth or try to stop it, you should come to Wushan Temple to find him. According to the temperament of Beidou Xianzun, even if he lacks arms and legs, he will come to find him trouble.

Why not come?

sick? - Impossible, the guy will be sick when he is sick.

do not know? - I may not know before, but the two worlds have changed their color and how they may not know.

Then...

Standing stunned, the shadows appear stunned under the faint candlelight, extremely terrifying.

Is it hard to die?

This thought was not deep enough, and the nails were gone into the palm of my hand. Teng Xianjun bit his teeth, and his muscles are shaking in fine detail.

Eight years of Wushan Temple as a companion, two years of bones. He spent most of his life with Chu Yuening. So that he later returned to the world, seeing that the night of Ning was not left with the ashes, he went crazy and intensified.

He can accept the death of the teacher, but he tries his best to resurrect it.

But he could not accept the death of Chu Xiaoning.

The night was darker, and the only candle he had left was burned out, and the lamp was turned into a shadow of the pool. His moth had not come yet.

The fear in the heart is getting deeper and deeper, as if the ink stains on the rice paper are constantly blooming. He wandered back and forth in a hurry and walked back and forth.

Finally he was placed on the soft couch.

But at this moment, he heard a slight inaudible sound on the roof.

Stepping on the fairy slammed up, light and heat seemed to return to his body in an instant, his eyes bright and amazing, with hatred.

If you give him a mirror at this time, he should find his own look and Chen Gillian who plays the long-door grievances are almost the same - they are all kinds of people, waiting for the right to wait for the monarch, do not come, angry and grievous.

He gritted his teeth and even waited for the other party to start, and then he opened the temple door and plunged the roof into the storm.

"Chu night Ning!"

The madman is unreasonable.

"He died, you are so ruined? He is dead. Do you not even care about the people you care about?"

The man has not seen the knife and smashed it up. In the rain curtain, the three or four tricks were dismantled. It was the hard and cold sound of the metal weapon collision.

"Isn't it to say that all beings are the first to be the end?! Depression has only come to the present with a decisive victory. What night, Yuheng, Beidou Xianzun, is just a bit of a good!"

The other person spoke, and the voice was very vague in the rain: "What messed up..."

Stepping on the fairy squint.

He immediately heard that this voice was not Chu Ning's, which made his anger flash a glimmer of clearness. When the other side smashed the sharp blade toward himself, his eyes were cold and cold, and he did not return to the blue light. The hand fell off the knife.

Only heard the sound of "铮", the other party's weapon did not light up the martial arts Guanghua, and it was cut off two times under the violent offensive, and the lang fell on the corrugated.

"...Who's the family's miscellaneous stuff?" After the wrong person, the stepping fairy was getting more and more violent. "There are no decent swords, and dare to assassinate the seat."

Brushing the ground and pointing the hand to the top of the person’s head, the words are chilly: “Look up.”

"..."

The man slowly looked up.

The thunder was shattered in an instant, reflecting his pale face.

Stepping on the bridge of the nose, the look is extremely dangerous: "Is it you?"

Xue Meng got up and his hand was shaking slightly. Stepping on the gaze of his eyes, he saw the two broken dragons on the wet roof and the heart slowly understood.

He narrowed his eyes and looked at the drenched youth from the eyelashes.

"It seems that you shouldn't say that 'it' is you." Stepping on the singer Junsen said, "And it should be said... you are the good brother of this seat."

The Thunder rolled over and the tympanic membrane seemed to be crushed.

Xue Meng closed his eyes.

"The first time I have made a move with this seat." Stepping on the fairy road, "It's really immature and innocent years. I don't know how much you are."

"...you still me..." Xue Meng opened his mouth and his voice whimpered, but he still said, "You still have my mother's life."

"This has been said in your previous life with this seat."

Blinking and anger, and anger and pain: "You still have my brother's life!"

This time, I didn’t say anything, I didn’t say anything. After a while, I sneered: “When the guru is good, one or two, I miss him.”

"..."

"But did he tell you that he is my reincarnation? He remembers all the sins and hatred of past lives." The eyes were cold and the teeth were sharp. "He is a liar!"

Xue Meng and Teng Xianjun are squatting on the ridge, like two black beasts.

The more you say, the more unspeakable you are, the more distorted your look is: "He is a confusing person who deceives the world and swindles his brother and sister, and deceives his friends and relatives. He deceives the good reputation of a master of ink - he should die. How is he different from this seat?"

Xue Meng gritted his teeth and said: "You are not the same."

"Ha! Funny!"

The rain rushed down the tile to form a river tide. The rushing from their feet: "What is different? What is different? How much do you think he is clean? I can't wash his dirty in the rain for a hundred years!"

Xue Meng's long eyelashes were soaked in rain: "He and you are two people!!"

"Go to your mother two people." Stepping Xianjun understatement is extremely vicious. "You will pretend."

Mrs. Wang’s new mourning, she heard such a sentence is very harsh, Xue Meng angered and ignited the fire in the palm of his hand, the curse fell to the emperor.

After 10 years, Xue Meng is not the opponent of stepping on Xian Jun, let alone the blind man in front of him.

Stepping on the face of Xianjun, she avoided it, and the fire did not wipe his hair. Instead, he raised his hand and grabbed Xue’s unrecoverable arm. A pair of black and purple eyes slowly Squat.

"The two of the horns immediately rolled out of the seat. If you don't move, beware of the claws of this little nestling."

The two men of Mei Hanxue turned up the horns, one person holding the piano and one holding the sword.

Stepping Xianjun did not accidentally swept them both, sneer: "Your life is really interesting. No matter which world, it is unconditionally standing with Xue Meng."

When the older brother did not speak, and his brother Mei Hanxue smiled: "Otherwise? Do you think that the emperor is like you, who will be enemies, cold and bloody?"

This sentence touched the pain of stepping Xianjun. The face of Chu’s face, Xue Zheng’s face and Wang Chuqing’s face flashed in front of him.

Grace will hate... cold blood and thin feelings...

He was silent for a moment, and squeezed a sneer in the heavy rain: "The two are really not afraid of death."

The arm is blue and violent, and it is against the hair of Xue Meng. Stepping on the fairy is followed: "Xue Meng is a younger brother of Beidou Xianzun." You two have nothing to do with this seat, you are not afraid of this seat. You are all stuffing."

Referring to the late night of Chu, Xue Meng became more and more angry: "Do you still have a face to respect the master? You are a beast! Beast!"

"How can you not mention this seat?"

Stepping on the fairy, he raised Xue Meng with one hand and forced Xue Xue's face to be drenched.

He remembered the sporadic memories of those who belonged to the Mo Zongshi, remembered the moonlight of Feihua Island, the night rain of the impermanent town, and even the water mist of the wonderful sound pool... Suddenly like a wild grass.

He chilled and cold: "You talk about it, there is nothing in this seat that can't mention him."

"..."

"He is who is in this seat, isn't your brother who is innocently told you?"

Xue Meng was a glimpse, and then his eyes widened: "You, what are you talking about..."

"You actually have some feelings all the time?" Stepping on the eyes of his eyes, there is a kind of pleasure to push the prey to the dead end. "From the relationship between you and the two of them, from the words of others."

Xue Meng was stiff and then trembled violently.

His trembling made Teng Xianjun very excited.

Yes, exactly. Stained in the late night, smudged Chu, late, and the sorcerer who saw the ghost is not cautious, lest he and the relationship with Chu Xiaoning be made public?

He did not let the hypocrite wish.

"What, you still don't know?"

"No... no, no, don't say."

"That is to know?"

Xue Meng is almost shuddering, the scalp is numb: "Don't say!"

Stepping on the fairy screamed, his eyes were both fierce and crazy: "It seems that your heart is bright, you are clear."

"Ink burning -!"

"Chu Ningning is the person on the bed."

Lost in the air, as if the squally showers have turned off the sound.

Teng Xianjun stared at the empty eyes and shivered Xue Meng, only felt the pain of the top, so he became more and more eager to eat the heart of this young man, he sneered: "This life, last life, your master I was beaten by my seat in the bed. The Fengya Inn in Wuchang Town, the wonderful sound pool of the dead and the life, the wing of the Taotao Mountain Villa, countless times, you can’t think of it."

Xue Meng's whole person is iced, his eyes are black and gray.

"Right." Suddenly recalled the details of another part of the Mo Zongshi. He flashed the cold and sinister luster, and the thin lips opened and closed. "The brother you guarded, you are in front of you." Master respects."

"..."

"Before you went to Mount Lushan, you went to the room in Chu's late night to find him. At that time, you reached out and touched the forehead of Chu's late night and asked if he had a fever."

Xue Meng's face is getting whiter.

Teng Xianjun said with a narrow smile: "Can you imagine why Chu Xi Ning was red on his cheeks at the time, and there was a wave in his eyes?"

"do not talk!!"

It’s not useful to drink anger, it will only make the stepping fairy more cruel: “Because it’s separated from you, it’s under the shackles. Your good brother is containing your master’s respect. He."

Xue Meng's face was white and red and green. He changed back and forth several rounds of colors and suddenly turned his head. He couldn't stand the disgusting, groaning and licking, and he had a goose bump.

The devil in the world was very satisfied with his reaction. He laughed happily and his eyes flashed with enthusiasm: "How do you feel that your brother is different from this one? He is doing these things, but he didn't tell you." How much do you think he is --"

The "bang" banged and interrupted his words.

Stepping on the fairy, he turned his face, but saw the fire in the west of the tower, and countless demons turned into golden glows, which turned out in the blast.

"……what happened?"

When I just asked this, I heard the sound of the piano in the distance, such as the phoenix, the sound of the fairy, and the monsters in this sound have been shaped, it seems to be moved by the piano, toward the ground The place is culled, and the wood monster is the most brave and fearless.

Stepping on the eyes of Stepanjun, he whispered, "Nine songs...?"

I don't want Xue Meng, even if I don't have time to go to see Xue Meng, I stepped on the rain and emptied, and the * lifted up and did not return, and flew straight toward the Tongtian Tower.

In front of the Tongtian Tower is already a sea of fire, countless repairs are considerable, the chess pieces are fighting against the group of demon, and the two cores of the battle are two men who are also dressed in white and white.

One is holding hands and manipulating the precious Hua Binan.

The other is the killing of the eyes, the late night of Fu Qin.

Seeing the night of the fire in the sea, the jade is flying, and the first step in the heart of the fairy is a loose one - because Chu Yuning has finally arrived. Then he was angry - because although Chu was born in the evening, he did not come to him to confront him, but went directly to Hua Binan.

He waited for him for so long!

"Why are you doing there?" Hua Binan's spiritual power is inferior. At this moment, he is against the late night, and he relies on those precious chess. He squints and sees the fairy, biting his teeth. "Not coming to help me?" ”

Stepping Xianjun’s intracranial pain, but also immediately answered.

He jumped out of the air, blocking in front of Huabi Nan, his hand flashing in the light, and he had gripped the knife in his palm.

"You go first, here is blocked by this seat."

Hua Bi Nan has long been beaten by Chu Ning, and there is no way to escape. At this time, I saw that I was shot by Xian Xianjun. I finally got a sigh of relief.

"Be careful with yourself," he commanded. "Lock up this person and never let him break our big things."

Speaking of the shadow, I sneaked into the night and disappeared.

Stepping on the fairy is back to the head: "Chu Ningning, this seat knows that you can't stand by. But I didn't expect that you would know to find him first and take him."

"..."

Chu Xiaoning’s face is pale, his eyes are invisible, and his emotions are unclear.

"Why don't you come to this seat first. Um?"

Chu Xiaoning did not answer. In fact, he and Tengxianjun are more like a dead body at the moment. The soul of the Beidou Xianzun body is like a dead soul. Only one layer of instinct keeps him, let him do the last thing for this world.

Stepping on the fairy, and jumping up with Chu and Ning. The man’s movements were extremely fast, squinting at him in the fire and rain: “Because I feel that I can’t beat my seat?”

"..."

The knife smashed in the hand and collided with the sound of the piano: "Because I don't know how to face Xue Meng?"

"..."

It is getting more and more painful, so it is getting more and more vicious. His knife is extremely fast, and his momentum is fierce and astounding. Because he is the spiritual core of the Mozong master, he is more and more unpredictable than before, and he has already approached the night before the night.

"Or because..."

Hate in the gums.

The golden brilliance and the brilliance of the blue color meet at this moment, the slashing of the knife, the nine songs whistling, and the lateness of Chu’s fingertips swaying, leaving an indestructible guardian enchantment.

In an instant, the spirit flowed and his knife reached over his enchantment.

The film is separated by the layer of jellyfish petals.

"Or because of..." Suddenly, the light flame in the hands of Xianjun was weak. When it was lit again, it was not the blue color of the wood attribute, but the red color of the fire attribute.

That is the color of the spiritual stream used by Mo Zongshi.

Chu night is a glimpse.

The fire and the golden light are still glued, and the splendour of the splash is still so heavy. After the enchantment, a handsome face of Teng Xianjun suddenly rose softly.

"Or because of the master..." Under the thick eyelashes, his gaze is deep and sad. "You can't bear to see me die for the second time?"

The slamming sound was wrongly played, and the halo of the enchantment of the late night was weak. If you don’t return, you will be violently degraded at this moment. In an instant, the golden light is split and scattered, and the sea bream is blooming.

The powerful spiritual power slammed him all over the ground, and when he saw it, he would fall into the muddy leeches, and one hand reached over and grabbed his waist. Chu nightning knows his trap and can't help but sigh: "Mini rain -!"

In the raindrops, Teng Xianjun laughed and laughed because of the tricks, and the corners of his mouth finally regained his willingness and cruelty.

He is gentle and no longer open, it is already a green face: "Good. You are finally willing to take care of people."

"..."

Stepping on the cheeks, stepping on the cheeks, almost the tip of the nose against the tip of the nose, the lips touching the lips. He said with a sigh: "If you don't say anything, I am afraid that you will be dumb."

Chapter 294

This is not a good place to talk. Stepping on the fairy squatting Chu nightning, all the way to the wind and rain, immediately returned to the Wushan Temple. Xue Meng on the corner of the horns is no longer there. I want to come, too, the smart character of Mei Hanxue, knowing what is a temporary retreat.

Lifting their feet and slamming the door, they are wrapped in wet wind and rain, into the warm and dry hall.

The lamp that had been left in order to wait for the late night was already extinguished.

Stepping on the fairy does not care, the moth can not be a fire, he can also be a difficult spider to catch a hunter, eight scorpion forest, bring the prey to his own nest.

He violently pushed Chu Ningning to the bed, from the top down, the man who said nothing, his face was blue and his eyes were cold.

He felt that he had a lot of words to say, but he could move his mouth and mouth, but the last thing he spit out was not salty or faint.

"What's the matter, is it necessary to be a person like him, are you willing to look up and look at this seat?"

He picked up the face of Chu’s late night and forced the dark scorpions to look at himself. Under the tentacles, the face was wet and cold.

"Chu Ningning, you'd better figure out one thing." He was almost gnashing his teeth. "There are no masters in the world. Even if you don't give up, he won't come back."

Chu nightning seems to be acupuncture, the numbness of the numbness has a vague tremor. Such a reaction undoubtedly made Teng Xianjun more and more hateful. He suddenly fired his heart and deceived the other person's cold lips.

From kissing to wide-clothing, I am familiar with it. The man in front of me is a hard bone, but he has been squatting for so many years, naturally knowing how to sneak out and take it into the abdomen.

The rebellious moves were exactly the same as in the previous life. Stepping Xianjun almost easily resolved his offensive, and then took the prepared medicine that had already been prepared on the bed and could not help but send it to his lips.

"Well, you don't want to see you like a reluctant look. Come and eat."

Seeing the late night of Ning’s eyebrows, his eyes were cold, his hands were almost cruel and violent, and the lips of Chu’s late night were bleed, and he was forced to import the medicinal herbs, and then immediately leaned over. Contains the two thin lips.

His rough tongue stuck in, against the medicine of the bones and intestines, wet and hard into the throat of the night.

"Well……"

The thick rust and suffocation turned away at the edge of the lips. The soft and moist tongue brought the pill to the throat, and Chu Ning could not get rid of it, and finally swallowed it all into the abdomen.

When the smoldering fired him, he suddenly bowed and coughed up, and he vomited disgustingly.

"Thinking so shallow?"

"..."

"When you bite him, why didn't you see that you want to spit it out?"

Chu night, the color of the land is changed, and the eyes are wide open, like a ghost in the day, staring at the pale, with a sly face.

"Why, do you think that you and his things, no one knows." Stepping said, the expression is proud and annoyed. "In fact, what you do. This seat is clearer than anyone else."

He said, took off his robes that were wet by the rain and went to bed. The soft animal skin blanket immediately fell, and his wide, well-proportioned shoulders were slightly arched and his arms were held, looking down at the man lying underneath himself.

The forehead of the wet sag hangs down, and the rain drops on the cheeks of Chu’s late night, reflecting in the eyes of the stepper.

Stepping on the eyes of Shen Xianjun, leaning over, sticking out the tip of his tongue and licking the crystal water drops.

He felt that Chu Ning’s body was taut and tightened, so he chuckled: “How are you still so sensitive?”

"..." If you say that in the past, Chou will be angry and let people go away, then at this moment, he is more than sorrowful, just biting his lower lip, not snoring and not insulting.

It’s just a fingertip, and the bones are all right, still can’t help but tremble slightly. He hates this kind of involuntary.

Seeing that he was uncomfortable, stepping on Xianjun began to calm down, watching the person under his body gradually rising red face because of sputum and medicinal properties, slowly whispering: "Speaking, he has not entered your back?"

Hand dragging down, whispering with ear:

"Tell me, are you still as tight as before?"

Obviously, with a handsome face, he said something like this. His voice became more and more confusing, his fingertips were more and more comfortable, and the medicinal nature was more and more eager to be evoked under his caress. Stepping on the fairy looked at the face of the imaginary thoughts, the throat was rolling, and the voice was blazing.

"If you don't answer, I will go in and try it myself... Let me see if you think about me..."

The medicine is a good medicine, and it takes effect very quickly. Chu nightning is already a spleen at the moment. He can't make a little effort on his body. He can only let him step into the body and put his legs on his shoulders.

He blinked his eyes and his eyelashes fluttered.

Unlike the previous ink burning, Stepping Xianjun is much lazy to do foreplay, and there is little warmth. Chu nightning can clearly hear him take off his robes, and then the heat has already resisted him, ready to go, waiting for aggression.

At this time, someone knocked at the door: "Your Majesty, the predecessor asks you -"

"Get out!"

The sound of the sizzling sound of the sizzling sound of the porcelain smashed, and he took the tea from the side and smashed the past before the ignorant attendant entered the door.

The temple door was closed immediately, and no one dared to come in and disturb.

Stepping on the rough thumb of the fairy, he rubbed the lips of Chu’s late night: "Look, there is only you and me here. You can only have you and me."

Outside the wind and rain, thunder and lightning.

I don't know how long it took, the movement in the house gradually subsided.

Replaying the curtains underneath reveals the messy and slippery quilts, and the brightness of the photos outside the window is different. This rainstorm has not stopped, but it has grown bigger and bigger.

Chu nightning opened his eyes in the dark night, and the man around him was already asleep. Perhaps it is because of so many years of companionship has become a habit, or perhaps because it is safe to feed him to eat soft gluten. In short, this man sleeps very well, without any precautions. Half of the body's well-proportioned body is still pressing on him, heavy and breathless.

Chu nightning turned his head and looked at the man's face.

When the time and space of life and death was just cracked, he also touched Teng Xianjun, remembering the cold touch and the dead chest.

But the person who is close to him at this time has a heartbeat.

The nucleus that was dug out was re-formed into a heart-like object in the body of the stepping prince.

- Don't think too much, the ink burns are dead, no matter which world is dead, it is already dead.

In the slow and powerful heartbeat, Chu Yuning told himself.

The ink burned is dead. This is just a soulless body.

You know what you should do.

The heart is as hard as iron, and the glow is gathered in the palm of your hand, but when it shines, it is dark and finally extinguished.

Chu nightning silently stared at the man who was close at hand.

The light is very dim. When you step on the eyelashes with your eyes closed, it is even more difficult to identify whether it is past or present.

Chu night Ning suddenly felt that at this time, it was like the rainy night when they first fell asleep in Wuchang Town. That night, in fact, he also woke up, he also used to rely on the past, gently kissed the face that burned and burned.

Do not. ... no no no.

The ink burns is dead... even if there is a heartbeat, it is also a corpse, even if it can talk, it also loses the soul.

died.

But why would he still remember the things after the reincarnation, why the emotions in his eyes are so full, why...

Chu night Ning Liran, can't think of it anymore.

Gritted teeth, the light in his hands, Huai Sha summoned, condensed into a cold golden sword. Turning over for only a moment, he closed his eyes, regardless of exhaustion, and smashed his chest toward the chest of Xianjun! !

"嗤", there is no sword handle!

Chu night, squinting at the eyes, there is no shadow around. The sharp blade of Huaisha was put on the bed, and the * of the iron-cutting mud did not end up with the emperor who walked away.

The rain was too hurried, and a window in the east was in disrepair. It slammed open in the stormy night, and the rain poured in, and the wind blew.

The pale lightning of the cracked sky smashed into the house, and the bright light of the snow reflected a sultry face on the couch.

"This seat has also been naively thought that you probably won't start again."

"..." Chu nightning slowly turned back.

Stepping on the bedside, the red/naked chest has a shallow scratch. It is a trace of scratching when he is dodging. He doesn’t care about it. He only looks at the cold night: "I don't think you still I want to kill me."

He was deceived in the past, and the speed was amazing. He caught the night of Ning's wrist in an instant. He only heard a crack, and he straightened the arm of Chu Xinning.

"Is it very unexpected, I seem to be more powerful than ever before?" Stepping Xian stared at the late night, but it was still pale, but still unspoken face, faint, "You have never seen these moves." ""

He paused and seemed to be self-deprecating: "In fact, there is nothing unexpected. If you let me stay here alone. No one is familiar with you, you can't take it lightly. The most interesting thing every day is only the practice. In this way, after seven or eight years, you will be much better."

Huaisha’s brilliance was lost, annihilated into a shredded shadow, and re-integrated into the bones of Chu’s lateness.

Stepping Xianjun smiled at him: "Master, once, my tricks were given to me. But now it is not."

"..."

"How long has he been born again, I have been suffering in this world for almost a long time, and now I have also obtained his nucleus." He said, with a thick, thick thumb, licking the nightmare of the night, "teacher It’s impossible for Zun’s ability to kill me.”

After a while, he seemed to think of something, so he said: "Master may not know, I have done something in this dilapidated red dust these years?"

He has no relatives and no longer calls himself a seat.

"I will take you to see it."

He is not far from where the night is going, so he is in the back mountain of the dead and the dead, and the weakest place in the enchantment film.

Before the fight, his clothes were soaked, and Chu’s clothes were torn apart by him. However, Teng Xianjun was not worried about this. He pointed at the * and ordered it with Lingdie. After a while, Liu Gong held a stack of clean clothes and entered the temple.

Chu Xiu Ning saw behind the curtains through the gap to see the old servants who had not seen for many years. I don’t know what it is.

"Your Majesty, clothes are delivered."

"These old clothes, only you know where to put them, it is very fast." Stepping Xianjun faintly, "Let's stop. You step back."

Knowing that at this moment, Chu Ning was in the account, and the old servant’s hand was slightly trembled. Although he wanted to look at the old master again, but because he was not ceremonial, he still lowered his head and squatted on the ground. Step out of the temple.

The clothes are fit, they can't fit, because that's the old things of Chu's past life.

The ink burned with his slender legs sitting next to him, and he looked at Chu Xiening after wearing it. His eyes were a little fuzzy. No one knew what he was thinking, just like no one knew why Chu Zong died. So many years, hate his stepping emperor or refuse to burn those clothes.

It is obviously something that no one can use anymore.

The rain is still very big, the dark clouds in the night sky are rolling, and the vision is overgrown, but Stepping Xianjun lazily propped up a rain-proof enchantment and shrouded himself with Chu Yuning. All the way through the pavilions and pavilions, the eyes are full of dark storms, the scenery and the face of the servants are so vague.

"Your Majesty, Master."

"See Your Majesty, Master."

Walking through the Sansheng Hall, you can already see the ominous red light rising from the back of the mountain on the bridge. Stepping on the front, stepping on the front, this time looking back and laughing like a smile, Chu night Ning: "The dying of the dead is sent to the intersection of yin and yang, the enchantment is the weakest, you used to make up, but have you ever felt Other than the ghost?"

Chu night rather than answer, but the finger has been punched into a fist under the sleeve of the robe.

How much he already knows what he will see--Shi Mingjing tears time and space, and controls the chess game, the two worlds, and the last thing to do is not too simple.

"..."

"Since you have arrived in this red dust, you must have passed through many villages and towns." Stepping down on the step of stepping down, walking side by side with him, the tone is calm and plain, "Is it true that those villages are good, the town Is it quiet and terrible?"

Together, the two men passed through the narrow intestines leading to the back mountain and opened the fallen lush vines.

Another corner in front is the back mountain cliff.

Stepping on the king suddenly stopped, standing on the corner, the back of the cliff seemed to be burning with raging fire, reflecting the redness of the mountain. He crossed his face halfway, and the red light spread to his eyes. He licked his mouth and opened a sweet smile at the night.

"This year's achievements have been exhibited here. Master, please."

Chapter 295

Across the front of them is a bridge.

The bridge was built from the edge of the cliff and continued to extend towards the end of the sky. At a very far distance, there is a suspended Lingbi stone gate. The naked eye can't estimate how big it is. It stands in the clouds, and the thunderstorms and torrential rains can't extinguish the scarlet flames that radiate around it.

"Is the Master respected? You told us before, long time ago, the demons were chaos, and after Chen Shanggong helped the Fuxi to smash the konjac, the Mozus were expelled from the world, and they hoped to converge."

Stepping on the fairy hand, looking at the magnificent stone door in the distance, said: "The devil is defeated and defeated. After returning to the demon domain, he was ashamed of the defeat. The following orders sealed all the doors of the world. Since then, it has not been with the world."

He paused and continued: "But there is no absolute thing, just in case, the demon remains the last port... it is this."

A thunder and lightning flashed.

"The door to the road."

But Chu’s gaze is not at the door of the martyrdom. Since he came here, he has been staring at the Tongtian Giant Bridge, which is close to the magical domain and the mountains of the dead.

When he saw the bridge, he was surprised first, then his face was pale, and in the end his whole person seemed to be very broken, almost madly broken.

He jerked his head: "Mini rain, are you crazy?!! This bridge..."

"This bridge is so spectacular." Ming Ming will take a panoramic view of Chu's reaction. Stepping on the fairy is still a slight smile, raising his eyelids and knowingly ask, "What's wrong with you? Don't like it?"

……like?

In front of this five-foot-wide long bridge, there is no half-wood and half-nail. From beginning to end, it is made up of people's body!

Those corpses are stacked one on top of the other, hanging over the sky, and rolling over into a bridge of dead people who can't see their heads. There are men and women in the body, old and young, densely stalked like ants, and lead directly to the door of the magical world of the magnificent situation. How many? It is incalculable at all.

"Since it is the door of the martyrdom, there must be a road to martyrdom."

Stepping on the fairy is indifferent, it seems that these dead bodies and the stones coming from the roadside, there is no difference between the wooden piles in the forest. Then he whistled, and the long bridge suddenly lit up with a dazzling blue light. It seemed that something was coming towards them from the far end.

"In fact, there are some secrets about the devil world. The master is not clear." After completing these things, Teng Xianjun smiled and smiled at Chu Yuning. "If you don't give up, the disciple will say something to the teacher."

Chu nightning: "..."

"The Master only knows that when Fuxi and the Devils fought in the same year, Gou Chen went to the palace to defect, creating the first "sword" between Futian and Futian. But I don't know that the demon was resentful and deliberately retaliated against Chen Shanggong. Although he has no way to take the Lord of the Armed Forces, he can punish him to the people of Gou Chen. He has expelled his mothers from the Devil."

Stepping on the sleeve of the fairy, looking at the distant blue light, the voice is low.

"The Mozu has been overbearing since ancient times. It is because of this powerful blood, which makes them consume huge amounts of energy. Only by continuously feeding the grain and fish that grow in the devil world can they support their spiritual cores to flow normally."

"After the mother of the Shanggong Palace was in the world, because the long-term lack of proper food, the spiritual core gradually began to shrink and change. In the end, most of them became the waste of the hands-free chicken. The only thing they have in their bodies. The characteristics of the Mozu are just the flesh that is suitable for practice and breeding."

Speaking of this, stepping on the fairy, and looking back to see Chu Ning: "Master should know, what is the origin of the family?"

"..." Even if I don't want to answer, but it matters, Chu Xiening is silent for a moment, biting his teeth, "Sphenoidal beauty seat?"

"Not bad." Stepping on the fairy to smile and smile, "It is the skeletal beauty seat."

"The sphenoidal beauty is also a very powerful demon. The devil has evolved into a meditation in the long years. The body that is suitable for double repair and the strong spiritual core can make their children stretch, and the generation is stronger. A generation. But the door of the Devil is closed, they are no longer able to supply spiritual power, so the powerful spiritual core no longer exists, they only have a spiritual body."

"Of course." It seems to be remembered who, stepping on the black scorpion of Xianjun seems to have a moment of gloom, "there are also the outstanding appearance of the Mozu."

These need not be said by him, Chu nightning is also clear.

There are only two kinds of views on the beauty seat in the comprehension world: the meat that can be eaten, and the double repair stove that is used to sleep.

Before the Xuanyuan auction, Song Qiutong was taken as a lottery, isn't it because of this? Even Jiang Yan, who is still a reasonable person, will not look at the beauty seats as living people, let alone other monks who are not good at character.

"A good face and a seductive body, if it is on the strong, it is a icing on the cake." Stepping said, it seems that there is no such thing as a night.

After a while, I continued: "But if these two things appear on the weak, it is the feathers in the snow, the white fox in the night. It is bound to be violated and slaughtered."

The blue light in the distance is still slowly approaching, close to...

Stepping Xianjun said: "The sphenoid bones still retain the power of the demon, and can coexist with mortals. But slowly, the strength is getting weaker and weaker, and finally almost completely annihilated. The result is as you and I saw, at the beginning of that Hongmeng In the ages, the weak flesh and the strong food, the pure sphenoidal beauty mat quickly disappeared. The rest of those who want to protect themselves can only conceal their identity."

"...how to hide."

"Hey, this is the first time you have asked this thing since you met." Stepping Xianjun turned his eyes and said faintly. "It is very simple. You should remember when Song Qiutong was crying. Tears are golden. This is the devil." The characteristics of the family, if you want to conceal your identity, it will be fine without tears."

Chu night Ning did not say anything.

It’s easy to say without tears, but it’s not an easy task.

The sphenoidal beauty seats are amazingly born, and they are all looks out in the crowd. If they cause doubts, the monks have the means to force them to cry.

"Those beauty seats that have not been discovered can survive. Some of them live in seclusion, and some choose to marry mortals. Those who are married to mortals, sometimes give birth to children, sometimes with the devil, sometimes with people. If it is with the devil, It is very difficult for a child to control himself. He is aggrieved by tears and is seen as golden. Then adults and children will suffer from disaster. If you follow, there is nothing to be happy because the blood still exists. In their bodies, it is impossible to say which generation will give birth to a sphenoidal beauty seat."

Listening to him, Chu nightning suddenly remembered a person, so he frowned slightly and said three words.

"Song Xing Shi..."

"Oh, the star of the sacred sacred songs moved hundreds of years ago." Stepping Xianjun nodded. "Yes, in the process of proliferating, there will occasionally be very lucky children, they are exactly the same as ordinary people, crying When you stay, you don't have golden tears. The body doesn't have obvious characteristics. Even because the blood is mixed properly, you can quickly produce the spiritual core. The spiritual power does not lose the pure demon. But this may be minimal. After the millennium has passed, the sphenoidal beauty seat that has reached the guru's ability can be counted with one hand."

He said, he also extended his five narrow fingers, and some sarcasm seemed to be interesting to shake in front of his eyes.

After a while, then said: "So, this is a precarious situation, many skeletal beauty seats are thinking about going back to the devil world. As long as they go back, they will never have to worry about life, never cry in life. No longer have to worry about being sold as a stove or dismantling soup. In the year of war, when people are crazy looking for a beauty seat to make a living, they don’t have to scratch their faces, worrying about beautiful skins will kill them. The disaster."

He whispered for so long, and the blue light in the distance was finally blurred to see a shadow. It seemed that five horses were riding a rut and galloping from the road of the road.

Stepping on the fairy road: "However, it is not so easy to return to the demon world. The demon statue and the hook-up palace have * hatred. In his eyes, the hook-up palace is a traitor and rebelled against the gods. So The veins of this strain are connected to the nine ethnic groups, and they cannot be turned over for generations. Of course, he is not willing to let the fallen beauty seats return to their hometowns."

"..."

The heavy rain is still rushing underground, and the world is wet and humid.

Stepping on the horse looked at the carriage from far and near, and it took a long time to continue: "Until the first generation of the demon annihilation, the second generation of the devil will succeed, the new emperor will be slightly loose."

Chu night Ning eyes slightly moving: "He allowed the beauty to return to the devil?"

"Allow." Stepping Xianjun smiled. "But, as the teacher saw, he set a natural barrier that cannot be used without a ban. If those beauty seats want to go home, they must do it. ""

Chu night Ning’s heart is tight, and the vagueness has already understood the truth of the matter.

Stepping on the smattering of the corpse bridge in front of him, he said: "Look at the road of martyrdom in front of you. It is the only bridge that can connect the entrance to the world of the devil. This bridge must be lived. If you voluntarily sacrifice, you can slowly go down."

He smiled and laughed: "The willingness to sacrifice his life to pave the way for others, find one is lucky, find five is lucky, find one hundred that is called hell. Live well, who will volunteer for the devil After you go home and die?"

Chu nightning raised his eyes: "So, you will treasure the game."

Stepping Xianjun did not think that he would pick up the words. After a moment, he showed his sensation: "Not bad."

He turned to look at this magnificent road of martyrdom, and his eyes gradually began to rise: "These people, this is the place where they used their precious games to confuse their minds and make them willing to sacrifice."

"...how many people have you killed?"

Stepping on the fairy, turning the eyes, the black and purple 瞳 幽 gaze at him, half a sigh, spit out two words: "All."

"...!"

"Almost all."

The bridge in front of me seems to have no end, no boundlessness, everything seems to be quiet in the rain, and it seems that the ghosts are screaming and crying in hoarseness and pleading for mercy.

Chu nightning is not chilling.

"Do you know how long the bridge is?" Waiting for the late night of the answer, he said calmly, "Tian Xianjun said calmly, "this seat almost killed all the people in the red dust, and I am afraid that even if I live, I will not even have 10,000. It’s here. But the bridge is filled with more than half of it – the rest, even if the last 10,000 people are killed, can’t be filled.”

"..." Chu Xi Ning is almost a cold tooth, "So, to open the door to life and death?"

"You can always think of the worst answer at once." Stepping Xian faintly said, "Yes, you must open the door to life and death, and then get enough precious pieces from another world to complete this road." ”

The rain falls on the estuary, and they are not in a hurry. They look at each other, their brown eyes are staring at the purple and black, and finally the thunder is broken with the sorrow of the late night.

"You are crazy!"

Stepping in the purple electric lightning is just a sneer: "This seat knows that you will be this reaction." He said, turning his eyes away, the car and horse are approaching, and gradually can recognize the details.

"Time and space, Jane Chess." He paused. "It is better to have a rebirth. When someone does all this, the door of the Devil will open again. They can all return to their homeland."

"..." Chu Xiaoning was shaking, and anger and sorrow almost made him unable to say anything.

"You must ask, why do you have to break these bans, and the sorcerer will allow them to go home?" Stepping Xian faintly looked at the getting closer and closer, rare and understanding. "It's actually very simple." The three major bans were created by Chen Shanggong, which represented the ability of the Mozu to pass through the sky, but in the end it was regarded as the source of disaster. Please refrain from banned the smashing of the reel.

He paused a little and then continued: "The beauty of the family is guilty of the crime of detaining, naturally it is also a sign that they are not in line with the Gou Chen, and they must stand on the opposite side of the palace and violate the Fuxi Tianwei. forgive."

Suddenly a horseshoe squat, the five devils Tianma broke out from the flame of the road, greeted the hurricane and rain in the world, and stood proudly in front of the bridge.

Stepping on the black robes of the fairy, flying forward, touched a scorpion's Tianma, and looked at the late night of the Chu: "Broken ban, violated the hook on the palace, vowed to be an enemy of Fuxi. Hua Binan’s all things are for the beauty of the family. Does the Master understand it at the moment?”

Chapter 296

understand?

What else does not understand, Shi Mingjing has concealed his true identity from the beginning. For so many years, he has been refusing to talk to his own biological parents. Even if he mentions it occasionally, he is also sorrowful in a few words, and he can’t bear to continue questioning.

There are always loopholes in lies, and many words will be lost. This kind of superficial teacher will not understand.

At this point, I went back and thought, the teacher’s sorrow from big to big, no matter what kind of grievances, what kind of trauma, I really did not drop a tear...

"Come on, this seat takes you to the end of the road to the road."

The carriage is a Mozu, the whole body is cast by sheet metal, and the image of the magic domain is embedded in the silver water. Two portraits are carved in the junction of the rut. On the left is a man who is a mustache, glaring and screaming, holding the moment, and not knowing the person who made the image. What kind of enmity, this person described as being extremely ugly, is boring. On the right is a rich woman, with low eyebrows and eyes, holding the moment, this is slightly better, ugly is ugly, but still in a tolerable category.

The most uncomfortable thing is that in front of the magic horse of the five-carriage, there are five things floating in the spirit, which are the limbs and a * head - these are fake, woodcut, but Chu night Ning has seen the appearance of the fake hook Chen at the bottom of Jincheng Pool, so it is easy to recognize that this is actually the appearance of Gou Chengong.

"All the horses in the Devils have always been like this." Stepping Xian glanced at the fierce head, "It has been like this for thousands of years."

Sitting in the cabin, the little bell on the ring of the magic horse, stepping on the fairy to sit in a comfortable posture, said: "Which of the two little elephants on the rut, you should also guess." ”

"...is Fuxi and Nuwa."

"Not bad." He smiled. "The devil is hating the gods, and he can't wait for him to pull the car for him."

"... Why is Shennong spared?"

"This is not listening to Hua Binan. But in the rumor, Shennong is gentle and generous. On weekdays, I don't like to control the killing and killing. The relationship with Fuxi's son-in-law is not very close. I want to come to the battle of the gods. The old slick should not have participated much."

Chu, Ning, no longer talked, turned his head and looked at the red road of the road.

The magic horse had a very fast footstep and took about a sip of tea. It had already carried them to the end of this * long bridge.

Under the carriage, the foot is a bridge that is made up of white bones. In front of it is the boundless sea of clouds, and the door of the demon world looks hundreds of laps larger than that of the dead, no matter the whole picture or the details. very clear. It is so huge, as if it is connected to the universe, and there is no land, splashing the magic field in the rainy night. The mortal stands in front of it, just like the giant wood, the corn is in the sea.

Chu nightning looked at this giant door, and the reliefs were exquisitely carved. The five realms were carved, among which the devil was in the upper position, the ghost, the demon, the second, and the * was at the bottom. These embossed grandeurs are embarrassing, but there is a vague ambiguity that is unclear.

“Do you feel very strange?” Stepping Xianjun walked over to him and looked at the giant door with him. “When the seat first saw it, I felt that something was wrong.”

"..."

"Looking at the small half hour, I saw the problem."

However, he obviously did not intend to spend time again to let Chu Lingning stare at half an hour, so he said: "All the reliefs and stone doors on this door are not a material, but later cast on. It is a fairy bone."

Chu night, looking back.

The expression of Teng Xianjun appears to be more and more faint in the light of the magic fire: "When the wilderness is in the battle, the demon will capture all the gods of the captives, and make them embossed and embedded in all the gates of the devil."

The gale blew his clothes and floated.

"From now on, all the creatures who go to the devil world will see how many gods have been demonized by the devil. It also shows that the demon behind the door will never live with the gods forever."

I also watched this stunning vision for a while, stepping on Xianjun: "Almost, now that you know what we are going to do, do you still have so much resentment?"

"...the people who killed the two worlds, just to spread this road to go home." Chu nightning raised his eyes, although he knew that stepping Xianjun was not controlled by a man, he still couldn’t help but cold. "No. Resentment, do you still want me to say, do you?"

Stepping on the fairy is trying to pick up the words, and suddenly heard a commotion behind the scenes.

They went back, but when they saw the wooden smoke, thousands of people from the Haohao soup came from the mountain after the death of the dead. She did not expect that the two would be here, first, and then the eyes fell straight on the night. Ning body.

"How did you bring him here?" She stared at Chu Yuning, but she said to step on Xianjun. "Not afraid of disaster."

Stepping on the cold and cold road: "He has a look, this seat knows what he will do next. It will not bother you."

"This place is the place where the sphenoids return home, do you know -"

He didn't want to listen to her more than anything, and he interrupted: "So who among you can be tied with him?"

The wood smoke is a glimpse.

"He is in the side of the seat, and he can't escape more than the one in the cage that has been banned from the curse. This good heart takes him to share his worries with you. How do you still have so much nonsense?"

"you--!"

"How?" Stepping Xianjun picked up thin eyelids and his eyes were very cold. "If you are not convinced, you will send him back immediately. From then on, don't care. You can find yourself to look at him. Don't accidentally let him approach." Hua Binan, it is easy to take the life of Hua Binan."

The wood smoke was blocked from being blocked for a while. It took a long time to stagger the topic. The eyebrows said with anger: "...this is all right. I got some pieces and filled them all." In addition, A Nan has been detained from the world and is banned from death. When you have packed up the things in front of you, you will quickly go back and make some new moves."

After she finished, she walked away from her sleeves. Stepping on Xianjun looked at Chu’s night, revealing white teeth, and smashing a pool of pears and vortex deep.

"You are lucky, and you have a batch of materials. How do you see how the bridge is built?"

It was too horrible to make a living sacrifice to form a pontoon. After going back that day, Chu nightning had a nightmare.

In the dream, Stephen is standing at the end of the road of the road, stepping on the broken bones, heart, liver, spleen and stomach. Every piece of broken meat in each organ grows a bright red mouth, and mourns with sorrow.

"I don't want to die..."

"I still have my life... I am still coming..."

He saw Xue Meng's half face in these corpses, and saw Xue Zhengxuan's eyes, Mrs. Wang's body, and guilty of a fine hand.

He rushed to them and shouted: "Xue Meng! Respect the Lord!" -

The voice is broken.

He saw the sky full of blood, the ink burned slowly back, or the old disciples served, his eyes were gentle and sad, he said: "Master, save me..."

"I don't want to die, I don't want to do this... save me..."

He woke up, he gasped, his cheek vest was cold sweat, he wanted to get up, but his wrist was bound by the curse of Xianjun, he could not move.

The room was very quiet, only he was alone, the drip was slowly groaning, like the tears of the dead gathered together into a stream.

"Come to..."

During this time, he has been smashed and thin. At this time he was sitting on the bed, the man was too thin, and the thick quilt was covered on him with almost no ups and downs.

The memories of past lives, the miss of this life, the corpse of the accumulation, the hopeless future.

The pile parts were pressed against his shoulders and the iron bones were also crushed into ashes.

Chu night Ning's eyes were empty, he groaned, slowly returning from the nightmare, but the reality is better than the nightmare, his expression is particularly broken.

"Come to..."

Liu Gong was coming in, and he was much older than the memory of Chu.

After all, the world is too far away from the year of his previous death.

"Master, is it a nightmare?"

The old servant was able to see his heart at a glance, and Chu was rather tired and nodded.

"I am going to give you a hot pot of * tea..."

"No." Chu nightning raised a slightly wet eyelid and looked at him in the darkness. "Is it burning? Is it still on the road?"

"..."

"How many people did he kill?"

Liu Lao was silent for a long time and sighed: "Master, don't ask."

The drip was long and long, and the outside wind and rain were bleak.

"Old slaves don't know how to practice spells. But it is also clear that on the day when the doors of life and death are completely opened, everything can't be turned back. These masters actually understand."

Chu night Ning lips fretting, after a while, he blinked his eyes, fingers holding the flaming spell chain on his wrist - after he stabbed, he stepped on him. When there is nothing to do in leisure, Stepping Xianjun will personally stare at him, and when he goes outside to pave the way for the return of the Mozu, Chu will be locked in the Wushan Temple.

"Zhong Shi... Forget it, for two lifetimes, you have already done enough." Liu Gong’s voice is old, like a swaying autumn leaf. "Last day, look at it like everyone else."

"It's all over, there is no more way."

"Let's go, don't torture yourself again..."

Liu Gong later took a bowl of * tea and looked at the late night. The old man used to be cautious, understand what he should say, and what should not be said. This is why he can stay with him for so long.

But on this rainy night, he looked at the late night, and he was very stunned. He looked at Chu’s cheeks, even whiter than porcelain. He looked at the hurricane night outside, suddenly there were some Complicated feelings.

Liu Gong didn't know how to comfort him. He could only say calmly: "Let's drink more, so this bowl is always finished....Ginger tea is cold, and it is said that the nightmare is because of body cold, drink and sleep again. , no nightmare."

After a while, whispering, whispered: "My son used to have nightmares and gave him some drinks. He slept safely..."

But this mutter was too light, and Chu Ning did not hear it.

The old servant served him to finish the tea, and he slowly went out with a slap in the face. He took a squint before he took the house. The old man's heart is soft, but his heart is soft but he can't do anything, so his back is more and more embarrassing.

He disappeared at the end of the corridor.

In fact, Liu Lao said yes. To stop the teacher, it is the best time to open the door to life and death. If you miss it, the situation will be almost impossible to recover.

Chu Yuning sat in the Wushan Hall where no one was. He knew that he eventually lost to the teacher. The past found the truth too late. His sacrifice and planning only delayed the disaster for about ten years.

Finally, everything is back to the original point.

He tried his best, but after all, he did nothing.

More than one book has been recorded in the book, time and space are broken, and the punishment will come. In fact, even if the day is not fine, these two worlds are also confused and unsuccessful. This is the last years, many people are clear in their hearts, but there is a defect in the knowledge of the gods, so he is not uneasy, he is very comfortable.

He came back this day and brought a pot of pear white.

As he filled the glass in front of the two people, he said to the late night of Chu: "The road to the road has been paved almost."

"..."

"When you do this, you will be free." He took a long time and didn't taste the pear blossoms, then smiled. "Oh, it's that taste."

After the words, Fu looked up and looked at Chu Ning: "Wait for them to return to the devil world, do you want to stay with this seat to live in this red dust, or to cross the door of life and death, let the seat return to the world before you?"

Chu night Ning looked at him and asked: "Where is the teacher."

"division……"

He snorted, and then the black eyebrows slowly wrinkled, and the look looked a little dazed and painful. He put down the wine cellar and raised his hand to press his forehead.

Chu Xiu Ning watched his every move, and Xin Dahuan really confused his thinking. For the stepping fairy, the "teacher" is now unreasonable, so he has no way to deepen it. Think about it.

In the end, Stepping Xianjun only felt a headache, and he slammed into the cup. In the candlelight, he stared at the man in front of him with his red eyes.

"I do not know."

He groaned, pulling Chu Ningning to come over, he still sat in the same place, after a while, his forehead against the waist of Chu nightning, sniffing the flowers of the sea bream.

"Don't ask me again."

In those days after that, the sect of the singer was almost exactly the same as the previous life, and even worsened.

This corpse, which should not have feelings, seems to be very afraid that Chu will rather disappear or die again, so he exhausted his highest powerful spell to embarrass him. In the daytime, stepping on the fairy to refine the chess pieces, laying the road of martyrdom, coming back at night, will endlessly entangle with him. It seems that only the most intense * and love can heal the restlessness of his heart, as if only deep into the warmth of the late night, can confirm that this is not a dream.

"Late Ning..."

When the night was quiet, the man who was sleeping next to him muttered.

"You reason about me..."

It is impossible to know clearly, but at this time, he still feels that the person who is entangled with himself has a soul. The heartbeat under the chest is heavy and powerful, and the eyebrows are exactly the same as the dead youth.

When hoarsely calling "Late Ning", there will be something similar to love in the voice of stepping fairy.

Chapter 297

On the sixth day, the temple door slammed open.

The torrential rain outside continued, and some people took a wet paper umbrella and slid it into the temple.

"Master."

The person came over and smashed the white coat with a scarf, and the peach blossom eyes flew with emotion, but the eyes had a blue halo. This is the first time that Shiyi has visited the Wushan Temple since the Battle of Tongtian Tower.

"I wanted to visit the Master before, but I couldn’t get out of it. I finally got a little free until today. It’s late, the Master is no stranger.”

Chu nightning only looked at him and turned his eyes away.

The teacher did not care about this. He sat down in front of Chu night, perhaps because the paving shop was very smooth. He was very upset and had bright luster in his eyes.

"Are you still angry?"

"..."

"The door to the devil is about to open, and there is nothing left to ask me again."

Chu night Ning still did not answer, looking at the rain outside the window. His fragility and sorrow were only revealed in front of the deep loved ones. Shi Mingjing exhausted his heat, so he became a hard rock, and no amount of attachment could melt it.

The teacher sighed: "I want to talk to you about my heart. Let me take care of me."

Chu nightning finally gave him a word: "Roll."

Unlike the gloom before the war, the closer to success, the more calm the mentality of the teacher. He didn't get angry because of the coldness of Chu Xiaoning, but he smiled and said: "It really took care of me."

The rain hits the already wet window, and the time and space are in a mess of two red dusts. Any vision is normal. Chu Evening even thinks that this rain will never stop. It must be down and finally Submerged both time and space.

Shiyi didn't care about this. He got up and took two teas. He handed it to Chu's hand and said, "Since you ignore me, then I will tell you something. I don't like to explain, but Between the Master and the Master, I don't want to have too many misunderstandings."

The tea is still hot, he blows away the green leaves, and he takes a sip of it slowly.

"How to say it, I grew up, made a lot of bad things, didn't say a few truths, but I really don't want to kill innocent people."

Chu Xiaoning’s hand was unconsciously tightened, and the pale hands were covered with blue ridges.

"The teacher saw the road of the martyrdom. I originally wanted to fill in the people who are not as good as the animals in the world. Anyway, the kind of death is not enough. But then I found that it was so long, it was long to take two The corpse of the red dust can fill it up." Shi said, "I don't feel bad in my heart."

"..."

"I don't like the smell of blood on my hands, so I have hardly killed anyone. I didn't lie to you."

"You didn't lie to me." Chu Xiaoning suddenly spoke. "I believe that you have hardly killed anyone."

It seems strange that the teacher raised his eyebrows slightly.

Chu nightning turned his head and his eyes were cold like ice: "You are kind, your heart is soft, you don't want to kill innocent people, you don't like blood on your hands. So these things you never do, you made a Stepping on Xianjun, the madman who slaughtered the Confucianist door from now on is him. The tyrant who is * and difficult to wash is him - he has done all the things that you have to do but are unwilling to do for you. You are brilliant."

"The teacher said that these words are unfair." The teacher sighed. "I didn't think about killing the Confucianism. It was his own private enmity."

"There is no eight bitterness to hate him for committing such a sinful crime."

"Without eight bitter hates, will he not commit such a sinful crime?"

Chu Xiaoning looked at the eyes of the teacher: "He won't."

The teacher just smiled and waved his hand, meaning that he didn't want to do more entanglement. He said: "Forget it. There is nothing to fight for. In short, I once said to Xu Sulin, I hope that this world can live in the human, the mediocrity Good and evil, these are the truth, I don't lie." He paused and continued. "But for the skull family, giving good to others is to ruin one's life. We must use our way back home. Blood is paved, I have no choice."

Chu nightning closed his eyes.

The teacher said, and he sighed with his empty tea. He said, "Master may not understand why I sacrificed to the devil in order to sacrifice the lives of almost everyone in two time and space. Actually, this is not difficult to understand..."

He looked at the steam that was transpiration.

The room was quiet, only to hear the teacher’s voice and the original voice.

"Does the teacher have seen the buffaloes that are being fenced?"

"Red eyes, rampage, can't wait to put people in front of you, beasts, all with two corners pierced. This is the instinct to survive."

Chu nightning knows what he means, and the skeletal beauty is like a herd that is forced into desperation. Surrounded by a greedy face, they are going to peel their skin.

"For the beauty seats, there are only two ways in the end. Either completely destroy the family or return to the devil world. This is a choice between life and death." Shi Yan said here, his eyes are a bit blank, "If the comprehension world does not have a beauty seat Regardless of the goods, arbitrarily humiliating, if we can survive on earth, no one will do such a terrible thing."

He was silent for a while, his thoughts were surging, his eyes gradually became chaotic, from chaos to cold, and finally to madness.

Like the life he has experienced so far.

"The herd has no intention to kill. But the butcher's knife has fallen, and the surrounding companions have lost their lives one by one... Master, how can we forgive this world."

The voice of the teacher is a little trembling: "The real world will not make a history book for the skeletal beauty, because these people only regard us as livestock or double repairs. But we have always remembered in our family - just in person In the eleventh year of the end of the Devil's War, almost all the pure blood beauty seats were killed. After thousands of years, even though we were careful not to reveal our identity, we still could not escape the greed of the monks."

"Four thousand years ago, two hundred and five hundred years ago, nine hundred years ago, seven hundred years ago, four games were paid. The blood of the beautiful people in the mortal was searched for, eating meat and drinking blood, house arrest/rape... ...they hate to kill my family."

The teacher's fingers pinch the tea pot, and the wrists outline the hidden blue veins.

"In fact, it’s really a dead end. It’s a hundred. But how can those monks give up such a practice?"

Chu nightning: "..."

"The teacher respects a group of books, you should know that in order to avoid the annihilation of the beauty seat, what did you do on the head of the lonely moon night?" The teacher squatted, and a pair of peach eyes were now scarlet.

This incident, Chu Ningning, does know that any book that introduces a lonely moon night will mention this matter and treat it as a hero.

At the end of the night, the medicinal sect searched 20 young skeletal beauty women, and the savage and exquisite monks exchanged day and night, making them pregnant. After the pregnancy, the head will use the elixir to induce labor, and the baby will be born in four months. The woman who had just given birth was once again defiled, continued to be forced to become pregnant, forced to vaccinate... so repeated, so that the beauty of the family can continue.

But this continuation is like a pig and a sheep to be slaughtered.

No, not like. It is they who have indeed become pigs to be slaughtered.

The child born, the boy is immediately divided into medicinal herbs, or directly sold to the big class such as the Confucianism. Girls are captive, and even after the birth, even if they are handed over, they become a new breeding hotbed.

"mating."

Chu Evening still remembers the shock and nausea that he saw when he first appeared on the "Single Moon Night Fairy Medicine".

The teacher smiled and smiled. The smile looked a bit blue and miserable for the first time: "They took the practice of practicing the beauty in the beauty seat. They won the praise of the comprehension."

"Living people... are all living people. Just because they have mixed up the blood of the ancient Mozu, they can bring benefits to the practice, and they will judge the living people as livestock." In order to cover up his pain, the teacher raised his hand and Drink a cup of tea, but the fingertips are shaking slightly.

"The medicine that promotes the embryo is very detrimental to the mother. None of the beautiful women who have been raised has lived for 30 years. But the shortness of life is a good thing for them. It can be done early, except for 'crossing/matching'. 'Reproduction' nightmare."

When he said that the words "reproduction" and "reproduction" had a stinging slap in the face. The teacher swears, and for a moment he seems to be tempted to swear, but in the end he moved his mouth, and only two of them were filled with taunts.

"very good."

Chu night Ning opened his eyes and his eyes finally fell on the teacher.

This man, who has always been faint or unpredictable, is like the most ordinary vengeful man, with a clear hatred on his face.

The teacher was quiet for a while, and seemed to think of something, and couldn’t stand it anymore. He put the samovar down, his face buried in his palm, and finally he took a deep breath, and when he looked up, his eyes were red.

In the memory of Chu Xiaoning, the emotions of the teacher have never been so real and specific.

"Master can remember how the lonely moon night stopped breeding the beauty of the family?"

"..." Chu nightning does not know what his mood is at the moment, he is hoarse, "has a murder case."

After all, the sphenoidal beauty mat is not a scorpion animal, and the locust will still be countered, let alone live.

In the generation of Master Jiang Yan, there was a girl in the beauty room who was not willing to give in and work hard. She was different from those who used to be, and she was neither dying nor numb.

She seduce a high-level disciple of Tianyinge, who was obsessed with the moonlight at night. The disciple was also a * person, and she couldn’t help but enter the bed of this beautiful lady that night. The next day, she begged her to redeem her own moonlight night, and vowed to help him practice his life.

The disciple of Tianyinge was so obsessed and promised her. As a result, the girl fled from his side in a few days, and I did not know where to find the robbery seeds. The starry night returned to Lin Lingyu, and a fire broke the night of the lonely moon.

That night, the beautiful women who had been under house arrest fled with her help, and more than a hundred disciples were killed and burned by the fire...

The rest of the sects looked at the excitement and did not feel the backache. When they said that they were relieved, they secretly laughed at the lonely moon and night and could not even see a woman. As a result, the medicinal sects fell sharply, and the head was furious, and the end of the support for the beauty seats ended.

"Since you want to laugh, don't come to the medicine in the future. Anyway, if you have escaped so many people, if you have the ability, you can hunt yourself."

Therefore, when Jiang Yan was the head of the office, there was only one Song Qiutong left in the beauty seat in the lonely moon night. It was left to serve the Lord. However, Jiang Yan is not close to a woman. He is particularly annoyed by women. He even regards the beauty as a disaster. Although there are many elders in the martial art, he still decided to sell the woman.

Seeing that Chu can rather remember these past events, the teacher finally smiled and said: "Insert."

"……You said."

"It was at Xuanyuan Pavilion that day, yes, that was when Song Girl was sold. I also went."

Chu night Ning slightly.

Shi said: "I went, I was in the first place of Xuanzi. There was a price of 35 million."

Listening to the teacher said that Chu Jingning did blur some impressions. At that time, the ink burned with him. He saw Song Qiutong pitiful. He wanted to save her life, but there was a box with a gauze upstairs. The guest inside was 35 million. He thought about ink at that time. Burning money over the bid of this person...

"It's you?"

"Well, it is me." The teacher's expression gradually calmed down again. He smiled. "I have vowed a long time ago to guard every sphenoidal beauty seat I can help. Song Qiutong is my ethnic group." I got the news, I want to redeem her.... Of course, I want to take it back in my life and try to hook up the suffocation of the body. The result is that you know that half of the soul you left in his body protects him. It’s so powerful that it has even caused your own resonance... forget it. These are all gone, what can be said.”

"Anyway, Master knows, and finally she is the one who bought her leaves."

"Since she is your ethnic group, the Confucianism Gate has been shocked that time, why are you..."

"Why do I stand by and watch her die?" The teacher smiled. "No way, I need to hide my blood. In fact, the order to Huangshan was under me. She was just a blind man. For another situation. I may still save her life. But in front of Xu Shuanglin... Shizun also knows that my spiritual strength is weak. Xu Shuanglin is the source of my strength at that time. He treats me as a good friend, but I am a teacher of death and death. The net identity is with him."

"..."

"If he knows that I am a skeletal beauty seat, will I still be willing to collude with me?" The teacher calmly said, "I said that in the eyes of most monks, we are pigs, dogs, cattle and sheep, and Xu Sulin will not. Exception. Seeing his attitude towards the Song girl will be known."

Chu night is very heavy, and I don’t know what to say for a long time.

The teacher fell in love with him and continued to say: "Let's come back and talk about it, and then talk about the skeletal beauty seat that escaped the lonely moon."

"..." Chu Xiaoning hangs his eyes and is silent. After a while, he looks at the face of the teacher. In fact, he has made some clues from the narrative of the front and the demeanor of the teacher. He almost sighed. "That is your mother. That girl."

The teacher first glimpsed, then slowly relaxed on the back, and the five senses were softened.

He finally smiled a bit: "You can always guess. Yes, she is my mother."

Chapter 298

The rain hits the tile, and in the silence, the teacher drank the tea, as if he had made up his mind, saying, "I will show you something."

He took out a rusted bronze mirror from the Qiankun bag, and the mirror edge engraved with the Feifeng Youlong, carved with the sun and the moon.

"This mirror is called yesterday's book, it is my father's relic. My father's surname is wood... Master respects must be guessed somewhat. I am a half-sister and brother."

When he finished, he bit his finger and dripped blood on the mirror. The mirror began to fog. When the fog was gone, some illusions appeared on the mirror surface. Those phantoms gradually form and form a clear scene and face -

It is the viewing platform of Tianyin Pavilion. The picture is in the hot summer day. The lotus pond below the viewing platform is filled with red dragonfly.

There is a lady in the Chinese costume standing on the side of the squatting side, touching the little finger of Zhu Xi, and feeding the fish in the dish.

The pool is so bright. Although the woman was born with exquisite elegance, she was extremely cold. When she turned her head and talked with the waiter, she could see that she had a pair of Ruifeng eyes, her eyes were slightly up, and some fierce and arrogant.

Chu night Ning slightly frowned, looked at her, looked up and looked at the teacher.

"She is not my mother." The teacher looked like he saw the doubts of Chu Xiaoning and smiled. "She is Lin's mother, Lin."

Soon after, a young woman wearing a silk embroidered skirt and wearing a Tianyin Pavilion walked into the picture from the edge of the bronze mirror. She touched the appearance of only 17 or 18 years old, and her face was tender and gentle. The teacher smirked the mirror and said: "This is my mother.... She is the descendant of the sacred sacred Song Xing, who used her as a livestock to raise her name. She did not give her a name. She escaped and wanted to give herself I got a name, but Song is the big surname of the skeletal beauty. She didn't dare to take it. So she used the chemical word of Huabi, and took a homonym. She called herself Huayi.

"It is the meaning of returning home. My mother knows that after the 蝶骨族 can return to the devil world, I always hope to bring all the people back home."

The bronze mirror mottled could not cover the face of Huagui. She was talking to Lin in a gentle and gentle manner. Chu Xiaoning noticed that Lin’s picture had been cold and cold, and other maids were sincere and fearful. Only Huagui’s laughter was awkward. The true meaning of the twelve points for the hostess.

Chu night Ning raised his eyes: "How did she enter Tianyin Pavilion?"

"It was the high-ranking disciple of Tianyinge who helped her. In fact, those recorded in the book are not the truth. My mother did not leave from him after she escaped from the moonlight night. They were very affectionate, my mother. I begged him to find a way to put his own family. The disciple listened to her, so she managed to steal the fire from Tianyin Pavilion and helped her."

Chu night Ning's eyebrows rolled a shallow mark, and the heart was actually like this.

The records in the books of history are not always correct. Some truths will be slowly eroded by the flood of years. When the people of that era are old, Fanghua is no longer, no one knows the true meaning of the past.

The teacher paused and said, "After two years, the comprehension community gradually forgot the murder of the moonlight night. It happened that at that time, Mrs. Lin of the Tianyin Pavilion gave birth to a woman, and Lin’s temper was strange and she was not good at taking care of the children. So I need to find a few hands-and-feeling girls to help. The disciple took the opportunity to introduce my mother into the pavilion. Since then my mother has become the maid of Lin."

Hearing here, Chu Ningfu looked at the bronze mirror again. I don’t know when the mirror had changed the scene. Lin’s book was on the side of Xuan’s window. Huagui was kept by her side, holding a child in her heart to do her duty. The ground is squatting.

This scene is very gentle at first glance, the hostess is sad, the prostitute is loyal, and the child is tender.

But under the thought, I feel that the dark tide is surging.

"...She later replaced Mrs. Lin's position."

"... um." Shi said, "In the Tianyin Pavilion for a long time, my mother saw the detached position of this martial art in the realm of cultivation. At that time, she was still a little naive, and came up with a self-righteousness to return to the devil. A better idea."

"what."

"Become the wife of Tianyin Pavilion." Shi said, "After the gods, a word is worth a thousand dollars. She thinks that as long as the owner can open his mouth, no one will be murdered in the future." At least no one will blatantly go. The sphenoidal beauty is ruined."

The light and shadow changes, the dark rust of the copper rust on the mirror surface, or the original observation deck, but it has reached the winter of unknown year.

The lotus flowers in the audience are all dry and dying. No, there is no red rush in the pool. Those bright creatures and the cold beauty of the past were gone. Instead, it is the snow, the fragrant, and the back of a woman with a thick white fox.

After a while, a man approached, and she heard the sound back. The fascinating face of the wind was in the soft fox fur. She smiled at him and smiled, and the new snow was eclipsed.

At this time, Huagui, I do not know what means to let the Tianyinge master of the time take the original match, Lin died shortly after the break. The bizarre disciple who had died with her was the one who had helped her.

She finally got what she wanted, and became the wife of the owner of the Tianyin Pavilion after the gods.

The sky is lead-gray, with heavy snow and snow. When Hua returned to the husband, he first blessed him, then smiled and reached out and touched the hair of the little girl around him.

"...is the wood smoke?"

The teacher smiled and said: "Yes."

"..."

"Isn't the Master respected why the wooden sister is the daughter of Lin, but she is bent on my mother, but she has abandoned her mother?"

Chu night Ning did not set whether to continue to look at the situation in the mirror.

The wooden cigarettes were as many as four or five years old at that time. They were reluctantly picked up by Huagui, and even laughed at Huagui’s show neck. It seemed that the stepmother was very funny.

Shi said: "Lin's nature is full of sorrow, silence, and no envy. After the birth of Ms. Sister, her condition became more serious, even to the point of hurting or self-harming. Once my mother was not in the house. When she looked at it, she took the scissors and tied her sister’s back and poked four or five holes. My mother came back. She saved the wooden sister who had already cried into tears.

"One will kill her own mother, and a young woman who loves herself and takes care of herself. Ms. Wood chose the latter."

As soon as the picture turns, the window is covered with a thin layer of frost, which is attached to Wanshou Hongfu. It should be that the Spring Festival of a certain year has just passed, and Huagui is sitting in front of the red sandalwood table.

She was sitting next to a man, a woman and two children. The girl’s solitary HD was cold, and the boy’s eyebrows were gentle. It was the Huabi Nan and the wood smoke when he was a child.

"Okay." Huagui smiled and picked up the rice paper to blow it, and said, "Well, your mother-in-law's copy of the drug sect, is written well?"

When the wooden cigarettes were spoken from the time, they were still milky, and they pointed at the scorpion. "The mother-in-law is of course good-looking."

The teacher is younger and younger, and even the milk is not milky. Just sit in the same place and lick the fingers and scream at them.

"I am fascinated by the spells of the day, and I am negligent about my brothers and sisters on weekdays. The enlightenment of my sister and my sister is taught by her words." Looking at the situation in the mirror, the teacher recalled, "She taught us Learn essays and teach us some basic little spells."

"She will spell?"

"Only a little." The teacher stunned, "frightening the ordinary people's fake style, even the worst monks are afraid to beat."

"..."

"But she is willing to accompany us, with us day and night." A sigh, the eyes of the teacher are straight and straight, "No matter how she works in the mind, how to treat outsiders. But she treats me and the wood sister, but is digging for heart The lungs are good."

The scene on the mirror turned faster, and it seemed as if the time was like a water, slipping through the fingers. In many of these rushing flashes, the wood smoke and the teacher gradually grew up.

In the process, almost every step of their sisters and brothers is guarded by Huagui.

On a thunderstorm night, she fell asleep with a cigarette.

In the afternoon of Zhongxia Qingfang, she gave her a drink to eat red bean soup.

All of this, bit by bit.

"Later, I went to the age of the enlightenment, my father personally taught me the magic of the Tianyin Pavilion, but I was dull and ignorant, I really can't learn. He was very disappointed, I also felt that I was a waste mediocrity at that time - after all, the wooden sister was When I was eight years old, I had already built the foundation smoothly. And I had enough time to work, but I didn’t feel anything."

The little teacher on the screen sat in the pond and stared at a small sword with a small sword.

Huagui dragged the long skirt, his brow was locked, and he walked through the driftwood bridge. She looked around and found a lonely child, and her anxious look finally relaxed.

She walked over to him, leaned over and said something to him, then hugged the teacher in her arms and walked back to the end of the garden.

"Because I have been in a lonely night for a long time, she has seen many people with weak spiritual ability, and can get a place in the realm of cultivation through the practice of medicine." Shi said, "She did not abuse the beauty because of the lonely moon night." She overthrew everything with a stick. She convinced her father and let me begin to practice medicine."

When the teacher told me about the content of the intrigues of men and women, Chu Jingning generally knew that Huagui had the means, but he was not very knowledgeable. He couldn’t say it.

And when he heard this, he suddenly felt the sharpness of this woman -

Lonely moon night is like a * nightmare for her, engulfing her first half of her life. For the average person, even if you don't hate it, you should be discouraged by the drug sect. But she is very clear about what the medicine is, what she needs, and how to do it.

She has an extremely cool eye, and even if the enemy is like the sea, she is not interested in it.

"Her plan has always been methodical. Taking a step, I may have thought of the next hundred steps. So in addition to taking care of me and Ms. Sister, she still has the strength to collect the whereabouts of the people, and then pass the sea and provide them with shade."

But apparently, the post-Butterfly beauty seat has not changed. And Chu Xiaoning remembers that Mrs. Hua passed away very early. There must be some hidden in this.

In connection with the rumors of the sphenoid and the descendants of the Protoss, there is a vague speculation in the lateness of Chu. He asked: "...Is the identity of Mrs. Hua...there was it exposed?"

The teacher did not answer immediately. His eyes were flashing with too bright luster. At first glance, it was extremely sharp, like a hatred of bones.

But under the finest, it is like the sorrow of the tide.

"The original should not be revealed." He said, "The father has no brains, and he can't feel the difference of his mother.... But what he said is also a descendant of the gods. Even if the blood of the protoss is very small in his body, there will still be some talent. Perception."

He coveted the glasses, and the picture has been transferred to the house of the Tianyin Pavilion. A man with two freckles is lingering.

"When I was nine years old, this man was seriously ill, and the illness was bizarre. I asked the best doctor to see the cause."

The teacher said, sneer: "In fact, after knowing the inside story, the reason is very clear. He is after God, my mother is after the devil. After the battle of the demon, the demon has a curse - from now on For generations to come, there must be no combination of gods and gods, and offenders should die."

"My father's strange disease was born because of this ancient curse, but because he did not know. And the gods, perhaps because of pity, perhaps because you want to make the devil embarrassed. In short, one night, there is a * Tomon's father, originally told him the truth of the matter. And said... If you want to live, you need to break with the witch."

Chu Xiaoning looked at the teacher’s face and waited for him to continue.

He knows that things are not as simple as a break.

Shi said: "After the dream, my father was furious. Tianyin Pavilion always wants the wind to be rainy or rainy. His position in the realm of cult is supernatural. Everyone respects him as a god. But this woman... this pig dog The smashing of a row of rotten meat, double repairing the stove, actually count him, use him, lie to him."

"..."

"She even almost died of his death. What a poisonous thing. So..."

A deep breath, even if it is so good, the voice of the teacher is still hoarse.

He squeezed the tea pot, the tea there was already cold, and he didn't finish it. Under one thought, the force was too fierce, and the porcelain cup was "squeaky" and burst into life.

Tea juice splashes...

The mirror was also splashed by the tea, and the picture was blurred by the amber tea juice. Vaguely, the man on the sickbed was summoned to return to Huagui.

He walked out of bed with bare feet and chatted with her for nothing. He smiled and walked toward the door, facing back to Huagui, and slammed the door closed and locked.

- The man turned his head and turned to his wife. In the distorted mirror and water stains, a face with a leopard face emerges.

The teacher shook a little, and suddenly reversed the mirror and turned away from the mirror.

The blue veins on his back are like the roots of the trees in the wrong dragon. Every blood vessel is full of fear and hate.

After a while, he buried his face in his palm. The sound is extremely exhausting.

"he……"

When the mouth said a word, it stopped.

"This beast..." seems to have a flood of hatred to vent. It seems that there are thousands of words to be reviled, but Wanma Qianjun kills his throat, and you fight for it. I don’t know which sentence is first-in-first, so it is dumb.

The teacher has eased and slowed down. He should have seen this bronze mirror many times, but after so long, after so many years, still hate.

He slowly stopped shaking. In the end, these hates became a seemingly plain sentence.

"On that day, my father of the gods, eaten my mother alive."

"!!"

Looking at the late night of Chu’s face, the teacher’s face seemed to be sad and madly laughing. He repeated: “Yes, my father has eaten my mother alive. Live... I was then In the vicinity, I heard the call and I ran over. I don't know what happened. I rushed to the door. I asked the girl to tell me what happened to you. No one came back to me. She was always at the door. The place is screaming."

The thin lips are light, and the teacher said: "The door is open."

Dead.

Probably like the dead silence after the door was opened.

The mouth is the father of blood. The arm is torn the piece of meat to the blurred mother.

It is like a child whose soul is broken.

Nine years old.

The father is already crazy, and the flesh and blood of the sphenoid can help the cultivation of the elder. He is going to die because she is going to die. This is what she should pay back to him!

Together with this kind of cockroach! Will make him suffer from retribution! Hey!

He couldn’t say that the slimy hand was cold in his body. The child like a woodcarving clay stretched out, his eyes were frenzied and distorted.

At that time, the teacher did not respond at all. He looked at everything in front of him with no sorrow and fear. He seemed to be drained in an instant, and an empty shell was poked in the same place.

The man's hand was getting closer and closer, and a drop of warm blood fell on his cheek, like a tear.

He looked up and stared blankly at the strange ghost.

"father……?"

"Run!" Behind him, Huagui’s screams broke through the clouds and broke through the clouds. "Anan, run!"

One arm was torn open by the blade, the bones of the legs and feet were interrupted, and the woman squirmed like a locust on the ground, ugly, but she tried to climb to her husband and wanted to hold the man's legs and feet.

"Run!!!! Run!! Don't look back! Don't come back!!!! Ah--!!!!!!!"

In response to her, the man jerked back and stepped on her face and slammed down.

Huagui turned his head to the side, and there was a drop of golden tears in his eyes.

She tried her best: "Run..."

Slamming.

Throat pipe break...

She said, run.

So from that day, the teacher had been running all the time, every night, every night, every night, he and the original mad ran out of the Tianyin Pavilion, running like a wilderness in the same place, he fled, he was No, he is going to collapse.

He has collapsed.

No matter where he fled, no matter how many years he passed, he could hear the sharp and terrible cry of his mother: "Run! Run!!"

He ran from the deep lane to the vast wilderness, through the golden wheat waves, from the depths of the darkness to the arrow of dawn to tear the universe, the world is gentle and blushing.

Like blood.

The blood flowing from her body, the blood that slowly dripped from the corner of his mouth.

"Ah... ah!!!!"

He unconsciously and indiscriminately snorted, the shoes had already fallen, the feet were worn, rotten, gravel plunged in, blood bubbles.

The golden tears finally ran along his cheeks. He sighed like a sleepy beast and ran across the dead grass, licking the bushes, and his legs and feet were all cut.

He didn't dare to stop. He didn't dare to go to see which road was comfortable. He only tried to run to the nearest one. He didn't dare to stop and die. Stop and die.

He did not stop.

For more than ten years, I have never dared to stop.

Will die, the sphenoid will not die when they go home.

"I was later picked up by Xue Zun... I was terrified. At that time, Tianyinge was looking for my whereabouts. I didn't dare to tell the truth, I didn't dare to cry. He asked me where I came from, my parents. Where is it, I will lie to him..." The teacher whispered, "Later, he took me back to life and death... After a few more years, a sphenoid man who had been saved by a mother finally managed to find me. She has been a disciple in Tianyin Pavilion. In order not to be suspicious, she personally ruined her face when she first entered the cabinet... She escaped my father's eyes and handed it over to all my mother's relics. ""

"My mother's collection of magical records over the years, the sacred beauty of the skeletal beauty, the buds of the eight bitter long hate flowers, and the method she opened the door to open the devil world, a thick basket."

Chu nightning slowly closed his eyes: "...so, you left the road she had wanted to go. I did what she had done before."

"Yes, I continue to repair the path of the medicinal sect. In order not to blame the suspicion of the Lord, those who used to go out in the mountains in those years were all Huai Nan."

"Hua Bi Nan's reputation is getting higher and higher, even so high that Jiang Yan is paying attention to me, he reached out to me - I did the same thing as my mother. Even if this martial art once used the beauty as a livestock, Even if it had been cautiously my mother for so long, I promised him to have everything in the realm of comprehension and get everything I needed to return home. Since then, I have had two identities, disciples of death and death, pharmacists of the lonely moon night. "The teacher stunned," and later, the Tianyin Pavilion died, and Ms. Wood followed his position. She was always looking for the murderer who killed her mother in the same year... I didn’t dare to believe anyone anymore. But after several trials, I finally decided to go to Tianyin Pavilion to see her and tell her the story."

Speaking of this, the teacher smiled a little, although the eyes were still cold: "As the teacher sees... I am not gambling, she is the person standing on my side."

"..."

"Although she is not a beauty seat, she regards my mother as a mother, and regards the beauty of the family as her own mother. She has been helping me all these years."

Help Hua Binan. Help the teacher.

Help her half-brother.

After the teacher finished speaking, he took off the pieces of the broken pieces and put the mirror back into the Qiankun bag.

The rain outside is like the soul of the skeletal beauty tens of thousands of years, slamming the window, sorrowful, unwilling. There is probably Huagui at the head there, and there is a mother who is a teacher. She is shouting screamingly, running... running... don’t stop, don’t look back...

"There is no way out." The teacher finally buried his face with a tired face, and his voice was dumb. "Master, we have no way out. It is the choice of the Terran or our destruction. Only I can choose the latter." ”

Like the last day, like a bayonet, the lightning cracked.

The sound of the rain and the sound of the rain, the thousands of horses and hooves, the leaves were immersed in oil, and the glare of Huaguang in the Middle East fell.

Suddenly the door opened open, and the strong wind wrapped in the rain.

The white light Lei Guang reflected the two people who looked back in the temple. The wooden cigarette stood in front of the threshold. She did not have an umbrella, and she was drenched and drenched, and her eyes looked extremely chaotic.

"A Nan, the last 30 treasures are still in the game. We have already entered the door of the Devil."

She hadn't finished yet, and the teacher shook up and stood up. The tip of his finger shivered uncontrollably: "Take the fairy? Thirty Jane chess is just a moment for him, let him do it. Then ....." He said here, slamming his mouth.

When the wood smoke entered the house, it was only in the face that she could see that her face was covered with fear: "Tai Xianjun did not know what happened, suddenly fainted. And his heartbeat also..."

"and also?"

"It is also extremely unstable, and the spiritual nucleus is collapsing, as if it will never wake up again-"

The teacher screamed awkwardly: "Impossible! It is his own spiritual core. I have deployed it thousands of times. How can it suddenly collapse? How?"

Stayed.

Suddenly he was blessed to the soul, as if a certain level was opened, and a thunder slammed into the thunder. In the tumultuous sound of the world, he slowly turned his head back and saw the ghostly pale face as he turned to the couch. Binding to the late night.

"Is it..." The lips trembled and joined, "Don't you...do you do it?"

The violent storm outside the room lining the silence in the house, quiet like a tomb, like a deep abyss. The light and shadow of the candlestick is like the sorrow of the soul, dancing in the resentment and sorrow.

In this dead silence, Chu night Ning closed his eyes and then opened.

"...Yes." He said, "It's me."

With a bang, the Thunder seemed to be to fry the cloud into a powder, and shake it. The heavy rain was like a waterfall.

The teacher shook his heart and took a step.

"You...you can still..."

"Since you told me about your business. Chu Yuening's voice is very low," then I will tell you about me. ”

Teacher: "..."

"Previous life, my spiritual core was abolished, only the power of nine songs, and I do not know my own life. So I will not be able to compete with the immortal." The golden light on the wrist suddenly sounded, and the chain was broken. The charms are all burning!

Chu nightning got up on the couch and lifted a pair of phoenix eyes.

"In this life, he has been under house arrest for me, enough for me to bury my curse deep in his heart." When I said these words, Chu Xiaoning had no expression on her face.

Sadness, pain, compassion, remorse, nothing, death calm.

"The spell will erode deeper and deeper, and eventually it will make him flustered and the heart will stop. Your weapon of this sacred weapon will still be destroyed in my hands."

"..."

"...Sorry, Hua Binan. I can't let you go home."

The teacher did not seem to expect this change. He was whiter than jade and colder than Xuan Bing. He stared at Chu Xinning incredulously, his lips trembled slightly.

"It's over." Chu Yuning said, the light in the palm of his hand.

"...you are crazy!!!" The teacher looked at the golden light, and suddenly he was crazy. His eyes were splashing with the wild nature of the beast. "You want to kill him?! You actually want to kill him... you have the heart - you can bear it." !!"

No one can see what emotions he sees in his dark eyes. Chu nightning said: "I have a heart."

"..."

The golden light is getting more and more prosperous, and Chu’s face is getting more and more ugly. Although he is only a broken branch of Yan Dimu, many of his gods’ curse, he has some vague impressions. Including "Tian Wan asked people", also derived from the vague outline of the skull.

He thought that this was an accident, and later he understood that it was not.

As Shenmu itself, he has been left with many imprints of the spell by Shennong. As long as he tries his best to remember, he can think of many ancient secrets, such as time and space, such as the cracking corpse he used for the first time.

The smashing corpse is related to the battle of the gods and gods in the wild. According to legend, after the war, the Terran on the mainland suffered heavy casualties. The survivors struggled in the corpse, and soon became afflicted with diseases and diseases. At that time, Fuxi was bent on killing the konjac, and the son-in-law was seriously injured. The beginning of God's sleep, only the Shennong can be saved.

Therefore, Shennong inserted a tower of Shentianyan Dimu into the sea of the East Pole, and the Shenmu passed through the Jiuyi, and went down to the extreme, with thousands of branches and hundreds of millions of flowers.

"Shenmu, people are stunned."

The voice fell, the roots of Yandi Shenmu spread from the bottom of the East China Sea, and it was all over the entire realm! Those rough or slender, or rough or soft roots must rise from the ground and the sand will fall.

"The corpse, the harvest!"

The rhizome wraps a rotten corpse on the ground, breaking into ash... The carrion between the heavens and the earth is gone, the corpse ash becomes fertile soil, and the flowers are on the fertile soil. Yan Dimu completed its first thing in the world, and its billions of roots reclaimed the extremes of the East China Sea.

——

This is the oldest record of the Emperor Yanmu in the annals.

Chu’s eyelids were brightened by the burning brilliance of his hands.

This is the magical weapon of Shennong. He will, because he is part of Yandi Wood. Now that he is urging the law, that person... will soon be gone, nothing will be left.

But it is a corpse.

Chu night, Ning pains to the extreme thought, what is ... reluctant.

"You... Chu night, you..."

The teacher stared at him, his eyes screaming and madness flashed. Both of them are here, and he can no longer be calm.

"You stop me!"

Hearing this voice, Chu nightning lifted his cockroach and looked at him quietly, just like the rainy days many years ago, he saw the child standing in the school of death and death.

At that time, he did not think that the identity of the teacher would be the sphenoidal beauty seat of the escaped birth.

His initial impression of the teacher was all from the words of others. He heard that a new child came from the dead, and that the child’s homework has been very hard, but the natural spirit is too weak, and the spells are not good. And because the qualifications are too bad, no elders are willing to accept him as a disciple, even after he has measured his spiritual roots, he has euphemistically rejected him.

That year, the rain dripped down the black wawa, and the childlike child looked up helplessly, holding a thick book in his arms.

Chu night Ning Weiwei: "...is you?"

He recognized the unsocial child, and he took the paper umbrella and walked toward him.

"Ah, Yuheng elders." The little guy was shocked and hurriedly bowed his head, and the stack of books on his chin made him crumbling. "Ask the elders."

"...so late, still in school?"

"No, no way, there are so many things to see, I haven't had time to read it."

Chu night, coveted, his eyes fell on the "Golden Moon Night Medicine Collection".

The child therefore looked awkward, and Xue Yusheng said: "My qualifications are dull and I can only take a look at the contents of the medicine... I don't think that the moonlight night is better..."

Chu night Ning is slightly puzzled, and his eyebrows are awkward: "Look at the book, what is nervous."

The child puts his head down even lower: "It is the disciple who makes a mistake."

The slender body is desperately low, and it doesn't want to be noticeable. The late night reminds me of the dialogue that the elders have had before -

"The teacher is well-behaved, it's too talentless, but it's a pity."

"He is actually not suitable for comprehension. Hey, the Lord does not know what to think about. Why bother to receive a Huigen to practice? If you have mercy on him, let him go to Mengpotang to make a meal and cook."

"But he seems to have some interest in the medicinal sect, greedy wolf, don't you consider accepting it?"

The greedy wolf elders lazily: "The temper is too soft, don't like it, don't accept it."

An umbrella ran over, and the raindrops of pearls fell on the paper.

The jade knuckles hold the handle and the bones are smoothed. Chu night Ning said to the child faintly: "Let's go, it's too late. I will send you."

A small white wildflower was twitching, and the teacher stunned. First, he bowed and then hid in the shade of the oil paper umbrella.

In the slanting wind and drizzle, they went away.

The sergeant's eyes were red, and the whole person was taut as if the bowstring would break. He yelled: "Chu night Ning! Why do you want to stop me?! It’s here to the point where you stop me and use it!"

"The killings have already been killed, but only the last 30 lives! As long as 30 lives, so many sphenoids can live for thousands of years! Finally, you can go back to the demon domain, why are you? Why do you rely on it? what?"

The wind thunder was alarming, he was like a dragon with a broken claw. There is still a gentle shadow of the past on that face.

"You destroy the stepping fairy, and the dead monks can't live. You destroy him. This world is no cure, you... you..."

Chu night Ningdao: "The days of punishment have not come to the end, the end of time and space to die, this earth can not be saved, but the other can still be preserved."

"I just want thirty more lives!"

"...one should not be less." Chu nightning closed his eyes, and the palm of the light was light to the extreme, "Heaven, masses -!"

It was like a sacred sect of the gods, and with his stern drink, the muffled sound of the earth came from afar.

The palms are awkward!

In the distant mountains, the stunned stepping fairy has been tightly tied by Liu Teng.

The teacher's lips are white and the pupils are small: "...why are you...you can't stop here..."

"..."

"Don't give us the last way to live. To kill your own apprentice... I just... I only need thirty lives..."

One red dust was everywhere, and the other river was swaying. After the opening of the magic domain, I don’t know what kind of changes will happen. Since the ancient Mozus were more war-torn, they have been rebellious, and they have been driven out of the world.

Chu late Ning is very clear, this is not thirty people...

Even if it’s just 30 lives, who should die? Who should pave the way for the return of the sphenoid, who will sacrifice.

The golden light in the palm is even more blazing, and it is reflected in the eyes of the teacher. The teacher seems to be ridiculed by this light. He wants to go forward with anger, but an enchantment barrier is raised in front of the night.

He can't go.

Without the stepping of the fairy king, the teacher is like a butcher who has lost the sharp edge, leaving only a pair of flesh palms... He and the wooden cigarettes can never be the opponents of Chu Xiaoning.

In desperation, the eyes of the teacher’s eyes seemed to be bleeding. What should he do? What should he do? ! he--

Suddenly, he remembered one thing. This makes it like a butcher facing the beast, slamming into the rucksack and taking out the last weapon. He pointed the sharp weapon at the person who decided to destroy his life calculations.

"Good, good. Master, you are jealous. You... let's start."

"..."

"You start."

Chu nightning did not know why his attitude changed abruptly, but he saw that he suddenly lifted his head and looked up, hahaha laughed out loudly, and then suddenly bowed his head and stared at the face of Chu Yuning, and the words bite and shattered: "You are a master, master. Even if you break him down, you won't be able to get the best of both of us, and everyone will lose it!"

The wood smoke is stunned by his madness, and there is no hidden pain. He whispered: "Anan..."

At this time, the teacher couldn’t listen to any of her words. He was holding the madness of the last fight before the death of the beast, and it was almost fierce and grinning:

"You killed him - kill him."

"..."

The venom and blood smashed out, and the teacher smashed a pair of dead black eyes through the fingers and stared at the night. One word.

"With his body, the last glimpse of your soul!"

Chapter 300

The Thunder's electric light shines in from the open temple door, and the face of the teacher's face is cut and dark.

In the glare of light and shadow, only those eyes are dark and heavy.

It seems that Zhu Rongtian can no longer light them.

Chu night Ning looked slightly changed, but he did not open his mouth to ask. At this time, the teacher’s words are hard to measure, but even then, the flames in his hands are still involuntarily dark.

This darkness was captured by the teacher.

He is like grabbing the floating grass in the whirlpool, and he is rather late to Chu: "Master, you don't really think that the ink is dead completely?"

"You really thought..." The teacher sighed slightly. "Take the fairy is just an empty skeleton?"

After a pause, I continued: "... Master, you should think about it. How can there be a body in this world that can think concretely like this, so stubbornly acting... Who did it? What did it do? I can't reach this point."

"..."

"Do you know." The teacher stared at the eyes of Chu Xiaoning and slowly spit out the secrets buried. "In the body of the fairy king, there is still a sense of soul."

"!!"

Before this sentence, Chu Yuening’s eyes have always been empty, like a dead body. After this sentence, the teacher clearly saw that the two phoenixes had a wave, and he was relieved, but still did not dare to be slow.

"Shi Zun also knows that my spiritual core is weak, and I can't display anything too powerful. So I can't control the chess game. However, the medicine has a way of medicine."

When the teacher said this sentence, it seemed as if he had passed the corpse of the sin after he committed suicide. Lying quietly in the tomb of Tongtian Tower...

At that time, he did not know what went wrong, and there was a blank in his mind. His sharp blade, how can he die?

The conscience of ink burning should have been swallowed up by the eight bitter long hate flowers! What else can afflict his heart and let him die?

"The past ten sects of the past sects attacked the dead, and after seeing the dead bodies, those people were supposed to divide his five horses." Shi said, "But I was persuaded in the crowd as a teacher of the medicinal sect. Keep that body."

Every time he said a word, he was staring at the change of Chu’s feelings.

"I can't lose his strength. So I managed to make him a dead man who walks naked. Although his ability will not be able to survive, but at least it can be used for the time being... But you know, probably because it was before death. He still misses someone, so there is a deep obsession in his heart. How can I empty his soul?"

The teacher slowly approached: "No matter what method I use to force the soul, then the soul can't be squandered. That's oh..." His words are clear, "he supports him with a vague mind, and goes to the soul of the Tongtian Tower."

"--obsessed with your soul."

The footsteps stopped and the division stood in the middle of the main hall.

At this time, he was able to see the other side's face, the tight lips, and the meridian meridians on the back of his hand.

He saw the pain and hesitation of Chu Yuning, and his tone completely loosened down. Slowly, he became calm again and again: "The soul is not reborn, and it is still in the body of the fairy." So after he was resurrected, he was extremely stubborn to you. As for the Master of Mozi... You should also feel that he was not so cared for when he was born again. His affection for you was born again later."

The teacher said while talking about the dusty truth, while staring at the look of Chu Yuening.

"Tian Xianjun has the most stubborn love for his past life."

He noticed that Chu's fingertips trembled slightly, so he licked his lips and snaked forward and stepped forward, his voice confusing.

"Master, you see, now I am nothing more than the last thirty people. With thirty people, you can change your life. Do you want to?"

The outside wind blew and screamed.

He waited for the answer from Chu Yuening, he thought, this is a good deal.

This man seems to be cold and dusty in front of him, but in fact he has been ruined in the two words of love.

He is convinced that he will promise.

After waiting for a while, Chu Xiaoning lowered his eyes and no one could see what his expression was: "...you said that there is a soul in his body."

"Ok."

"Give the last thirty people and let him lay the way home for you. Are you going to let him go?"

"This is the case."

"..." Chu Xiaoning did not answer immediately, but muttered, "So after I saw him, many of the words he said were from his heart."

People with weaknesses are very convincing, even if they are Beidou Xianzun.

The teacher is almost winning, he is more relaxed, he said: "Yes, it is his true heart. Although he is not the original complete ink, but at least the soul is there, at least he still has his own awareness."

"Master, listen to me once." He gently persuaded, "Don't do it. You, me, and him, all three of us will be much better."

Chu nightning still did not look up, he sighed: "...Shi Mingjing."

"Ok?"

"Do you remember that when you entered the division, what was the last wish written by the teacher?"

I was so stunned by this kind of ignorance, but the teacher was a bit stunned, but he thought about it and replied: "Looking at the pity, you have to return home."

After he finished speaking, he felt some ominous feelings and added: "However, I really wanted to treat the master as a family member. I am not talking about the return of the beauty seat to the country..."

Chu Xi Ning did not turn it down and asked: "So, do you know what his wish was when he burned his teacher?"

"...what is it."

Chu night Ning finally raised his eyes, he looked at the teacher, his eyes gradually became very cool, and the coolness was even deeper than the beginning.

"He said that he wants to have a * like Wu Tian. In this way, you can save more lives."

This man is a mediocre person, as the family often said the lover's old wish. Then, when the teacher had not reacted, he saw the golden light in the hall, and the stubborn power was like a huge wave breaking through the air, and it was impossible for others to get close to the body!

The teacher slammed back to God and shouted:

"Chu night Ning!!!!!"

Twisted sharp screams, cracking through the roof tiles.

"Chu Ning! You are crazy?!! You are crazy!!!"

The teacher was desperate and furious. He tried to push the white man in the center in the glare that could not be blinded. The wood smoke was helping him, helping him, and advising him.

But what is the use?

"Crack, corpse. Receive, hey!"

"Don't - stop!!!! You stop me!!" Hearing the sound of the late night in the golden wind, the teacher became more and more crazy, and he witnessed a break. He screamed and screamed and snorted. pole.

However, when the golden light started and went out, the brilliant thorns of the eye-catching eyes were in the pupils, shaking the mottled light spots. everything is over.

The wind stopped.

Dead.

The late-looking corpse of the corpse was standing on the night, describing the sorrowful teacher.

The spiritual power gradually faded out.

After a while, they all heard the direction of the mountains in the distance, and there was a tumultuous sound of the earth's movements - that should be the sound of the corpse of the Emperor's Emperor being split into powder.

The teacher stared at Chu Yuning, and many fierce emotions were left in the face after the battle. Only his empty hatred and anger were split, and there was a trace of fear in the crack.

He does not know what he is afraid of. Can the fear of killing the ink-burning Chu nightning? Fear of the future? Fear... what fears.

It seems to be the end of the day.

The teacher finally muttered: "...dead?...he...dead?"

"Chu Ning, you killed him... He used to stop in front of you in Honglian Shui, ask me to do something to him, don't be against you... but you killed him with sorrow... You are so worried..."

The horror finally became a mad laughter. Although he didn't mean anything to laugh at, he just laughed and looked up. The wooden cigarette was crying around and he could not help but persuade him: "A Nan... enough... …enough……"

The teacher just smiled, smiled and smiled, tears fell two lines, golden, and fell to the ground.

"He is dead. Stepping on the king is dead... very good, it is over. Chu night, you can lose, you are unrequited, you can afford it."

Chu Xiaoning stood in the original place without any expression.

He is like a corpse, he is a corpse.

"Master, I missed you."

The voice of the teacher shivered.

"You are much more embarrassed than I thought."

Chu nightning did not move, as if lost the last heat.

He once thought that the ink had passed away, but he knew from the previous moment that there was still a soul in the world with a body and a fragmented ink rain.

But he also crushed the pieces into gray.

Yes, he is unrequited, he is irrefutable.

The boy, the young man, the man, the lover who would laugh or be full or broken. The only person in the world who does not fear him, respects him, and embraces his lover, the lover who uses his flesh and blood to block him from the disaster.

The one who replaced him and was swallowed up by the eight bitter long hatred flower, replaced him and became the lord of the darkness of the cruel king.

In the year when he was sixteen years old, he paid everything he had and protected his fool.

I can't come back anymore.

"When it rains, I want to save more oops."

"Master, pear white, please drink."

"I am very ugly to give you a teacher's ceremony... very ugly, ugly and ugly."

Late Ning. I miss you.

He once learned to write with a smile, and he has a lot of people in the world.

"To repay, don't take vengeance."

But in the blood of the corpse, he has been floating for two lifetimes.

Don't take vengeance... don't avenge...

"I don't have any ambitions. I learned the spells. When I have a problem, I can save more people."

That is the wish that Chu Zhongning said seriously when he was young and awake.

At that time, he had a great hope that if more people lived, it would be fine.

Before he was a stepper, he used to work hard and passionately to love every good life, and even to give his soul to gratefulness and to protect everyone who has treated himself.

"Although I am stupid, I will do my best and do my best. Master will not blame me for being stupid, haha."

In the memory, the teenager scratched his head and smiled. It was so soft with Chu’s late night. At that time, his splendid dimple seemed to be full of pears and whites, and he was drunk in his life.

Chu nightning closed his eyes.

The hand finally trembled.

In the blur and dizziness, there seems to be a breeze, kissing his wet eyelashes. He seems to hear the sound of stepping on the fairy, the rare low and gentle, the voice stroking the auricle, sighing at his side:

Fame, wish, blood, flesh, heart, soul, corpse, ash.

Sorry, I only have so many, I have sacrificed.

I tried my best.

Good night, you have to be good...

He blinked his eyes and looked up. The phoenix was already a smashing one. In this illusion, he seemed to have seen the sorrowful spirit of stepping on the prince, and his eyes were gentle and handsome. The smile was both happy and mourning.

"Ink...burning..."

The soul that was supposed to be as pure as the plum blossoms exuded Ying Yinghui. He leaned over and embraced him, kissed him, leaked from his outstretched palm, and finally burst into his arms.

"Oh no!!"

There was a Tianyin Pavilion rushing in, and the fire-browed eyebrows shouted, "Not good!!"

The wooden cigarette was the only thing that was calm in this house. She turned back with tears and screamed: "I know that there is something going wrong with Stephen, don't-"

"What?" The disciple stunned and then slammed his foot. "It’s not stepping on the fairy! It’s at the foot of the mountain! All the sects of the upper and lower circles are attacked together!!"

Chapter 301

In the torrential rain, a newly-recognized army of justice has stood in front of the mountain, and the monks of various sects have it.

Time and space are beginning to open, and everything is still unknown. The Longtan Tiger Cave in front of the crisis is in jeopardy. Therefore, the internal forces of this newly built allied army are unstable, and each has its own calculation. Almost no one is willing to take the lead. They are all worried about the cherished chess pieces crouching in the dead and dying, fearing that they will revisit the tiger wolf that they have encountered in Shangyu Mountain.

They looked into the distance, and they were in the heart. In the Wushan Hall where the rain was shining, would there be a demon who was sitting in front of the devil, waiting for the squad to shoot the rat, so that everyone would bite into slag?

Someone held up the torch lit by the spell, looked up at the mountain, and muttered: "I don't think... Tianyin Pavilion will actually do this... I still feel like dreaming at this moment."

"Don't sigh again." Bitingzhuang's Yan Ming took a look at the man's shoulder. "With this effort, it's better to think about how to attack the mountain and end the nightmare."

Another person’s face is gloomy: “I’m afraid it’s not that simple. The wood smoke is the body of the blood of the gods. Hua Binan is the first generation of medicine, and the one who is the emperor’s emperor... that is the ink burning, the magic power is high, it is sinister, We are still cautious and must not be taken lightly."

The monk's words have won the approval of many people.

——If Xuemeng of the past life is standing here, then he will definitely feel that life is going around and he will always return to the starting point.

All the things in front of me are so similar to the night when the top ten sects were besieging the dead and the death of the priest.

It is a pity that the people in the crowd are not the past Xuemen, but the young people who have just lost their parents.

Although his eyebrows are handsome, his face is very embarrassing. In order to wear Xiaoxiao, he did not wear the silver-blue bright armor of death. He only wore a plain blue dress, and the pony tail was smashed with a white hair band.

Xue Meng said: "Don't gossip about it, and the situation will be more difficult to recover. What is sinister and cautious? If you are afraid of things, you will stay here. You don't have to go up."

Everything is repeating the mistakes of the past life. Like the same year, Xue Meng said that a circle of people will explode.

He once again became the target of public criticism -

"Xue Gongzi, what you said is really too much. What is fear?" The female repairing Liu Yemei of Jiangdongtang was extremely tall. "You are not afraid of things. In the past few days, the head ran to the Wushan Temple." Xianjun. What is the result?"

"..."

"The result is not that you are defeated, but also dragged down the brother of Mei and you to clean up the mess!"

"you--"

A slender hand of a white scorpion can block Xuemeng's way, and the silver bell on his wrist.

Xue Meng angered: "You don't have to worry about your business!"

Mei Hanxue and Yan Yueqing: "How can you be a little thing about the son of the benefactor?" He said, turned his head and smiled at the woman who had turned red on the occasion.

"Moreover, such a good-looking girl doesn't listen to what is said. Of course, I have to point it out so that the girl can make a mistake." He was polite and said, "Help Xue Meng is a friend, not to clean up the mess. Heaven and earth are On, my heart is so clear, I also ask the girl to be squatted."

Who knows the charm of Mei’s brother on the rivers and lakes, when the woman repairs, she can’t speak, and her face rises like a pig liver.

Seeing her appearance, the Taoist priest suddenly felt that her head was a little green, so she stood up and taunted: "I am interested, Xue Gongzi is brave and invincible, we will only be afraid of the tail, then you still have to go up the mountain first. You are the most familiar, and I heard that the one who is on the top is still the past life of your cousin, and you will not have your life, so how stable."

When it comes to stepping on the emperor, many people have a look of embarrassment on their faces.

When the ink master told them the truth, at that time they were playing ghosts and ridiculous words. But now, things have surfaced, everything is as smoldered as originally said, and many people are somewhat uneasy.

It is a pity that not everyone is this attitude. An elderly monk should not have a light cough and said: "In fact, I think that the identity of the emperor has yet to be verified."

Xue Meng gave him a cold look: "What is the verification?"

The old man said: "I mean, the stepping fairy is exactly the same as the ink, but it doesn't necessarily mean what he said before the ink burns. It is his past life. After all, ah, ah, cherish the pieces. Ah, anything is possible."

"Yeah, I still feel that it is the ink of the person who kills people on a lonely night. What is the past life is not a reason, it is an excuse!"

Even if this field is reached, there are still some people in the crowd who believe that Mozong was lying, they did not marry him.

After all, some of them used to be generous in the Tianyin Pavilion and bullied him. Someone once threw a stone leaf on him during the three days of the public trial and laughed at him. To admit that Mo Zongshi is telling the truth, it is tantamount to acknowledging that he has been blinded and defiled. This is too shameful for some people.

It is sometimes more courageous to admit mistakes than to make mistakes, and cowards are obviously lacking this courage. In order to insist that they have no mistakes, they will not be able to let the ink burn. Even if he suffers more grievances, insults, and carries more crimes, his life will not be peaceful. This sin, they still want him to go on.

For these "gentlemen", the innocence of others is more worthless than the face of oneself.

Mei Hanxue heard this and smiled with a smile: "Sun Daochang, you are really proud and unbreakable."

The old man looked at it for a long time and found out that Mei Hanxue was laughing at him. He couldn’t help but be angry. He rushed to want to work with him, but he was stopped by an old monk.

Master Xuanjing advised: "Well, the two donors don't quarrel. Let's listen to the old man first. It doesn't matter what kind of identity is in the end. What is important is how we should respond after going up the mountain, how to dispatch troops."

He turned his head and asked Xue Meng with a sigh of relief: "Xue Gongzi, you are the one who has played with the stepping fairy. According to your opinion, how is this person's force?"

Xue Meng gritted his teeth for a long while, and pinched his fist: "The power of all the heads in the seat may not be able to win."

"Oh!" The grandson of the Sun raised his white eyebrows. "A good prince of heaven, it will really lengthen his temperament and destroy his prestige!"

The master of the mysterious mirror was somewhat surprised: "So, the strength of this person should be better than that of the Chu Master. It is no wonder that the Chu Master will be taken away by him..."

"Well? Those who are ruined by the late night and the burning of the ink, who still don't know. I don't think it's going to go down at all. It's not a past life. It's the whole thing that is burned behind the scenes. Chu Yuening and he are also a group! Do not believe that we walked up the mountain!"

Xue Meng’s face was white, and he had already angered and rushed to smash the mouth of the old man before, but not long ago he just learned the truth between the master and the ink, and he himself was disgusted to the extreme. It was actually a stalemate, and it looked like a word, and I couldn’t say a word.

At the time of the embarrassment, a tall, pale blue figure was underestimated in front of him.

Jiang Yan coldly said: "Sun Daochang is so bold and arrogant. If it is not what you said after going up the mountain, then your demon tongue will confuse the people, I don't have to stay."

The old facial muscles pumped out, and the lips seemed to want to say something, but for a long time, Jiang Yan still did not grow out and shut up.

Jiang Yan looked at Xue Meng and looked at it. He didn't say more, but looked down and thought about it. Other people said: "If you don't want to be late, we will arrange the target of each battle after going up the mountain, and then act immediately." His sight Turning to other heads and elders is a confirmation. "What are the people who are known to be dead and dead, except for the precious pieces?"

Someone around the world replied: "There will definitely be a wooden cigarette."

Jiang Yan asked: "Is there someone who has played against her?"

A woman raised her hand: "I had a few tricks with her during the civil strife."

Jiang Yan asked: "How is the body?"

The woman thought and thought: "It is enough to send three elders to hold her."

"Well, which three elders are willing to lock the wood smoke after the start of the war?"

Those who have died of life have long regarded the wood smoke as a nail in the eye. At this time, three elders came out immediately. These three people are the same door, the kung fu is very good, and the healing and healing aids are all good at them. Jiang Yan answered them without thinking.

Jiang Yan asked again: "What else?"

"There are also a group of close waiters in Tianyin Pavilion. This number of people is not good. But at least six or seven hundred, the strength is hard to estimate."

Jiang Yan confessed: "The closest thing to the Tianyin Pavilion is the Wushou Temple..." He looked up at the master of the Mirror: "Masters can let your disciples stare at those Tianyin Pavilions in wartime?" ”

"This..." Master Xuan Jing secretly praised the pros and cons.

The drawbacks are obvious. The number and strength of the disciples in Tianyinge are unknown, and the weak is the best. However, if they are strong, I am afraid that the Wusi Temple will be seriously injured. But Lee is also very attractive, because at least they don't need to face the most terrible stepping emperor.

He nodded. "The old man is worried about the world."

"The rest is Huabi Nan..." Jiang Yan sighed and closed his eyes. "This needless to say. Although you can't say that he knows his tricks, but at least the same." At the time of the war, please ask me. The elders are staring at this person, and they don’t have to be soft-hearted."

These have been arranged one after another, and the only thing left is the Zhenqi chess piece and the stepping fairy.

Jiang Yan’s eyes swept through the crowd, but in addition to some monks’ petitions, more of them seemed to suffer from cervical spondylosis at the moment, one by one, the lower ones, and some simply reaching out and touching the neck, as if the neck was hurting. of.

"The palace owner?"

Mingyue Building nodded: "Take the snow palace should be effective."

Jiang Yan also asked the owner of the Qingge Court. The leader of the court also said: "There is no responsibility."

But apart from this, other sects are not afraid of things, they are really not suitable for fighting, and those who are home are more or less hesitant. There are even people who swear: "Since the stepping fairy can tear through the space and time, the power of such a head is definitely not enough."

"Yeah, this is not a dare to blame..."

Some people sighed: "If the Confucianism is still there, the seventy-two monks in the city, so many city owners, oh... a pity."

"Hey?" Suddenly a Jiangdongtang monk raised his voice. "Is that leaf forgetting? Isn't she very capable of playing? The strength is probably comparable to the ten Nangongliu, which is definitely the power of the head. What about her?"

It’s okay not to mention this, and Jiang’s face is dark. He said in a cloud: "We set up a group of asylum-seekers on the lonely moon night before we set off. At that time, we said that we should keep a monk guarding, in case the chess piece was overwhelmed by the army - no one automatically asked. Finally, she stayed."

The monk "ah" screamed, and the face was dew.

Jiang Yanyin said: "All the kings are true heroes. How do you need a little girl everywhere?"

"..."

Wait a moment, there are still a few people in the crowd who are willing to take the lead. The young and beautiful new head of Jiang Dongtang even said: "I think it is still necessary to think about it. After all, this is not a joke. Wait a moment?"

As soon as he heard the word "wait", Xue Meng suddenly became angry with his lips. He tried to suppress himself and asked: "Will time? Wait a little longer and wait for a while?"

"But I can't rush to the mountain to die."

"The success or failure is here, Xue Shao is cautious."

Master Xuanjing also advised: "Xue Gongzi, carefully drive the ship for thousands of years. If today turns over the ground, the life and death door is in the world, no one knows what kind of variables will be in front. The whole truth of the real world is now gathered here. Really all the scorpions are in the water, who can be responsible?"

"Yeah, what if we killed the head of the sages, what should we do..."

Xue Meng has been forbearing, but he can't help it anymore. He looked up and looked at his blood. "You haven't died yet, you are already thinking about what to do. What about life and death?!"

"..."

When it comes to the shackles of life and death, everyone can't help but think that the heads of the couple are killed because they are being shackled. Many people have their eyes flashed, and some people feel guilty and bow down.

"The dying of life has long been ignorant of what to do." Xue Meng's voice was dumb. "I don't have a cousin, I don't have a brother, I don't have a mother, I don't have a jealousy, now I even have a master..."

Xue Meng's eyelashes are slightly twitching, and the throat is squirming. It seems that he is trying his best to swallow his pain. But the pain was too deep, and he couldn't bear it. He closed his eyes and opened it: "The princes are afraid of death, because they still have sustenance. I don't, so I am not afraid of death."

Mei Hanxue whispered aside and stopped: "Xue Meng!"

But how can he listen?

No one in this world can stop him.

Xue Mengdao: "You don't go, I go."

"Less Lord!" The disciples of the dead and the death have come forward to persuade, but Xue Meng has decided to kill, and the heart has been shown.

He turned and left everyone behind, and the wrath and grievances that had been forbearing all the time became tears in the air and fell in the place where no one saw it.

Jiang Yan stood in the rain and looked at his back: "You..."

Hearing his voice, Xue Meng walked faster, his Dragon City was broken, and he didn't even have a decent sword. But he still did not return to the hustle and bustle of life.

"Xue Meng!"

After several hesitations, a hoarse cry finally broke from the throat of Jiang Yan.

Jiang Yan walked up, his hand had not touched Xue Meng's shoulder, and he saw the young man turn sharply. A pair of birds with rounded eyes flashed with flames, and he angered: "Prim! Go! Don't touch me! After talking about the forceful opening of Jiang Yan’s restraint, he no longer gave anyone the opportunity to speak and turned away.

On the order of the moss, the bamboo in the mountains.

Xue Meng wheezed in the torrential rain, and the world was a dreamy and humid world.

This place, Mrs. Wang had a Dutch horse and watched a peony bloom. In that place, Xue Zhengyi was once awe-inspiring, and returned from a battle. Xue Meng walked through the Baishimen, saw the teacher squatting down, ran over the heroic column, and saw the ink burning in the moon. He saw the bustling disciples returning from class in the storm, and the laughter on the bridge was like yesterday.

He fled as fast as he could, stepping forward like a tiger. Then his afterglow saw an old peach tree. He saw the young man under the tree three times and nine times, and raised his head with a smile. He said to the late evening in the white dress:

"The disciple Xue Meng, worshipped the Master."

Close your eyes.

There are too many past events carried by the dead and the dead, and the pieces are burned inside him. There have been many splendid fires here, and now there are many ashes.

Xue Meng went all the way, the wind and the rain, and the people were jealous.

"Don't follow me... don't let me see this again..."

He muttered, shuttled in the shadows of the ghosts, and fled from the youthful moments of arrogance. When he was standing in the foothills, he was soaked and soaked with rain. Like a phoenix whose wings have been withered, it trembles.

cold.

The bones are frozen into ice.

He stared at the deep eyelashes and looked at the palace in the distance. The candlelight was dark. This is the life and death of the past life. When I came to the thorns last time, I have never been careful...

Suddenly, he saw three graves standing in front of the Tongtian Tower.

This is something he has never seen in his own door. He couldn't help but walk to the details. The three graves, one with a "oil explosion queen", one was flattened and the stone tablet fell to one side.

The last one is very old and very old.

There was a phantom in front of the grave, but it stood still.

The man’s robes were bloody, wide-sleeved and grounded, standing in front of the shackles and raising their hands on the tombstones.

Xue Meng was shocked, his brain seemed to be puncture by the feather arrow, and the blood of his body rushed to the head at this moment. He screamed: "Ink burns!" To pull the dragon city, but the waist is empty.

Then he remembered that Dragon City was broken. Broken in the last confrontation with the emperor.

The man with his back facing him seemed to hear no sound, just slowly leaning over the tombstone, as if an extremely exhausted journey finally reached the end, Xue Meng saw him put his forehead against the cold stone Face, gently licking.

Xue Meng’s palm ignited a fire, and the orange light splashed.

Regardless of his enthusiasm, he slammed into the back of Xianjun’s back and attacked it.

"boom!"

A loud noise, the fire did not hurt anyone, only the piece of moss that had been growing for a long time.

Xue Meng was shocked, looking around, but what step on the emperor, what black figure, no one - nowhere.

The rain around him was like a torrent, and Wan Mu was stunned by the East, as if there was only one person in the sky. However, the tree shadows are screaming, and it seems that thousands of horses and horses are lurking in the dark forest, in the grass, and the volume of the armor is awaiting.

"Take the fairy king!! Step on the fairy!!"

He shouted, and the sound was instantly crushed into a broken powder by thunder.

Wrong?

How could it be wrong, obviously it is so clear back, obviously standing here just now, obviously that person still reached out and touched the stone tablet, stone monument...

I lived in a hurry.

Xue Meng leaned over and raised his hand to slowly pick up the broken body that had been broken by his own, and picked it up halfway.

That monument is written:

Tomb of the late teacher Chu Yuning

Whose tomb? What tomb? ! ! !

Xue Meng slammed up and slammed back. Lightning white illumined his horrible face. Xue Meng shook his head and said: "No... No... what's going on... How is it possible?"

He swallowed and tried to calm himself down. He wheezed in the same place for a while before he barely sighed, squinting his eyes and looking at the tombstone.

The body of the monument has been very mottled, at least for more than ten years, not new. There are traces of chiseling on the tablet. It seems that something was originally engraved. Later, some people erased the original words and re-engraved the seven words.

First division.

The tomb of the late night of Chu.

Is this the grave of the last generation?

Xue Meng's lips are blue, trembling, and the tumbling in his chest is sadness, anger, fear, or something else... He buried his face in his palm, wiped the wet rain, and his heart was confusing.

So, in the future that he did not know, what kind of love and hate?

He is not known, just as he does not know what has been engraved on this stone, and for what reason, who has changed the inscription.

I don't know.

Xue Meng stayed in the ground for a while, but when he opened his eyes, he saw that the dark golden shadow appeared again. This time, I was closer, and the dragons and tigers of the Lushan River embroidered on the gold robes on the robes were so clearly visible.

That person is like a figure between the soul and the living, neither completely alive nor completely a soul. The man looked at the Tongtian Tower, and Xue Mengyu heard him whispering softly: "Master, you...justify me."

The sound is ethereal, like a dream.

"I want to go home, I want to go home." He said, but there was a hint of sorrow in his tone. "I am going home..."

"Master respect..."

With a bang, the Thunder seemed to be hammering the earth, and the hinterland of the mountains and rivers was trembled faintly, and the five internal organs were numb.

"But I don't have a home..."

Black gold figure suddenly looked back, in this stormy storm, Xue Meng clearly saw his face, the burning face.

The ink burned as if he didn't see him, just muttered himself: "There is no home... I have to go back... I want to go back!"

He was anxious and desperate: "Let me go back, let me go back! I want to see him... I want to see him!!"

In the thunder and lightning, the black shadow appeared, and Xue Meng was not prevented from being attacked by this cold and violent black wind. The shadow passed through him, with a bitter chill, and it was much cooler than the rain. He was so fascinated that he couldn't open his eyes and fell to the ground.

"I can't die... I want to see him!"

Xue Mengqing clearly heard the low-burning ink, and the black shadow flew like a whirlwind to the back mountain of the dead. When he returned to God, he had already disappeared, and the back of the mountain was splashing with a red sky!

.....

what happened? What is the shadow just now?

ghost?

He looked pale and stabbed in the place - until someone took him in the back.

At this time, Xue Meng's whole person has been stretched to the extreme, and he suddenly jumped up when he touched it, like crazy and extremely helpless: "Who?! Who!!"

Mei Han Xue held him and said, "Don't be afraid, it is me."

In the woods behind him, he walked out of a very ugly stepping snow palace, but there was a pair of Xue Meng familiar with the light blue. It’s Mei’s big brother who is wearing a cold, cold ice.

Big brother Mei Hanxue stepped out from the forest, holding two swords in his hand, one is his own martial arts, and the other is...

"Snow phoenix."

Mei Hanxue went to the trepidation of Xue Meng and handed Jiang Yan’s sword to him.

"Ginger Gate asked me to hand it over to you. He said that you used it, you don't have to refuse for some reason."

When the younger brother is still somewhat curious: "Can you ask a question, what is your relationship with Jiang Yan?"

"Go away." The words were interrupted unscrupulously by the eldest brother. "When you go to Wushan Temple together, look at the situation of Chu Zongshi."

Mei Hanxue dropped this sentence, stunned Xue Meng, knocked on the other's shoulder with a hurricane stalk, and plunged into the depths of heavy rain without saying a word.

And his twin brothers sighed and raised his hand and patted Xue Meng’s head, and followed his brother to the Wushan Hall, which was swaying in the wind and rain.

Chapter 302

Wushan Temple is also the former Danxin Temple. After the stepping of the throne, the pattern was adjusted and divided into the front hall, the atrium, and the apse.

The two brothers of the Mei family did not go straight in. They stood at the door, and when Xue Meng followed, the older brother told him: "This palace is not quite right, there is a fascination inside."

"What is ecstasy?"

Mei Hanxue explained: "It is a kind of fragrant mist that resembles the Qimen armor. There is a Merlin in the Snow Palace, which is not scattered all the year round."

Xue Mengqing asked with a face: "What role can it play?"

"It will make the criminals unable to find a way." Mei Xuexue said, "This kind of suffocation has no effect on one's own people, but for the intruder, the scene will be distorted, and people will not find a real entrance. You Knowing the ghosts that the people said, it’s probably something like this."

Xue Meng: "..."

Mei Hanxue is cold and cold: "They are delaying the time. I am afraid that someone is fighting in the apse."

Mei Hanxue asked: "What should I do? Going around?"

Mei Hanxue gave him a look: "You have been in the Snow Palace for more than 20 years, you ask me?"

"...cough." When the younger brother was embarrassed, he turned his head to Xue Mengdao. "There is no way, I can only go in and explore the source of the suffocating gas and disperse it." Looked at Xue Meng's face, and comforted, "But you don't Worried, I am the best at this. I often use the Merlin in the back of the snow palace to hide from the women who are looking for trouble. Give me a fragrant time, it should be broken."

With this mention, his older brother's face is dark, and the sound is simply falling from the ice.

"You really have a face."

Xue Meng had no feeling of listening to their gossip at the moment. He went up two steps, and "Oh," opened the door to the front hall of the Wushan Temple.

Just like a spooky mouth opened, the lacquered Zhumen slowly opened, and the inside of the lamp was extinguished, and the air was silent. Xue Meng stepped in and could really feel a light floral fragrance in the air.

He turned back and the Mei brothers were gone. Before I thought about it, the scenes that the three people saw would be different, and no one would see anyone.

At this time, suddenly a familiar voice was uploaded from the throne of the hall.

"Xue Meng..."

The windy winds burst, and the ink-colored gauze was floating. Xue Meng was shocked and shouted: "Ink burning?!"

The voice sighed: "Is it you? Are you here?"

Xue Meng’s throat twitched, tightened his back, and the sword went deep into the dark hall of the light--

The tip of the sword picked up the curtain and he saw it.

Sitting high, a handsome, pale-faced man is closing his eyes. The man leaned on the Rong Jinhua chair and wore nine beads. The eyebrows are dark and cold, and the nose is high, but the curvature is very delicate. A pair of pale lips squinted, not seeing too much.

It is stepping Xianjun.

The face of Teng Xianjun is very poor, and the corpse is slightly white, like the appearance of poison after poisoning. There were some fruit bowls in front of him. The grapes in the plate were purple, the apples were thin, and the colorful mountains and rivers were all in the silver plate, but the people on the throne were not even eyelids. He does not look.

Illusion? real?

The points are not so real. Xue Meng’s brain groaned, when he returned to God, he heard himself saying: “Ink, you...”

Wherein I am squinted from a squatting squint, I still look at the gaze, business whispers, "What..."?

Perhaps the man in front of him is too weak, and perhaps in the storm, Xue Meng has vented his endless anger. At this time, the illusion on the high seat is actually exhausted than anger.

He also doesn't know if the ink will answer or know what it means to do it. He just numbed numbly, asking those who had a crush on his chest that would almost crush him:

"Why are you doing this... Are you born again? You...you and the teacher...you really..."

Of course, stepping Xianjun did not answer. He just snorted softly and then slowly opened the curtain.

In the light of the light, he looked at Xue Meng and said: "Come on, since Kunlun stepped into the snow palace, you and Master, have not met each other for two years."

Xue Meng stunned: "What?"

Stepping on the fairy smiled and said to himself: "Xue Meng, do you miss him?"

Xue Meng slammed and asked: "What Kunlun stepped into the snow palace, what did not see for two years, what messed up?!"

The illusion of ecstasy in front of me is actually the last dialogue between Xuemeng and the same year, and the last speech of Shi Xianjun staying in the world.

The puzzles are born at random, and it is a coincidence that the situation before the death of the two lives was born.

Xue Meng at this time does not know. He was resentful, anxious and scared. He glared at the man in his seat and asked, "What are you talking about?"

Stepping on the eyes of Xianjun, he did not seem to look at him.

It seems that through this real Xue Meng, I look at another shadow that does not exist.

He and the shadow said to himself: "Return to you? Stupid. You don't think about it, I am so hated and hated, how can I allow him to live in this world."

Xue Meng stopped.

Yes... This is an illusion, even if you don’t say anything, you will continue to say it. He is talking to someone he can't see.

What is he talking about?

In the ear, the sentence that Xue Xianjun said, Xue Meng did not understand, so he did not remember too much. But the man's eyes on the throne are so crazy and cold, paranoid and contradictory, which makes Xue Meng all over the body - this is not his brother. He can't recognize it.

Stepping Xianjun is still arrogant: "You want to remind me that he used to beat me to the body, let me swear in front of everyone. I still want to remind me that he used to be for you, for the unrelated people, to block me. In front of me, how many times has prevented me from doing good things, bad to my great cause?"

This violent/jun is like a dragon with a broken claw, and he is exhausted in the mud and retains his last fierceness.

He can't stop talking, like crazy, like a devil. He looks very vicious, but he is exhausted.

He said: "A good teacher and a teacher. His body is stopped at the Honglian otter in Nanfeng. Lying in the lotus, it is well preserved, just like falling asleep."

He added: "His body is maintained by my spiritual power, and it will not be rotted. If you think about him, don't worry about it with me here. If I don't die, go quickly."

Xue Meng stepped on the long stage, Xue Huang clenched in his hand, sweating: "What the * are you talking about..."

In the last life, who died?

Whose corpse stopped at the Red Lotus?

Whose corpse must rely on the spiritual power of the Emperor, can not be rotted... Who?

In fact, from the words of Stepping Xianjun, from the tomb that was seen before the Tongtian Tower, Xue Meng had already had an answer. However, his mind seemed to be filled with ice slag, and his upper and lower lips were stunned by the shudder.

Who is dead... Who is dead! !

He suddenly twisted his face and rushed to the temple. He reached for the smoldering robes, but the five fingers crossed straight through the illusion.

Stepping on the face of Teng Xianjun, hoarsely said: "Go. Go see him. If it is late, I am dead, and the spirit is broken, he will be gray."

The voice fell, the man was stunned and the poison had already occurred.

Xue Meng is wide-eyed and trembling -

How did all this become like this? What kind of absurdity has this red dust been happening?

"You killed him?"

Xue Meng’s voice is awkward, and he wants to destroy it. “Are you killing him?”

"..."

"You know everything since you were born again. Do you know everything?"

Naturally no one will answer him, but Xue Meng still asks.

There are many answers in this world. Knowing it will not make people happy. It will only make people suffer. But they know this but they still have to ask questions.

Cruel truth and gentle lies, which one is love and which one is hate?

"If you know... why should you lie to us? Brother... How can you bear it... How can you bear it..."

In front of him is the face of the other side, and no one will look good when the poison is attacked. The blood came out from the corner of Ting Xianjun. He stood up and staggered and stood up and walked outside the temple.

"Where are you going?"

Xue Meng Chao’s group of shadows reached out.

"you want--"

Suddenly, the five fingers fell into a group of warmth.

Xue Meng was excited, the floral fragrance between the nose disappeared, and the smashing was the black gold, the back of the sun.

"Ink burning?!"

No ink burned.

The puzzle has disappeared. Xue Meng’s eyes and expressions are very broken and broken. Dreams and illusions, past and present, which ones are true and which ones are fake? Time and space are cracking, so that the once red dust and their world are in a mess. What is really happening, which ink is the real ink, which one is the real self?

His thin face, the broken look looked so pitiful, and his eyes were blind.

After a long time, my eyes are gradually gathering.

In the brown barley, the figure of Mei Hanxue is reflected.

"Wake up." Mei Hanxue let go of his hand and bounced in front of his forehead. Xue Meng had a pain.

"ended."

"..."

Xue Meng had been stiff for a while before finally returning to God. He almost murmured exhaustively: "I'm sorry..."

Mei Hanxue licked his lips: "There is nothing to be sorry. This kind of disorder is very mysterious. The more serious your mind is, the more scary it becomes."

Xue Meng raised his eyes and looked at him with some wet black eyes.

He actually didn't like to talk to Mei Hanxue, but the person in front of him was like the only real and stable existence in the illusion. He could not help but hoarsely said: "What about you? What did you see?"

Mei Hanxue did not answer immediately. After a moment, he smiled and smiled: "Thousands of girls who have been plagued by the past ten years. Hey, a gentle township, it’s really awkward."

"..."

At this moment, they suddenly heard a blasting sound from the apse.

Mei Hanxue’s eyes are iced, and the sword is said: “Go.”

Xue Meng and Mei Hanxue kept up and crossed the stormy atrium. They came to the apse and saw a white gold Manly figure on the roof of the gallery. The figure saw the three people who broke in, the footsteps condensed, and the eyes fell. A thunderous thunder illuminates her face.

Mei Hanxue’s frowning coldly said: “Wood smoke is away?”

There was a sigh in the front: "Mu sister will ignore them, run away!"

The smoke of the wood smoked, although unwilling, but quickly swept away. When Xue Meng arrived, the apse was already a ruined Sui and Tang dynasty. There were broken wood and shattered tiles everywhere. The fire was smashing the broken beams. The silk curtains were burning, and the inexhaustible red tongues rushed to the sky. The black smoke is rolling.

In this market, two smashing white shadows smashed confrontation, the hurricane splashed, and the fire broke out! Both of them shadowed like lightning, and they quickly collided in the air.

Only heard the metal front, the golden light and blue light flashed one after another, and the bricks and shingles slammed, and a rough giant wood in the gravel sand mud waking up like a dragon, and the volume was high. On the other side, a blue wave of spiritual power condensed from the broken bricks, and the waves surged.

The shadows of the people, one left and one right, stand on the top of the giant wood and the wave.

Xue Meng suddenly lost color: "Master!"

No matter what the truth is, it’s Xuemeng’s instinct to be in the midst of danger.

Mei Hanxue narrowed his eyes and greeted the splattered mist of water, muttering: "Shi Mingjing..."

The two men who had stormed the storm were the former masters and apprentices, Chu Ning and Shi Mingjing.

But what is embarrassing is that Shi Ming's net body is covered by a layer of powerful spiritual flow that is obviously belonging to the emperor. The skin exposed to the air is covered with black mantras, and the meridians are even more violent.

Xue Meng rushed up: "What is going on?!! Teacher, teacher -"

With a bang, Xue Meng was popped out of the battle, and he barely climbed up, only to see a golden sea otter barrier in front of him.

Chu nightning looks very poor, Senran said: "Don't come."

Mei Han Xue took a few steps forward and stood beside Xue Meng. He stared at the strange and powerful flow of power, and frowned. "... strange. It used his own water system tricks, but all of them were distributed. The power of another person."

Just a little bit of stagnation, Chu Xiaoning and Shi Mingjing also smashed their hands, and their spiritual powers were completely released at the moment, and the powerful gas field forced the other three to be breathless. .

Beidou Xianzun’s foot and the vines flew, and the hands of Jin Jianhuai, the Jianguang flashed, illuminating his eyes more than the sword front, he was as light as Yan, slammed the sword and fell to the division!

"Chu Ning!!"

The anger of the teacher is almost distorted.

"I have never killed you in the two worlds - do you treat me like this?!"

With a loud bang, he raised his hand and sealed it. A deep blue barrier suddenly opened in front of the teacher, and he was attacked by Chu Yuning.

However, if you look closely, you can find that the barrier was not born out of thin air, but was born out of a non-sheltered knife - it is not returning! The sorcerer's body is all the violent stream of stepping on the immortal king, so that he does not return to the owner, and listens to his call and works for him.

Chu Yuning’s eyes were dark, and he said, “No, you have killed me both.”

The golden sword is pumping back, and the beautiful streamer is shining. The barrier formed by the teacher has been faintly cracked. But see the late night of Ning volley, the long legs smashed toward the cracks, borrowed the force to swept, and then throw the sand in his hand to him! Only heard the thunder of the storm, the sky just rolled over the rumble of dark clouds, in this stormy light and thunder in Kyushu, Huai Sha slammed / wore the enchantment of the sergeant!

The teacher did not return to the block, but he was not a slight rain.

He couldn't carry the power of Huai Sha, and Mo Mo got out of his hand and slammed it into the ground. Then, Shenwu Jinjian straight sorcerer squats!

"Oh..." The teacher barely avoided, but avoided the heart, but avoided other places, only heard the sound of the brush, the blood splashed, and the sand penetrated the shoulders of the teacher, * back. It’s in the middle of the night.

The sergeant fell back to the ground and fell down in the broken bricks, but he tried to hold the wound and climb up.

His eyes flashed with extreme anger and embarrassment: "Why are you blocking me! What is the use of you to stop me?! Those who stop me from dying can live? Can you help me with your days? Can the world go back to the past!!"

Chu nightning plundered from the heights, pointed to the ground, and then stood in the ruins of the debris.

He was soaked all over, hurt and bloody, and his expression was indifferent. It was not like Chu Ningning at any time.

What he said was true.

Eight bitter long hate flowers swallowed up his lover, so he has died in the hands of Shi Ming. For two lifetimes.

"You are doing something late! Do you know what you can do to stop this?!" The teacher is almost crazy. He screams at the night of the night, and the heavy rain falls on the side of the two, but You can't kill the hate fire.

"You should have returned to the past after opening the door to life and death in the previous life. You killed the smoldering and tore his knives and pieces into a piece of burnt ash." You should kill him! ”

"..." Chu nightning eyes are cold.

"What redemption has come from the beginning! Joke! Just because you want to save him, you don't want to kill him, I can get the spiritual core that he has regained strength! I can recast the emperor, and I have the situation of today!" Said, actually laughed haha.

Eyes such as snake teeth, such as scorpion claws, such as bee needles, venom juice.

The teacher gnawed his teeth and said: "Because you... you can't do it. You are not trying to stop me? If you kill the killer earlier, then everything is over, what else is there?!"

"You are tired of these two worlds!"

"Don't think that you are what night night Yuheng Beidou Xianzun, what have you done? You didn't do anything! I just used the time and space cracks you left to master the mystery of the first ban, only to reopen life and death. The door, ruined the world, there is also a credit for you... hahaha, hahahahahaha-"

The laughter is as sticky as a spider web.

He turned upside down, his mouth bleeds, his body's magic lines are fading a little bit, but he doesn't care, trying to insult the people in front of him with the most vicious words, cursing the people in front of him.

I used to have a heartbeat and love it.

They all vanished in this torrential rain.

He probably looked down on Chu, or looked at himself. In the past, he was full of self-confidence, thinking that Chu Nighting could become his own play in the palm of his hand. As long as the chain is tight, it doesn't matter if you play it. It is not necessary for his life. But at the moment -

"If you have come from the beginning..." The peach eyes flashed with anger and coldness, and the teacher glared at the * shoulders. "...I must kill you."

The last point is that the magic pattern has disappeared.

The strong spiritual flow in the teacher’s body was lost.

Lying on the ground, it became the sphenoidal beauty seat.

The teacher sighed slightly, looking at the night, across the rain curtain.

He has already used the last killing trick - borrowing God. This trick he used to be in the face of the re-emergence of the burning, in the evening of Lin Lingyu Inn, he used it.

It is a move, but it is better to say that it is a kind of elixir. The medicine is tempered with the blood of the Emperor, and allows him to gain the power of ink burning in a time around the incense.

Although the power is not the real strength of the ink, it will always be a bit worse, but in many cases, it is enough.

This time, he failed to beat Chu Yuening in a short time, which means that he has been poor.

He is very clear.

Xue Meng was numb at the side of the scalp, and he was at a loss. He said: "Master?? Teacher?"

Although the sound was weak, the place where the teacher fell was not far from Xuemeng. He heard it and turned his head. Four eyes are opposite, and Xue Meng’s brain is more and more blank.

The teacher looked at him for a while, and his eyes suddenly flashed, and then the face of Zhang Junxiu’s fabulous face slowly began to reveal a trace of sorrowful smile.

"Little Lord……"

Xue Meng suddenly shocked.

In the meantime, the eyes of the teacher are still the eyes of the past, and the face is still the face of the past. He is so embarrassed and so weak, and he does not say anything, but only reaches out to Xue Meng.

Xue Meng is standing on the edge of the enchantment, as long as he can't help himself take a step - no, half a step is enough, then...

However, at this moment, the entanglement of the side is suddenly a strong Huaguang! Everyone is a glimpse, and the eyes are all on the top. I saw that this murderous blade suddenly bursts out of the light without any warning. The light is scary for a while, and it is fascinating for a while, staggering back and forth more than ten times, erupting A strong current!

Mei Hanxue said: "Be careful!" Xue Meng, who will almost step out of the enchantment, came back.

Then they saw that they did not fall apart and rose into the storm, and then they were like a meteor, and they rushed to the back of the mountain to smash! !

In this case, the monks who started the attack on the mountain and were playing against the Manchu chess pieces also saw it. Everyone was surprised: "What is that?"

"what happened?"

The teacher narrowed his eyes and fell on the ground and looked at the red light that suddenly filled the back of the mountain. The red light penetrated his cousin, and then he picked up his fingertips and closed his eyes. After a while, the teacher suddenly understood and slammed his eyes, and there was ecstasy on the face.

"Take the fairy!!"

Chu night Ning suddenly turned back, his face pale.

The teacher laughed and laughed, and the light of the tiger wolf: "He didn't die... Hahaha... He didn't die!" I don't know where the strength comes from, he climbed from the ground, when everyone still reacted. He ordered several acupuncture points to stop bleeding, and then the * robes were on display. He had already swept over the corrugations in a moment, and leaped in a few steps, plunging into the garden.

"Master respect..."

Chu night can not stop, he turned his head and looked at Xue Meng, said to Mei Xuexue: "Please look after him." He took off and plunged the ground, followed by the teacher.

The teacher was light and light, and he did not lose to Master in the light. When the two were in tandem, the teacher couldn’t get away from the night, and Chu Ning could not hold him for a while. The two men swept to the back of the mountain, but everything in front of them was enough to make people stand and horrify.

Chapter 303

There is a deep bottomless gap in front of the road of martyrdom. It is the trace left by Chu Xiaoning's previous use of the schizophrenia. At this time, the rain poured into the ravine, as if the waterfall was flowing.

Above the chasm, a man in a black gold robe is facing them, holding a knife in one hand and volleying.

When I heard the movement, the man’s fingertips moved slightly and slowly turned back.

It is ink burning!

In the hurricane hunting, the heart is like an axe, and Chu night is incredulously staring at the person in front of him. ……what on earth is it? !

Rumble -

The pale electric light flashed, and then the thunder rose.

The pale light illuminates the * face of the Emperor. That face is too horrible, and the teacher can't help but take a step back.

But Chu night, but involuntarily went two steps forward.

Blood marks.

The face is full of blood marks, in addition to the face, any inch of skin exposed outside is also criss-crossed, flesh and blood turned up. He is like a corpse that has been dismembered but has failed to disintegrate because the blade is not sharp enough. The body is covered with cracks, but there is still a handsome look between the eyebrows.

"..."

Chu night, his lips are white and white, he stood in the downpour and rain, watching the dead people who have been smashed by thousands of knives.

The dead man also stared at him, a pair of black and white eyes with blood and tears.

The fairy tales of Fu Xianjun are vague, memories and memories are strangled, souls and souls are fighting, perhaps because it is too painful, and he can't help but hold half of his face with the hand without a knife.

Black and red blood and rain fell from the fingers.

His thick eyelashes trembled, the anger of stepping on the immortal, and the confusion of the master of the ink: "... Why should this be done to me?"

Chu nightning: "..."

"Why do you want to kill me?" The man slammed into the ground, and his eyes reflected the reflection of Chu Yuning. Slowly, his expression became helpless and supple, he murmured: "Master, I have not done anything else?"

"Do not……"

"Do I still make you unhappy?"

Listening to his voice, Chu Xianning’s brain was broken and everything was chaotic. He thought, is it raining in the rain? No... No, it’s burnt.

Whether it is stepping on the emperor or the ink master, it is all smoldering.

The ink burned and blooded, and swayed toward him. The * face was the white face of the corpse. There was no focal length in the open eyes, only a sorrow.

"I am here again to let you down. You have to do this to me."

The rain was almost in the bones of Chu Yuning, and it was cold and trembling. In this way, he looked at the ink and walked toward himself step by step. The ink burned in tears, and all the blood in his eyes was blood.

"Don't take me with a whip... I will hurt... even stupid, slower... you hit me... I will hurt... Master..."

The trembling from subtle to violent, to standing unsteady, Chu nightning almost collapsed.

He squatted down, and in the heavy rain he huddled up, his stomach was like a smash that was torn by a sharp claw. He was more like a dead man than the ink burning in front of him.

"I'm sorry..." Chu Yuning was sorrowful and sad, "...sorry..."

Your scars are as long as my pain.

Your hateful blood is finally on me.

He squatted in front of the smoldering, squatting, shrinking, almost using all the courage remaining in the rest of his life to raise his head, but because he looked at the body that was delayed by him, he finally couldn’t make a sound: "I can’t help you... ..."

He didn't know what went wrong, probably because the living dead man who still has a soul is not a real corpse, so the slashing spell is not fully effective.

The ink burns without death, but he tends to be crazy. Those memories of his life that are painful or crazy, or confused or sorrowful, have surged.

He is a light rain, is a master of ink, is a stepping fairy, is a small burning child.

Countless pieces of debris, made up the broken man in front of him.

"Ink burning..."

Hearing his voice, the ink-burning cocoon turned slightly. He stopped and the rain was red at his feet, and blood was everywhere.

After a while, the man who splits the mind suddenly becomes violent, as if he was encroached by another consciousness. He began to walk back and forth, and the hazy look became more and more terrifying in this distorted face.

"Chu Ning! You hate this seat, and you have to live your life at all costs, right?"

"This seat also hates you very much! Hate can't ruin your corpse, you can't let you smash the world! You can't blame me, you kill me--!"

The robe sleeves are hunting and glaring.

He smashed his anger and rushed to the crown. It seemed that the next moment he would rush to the ground and smash the throat of Chu’s night to crush him into pieces.

But the bow is not full, and the sword is not folded.

Only heard a loud bang, a blue light into the chest of Xianxian, stepping on the eyes of Xianjun, stunned and calm. After a few bucks, he slowly stood up straight, and stood alone on the road of the road.

Chu night Ning turned back, see the teacher swaying to hold the rock, but also maintain the posture of the swearing spell, a pair of peach eyes, fierce, flashing agitation.

"It’s almost the same as the old one." The teacher bite his molars and lifts his fingers. He stares at the * and drunken Emperor. "You know what matters most. Since you are not dead, you can take it for you." I got the last thirty pieces of chess!"

"Be quick," he said, breathing, "can't drag again."

Under the flame of the spell, the face of the immortal, the chaos of good and evil, gradually became as quiet as the dead, such as frost and snow.

The madness in his eyes, the resentment, all the emotions disappeared.

Stepping on the priest, the priest of the priest was slightly dagger, and the flames of the knives in his hands lit up. He replied almost numbly: "Yes. Master."

When he finished, he lifted his hand and lowered the protective curse to protect the guard. Then the black robe swept like an eagle and wanted to fly toward the front hall. Can rise to the air, a figure is in front of him.

Chu nightning stopped him.

The whole body is soaked, and a heart has already been smashed and smashed, and hate can't be turned into mud dust, and it is broken in the storm.

But he still has to stop.

"If there are more people who are more comfortable, then that's fine..."

That was what he said when he was awake, so even if he was hurt again, he would be exhausted and he would have to last until the last moment.

Chu night Ningsha dumb road: "Huaisha, called."

Stepping on the king looked at the familiar golden light in his palm, and his eyebrows were instigated.

Huaisha.

rainstorm.

It is earthly. Blood is boundless.

Years ago, they had a similar day. On that day, they offered all the blood of each other, exhausted their life's force, and played the world's discoloration.

I did not think that the war of mentoring and apprenticeship in the past life would come to the world again after years of flooding.

When people live forever, they may be doomed. Just like Nangong is destined to hide from the ruin of the prime age, Ye Yexi is destined to become a red-faced gentleman, and the dying of life is destined to escape. Stepping Xianjun and Chu Yuning are destined to face each other.

Whether it is hate or love.

Can't escape.

"No return. Call."

The sizzling sound of the blazing blaze, the blue glory reflects the eyes of the stepping fairy. He is now exerted the strongest control by the teacher, and there is nothing in his eyes. He is like a mirror from hell, reflecting the cold and lonely figure in the rain.

The sword is breaking the clouds, and the cross knife is against the rain!

In the blast, two black and white figures are intertwined, and the spirits collide!

They quickly dismantled from the wind and rain, and when the time went to the sand, the wind raged, and the splashes of the two people's bodies were like snow and sea, and they seemed to be dusty. No one has slacked off, and they are fighting each other, all the way from the back hill to the front of the tower.

This embarrassing battle has curbed the clouds, and people at the foot of the mountain have been alarmed and looked up.

"Is it Chu Ning?"

"He, how did he fight with the ink? Are they not a group?"

Raindrops such as Wanma mad, the peak of the dead life, Chu nightning hands in the hands of the golden light, straight thorns on the chest of Xianjun! However, the light has not yet been pushed, and the sound of the bursting sound is heard. Hehe Yanyang rushes out of the palm of the scent with the lava splashing, like a volcanic torrent that will swallow the golden light!

"boom!"

In an instant, the broken bricks and tiles were splashed, and the surrounding trees were uprooted.

At this time, Jiang Yan was arguing against the chessmen in front of the mountain. He reacted extremely quickly and shouted: "Be careful!" The words slammed open an enchantment to protect the people around them. The towering giant woods are all on his enchantment.

Jiang Yan is extremely difficult to support. When he spurts blood, he falls on one knee and his lips are scarlet.

"Open the enchantment! I can't stop it for the second time!"

Many monks only remembered in a panic at this time, and they rushed out of the enchantment umbrella. They looked up in the direction of Tongtian Tower. At this moment, they couldn’t help but be a little bit stunned. What kind of strength is this?

In front of the Buddhism Pagoda, the two men and the masters became more and more fierce. Chu nighting gnawed his teeth and responded to every move made by Stepping Xianjun. In addition to him in this world, I am afraid that no second person can take up so many attacks from the emperor.

Only Chu night can be.

——The man in front of him, the tip of the knife, the dodging, and the like, are similar to those of the past, and they are all taught by Chu.

It was just after this death, several times, even in front of this tower, he adjusted the action posture of the ink-burning hand and repeatedly licked his heart. From the ignorant ignorant teenager, all the way to the moment the military blade collided.

This is the second peak match between Beidou Xianzun and Chu Ning, and his disciple stepping on the emperor's ink.

In that year, Chu night Ning took the sword and there was hope in his heart. He thought he could save a misguided disciple and he did his best.

But this time, Chu nightning knows that everything can't be turned back, no matter whether he wins or loses, the person he most wants to redeem can't come back.

Stepping on the fairy, he said: "I am obstructing me."

In front of the eyes, it seems to flash the situation when the young boy burns the sword. The childish child is sweating on his forehead, stepping on the bamboo under the rising morning, and taking out three sword flowers and falling lightly on the ground.

He turned his head and smiled at Chu’s late night. Pear vortex deeply: “The teacher respects the master, do you think I am good at learning?”

The flames in the palm of the hand swayed into the chest ribs.

Chu nightning flashed away, and the * palm of stepping on the fairy was rubbed against his clothes.

But at the beginning, when the ink burned in the red lotus water to accompany him, it was clearly this trick. At that time, the young man’s palm was still narrow and narrow, and there was no scar.

When the young man looked at him with a gentle face, he smiled and took his hand and said, "Don't fight, and then fight it, it's gone."

The knife is screaming and the sword is long.

Chu night Ning suddenly remembered in the village of Yuliang, Mo-burning had been thirsty to pull him together to see the lakeside social scene, the copper gongs rang, the drum strings were cut.

The ear sings with a sling and sings: "The overlord is full of anger -"

On the stage, the oil painting on the stage painted a face, and the under-the-counter ink burned and concentratedly looked at it. Chu night Ning looked up, and the ink burned immediately pulled out from the ancient mourning and raised his eyes from his childhood wish.

He smiled and asked him: "Is it good?"

The eyes are black and lacquered, very moist.

Chu Xiaoning once thought that those plays, the play is long, oh, a word can not be broken into three words to sing, he does not understand what is really good. But at the moment, he really wants to go back to the social theater in Yuliang Village.

The pine oil blows the fire, and Wusheng drums toward the river, and the rivers and lakes are splendid. That scene, if you sing for a lifetime, how good.

"Hey!"

Suddenly a lost, Huai Sha was not shot down!

The same was true of the year, when the Excalibur fell behind, he immediately swept back and called the day to ask for a stop. But this time, the strength of stepping Xianjun is closer to one level, so Chu Xiaoning has not had time to retreat, and the black-skinned knife has pointed to his chest.

Stepping on the fairy squint.

His eyes were gray and he couldn't tell who he was pointing at. I only know that the opponent’s enthusiasm is exhausted, just like the people who ran on the night in Liangshan, listening to the tube all night, and singing on all sides.

Only the negatives in the road are recalcitrant.

"Things that get in the way."

Thin lips open and close, a knife! !

On the occasion of this life and death, a sinuous gold folding fan flew in the oblique thorns, facing the stepping face of the immortal king! This fan is very fierce, and the strength is amazing. Stepping Xianjun immediately retire and return, but the knife is blocked, but it is still forced to step back by this Xuanjin fan.

Then, the three red and blue interlaced light arrays were pressed down from the sky, and the situation was like a thunder, which would have embarrassed them!

"Who?!" Stepping on the fairy can not move for a time, not to be bitten by the decayed teeth, screaming and screaming, "Get out!"

The black cloud turns over the ink, and the three fuzzy shadows stand on the top of the tower of Tongtian Tower. They jumped down from the rainstorm waterfall and steadily landed in front of the long step. At this time, I can finally see their faces, and they are three people -

A fox fell and his eyebrows were frivolous.

A blonde bundled up, his eyes cold.

The person standing at the forefront, about the shape of thirty or forty years old, was gray and blue, his eyes were sharp and radiant, his expression was calm, and a knife slanted through his left forehead. This person had no frivolous edge. Some are just calm, and there is a kind of load that is very similar to Xue Zhengyi.

The man raised his hand and caught the Xuan Jin folding fan that came back from the counter-rotation, lifting up a pair of eyes that no longer looked young.

It is the previous Mei family brother...and...

A thunder was broken.

Chu nightning looked at the man -

Another red dust Xuemeng! ! !

Chapter 304

In the past, Xue Mengli was in the blast of the wind, and his voice was hoarse and savage. He opened his mouth and closed it again. The throat was rolled several times. When he spoke, he was obliged to follow it: "The disciple Xue Meng, see the master."

Simple and simple eight words, no one can complain for more than ten years.

Xue Meng finished this sentence, but I felt that my life was full of mouthpieces. It was a bitter and I couldn’t say a second sentence.

Behind him, Mei Xuexue said: "Zi Ming, condensate God."

The two Meijia brothers in the past life have nothing to change, but they have added a certain amount of stability to their respective eyebrows, and their spiritual power is far better than the original.

"Know your mood is turbulent, but the Spirit can't always be turbulent. I just came to this world when I saw the youth. If this time I lose again, your face will be lost in front of you." Go back to God."

"..."

Xue Meng is no longer the young man who was ignorant and ignorant. He knew that Mei Hanxue was right, so even though he had all the disappointment, he took a deep breath and removed his gaze from Chu Xinning and re-cast it on the side of the step.

"What are you?" Stepping Xianjun blinked extremely dangerously in the squad, "Come on death?"

Mei Hanxue said: "What happened, he didn't seem to know us."

Chu Yuning said that he was passing by and said: "He has completely lost consciousness. No one can recognize it now."

Xue Meng: "..."

If you say that you are just a glimpse of the person who is late in the night, he has already stirred his heart. Then at this moment, he once again heard this familiar voice. This voice, which can only be heard in the dream, Xuemen’s tears can no longer bear, and slowly filled his eyes.

How many years have passed?

He didn't dare to look back at those years, he was afraid of a little memory, and the tears would fall without interest.

In fact, the time for him, too fast and very slow, he still remembers the first year of Chu Yuning's capture, life and death are still unknown. At that time, he went alone and mourned for help, but perhaps because he was too angry and proud in the past, and he did not care for him.

Later, I finally hoped that the rebel army would gather. He eagerly hoped to rescue the old man in the magic cave earlier, but everyone also suspected that he was scornful and self-satisfied. At that time, Mei Hanxue was deployed as a force and was not in the striker. He was alone and could only go up the mountain himself.

What is waiting for him on the mountain? It is the shackles of life and death, the sacred emperor who walks on the wood, and the body of Chu Ningning, which is gradually annihilated with the death of the singer.

It has been almost ten years.

He waited for ten years and became a corpse. The corpse was broken into ashes in front of him.

The pillar that supported him disappeared. He could only cry like a helpless child, screaming in the ash that was raging.

He was late, and even the armor's sleeves were not touched.

Even, I can’t hear Chu’s late call to him: “Xue Meng.”

Later, things became more horrible.

When the singer died and resurrected, Shi Mingjing revealed the green face and fangs. They opened the door and killed the human beings. For Xue Meng, the death of the old friend of the past has changed. When I was a teenager, I was buried in a jar of Du Kang under the laurel tree. When I dig it out, who else can drink with him?

Therefore, Xue Meng did not know how much strength he had used. He was able to remove the first sight of the ten-year-old from the late night.

"This time I finally didn't come late." Xue Mengdao, "Master, I will help you."

At this time, another earthly Xuemeng arrived with the other two Mei brothers. Although it is clear that there will be some incredible people after the tears of life and death, they suddenly saw themselves more than ten years later. Still let the three young people be more or less surprised.

Young Xue Mengdao: "You...you...?!"

Xuemeng of the previous life just glanced at him, and there was a glamorous and sadness in his eyes. Then he smiled low and said: "I almost forgot. It turned out that I was like this more than ten years ago."

"..."

"It's so stupid."

The young Xue Meng had no head and no brain to be covered with a fool's poke. He still didn't react. The fireball ball of the Emperor's Emperor had already shot down his vest.

Xue Meng was sideways. He didn't want to use the snow phoenix, but at this time he reflexively took out the sacred martial arts and barely attacked the offensive, and then he stepped back. It’s hard to stand firm, and I’m gonna rush to step on the fairy, but I’m stopped by a blue-sworded sword.

Mei Hanxue of his predecessor stood in front of him and squinted: "Since we are here, we don't have to do it."

Mei Hanxue also smiled and said to himself ten years ago: "This earthly scorpion is naturally made up by this earthly person. If you don't care for you, Mei Xianjun is a good man, just in the prime of life, if it is Surrounded by bitterness and enmity, I will be as boring as I am for the rest of my life. How bad it is."

Young plum with snow: "..."

At this time, the trio of the three-seat lock stepping on Xianjun suddenly trembled fiercely. Mei Hanxue stopped teasing himself. He immediately turned his head and said seriously: "No! His strength is much stronger than before!"

Chu night Ningdao: "He has reintegrated a heart in his body."

"!"

Xue Meng's efforts to cast spells, the hand veins prominent, he bite his teeth: "We can support the time is probably shorter than expected - Master, you have to fold back as soon as possible, kill Huabi Nan!"

Chu Jingning has not answered yet, and the young Xue Meng asked: "Will Hua Binan? Why is it killing Hua Nan, not killing this... this..."

He didn't know for a moment that he said that the emperor was burning for ink, or something else.

Xue Meng glanced at himself: "This is the scorpion smashed and can't be killed. But as long as the manipulator behind him dies, he will soon follow the ash." - He paused, barely With one hand, the young Xue Meng’s feet immediately lit up a red and fire formation.

"It's dangerous here. You are still young, you shouldn't suffer from it. Go, go back to the mountain army."

"No! I don't want it! Why do you--hey!"

Despite the struggling youth, Xuemeng, like the Mei brothers, was quickly wrapped up by the spiritual butterfly tide that was vacated by the light. The butterfly wave carried three young people and flew toward the front hall, disappearing instantly. not see.

Just after sending away the three little guys, I heard a crisp "K!", Mei Hanxue changed his face: "The formation is broken, Zi Ming!"

Xue Meng slammed the whole body to the direction of the emperor, and he trembled, as if he tried to hold back a beast that was emptied, and the rope on the neck of the beast was about to break.

"Master, go -!"

No need to say Xue Meng, Chu night Ning jumped up, his sword eyebrows tightened, looking at Xue Meng: "I will return soon. Do not get hurt."

"This sentence is what I said to the Master." Xue Meng gritted his teeth. "Reassured, the disciples are not what they are, they can hold them."

He can hold it.

He has been in this world for so many years, and support has become a habit, and habits have supported him to move on. So many times have not seen the day, and now I have seen the teacher, he has no reason to hold it.

Chu night sighed and sighed: "I have been alone for so many years, I am sorry..."

The singer is still in the ear, and the people have gone.

Xue Meng’s tears finally collapsed.

The man who is not confused for a long time is not good at crying. Even if the rainstorm is rushing, he will cover him, and he will not cover the slight tremors on his shoulders.

Stepping Xianjun is almost violent in the squad, and the ray of light is like a crack in the Tianchi Lake, showing a fragmented danger! Seeing that he was going to break through the encirclement, but then a red light killed him, tied him tightly, and stepped on the immortal to be more angry, raised a pair of * red eyes, staring in the direction of the red light. go with--

Xue Meng’s eyes on the stepping on Xianjun: “You are dead, I will not let him disappear in front of me for another time.”

He said, exhausting 10% of the spiritual power, the neck blue veins pulsate, the eyes are hard as iron.

"Teacher, you used to win me. In today, the Master is on the side, I don't want to let him down, so... you can't win me!"

Mei Hanxue reacted very quickly. It was a shock. The long eyebrows shook and shouted: "Zi Ming! What to do!?"

Just listening to the sound of a bang, Xue Meng lit up behind the flames of red. He sighed and slammed his palms. The fire ran down the law and went straight to the emperor. In an instant, it seemed like a million arrows to wear the heart, and the shackles were four wrong.

"Well--!"

Stepping on the fairy, his eyes are split, his head is sullen, and the spiritual powers around him are weak and mostly weak. His dark eyes slowly turned around, staring at Xue Meng silently, and his black blood dripped intermittently.

On the left side of his chest, close to the heart, there is a mole.

It used to be a place where Xuemeng’s Dragon City was worn.

Now these Xue Meng condensed the curse of the ban and hundreds of roots into his body, the sharpest one is from the position of the year to wear the chest again.

Empty blood hole...

Mei Hanxue was shocked and anxious: "You are stopping, you are already in the power of the Psychic, and if you continue this way, your spiritual core will..."

"Hey!" Xue Meng snapped him.

He stared at the fairy, the old brother staring at the younger brother, the old assassin staring at the tyrant.

This pair of former brothers are staring at each other, and how many years of life and death are written off. Xue Meng’s face is poor, but his eyes are lit up with a blazing brilliance of the phoenix.

"I Xuemeng learned all my life, it is a battle today."

Mei Hanxue: "..."

This sentence sounds falling, and the phoenix breaks through the clouds in an instant, only to see the flames burst into the sky! !

In the fire, it seems as if I had seen a very early, very early, a silver-blue light armor, a ponytail blonde buckled the young man, he was noisy, grinning and grinning:

"I want to be the first in the Lingshan Conference!"

"Hey! God Wu this kind of thing, I will have it sooner or later! What can be rare!"

"After fifty years, no! As long as thirty years, I will let the shackles of life and death be carried forward in my hands, Megatron Kyushu!"

The eyebrows are tender and tender, such as new shoots, and the sound is crisp as the first peach. The young man has no scruples, and he is not afraid of the fate of the sky.

The fire almost reflected half of the sky of death and death, how many yesterday were burned to coke, burned as wreckage...

Everything is settled, only the current Xue Ziming.

His eyes were sturdy and firm, saying: "I don't want to be successful, but ask people to be like that."

Chapter 305

At the same time, the battle of life and death has been a four-sided battle. The rebel army rushing to the foothills, the pioneer who played against the chess pieces, the guards responsible for opening the enchantment, the medical soldiers who rushed in the chaos... thousands of spells intertwined, lit up on this mountain like a behemoth A little bit of war.

But even so, the flood caused by Xue Meng’s blow is still eye-catching, and the fire is like a broken bamboo. Chu night Ning looked back in the night wind, and my heart was amazed. He knows that Xue Meng has begun to burn the power of the spiritual core. If he can't make a quick decision, Xue Meng is only afraid to follow the footsteps of Nangong.

"Rising Dragon - Calling!"

He clipped the dragon symbol with his fingers and dripped blood. But listening to the dragon and the sea, the title of the paper dragon is broken and the sound is like a bell.

"Chu Ningning, what is this seat?"

Chu night Ning Jianmei lowered, Ling Li said: "To the end of the road to the road, be fast."

The pair of longan eyes of the candle paper dragon swept away from the Kyushu, which was full of smoke. No more questions were asked. "On the way." One person, one dragon and one dragon, wears the wind and rain, such as riding the wind and breaking the waves, straight toward the road that was laid by the dead. The road flies. Chu Xiaoning looked down from the heights of Jiuyi, and the road connecting the two circles of the gods and the devils snarled with scarlet brilliance, like the blood in the arteries rushing out to the unknown.

Because the back mountain is very close to the door of the demon world, influenced by the Mozu atmosphere, this place is full of blushing purple fire clouds, and has not been attacked by heavy rain.

The candle dragon swooped down and instantly turned into a golden light back to the spell in the fall. Chu Evening stood firmly on the road of the road, slowed his breath and raised his eyes.

"You came?"

An empty voice came, and the teacher was standing at the end of the road, behind him was the magic door of the fire. As Xue Meng and Mei Jia brother temporarily controlled the stepping of Xianjun, the protection enchantment around him has disappeared. Hearing the movement, the teacher squatted halfway through the face, his eyes were reversed, and he looked at the night.

"You are really capable."

The wind blew his hair, and the singer turned his eyes and fell on the door of the demon world.

"Time and space are wide open, you don't want to make up in time, but you want to stop my family from returning..."

Chu nightning does not count: "The three major bans were created by Chen Shanggong, and the Mozu temperament will expand its mana by dozens of degrees. I am not willing to let the sphenoids return home, but the magic domain once When the hole opens, the magical breath flows in, and the door of life and death will be torn open."

"..." The teacher was silent for a moment, sneer, "I can't deceive you."

Chu nightning does not intend to spend more time with him, the golden light in the palm of the hand, seeing the sky will ask the teacher to squat, suddenly flashed a figure in the oblique thorn. Actually, the wooden cigarette came from the sword, and the life blocked this blow!

"I won't let you move him." The wooden cigarette lifted his eyes from the sword and shouted. "He has suffered so much."

Teacher: "...wood sister..."

I don't know how to make the wooden cigarettes. Behind her, I actually followed the vast number of Haohao soups to pave the way for the precious pieces. Chu Xiaoning saw a critical situation and wanted to stop the chess army. The wood smoke was agile and the lightning stopped in front of him.

Chu night Ningdao: "Let's open!"

The wood smoke is sneer: "Why do you let it go? The real world never cares about the beauty of the mater," then the beauty is returning home, why should we take care of life?" She said, the sword tipped up and greeted her.

At the same time, she was splattered with extremely horrible white gold and yang. This is a desperate attempt. The wood smoke is the strongest force, and it has also broken its own nucleus!

She is the body of the blood, even if this blood is thin, after the blast, there is still a tendency to move mountains and reclamation, and the short-term civil war force can even be higher than the emperor.

"What kind of master is great, what is the right way..." The wooden cigarette was cold and stunned. "For thousands of years, drink human blood and eat human flesh. You can do anything to get the fly!"

She was so fierce, and Chu Ning had to fight with all her strength. Although this woman does not have a drop of beauty in her eyes, she can even be regarded as the distant shackles of the gods, but she will give her life to help the devil return home.

For a time, the night of the Ning white robe flew, the wood smoke from the gold sleeves to show, the two in the air is like a paperweight, but recruited to kill the crack.

The two sides slammed into each other and slammed into the sparks.

The wooden cigarette leaves the road: "The person who is in the way!"

Chu nightning bites his teeth: "This world...not everyone says what you say."

Even though it has passed through the night, the body is frosty, but I can still remember Mrs. Rong’s meal. I remember that before the fanaticism, I thought about harming people. I remember that the disciples of death and death did not ask for a penny. I remember that Chu Yu’s heart illuminates the way back...

He can still remember the smile of the villagers in Yuliang Village, remember the Zhengliang of the owner of Feihua Island, remember that Nangong 驷 cast the smelting dragon pool town, and remember that Li Wuxin had a sword.

He still remembers that Nangong Changying smiled and faded away, turning into a golden light, and his face was mild: "The world is so good, there is enough flowers, why bother with blood."

Almost all of these figures are now sick or dead, or displaced or dissipated...

There are even leaves to forget.

In that year, Xuanyuange, she did not hesitate to save a skeletal orphan woman, and gave a sphenoidal beauty seat and freedom.

"How about that?" Muyan said, "Do I have to forgive this sin because of so few people?!"

Speaking to deep hatred, the sword is getting stronger.

"My mother is so good, but because she is a sphenoid demon, she was swallowed by my beast father... Isn’t her life a life?"

"..."

"Since childhood, only she has hurt me and treated me as a daughter. From her to the elders of the sects, and the monks of you, who treated me as a living person?" Angrily said, "I have the blood of the gods in my body. Everyone regards me as a fair scale, let me destroy people's desires, let me practice my mindfulness... Why?"

The power of the nucleus has been extended to the extreme. The wooden cigarettes are covered by the white gold glory of the gods. Her nucleus is different from the ordinary monks. She even turns her eyes and hair into pale gold. Your majesty, it seems that there are thousands of weights.

"It is a god-like person who deserves to be indifferent. It is a beauty seat that should be swallowed. It has been like this for thousands of years..." The blade of the sword swept past the sword, and the sharp screams of the martial arts collided almost to tear the eardrum.

But nothing is sharper than the eyes of the wooden cigarettes. The wooden cigarettes are one word away: "Chu Zongshi. You have not turned over the case of the skeletal beauty family?"

"..."

"That is a book that people eat.... In the past, the monks took the beauty of the medicinal materials and soared. Today, the beauty seats only take you home to pave the way!"

A loud bang, the wood smoke from the exhaustion of life, the sword slammed toward the late night.

Chu night, Ning squatting and yelling: "Nine songs, call!"

Huaisha is converging, Guqin is now, and the singer of the piano is glaring at the golden light, piercing the Han, and taking care of the whole life! In the face of Chu’s late night, he opened a Pangshuo curtain with a sea otter flying. He hung in the air and hung in wide-sleeve hunting. In front of him was a face full of hatred.

She is not hating him. She hates the unfairness of the world, hates her mother for tragic death, hates that she cannot be free, and hates her.

"Let them go back."

A blow is not broken, her spiritual power has been pushed to the extreme, but there is still no enchantment that can destroy the night of the night, but the corners of the mouth are broken.

Her voice was hoarse, and the hand holding the sword was shaking.

The nucleus will be broken...

The wooden cigarettes looked up and looked at the night, and said softly: "Please..."

Chu Yuening saw her reflection in her shackles of light gold.

Whose shadow is that?

The face is chaotic, empty, distorted, and awesome.

Cruel. Kind and honest.

"Let them go home... Chu Xianjun..."

The reflection in the golden light disappeared.

Because the brain was too chaotic, Chu Jingning took a while to find out that it was because the wood smoke had exhausted all the power, and the spiritual core had been broken. She regained its original appearance, only a pair of dark eyes. . Looking at him.

The armor is gone, and there is no life.

She can no longer be the cold and arrogant god, and the eyes are like a woman who is unusual.

For your own brother, for the family of the Mozu who is in conflict with his own race, begging.

"Let them go..."

She said, the sword in her hand disappeared, because it could not withstand such a fierce battle, and the whiskers that were extinguished in the Spirit were broken into powder.

"I beg you."

The wood smoke fell from the sky, and the white gold robes were like a lotus behind.

Her waist is still embroidered with the scales of the Tianyin Pavilion, which represents the justice and bright coat of arms shining in the dark night.

The sound of the sky is so loud that it is not private.

The son of the sound of the sound, can not be sentimental.

Tianyin, you can't be blasphemy.

The sound of the heavens is pitiful, to respect all beings.

This singer sang, she read from a young age, her eyes closed and her eyes closed like a shackle.

Since she was born, the first sentence she learned was neither awkward nor a mother, but the first four words of the lyrics.

Thousands of times a day, squatting and praying in front of the icon of the gods.

Don't be private... Don't be affectionate... Don't blame God... to respect all beings.

On her first impression of the birth day, the unwarly father gave her a box of delicate clay figurines, painted with lacquer, falling in the sand, and the brocade opened, her eyes bent and smiled at her. .

"Wow - it looks so good!"

Father looked down at her faintly: "I like it?"

"Like!" The wood smoke looked up from the joy, and there seemed to be thousands of fireworks in the heart. "Thank you, Auntie!"

The man she called her aunt just raised her hand, touched her head, and took the box from the girl's hand—

Then, in front of her face, smashed on the ground.

“Hey!” The porcelain mud landing is such a sound.

The clay figurine couldn’t talk, or the eyebrows bent, and looked at her with a smile, but the smiles were cracked, the face was broken, and the wooden cigarettes stayed for a while, only to cry out in horror, and wanted to rush to grab their own mud. doll.

A white shoe embroidered with a totem of the scales was laid down.

It’s squeaky and creepy.

Like the dolls, the heavenly cover is broken...

The father removed his foot and the girl was in front of a broken ash.

Before they were clear, they were still lined up in a neat team, laughing at her embarrassingly... Why? Why is this so? Isn't it a birthday gift for her? Where did she not do the right thing, and where she got angry, so the little creatures who were tired of these clay sculptures died innocently.

"The son of the Tianyin, can't be sentimental." The man is extremely indifferent in front of the crying girl. "Like it will be ruined. If you like it, you will lose your guilt. You are the * of the gods, dominating the justice of the world... give the real gift to you." It is to teach you that you should never say "like" to anything."

Don't be private... don't be affectionate...

Don't be private, can't be sentimental, can't be private, can't be sentimental - the evil spell is tearing in her brain! The incense burner is smoked and the treasure is solemn and sturdy.

How many nights she was holding her head almost mad, she screamed silently in the quilt.

Can't find a way out.

Can't find the answer...

What is it? What is the mother?

She once wanted to hug Mrs. Lin, but Mrs. Lin was a madman. She tied her with scissors and her hands were full of holes, and even poked her scissors to her throat...

Not private.

Not private!

In the dark night when she is unwilling to live, she squats in front of the statue of God, mourning in her mouth, but cursing and resentment in her heart can not crush this statue as a residue powder!

In this way, from a girl to a girl, from a girl to a girl.

Behind him, thousands of people were sung, and she sang the lyrics that she had already cooked into the bones: "The sound of heaven is so loud, not private..."

Sometimes, if you are crazy, your shoulders are shaking, you have to grow up, and the sword will kill everyone in the Tianyin Pavilion.

But at this time, the ear suddenly seemed to sound a gentle and soft voice, very sweet, very young. The voice sang to her gently: "The reeds are high, the reeds are long, and the mountains are separated by the water. The reeds are hometown, and the reeds are Wang Yang."

She opened her eyes, and the skylight sprinkled after the image of God, and the mottled light hit the ground.

At that time, she was already the owner of the Tianyin Pavilion. She looked at the mottled shadows of this place, as if in this song, she saw the forgetful Sichuan Artemisia, and the tidbits fluttered.

A woman stood in the middle of the reed and smiled at her with a slight smile.

"The reed is the hometown... the reed is Wang Yang..."

"Ama..." she murmured.

She called Mrs. Lin a mother-in-law and was respectful. Only for one person, she is called a grandmother.

That is her stepmother, and she is also a big girl who brought her up. Perhaps others will not understand why she does not hate this woman to occupy the nest. But those people will never understand -

In her black and white grid life, only a few years after Mrs. Huagui was there, she had laughed, had tenderness, had a warm embrace, and had sweet affection.

No one will believe it.

Hua Quyi's reed, which she slept, is the only singer she has ever heard in addition to the sound of the heavens.

Only this song, the town of her life, also became her life.

"Mu sister!!!"

In the ear, I heard that my brother, Hua Binan, was screaming. She has never heard of his rude voice.

But she couldn't manage that much, and she used the last aura to weaken her momentum when she landed. But this is not for survival.

She bit her teeth, along the road of the road, step by step, crawling to the edge of the locust.

then--

When no one has yet to react, she suddenly slammed into the edge of the Magic Bridge with her remaining strength!

"Wooden smoke, voluntarily swearing, I hope that I will be able to repay my wishes and return home."

When the teacher saw this, he was mad, he rushed over, but it was already late, and the wooden cigarette looked back at him.

This woman has been cold and faint, and her expression is not much. Even the skin is covered with frost and snow.

But at this moment, she smiled at this half-brother and even the ethnically repulsed brother.

Her eyebrows bent and she fell on her back.

"sister--!!!!!!"

The wood smoke smiled, and his eyes looked at Tianzhu. This woman, who was not moving and moving, said that she was worshipping thousands of times and said: "Going to your mother is not private."

The bridge suddenly glowed red again, and the scarlet flame of the road of the road quickly wrapped her body. Before being swallowed by the fire, she tried to look at the direction of the door of the demon domain.

She seemed to hear the voice coming from the giant door. It was gentle. It was the mother who shook her little fan on the summer couch and sang lazily.

“The reeds are high, the reeds are long, and the mountains are separated by the water.”

Reed is the hometown here.

The reed is Wang Yang...

"Wooden Lord!!"

"Wood girl!!"

Suddenly, the "chess" on the road of martyrdom were out of control, rushing one after another, squatting in front of the woman who used the body of the blood of the gods and paved the way of the demon, but the woman had been sacrificed. The 30th step of the road's countdown, the body was bound, immersed in the magic flame.

Chu night Ning fell back to the ground, his fingertips were extremely ice, and the eyes were shaking.

He thought that these people were the pieces brought by the wood smoke, but at the moment they found out that it was not.

Most of these people are wearing the disciples of Tianyin Pavilion, and their faces are extremely beautiful. The tears they shed are golden...

It is a sphenoidal beauty seat!

Under the unified responsibility of the wood smoke, Tianyin Pavilion gathered so many surviving sphenoid bones in the name of the disciples and the disciples. These people all cried and cried.

She just took them out of the monk group and prepared to lay the road of martyrdom. They can go home at any time...

"The murderer!" Suddenly someone turned his head and angered at the night of Chu, and his face was distorted by hatred. "You are the murderer!"

“Why should we be enemies with us everywhere? Why should we push the wooden cabinet owners to this road?!”

One side is a stunning pose, and one eye is a deep enemy.

Many beautiful people rushed toward him, losing their senses and ignoring them, like a moth.

Chu night is standing, and his eyes are dim. It is too easy to stop these low-spirited beauty. He doesn’t even have to lift his hands. It’s just that the barriers of the fingertips are enough to make those people unable to wear. Over.

murderer……

sinner.

Master.

salvation.

Chu nightning can not help but squat on the two. What is he doing? What else can he do?

The ink burned to death, the time and space cracked, and the punishment was coming. The wood smoke was separated from the gods and the magical way. Xue Meng suppressed the stepping fairy with the spiritual core.

Suddenly he felt that he was in front of a wall with a sharp knife, and the handle was cold, and he was going to pass through it.

Just as the world is not all evil, the sphenoid is not guilty.

But he wants to stop the way that all of them go home.

Even the last twenty-nine steps, twenty-nine bodies.

He can't leave them alone, let the magic door open. Because as long as the magic door is opened, the natural punishment will soon come, and the two worlds will be destroyed. The people of Kyushu will not even have the opportunity to breathe. What kind of care he should have in order to sit and watch this happen.

he can not……

He can no longer hesitate, the size of the heart is soft.

The ink burns bear the crimes of the two worlds. Xue Meng is still delaying his life with his life, not to mention the * roads of those who have been dying.

"murderer!"

"You killed us! You killed us!"

"Relentlessly cold-blooded! You will have retribution!"

The soul is like a fire, but the heart is as hard as iron.

Chu night, squinting at the eyes - he must go to be the murderer.

He has no choice.

"Shi Ming net."

"..." The teacher looked at him from a crowd of people. The face of the fallen country is still covered with tears, and the eyes seem crazy and empty.

The wind is blowing, his clothes are floating in the wind, and he seems to have admitted that he will come to kill him. The night of Chu’s palms did indeed illuminate the golden light, and Huaisha reappeared—a slamming sound, and he snarled with swords in front of him, trying to block his beautiful people.

With a sweep of his feet, he looked like a snowy bayonet, and the blade went straight toward the division! !

That is to say, at this moment, the road of the martyrdom under their feet suddenly began to tremble fiercely, followed by heavy red beams rising from the ground, and several of them shook the way of Chu's late arrival.

Someone shouted: "Look! Look at the front!"

"It's the magic door! What happened?"

"The bridge is growing, the bridge is going to catch the magic door!!"

In the end, it almost became a scream: "The door is going to open!!!"

The teacher was shocked and looked back, but saw a white golden radiance scattered from the place where the wood smoke left, and extended by the last step, with an extremely amazing momentum toward the door of the devil!

Chu Xiaoning’s face suddenly changed, and the teacher’s face rushed into ecstasy after the initial horror.

The road to the road must be passed - the bridge of the devil's world is finally going to pass! !

A tired and old voice came from behind the magic door and echoed between the heavens and the earth. The voice seemed to be praised and lazy: "The road to the road has a sacrifice of the Protoss, and the later life, the loss of the life of the Protoss, In my way, my heart can be expressed."

This voice is too loud, and the circle of death and death can be clearly heard from a hundred miles away. The whole mountain in the war is looking up to the back of the mountain.

Jiang Yan’s face turned white, of course, not only him, but everyone knows that the door of the magic domain is afraid to open...

Sure enough, the old voice said the following:

"The day of punishment is coming, the devil squats and sees the sorrow and so on, and the sorrowful and powerful, and the lenient and sturdy, free of the last twenty-ninth-order bridge. Immediately, open the magic door, Yun Zhuer and other homecoming!"

"what?!"

Shanshan Mountain Road is a mess.

The Mazhuang owner of the Taolu Mountain Villa even sat on the ground all at once, and burst into tears: "God!! What to do!!"

Some people face the same color, two battles: "The day penalty is coming soon? What day punishment... What day penalty!?"

Xuemenmei’s brothers, who were fighting fiercely with Stepping Xianjun, were also surprised. Xue Meng’s thoughts were shaken, and he was beaten by Xianjun’s machine to break the trap and vacated. Xue Meng was suddenly repulsed by power and only felt ashamed. , spit out a big mouthful of blood!

Stepping on the fairy heard the movement, facing the scarlet eyes, stunned Xue Meng for a moment, his expression was very chaotic, it seems that the memory in the brain began to confuse and the soul of the body began to torture each other: "... Xue Meng .....?"

Mei Hanxue immediately picked up the slash of the sword and kept his brother and Xue Meng behind him. He said: "Be careful."

But I can step on Xianjun, but I don’t mean to continue to attack. Instead, I will smother my eyebrows and my heart will become a river.

"No... what is going on here... what happened!"

He was extremely angry and screamed, lost control, and quickly rushed toward the back hills. Mei Hanxue took a sigh of relief and turned back to the other two and asked Xue Mengdao: "How are you?"

"Don't worry about me, go to the Master! Let's talk to him about the preparations we made before!"

Mei Hanxue clasped his wrist and shook his head: "Your spirit core is already on the verge of breaking, you must heal first."

Xue Meng angered: "Go!!"

"If you don't go first, you don't move." Mei Hanxue knew that the situation was urgent, and he couldn't wait for it. He pointed to Xue Meng and said to his brother, "Brother, you help him to adjust interest. I went to see Chu Zongshi."

Before the road of the road, with the completion of the last step, the road between the devil and the human world finally came together. The beauty seats showed a dreamlike look on their faces. Almost everyone was trembling. No one even dared to lift their feet and take a step forward. Even the teachers did not move.

After a while, I don’t know how long it is, maybe it’s just a short turn, maybe it’s too long to be breathless.

The door of the demon domain in front of the door suddenly trembled, and the time was flowing, the winds of all directions, the heavens and the earth seemed to be breathing and screaming loudly.

The luxuriant enchanting door is separated to the left and right, and a blush of brilliance shines out of the gap!

Chu nightning only felt that a horrible evil spirit and warfare that had never been perceived rushed from the gap. It was the interest of the Mozu who could help the three forbidden powers...

The magic domain is open! ! !

Chapter 306

The world is changing in color, and the interest of the Mozu is like a sharp arrow breaking through the clouds, and it is going straight to the distant time.

The rainstorm that lasted for more than ten days suddenly stopped.

Just before the pouring down, there was no drop in the blink of an eye.

Someone trembled with a sigh of relief and asked with enthusiasm: "This is... What is wrong with this?"

No one answered him. Every pair of eyes stared at the direction of life and death, but the black door that almost occupied the majority of the sky was not strange.

People waited uneasily.

Heartbeat beats...

No abnormalities, no abnormalities.

No abnormalities.

"The rain stopped... Didn't it happen?"

"It should be a false alarm, nothing happened..."

Someone sighed and the tight cheeks relaxed. However, at this time, the earth under their feet suddenly began to shake.

"what happened?!"

Looking up again, but seeing the black hole of life and death, the beginning of the expansion, swallowing the cumulonimbus clouds in the sky, followed by a sharp whistle to cut through the sky, everyone stunned! ——But seeing a fiery red phoenix bird breaking through the black hole, scratching the scorpion, the phoenix bird wings, one can cover the sky. It is as famous as the Tianchi, the claws are like mountains, only one feather is more than 100 meters long, one wing, the Chinese wind smoke rolling, numerous grasses are uprooted, and the nearest Kunlun Mountain is snow, ice Broken.

“啁啾——!!”

In a flash, this * bird has been inhabited on Kunshan, and the sound of the sound is the kind of whistle that will appear when the door is opened and closed.

"this is……"

Some monks screamed: "It’s the beginning of the phoenix!!"

"It is the ancestor phoenix!!"

This is a sacred beast that has not been painted, but it was later attributed to the Gou Chen Shang Palace. The beginning of the phoenix has the ability to move mountains and reclamation. When it inspires the giant wings to fly for nine days, its speed is faster than the dawn. .

Chu night Ning whispered: "The original ... the guardian of the life and death door has been it?"

The time and space of the three major bans created by Chen Chen was actually the opening of the emptiness cage of the imprisoned phoenix. When people stepped into the crack, the phoenix began to ask questions, carrying the entrants to ride the wind, crossing the time. Going back to the past or heading for the future, but its body is too large and too fast, so people who open the door to life and death often can't see its shadow at all.

Only when they can hear the sound of it, they have already been brought to the thought. The era of going.

The phoenix stands on the Kunlun Mountain, and the golden red fire eye overlooks the earth. Suddenly, it emits a low-sounding human language. For example, Hong Zhong’s alarm sounds on the earth: “The red dust is orderly, and the singer is rebellious, when he is punished.”

After that, after vacating, I saw that the nine-legged gold-winged tail feathers were opened one by one and dragged to the ground. The wings are one-in-one, the mountains are shaken, and the hills fall apart! If the scene is not the end of the day, it is truly magnificent.

Chu night Ning Li said: "Retraction!"

More than one person who shouted at the same time, almost every sect of the sect was the same reaction at this time -

Retreat.

Survival is instinct, no need to remind more, those monks who are in front of the beginning of the phoenix ants, mustards, and flee in the opposite direction of the beginning of the phoenix.

Mei Hanxue rushed to the side of Chu Yuning at this time, opened his messy forehead, and said: "Guru, please let them retreat to the border of time and space."

Before he asked, he said: "This world has long since disappeared. In the past eight years, we have been thinking about ways with Xue Meng, so that when the day comes, we can minimize the disaster. So on the day when the two red dusts were opened, we were next to the door of life and death, and we used the basaltic heavy armor to lay down the enchantment."

Xuanwu Heavy Armor is the Xuanwu Will at the same time as the beginning of the phoenix. With it as the foundation, the guardian enchantment of the exhibition can be enhanced by 10 million times.

It’s just that this kind of hyperthyroidism is rumored in the sea of the East Pole.

This red-dusted Meijia brother and Xue Meng, what kind of hardships have gone through, can bring it back...

Mei Hanxue said: "Please ask the master to let everyone pull over and let them all return to their own world."

"..."

"It is the disaster caused by this red dust, and it is reasonable to end here."

His voice fell, and the distant phoenix had fluttered in the distance. The golden red tail smashed, rolled up thousands of snow in Kunlun, and then changed into a red light between heaven and earth. It was so fast that no one could see it, but in the blink of an eye, the Yellow River Inverted, the Yangtze River rushed back, the vast sea of water was stirred up, as if Wang Yang was picked up from the bottom of the sea and rushed toward the mainland!

The waters of the Bohai Sea came up in the sky, and Kyushu turned to the flood.

Chu night Ning is retreating, but finds that the speed of flooding the land is faster than the speed of the people’s swords. In the blink of an eye, they are approaching where they are, only to catch up with most of the people who are retracing in a blink of an eye. .

He took the initiative and made a decision on Mei Xuexue: "You and Xue Meng first led them away. I stayed here and dragged some time."

He said, once again summoned the dragon symbol, and succumbed to the sky.

Chu night Ning Li said: "Heaven! Masses!"

Liu Teng rose to the ground, he bit his fingertips, dripping blood on it, and said: "Build a wall!"

The vines are covered with vines, and the willow branches are coiled around the willow branches, overlapping and reciprocating, layering and cascading, and instantly become a high wall that looks innocent.

"Nine songs are called!"

The palm of the hand is steep and the nine songs are lying on the knees. Chu nightning plucked the strings, flowing in the water, the golden brilliance wrapped the wall built by Liu Teng, making it more and more indestructible. And when he finished this, the rolling torrent has already plunged -

"Hey-!"

A splash of water hit the wall, and suddenly turned up the waves.

Chu night Ning side half face to Mei Xuexue: "Go!"

In this case, Mei Hanxue was not expected. Although he was burning like a fire, he could not do it. He had to give a gift to Chu Jinning, and he disappeared into the depths of the dense forest.

For a time, the monk army was retreating. Chu nightning is trying hard to resist.

The Pentium floods are roaring, trying to tear the sky and ask for the long embankment that the nine songs cast.

On the road of the road, the sphenoidal beauty seat slowly opened the door of the devil world. The magical blush and the deep purple Yunxia are peaceful and intertwined with the human world.

The door was completely opened.

The teacher who stood at the forefront was the first to be wrapped in a pure Mozu atmosphere. The breath made him shudder, and Shutai, he couldn't help but greedily breathe the magic, and the shrinking spiritual core in the chest was swollen and revived because he finally came into contact with the magic.

A force belonging to the Mozu finally rushed all over him.

Was it true that spiritual power is such a taste?

He finally felt... he finally felt it!

The ecstasy made his eyes bright, and even the beast-like light appeared on the beautiful face. Like him, there are all the skeletal people behind him.

Those beautiful people who used to lack the power of the Mozu, the spirit of the nuclear power, and the power of the hands, have finally gained the powerful power that belongs to them.

An old man who was squatting and had a clean spot appeared slowly at the door of the demon domain. The red eyes swept over the crowd, and then the chicken skin wrinkled and grinned: "Hey, the old body has been waiting for four thousand years, on the top. The successor to the gatekeepers was annihilated, and there was no glimpse of the beauty seats who could do this."

He took a cane and said with satisfaction: "Okay, okay, I am so good with the gods, it is very good. Good, good."

He finished, looking at the people who were falling apart, laughing with black and yellow teeth.

The old demon leaned over and gave way to the skeletal beauty seats. He shuddered and said: "Old body, welcome the kings to return home."

They are flooding behind them, but that is a matter of humanity, and what is it?

The teacher looked back and looked at the Chu-Ningning, who was struggling to resist the natural disasters. The district was meager manpower, and he wanted to go back to heaven.

Is this brave or stupid?

However, it is probably the stupidity of Chu Xiaoning, which once made his heart difficult. When he arrived, the teacher couldn't help but think of the situation when the elders of Yuheng supported him with his umbrella. At that time, they saw a squatting beggar at the bridge.

Chu Xi Ning casually glanced at him and waved his sleeves. The plaque was wrapped in a golden light and was put back into the grass.

"What is this for the elders?"

Chu night Ning no expression: "It blocks the way."

This reason is naturally lame, and the teacher smiled: "The elder is really kind. But when it rains, the ground is stuffy, you put it back into the soil, and in a short time it will still be drilled out, climb outside, and then block it. The way for the elders."

Chu’s footsteps were slightly stunned, and the smooth eyebrows seemed to have a shallow wrinkle.

"...this is never known." He glanced at the teacher and glanced. "You know quite a lot."

The teacher smiled a little slyly: "Is it a dragon, and I often use it for medicine. I have learned a little about their habits. I only know what these things are not."

The two of them continued to move forward. As a result, the teacher found that although he knew it, he would still go to "clean up" the small things that blocked the road. In the end, he was a little bit dumbfounded and he also helped.

Chu Xiaoning saw him holding a thick book in his arms, but he still barely bent over and said: "Why."

"They are blocking the path of the elders." The teacher looked back at him in the clear rain and dew. "The disciples let them learn a little."

Chu night Ning shook his head and walked over, and once again covered the blue-boiled paper umbrella at the top of the division: "Don't run around, it's wet."

The way back is not long or short, the two walked side by side, and there was always something wrong with not talking about anything.

The teacher asked Wen Wen: "Elder, are you always so good?"

"..."

Brown eyeballs turn down, Fengmu Weiyi.

There is no expression on the face of Chu Xiaoning: "Where is it."

The teacher, Xue Bing and Xue, was smart. At this time, it was also seen that the elders of Yu Heng were not so unpopular in the rumors. He smiled: "The elders know that some things are useless, but they still do it..."

Chu night Ning did not answer, walked silently forward.

Just when the teacher thought that he would not take care of himself again, Chu Jingning said: "When the road meets people, knowing that some money does not necessarily make it out of the predicament, will not give alms?"

"..."

"The road encounters the slaughter of the beast, knowing that it will be put back to the forest after the rescue, and it is still possible to re-enter the net soon after, will it not matter?"

The teacher fell off the soft ciliary feathers and said gently: "The disciples understand the meaning of the elders, thank the elders for teaching."

"..." He was so soft, Chu nightning was a little embarrassed, and he coughed aloud. "But this thing. It's really just a way out."

The teacher stunned and looked up at him with his face on his face, which was very cold, but the edges of his ears were a little red.

Suddenly I feel so cute.

So the teacher licked his lips, and his voice was like a wave: "The elders are so good. I must have some pity for the rest of the creatures."

"..."

After a pause, I suddenly asked: "Right, today, when I read something in the book, my disciples are puzzled, but there is no teacher to ask. Can the elders explain to the disciples?"

Finally, I don’t have to go to the polar world to talk about the problem of numbness. Chu night Ning was relieved and nodded, "You said."

"The moon and night medicines are all-encompassing, and many methods of cultivation make the disciples stunned. The most puzzling one is a holy medicine that quickly advances into the nucleus. After taking it, it can be-"

Chu night Ning's face did not know why it was dark, he interrupted him: "Do you want this medicine?"

"What do the elders know?"

"This drug was highly respected in the realm of cultivation in the early years, and the big and small sects will go to the medicinal sect for sale." Chu nightning squinted slightly. "How can I not know."

The teacher looked at the words and said: "The disciple is not interested in the drug, but seeing the materials needed in the drug guide has the flesh and blood of the skeletal beauty, and the heart is somewhat puzzled. I don't know if this beauty seat... beast?"

Chu nightning did not hesitate for a moment. He was stunned and replied with a solemn answer to the disciple who asked him.

"It's a man."

He didn't even say "counting people," but he said "it is a person" without thinking.

"..."

The teacher had not yet received the message, and Chu Yuening glanced at the lonely moon-medicine medicinal scroll he held in his arms, and lifted his hand into his palm.

"Elder?"

"The content of the drug alone in the moon is difficult to distinguish. It is not advisable to go to the school when you first start school. You can go to the library to borrow the writings of the elders of the wolf, or more appropriate."

The teacher bowed his head and said: "The bookstores of the bookstores, the disciples can only borrow those from the outer zone, and the inside of them must have the permission of the pro-masters..."

Chu night, Ning stunned, and thought that this child has been introductory for some time, but because of the low qualifications, even the most tolerant swearers are not willing to accept him.

In the slanting wind and drizzle, he solved Lin Daipei at his waist: "Hold."

"...!"

"The people in the library have asked, you can show me my tokens." Chu said, "I have a choice when reading books. Don't go wrong because you read the wrong book."

The teacher wanted to take over the jade with both hands, but there were too many volumes in his arms. One hand is really big, but I don’t know what to do. I’m a little red-faced, and Chu’s night is half-knee, and it’s only a little higher than the childish child. He dropped his long eyelashes and tied Yu Pei to his waist.

When doing all this, Chu’s look is very faint, and it seems to be the same as picking up the “blocking the road”.

It is impossible for another elder to lend his bookstore token to any unfamiliar disciple. This is the rule.

But Chu Xiaoning is obviously not a person who lives in the rules.

"Okay." To the teacher, Yu Yupei, he stood up again, and dropped the hand that was born because of the repair of the armor all the year round. "Go."

"..." The childish child took a deep breath.

He didn't know why he was taking a deep breath, but if he didn't suck, some emotion filled in his chest would probably make him cry.

In fact, it is very wronged.

Whether as a beauty seat or as a disciple with lack of spiritual power, he has never been treated fairly. In the past, he also felt that it didn't matter. Anyway, he was used to it. These people are nothing but ugly butchers in his eyes.

Can someone really stop and tell him that "the sphenoidal beauty is a person", and really someone has stopped, so he gave the token that the pro-disciplinary disciples could not necessarily get to him, just because he did not go wrong. That tempered heart, I do not know why it suddenly hurts.

I finally felt very wronged, and I have been too hard to work for a long time.

The teacher knows that in fact, he seems to be gentle and courteous, but that is only a mask that he created for himself after he saw the crisis.

After hiding in this mask, he used gentleness to defend himself and retreat with gentleness. He seemed to be amiable to everyone, but no one could get into his heart. His heart has been filled with the hatred of the sphenoidal beauty, and there will be no more warmth.

But when I went back that day and wrote a teacher's post, he outlined it, but it always brought some valuable truth.

After the letter was written, the bamboo pen with broken hair was put off, and the teacher looked at the lanterns that flowed into the pool.

He felt that his life, besides revenge and returning home, seemed to have a little more unexpected surprise. This kind of surprise may be dangerous for him. But at the time, he felt that there was a bit of tenderness that might not hurt, and could not change the biggest report in his heart.

At this moment, the teacher looked back at the "tenderness" that he once had, and he did not know what it was.

anger? sad?

It seems that it is more than that simple.

Different roads can't be done.

The teacher paused for a moment, or half a taunted sentence: "Master, you see. No matter who, in front of the destiny can not help but fight for a fight. You, me, man, devil, are same."

This sentence is very light, Chu night is standing at a high altitude, it is impossible to hear, but the teacher said, he felt a relief in his heart.

Then he led a thousand skeletal beauty seats and turned to the magnificent door of the magic domain.

Return home.

The old demon head of the janitor naturally walked in the forefront of the people, and this is the leader of this group of people. Therefore, he was very polite to the teacher, and he took a ritual after he entered the domain door.

"The son is a little slower."

"how?"

"The devil is classified into high and low grades according to the family's bloodlines. The son of the devil is returned to the township. He needs to test the source first and return to the ancestors."

The teacher said with no expression: "The skeletal beauty seats are not the mothers of Chen Shanggong? What are the good things to measure."

The old guards of the gatekeeper: "The mother of the family has been taken out of the demon, and after the son and the back of the family have returned to the demon world, they must arrange the households according to the mixed family of the other families in the lineage."

The teacher frowned, but it was too troublesome, but looking back at the night, the power of Chu was rather thin, and I don’t know how long it will last. And there were thousands of people waiting for him to enter the demon domain, and he nodded. "That's faster."

The old demon raised his hand and waved, and there was a scepter of the beast's first fang in his palm. He chanted the curse in his mouth, but saw a hundred red bands in the mouth of the beast, just like the brocade would be heavily wrapped.

"White, Cheng, Xie, Zhou..."

Each light strip has a shadow on it.

The teacher asked: "What is this?"

The old magic road: "The clan genealogy, which family and the son's bloodline are the most consistent, which family's light belt will ring to the son's wrist."

The teacher didn't say anything, and looked down at the colorful ribbons.

"Qin, Fei, Ouyang, Shangguan, Zhongli, Luo, Ye, Duan, Chu..."

The old devil mouth is not only lingering, but after a long time, there is still no satin belt, and his eyebrows are wrinkled up, and he looks up at the face of the teacher.

The teacher also looked at him calmly.

On the gaze, the old konjac smiled, and continued to speed up the curse and sing, squatting, and suddenly a red ribbon wrapped around the teacher's arm, the teacher raised his hand thoughtfully, thin Look at it: "Is this the root? Which surname?"

He looked around, but before he could clear the writing on it, the ribbon quickly became dark and black, and instantly became a powder and dust.

Teacher: "..."

The goalkeeper did not speak for a moment, stuck in the same place, and seemed to look at him incredulously.

The teacher slowly raised his gaze a few inches, but his heart actually had an answer, but he was still stunned and asked: "What?"

The old devil face leopard, wrinkled on the bridge of the nose, and shouted: "God!?!"

"..." The teacher slammed for a moment, snorted and slammed the grayish black stain on his wrist. "My father is indeed a descendant of the gods, but what about it, I have not done a half-inch Protoss in my life. It’s my duty to return to the hometown of the Mozu. I don’t have a bit of dirty blood on my body. You have to give me a hat of certain gods. That’s too—”

If you don’t speak, you will see that the old man in the gatekeeper is wrapped up in a black wind, forcing the teacher to step back.

The wind is gone, and the old devil has disappeared.

Appearing at the entrance to the Devil's Circle is a staggering, sly monster with a giant axe. The monster slammed the battle axe into the ground and blocked the skeletal beauty from going all out. He screamed in the sky and his voice was rough.

"Since the ancient gods and gods can not collude, Er and other ethnic groups are mixed with blood, dirty to the extreme!! The road to the road can not be effective, and the fast-moving animals wait for the animals to roll out of the demon domain - the magic gate is closed!"

With the sound of it, the left and right magic gates were shocked, and they really closed toward the center, and the originally built bridge of the ramp also began to collapse from the horrible sound of the avalanche from the direction of the dead and the dead! !

Chapter 307

"what happened?"

The beauty behind is not clear about the previous variables, but also stretched his neck and looked anxiously.

Although the breakwaters of the late Qing Dynasty were solid, they were just a mound before the Kyushu Wangyang. Seeing the nine songs enchantment began to break, there was a stream of water coming out from the vine leaves, those beautiful people can not help but messed up their hands and feet, shouting forward: "What happened? Why not let us in?"

Some people looked back and saw a sudden change in their face: "The road to the road collapsed!"

"what?!"

As a result, the beauty of the family was in a state of internal and external difficulties, the front door was closed, and the rear magic bridge collapsed. And under their feet is an endless abyss, where can they escape?

In an instant, a porridge porridge chaos, the teacher screamed: "All come to the front, don't panic!"

"Hua Zongshi..."

The sound reinforcement passed his voice to the end: "I said. I will take you home."

This is what he has been searching for for two generations, and his mother’s long-cherished wish. At this point, he will never give up again.

"But the master, where do we have the ability to resist the magic?"

The teacher squinted his eyes, and the light brown glutinous rice reflected the doomsday scene.

"I didn't have it before. But now?"

He said this, those panic-stricken beauty seats suddenly remembered, because the magic field opened up and rushed out of the breath, they have more or less restored some of the magical power of the Mozu.

The teacher said: "After you retreat to me, gather together to slow down the annihilation of the road to the road."

"What about the master?"

The teacher looked up and waved the axe shield to the front and said, "I will defeat him."

The voice fell, and the konjac had roared and rushed.

- "Master is careful!"

The teacher did not care, he never got such a turbulent spiritual flow, and this magical interest in his body made him go forward.

In fact, the skeletal family itself should be such a strong tribe, just because one person betrayed, it will be unfair in this fate for thousands of years...

There is hate in the shackles, igniting the flames, and throwing away the words.

The cockroach flashed, and the flame ball hit the magic door, a black mark.

"The traitor is willing to make a second!"

The teacher said with anger: "What kind of blood is flowing in my body? Is it my fault?! Because the blood of the mother is exiled, it is difficult to get rid of the nucleus. Because of the blood of the gods, the door is rejected. Besides, I can't return home - what have I done? What did the sphenoids do? How is it a traitor?"

That is only solemn and stubbornly repeated: "The traitor is daring to make times..."

Like the Buddha in the mouth of the monks.

It is like a golden body made of yellow clay.

It’s obviously something that hasn’t been traced, but it’s so logical.

In the sky, Chu nightning is trying to resist the torrent of floods. In the distance, the people in the realm of repairing have retreated to the intersection of two red dusts, where the Xuanwu enchantment was built.

In front of him, the teacher is fighting with the konjac.

Everyone has their own missions and has their own choices. They may have met with each other because of their interests, but at this moment they are unable to compete with each other for your life.

The fate of the penalty has finally come to a halt, people's faces are so similar -

I am humble. But don't want to let go.

"Guru! The road to the road is coming to an end!"

"We can't hold it..."

Some young beauty can't help but despair, and cover their faces.

They are crying, crying into the gale, crowded into the auricle of the teacher...

As if that year, his skinny body struck the icy stone door of Tianyin Pavilion.

When the door opened, he saw the father of the blood on his lips and the mother of the flesh and blood. He heard the mother screaming, and the * body slammed on the ground. She shouted at him with tears:

"Run! - Run!"

Run, leave here.

Run, go to a place where you can finally accommodate us.

With all the bullies who are being bullied. That is the lifelong wish of the mother to sell the soul, sell the flesh, and finally sacrifice the life.

Run it.

"So, where do I have to be sorry for the Mozu?"

This is his last question, and he has no intention of waiting for an answer.

However, seeing the teacher leaping and leaping, avoiding the heavy axe attack of the konjac, followed by the lightness of the body like a paper basket, and suddenly sinking on the knees, squatting on the shoulders of the konjac, clamping the brain that turned around.

The road under the foot was shaking more and more, and the bridges piled up by the chess pieces were quickly smashing, and the corpses fell into the endless abyss, and even the echoes of the landing could not be heard.

The teacher looked up and looked at him. His people had already been huddled together. These people forced out the magical power that they had gained in the body, trying to slow down the annihilation of this homecoming road.

They are pure blood beauty seats, the birds that bring their homage to themselves - and what about themselves?

There is a sound of bat flapping wings in the abyss.

On the palm of the teacher's hand, a sensation of coldness, a thorn and a thorny spurt, quenched the sharpness of the demon. He lifted it high and pointed it at the skull of the konjac -

Suddenly stabbed! !

.....

What is the bat?

Is it a bird flying in the sky? Or the beast that crouched in the dark night?

Maybe neither side will recognize him. His blood is dirty, and he can only be a traitor wherever he goes.

A few deaths. The konjac crashed into the ground! In an instant, it turned into a black and gray, and it was annihilated. But at this time, the closure of the magic door also reached the point where it was in jeopardy. The teacher jumped up and slammed into a high place, and temporarily supported the closed embossed stone door with flesh and blood.

He turned his head and turned to the bottom, and the beautiful people who were still waiting for the tears, did not breathe: "What are you doing?? Run!!"

Run...

"Run!" The screams of Huagui before his death came through the clouds, and for twenty years, he still broke his heart. "A Nan, run!"

He closed his eyes and could clearly see that her arm was torn open, the bones of her legs and feet were interrupted, and she struggled in the pool of blood, fighting for the beastly beast. She slammed her husband’s legs and feet. In order to give birth to a child.

"Run!!!! Run!! Don't look back! Don't come back!!! Ah-!!!!!"

The man stepped on his foot and her face was broken.

At the last minute, she tried her best: "Run..."

Slamming.

Throat pipe break...

The sergeant clenched his teeth, poured the magical body into his body, and the bones rang, but he still tried to stay between the door and the door, so that the magic domain would not be closed.

He looked down, sweat oozing out of his forehead, his lips were smashed, and blood flowed out. He was trembled all over his body, and his bones and muscles were crushed. Although the closure of the magic door slowed down, but the strength did not relax at all, it was so intimate and indifferent to exert high pressure on the flesh and blood.

One inch, two inches... one foot... two feet...

The blue veins burst and the cheeks are red.

But still looking at the crowds of people who are flustered, hoarse and hoarse: "Run..."

Faster, faster.

I said that we want to let us go home. Even if the * people are full of blood, the people will be deceived and ruined by the ancestors. I have done everything, and for this road, I have done everything.

But I am not a traitor.

The bones seem to be misplaced, they must be crushed, but they still hold the huge door of the great and unparalleled - really ridiculous, ants squatting, eucalyptus.

At this time, suddenly heard a loud bang!

The teacher barely lifted his sweaty face and looked out from the wet eyelashes. He saw that Chu Ning was hit by the waves of the sky. The wall and the wall of the nine songs were broken. The master fell from the sky, and the * that was struggling to support the land collapsed.

He saw with his own eyes that Chu Xiaoning was hit into the water by a huge wave.

"Master respect..."

The wall collapsed and the floods were no longer blocked. The road to the two worlds was swept by the smashing of the bamboo, and the buildings in the mountains were filled and filled with gully and empty valleys. It’s just a moment, everything is sinking in the wind.

The world is no longer yesterday.

The Bohai Sea has become a mulberry field.

In this case, the weight of the magic door actually increased and the number was high. The teacher only felt that the wrong bones were reinforced, the spiritual power was overdrawn, and a blood was smashed out.

He looked down at the bottom, and the last dozen people didn't have time to go.

I don't know where it came from, he screamed, his eyes cracked, his neck and meridians burst, and his hands and feet tried to block the door that was about to close.

"Hua Zongshi!!"

The beauty seats who passed the bounds did not go far, and they all gathered to look at him below, but the teacher could not figure out their faces at this time. His eyes were groggy and everything was embarrassing.

The last eight...five...three...

The face that was distorted by pain, retaliatoryly opened the smile of the eagerness and enmity, the blood in the mouth, the red teeth.

What is the fate of the world, the devil and the devil, what is stopping me from returning, and the former work is exhausted -

Not yet... the enemy is not...

A heart is as hard as iron.

This stubbornness is hard to move.

the last one……

"run……"

The teacher smiled indulgently. He said that you can't squat the tree. As long as the heart is hard, the ant can also break the levee.

In the end, did he still do it?

"砰"!

The door of the magic domain is closed, and the eyes are red and black, the red is the blood, the black is the sky. The last sound that the bat in this gap heard in the world is a "squeaky" sound.

The creeps are stunned.

Is the fragmentation of the Tianling cover?

When I was young, the echo of the mother’s neck was broken...

"Hua Zongshi! Master!" The crying of the sphenoidal family was blocked in another world with the demon gate.

The door of the magic domain is bloody, and there are cracks in the cracks of Hua Binan... But then a shocking wave hits, and the road of billions of bones is washed away without any trace.

When the tide passed, the magic door disappeared.

Only the dead and the dead are caught in the waves of the sea, the towers of the sky are falling, the red lotus water is annihilated, and the bricks of the Danxin Temple are swallowed up.

Chu night Ning coughed a few mouthfuls of water, several times to call Huai Sha Yu Jian out, but they could not succeed because of the spiritual power.

It was also a wave of waves, a powerful water pressure hitting Chu’s chest, wrapped in a piece of broken driftwood, and he was slammed into the depths of the sea, painfully rubbing his eyebrows, breathing too... Can't catch any straw to save lives...

The white dress was inviting, and the blue silk was scattered. He continued to sink and sink in the water. The halo in front of him disappeared slowly, and he could not breathe, and he gradually felt the feeling of the soul.

Xue Meng, they should have retreated to the Xuanwu enchantment.

After that, will they make a mistake?

There is also ink burning...

Ink burning.....

He blinked slowly, in the cold water, the sky was far away, and a few tiny bubbles floated from the lips. He squinted face up, probably suffocating and dying, and he had an illusion.

He saw an ink-colored figure squid-like to him, close enough to see the familiar eyebrows, black to purple sputum, and even the scars on his face.

It was the trace left after his unsuccessful rupture.

Chu night is so close to the eyes, it is really too much to worry about. So in the end, even the illusion before death is tormenting him.

He is hoarse: "I'm sorry..."

The lips and teeth open and close, but only the tiny bubbles.

Suddenly, one hand slammed him hard. He did not react, and he fell into a solid and broad arms. The chest was so cold that there was no one-and-a-half-point warmth, but even the sea seemed to be steamed by the strong wildness of the man.

"Chu night Ning."

He vaguely heard someone calling him.

"Late Ning!"

In the scattered consciousness, some people licked their lips, and the cool lips opened and joined with a glimpse of spiritual power.

"No return, call!"

At the same time, a secluded brilliance came from the sea, and the man grabbed it. The strange knife carried them at the speed of the light and flew toward the surface of the water. Only in a moment, "哗啦", they broke through the water, Chu night Ning was soaked, he was naturally chilly, dip in the cold water, shivering, lips are blue, no blood, big mouth Breathing in a big mouth.

After breathing for a while, I reacted to what happened just now.

He looked up slyly, and he did not lean on a pair of deep, moist eyes, no longer confused and confused, but clear and clear.

The ink burned slightly, and the lips were slightly elastic and slightly moist. His black clothes were soaked, and his muscles were tight on his chest. He looked down at Chu Yuning and did not speak.

Who is this?

Is it a living or a living person?

Is it a stepper, or a master of ink?

Chu night Ning throat blocked, but also could not make a sound, the throat was agitated for a long while, just wanted to open, but at this time just a drop of brackish sea water slipped down the forehead and broke into the eyelids.

He closed his eyes at once and his eyes were red.

That is, the moment he closed his eyes, the man held him in the water, and the cool lips were attached to his forehead.

"It is late for this seat."

"..."

"Hua Bi Nan Shi's shackles were unlocked, and no one can control this seat again." He kissed his forehead and his eyelashes, because he saved the people too fast and still had some breathing.

Stepping on the fairy looking at the eyes of Chu Evening slowly opened again, raising his hand and rubbing the hair of Chu’s late night, and then looking up to the flood of the world.

His voice is low and sorrowful, half awkward:

"Go. Send you back to your world."

Chapter 308

Before the time of life and death, the Xuanwu enchantment has been opened. This is the last line of defense. Once the tide breaks through here, there is another world behind it.

"The red dust is orderly, and if the order is broken, the punishment will come, and all will be returned to Hongmeng."

—— According to the warnings of ancient books, once the door of life and death is torn to an unreversible level, the flood will flood the two worlds, and everything will be at the beginning.

All of this was too sudden for the monks who were present. They were caught unprepared. Many people didn’t know what else to do except crying.

It is no wonder that before the sudden end of the day, how many more people can take it?

But for the Mei brothers who have already experienced the era of the immortal, and Xue Meng, who is no longer young, they have already prepared.

Mei Hanxue said: "The main attack and healing are back, returning to the other side of the life and death door. The majors are coming out, and I will go to the basaltic enchantment."

Someone asked: "What are you going to do?"

"Fixed defense."

Everyone looked at the basaltic enchantment that was going through the sky, and then looked at the torrent of the rushing to the distance, and could not help but worry.

There was a female repairer who asked: "Is this... can you stop it?"

Mei Hanxue looked back and saw this woman look beautiful, so she smiled with her eyes open. This guy is really a game in the world to see through life and death, but life is hanging on the line, but still have a leisurely teasing: "Hey, can't stop saying bad, but not sure will die, girl afraid not afraid?"

"..."

Mei Hanxue came cold with a cold face: "When is it, how can I still talk."

"Just because of this time, I have to talk about it, or I have done a ghost, go to the local government to find a ghost girl?"

This is the first time that the Mei family brothers appeared in front of everyone - but when they saw him, their elder brother was cold and frosty, and his younger brother Wen Ru was brilliant. The woman couldn’t help but be amazed, but she couldn’t return to God for a long time: "You... You are?"

Mei Hanxue smiled and blinked at her: "How, is it still I look good?"

The woman's mouth is closed, and she will only stay: "You..."

I was about to look at the two people again. The man with the refrigerated ice cave had already turned his back, and the clothes fluttered to the edge of time and space, and the sound was added to the public:

"After the attack, the defensive move forward. Please fast."

Someone asked: "Even if we use the Xuanwu enchantment to temporarily block the flood, but it is also a plan to slow down, can't always block it like this?"

"Yeah, if this torrent has not been retired?"

Mei Hanxue shook his head and said: "Half people are blocking the flood, and half are closing the door to death."

"..." It is clear that there are thousands of people gathered here, but in an instant they are silent.

Close the door to life?

Now almost all of the cockroaches have been torn and smashed, and looking at the cracks in time and space is like the end of the sea. The two time and space have completely merged and merged. How is it closed?

As if to see the doubts of everyone, Mei Hanxue said: "Wan Tao returns to the curse."

The young Xue Lu, who stood in the crowd, stunned. He only felt that the curse couldn’t be said, and he was thinking about it. He suddenly heard the elders next to him: "This is not the one that Yu Heng once created... the curse? ”

He mentioned that the people of Bitanzhuang also reacted.

Once in the town of Choi Butterfly, Li Wuxin took a group of disciples to go to death and begging to say. After some misunderstandings, Chu night Ning coldly told the people that the founder of "Wan Tao's return to the curse" was his own.

Mei Hanxue said: "Wantao returns to the waves, you can reverse the spells that have been displayed."

Someone was shocked: "Is that big?"

"Of course, it’s impossible to use one person." Mei Hanxue said, "So you want to be united."

Everyone, look at me, I look at you, after all face to face, but many people hesitated to retreat to the back of life and death.

"I can't do it, I can't resist the flood."

"Me too, I am the least good at defensive enchantment."

No one is a fool, they all know to stop the danger of basaltic enchantment, and it is easy to close the door. For a time, although there were death and death, some people from the Snow Palace, and some young people from other martial arts volunteered to come out, many monks also shrank their necks and squeezed them into the cracks.

Mei Hanxue stared at the tortoise-necked tortoises, and the original bad looks became more and more gloomy: "I want to hide in the rear and be steady, who is blocking the front?"

This is often the case, for example, when the two armies confront each other and fight for death. Knowing that the striker fell, he could not live alone, but still eager to be assigned to the back.

Just stalemate, I heard Jiang said: "I am coming."

The monks of the lonely moon night saw the head and went. After the hope, a large group of people came to the side of the Xuanwu enchantment. The medicinal sect was the weakest of the top ten sects. When they went out, it was like raising their hands to those who were afraid of death.

"...I also know a little about it, I can make a contribution."

After reading this sentence, Bitingzhuang’s Yan Ming also walked to the forefront, standing silently with a sword.

There are a lot more people in the land, although it is far from enough, but seeing the first wave of the tide is approaching, they have no time to wait.

"Come faster! Ziming, you go to the rear Shi Wantao to return to the curse. Others and me go to the Xuanwu enchantment before preparing to resist." Mei Hanxue said this sentence, jumped up and came to Pang Shuo's enchanting enchantment Before, put the palm of your hand up.

"Array open!"

This is not only his own, but soon, a pair of palms are attached to the last barrier between the red dust, the blue stream, the blue stream, the red stream... countless rays meet here A barrier that traverses the heavens and the earth.

Slowly, the totem of a snake body tortoise slowly illuminates in the night, and it ends at the ground, and the first head is nine feet, which is the Xuanwu guardian curse printed by the power of the people.

That is to say, at this time, the turbulent waves of the first phoenix rushed from the front, and the momentum was far better than the horses galloping, and the Yellow River entered the sea.

Everyone stretched to the extreme, staring at the fading yellow waterline.

"Ready, come -"

Almost the voice just fell, a thousand-foot-high wave has swallowed the tide to them! Suddenly splashes!

"Support!"

This torrent of anger is like a beast. Even if there is a basaltic enchantment as a defense, there is still a stream of water that crushes the weak spiritual power, and the arrow is sprayed in like a force. There are quite a few weaker monks who can't support this powerful force. Only the first wave head, dozens of people will collapse and swear.

Jiang Yan turned back and said: "More people!"

However, seeing this situation, the more dare to go forward.

At this time, Xue Meng had already finished the rune of Wan Tao's returning curse. He slammed into the air, and tens of thousands of Thunder's light flashed after the spell, and scattered all the way to life and death.

Like the striker blocking the flood, the rear monks also began to pay attention to Wan Tao's return to the wave, trying to close the crack that traversed the two time and space. But this crack is too big, and I can't see whether the edge is shrinking at the moment. Many people are actually extremely stunned.

The progress in the rear is slow, but the front is already stretched.

Another big wave was shot, more monks fell to the ground and could not support. The cracks in the Xuanwu enchantment are getting bigger and bigger, and the water column is rushing into it. Jiang Yan’s clothes are soaked quickly.

"It’s not going to go on like this." Mei Hanxue said, "The support will not be closed, and the Xuanwu enchantment should be broken."

"..."

At this moment, they suddenly heard the rumbling hooves behind them. Turn around, but see a group of scattered people and civilians from afar. The monk Yu Jian, the civilian horse, the two people headed, a black robe, the eyebrows are very beautiful, it is the leaves of the past.

There is also a milf, the sword is twisted, and the red belt is covered with red eyes. It is full of dazzling gold ornaments, but it is Sun Sanniang, the island owner of Feihua Island.

The two people are rolling in the dust, and they don’t know how many people are brought. Maybe they are bringing the women and children who have taken refuge.

The leaves have forgotten from the sword and leaped lightly. Emei said: "I have seen the movements in the long distance, and I heard about it on the road."

Her eyes crossed the crowd and fell to the precarious Xuanwu enchantment. Then I swept the monks who were clear-minded and strong, but did not want to go forward.

There are brave warriors in this world, there will be strong cowards, and the human body and mind are not necessarily matched.

Ye forgets that he hates iron and does not become steel. He gnaws his teeth: "...there is nothing to do, a heart is not as good as the people!" She dropped this sentence and sneaked it to Jiang Yan, and covered her hand. .

In addition to her, together with the scattered repairs, even civilians, regardless of their meager ability, they are eager to go forward - see this situation, Rao is some people's face is thicker, but also Stayed awkward.

"I... I will go too."

"Forget it, is it not dead? I will go too!"

"And I still have me!"

More and more people gathered in front of the Xuanwu enchantment, and the turtle-snakes that had been faintly lightened again became bright and shining.

The third wave... the fourth wave...

People fight with the sky, people and life fight.

Suddenly a girl shouted: "Look!! Is there the edge of life and death?!"

The sound is like a sigh, everyone is a spirit, they are pointing in the direction that she is pointing at. Sure enough, on the edge of the distant Scorpio, I can see that the black line is constantly retracting, although the speed is very slow, but it is indeed gathering. .

When I was excited, I was so excited that I was crying: "Fast! It’s faster! It’s true! It’s really close!”

Seeing this vivid vitality, almost every pair of eyes has ignited the light of survival. Their palms are in harmony, and they continue to gather power to the center of Wan Tao's returning curse. In exchange for the time and space, the door is slowly restored.

However, the power of heaven and earth is finally surviving, even though there are already thousands of people who are enemies at this time, they will infuse their spiritual strength into the guardian enchantment, and they will not be able to compete with the power of God.

People like micro ants are too small...

As another wave of snow fell, the slamming sound shook, and a lightning-like crack appeared in the center of the Xuanwu enchantment. The cracks had fallen from the zenith to the ground, and there were silky water droplets coming in behind.

All the faces are white, they all know that if this mark breaks, it will be -

"boom!!!"

Not finished, the ground cracked!

A gap was broken, and the rivers and rivers came to the fore. The angry waves of water drowned people’s screams, and many people were rushed to fall down.

"what!!"

"Help!"

The flooded water was like a torrential rain. Xue Meng stood in front of the life and death facade and looked back at the scene before the basaltic enchantment. He clenched his teeth and said to everyone: "Fur faster!"

As he spoke, he suddenly saw a man rushing toward himself, holding a silver-stained sword in his hand. Not someone else, it is the self when you were young.

He clasped the shoulders of the young Xue Meng, and his long eyebrows angered: "Go back! You will not defend the battle."

Young Xue Meng bit his teeth: "I want to return the sword to that person."

"Who?"

Young Xue Meng raised his hand and pointed at the lack of God Wusuke, who was already bloodless but still doing his best.

"...Ginger night sinking? How do you have his sword?"

Young Xue Meng said: "You don't know?"

Xue Meng shook his head: "I don't know him. He died very early in our time."

When he said this, his eyes were awkward. He has been displaced for so long, and he is still alive for everyone, and the age of the war has not been remembered.

However, Xue Meng thought for a while, or looked at Jiang Yan's back and said: "When I stepped on Xianjun, he asked him to offer a secret of the moonlight night. The first thing recorded here is the medicine of the medicine. It is powerful, but it is a evil door. For example, take the sphenoid bone beauty refining medicine, such as yin and yang double repair longevity."

"..." noticed that the young Xue Meng heard the double longevity technique and his face became very ugly. He couldn't help but ask, "What happened to you?"

Youth Road: "Nothing....and then?"

"Jiang Yan did not want to. He said that the drug sacred volume is a demon martyrdom, since the day he took over the head, has already paid a torch."

"..."

"Tai Xianjun was furious and forced him to rewrite one. He naturally did not agree, and he was eventually killed." Xue Meng closed his eyes. "Jiang Ye Shen is a hero. I am very happy to see him in another world." Alive."

When I saw the youth, I didn’t speak. Xue Meng said: "You haven’t answered me yet. How can you have his sword?"

The young Xue Meng’s lips were stunned. I didn’t know what to say for a while. After a long while, I just said that “I...” was followed by a loud noise, which made the bones numb and cold.

They turned back slyly, but saw that the lightning crack had been stretched to the extreme, and both the leaves and the plums were falling, and Jiang Yan was still stiff, but he had coughed up a blood.

Young Xue Meng lost his voice: "Ginger..."

What is ginger?

Still calling him Jiang Yan?

Or is Jiang's head?

One broke between the lips and teeth, he ran over and handed the snow phoenix to Jiang Yan.

"...Go back!" Jiang Yan looked up at him, and his white face became more and more ugly. He frowned and pushed his gods together with Xue Meng. "Go back to the crack and don't mess!"

After that, it was a * sputum.

"Ginger night sink!!"

Hearing his own words, Jiang Yan coughed a few times, gasping back, his eyes fierce and complicated: "Mom... who allowed you to call me like this?"

"..."

"My name, my word, is not what you should call." Lips and blushing, Jiang Yan's meridian bursts, in the torrential rain that filled the flood, do their best to maintain the enchantment.

But I still don't forget to see him as I saw it.

"Good, no rules!"

The screaming sounds of the horrible broken sounds followed. Xue Meng didn't even have time to talk, and he didn't have time to react. He was slammed to the rear by the snow phoenix. Then he saw that the lightning-like gap was suddenly cracking. This time it was no longer a small crack, but a whole piece of collapse. rupture.

Rivers are instantly poured!

People standing behind the door to life and death from the scalp to the soles of the feet.

It’s over.

The end of the day...the end of the day...all are in the wild...

Some people don't even make a contribution to Wan Tao's return to the curse. They kneel down and cry like the most primitive servants before the punishment. They pray for the gods.

Some people yelled at the sky and yelled at the land.

ended.

However at this time! In the midst of turbulent rushing, suddenly a blue brilliance falls!

"what happened?"

"what!"

A little wind and grass can make people in desperate shudder, let alone such a shocking movement. They looked up, but when they saw a man in a high gold armor, the sword of the black gold armor came close, and he could see that his body was covered with sores, and it seemed to have been cut by thousands of sharp knives. But even so, people can still see the shadow of his former handsome in his appearance.

"...is it...ink...burning?"

"It's the devil!"

"Mom, what is the devil, it is clearly the master of Mo!!" The horses of the Taoyuan Mountain Villa immediately became excited, because even a fool can see that the ink is burning to save them, not to add fuel to the fire. .

And with him, there is a long time no trace of the Beidou Xianzun Chu nightning.

"Chu Zongshi!!!"

The founder of Wan Tao's return to the waves, the master of the first enchantment in the world.

Like their own heads, the monks in Taotao Mountain Villa are most afraid of death, and they are extremely excited. They are the first to be ecstatic, and they danced and said: "Save! Save!"

The ink burns with the soft wind, the robes are hunting, and the body is wrapped in a hard leather. He flew straight to the Xuanwu enchantment and jumped down and settled in the waves.

"Hell, people!"

As he screamed, countless willows rose to the ground, and the leaves that were shot down in the water waves were forgotten, Sun Sanniang, and the gloomy face. He wrapped all these seriously injured people in the vine leaves and sent them to the rear. Then I turned back and said:

"The replacement is rolling up! The defendant is not injured?!" He glanced at Jiang Yan, and he became more and more angry and violent. "How come the healing masters are doing this kind of thing?! Are you dead?! ”

At the rear, those savage and savage monks were smashed by the gray face, and the dog was bloody.

Stepping Xianjun slammed hard, but saw a glaring brilliance splashing out from his palm, and then spread the enchantment in front of him. He gnashed his teeth and said: "Who is * again, waiting to finish the drizzle, this one is a bit Crush your head!"

"..." Everyone looks at each other.

"get out!!"

I don't know how terrible deterrence this person is, or perhaps a desperate death. Many people who are greedy and fearful of death want to open before the end of the day. Even the most ruthless Jiangdongtang remnant has crossed the border of life and death. And then few people shirked. A group of monks came to step behind Xian Xianjun, and a pair of hands were pressed against the Xuanwu enchantment.

The original faltering enchantment restored the aura of light, because the concerted efforts of the people, because of the injection of the first force of the human world, became indestructible for a while, exuding an extremely powerful momentum.

"哗-"

Seeing a wave of high tides, such as the whirlwind tsunami rushing, some people are naturally timid after all, seeing such a situation can not help but swallow, two stations stand.

Stepping on the sinister sinister road:

"Don't leave one. Dare to give it a try."

"..."

"Whoever flees away. This seat lets you not see the sun after tonight."

Chapter 309

He has no joke at all, nor is it a threat at all. He is stating a fact, a condition he has thrown out.

For a moment, no one really dared to evacuate, but had to bite the scalp, and then feared to close his eyes and concentrate on the spirit.

Kilometers - 100 meters...

Nearly...

boom!

The waves were hit, the eardrums trembled, and the heavens and the earth smashed, as if the billions of people had thrown the hammer, the sun and the moon were shattered in this huge wave. Stepping on the immortal arm, the blue muscles are straight and the silver teeth are broken.

Behind him, Chu Yuening came to the intersection of time and space, and took a picture of Xue Meng, who had been struggling to maintain Wan Tao's return.

Xue Meng turned back and had a very calm face.

Although there were some wrinkles in the corners of his eyes, when he looked at the late night, he looked as if he was a teenager.

"Master."

Chu night Ning looked at him: "I am coming."

I saw a light from the sky, the nine songs are now in the world, the night of the night, the wind is standing, the strings are smashing, and the edge of the empty and dead door is gathered at the amazing speed visible to the naked eye.

"Returned." He said to the crowd while he was listening to the piano. "All come behind me."

Escape this kind of thing, you don't have to say the second time, but this time most people, even those who have been greedy and fearful of death, have not rushed to fight. Some people have helped the seriously injured companions. Some people have picked up some wounded people who have never seen them before, and slowly walked back.

The edge of the crack in the time and space is near the Kunlun Mountains. They walked to the Kunlun Mountain Road and many people no longer retired.

They stood there and watched the figure of Chu night standing in front of Yu Xueyuan, flying wide sleeves, and the sound of the piano continued...

Who said that the cultivation of immortals is to have the body of immortality for thousands of years, and to destroy the power of heaven and earth?

Some people, even if they live for 10,000 years, are just a stone. Some people even left the world with a rush of flowers.

At this moment, in front of the time and space, there is not a fairy, with his flesh and blood, the ten fingers of the Sanskrit, to cross this red dust, to prove its own immortality.

There was snow falling in the sky and falling on the shoulders.

Someone noticed something and was taken aback: "Hey? This is not snow..."

It is the sensation of Yandi Shenmu in the East Sea. The ancient sea otter at the beginning of Hongmeng blossomed. Unlike other flowers, it exudes extremely rich fragrance. The snow-like crystal petals have been swaying from the end of the world.

The petals are raised, the clouds are sweeping away, and the light colors of the fragrant Philippine are like a stream of stars, flocking to the edge of the door to life and death, helping the healing of the earth...

Among the petals of this flying dance, many monks remembered a legend: the last time the heavens and the earth would fall, it was Shennong who planted the Emperor Shenmu and saved the fallen man. Time flies, to this day, Fuxi has abandoned the world, the son-in-law has been sleeping, and Yan Emperor has not seen the Holy Land, but Shenmu is always there.

He is a coveted tree, still in the town of Kyushu.

Seeing that the time and space cracks are getting smaller and smaller, stepping on the fairy looks back and looks at the human beings around him: "Retreating. If the death is not closed, they will all pick up and roll back."

Not everyone has immediately fled and evacuated. Some people said they could support it. Some people said they wanted to fight until the last moment.

Who is not the blood of a hero in his bones?

Even if it is buried in the depths of the years and life, there will always be a day of boiling and splashing.

Stepping on the fairy is a smile: "Let you come or not, let you go, don't go to the seat to find the gas, is it? Fast roll!"

Those talents have begun to withdraw.

Suddenly heard a tremble: "Im... you..."

Stepping on the fairy, he turned his head slowly. Seeing the dying rain, an old man squats in the distance and looks at himself.

"...Liu Gong?"

Perhaps it was a dazzling look. He actually felt that the old man was looking at his own eyes and wrapped up with grief and pity that could not be explained. Just like a father, watching his own child.

It’s ridiculous.

With the tens of courage of the old slave, this old guy should not dare to take the cruel and fierce singer as the child. However, at this time, Teng Xianjun suddenly vaguely remembered that the old guy had lost his son in the war in the year of serving in his emperor's palace.

If the kid is still alive, he should be about the same size as him.

Stepping Xian closed his eyes and said: "This is the way to do this, and naturally the last one leaves. You don't have to worry."

"Emperor..."

"Let's go." Stepping Xianjun turned his eyes away from the old man, "Going to another world."

"..."

"Maybe in that world, your son is still not dead." He grinned a little, revealing pointed teeth and deep dimples. "Get off the old Liu. Let him accompany him."

The time and space of life and death are constantly shrinking. The people before the basaltic enchantment are also retracing in turn. Every time a defensive is removed, the force that the sacred priest will exert on the basaltic enchantment will be greater. When there are only a hundred people left. In front of the vast sea, there was another wave of turbulence, rolling from the distance to the horizon.

Stepping on the fairy, he narrowed his eyes and sighed after the estimate: "Everyone is closing his hands and passing through the door."

At this time, the time and space cracks have shrunk to the height and width of a normal gate. Seeing a new round of waves coming, the remaining monks finally withdrew their hands, one by one through the crack, back to another world, and returned to the Kunlun Snowfield. .

However, the speed of the huge waves is too fast. Most people have not had time to cross the border. The wave has already slammed on the Xuanwu enchantment.

At this time, the enchantment relied only on the support of stepping Xianjun. Rao was his talent and superb. At this time, it was already the force of the Millennium, and he could not help but scream, and his face showed painful color.

The big waves are like the Yuzhang winds, the whales break the waves, and the depths of Wang Yang seem to have dragon girls dancing and shaking the ground.

Someone hesitated at the junction of the life and death gate: "Mo Zongshi..."

Stepping on the name of the fairy, but suddenly angry, he screamed: "Ink your head! Rolling does not roll? Rolling!"

The other party did not know where it touched his pain, and immediately dared not to scream again, bowed his head and passed the threshold of life and death. The remaining monks also followed the one-on-one, and the life and death gates became smaller and smaller. However, the Xuanwu enchantment was already on the verge of breaking down at this time. Stepping back to Xianjun, I saw that there were still more than ten monks who had not yet had time to enter. He couldn't help but scream, and the scarred hands continued to cover the enchantment membrane.

But he still can't hold it.

Although he is the first force in the human world, but in the end it is just a one-man, how to confront the heavens and the earth.

The grate is ringing.

"The enchantment is going to be broken!"

Stepping on the monarch before the flood of the sky, the head did not return to the ground and those who had not evacuated angered.

"Get some quick!"

Black blood stains between the lips and teeth, two rows of long eyelashes falling down, stepping on the fairy to look at his left foot - is slowly being eroded, turned into a little ash...

He sneered, no fear.

He is a living dead who is rebuilt by the teacher. As long as the teacher is dead, his body can't be supported for too long, and it will soon be turned into ashes.

He can argue with fate before ashing this time, he feels enough.

just……

Looking back, Chu’s figure was blurred after the death of time and space, and the cracks were still shrinking. The last four or five people were still crowding. In addition, Xuemeng and Meijia brothers of this era did not cross the border.

The people who died in life couldn’t help but go forward and said, "Less Lord!"

Xue Meng coughed and pointed at himself when he was young: "Your young master is that one, not me."

Young Xue Meng: "..."

"A mountain can't accommodate two tigers. How can a world have two Xuemeng? You don't have a mess." Xue Meng smiled, his eyes were faint and wrinkled. "I didn't belong to you this world, and I can't stay strong. I can do this now." The two worlds have made the last force, and their wish is gone. Not to mention that I have been tired for too long and I have long wanted to rest."

He turned his back and walked in the direction of Xuanwu enchantment. At this time, the enchantment had cracked seven seven eight eight, and there were cracks in the cracks everywhere.

He walked to the side of stepping Xianjun, looked at the man in a complicated look, opened his mouth and seemed to want to say something.

But in the end, I still can't say it.

"Little Lord!"

"Xue Shaozhu!"

The person behind him is calling him, but what about it? Even in this era, his father or mother is not there.

What's more, his life was originally unrelated to another red dust. If he stayed forcibly, he did not know how to behave himself.

Xue Meng sighed, raising his hand and licking his neck, his neck suddenly jumped, and suddenly grinned.

This is how old it is, and sometimes it is always dizzy and heart-wrenching. However, when he is older, he also has the advantage of being old. For example, when he is dizzy, the world is not black. Many times he can see the figure of Xue Zhengyi, Mrs. Wang’s smile.

Many times he can see the three little guys in his youth, surrounded by a white fairy, "Sister, Master."

These are the things that belong to him, and no one can take it away.

"I am visiting the deceased half-ghost..." He took a sigh of pain and sorrow, as if he was welcoming his old friend. When everyone did not respond, he passed through the Xuanwu crack and invested in the tide of the waves.

He belongs to this red dust, even if it is fragmented, and the world is gone, he feels that he should return here.

He didn't feel much pain, but it was like sleeping in a drunk.

I hope to increase the life and Zhou Gong.

Let the king hold the wine and go back.

It’s very fast. He Xue Ziming has been bitter for more than ten years, and he has to be fulfilled and relieved.

Everyone died, and after a while, the disciples of the dead and the dead were all degraded and silent. The people in the palace of the Snow Palace suddenly reacted to what happened. Many people suddenly changed their faces and looked at the Meijia brothers.

"Master! Come over, don't be there..."

"Come back soon... come back..."

"Hey, don't come back, don't come back." Mei Hanxue smiled and waved at them behind the enchantment. "A plum with snow can harm half of the beauty of the real world. If there are two me in this world." Isn't it a mess? In order to pity the girls in the half of the country, I am going to the brothers. The rivers and lakes will meet again."

Mei Hanxue stood next to his younger brother, looking at the Kunlun white snow that had not been seen for a long time, and the holy mountain of Yanshimen. He had a correct ceremony for the Ming Yuelou, who had already passed away in his own time: "Disciple Mei Hanxue, today’s worshipper door."

The two seem to be easy to say, but everyone knows that their minds are already shaken.

Ming Yuelou closed his eyes and sighed into the wind.

Mei family brothers supported the Xuanwu enchantment, watching the last Guardian monk squeezed into the crack of the life and death door, the younger brother smiled, his brother nodded, the shoulders of the two men have been completed, this life does not live up to grace, no Live up to your best friends and live up to the world. In the face of the torrent of floods, they were relieved, and they plunged into the sea. A wave, their figure disappeared like the petals of plum in the water.

At this point, all the people have retired to the time and space, or to the endless sea of the sea.

At this time, the sound of the piano was annihilated.

Chu Xiaoning raised his eyes, and the nine songs turned into a golden light and returned to his bones. On the Kunlun snowfield, he hunted in white and turned his back to everyone.

No one knew what he was going to do.

"There is still a last crack." Chu night Ning Dao, he slightly turned his face, windy, boasting his soft clothes and dark hair.

"After I left, the kings closed them up to protect the world."

"..."

A few silences, some people reacted and shouted: "Guru!!"

"Chu Zongshi!"

Xue Meng is almost cold and erect, squatting from the snow in Kunlun: "Master!! Master!!!!!" But the snowy road is too slippery, he rushed and rushed to the ground. A pair of black and moist like a beast's eyelids panicked and looked at the night.

"Master respect..."

Hearing his voice, Chu nightning turned back.

His dark eyes looked at him, and finally Chu night said: "...sorry."

Sorry for what?

Xue Meng's pupil contracted with fear, and the Tianling cover seemed to be drilled. Someone was pouring snow and ice into his skull.

Sorry for what? ! Sorry for his relationship with ink burning? Sorry for the deception? Still for...

The throat is twitching and the spit is swallowing.

Still for...

"Don't! You don't want to go!" Xue Meng finally collapsed. He was kneeling on the snowfield and burst into tears. "You don't want to go! Why are you doing this... Why do you want to leave me alone... Why is there only? I am alone!!!"

Tears continued to follow his * face and smashed out the white marks.

The tearing of the tearing heart seemed to be dug out of the throat and blood, as if the liver and gallbladder were broken and the flesh and blood were blurred.

"Don't leave me... come back! Come back!"

He beasted in general, bowed and squatted in the snow, and the snow was silent around him. He seemed to be a person who was crushed into pieces by the snow.

I can't stand anymore.

"Please, come back..."

What else do I have?

father. mother. brother. friend.

Lianlong City is broken.

come back.

Don't take my last spine.

Master...I beg you...

However, Xue Meng did not know that Chu Xiaoning was already dead.

A person, being placed on the altar, is too heavy to be able to breathe.

He looked at his lover in his arms.

He personally dismembered the lover.

He must face the sword of the old man.

Only one of these things is enough to hollow out the heart, not to mention that he has experienced it all. He can no longer return.

- I tried to make you alive.

So now, can you let me be selfish and let me die with him?

Chu nightning finally stepped into the space and time, from the Kunlun snowfield that is about to usher in the dawn, and returned to the raging and broken world.

There, there is no color in the heavens and the earth, and the mountains, rivers and lakes have become Wang Yang.

I don’t know where the sun and the moon are faint, and there is only one last person in Kyushu.

Chu night, the white clothes dragged the ground, came to the person behind, and embraced him from behind. Then, lift up the thin five fingers and cover the palm of the hand that is smashed.

Stepping on the great shock of Xianxian, he turned back and said: "What do you do??!"

Chu night Ning smiled, under the long eyelashes is a pair of soft black eyes.

"I said that."

"..."

"Hell is too cold, I am coming to marry you."

The warm body embraced the cold body. The remnants of Teng Xianjun have been broken, and almost all of the left leg has been dispersed, becoming a residual ash.

The look on his face was extremely complicated, he licked his lips, and finally he didn't look away.

"...the most annoying thing in this seat is you, why bother to accompany you."

However, the heart is like a popping out, and the inside is soft and gentle. He knew that there was only one body, but at this time he suddenly felt very hot.

After a few silences, Stephen suddenly turned back and turned around: "Yes. There is actually something. This seat should tell you."

"What is it?"

He looked up, gasped for a sullen heart, and then looked up and looked at Chu Ningning: "Before telling you, can you tell me the truth first?"

"..."

"Do you really hate me like this? You can't bear it, is it just the ink master who died in your arms."

After he said these words, he was so humiliated and wet.

If it is not heaven and earth, life and death are not seen, he is afraid that he will not use such a despicable tone to seek the answer to this question in his life. He asked, only feeling humiliated, his fingers could not help but punch into a fist - but he suddenly found out that he even began to sand the fingertips of his left hand, slowly, a little gray became...

After waiting for a long time, I did not wait for the answer of Chu Yuening, his hot heart gradually cooled down.

It was like the beating organ in the chest was crushed and became stucco.

"Forget it." Stepping Xianjun turned his head. "This seat knows the answer. It doesn't matter, anyway, this seat is also..."

When the words were not finished, they were held by a pair of warm hands on their cheeks.

Chu night Ning looked at him and his face was broken and ugly, handsome face, but his eyes were more sincere and warmer than ever.

"You are stupid and not stupid."

"..."

"It's all you." Chu nightning hugged him. The Xuanwu enchantment flashed and darkened, and it was extinguished.

There is only darkness in the world, and the last wave of river surges with the pride of victory. The sound of running on the road seems to be ridiculing how meager human beings are, and dare to fight with their lives.

"I have said this to him."

Chu nightnings embraced the disappearing lover, and before the flood of the flood, at the end of the day, the look was calm but the eyes were solemn.

"Mr. Mozong is also good, and it’s all about you."

The desertification has spread to the arm and gradually invaded the chest.

Black eyes stared at each other.

Chu night Ning said: "I will always be your person."

"Never regret."

Stepping on the fairy is a stiff, stunned eyes, and there are vague tears under the long eyelashes.

He finally took off his cold face and slowly relaxed his eyebrows. He used the remaining hand to hold back the back of Chu's late Ning, and let his lover stick to his chest. He bowed his head and kissed Chu's hair, his cheeks rubbing his forehead.

"You are right," he sighed. "I am too stupid..."

Stepping on the fairy whispered: "Late, sorry."

Many years of love and hate entanglement, most of the grievances and sorrows, all in this sigh of dust settled.

After a moment, Chu nightning heard him sticking to his ear, his voice was low and slow, and it was the peace that was rarely seen in his life: "Okay, there are not many left... I should tell You are the secret."

"What secret?"

Stepping down on the eyes, "I am related to the Mo Zongshi."

"!"

"Actually, I have been able to feel it since I merged with his heart." He paused. "The soul of Mo Zongshi is in my body."

"..." Chu night Ning a glimpse, and then raised his eyes, unbelievably looked at the face of the smile of Xianjun.

"The fragments of those souls... have always been in my body. It’s just that my heart is like a stone, I feel that I am even a remnant, I know my soul, and I have decided to do it myself. So I don’t want to be integrated with the three souls and five souls. ”

"But to this one, if only I can confess with you, it would be too unfair."

"..."

"Late Ning..."

Stepping on the fairy eyes, the light smile on his face gradually faded.

"Don't be sad, he has been there."

"!!"

In the horror of Chu nightning, the singer must turn around and step on the singer to reopen his eyes. It is clearly the same eye, but there is no black and purple feeling, but pure and gentle.

"...burning?!!"

With a bang commonly, the huge waves slammed down, and the basaltic enchantment was finally completely broken. In the wandering wave of the whale wave, the ink burned nothing to say first, but hugged him tightly and sank into the sky with him. Wherein the yang and torrent are everywhere.

The water splash and the crystal foam are turned around, and the ink burns open in the blue sea.

The water is deep, like the affection in the dark eyes.

In the wave, the ink ignited the lips and silently said something with the night.

——

Master, don't worry, it's me.

I am always here.

Will be in the future.

So... go back. Don't stay here.

Believe me, I will be fine, I will try my best to meet you and accompany you.

I am waiting for you in another world.

The lips and teeth open and close, he finally called to meet the ghosts, and the ghosts bound the night body of Chu, and sent him to the gap between the life and death of the last square inch.

"Ink burning... Ink burning!! What do you mean by this? You confuse! What do you mean!!"

The ink burned and smiled in the water, his broken body has been deserted to the face, the crazy, sweet, pure, evil face, the face that is also evil and evil, all turned into mottled at this time. Dust, bit by bit.

Gradually away.

Let's go back. Late Ning.

You have to believe me.

I will be fine, I will always be by your side.

forever.

bright.

When the ink burned open his eyes, he found himself lying in a purple sky. He slowly licked his throat, slowly turned his neck, and then he got up - he found that it was not the sky, but a palace made of amethyst, because the palace was too big, a brick was comparable to a carriage. So he will mistakenly think that this is the cloud.

A tall man stood in the distance and looked out at the window.

The man was draped in a robes that could not be seen in the texture, barefoot, with a luminous glass cup in his hand, and his amber liquid turned absently. Outside the window, there is a tree of red flowers, and there is a bit of silver falling in the heart.

There is no such costume in the world, there is no such flower.

The ink burns can be sure that there is no such palace in the world.

"Where am I?" he asked.

The man's fingertips move a little, and the micro side is over half of the face, but because of the anti-light, the ink burns his eyes.

"You are very calm, hero."

"..."

The man drank the wine from the cup, and the cup rested on the window sill and then walked over to him.

Soon, the ink burned out. This man has a face that is slightly similar to Chen Shanggong. The first blood-red spider scorpion under the corner of his eye, his lips are very thin, and his temper is not too good.

"I am the second generation of the demon Lord." The man said slowly, his eyes fixed on the reaction of the ink, "you are now in the magic palace."

The ink burned for a moment and said: "If you don't say it, I will be you as the Emperor."

The man chuckled: "You are so convinced that you are dead?"

"No." The ink burned into his eyes. "I don't think. But I don't think I am still a living person."

The smile of the demon statue became more obvious: "You are doing a good job."

He reached out and touched the ink-burning chest with the fingertips of the black dragon-scale gloves, and the ink did not feel the slightest pain.

"You really are not a living person." Demon said, "You are just a soul that has gathered together."

There is no buzzing in the ink.

The devil said lazily: "My ancestors set the law, the sacred bones of the mortal world will not be able to return to the demon domain unless they are hostile to the gods, or you can't return to the demon domain.... From the chess game to the time and space, you replace They did it, my hero."

The ink burned and said: "That's not what I want to do. It's Hua Bi Nan -"

"He is a hybrid that is not a * or a demon." There is a contempt in the eyes of the demon. "He once vowed never to harm his kind in his life. But he did not."

"...Do you mean that he harmed Song Qiutong?"

"No." Demon statue, a pair of ruby-like eyes reflected the illusion of ink burning, he raised his hand and gently touched the face of the ink burning soul, "You know who I am talking about."

"..."

"The moment you opened the door of the magic domain, you have already perceived it." The demon statue looks like a sharp knife. "Otherwise, you will not agree with your little fairy in the end. You actually understand in your heart." ""

There was no snoring in the ink, and the two eyelashes fell.

The demon statue slowly rises straight up, and the tall figure casts a dark shadow on the ground. He said: "Ink rain, you should know that there is a very special beauty seat in this world. They will not flow golden tears, there will be no magical atmosphere, if they do not recognize the ancestors, even with the beauty The evil spirits of the phoenix mountains are undetectable. So some people will not find their true identity when they die..."

The ink burns dry and dry: "What about that?"

Demon smiled and smiled: "What about that?... You should be clear that this kind of person can inherit the overbearing spiritual power of the ancient Mozu, just like the Song Xing of the Huabi Reign of many years ago."

He said, his fingertips suddenly lit up a purple-black Huaguang. He turned this Huaguang toward the ink, and the halo immediately fell into the soul of the ink-burning. At the same time, the ink burned only felt a raging The vigorous power swayed in the three souls and six scorpions, and then was completely absorbed by himself.

Demon looked at everything in front of him and smiled. "You see, you can absorb the strength of my family."

"..."

"I am talking about you." Demon said, "You are another special beauty seat after Song Xing. It is only you have never found it. Hua Binan has never noticed it."

The ink burns up the scorpion.

The demon lord took the hand and looked back at the floating flowers outside the window: "Poor him swears, saying that he will never hurt the people, saying that he must guard every sphenoidal beauty seat that can be guarded. It has harmed you forever."

The ink burned up from the ground. He didn't really have the mood to listen to those who didn't, and whether they were harmed or used, they all passed.

There is only one thing he is worried about now: "Is I still going back?"

"Where is it going?" Mozun looked back at him, "Human?"

"world."

"What's good in the world, a group of cockroaches ants. You have the ability and discouragement, not to mention that you are my ethnic group." Demon respects faintly, "Because you are a demon. I can call your soul, call you back to the devil Palace - stay here, you will have a long life, you told me with your strength, you can work for my family."

The ink burned and laughed: "Sorry, I have only let others work for me, not for anyone."

The demon-red red eyes stared at him, did not speak, just with a little review and censure.

"...well." Ink said, "There is only one person. I am willing to work for him."

Demon sneer: "Do you work for a piece of wood?"

"He is not a piece of wood."

The demon statue turned a blank eye: "I told him that Xiaoxianjun is polite. He is not even a god, that is, a rotten seedling of Shennong Laoer." Seeing the burning of the ink is getting angry, the devil is honored. The mouth, sideways, the thin waist leaned against the window sill. "Are you not a good brain?"

"You have to figure out one thing." Demon said, "If you really want to go back, you still can't get the supply of the Mozu. You can only live for decades, up to a hundred years."

I was very tight before the ink burned. When I heard it, I smiled instead: "So long?"

"..."

"It’s really a long life in the world."

The Mozu seems to be somewhat confused, and it seems to be somewhat annoyed: "The Terran is nothing but the life of the ants. What can you do for decades? What can you do in the last hundred years? You tear the time and death, master the chess game, Fuxi Lao I am afraid that you will be half-dead in your heavens. You have such talents, but you are willing to be a king in the tail." The more he said the more unhappy, he finally said: "Idiot."

The ink burned low, the long eyelashes trembled, and the Mozu thought he was angry at first, but after a while, he took a closer look and found that he was holding back.

Demon Respect: "....."

The ink burned and looked up, and smiled: "How do you know?"

"..."

"In the world, many people say that I am stupid."

Demon statue with his hand on his eyebrows, he seems to have some headaches, he is almost stunned: "How come there is such a shameful demon..."

"I never felt that I was a demon." Ink ignited, "I only vaguely perceive the moment when the magic door opens."

Demon statue stares at him.

Ink burned for a while, didn't smile, he looked at the demon statue: "No matter what, thank you for protecting my soul."

"I am sorry."

The ink swayed and shook his head. He did not intend to continue to talk to the demon.

He just used the eyes that had touched countless people to look at the man in front of him with sincerity and seriousness, and then said, "But I am sorry. I want to go back to the world."

"..."

No one talks anymore.

"Reason." Finally, the devil is blunt, "Give me a reason."

"Because I promised one person."

The ink burns.

"I promised. I will come back to him."

Kunlun Snow Palace.

At this moment, the snow in Tianshan has stopped, and the cracks in time and space have finally closed. The torrents and life and death of the past life are like a ridiculous dream.

The beginning of the sky is gradually shining, and the world is magnificent and peaceful.

"Chu Zongshi!"

"Gentle Master! Master!"

Someone in the ear is calling him, and the consciousness slowly returns.

Chu night Ning opened his eyes, his eyes were empty, and the dust of his life seemed to fall in these eyes. For a moment, he thought that he was in the midst of death and death, and was awakened by the noise of the apprentices in the afternoon of a certain winter. It seems that in the darkness of the Wushan Temple, Liu Gongli sighed on the couch and called him back to the world.

After a long time, his eyes gradually became clear. The brown pelicans turned, and he looked at the monks around him. The sky was falling in the snow, the night was already lingering, and the red clouds were beginning to appear in the depths of the clouds.

He whispered slightly, hoarsely: "Ink burning..."

It seems that the dead youth is responding to his attachment, or that he is obsessed with too much illusion - he suddenly sees a few golden red streamers floating from the cracks in the door of life and death, slipping from the rouge Go over and fly to the distance...

what is that? !

Chu night Ning suddenly opened his eyes, but not because of the shouting of the people next to him, but because of the few golden red.

……What it is? !

His hopes of extinction were ignited by those wonderful lights, and he struggled to get up, not letting anyone help, and did not say anything. Chu Xiaoning stumbled with the golden light, and behind him was the voice of anxiety.

"Chu Zongshi..."

At this moment, the sand is completely washed away. People know that the light rain is not a sinner, but the cost is too great. This kind of innocence behind him does not know how much meaning.

But like the smoldering, he never really thinks about the world. He is self-clearing. He is turbid. He is mad, he is self-infatuated. The same is true of the late night of the Chu Dynasty. What they both ask for is nothing but a regret in the heart.

"Master!!"

Xue Meng was going to chase him, but after a few steps, he heard a commotion in the crowd.

On the night of the lonely moon, a disciple shouted in panic: "Hey! The head, what happened to you?!"

Xue Meng stunned and slammed back to open the crowd, but seeing Jiang Yan could not support it, he was already in the snow, and the blood was pouring from the big beach.

"What happened?!" The elders of the lonely moon night roared. "Isn't it just fine?! How could this be?!"

Some disciples stunned at Jiang’s waist and had a bruise.

"Yes... was it hit by the sharp weapon in the torrent? The door is afraid of the chaos, so I have never said..."

There is a faint * smell in the air. Before the dawn, Jiang Yan fell into the earth that had been settled, and closed his eyes to the already peaceful world.

"Quick healing!"

"What are you doing! Save him!"

Xue Meng’s heart was shocked and he was in a mess. He was rickety, and he still held the snow phoenix that he gave him. He turned his head and wanted to chase the back of the night, but only moved half an inch, and then fluttered in the same place, and finally burst into tears.

He does not know this mountain river, where is there no longer love and hate? Whenever the head is raised, there is no old man to accompany him. Those teenagers who are proud and proud, and who are savvy and savvy, are already riding a red dust and never look back.

On the winding road of Qiongshan Mountain, Chu nightning looked at the golden red light and flew to the sky, and went to distant mountains...

"Trust me, I will try my best to see you."

"I am waiting for you in another world."

Suddenly shuddering, but Chu nightning did not dare to think more, before he saw the truth with his own eyes, he did not dare to expect.

At this time, the Rising Sun has pierced the darkness of the Great Abyss and rose from the cold of last night. Wanhui Jinhui is sprinkled on the mountain road that is smashing and smashing. The beginning of the yang rises, and the shallow ray reflects the sea of people, and Can Jin celebrates the rest of his life.

Chu night Ning looked at the rising sun, the fingertips, the golden light flashed.

"Rising Dragon - Calling!"

A shout. His title card dragon broke through the wind in the snow, and the body was coiled and sounded like a bell.

The little dragon looked up and saw that the red dust was still good, and the heart was happy. He couldn’t help but start laughing with the owner: "Is it calm?"

"Ok."

"Have you finished?"

"Ok."

The paper dragon is even more happy. It has soared in the air for a good lap, and it has not yet fallen. Then, like every time I saw him, he joked: "Yes, Chu Ning, how are you always alone? ""

Chu nightning quietly stood in the hurricane, snow seeds fell on his long eyelashes. He couldn't help but think back to what he had said when he was burning away. He only felt that his heart was like a drum. After a quiet moment, he looked up and said to the paper dragon lying on the reverse disc: "Take me to a place."

"where?"

Chu nightning turned over the dragon's back, and the dragon was on the rise. He greeted the snow and overlooked the earth. The rising sun is getting more and more bright. In the dawn of the dawn, he said to the dragon: "Go to Nanping Mountain. I am going to see him."

Canglong wanted to swear at the moment, but the horns had to be tilted up, and nothing was said at all.

In fact, it is also very clear where the owner wants to return, and who is looking for someone. It made a slap in the sea, and before it broke into the Nine Miles, Chu Ning returned to look at this magnificent river.

Long sky, long clouds. He went from Kunlun Road, the wind and snow, to the golden light, and finally to the distant rivers and lakes that started in the rain.

The ink burned promised him, saying that he would come back.

So he believed him, he went to their last place to meet him.

"You said... those golden lights will be the soul of his return?"

The candle dragon tumbling in the clouds and shouted: "You ask me, I ask who is going."

"Do you say that those souls will return to his body?"

The candle dragon is strong and strong: "Probably..."

Nanpingshan soon arrived, no hesitation, no doubt, Chu nightning seems to determine where the golden glory of the golden glory will eventually return to where he is, riding a wind candle dragon, living in the bamboo forest deep in the south screen.

"The person you are looking for is here?"

Chu night Ning did not answer, he came down from the dragon, only felt that the chest was pressed against thousands of heavy stones, breathless.

"I used to have a burned body here." His fingers trembled unconsciously. "So if his soul can come back, then..."

He originally wanted to say that it would definitely be here, but the words went to the mouth, but did not say anything.

What if it is not here?

He also wants to give himself a look. He doesn't want to say anything to death.

The paper candle dragon has some grassy hearts, shaking his head and shaking his head: "What if he didn't come back?"

"..."

"If those golden lights are not here, they will be scattered?"

"..."

"if--"

Chu night Ning slammed back, his eyes were stunned but his eyes were red: "Then I burned you to bury him."

"Oh, I am so scared."

The candle dragon turns into a golden light, and the huge body is turned into a small snake, which lives on the shoulders of Chu night. It hit his head and hit the owner's cheek.

It knows that the nature of Chu Xinning, naturally, will not burn it seriously, and it sighs: "Look at your look, how do I feel that you want to bury him more."

He said that he used his tail to scratch the back of the night.

"doing what?"

"I'm afraid I won't scratch you again, you will faint." Xiaolong sighed and patted his tail. "Your face is so ugly."

"..."

"It's like the gambler who has a lifetime of savings and walks into the casino's last fight."

Chu, rather than rare, did not refute it, he closed his eyes.

The little candle dragon said that it was his life's savings, in fact, this is not right.

It was the disciple of his two worlds, the lover of his two worlds, the two worlds who used flesh and blood, and they did not hesitate to break into the quagmire, but also to fulfill his mighty white fool.

It is the rest of his life.

The mountain road is long and the snow is sloppy.

In the distance, there is a ruin that has been in disrepair. Chu night Ning stood in front of the huts, his fingertips trembled, and it was just a small hospital that was in disrepair. But it seemed to be more difficult than the door of the magic domain. He had a throat and blood flowing.

He was as stiff as a piece of wood, and his hands were lifted several times, but they all fell off the moment they touched the threshold.

Xiaolong: "Oh, if you don't push the door again, then I will come, I-"

The door opened.

It’s not that Chu’s night is pushed away, nor is it Xiaolong’s collision.

The door was originally hidden, but it was mostly breeze and pity, and could not bear to sorrow, so the wind blew a thin firewood.

Chu nightning stood outside the house.

In the huts, there is a clear view of the open space. At this time, Wanmu has not yet budded, but the branches are covered with thin snowflakes. The wind blows, and the snow flakes float like a jellyfish, and they are scattered into the golden morning light.

Then, it was covered on the shoulder of a man.

When he heard the movement, the man’s figure was slightly stunned and he slowly turned back.

The light and shadow are moving, and it seems like a rejuvenation of the earth in a flash, and the summer is blazing.

The sound of the wind that I couldn’t hear before, the sound of falling snow, the sound of the leaves that I couldn’t hear, all came back to the ear, and everything in the world rushed back into his chest.

He stood in the same place and wanted to go forward, but all the limbs were like pouring lead water, but it was impossible to move in one step. At this time, Chu Yuning’s ear seemed to ring for many years, and the hustle and bustle of the Tongtian Tower.

That is the best life in the life of ink.

The handsome young man of the eyebrows walked toward the elders of Yuheng who leaned under the tree, headed for the source of everything, and headed for the beginning of the fate of two people.

"Chu Ning..."

Xiaolong poked his waist on the side.

Chu Xiaoning was reluctant to return to God, but he still blocked his throat and could not say a word.

He slowly walked toward the man standing under the dead wood, heading for everything, going to the end of the pain of the two worlds, and moving towards the dust.

The wind blows the leaves of the forest, Xiao Xiaoshen, and Chu Ning seems to have stepped through the countless fires of the wolf, and finally stood in front of the man.

It’s like how many years ago, the juvenile ink and rain was standing in front of the late evening of the late Qing Dynasty.

Look up and grin.

"Xianjun Xianjun."

The voices of the past are still deaf, and they have passed two lives when they meet again.

"I have been watching you for a long time, you are not paying attention to me."

The empty valley is quiet, the glow is pure, and there seems to be only two of them left in the heavens and the earth, and nothing else. The ink is draped in a robe. His face is still pale and pale.

He looked at Chu Yuening from the morning glow and came to himself, and the dark eyebrows gradually revealed a gentle look.

"Master respect..."

The wind stopped, and the clouds lingered, and the morning sun was scattered, shining in the * mottled people.

"I saw a demon. Then I have an interesting experience, I want to tell you..."

The turmoil of the last days passed.

After many years, the bloodshed is now -

Maybe there will be a new plum blossom.

Chapter 311

A month later.

Impermanent town.

"Let's take a look."

The smack of the hawker snorted in the sun, and he shook his hand in the drums and took the bamboo poles and walked across the street.

"Night tour god, night tour * - 30 texts, the former Yu Heng elders personally created mechs, evil spirits, and virginity. Come and come, pass by, don't miss it."

The worn-out sandals stepped on the bluestone road, the shadow of the hawker was dragged long, and the children ran around in the left and right, holding the candied fruit in their hands, or holding a paper basket.

Suddenly there was a baby girl with a shofar holding the hawker's clothes: "Uncle, I want to buy a night god."

The hawker put down the burden and picked a brush with mahogany paint: "Hey, is this good?"

The baby girl nodded again and again: "Good-looking! It's just this!" For fear of being snatched by others, he was busy holding a body armor that was almost as tall as himself, and then struggled to slap the copper plate from his pocket with one hand.

The copper plate came to the point, but it was three.

The girl is a little anxious: "Oh, I am running too fast, is it falling out on the road?"

She said that she had flipped it over again, and the bottom of the patch was all in the air, or only twenty-seven dollars. The little girl can’t help but panic, and her eyes are red and red: “Big brother, it’s falling, so it’s all right, can you sell it to me?”

The hawker is also very embarrassed, holding a dirty hand: "Shantou, I have spent twenty-five yuan on the night of the purchase of the gods from the priests. If it is folded for you, then I am not only earning two articles." After a day, this is not enough for a meal."

"What should I do?" The baby girl began to wipe her tears. "Go home and yell at me again, hehe..."

I was crying hard, and suddenly someone came over and blocked the sunshine behind the girl.

"Little brother, you have to collect these broken silver."

A gentle and awkward voice, the girl heard the sound of her head, first saw a hand wearing a sleigh wristband, and then looked up again, facing the eyes of Shuangbi, such as jade, pale gold hair The morning sun is more and more supple.

Mei Hanxue smiled softly: "How can a girl be so beautiful, how can she cry for three money?"

"Ah..." The girl was stunned.

Mei Hanxue came down and tried to be flush with her. Then she re-delivered the pink night tour that had just been taken back by the hawker into her arms. The eyebrows bent: "It’s hard to buy beautiful tears, the tears of the girls are the most valuable. Don't cry because of this little thing next time, huh?"

There was another man next to him. He was mediocre and wore a shackle. The eyes were very nice. They were emerald-colored, but they were as cold as the jade. At first glance, there was no warmth.

The man frowned. "You are almost done. She looks like she is only five or six years old."

Mei Hanxue smiled and got up: "Big brother, you are really boring, the beauty is not old. From the 80-year-old woman, down to the five-year-old child, the fat and fat, each has its own good looks, you must learn to praise them. This will be... Hey, how did you run?"

His eldest brother Mei Hanxue did not want to care about him, he turned and left.

This time, the Mei family brothers ordered the death of the dead and the dead. The wife of the defiant Wang had protected the sects of the sects. Now the catastrophe has subsided, and the elders and disciples have not lost much, and the strength is still preserved.

In this way, in the re-shuffling of the comprehension of the realm, the death and death of the singer jumped to the top three, no longer to the sunset, so poor, letting people slaughter.

"Mei Gongzi, the Lord is waiting for two in Wujianping."

At this time, it was the morning of the dead life. Most of the disciples were practicing in the school. The Jianjianping was quiet and quiet. Only one man in a Chinese costume, holding his hand in front of the white jade carving, looked at the red dust of the mountain peaks. .

Mei Hanxue and the big brother walked over, stepping on the newly-built green grass and making a fine rustling.

When I heard the movement, the man did not look back, but sighed: "Come on?"

"coming."

"Wait for a long time."

Mei Hanxue couldn't help but laugh out loud: "Zi Ming, how do you talk like this."

The man turned around. It was indeed Xuemeng’s right. It was still handsome to almost some extravagant eyebrows. There were some youthful young people in the face. He saw the Meijia brothers, and the tension between the eyebrows was slightly awkward. The eyes reveal a trace of the old and innocent.

"Hey, you don't know, these days are really exhausting me."

Xue Meng saw no one around, and the Mei brothers did not bring other followers. They immediately relaxed their bodies and sighed.

"Elder elders yelled at me seventeen times a day for rules and rituals. I used to learn this. I don't even talk about people now. I open my mouth and have three words and two words. The elders told me that This is succinct..."

Mei Hanxue couldn't help but cover his mouth with his hand: "Hey... cough."

Xue Meng glanced at him, and some impatiently said: "You have to laugh and laugh, don't pretend to cough."

Mei Han Xue, son of Wen, said: "No, no, how can I make fun of Xue Zunzhu."

"You must never call me that." Xue Meng wrinkled his nose. "I have had enough."

Or when the big brother is calm, Mei Hanxue said: "Resist, from now on, you have to endure a lifetime."

"..." Xue Meng simply turned his head and looked at the mountains and clouds. "You can be true. This is the most frustrating sentence I have heard since I succeeded."

Mei Hanxue: "..."

Xue Meng added another sentence: "No one."

"Ha ha ha." This time Mei Hanxue really laughed and laughed. He smiled for a moment and said to Xue Mengdao. "In fact, when the head is the head, there is no need to have so many rules? You see Jiang Yan on a lonely moon night - he is more comfortable."

This is not to mention okay, mentioning that Xue Meng’s originally relaxed back is tight.

In a place that no one else can see, under the wide sleeves of the luxurious gold silk embroidery thread, his fingers are involuntarily pinched, and the heart is not a taste.

In fact, he had just been to the lonely moon a few days ago.

During the war, Jiang was very hurt, and he lost a lot of panacea. The disciples were all good at pharmacology, so it was easy to return to life. But although the life is saved, the health is no longer in the past. What is even more disturbing is that Jiang Yan has been invaded by the magic gas, and the body has undergone some changes.

"What will happen?" At that time, Xue Meng stood outside the door of Jiang Yan and asked the elders of the drug.

The elders of the drug replied: "It's not good. The magic door has never been opened for thousands of years, so there is no record of how the monk is dyed with magic. At present, it seems that the Lord is temporarily nothing, but it is not clear. What will happen to him in the future..."

Xue Meng looked gloomy and took another look at the room.

The bi-color yarn account was heavy and heavy, and the three-way reciprocally covered the entrance. It was said that Jiang Yan’s appearance at the moment, even the layout of the lonely moon night bedroom, is not clear from the outside.

"Can you heal?"

The elders shook their heads: "I am afraid it is difficult."

"..."

The anxiety in my heart became more and more vivid. Xue Meng closed his eyes and said, "If you need it, you can come to me at any time."

Although the elders did not know why what happened between Xue Meng and Jiang Yan, but also vaguely aware of the subtle relationship between the two, they made a gift from the good: "So, I would like to thank Xue Xuemen first."

Xue Meng waved his hand and turned his gaze to the deep curtain.

He actually wants to go in and see Jiang Yan, but the place where the lord is sleeping is probably more mysterious than the squat, and others can easily step in. What's more, Jiang Yan is still not awake, and other people on the lonely moon night can't be the master to let him in. Xue Meng really didn't know what else to say, and he frowned. "The snow phoenix of Jiang's head, I have already returned it to the elders of Feng Jian. You will remember to talk to him."

"Yes." After a pause, see Xue Meng's words and stops, the elder asked. "Don't you ask Xue Zhangmen what else?"

"...forget it, it's okay. I am leaving."

The elder is very polite: "Thank you, Xue Zhangmen personally came here."

Although Xue Meng had a lot of jealousy with Jiang Yan before, it was when the Lord was the Lord. Nowadays, it is the head of the house, and the people of the lonely moon night will naturally not be unreasonably neglected.

Several elders and medical officers accompanied him to step down the temple of Biva, and there was a spiritual flow throughout the night, so the flowers bloomed regardless of the season. Xue Meng looked at his side and saw that Lin Lingyu was covered with light snow, but it was still a splendid flower in the cold, and he was not known as a taste.

He slowly walked down the arcade, and the planks creaked under his feet.

Suddenly, the first copper bell of the horned beast, Xue Meng raised his eyes and saw a young man with his own age at the corner with two rows of knives on his face. The young man was very handsome, his shoulders were wide, and a face in the morning glow exuded the softness of the indescribable.

Rao is Xue Meng’s eyes higher than the top, and he has not smashed him several times.

"Xue Zhangmen."

When the narrow road meets, the young people stop first, and they perform a ceremony, which is correct and not humble.

"..." Xue Meng stopped. "This is..."

"Oh, this is the close servant of the Lord. These years help the Lord to take care of the size of the moon and the night house, not often show up, but it is very important." The elder laughed and saw that he had some young people. fear.

Xue Meng is not salty and does not lightly "hmm".

The young man finished the ceremony and saw that the other person was still staring at himself, so he looked up and smiled.

At this distance, as soon as he looked up, Xue Meng could see him clearly and carefully. Although Xue Meng never paid too much attention to the appearance of others, he still noticed the outstanding appearance of the youth, especially the eyes, bright and gentle, inside. It seems as if there are countless stars.

It’s an unforgettable face.

Xue Meng narrowed his eyes and looked at the other side's appearance more and more harshly, even trying to find out what he was going to compare. But after reviewing it many times, it still has no results.

He has a stunning handsome. Young, restrained, gentle eyebrows, tall, very delicate skin, even like a faint glow

Such a good young man should be on the list of young people in the real world, instead of being crushed, and selling life and hard work in the depths of the lonely moon.

Xue Meng thought dryly.

The pearl is dusty, and the * night sink is really not something.

The good young man was stared at by Xue Meng’s eyes, and some were uncomfortable. But still politely and gently asked: "Xue Zhangmen, is there something?"

Xue Meng returned to God: "...no, nothing."

But still staring at others without any disguise.

Near the level of the waiter, although subject to heavy, but no status.

If Xue Meng does not ask, the other party will not tell his name, and he is humiliated.

However, the elders of the drug service were flexible. When Xue Meng was curious about this young man, he smiled and introduced: "Xue Palm Gate does not look at his young age. In fact, Lin Lingyu has no fineness. He cares very well. Sometimes let us These elders are very embarrassed."

The young man bit his lower lip and actually had a slight blush. Sorry, "The elders praised."

Xue Meng looked at him back and forth and became more curious about this person. I suddenly saw the follower behind him carrying a lacquered wooden pallet. After thinking about it, he asked, "Are you going to Jiangyan?"

"Yeah." I didn't think that Xue Meng would call the name of his own head. The young man was awkward, but he quickly nodded with a smile.

This is a good opportunity. If you express yourself and want to accompany the past, the other party should not refuse. This will also be able to enter the Jiang Yan bedroom and take a look at the idiot disease.

Xue Meng cleared his throat and just wanted to speak. He heard the young gentleman.

"I am going to give medicine to my father."

Xue Meng was a glimpse, and then his face was dull: "...what?"

The elders of the drug service said: "Sorry, I almost forgot to say it. He is still a adopted son of Jiang Zhangmen."

Xue Meng: "....."

After a few moments, I saw that under the flying gallery, several elders followed the Xuemeng, who was looking at the blue-green.

"Hey? Xue Zhangmen?"

"What happened to Xue Zhangmen?"

“Is there something uncomfortable?”

The new leader of the dead and the sorrowful Lord looked gloomy and sullen, and the bottom of the iron-clad sole was slammed into the wood. He gritted his teeth like a ash - he certainly didn't care if Jiang Yan had any kittens and puppies, what happened to him? He just tired of Jiang Yanming clearly having a capable son in the party, but he still has to sympathize with the hypocrisy of "the lonely family is old and unaccompanied" in front of outsiders.

shameless! ! It’s really disgusting!

Mei Hanxue saw that he had a strange face and asked, "What happened to you?"

"Nothing." Xue Mengdao, "Suddenly think of an irrelevant person."

He did not want to mention the things related to Jiang Yan, and after talking about the topic for a while, he went to the ancestral hall of the dead and dying with the Mei family brothers, and gave the glory of the heroes who passed away in the past.

Into the ancestral hall, Mei Hanxue found that a spiritual card on the side of the altar was very special, covered by a red towel, and could not see the following words.

"This is the location of the ink."

"..."

Xue Meng’s face was faint, and he couldn’t guess his mind: “Everyone else said that he was dead, but I don’t think. After the end of the war, I saw the teacher respected Kunlun Mountain... He obviously wants Where to go, just don't want to take someone else."

He said, rubbing his lips and hanging his eyelashes: "In short, I don't believe that he is so ruined."

"Xue Meng..."

Xue Meng turned his head away and looked at the sky outside the door: "The ink-burning dog has something to do with it since childhood, and does not act according to common sense."

"..."

"I know that this is the same."

Listening to him said that Mei Hanxue could not help but sigh, but did not intend to refute anything.

The Mei family brothers worshipped the Engong couple, Xue Meng stood by, closed his eyes and did not say anything.

After the ceremony was over, Mei Hanxue got up and patted him on the shoulder.

"Zi Ming, you will be a good head."

Xue Mengshu opened and looked at the black and white characters. The scent ignited, and the ash drifted away. In the pale blue haze, Xue Meng looked at his father's tablet and said calmly: "It won't be better than him."

"..."

"gone."

Xue Meng waved his hand and turned away.

In the solemn and solemn ancestral hall, there was no nickname on the small lacquered wood that was written according to the rules. The Mei family brothers glanced at each other and sighed and kept up with Xue Meng’s footsteps.

A fragrant ash fell.

The young people have already gone far, and the Wuliang altar is still burning the three pillars of their fragrance. Behind the faint light spot, the wooden sign slammed Xue Meng's handwriting:

Father is no substitute,

Dan has no heart.

At the bottom of the card is a four-character inscription that is ridiculous. However, the Mei family brothers know that Xue Meng also knows that if Xue Zhengyi is in the spirit of the sky, seeing these four words, he will laugh happily.

The long light swaying, according to the handsome cursive script, is the extension of Xue Zhengyi's brush and ink, and the strokes are all casual.

——

Xue Lang is very beautiful.

In the evening, a banquet was held to host the banquet of the Snow Palace.

Because of the friendship between the two factions, this is a private affair and does not look at it with outsiders. Even so, there are still rumors that have flowed out.

According to the legend, the newly-elected Xue Zun, who has three cups of two liqueurs, is so drunk that he cannot find the north. After Xue Momen was drunk, he loved to mutter. He had a lot of content that he muttered that day. He was crying for his own mother, and later hated his brother. After a while, he recited the master, and later recognized the neighbors. Teacher.

That day, his mouth was upside down and their names were theirs.

But those old people, except Mei Hanxue, did not come.

Deep in the drunk, in the lamp, he put his arm on the case, and went to see Meng Potang from the arm.

For a time, he saw a hustle and bustle, and he was very happy.

In the crowd, Xue Zhengyi and Mrs. Wang toasted their glasses, and the left and right divisions and the ink burned in the dumplings. Later, they quieted down. Everyone turned their heads and saw the snowy house. The elders of Yuheng wore a bright red cloak. Shake off the snowflakes on the paper umbrella and walk towards them.

"Respect the Lord, you are drunk."

Someone is calling him in the ear, Xue Meng did not respond.

Later, some people sighed and put him in a cold coat. He didn't know who the man was, the elders who were elders, or other people.

Later, the man touched his head and said, "Less Lord, you are drunk."

He responded vaguely, but the tears flowed down, and he threw his head into his arms. At this time, the night was deep, the cup was a mess, and Yi Xing was stunned. Xue Meng did not talk any more, and no one was crying anymore - he was trying to grow up to be a father.

Maybe another year, he won't be so drunk. In a few years, even if you are drunk, you will not talk nonsense again. At the end of the day, probably no one can easily see the tears of Xue Ziming who died.

Slowly, he will become a tree that supports the middle of the world and even the entire realm of cultivation. Those who are willing to cry and raise their wines will one day become a past when Xue Zun and his younger generations chatted.

A generation of generations have passed like this. When Xue Meng is old, it belongs to the past of their generation, and will be mentioned in later generations, but no one knows.

Those years old, maybe after all, will go down to the point, and finally become a sentence on the Xuemeng fan, "Xue Lang is very beautiful."

After the Mei family returned to the Snow Palace, it took a few days for the comprehension to announce a news.

"Kunlun Snow Palace will become an ally with the dying of life and death after the New Year's Eve. The two factions are united and unconstrained, but they are not divided into the upper and lower circles, but they are seeking Haiyanheqing, Limin Anping. The head of the Mingyuelou, the head of the Xuezi Ming, the total Zhao The world, to prove the heart."

Zhaowen is out, the waves are rolling.

Some people praised the festival, some people are unclear, and some people are silent - they can see that this new contract may shake the whole world in the next ten, twenty, or even faster time. The so-called revision of the upper circle, probably slowly blurring the boundaries.

“Is this a good thing?” After a meal, someone asked curiously.

His companion licked the snow in the bowl and shook his head. He said, "Who can know about the future? From the former Nangong Changying, the nine sects of the sects form the upper cult, and the place where these martial arts are to be ruled becomes In the paradise, everyone is not paying tribute, but the result is not satisfactory. It seems that a decision is wise and correct, but it still has to be timed to prove..."

"Oh, yes."

"But at least for the time being, there will be no more things in the words of the Church. You should be no match for the Snow Palace and the dead and the dead."

"This is also not sure, according to Jiang Yan, who refuses to succumb to the temper..."

"Forget it, take care of so much. Take a step and take a step. Let's have a good time for ourselves.... Hey, this snake-boiled melon is good." The tea drinker pulled the scorpion and sipped it outside the bamboo curtain. "The boss, come back a pound!"

In the winter and spring, the scars of the Chinese people slowly healed. The villages and towns that were once destroyed by the war were rebuilt under the support of the major sects.

Someone once lost faith in the dark, but fortunately, the human heart is not static.

Maybe one day, there will be a cry in the silence, and there will be sparks in the abyss. Those who blindly applaud will stop, and those who cringe will speak. When the threat comes, the gentle person will be tough, and in the face of lies, the retorted person will stand up.

Everything is changing the cycle, and a new town is built on the ruins. However, it is not clear that right and wrong are still inseparable.

But there is nothing. It may never be possible for a person to truly understand anything, or even to fully understand himself.

One of the simplest examples -

You have a pair of eyes, but have you really seen your face directly?

"Good!! Come again!!"

In the old land of Linyi, under the old banyan tree, a storytelling book was finished.

"Chu Xianzun is really a good person..." The old woman heard tears. "I don't know where he is now."

"Mo Xian Zun is really wronged... oh..."

Another half-sized little girl licks the sugar gourd in his hand, his eyes are sloppy, and his face is full of tears. She twitched, and suddenly turned her head to the companion around her: "Hey, I don't like the story of Nangong brother and Ye sister."

Her companion slammed: "Why?"

The girl wiped her tears: "All dead."

The boy muttered: "The leaves are not dead yet..."

The girl cried even worse: "You don't understand, you boys are stupid, she is definitely more uncomfortable than dead, hehe..."

The boy was so overwhelmed by her crying and fierce posture. She scratched her head for a long time and said: "Hey, don't cry, let's play, let's play family? I came to Nangong. You come to be a leaf, the story we compiled ourselves... Oh, don’t cry, don’t cry.”

The boy was happy for the little friend, picked up a palm leaf and covered the little girl half face.

"Then, take your hijab, let's come to the house~"

The little girl blinked and broke.

It turned out that the pain in the eyes of the child can be rewritten. Everything will gradually get easier. Their love and hate will be separated, and they will gradually become legends of the rivers and lakes. Under the old banyan tree, they will be told by one story after another.

With you and me for a lifetime of ups and downs, life and death, honor and disgrace, Bo spectators two or three tears, full of applause.

Xiaotoutou and Xiaomao’s children are in a decent manner, covering the leaves and worshipping each other, childhood, and each other’s eyes are only the other side, sweetly shouting:

"One heaven and earth -"

"Two worship high church -"

Under the old banyan tree, I walked through a long black dress with a beautiful face. There was an old sac that had faded in the waist, and there was no arrow in the sac.

After the beating, the world is very peaceful.

Embroidered with a cluster of colorful arrows, carrying a golden claw-tip milking dog, squatting on the outside world.

The black road leader stood under the tree, looking at the two little dolls and laughing at the house, suddenly remembered something, went over and handed the little girl a red handkerchief.

“Hey?” the girl stunned. “What is this? Who are you?”

The black dresser did not answer, only smiled: "Which is a family with a leaf, come, this is for you."

The handkerchief is a bit old, very soft and has a good texture.

Embroidered with a "驷" on the corner, how many years ago was the old things, some broken, this is when she was scared and crying in the illusion, Nangong came out to wipe her tears.

The little girl took a look around the patron and suddenly smiled like a flower.

She looked up and said, "Thank you, my sister."

"..."

The black road is long, with some stars and light shining in the eyes.

After so many years, not many people can recognize that she is a daughter at a glance, not to mention the sound-changing spell that can never be solved.

This little guy is really poisoned by eyes.

She shook her head with a smile, straightened up, and patted the plush head of the white gold in the arrow pocket: "Go, what are you looking at?"

Naobai Platinum: "Hey!"

The wind is blowing, and the eucalyptus leaves are rustling.

The storyteller is talking about the singer, and is talking about the battle of Lushan, Nangong 驷 blood pool town evil spirits, everyone mourning.

She didn't cry any more. She was straight back and walked alone to the distant mountains. The sweet voice of the little girl and the little boy sounded behind her.

"The husband and wife are worshipping -"

At this time, she just walked out of the shade of the banyan tree and glared at the sunshine. For some reason, she smiled and bent her eyes, filled with joy and sweetness.

When I was a child, it was a very good time in my life. She thought that it is so easy to make a vow.

After a while, there was a little footsteps of the little guy: "Big sister! Your handkerchief!"

She didn't look back, she waved her hand and looked like a hero.

Naobaijin looked at her with a pair of round eyes, and looked at her blankly. She seemed to be asking her: "That is what the aunt left behind. Don't you?"

She smiled and her eyes were very gentle: "No."

She said, she turned to look at the grassland of the sly, and all things were born in the spring, and then she did not accidentally see the figure of Nangong 立 standing on her side, still unruly eyebrows.

Some are arrogant and somewhat calm.

She said: "I know you are."

The phantom of Nangong Temple frowned, as if blaming him.

She said softly: "You don't want to be angry. They are in the hall and they lack a hijab."

"..."

"So I gave them your handkerchief."

Nangong Temple is still not very happy.

"A handkerchief for a good marriage, you can laugh."

The sun is golden, and Nangong is unwilling to squeeze out a smile, but it is more ugly than a ghost.

She also laughed and hung her eyelashes. When she raised her eyes again, the shadow of Nangong Temple was gone. But she knew he would return.

It is not a ghost or an illusion.

He is in her heart, so she will always see him.

- He has always been the most handsome look when he is most arrogant.

In the blink of an eye of the New Year's Eve of this year, according to the rules of the realm of cultivation, parents can be removed. Therefore, in the month before New Year's Eve, Xue Meng finally officially crowned the crown of death and death, and the Quartet came to congratulate him.

In that fire tree silver flower night, Xue Meng 璇玑 璇玑 所述 所述 所述 , 戴 戴 戴 戴 戴 戴 戴 戴 戴 戴 戴 戴 戴 戴 戴 戴 薛 Use fire refining beads to embroider.

He stood in the solemn and magnificent Dan Xin Temple, and his face was like Kunyu, handsome and mature.

In the eyebrows, if you carefully distinguish, how much can see the shadow of Jiang Yan. It’s just that he will never be surnamed Jiang, and he will never be like Jiang Yan.

"Congratulations, the head of the fairy."

The elders led the disciples to take the lead.

The disciples of the dead and the dead, such as the blue sea, the waves, the glory, and then the worship, and other guests who come to congratulate each other also bowed.

The sound rumbling, like a thunder, rang through the hazy mountains.

"Congratulations - the head of the king."

The fireworks bloomed in the night sky, as if the golden years of the dead and the dead were beginning to begin, and the darkness of last night was good or warm, and they would never look back.

Xue Meng smiled, his eyes were deep, very quiet, but not so bright.

He toasted and drank with the crowd.

The extremely good manners will no longer make those ridiculous and ridiculously different pools as before.

Mei Hanxue sighed in the distance and closed his throat: "This kid... finally has to become Nangong Liu."

"Cautious."

Mei Hanxue looked at his brother and said: "I am not saying that others have problems. I mean his position today."

"That's not what you should talk about." Big brother coldly, "And, from the dinner to the present, there are already twenty-six girls who have come to me. Take off your skin mask, I am fed up." It is."

Mei Hanxue immediately wrinkled his face in a whim.

The banquet was scattered. Because there were too many guests, it was difficult to take care of the dead and dying. They had to arrange for the disciples to receive the corresponding heads, elders, and disciples.

Everyone drunk and went back, Jiangshan changed to the dynasty, each has its own mind.

Xue Meng returned to the room.

He was really not drunk today, and the hangover soup of the elders of the wolf was more than anything.

He sat down and rubbed his eyebrows with some exhaustion. He wanted to take off his heavy ornaments, but looked at the bronze mirror for a while, but he felt that he was covered with jade, and he didn't know where to pick it up.

I knocked on the door and came in.

"Respect the Lord."

Xue Mengdi: "Well?"

"This is the gift list given by each door, and the precepts have forgotten to send it to you." He handed him a thick sheet of gold and red book. "Remember to look carefully and pay attention to it."

Xue Meng only felt more and more tired: "Know it."

"And, Jiang Jiangmen said that he wants to see you alone."

"……not see."

He is not reluctant, he has always been the life and death of all the elders to finally observe the words. He sighed and said: "Then I will go back to him later."

"Is there anything else?"

Ruan said: "No."

Xue Meng actually wants him to say that there are other things. It is best to tell him directly that "there are two mysterious guests who have come to see you outside." But they did not.

He walked away and closed the lacquered Zhumen in the bedroom.

In the big room, Xue Ziming stood alone, he stood for a long time, and finally went to the table, picked up the lights and went to see the thick gifts.

The list of gift lists is arranged in the order of gift-giving, and the lonely moon night in the rich world is naturally in the first place. The list is full of extravagant treasures such as “Fan Yu Yu” and “Ling Whale Beads”. Some things have never been seen before. I have seen that Jiang Yan’s shots are very good, and it’s really not bad.

But for these luxurious treasures, Xue Meng didn't have much mood at the moment. He flipped through the booklet and tried to find the name of Chu Yuning and Mo-burning in it. Many gifts will be sent even if they don't come. . This is an extremely important day in Xuemeng's life. If the ink is not dead, if Chu is still in this river, then they will always get the news of his ascent.

Stepping Snow Palace, Huohuang Pavilion, Wusi Temple...

One page turned over.

The pages of the private greetings were turned back and forth dozens of times.

But no.

In the end, Xue Meng leaned on the cushioned mahogany carved seat and raised his hand and rubbed his eyebrows tiredly.

No.

His master, his cousin, is really like a complete retreat. After the war of that day, it disappeared from the rivers and lakes.

Outside, there was a laughter, a salute, and the lord of death and death locked himself in the room, and the eyelashes slowly became moist.

He really can't accept the sinfulness of Chu and his burning, and can't get along with them any more, but in any case, he still misses them in his heart.

When the sacrificial ancestor was built, everyone said to him that the smoldering was dead, but he was stubborn. He said that he would see the dead and see the corpse. Without the exact news, the red cloth on the spiritual card is like how he Will not take off.

In fact, he also knows that many things have happened. He tried to try to understand them, but he still couldn’t relieve it. When he thought about the things that they were carrying on him, he was upset, and he was entangled in the five, even with a sigh of relief. Not coming up.

He also knows that for this reason, Chu Yunning and Mo-burn may never return to the top of life and death - no taboo between mentoring and apprenticeship can be accepted by true tolerance.

But, let me send him a letter...

I will report him a peace.

Xue Meng took a deep breath and raised his hand to cover his trembling eyes.

Suddenly, there was a sigh of sigh outside the window. Xue Meng slammed and jerked up and rushed over, pushing the house open.

The fireworks that appeared one after another reflected on his face. He looked around and saw no one. But a narrow brocade box hung from a peach tree outside the window.

Xue Meng shuddered and reached out, tightened and opened the box.

At this time, there was a fireworks in the "咻" place, and thousands of stars were broken in the night of Shulang.

In the gleaming Guanghuali, Xue Meng saw a newly-formed narrow and thin machete lying in the brocade box. The silver handle was long and the stalked crystal was radiant...

It is a re-quenched Dragon City! !

Xue Meng almost stunned the box in his arms, and then jumped straight through the window, plunging in the back garden and shouting: "Master!!"

The backyard of the empty door, responding to him is the sound of the wind.

He screamed insanely: "Master!! Ink!!"

"Come out!"

The night wind was refreshing, and it was wet and cool on the cheeks. He ran away in the luxuriant flowers, and the robes and arms were scratched by the branches.

"You come out!!"

The sound has a whimper at the end.

Where no one could find anyone, Xue Meng stopped and slowly bent down and snorted on the floor: "Come back..."

The sound of the leaf blowing in the ear stunned, Xue Meng glimpsed, looking in the direction of the song -

Then he saw it, but the two men had already traveled too far and stopped at the towering tower of the distant sky. Behind the majestic tower corner of the flying eagle beast, two old familiar figures are leaning against each other. Sitting sleeves fluttering, knees holding Shenwu nine songs, leaning against the night coat, Slim, fingertips clinging bamboo leaves in the sound.

"I visited the old man under the bright moon, and the people of Huanhuan met with each other. One dynasty phoenix 啼 啼 Chunxiao, Wanyuheshan Qingpingzhong. The total angle of the Tibetan brewing Jun Mo drink, after the return of the year and the brothers. Why should life always accompany, away from the Acacia ""

This leisurely whistle echoed in the moonlight, drifting into the vast sky.

A song congratulates the end, but seeing a flash of gold flashing, Chu nightning's title candle dragon is called out, the two jumped on the back of the dragon's back, so take the wind away...

Later, Xue Meng found two letters with similar handwriting in the box. One is Chu Yuning, and the other is ink rain.

The letter of the ink rain was written very long, telling the stories of the later, telling him many of the previous hidden feelings, and explaining that they did not want to appear rashly because they still don’t know what the world thinks of them. The shackles of life and death. As for the new Dragon

City scimitar, it is in the past few months that he and Chu Lingning have tried to obtain materials that have been refined and may be used.

The letter of Chu Yuening is much shorter, and the letter is a few lines of work:

Respecting the Lord, Yu Heng has a flaw in his heart, so he has no face to see Jun. The road ahead will be long and hopeful. The dragon castle handle is embedded with a night sea otter, which can be accompanied by the Lord's life. If his lord needs to take the power of jade and balance, he will do his best.

That night, Xue Meng looked at the word "respecting the Lord" for a long time.

Until the night was deep, and the chaos was scattered, and he was silent. He did not return to God. I think that from now on, I may never hear the name of the teacher, and I can only hear the voice of the Lord. He feels that he has never been so tired of the rules of the world.

But at least the night is still there, and the ink is still there. They may be thousands of miles away in the future. Maybe they will not be able to meet each other for several years. However, this piece of human moonlight, they can still enjoy a reward in the end of the world, this is somewhat comforting.

The foot of the dead and the foot of the mountain, the town of impermanence.

Two people wearing hooded cloaks came from the night, went to the bustling night market, and found a day and night stand with a colorful lantern.

One of the tall and slender men said: "The boss, you must clear the soup pot, crisp bamboo shoots, tofu, thousand sheets, fungus, thin cut beef, thin cut lamb, beef belly, crispy meat, crystal fillets, hibiscus Shrimp ball..."

The other person said faintly: "It's almost enough, I can't eat it."

"Then it's another pine nut squid, plus two cans of soy milk -"

"..." The man licked his thin lips. "Don't order again."

These two guys are not others. It’s just Chu Yuning and Mo Weiyu who just gave Xue Meng a gift.

"Then I will come back to the sweet-scented osmanthus." After the ink burned, he smiled. "Will you do it?"

The younger brother of the running hall is very eager: "It was not originally. This is the food in the Jianghuai area. But Mengpotang, who lives in the dead, often does, so we have learned a little at the foot of the mountain. Oh, yes, we have big here. Hero recipes, do you want to see two?"

Chu night Ning frowned: "...What recipe?"

"The big hero recipes. The two don't know?" Xiao Er said with pride. "There were big disasters in the past few days. The two immortals who settled the disaster were all dead and dying. Hey, impermanence. Everyone in the town’s wine cellar will make some special dishes, according to the taste of the two immortals!”

Speaking of two bamboo plaques from the waist, he enthusiastically handed Chu to Ning and ink burning.

"This is Chuxianjun's recipe." I was afraid that they couldn't understand it. Xiao Er also explained with a brow and dance. "It is said that Chu Xianjun loves to do something that is defocused, so we have Jiao Yao Wan, fried coke, Jiao tofu boiled green vegetables, oh yes, this squirrel mandarin fish will also deliberately fry some."

Chu nightning: "....."

The opposite ink burned in order to make a laugh, raising his hand and drinking a cup of tea.

But he raised his hand and flipped another piece of "Moxianjun recipe", and the tea in his mouth almost squirted out without slamming -

"Cough and cough!!"

Xiao Er is a little panicked: "Oh, what happened to the guest officer? Is it okay?"

"It's okay, cough..." The ink ignited and asked the bamboo sign. "What are you? Why is there something like the jellyfish on the recipe? I have never heard of it." ""

"It is said that Mo Xianjun likes sweets."

Ink burning: "....."

"He also likes Begonia." Xiao Erwan is like a river and lake Bai Xiaosheng, and the tongue can explain the lotus. "So our boss wife created this jellyfish sweetheart. The sugar on the head is more than the usual dessert. 30%, keep the sweetness to the tongue and numb!"

"... can you still eat?"

Xiao Er smiled: "How can you not eat, sell very well. Two guest officers are better to come to a Mo Xianjun recipe, and then a Chu Xianjun recipe? Two Xianjun like to eat, taste a taste You don't suffer, try to taste that you are not fooled."

Chu night Ningtou has some pain: "No. I don't like to eat coke, thank you."

Ink burned and said: "I don't really like sweet food."

"Oh, that's a pity." Xiao Er was quite unfortunately scratching his head. He seemed to really admire the new dishes in this store. He could hear the mutter when he walked away. "Well, it is a salvation hero." What do you like to eat? You are not curious to try it..."

Chu nightning: "..."

Ink burning: "Hey."

"What are you laughing at." Chu nighting looked at him. "Is it so funny?"

"Not at all." The eyes of the burning eyes are black and lacquered. "It's just fun, happy, a little thing can laugh."

He said, turned to look at the bustling crowds on the street, after the storm, the fire and fire burned the birth machine, the women were picking up the fat powder jewelry, buying some New Year's Eve red paper new year, the men gathered in the bright Drinking and chatting in front of the night stalls, the light of the lanterns, the relaxed face, the warmth, and the oil on the cheeks are not so annoying.

A group of children screamed and laughed and ran over, not knowing what game to play, one child wearing a mask, another group fleeing in front of the rabbit, and kept shouting: "Don't let him catch, hahaha Don't let him catch it."

The ink burned with his hand on his chin. This action has always been very handsome, and there is even a cuteness in the handsome.

He suddenly sighed with satisfaction: "It's good."

He said that he looked up again and looked at the dead and dying, and repeated it again: "It's good."

Chu night Ning said: "...not too good. You just heard, Xue Meng is calling us."

"..." The ink burned for a moment, but still smiled. "But if we really stay, he will be embarrassed."

Chu nightning said: "I know."

There are a few dishes on the dish, and the ink burns and eats and says: "Xue Meng still has some children's minds. In fact, it is best now. If we go back to life, troubles will come one after another. And he may Forbearing me for two days a day, after a month or two, let's try?"

Biting a peanut, the ink burned like some grievances.

"He must have told me to go."

Chu Xiaoning endured a smile and knocked his head against the chopsticks: "You are the child's heart."

"Really." The ink ignited, "When he rushed me, I couldn't help but leave, and the door was stunned, scared to death."

Chu Zhongning really couldn’t help it this time. He laughed out loudly: "Don’t mess around. Where will he drive you away? It’s clear that we don’t want to stay, so don’t let things depend on him.”

"Okay." The ink burned and scratched his head, grinning, and the pear vortex was deep. "Meng Gong brother said everything right."

Chu night Ningdao: "Diet. We will go home after dinner."

They are now hiding in the depths of Nanping Mountain. After the ink burned all the souls back to the body, the two lived there. It is not a deliberate refuge, but I feel that the world has gone through halfway, passing by here, it is just resting in that paradise.

Everything is just right.

With a piece of crispy meat, the black ink burned, and smiled: "It is actually that I am wrong."

"Ok?"

"I really don't want to go back."

"Are you afraid he blames you?"

"No." The ink smiled and touched his nose. "I am afraid that he will call me a teacher."

Chu nightning: "....."

The eyes of the smoldering are very gentle, the black ink is dark, and the luster is faintly purple, but those purples now look very kind. He sighs: "The hard life has grown a generation."

"eat!"

When the ink burned, he bowed his head and ate it. He felt like two fluffy dog ears appeared on his head, and he pulled it down softly and tamedly.

However, in fact, Chu Xiaoning is very clear that the ink is not unwilling to return to life. In fact, he is also good, he is also good, Xue Meng is also good, they are thinking about reunion, but time is killing everyone, sometimes the ignorant and frivolous years have passed, is not coming back, no one can reluctantly.

Everyone understands this truth, but it is only smoldering that he is uncomfortable, so he will take full responsibility and make him laugh.

"Speaking, I haven’t been asking you all the time." Chu said, "On the day of the war... How did you know that you will be able to come back?"

The ink burned the rice and thought for a while: "... If I said I am telling you, would you blame me?"

Chu night Ning, a pair of clear eyes looked at him: "You say it."

The ink burned on his back neck and smiled down: "In fact, after the door of the demon world was opened, I also felt that there was a kind of spiritual power flowing in the body... But I still stepped on the will of the immortal, my head was dizzy. It’s faint, and I don’t think too much.”

"Ok."

"It was when I finally dissipated, I suddenly remembered this embarrassing thing."

"..."

"I was gambling at that time, maybe I was the same as Song Xing, that is, there are some special beauty seats." In the air, "The history book says that the devil is not broken, the soul is complete, and it is easy to regenerate." So I thought... If I really, then as long as I insist on going back to my body, I should be able to live."

Chu night Ning micro-brows: "Before this, I have always felt that the soul of the Mozu can be a legend." Suddenly, he asked, "Why did Song Qiutong not survive in the past?"

The ink burned helplessly: "Even if the devil wants to resurrect, the desire to live is very, very strong."

"..."

"That kind of feeling...how to say it, just like giving me a life-saving rope before falling off the cliff. The rope is covered with oil, and it will fall into the abyss with a little carelessness. I must hold the rope tightly. Climb up, you can't relax for a moment, you can return to your body."

"Late Ning, I have been thinking about coming to you." The ink burned his throat and looked at him. "So I can come back."

The lantern on the top of the head swayed, and Chu Yuning looked at the dark and deep eyes of the other side, and felt that the chest was soft. He still is not used to this feeling of weakness, and he has turned his face away.

The ink burned: "There is still a very important reason."

"Ok?"

"The sphenoidal beauty seat is a half-devil. Before the magic door is opened, this method of rebirth does not apply to us." Ink ignited, "because it absorbs the magic, it gains strength - otherwise we are still the flesh." The heart of my body has been ruined. After I got the magic, I feel that the power is much stronger than the power of the core, and I think I might be able to return to heaven."

Chu night Ning said: "So when you let me go, I am not sure if I can be born again..."

The ink burned and looked at the other person's slightly raised eyes. Only then did he find that he had said something wrong. He couldn't help but panic. He coughed and wanted to open the subject: "Hey, this fish is good."

Chu nightning will be fooled and stare at him: "If you don't come back at the end. I went to Nanping Mountain and saw a cold body."

"..." Hearing his tone was so dull, the ink burned a little, and he lowered his head and bit his lip for a while, then raised his face. "Yes."

"..."

"I can't bear to die. Whether I am alive or not."

Looking at the late night, the eyes are reddish. It seems to be painful and seems to want to be angry. The ink burns out the fingers and holds his hand on the table, holding it in the palm of his hand.

In the glitz of the light, he said dumbly: "I know that it may be a lie to you, but even if you are hated by you, you are blamed, I can't watch you die."

He said, closing his eyes and shaking his eyelashes.

"I have seen two generations."

The tight back of Chu’s tightness slowly slowed down, and the pinched knuckles gradually lost strength, but the tail was still red and somewhat moist.

The steam in the crucible floats and the broth in the stove is bubbling. In this hard-won fireworks, the ink burned the hand of Chu Xinning and handed him a finger.

He said: "I thought at the time, if I really lost the gamble. I can wait for you... For more than ten years, for decades, if you become a fairy, you can wait for hundreds of years and thousands of years."

"..."

"The world is very good. Late, I don't want you to marry me."

Suddenly a boiling bubble in the pot broke, and some hot water splashed out, just splashing the arm of Chu Xinning. This kind of hot water flower is of course not hurting, but he still retracted his hand in a reflective manner and then lowered his head.

After the end of the low, I felt that I should be more calm, so I raised my head with a hard scalp, and looked at the opposite of the unbelievable.

The ink burned and laughed at his actions: "What's wrong? I will lick me for a while, and I will lick the table for a while."

Chu night Ning is trying to say something. At this time, the night bell of the Tongtian Tower rang, and the mountain fell from the mountain to the bustling night market.

"Oops."

As soon as I counted the time, Chu Xiaoning’s face changed slightly.

The nodes that alternated in time are here...

He stared slyly at the man sitting opposite him, seeing that he just smiled and the man suddenly closed his eyes, and his heart was anxious -

Since the resurrection of the ink, every three days, when the child arrives, the consciousness of stepping on the king will reoccupy the body, and will not disappear until late on the second day.

This happens, probably because the sorcerer's soul that belongs to stepping Xianjun has been separated from the other two souls and seven scorpions for a long time, and it is difficult to integrate them into consciousness. Therefore, even if the soul is already closed, it will be carried out at the time of the child. Change personality.

Sure enough, after a while, when the ink burned and opened his eyes again, the brilliance of those eyes has changed.

Stepping on the emperor's emperor slowly lifted up the handsome face, obviously the same person, the same body, but his demeanor would be less to be a bit of righteousness, adding some dangerous and mysterious evil.

Stepping on the fairy, opening his mouth, lips and teeth, smiling and arrogant: "Hey... I haven’t seen it for three days, can I miss my seat in the evening?"

"....."

Look down at the tableware in front of me, and eat half of the shabu-shabu. In the end, the predecessor's discerning eyes fell on the ragged streetside wooden chairs and the obviously greasy dinner table.

- Those who are human fireworks for the ink master.

to him……

"Small two! Roll over to this seat!"

"Ink burns you down!"

Such a trouble, suddenly alarmed the surrounding diners, everyone turned back, suddenly someone said: "Ah! ... Is that the master of Chu?"

"Hey? Ink, Moxianjun seems to be there too? Isn't he dead?... Who will take a look at my eyes, I shouldn't be jealous..."

"You have nothing, I saw it."

A little girl screamed: "Ah! Really is Immortal!!"

The excessive movement caused the attention of passers-by, and more and more eyes cast their eyes on them. Some people even fully recognized them. Chu night-none was black-faced, and he was still screaming at the table. How can I eat? Have you made a mistake!" The stepping emperor, in the meantime, no more people have come in, and a chicken flying dog jumped out to summon the sword, and fled.

When he was promoted to the sky, Chu Ning was finally relieved.

The moonlight is clear and the rest of the life is robbed.

Everything is fine - if it is not stepping on the fairy, he is screaming violently behind him, dissatisfied and said: "What good is Mo Xianjun?"

"..."

"A group of people! Why do they only remember Mo Xianjun?"

"..."

"It is this seat to repair the Xuanwu enchantment!"

"..."

"It’s also the seat to save them a dog!"

"..."

"It’s still the seat to stop the flood!"

Chu late night, looking at the man who couldn't help but gnash his teeth, suddenly felt that this guy was really careful, even his own vinegar.

"Look at what?!" Suddenly seeing Chu nightning with a smile, stepping on the fairy is a glimpse, then squinting and angry, but pretending to carelessly grind the roots, "even you. You are also this Block!"

A slap in the face, Chu night Ning smashed, and said: "You don't move!" Sure enough, the sword under the foot slightly swayed, but it was quickly stabilized by the magical one.

Stepping Xianjun wrapped him into his black gold cloak, and said uncomfortably: "What are you afraid of? If you have this seat, you can still fall to death?"

Speaking of urging the sword, Gao Tianyue, the sword shadow is like a black whirlwind, flying in the direction of Nanpingshan...

Late at night, like every pair of ordinary monks.

They are going home.

Later, people occasionally saw the appearance of Mo Zongshi and Chu Zongshi on the rivers and lakes, but they came and went without traces, like a glimpse.

Later, there was another rumor in the realm of comprehension. Legend has it that there is a blind-eyed medical practitioner who has traveled through the desert of Jiangnan. He always wears a fight and falls veil. No one has ever seen his true appearance. Only knowing that this blind person has a great medical skill, he has gone all the way to the poor mountains and waters, and he has cured the people and won't take them.

The most famous thing about this doctor is the story: There is a group of teenagers in Wuchang Town. When they were young, they were sold by monks, burned with flesh and made into bears. It is still difficult to cure. The medical practitioner came to this place and heard about it. He used the skin on his wrist as a medicine, and cut the meat to change the health of those teenagers. The townspeople are very grateful and ask the name.

The doctor said that he was just a sinner.

After many more years, the wars that have been in the past have become the old news of the yellowed books. The children who have been in the past have been drawn. Most of the former youths have become family. Many of the former heroes have had white hair.

Another winter is coming to spring.

Xue Ziming, the head of the dead and dying, received a coveted child as a pro-disciple, as if he had already. This little guy is familiar with himself, and he is not afraid of it in front of the famous Xue Zun. Around the whole day, Xue Meng asked Dong to ask West. One day, the little guy ran over curiously and asked him: "Master, I heard that many of the past about the ancestors and the uncles, they... are they still dealing with the Master?"

At that time, a generation of sage Zunzi Ming stood by the Xuan window and looked at the peach blossoms of Zhengcan, which was opened outside the window. He said: "Occasionally."

The little guy is quite eager: "Why don't you ask them to come back?"

"..."

"Honglian Shuiyu and Shishu's disciples are empty, and they have never lived in other people." The younger disciple took Xue Ziming's wide-sleeved cuffs. "Master respects the master, tell them to come back. I listened to the storytelling." For a few paragraphs, I said that the ancestors and the uncle are the rare heroes of the world..."

Xue Meng turned the light brown eyes, in the spring sunshine, looking at the little guy like a smile: "You want to be a hero in the future?"

"Sure!" The young disciple drums up the gang, a full-fledged look. "How can there be an undiscipled apprentice under the teacher's seat? I have to do something big!"

"There is no need to make a great cause." Xue Mengdao, "If you can live a life, do not deceive the weak, the unyielding in the strong, not arrogant in the good times, not in the adversity... and, can be cautious Judging a person or a thing in a reserved place, and often with compassion. When I am in the age of sorrow, I can say that there is no innocent heart, that is, the hero of the top of the earth."

"..."

"what happened?"

After all, the little guy was young, Xue Meng turned his head and found that he was already yawning.

At first sight, Master stared at himself. He yawned in half and screamed back. There were two sleepy tears in his eyes, but he tried to straighten his back, as if he thought and nodded.

This is a strong look like a young phoenix chick.

Xue Meng held back and laughed, and asked seriously: "Remember?"

Busy: "Remember."

Xue Meng asked: "I understand?"

"Listen..." The tone faded. "I didn't understand..."

After a while, he was wronged: "Master, you are too circum..."

Xue Meng did not blame, thought for a while, raised his hand and patted his head: "Forget it. It is indeed too much."

"Hey."

"If you want to be a hero, remember one first."

The younger disciple was busy with his waist and listened intently. He probably thought that Xue Meng would tell him what a particularly powerful move or trick, and his black and white eyes would be rounded.

The sun is flowing in Xue Meng's face, and the shadows flow, Xue Meng smiled.

——

"Do not speculate on others, it is the highest dignity that people can give themselves."

He finished, leaned over and picked up the ignorant little guy, took him out of the house and walked to the end of the garden. Looking at it from here, "Ah, ah," the mountain peaks shrugged, and the red lotus water was hidden in the clouds. Through the clouds in the land, you can see the bustling towns under the mountains and the rivers.

When the wind blows, the sleepiness of the young disciples is completely dispersed and they are not yawning.

After all, it’s still so childish, and one flower and one bird can win his favor.

Xue Meng and he stood by the carved bar and looked at him with him for a while and asked: "What did you see?"

The little guy is unknown: "Mountain... house... water... and fog..."

Xue Meng smiled and listened. His temper is now more and more calm, and it seems that it is a long way to go anger.

He and his disciples stood by the carved bar and looked at the same red dust. The children saw the house. What he saw was the rise and fall of the impermanent town under the mountain. From the once ruined town to the nowadays, it was better than the old days. The exquisite appearance of the upper territories.

The child sees the water. What he sees is the rolling of the river. Sometimes he feels that there is a monk standing by the river, holding a light in his hand, and he said to him: "Xue Shizhu , go to the local government..."

The child sees the fog, and what he sees is the dead souls of the gathering and separation in life, which are scattered all the time in the dead.

Father and mother are also among them. Later, he can always see their figure, in Wujianping, in the back garden, in Mengpo Hall, at the Naihe Bridge, even if he closes his eyes, he can see. In fact, in addition to the three souls and seven scorpions, there is probably a kind of soul, which is only born in the heart of those who love the loved ones - when you miss them, they will come to you.

Xue Meng holds his own little apprentice, and his eyes are far away to the Frost Heaven Hall in the mountains. Many of his family and friends have stopped here.

Speaking of it, last year's commander-in-law grew older and died in a heavy snow in early spring. The elders of the elders also left in the first two years. People said that he was doing too much good things. Jurassic was named earlier, and he could be dismembered into immortals. The elders of these elders, Xue Meng, looked one by one in their eyes, from the beginning of the hysteria to the later peace - or helplessness.

When he can calmly manage the elders' funeral, Xue Meng will also miss his former self, but it is just a nostalgia. He will not indulge in the past and cannot withdraw.

He is the master of the school and the disciple under the jade balance. He always looks forward.

"Master?" A small pink hand was shaking in front of him, calling Xue Meng’s consciousness back. "What is Master thinking?"

Xue Meng smiled and said: "I want to think about some past events."

When it comes to the past, the little guy is a little excited and tries to continue the topic he has just finished: "Shizu and Shishu..."

"In fact, they will come back every New Year's Eve." Xue Mengdao, "You can see them this year."

The little guy grinned, and some were not satisfied: "But why is it only New Year's Eve? Why don't they stay? I heard that the uncle is particularly powerful, he goes down with a knife-"

Xue Meng raised his hand and poked his head: "Your head is gone."

The little apprentice spit out his tongue, but he was not afraid.

Xue Meng seems to be very serious: "Really. Your uncle is a little... how do you say... split."

"Hey? Split?"

Xue Meng nodded: "You will see him on New Year's Eve this year. However, you can only stay until the time of the child, you must leave when you have time."

“Why?” The child listened with tension and excitement, and curiously rounded up the scorpion.

Xue Mengdao: "...unless you want to call him down."

"Ah..." Hearing even more confused, this newly-introduced little disciple straightened his eyes, and he was going to ask again. Xue Meng was like thinking of something unbearable, and he just put him down. I’m going to lick my own eyebrows, and I’m going to have a headache.

Since the beginning of the game, I have never seen the distress of the Master. The little guy can't help but be more interested in the legendary "splitting" teacher, chasing Xue Meng straight:

"The teacher respects the teacher, the teacher is uncle -"

"Don't ask."

"That ancestors he..."

"No, please."

"That ancestors and uncle..."

"Go back to copying books!"

"Hey, Master is so fierce..."

In the midst of the clear sky, the pure sunshine fell on the masters and the disciples through the branches. The wind blew, blowing through Xue Meng’s clothes, blowing through the younger cheeks and blowing through the majestic life and death. Blowing through the grass of the heroes before the grave.

The wind blew through, and it ran through the Wanli River in one fell swoop. It smashed through the blind people who lived in the pot, and sang the brothers who enjoyed the plums on the snowy fields. They sang the girls drinking at the edge of the Dragon Mountain, and passed through the monks of Nanping. Wherever passed, Jiangshan is still the same, Haishuheqing.

When you meet each other and meet each other, the fate of countless people is intertwined. Although you can't stop at a night banquet that will make you happy, your dreams will never wake up, but there will always be broken pieces of loved ones, friends, and lovers. Shadow, whether life or death, whether or not those people have left, and these fragments will always follow the same pattern.

The breeze covers the surface, and the sea otter tree in front of the tower is brilliant, and it is no different from yesterday. The long night has passed, and there are places in the world, and everything is peaceful now.

Xue Meng looked up and looked like a raft, and the pagoda was solemn.

He seems to remember something, smiled, took the hand of the little apprentice, and went to the heart of the world's largest school.

At this moment, he seems to hear the songs of the masters and apprentices on the Tongtian Tower when they were in the throne many years ago. The sound of the songs passed through the long river of the years, and the snow was blown behind the Xuezhangmen.

I visited the old man under the moon, and the lights and faces were red. One of the phoenix babies is Chunxiao, and the Wanhe River is clear. The total angle of the Tibetan brewing is not drinking, and after years of returning to the brothers.

.....

Why do people always accompany each other, and send them to the east with Acacia.
